

GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

The Glenville State College Department of Fine Arts is housed in one of the best fine arts facilities in West Virginia. It contains a large auditorium with nationally acclaimed acoustics, a new sound system, professional level recording capabilities, and a Grand Steinway piano from Carnegie Hall. The Piano Lab has computers loaded with music-related software, all of which are connected to musical keyboards. The numerous practice rooms are state-of-the-art with adjustable acoustics. GSC music alumni are respected music educators and musicians.

The art studios are large with excellent work spaces, including the ceramic studio which is equipped with a kiln for firing ceramic and sculpture projects. On the graphics and digital media side, we have a 3D printer, new computers, and software. GSC art alumni are recognized art educators and artists around West Virginia and beyond.

Students can earn a Bachelor of Arts in Education in Music (PreK-Adult) and Bachelor of Arts in Music with concentrations in Music Technology, Instrumental, Vocal, General Music and Bluegrass. Students can also earn the recently reestablished Bachelor of Arts in Art degree with concentrations in Graphic and Digital Design and Studio Art. Minors are also available in Music and Bluegrass.
