GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Dr. Peter Barr
Letter from the President

An unknown sportswriter once wrote,

Fresh cut grass, dragged dirt, ring of a bat, a diving catch, a blocked ball, sweating, bleeding, diving into home. Not a bad way to spend a few hours.

That sportswriter captures exactly the pleasures Betsy and I enjoy every spring. Although the student athletes on the field began their preparations in the snow, fans come in warm spring weather after the snows are gone. The diamond sports herald the summer to come.

Betsy and I applaud the young men and women who play daunting schedules with Pioneer spirit and athleticism. Their commitment to a balance of tough competition and friendly sportsmanship are admirable.

With Pioneer students, faculty, staff, and community members who cheer big hits and great catches, strikes and balls, runs and outs, we look to a winning 2013 season.

Sincerely,

Peter B. Barr
President
This is Glenville State College
“the best small, public, liberal arts college in the country”

Since it was founded in 1872, Glenville State College has been fondly recognized as “the lighthouse on the hill.” Well known for its beauty, the campus highlights some of nature’s finest features among the rolling hills of central West Virginia. Glenville State College boasts a challenging, broad-based academic curriculum that offers strong programs in education, business, science, and the liberal arts. Our calling and mission focus is on central values which are: student-centered, community, integrity, tradition, leadership, and community. Glenville’s approach to teaching and learning goes well beyond traditional classroom methods. Through active learning experiences in small groups, student-centered team projects, independent study and student faculty mentoring, students have tradition of teaching excellence, GSC’s professors care about the student as an individual, take time to help set goals, and are committed to providing a quality education. All classes, including labs, are taught by faculty members. Teaching and student mentoring are top priorities of the faculty. While serving as guides and mentors, faculty members advise students on courses of study to prepare them for successful careers. Glenville’s faculty members take deep professional and personal interest in the success of their students.

With a 18 to 1 student/faculty ratio, students have ample opportunity to forge personal relationships with the faculty both inside and outside the classroom.

There are more than 30 degree programs with minors available in most major fields. The Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, as well as the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, accredits GSC’s highly respected academic programs. Glenville State College is committed to educating students to be thoughtful, productive, engaged, and responsible citizens. Currently, GSC graduates are serving the nation in leadership positions as dedicated teachers, business leaders, physicians, lawyers, nurses, foresters, and in numerous other professional fields. GSC has 28 buildings spread over an area of 325 acres of wooded property. Whether you are a campus visitor or a member of the Glenville family, warm smiles and friendly greetings characterize the campus scene.

The Division of Student Life assists students with many diverse services. These include planning recreational and entertainment activities, intramural sports programs, access to counseling services, on-campus health services, and physician referrals. GSC's diverse student body provides an enriching social and cultural experience with more than 50 student groups and special activities on campus. Students can explore new areas of interest which provide numerous opportunities for leadership and personal growth. This includes participation in 12 NCAA Division II intercollegiate sports, intramural sports, performing arts, and a variety of on-campus cultural enrichment programs. Cedar Creek State Park is only minutes from campus and offers a wide range of activities such as fishing, hiking, camping, and miniature golf. There are also other fast-paced adventures nearby including white water rafting, world-class down hill skiing, sanctioned mountain bike races, and of course the subtle pleasures like shopping and relaxation.

New traditions have been initiated to establish a higher level of pride and recognition for the College and the community. From Convocation, where incoming students take the Oath of Academic Excellence, to Commencement, where both current and past graduates are recognized, new traditions are setting a standard of excellence at Glenville State College.

There are also many opportunities for GSC students to take active roles on campus by serving as student representatives on the many campus-wide committees, councils, and boards. GSC's Academic Support Center offers a wide variety of programs. These include internships, work-study positions, independent study, tutorial programs, academic advising, career counseling, resume workshops, career placement services, and services to students with disabilities. All of these programs are dedicated to aid the academic, cultural, and social development of our students.
On Saturday, May 19, 2012, Glenville State College inducted five new individuals into its Athletic Hall of Fame. The award was established in 2001 through the generosity of the late Curtis Elam, a 1949 graduate.

This year’s inductees were: Ed Tekieli ’56, Coach Leland Byrd, Steve Taylor ’60, Sandra Elmore ’73, and Don Bullet ’82.

Ed Tekieli ’56, a native of Grant Town, West Virginia, was a four year letterman in football and was the team’s leading pass receiver for three years, earning WVIA All Conference honors for two consecutive years. He played offensive and defensive end, handled the punting duties, and was Captain his senior year. He also was a four year starter on the baseball team for Coach Carlos Ratliff. Additionally, he earned three letters in basketball, but was unable to play his senior year due to injury. Tekieli was the fifth recipient of the Frank Montrose Award. Ed and his wife, Delores, have a home in Euclid, Ohio and a condo in Pembroke Pines, Florida.

Dr. Leland Byrd of Morgantown, West Virginia and Fort Lauderdale, Florida coached the Pioneer Basketball program from 1956 through 1966. At the time, his 18 wins were second only to that of legendary Coach Nate Rohrbough. Byrd also served as an assistant football coach at GSC including the year that Coach Nick Munn’s 1958 team went undefeated in the WVIAC. He was also head of the Physical Education program at GSC. Byrd served as an effective and innovative Athletic Director at Glenville State College, Miami Dade Junior College, Western Michigan University, and West Virginia University. Leland and his wife, Louise spend their winters in Florida.

Sandra Elmore ’73, a native of Walton, West Virginia started as a point guard on GSC’s first Women’s Basketball team in 1970 as a freshman. She is considered a trailblazer in getting women’s intercollegiate basketball started at GSC and in the development of women’s athletics in the State of West Virginia. Sandra graduated cum laude in three years from GSC with a major in Physical Education and minors in English and Special Education. She graduated summa cum laude in both her masters and doctorate programs at West Virginia University and resides in Nitro, West Virginia.

Steve Taylor ’60, a native of Walton, West Virginia competed in football at GSC for four years and was a member of the 1958 WVIAU undefeated team. He was a two year starter of special teams and a guard on the 1958 and 1959 offensive teams. Additionally he was the Captain of the football team in his senior year. Taylor holds a masters degree from Stetson University (1969) and earned his Ph.D. from Florida State University (1973). He also completed post doctoral studies at Carnegie-Mellon University. Steve was honored at GSC’s Alumni Banquet in 1990 as the college’s Alumnus of the Year. He and his wife Carolyn reside in Winchester, Kentucky. They have one son, Stephen Taylor, Jr., a graduate of Princeton University and a Venture Capitalist who manages the Taylor Fund as well as Taylor Asset Management with offices in Los Angeles and Chicago.

Don Bullet ’82, a Martinsburg, West Virginia native, lettered in basketball four years and in track his senior year. He was named to the 1980 All Tournament Team; the 1981 and 1982 All WVIAU First Teams; and was All Conference NAIA in 1981 and 1982. During the summer of 1981, Bullet was chosen to play on the Select Team to Australia, being one of only two players selected from West Virginia. He graduated from GSC in 1982 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Physical Education (K-12) and a Minor in Safety Education. Bullet had 1865 career points. These points were before the three point rule was instated. Don and his wife, Traci Carter, reside in Kearneysville, West Virginia.

Founded in 1924, the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC) rates as one of the oldest leagues at the small-college level. The 15 member conference currently boasts the largest membership of any NCAA Division II league.

WVIAC's current membership includes Alderson-Broadus College, Bluefield State College, University of Charleston, Concord University, Davis & Elkins College, Fairmont State University, Glenville State College, Ohio Valley University, Shepherd University, West Liberty University, West Virginia State University, West Virginia Wesleyan College, and Wheeling Jesuit University. The University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown and Seton Hill University round out the membership list. Pitt Johnstown and Seton Hill are the WVIAC's first out-of-state members since 1932. They joined the Conference in the 2006-2007 season.

The WVIAC moved into the NCAA Division II ranks in 1994 after a long affiliation with the NAIA. The Conference was the only one in Division II to place a team in the national quarterfinals in men's basketball, football, and baseball during the 1998-99 academic year. The WVIAC, along with two other conferences, became the first league to earn four bids to the NCAA Division II Men's Basketball Championship in 2002.

Commissioner Barry Blizzard, who has held the post since 1987, led the move into the NCAA. Blizzard, a native of Bramwell, West Virginia, previously served as Athletics Director at Bluefield State. The long-time Conference Chief has served in a variety of national leadership positions, including a stint as President of the Division II Conference Commissioners' Association. He is currently Chairman of the NCAA Division II Nominating Committee.

Alumni of Conference members include West Virginia State's Earl Lloyd (the first African-American to play in the National Basketball Association), Salem International's Cecil Underwood (two-term West Virginia Governor), and Wheeling Jesuit's John Beilein (current Michigan Men's Basketball Coach).

The Conference's basketball tournament is one of the longest-running events in collegiate hoops. The 73rd annual event was held earlier this year at the Charleston Civic Center. Attendance at the WVIAC tournament ranks among the highest in Division II. The Conference boasts a 10-station radio network for the tournament.

Women's sports were incorporated into the WVIAC during the 1981-82 academic year as the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association was absorbed. Currently, women's championships are offered in softball, golf, tennis, track, basketball, volleyball, cross country, and soccer. Men's championships are conducted in football, cross country, soccer, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis and track.

The league was recognized by The State Journal as one of "55 Great Things About West Virginia" in an April issue of the news publication. The WVIAC is headquartered in Princeton, West Virginia.

2013 BASEBALL & SOFTBALL MEDIA GUIDE
Sue Morris Sports Complex

On June 7, 2007 the Grand Opening of the Sue Morris Sports Complex was held. The Morris family built the 11-acre sports complex. The multiuse facility is anchored around three baseball diamonds. The largest, an NCAA approved baseball field; the other two designed for little league baseball, softball, t-ball, and coach’s pitch.

All fields are lighted, pursuant to the required lighting regulations. All fields also have functioning scoreboards, PA systems, and their own pressbox. There are also two batting cages, with electricity being provided for batting machines.

The complex also features a basketball court, a sand volleyball court, playground, and a picnic shelter for the public to use. There is also a concession stand available.

The entire complex is surrounded by an asphalt walking trail. The trail has been marked with distance markers.

The Pioneers and Lady Pioneers are very thankful for the Morris family for providing them with such a state-of-the-art sport complex.

I.L. AND SUE MORRIS FITNESS COMPLEX

On August 6, 2001, the I.L. and Sue Morris Fitness Complex received the first facelift to its weight room since 1997. With monies from the Curtis Elam Foundation and through fundraising efforts of the Pioneer Football team, the weight room underwent renovation which was complete with updated equipment and a new floor.

The Pioneers received a state-of-the-art Half-Rack Power system with the 2001 renovation. The Pioneer weight room now houses ten of those racks, each containing 600 pounds of liftable weight. These upgrades effectively propel the Pioneer weight room into the upper echelons of small college weight programs.

Carlee Chatron (5'6", Fr., OF, Cleveland, OH, Glenville State)
Kayleigh Huck (5'8", So., 3B, Delaware, OH, Glenville State)

WVIAC Honorable Mention All-Conference

Carly Caldron (5'3", S., OF, Ripley, WV, Glenville State)
Meagan Lesser (5'7", Jr., P/1B, Mineral, VA, Glenville State)
Lacey Williams (5'8", Sr., 1B, Inwood, WV, Glenville State)
The West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference softball coaches have selected West Virginia Wesleyan as the preseason favorite to win its sixth consecutive WVIAC championship.

The Bobcats received 10 of the 14 first-place votes to amass 190 points in the annual preseason voting by the league coaches. West Virginia State, which dropped a 3-2 decision to Wesleyan in the 2012 WVIAC Tournament championship game, picked up three first-place votes and was number 2 in the poll with 182 points.

Charleston was number 3 with the lone remaining first-place vote with Shepherd and Fairmont State rounding out the top five. Seton Hill edged Alderson-Broaddus for number 6 by a single point in the balloting and Ohio Valley was number 8 followed by Concord, Glenville State, West Liberty, Davis & Elkins, Wheeling Jesuit, and Bluefield State.

Here’s an alphabetical list of 2013 outlooks for each WVIAC team:

Alderson-Broaddus is coming off a solid 2012 campaign and will be under the direction of first-year head coach Shawn Bowers. The Battlers will have hurler Ali Neace in circle once again. In 2012, Neace picked up a team-best 12 wins while registering 11 complete games, including five shutouts en route to earning honorable mention all-conference honors. Senior Vanessa Bodily hit .317 last year and was second on the team in RBI (26) and homers (7) while also earning honorable mention accolades.

Bluefield State has a solid nucleus returning from a young 2012 squad. Brittany Cook started all but one game last year. She led the team in hits, doubles and triples. Loren Whited earned valuable experience in the circle, appearing in 21 games. She struck out 47 batters while tossing five complete games for the Lady Blues.

Charleston is looking to make a run at the WVIAC title and earn a spot in the NCAA Tournament after finishing the regular season in second place in 2012. First-team all-conference performer Janeen Vazquez is back this year. She belted out a .455 average to lead the league. She also drove in 33 runs and swiped 15 bases. Honorable mention all-conference honoree Aspen Echelmeier is ready for her sophomore campaign after hitting .300 and leading the team with 7 homers and 38 RBIs. She also threw out six runners from behind the plate.

Concord narrowly missed making the WVIAC Tournament a season ago and has a stellar group of returners prepared for 2013. Second-team all-conference member Lacy McDougall led the Mountain Lions with a .390 batting average, 11 doubles and 3 home runs during her rookie season. Rebecca Gleason picked up honorable mention accolades after hitting .333. She crossed home a team-high 24 times and was second on the squad with 45 hits.

Davis & Elkins will vie for a spot in the WVIAC Tournament this season after narrowly missing out a season ago. The Senators return honorable mention all-conference performer Carissa Dunn, who led the team with 61 hits and a .372 batting average. Dunn also had 32 RBI and scored 27 runs. Hurler Alanna Jones won 13 games while appearing in 41 contests. She threw 18 complete games and earned three shutouts. Jones also had 158 strikeouts in 193.2 innings.

Fairmont State looks to improve on last year’s fifth-place finish and should once again be in the hunt for a WVIAC title with senior hurler Chelsea Cobb in the circle. The first-team all-conference ace went 21-9 last spring with a 2.26 ERA. She tossed 22 complete games, including 4 shutouts, while striking out 161 batters in 182.2 innings. Also returning is second-team all-conference selection Carly Mundie, who hit .324 with 12 homers and 48 RBI in her debut campaign.

Glenville State is looking to return to the WVIAC Tournament after falling short of qualifying for the eight-team event a year ago. Second-team all-league junior Kayleigh Huck led the Pioneers with 49 hits, a .358 batting average and 31 RBIs. Fellow second-team all-conference honoree Carlee Chatron had 47 hits and a .320 batting average while swiping 18 of 21 bases.
Ohio Valley will look to make another deep run in the WVIAC Tournament after last season’s impressive tournament showing. First-team all-conference honoree Brittany Shepley is coming off a big year with 62 hits, a .383 batting average and 36 runs scored—all team-highs. Honorable mention all-league selection Elora Oprins also returns after hitting .366 with a team-high 35 RBIs.

Seton Hill will be guided by sophomore Christine Henderson, who earned honorable mention all-conference honors as a freshman. In her first collegiate season, Henderson hit .361 with 52 hits while scoring 25 runs and chasing home 22 more. Stefanie Wiegrand also earned honorable mention accolades last year after pounding out 50 hits and scoring 25 runs while going 7-for-7 on her stolen base attempts. Wiegrand also held a .956 fielding percentage and helped turn seven double plays.

Shepherd has to be on the short list of championship contenders with a strong nucleus back from last year’s team which finished fourth in the regular season. Taylor Schaffer registered a team-best .321 batting average last year. She pounded out 51 hits while driving in 30 runs en route to second-team all-league honors. Bianca Biondillo was an honorable mention all-conference selection after collecting 51 hits, scoring 31 runs and driving in 25.

West Liberty is guided by second-year head coach James Bacca who led the team to eight league wins in his first campaign. Second-team all-conference honoree Felicia Hulslander leads the way as she hit .368 a season ago while recording 53 hits. Her 23 RBI were tops on the team as were her nine doubles. Hulslander also had 10 steals. Maggie Starr was an honorable mention all-conference pick after smacking out 41 hits driving in 17 runs. She led the Hilltoppers in extra-base hits, triples and home runs while swiping a team-high 13 bases.

West Virginia State will vie for another spot in the NCAA Tournament while trying to claim its first WVIAC Tournament Championship since 2008. The Yellow Jackets have a dynamic 1-2 punch in the circle with Kelsey Lorraine and Sara Pelegreen. Lorraine went 16-4 last year with 5 shutouts and a 2.22 ERA. She fanned 153 batters and yielded just 79 hits in 129 innings. Pelegreen was 17-7 with 6 shutouts and a 1.48 ERA. She punched out 111 batters and allowed only 128 hits in 170.2 innings. Both hurlers were named to the WVIAC all-tournament team with Pelegreen picking up first-team all-league laurels.

West Virginia Wesleyan has won the last four WVIAC Tournament Championships and every regular-season title since 2008. First-team all-conference performer Paige Cummings led the Bobcats with 74 hits, a .433 batting average and 48 RBI last spring. WVIAC Tournament MVP Jacqui Omichinski returns in the circle off a first-team all-conference year. Omichinski was 15-6 with 8 shutouts and a 1.30 ERA. She struck out 119 batters and gave up just 93 hits in 129 innings.

Wheeling Jesuit will be under the direction of first-year head coach Kelli Williams. The Cardinals will be led by electrifying first-team all-conference honoree Jarah Ice. The speedy table-setter led WIU with 70 hits, 38 runs scored and a .400 batting average last spring while swiping a WVIAC-best 42 bases in a mere 47 attempts. Ashley Nichols gained valuable experience in the circle a year ago. She won four games but appeared in 27 while throwing 14 complete games. Nichols tossed 134.2 innings and struck out 76.

WVIAC First Team All-Conference

Ethan Szabo (6’2”, Jr., OF, Felton, Del., Glenville State)
Ranked as high as number 13 in several national college baseball previews and coming off its third consecutive trip to the NCAA Division II Atlantic Regional, Seton Hill has been selected as the preseason favorite to win the 2013 West Virginia Conference Tournament championship and secure the league’s automatic NCAA Regional bid.

The Griffins received nine WVIAC Tournament championship votes in the annual preseason balloting by the league’s baseball coaches. Concord and Fairmont State each had two championship votes while West Virginia Wesleyan was listed first on one ballot.

Seton Hill also was a near-consensus pick to defend its WVIAC North Division crown. The Griffins received 13 of the 15 first-place nods in that poll and were listed second on the other two ballots to stand head atop the North Division crowd with 103 points. Shepherd, also coming off an Atlantic Regional trip after beating Alderson-Broaddus in the finals of last year’s WVIAC Tournament, received one first-place vote and was second with 74 points while the Battlers were third. Pitt-Johnstown, Fairmont State, Wheeling Jesuit and West Liberty round out the North Division with Fairmont State picking up the lone remaining first-place vote.

The coaches made 2011 WVIAC champion Concord the overwhelming favorite in the South Division with 113 points, including 11 first-place nods. The Bobcats received two first-place votes to hold down second place in the South with 93 points. Charleston and West Virginia State each received one first-place vote with the Golden Eagles edging out the Yellow Jackets for the number three spot. Davis & Elkins was fifth, followed by Ohio Valley, Bluefield State, and Glenville State.

Here’s an alphabetical list of 2013 outlooks for each WVIAC team:

Alderson-Broaddus returns a potent lineup that guided the squad to the 2012 WVIAC Tournament Championship game. First-team all-conference performer Sean Collette led the Battlers with a .405 batting average. He registered 79 hits, scored 60 runs, drove in 44 and swiped 13 bases. Jeff Conley registered second-team all-league honors after hitting .343 while tallying 61 hits and 62 RBI. Of his 61 hits, 27 were for extra bases. The pair has a lot of experience as does the rest of the squad and should make another run at a league title.

Bluefield State posted eight league wins last season and will vie for a spot in the 2013 WVIAC Tournament. Rusty Rainey leads a now veteran squad. He started 44 games in 2012, earning a .280 batting average. Rainey drove home 25 runs while scoring 20. He also helped turn 17 double plays. Sean Williams also started every game for the Big Blues. He scored 26 runs while swiping 12 bases. Williams garnered a .945 fielding percentage on the season.

Charleston will be under the guidance of second-year head coach Lee Bradley. During his rookie campaign, the team posted 19 league wins. He returns a strong nucleus headed by second-team all-conference selection Igor Molina. In 2012, Molina led the team with a .377 average while playing in 46 games. He tallied 52 hits, including 17 that went for extra bases. His 37 RBI were tops on the squad. Hurler Al Oldham also returns this year. He was 3-0 with a 4.81 ERA while appearing in 18 games in 2012. Oldham worked 24.1 innings and struck out 11 while walking four.

Concord is looking to win its second WVIAC Tournament championship in three years. Leading the way for the Mountain Lions is first-team all-conference standout Bret Blevins. In 2012, he started 51 games while notching a .368 average with a team-high 67 hits. He was second on the team with 47 RBI while maintaining a perfect 19-for-19 effort in stolen bases. Ryan Johnston tallied a .343 average while starting all 53 games. His 10 round-trippers and 51 RBI were tops on the team.

Davis & Elkins will try to make a run similar to the one it made in 2011 after missing out on the WVIAC Tournament a year ago. Matt Barr led the team with a .384 average, eight home runs, 37 RBI and 41 runs scored while starting all 47 games. He was also walked 20 times and was hit by 25 pitches to post an eye-popping .533 on-base percentage. Lance Vannoy was just behind Barr with a .365 batting average. He notched 38 hits, drove in 24 and scored 17 times. The veteran-laden Senators have the potential to be a factor in the WVIAC Tournament.

Fairmont State’s sensational late-season run finished one win shy of the WVIAC Tournament title tilt. Trevor Funk posted a team-high .351 average while starting 47 games. He pounded out 54 hits, scored 41 times and had a team-high 11 doubles while swiping 26 bases. Honorable mention all-conference hurler Tyler Kincaid returns to the FSU rotation. He had six wins a year ago, including two complete games and one shutout, while fanning 73 batters in 75.2 innings of work.

Glennville State gained a lot of experience in 2012 and will look to make a push toward the postseason this year. Ethan Szabo earned first-team all-conference honors after batting .352. He led the Pioneers in hits (50), runs (19), doubles (13), and homers (6). John Royce is a veteran after playing in 38 games last year, while starting 35. Seven of his 23 hits went for extra bases, including a pair of triples. John Royce also returns to the line-up. He was third on the squad a season ago in batting average while starting 35 games. Nearly one-third of his hits went for extra bases. Royce also led the team in walks.

Ohio Valley made a late push for the WVIAC Tournament but fell just short. That experience could pay off this spring as the Fighting Scots return a veteran squad. After missing the 2012 season, Mike Shepherd brings his strong bat back to the hot corner for his senior year. He started all 42 games two years ago, hitting .320 with 40 hits and 27 runs scored. Tyler Wharton is also back after starting 38 games last year. He had 29 hits, including a team-high seven doubles, and ranked second on the team with 19 runs scored.

Pitt-Idlewild just missed qualifying for the 2012 WVIAC Tournament and will try to get over that hump and make a run at the title this season. The Mountain Cats boast two first-team all-conference selections in Kyle Morrow and Jake Warner. Morrow started all 49 games while belting out 53 hits, nearly half (26) of which went for extra bases. He led the team with 48 RBI and was second on the squad with 14 doubles and 12 round-trippers. Warner recorded a .393 average to finish second on the team while posting team-highs of 66 hits, 47 runs scored and 13 steals.

Seton Hill returns an experienced team will be gunning for its fourth straight North Division title and its first WVIAC Tournament crown since the 2010 season. The Griffins will rely heavily on a strong mound rotation, headed by 2012 WVIAC Pitcher of the Year Alex Haines, with first-team all-conference slugger Nick Sell leading the way at the plate. Haines was 7-2 with a pair of saves last spring, striking out 108 batters and yielding just 63 hits in 70 innings on the bump. Sell pounded the ball at a .380 clip with 11 homers and 55 RBI to lead the Griffin attack. Sell finished with 60 hits, 23 for extra bases, and scored 48 runs while striking out just 18 times all season.

Shepherd will try to find a way to defend its WVIAC Tournament crown after losing NCAA Division II National Player of the Year Nate Minnich to graduation. The cupboard is far from bare in Shepherdstown, however, as the Rams return a deep and talented nucleus. First-team all-conference ace Paul Hvozduvic heads the mound staff after going 10-4 with two saves and a 2.57 ERA in 20 appearances last season. The Shepherd workhorse whiffed 81 batters and walked just 19 in 108.1 innings of work. Second-team all-league performer Chad Murphy returns to the middle of the order after hitting .351 with a .503 slugging percentage and a .487 on-base percentage a year ago. Murphy banged out 60 hits and drove in 43 runs while scoring 40 more.

West Liberty is guided by first-year head coach Eric Burkle, who will try to lead the Hilltoppers back to postseason play. Speedy Mike Johnson started 39 games for the Hilltoppers in 2012, pouting out 34 hits, scoring 33 runs and driving in 16. He also led the team with 22 walks and was second on the squad with 13 extra-base hits. Drew Peterson appeared in seven games on the mound for WLU. He tossed 35 innings while striking out 27. Peterson started six contests and went the distance in four.
West Virginia State wants to get back to the WVIAC Championship game, which it last did two years ago in Beckley. The Yellow Jackets return first-team all-league selection Billy Smith, who hit .419 with 78 hits and 49 runs scored – all team-highs – a year ago. Smith also belted out a team-best 19 doubles while ranking second on the squad with 34 RBI. He’ll team with Noah Blackhurst to forge one of the league’s top hitting tandems. Blackhurst hit .358 with 59 hits and 31 RBI last year while scoring 46 runs.

West Virginia Wesleyan will look to defend its WVIAC South Division Title in 2013 behind a talented and experienced lineup and one of the conference’s top returning pitchers. First-team all-conference honoree Aaron Adams tossed eight complete games last season, posting a 10-4 record with a 2.57 ERA in 17 appearances. Adams had 80 strikeouts and gave up just 82 hits in 105 innings. J.R. Tenney returns to lead the Bobcat attack after hitting .339 with a .431 on-base percentage last spring. In 45 starts, Tenney lashed out 42 hits and scored 32 runs.

Wheeling Jesuit narrowly missed a postseason berth a season ago and will be looking to get over that hump this spring. Wheeling Jesuit welcomes back Corey Hull and his .345 batting average. Hull ranked among the team leaders a year ago with 40 hits, 25 runs scored and eight doubles while posting a team-high 6 stolen bases. Clutch performer Robbie Davia also returns after starting 40 games last season. Davia scored 22 runs and ripped out 10 doubles in 40 starts.

Projected WVIAC Tournament Champion
HEAD COACH
TOM GILBERT

Tom Gilbert enters his second season at the helm of the Glenville State College Baseball Team.

Gilbert was part of the West Virginia University Baseball team from 1975-1979 and lettered all four years. He graduated from WVU in 1979 with a Bachelor’s Degree in Science Administration. After his playing career he became a Graduate Assistant at WVU. Then from 1984 to 1993, he was a scout for the Baltimore Orioles.

Also from 1988 to 1993, he was the manager of the Oriolanders showcase team. In 1999 he became the owner of Quad States Baseball Clinic, which is a pre-season High School workout clinic for 200 players from different states, and did that until 2006. From 2006 to 2010 he was the Manager of the Carroll County Rangers and led them to three Baltimore Metro League Championships in 2006, 2007, and 2008.

Now, Gilbert takes over the Pioneer Baseball program that has been on a 29 year hiatus.

The Pioneers haven’t had a baseball team since 1983, but the return to the diamond in 2012 was a success at GSC and in the community.

Gilbert has made great strides to get to know some local high school coaches to make an impact in recruiting some local talent.

Gilbert and his wife Kathy have three children. Their youngest son Danny is part of the GSC Baseball team. They all reside in Glenville.
