Employer: Team Capito

Position: Intern

Job Description: Internship,

Congresswoman Shelley Moore Capito is looking for students across West Virginia who would like to get involved in her 2014 campaign for the U.S. Senate. All applicants for an internship must live in West Virginia while working with the campaign. Opportunities will be available in every part of the state.

The Capito for Senate Internship Program will provide students with a working knowledge of:

Campaign management

Grassroots organizing

Field operations

Fundraising maximization

Campaign events

Messaging on the campaign

Help will be needed from now until Election Day on November 4. Internships will be on a volunteer basis with timelines for work that are flexible to individual candidates. The summer and autumn months will be especially exciting and busy. Interns will gain valuable experience from which they will benefit should they pursue future opportunities to work on local, state, or federal political campaigns. They will also meet a great network of West Virginians who share the desire to elect Shelley Moore Capito as West Virginia's next U.S. Senator.

Qualifications: Although this internship will be geared toward those with a concentration in government and politics, students from all backgrounds will be considered.

Preferred Major(s): Undecided or None;

Application Instructions: If interested, students can find out more information and sign up on the Interns for Capito page
