SALUTATION

To all graduates, former students,
and friends of the Glenville Normal School, We Greet You.

Your sincere efforts and tireless endeavors have produced a tradition and a history of which we are justly proud.

We the SENIOR CLASS of the GLENNVILLE STATE
NORMAL SCHOOL, in the year of 1926, respectfully dedicate this the Sixth Volume of the KANAWHACHEN to
the HONORABLE C. M.
BENNETT.

HONORABLE C. M. BENNETT

The Honorable C. M. Bennett is a native of Gilmer County, and a graduate of the Glenville State Normal School in the class of 1888. In 1892, he was graduated from the School of Law of West Virginia University. After his graduation from the Law School, Mr. Bennett taught in Glenville Normal in 1892-1893. In 1893 he began his active practice of law, and has been in that work since.

Mr. Bennett has always been interested in politics, and has twice been elected as Prosecuting Attorney of Gilmer County, in 1896 and in 1908. In 1904, he received the Democratic Nomination for Circuit Judge in the district comprising Gilmer, Ritchie and Pleasants Counties.

Mr. Bennett has had many and varied business connections. At the present time he is Vice President of the Kanawha Union Bank, Glenville, West Virginia; Treasurer of the Valley Gas Company; stockholder in the Gilmer Fuel Company; President and sole owner of the Federal Hill Orchard, Martinsburg, West Virginia; and Treasurer of the Penfield Oil and Gas Company, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Bennett has always been interested in brotherhoods of various kinds, and he is a member of the following lodges: Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Junior Order of American Mechanics, and Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. He is also one of the most active alumni of the Glenville State Normal School.

HISTORY OF GLENVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL

THE STORY of the fifty-two years of life of the Glenville Normal School is a story of constant growth, of rapid progress, and of worthy achievement. On February 19, 1872, an act was passed by the West Virginia Legislature providing for the establishment of a branch Normal School at Glenville, West Virginia. The school was established and opened to receive students on January 14, 1873. Until suitable buildings could be obtained, school was held in the old courthouse. A frame dwelling house was soon purchased and used by the normal school until 1885, when the Legislature made an appropriation of $5,000 for a new building. A brick building was erected but it proved inadequate for the rapidly growing school, so that in 1893 further appropriations were obtained, and the building was enlarged to the present dimensions of the old building.

Glenville Normal grew so rapidly that a still larger building was needed. With an appropriation of $35,000 obtained in 1909 and one of $12,000 secured in 1911, a new building was erected.

In 1915 the Legislature made an appropriation of $40,000 for a girls' dormitory. The dormitory was constructed and opened for use in the fall of 1916. In 1921 an appropriation of $120,000 was made with which to construct another dormitory. This dormitory was ready for use in the fall of 1925.

In 1923 an appropriation of $40,000 for a new gymnasium was obtained. This building, although not entirely completed, is being used. A new athletic field has also been purchased.

A farm of seventy-eight acres, about three-fourths of a mile from the school buildings, was purchased in 1919 to be used for agricultural demonstration work in connection with the school.

The curriculum of the Glenville Normal School has grown and broadened immensely. The school now gives many college courses in connection with the usual normal work.

The alumni of the Glenville Normal School are represented in almost every state of the United States. The brilliant records they have made give Glenville Normal every reason to be proud of them. From a modest beginning, Glenville Normal has become one of the leading institutions of the state.

FACULTY

E. G. ROHRBOUGH, M. A.

President

Mr. Rohrbough was born at Buckhannon. His elementary education was received partly in the country schools and partly through private tutoring. He was graduated from Conference Seminary, Buckhannon, in 1895. His Bachelor of Arts degree was received from Allegheny College, and his Master of Arts Degree from Harvard University.

With the exception of one year when he was doing graduate work at the University of Chicago, 1914-1915, Mr. Rohrbough has held the position as president of Glenville State Normal School since 1908. He is now recognized as one of the best school executives and educators in the state.

HUNTER WHITING, M. A.

Foreign Languages

Mr. Whiting was graduated from Glenville State Normal School in 1908, and later he did two years of post graduate work. In 1913 he was graduated from West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Arts degree, and while in the University he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Since accepting his present position in 1913, Mr. Whiting has received his Master of Arts degree from Harvard University, 1922, taught in West Virginia University, and spent two years abroad. While in Paris, he attended lectures at the Sorbonne, and took private lessons in French. He also attended lectures on art while in England.

WILLA BRAND, M. A.

English

Miss Brand was born in Marion County, but spent the greater part of her early life in Morgantown. She received her B. A. degree from West Virginia University, and her M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. She has studied at the University of California, and at the University of Wisconsin. She has held many teaching positions. She taught six years in Washington Irving High School, Clarksburg, and came here in 1921 from Pittsburgh. Miss Brand has traveled extensively in the United States and Europe, and has visited Canada, Mexico, and Africa.

HELEN K. ATEN

Music

Miss Aten was born in New York City. She received her elementary education in the Chicago Schools. Later, she attended Crane Institute of Music, Potsdam, New York, Syracuse University, and Oswego Normal. She taught music one year at Belfast, New York, and two years in Louisburg College, North Carolina. Last summer, she attended New York University. She began her work at Glenville Normal School in the Fall Term, 1925.

CLARENCE R. POST, M. A.

Geography

Mr. Post began his education in the rural schools of Harrison County. He was graduated from Fairmont State Normal School, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from West Virginia University, and his Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago. He has also done work at Cornell University. Since 1921, Mr. Post has been one of the Glenville Normal faculty with the exception of one year, 1924-1925, during which he was doing graduate study at Clark University. Mr. Post has traveled quite extensively through the United States, especially in New England and the West, consequently adding much to his knowledge of the geography of the nation.

W. D. COOPER, B. S.

Agriculture and Manual Training

Mr. Cooper was reared on a Gilmer County farm. He also received his elementary education and taught three years in the rural schools of Gilmer County. He received his Standard Normal Diploma from Glenville Normal School in 1911, and his B. S. degree in Agriculture from Ohio State University in 1917.

Mr. Cooper is a well trained teacher. He has been County Agent of Barbour County, and has taught agriculture for a long time. He accepted his present position in February, 1921. He was Dean of Kanawha Hall 1925-1926.

MRS. ELWINA SAMPLE

Drawing and Critic Teacher

Mrs. Sample received her early education in Ohio. She is a graduate of Mount Blanchard High School, and she has done work in West Virginia University, and in the University of Chicago. She has done nearly all of her teaching in West Virginia Schools. She has held her present position since 1914. Mrs. Sample is especially interested in the development of the Primary Grades. She has traveled extensively.

BESSIE BOYD BELL, M. A.

History

Miss Bell obtained her elementary education in the schools of Gilmer County. After completing the Standard Normal Course at G. N. S., she taught in the Glenville Public School. She was graduated from West Virginia University with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After graduation, she taught in East Bank, and St. Mary's High Schools. She did graduate work at the West Virginia University and at Columbia University, later attending the University of Chicago from which she received her M. A. degree. She has held her present position since 1918.

E. R. GROSE, M. A.

Biology and Mathematics

Mr. Grose was reared on a farm in Upshur County. He is a graduate of Conference Seminary, Buckhannon, and West Virginia University, having received his Master of Arts degree from the latter. Mr. Grose has been a member of the Glenville Normal Faculty since 1912. His interest and careful study have made him one of the leading authorities in biology and nature study. He is a member of the Sullivant Moss Society and of the West Virginia Wild Life League.

JOHN R. WAGNER, B. A.

Chemistry and Physics

Mr. Wagner came to Glenville State Normal School in 1920. He had prepared himself quite efficiently for the position of teacher of Chemistry and Physics, having a Bachelor of Arts degree from Gettysburg College, and three summers work at Cornell University on his master's degree. He saw active service in the World War, and while in France he studied at the Sorbonne.

ADDIE MAY COKELEY, B. S.

Dietician and Home Economics

Miss Cokeley was graduated from Marshall College in 1910. She received her degree of B. S. H. E. from West Virginia University in 1922, and later she studied at Columbia University. Miss Cokeley has taught in graded schools, high schools, and normal schools. During the summers of 1918 and 1919, she did University Extension work. She has occupied her present position since 1922.

MARGARET DOBSON

Expression and Physical Training

Miss Dobson was born near Decatur, Illinois, and near there she acquired her elementary and academic education. She is a graduate of Illinois State Normal School, and of the Columbia College of Expression, Chicago. She has occupied her present position since the summer term of 1925.

GRANT T. MOYERS, M. A.

Education

Mr. Moyers received a Standard Normal Diploma from the Shepherd College State Normal School. From Bridgewater College, he received a B. S. degree, and from Columbia University he received his M. A. degree, and his Superintendent's Diploma in Educational Administration. He attended the University of Illinois.

Mr. Moyers came to G. N. S. in 1925, well experienced as a teacher. His experience includes teaching in rural schools two years, principal of graded schools two years, principal of high school two years, and superintendent of schools two years.

LABAN WHITE, B. S.

Extension Director

After receiving his elementary education in Doddridge County, Mr. White entered Glenville State Normal School from which he was graduated in 1904. He received a B. S. degree from West Virginia University in 1911. He was at the head of the Public Schools of Williamstown for two years, City Superintendent of the schools of Spencer for eight years, and Superintendent of the schools of Kenova for two years. He has also done lecture work of various kinds. Since 1923, he has been Extension Director of Glenville State Normal School.

LAURA FRIES, B. A.

English and Bible

Miss Fries was born in Dayton, Virginia, but she spent most of her early life at Berkeley Springs. She took her preparatory work at Shenandoah Collegiate Institute, Dayton, Virginia, and later she attended West Virginia University where, in 1919, she received her B. A. degree. After her graduation she taught English and Foreign Language at Berkeley Springs for three years. Miss Fries is very much interested in Bible Study, and in 1922-1923 she studied at the Biblical Seminary of New York. She came to Glenville Normal in 1923.

IVY LEE MYERS, M. A.

Normal Training

Miss Myers received her elementary education from Oakview Academy at Wayne. She completed her high school work at West Liberty State Normal School, and graduated from the Standard Normal Course at Marshall College. Then she attended West Virginia University four summer terms. She received a B. A. degree from Peabody College for teachers, and an M. A. degree from Columbia University. Miss Myers has taught in the one-room rural school of Wayne County, in the Huntington City Schools, and has done teacher training work in Nicholas County High School and in Pine Grove High School. She came to Glenville Normal in the fall of 1925.

PAUL B. DAWSON

Athletics

Mr. Dawson is a graduate of Davis Elkins College, and has done three years work at West Virginia University. He has an excellent record as an athlete. During the time he was at the University, he played on the University football, basketball, and baseball teams. In 1920, he was chosen on the All-Tri-State Basketball Team. Mr. Dawson came to Glenville Normal School as Athletic Coach in 1922.

ALMA JANET ARBUCKLE

Librarian

Miss Arbuckle was born in Gilmer County and received her elementary schooling there. She was graduated from Glenville State Normal School. Then she attended West Virginia University, the University of Virginia, Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, and Columbia University. Being especially interested in the work of the primary grades, she took courses that would best fit her for teaching there. Miss Arbuckle finds her present position as Librarian very agreeable. Besides her work, she is much interested in travel.

HAZEL GERWIG

Critic Teacher

Miss Gerwig received her elementary education in Braxton County. She attended Gassaway High School two years, and then completed her short normal course in 1925 at Glenville Normal School. She assumed her present position as teacher of the second grade last fall.

CHARLES W. HOLT

Principal of Glenville Public Schools

Mr. Holt came to Glenville from Weston, where he was graduated from high school in 1919. He was a student at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in 1919-1920. In 1923 he was graduated from Salem College, receiving his Short Course Diploma. Mr. Holt received his Standard Normal Diploma from Glenville Normal School in 1924, and in the same year he obtained his present position.

MRS. ODESSA CHENOWETH BENNETT

GRACE LORENTZ

Critic Teacher, Sixth Grade

DRUSILLA KIDD

Critic Teacher, Fourth Grade

THE END OF YOUR TRAIL

Have you reached the end of your trail?
 Have you come to the end of your road?
 Are you just going back to the old home town
 To add to your father's load?
 Or are you yet to come to the place in your trail
 Where to try can mean only to sin,
 And to do what is good and noble
 Is not of your selfish end?
 Oh, say, have you worked without purpose?
 Has your school life meant only to you
 That to finish was freedom from slavery?
 Have you only the limited view?

School life is not meant to be slavery.
 It's to free you from any chains
 That might drag you down from true freedom
 And leave you in sins and shames.
 Did you taste or drink deep of the Spring
 Whose waters bring glory or woe;
 Displace in your life every sorrow;
 Or turn you in wrath to the foe?
 Did you use every star-shade moment
 And wide experience gain?
 Have you used opportunity wisely
 To serve and add power to your name?
 If you have, joy is yours without asking;
 If not, now is no time for sighs.
 Be at work, be prepared for the future;
 Know ye what lies beneath other skies?

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

FOUR years ago there was brought forth in this school a new class, conceived in ignorance and dedicated to the proposition that all human beings are created with the ability to amass knowledge. The Senior Class of 1926 stands as a proof, beyond all questionable doubt, of the verity of this proposition.

In the fall of 1922 there entered the Glenville Normal School a class exceedingly rich in potentialities and possessed of unlimited abilities. The class was soon organized with Paul Kidd as chief executive.

Those were the halcyon days of inter-class basketball, and the Freshman girls won the girls' cup by some of the best basketball that had ever been seen at Glenville. The regular members of the team were: Mary Whiting, Eunice Gerwig, Thelma Arnold, Beatrice Springston, (Mrs. Robert Kidd, Jr.), and Virginia Morris. The boys, too, despite their inexperience, made a very commendable showing on the floor and won recognition in arguments of a pugilistic nature, pertaining to inter-class basketball honors. Besides doing very creditable work in inter-class basket-ball the class furnished several members of the regular squads of football, basketball and baseball. William (Skibo) Lorentz and Richard (Dick) Powell (now playing with Davis and Elkins College) were the two outstanding athletes of the class.

The following year not all of the members of the class were able to come back, but their places were filled by others. Russell Ellyson was chosen president and things passed very uneventfully, probably due to the fact that inter-class basketball has been discontinued. During this, their Sophomore year, the class began to make itself known in other academic activities as well as in athletics. Eunice Gerwig was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. Other members of the class filled other positions of honor in the school.

The Junior year of the class began with a still smaller number of the original members. Paul Kidd was elected president and filled the office to the absolute satisfaction of himself and everyone else. The class began to take on a polished appearance, and to acquire some of the dignity both necessary and becoming to seniors.

This, the last year, finds but few of the former Freshmen of 1922 on the class roll. Many have dropped out of school, others have gone to other schools, while some have failed to keep up with the class. The size of the class has been greatly increased by the influx of high school graduates from the various parts of the state. Fletcher Reip has been chosen as chief executive of the class, and affairs have gone smoothly and with the dignity and decorum befitting seniors.

Soon we are to leave "the dear old Normal halls," but
Where the Old Kanawha's flowing,
Where the Blue and White is blowing,
Our Alma Mater calls."

"Then be not coy, but use your time;
And while ye may, go marry."

THE SENIOR PROPHECY FOR 1926

Moonshine and plenty of gin,
 And one long drink for me,
 E'er now I take my pen in hand
 To write this prophecy.
 This prophecy of the Senior Class,
 Which numbers fifty-three.

Oh, wizards of the Coper Coil,
 Come forth unto my aid;
 That I may, with prophetic hand,
 Tell the part each Senior played
 Before he met his fatal hour,
 And they laid him in his grave:

Garnet Fitzpatrick, a blushing bride,
 I see as the embers glow;
 And Virginia Morris, an opera star,
 Is queen of a picture show.
 Dolly Lorentz in bloomers? What?
 Oh, a teacher of Physical Ed.
 Is teaching her pupils of '82
 To stand on their precious head.
 Hazel Straley and Dolly Hall
 Each has landed a man——
 Hazel a Riep-er is, they say,
 While Dolly a smithy-man.
 Bayard Young and Edward Orr
 Have gone to the far North Pole
 To see if the density of water up there
 Will fit in a goldfish bowl.
 Nelle Salisbury, that demure sweet maid,
 Is a prosperous butcher fan;
 And from reports as I have heard,
 She sells such Cunningham.
 Sarah Frame at reading palms
 Has made herself a name.
 Susie Hammer and Grey Bird, too,
 Have won senatorial fame.
 J. McLaughlin, our light heavyweight,
 Is wearing a fistic crown,
 Which he won while he was in gay Paree,
 Seeking a Doctor's gown.
 Nancy Craig sallied forth from the Normal halls
 To seek bright fame both far and wide;
 From what I see in the embers bright,
 She's teaching surfball on the tide.

Ye poets, I look for your coming,
 Are you lost, do you wander afar?
 At last here come Hamric and Shaffer,
 Both born 'neath poetical star.
 Doctors! Pray tell me, old mash-barrel,
 Are there none who will give us aid:
 And for reply he said:
 "As for Doctors, there's Russell Ellyson,
 With all but anaesthetic looks;
 Who, if they do not deceive me,
 Will write many medical books.
 Then, too, there is Luther Berry,
 He is headed toward medical fame.
 He'll not stop at the foot of the ladder,
 But with him take Winifred Watkins,
 Famed founder of the love-lorn page;
 While closely behind them will follow
 Kate Cain (from the speaking stage)."
 Mary Whiting and Therin Rogers
 Are now living somewhere in Spain——
 Mary, the excellent housewife,
 While Therin is football's gain.
 Fern Champe and Gypsy Maud Chenoweth
 Left for Africa the other day,
 To teach the poor little negroes
 To live in the proper way.

Look! Here comes Ernest Houghton,
 Just fresh from the Government Lab.
 He's our noted agriculturist,
 (And it's said packs a strong line of blab).
 Icie Dennison and Joy Allman
 Teach Home Economics out West,
 Joy says she likes the climate,
 Both say they like the men best.

Are my eyes growing dim from the vapors
 That sweetly and softly arise,
 Or is it the blue that is bluing
 The light from Edith Miller's eyes?
 I'm drunk, boys, there's no doubt about it,
 Or unless, say! Could I be a l'ar?
 Is that Bill McGinnis at the Glass
 Computing his formula for Mars?
 And, say, what's the row and the racket?
 Fred Barnett on oratorical speers,
 With Thelma White, his pard, as debater,
 Has put the G. O. P. on its knees.
 Then, too, there's Paul Kidd in the Senate
 Attempting to enter a bill,
 Which will make him a judge of beauty
 That will rival our old friend Will.
 Fletcher Reip, our pet sheik, so they tell me,

Will at last settle down on a farm,
 Where he'll feed the cows and the chickens,
 And wear socks with feet of yarn.
 Page Morrison and Mary Conrad,
 Both well known and of reading room fame,
 Will find it very convenient
 To live under just one name.
 Anna McKenney is our algebra shark:
 She subtracted McK——, added R——;
 The answer to this deep problem
 Is happy hours by a cozy fire.
 Blon Heckert and Ouida Burke
 Went south on a literary whim,
 To convince the ignorant planters
 That slavery was a sin.
 "Paging Juanita Beall, a historian,
 And Dr. Shirley Morton" at the Ritz,
 Where Angelo Eagon for this evening
 As artist at the piano sits.
 Leni Rohrbough is our Four-H leader,
 Hugh Cunningham's a joke-er, 'tis said,
 He writes jokes for the papers
 And is paid as he uses his head.
 William Smith is our scouting air pilot;
 Claud Reip is our Edison man;
 O'Neill Underwood sings in sweet operas,
 While Mildred Rohrbaugh gave Congress a plan
 Whereby a big tax reduction
 Helped win her "the only man."
 Mrs. Underwood, Virginia McCoy, Orpha Heater, and
 Ethel Wright
 Have joined the weather bureau,
 And invented a new forecast kite.
 Foster Minney now owns an art gallery
 Down on Broadway where he's safe from all harm;
 Edith says at home he's most affectionate,
 But that should give us no alarm.
 Virginia Hall is a teacher of French,
 While Roberta Puckett says she is happiest of all
 As just a demure little housewife.
 Do you blame her? I should say not at all.
 Cray Minney, the well known photographer,
 Is good on the fiddle and fife.
 Eunice Gerwig, the famed woman scientist,
 Has made some man a good wife.
 Valjean Roberts is professor of geology
 In Harvard, the papers say.
 Mary Jake Fisher is society's queen
 Along the Great White Way.
 So just remember if you're muddled
 And your prophecy ain't right,
 What a time I've been a-havin'
 With the corn and cider spiked.

And the trouble that can git ye
And can mix you, sure as sin,
If you monkey with a coil
Er jist a common pint o' gin.
But the time has come fer closin',
And I'm tryin' to, you see.
So remember what I've said,
Don't blame Hamric but blame me.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

IT CAME TO PASS in the fall of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, that there appeared within the walls of our Normal School a group of boys and girls who were to assume the responsibilities of freshmen. They were a very timid group of youngsters, although we could see signs of mirth in their faces as one laughed at another's mistakes. The boys wore tooth pick trousers, and the beautiful sunburned cheeks of the maidens were not covered with paint and powder. If you were to meet the same group today, they would not be recognized as the freshmen of three years ago. The first day of the term Mr. Rohrbough sat calmly at his desk signing enrollment cards, when he caught sight of a strange name on a card which had been laid down by a trembling hand. He raised his eyes to view the face of the new student. He straightened himself in his chair as he looked into the face of the noble youth; but soon this student was gone, and another of equal rank took the former one's place.

The freshmen did not remain long without a leader. They met in one peaceful body and chose Myra McQuain to direct them through all difficulties. To express their determination they found "Rowing not drifting" a motto which has been faithfully supported. The lily was chosen as the class flower, and its gold and which became the colors of the class.

In the fall of twenty-four we found the former freshmen returning under the name of sophomores with renewed strength and vigor. Again they chose a feminine leader, Rhea Kee, small but mighty, as president.

The juniors were calm and considerate at the beginning of the fall term of nineteen hundred and twenty-five. The calm and peaceful Edward Rohrbough, a youth of high ideals, was chosen president of the class. The junior class can boast of beauty, strength, and ability. They are very sorry to state that their talent as a group, will not be revealed in public, for the Kanawhachen is produced only during the even years. Next year they shall be called seniors, and we expect to hear much about their great work as an active student body.

SOPHOMORES

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

IN the fall of 1925 a large number of girls and boys came to Glenville from different parts of Gilmer County and other counties of West Virginia to enter the State Normal School as sophomores. There were about fifty students in this group.

The Sophomore Class was organized early in the fall. The following officers were elected: Ruby Woodford, president; Wahneta Moss, vice-president; Lake Norman, secretary; Agnes Rymer, treasurer; Marjory Rinehart and John West, cheer leaders. Marjory Rinehart was appointed class reporter for the Tower, the school paper.

At a later meeting the sophomores selected the red rose as class flower, maroon and white as class colors, and "Not up, but climbing" as motto. The motto suggests that the sophomores will not always be sophomores but will climb in a few years to the place where the seniors of 1925-26 are now standing.

Although this seems to be a bad year for good marks, most of the sophomores are making passing grades on their subjects. In the fall they showed what they could do by having four of their number listed among the ten students making the highest grades of the term.

The Sophomore Class is represented in nearly all of the organizations of the school. The sophomores made a high standing in football on the second team, and in basketball on the Moyers' Tiger team. You will find under classmen at all social functions; they walk with the prettiest, talk with the wittiest and make love to them all.

PROPHECY OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS, 1926

ONE SNOWY DAY as I sat before the fire, trying frantically to look into the future to see the destiny of the Class of 1928, the room suddenly became dark, the flames died down, and a little man appeared. He had white hair and a long white beard. Looking intently at me for a moment, he said, "You are wondering what will be the destiny of the Class of 1928?"

"I am," I replied.

"I will take you into the future, and show you," he promised.

The room disappeared, and I found myself standing in the White House at Washington. I saw a stately woman coming toward me and recognized her as Virginia Post, who, I discovered, was a member of the House of Representatives. After talking for a few moments we were joined by Ruby Edwards, the wife of the American Ambassador to France. Asking them about other members of the class, I found that Paul Carr was a famous lecturer; Maude Conley, a novelist; Helen Davis, a noted dancer; and Lucille Matheny and Agnes Rymer, famous surgeons. Suddenly I noticed the beautiful gown Virginia was wearing and remarked about it. It had been designed by Nellie Bush. Ruby informed me that she had just come from her hairdresser, who was Hazel Maxwell.

Suddenly the scene changed, and I found myself in the hall of a university which seemed familiar. On closer observation, I saw that it was our own state university. The pupils of Marjorie Rinehart, head of the Music Department of West Virginia University, were giving a recital. While I was listening, spellbound, to the beautiful music, a distinguished looking lady entered and sat down in the vacant seat beside me. Immediately we recognized each other: she was Ruby Woodford, an eminent lawyer. In the audience were other old classmates, whom she pointed out to me. Wahneta Moss was a noted singer; Thomas Hendrick, a famous astronomer; Leona Snider, an architect; Gaylord Stalnaker, an acrobat; Sylba Varner, a well known author; and Alma Crites, the wife of a Chicago merchant. Ruby informed me that Lake Norman was the inventor of a pair of flying shoes, with which he expected to fly to the moon. Goldie Wilt and Leona Davis were agents for these shoes and seemed to find their business very profitable. Ruby Westfall was candidate for governor of West Virginia on the Republican ticket.

Without warning again I was mysteriously transported, this time to a theatre in New York, where Louise Stern, a famous actress, was playing the leading role in "Abie's Irish Rose." The little man who had been my silent companion, now spoke: "The other members of the class are engaged in various occupations. Donald Young is a scientific farmer; Mary Gerwig and Madeline Woodford are editors of a paper, Cupidville News; and Ida Argobrite is a missionary to China. Leroy Whiting, who has retained his excellent powers of speech is an auctioneer; Mary Reed, matron of an orphan's home; Muriel Bennett, teacher of expression and physical training; and Charles Maxwell, a renowned juggler. Bertha Jane Post is a spinster, but she is not daunted for she is lecturing on the interesting subject, "How to Catch a Man." Helen Rymer is the wife of a prosperous farmer, and Nellie Cottrill is the head of the Home Economics Department in Chicago University."

The little man disappeared, and I found myself in my room again. I was awake and knew that all had been a dream, but, nevertheless, I was a wiser prophet than before.

FOOTBALL

At the first glance our football record for the past season looks pretty dark. However, when we consider the class of the teams we have met, the record does appear so bad. It is a difficult matter to develop a football team of the first order because of the limited material in our school from which to choose a team. At the beginning of the season only four of the regulars from the team of last year reported for training at the camp at Troy. They were Miller, Lorentz, Rogers, and Jones. Others who played outstandingly were Henderson, Markowitz, and Sousce.

The indications are that all these men will be with us next year so we hope to give a better account of ourselves next season. Next fall we are to play six games: Morris Harvey, Shepherdstown, West Liberty, Fairmont, Broaddus, and Potomac State College. Members of the team the past season were: Miller, Lorentz, Rogers (Captain), Jones, Hyre, Markowitz, Henderson, Shepherd, Whiting, Bush, Reed, H. Rogers, Kidd, and Sousce.

BASKET BALL

COACH DAWSON has developed a good basketball team this season. Out of the eighteen games played with the best secondary teams in this and bordering states our boys won eleven. A better index of the success of the team may be had when one considers the points scored by our team as compared to their opponents. At home our boys scored 181 points and their opponents 114; away from home the team scored 290 points to their opponents 303. This last score is especially good since we know that a team playing away from home plays under somewhat of a handicap. On the first trip, which began the first day of the winter term, the boys played exceptionally well. They lost five out of the nine games played, but two were lost by only two points, and one by one point. Mt. St. Mary's, the champion of Maryland two years ago, defeated the G. N. S. quintet by one point. Likewise Bridgewater, the champion of Virginia last year, defeated them by only two points. Also Keyser Preparatory School won from us by merely one goal. Among those who bowed to us in defeat may be mentioned Broaddus College, Roanoke (Virginia), West Liberty, and Potomac State College.

Team: Lorentz (Captain), Miller, Rogers, Kidd, Markowitz, Reed, Jones, and Greenspun.

BASEBALL

THE success of Glenville Normal School in baseball last season was limited because of the fact that there was an insufficient number of experienced players with the team. Ten games were played against three teams. We won three of these games. Two of the games with West Liberty State Normal School were extra inning games, and two of those with the West Virginia Freshmen were also extra inning games; one of the latter took two more innings to decide the winner. Four games we lost by one score only.

Although not many games were played last season, it is not planned to increase the number this season, because of the difficulty of developing a winning team from the limited material and because of the shortness of the playing season. The following teams are the chief opponents that our baseball team will face this spring: Shepherdstown Normal, California (Pa.) Normal, and St. Francis School at Loretta, Pennsylvania.

Members of last season's team were: Morton, T. Rogers, Hardman, Lorentz, Miller, Rexroad, Bennett, Tracy, Jones, Powell and Henderson.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

THERE has been a Men's Glee Club at Glenville State Normal School for several years, but this year it has been organized for the first time. It has organized for the purpose of furthering the music of the school, especially among the men. The Club has entered the West Virginia Men's Glee Club Association, the purpose of which is to promote music in all the colleges and state normals, and to make West Virginia a leading state in the development of music.

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

EARLY in the fall of 1925, a meeting was called for all girls who wished to try out for Glee Club. The response was very encouraging. Miss Aten, the instructor in music, tried out each girl's voice, and then called a rehearsal for the following week. At that rehearsal the official roll was called and the time set for further rehearsals. A few members dropped out before any serious work could be done; but enough were left to make the Club worthwhile.

A week before Christmas the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs combined to prepare a Christmas cantata. Miss Aten chose the cantata "Holy Infant," which was given to a large audience.

At the beginning of the Winter Term the Girls' Glee Club was organized with the following officers:

President—Lorena Hefner.
Vice-president—Virginia Morris.
Secretary-Treasurer—Ruby Edwards
Librarian—Wahneta Moss.

Mr. Angelo Eagon serves as accompanist.

GLENVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

THE Glenville Normal School Orchestra, since its organization two years ago, has been a very influential factor in the school. Each year it gives recitals, and plays for entertainments, including ball games, stage plays and commencement exercises.

The training in the orchestra is very thorough and helpful. Those who take a part to obtain a knowledge of music that will be of great help when they are sent into a community to teach school, not only to the school, but to the community in general. Things learned in music classes are put into practice; things that can be mastered only through practice and thorough application. The orchestra is therefore a means of developing leaders in music.

HILLS OF WEST VIRGINIA

Oh, wondrous hills, which mean so much to me,
Remain as you were back in childhood's day!
Remain as when I played a carefree child,
Upon your lofty brows, Heaven-pointing piers.
Change not; for in my life's last fleeting days,
I'll need you and the memories you bring—
The memories so sweet—so sweetly sad.
In spring and summer green your slopes repose;
In autumn decked in Nature's brightest hues;
In winter though you cheer me you are sad.
Sweet Hills of West Virginia, I love you!

TO GLENVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL

What time in your life do you hold the most dear?
 What years were the brightest of all?
 Think over the days heavy laden with cheer,
 When at school you answered roll call.
 Just think what you know (whether little or much),
 The school which inspired you to learn;
 The old gang, the teachers, the ball games and such,
 And somehow—you can't help but yearn.
 The future seems bright, and we long for it now;
 But some day the past will seem best,
 For the longer we live the more we allow
 The school days hold more than the rest.
 So here's to our Normal School, and long may she grow;
 May classes to come feel as we;
 And we know that the classes who left us long ago
 With all these things will agree.

LIFE

We are born to live, and to live we must
 And to put our faith in God and trust,
 That we live happy, contented, and right
 For life fades as the day and night.
 Just a little laughing when one is glad,
 Just a little crying when one is sad;
 Just a short career in this world of strife,
 Then comes a dying for such is life.

VERONA MAPEL HALL

TUNE: My Maryland.

A home in the West Virginia Hills,
Is our Verona Mapel Hall;
Her dear name every girl's heart thrills,
Our own Verona Mapel Hall.
Impulse to turn an eager face
To duty and her glorious race,
Is in the genius of this place,
Our dear Verona Mapel Hall.

This name will live with us always,
The name Verona Mapel Hall;
With memories of happy days
In our Verona Mapel Hall.
Our years of work are quickly o'er,
And life will teach us more and more,
To treasure love we have in store,
For our Verona Mapel Hall.

I WANT TO GO BACK TO THE COUNTRY

I want to go back to the country,
 Away from the dust and the dirt;
 To a land of pure air and of forests,
 Where one loves to live and to work.
 I want the air fresh from the mountains,
 To live as a lad clean and free—
 If I live, I shall leave this old city—
 It's back to the country for me.

So let me go back to the country,
 Even though I must go it alone;
 For to me this tired life in the city,
 Is a torturous hell, not a home.
 And I'm going back home for I know it,
 My soul cries at night to be free—
 The country's the land of the poet—
 And it's back to the country for me.

I once used to live in the country,
 In a home far back in the sticks;
 But I lived in those days not existed,
 In a bustle, confusion, and mix.
 In my dreams, I still see that old cottage;
 And I still proudly name it as mine,
 So at once—I can bear it no longer—
 I must back to the land of the pine.

It's back to the wheat and ripe cornfields,
 Away from the smoke and the stain;
 And away from the dull, noisy workshop,
 To harvesting rich, golden grain;
 Then, when I am back in the country—
 The land for which long I have pined—
 I'll bow to my knees and in prayer,
 Thank God for the peace that is mine.

SOCIAL LIFE IN THE SCHOOL

Through the many social functions of the school the students are given an opportunity to acquire social ease and to derive more enjoyment from their school life. This year the school has had an especially interesting social programme.

Hallowe'en Party

On the evening of October 29 a strange group gathered in the gymnasium. There were witches and fairies and also many earthly beings who had come out to hobnob with the spirits. The fodder shocks and rustling leaves provided a proper background for the weird gathering.

The group unmasked and the evening was spent in dancing. Refreshments befitting the season were served.

Faculty Entertains Students

On the evening of November 21 a formal reception was given by the faculty for the students. The gymnasium was appropriately decorated in the school colors, blue and white. Quiet games were played, which were at times very amusing. In the course of the evening light refreshments were served.

Tacky Party

On December 12 a tacky party was held in the gymnasium. The faculty and student body attended in their rags and tags—especially in tags. The faculty members proved themselves very adept in the gentle art of chewing gum. Many games were played and refreshments were served. A group of students very amusingly dramatized Lochinvar, with a hero whose dress showed evidences of his journey from the west and a steed whose limitations were extremely noticeable.

Christmas Party

On the Friday before Christmas Miss Brand gave a party to the girls of Verona Mapel Hall. The girls gathered in the upper hall and marched down to the Christmas tree, singing carols. With the presents every girl received went the good cheer and happiness of the season.

Canterbury Club Banquet

On the nineteenth of December Miss Brand entertained the Canterbury Club at a banquet which they will long remember. Various contests brought attractive prizes to the fortunate winners and were a source of much merriment for everybody. The refreshments were both elaborate and delicious besides being surprisingly original.

The Boys Entertain

The Pine Knot Hall boys entertained the girls of Verona Mapel Hall at a delightful party on January the sixteenth. Interesting and entertaining games were played. The boys served refreshments which they had prepared themselves, and the girls were duly impressed. This will be remembered as one of the most delightful parties of the year.

Faculty Dinner

On January 29 the Misses Alice and Alma Arbuckle gave a dinner party. The dinner was served in the progressive order. The faculty and a few other friends were present.

Girls Entertain

The girls of Verona Mapel Hall entertained the dormitory boys at a party on the night of February 12. After an evening of games delightful refreshments were served. The boys will think very tenderly and gratefully of the fair ones who gave them such a very pleasant evening.

President and Mrs. Rohrbough Entertain

On February 13 President and Mrs. Rohrbough entertained the faculty and a few other guests at a Saint Valentine's dinner. After dinner there were cards.

Miss Brand at Home

On March 13 Miss Brand entertained a large number of friends at an evening reception at Verona Mapel Hall. The decorations were appropriate to the season of St. Patrick's Day. A delightful programme of music was given. Delicious refreshments were served.

KANAWHACHEN

THE RUBAIYAT OF A GLENVILLE FRESHMAN

BY J. A., H. G., J. O. M., W. W., ET AL.

And, as the Clock struck, those who stood before
The Classroom shouted—"Teacher, open door!
You know how little while we have to stay,
And, once departing, may return no more."

Now comes the Spring with that insistent Shove
Which drives the Freshman green and those above
Forth to the Campus damp with Chosen One
To demonstrate the same old Puppy Love

Whether they nose the Book or hunt their fun,
Whether they grind or with the Damsels run,
Their Grades keep going lower, lower still,
The Freshmen all are flunking one by one.

A Pack of Gum, a boy from Pine Knot Hall,
A little Kodak filled with film—that's all
It takes to make this School a Paradise
For Co-ed Freshy, be it Spring or Fall.

I sometimes think that never glows so red
The Paint of Co-ed's Cheeks bespread
As when a Shower comes—and, then, alas,
Furrows and Streaks are left; but Beauty's fled.

Myself when young did eagerly frequent
The B. and B., and heard great Argument
Of Nothing much; but evermore came out
More full of Thaddie's Cokes than in I went.

With Profs the seed of Bluffing did I sow,
And with my Hot Air blew to make it grow;
But when Examination Day came on,
I got an F because I did not know.

And fear not lest our Graduation Day
Should hang the Crape on G. N. S. to stay;
Each Fall before us Freshmen came in Drokes,
And so 'twill be when we are gone away.

When, from Verona Mapel's door agape,
Comes slipping through the Dusk an Angel Shape,
Some impecunious Freshman knows full well
From Pictures and from Thad's there's no escape.

O threats of F and Hopes of getting by!
 One thing is certain—Figgers never lie;
 And yet I still may make it on this Course
 If I work hard this one last week. I'll try.

The care-free Freshman comes; and, having come,
 Stays on; nor all the Teacher's Hints of dumb
 Shall goad him on to work for better marks,
 Nor all their Tears get him to do a Sum.

The earnest Freshman writes; and, having writ,
 Writes on: nor all their Pity, Razz, nor Grit
 Can cause him to withdraw from Themes sublime,
 Nor hold him back from sophomoric Wit.

And that conceited Ass, the Graduate,
 Whose fatuous Smile beams on you soon and late,
 Go not to him for Help—for what he knew
 Has long since vanished from his Addled pate.

What! Out of the verdant Freshman to provoke
 In four brief Years a Scholar! That's a Joke!
 Although he's lost some Crudeness with his Hat,
 In spite of Oxford Bags he's still a Bloke.

Oh teachers, who with Latin and with Math,
 Beset the simple Freshman's happy Path;
 How many a Snap Course, many a Campus Date
 It took to free his little Soul from Wrath!

Indeed the Girlies I have loved so long
 Have done my Standing in this School much Wrong,
 Have brought me many an E and ne'er an A,
 And yet they've made the Days one big sweet Song.

Indeed, indeed, Repentance oft I swore,
 As every helpless Youth who came before—
 But, when the little Dears came down the Hill,
 My strongest Vows to tiny Shreds they tore.

Yet ah, that School's bright Door should close in June!
 That Freshmen's warbled Song should lose its tune!
 The Pine Knot Boys who to the Co-eds sang,
 Where sang they now beneath the full blown moon?

JOKES

Mrs. Rollyson was found hunting very diligently for her seat in the auditorium. She had forgotten the fact that she was a married lady.

A sophomore is an extraordinary person with extraordinary needs.

Mr. Wagner (in Chemistry): Now look and see what has formed in the flask.

Eunice Gerwig (very enthusiastically): W'y, Mr. Wagner, it's a feather.

Mr. Wagner: Ah; Eunice, what's the matter? It's a crystal.

Miss Brand (in English XIX): Give a good definition of patronage, Mr. Cunningham.

Hugh Cunningham: Well, when you pat somebody on the back, that's patronage.

Virginia Morris (in Chemistry): Mr. Wagner, what is aqueous attention?

AT LAST!

Perpetual motion is here!

Yes, it's come.

Just watch Rhea Kee's mouth

Chewing Spearmint gum.

Mr. Whiting: I am tempted to give this class an examination.

Virginia McCoy: Yield not to temptation.

Miss Brand: What do you think of the auto riding at night?

Mr. Whiting: Well, it seems to me that public sentiment is against public sentiment.

The students do not support the year book because it has a staff.

Miss Dobson: Miss Cokeley says she puts her very heart into her cooking.

Mr. White (eating a piece of her cake): She must have been heavy hearted when she made this cake.

How much did Philadelphia Pa?

How much did Columbus O?

How many eggs did New Orleans La?

What grass did Joplin Mo?

We call Minneapolis, Minn;

Why not Annapolis Ann?

If you can't tell the reason why,

I'll bet Topeka Kan.

"Bill" Gibson: You're a coward—you're even afraid of your own shadow.

Edith Miller: Well, why shouldn't I be? It looks like a crowd following me.

Clarence Ray: Get off my foot.

John West: Pardon me, I thought it was a traveling bag.

Miss Fries (to Sarah Frame): Sarah, what period of history are you studying?
 Sarah: The one after chapel.

Edith: Can you drive with one hand?
 Foster: You bet I can.
 Edith: Then have an apple.

Miss Brand: What have we had in Halleck about Michael Drayton?
 Earl Boggs (dreamily): "Since there is no help, come let us kiss and part."

I say, Dad, that good advice you gave me went before I used it.

Anna: Why do you go with Claude?
 Mildred: He's the plot to my confession stories.

Miss Bell: Name all the presidents of the United States in the order in which they served the country.

No one in the class could name them.

Miss Bell: Why I am surprised; when I was a little girl I could name all the presidents.

Foster Minney: 'Course you could, because there had been only two or three when you were a little girl.

Mrs. Rohrbough (with newspaper): It says here that men grow bald because of the intense activity of their brains.

Mr. Rohrbough: Exactly. And women have no whiskers because of the intense activity of their chins.

BUTTONS

'Tis one of our saddest cases
 (And the keeper blotted a tear),
 But don't be afraid—he's harmless,
 The poor fellow you see in here.

Once he worked in a laundry,
 And the world seemed kind and fair,
 As he happily twisted buttons
 Off customers' underwear.

But alas, the sky was clouded,
 And a rift appeared in the lute,
 When a heartless manufacturer
 Brought out a buttonless suit.

At first he bore up bravely
 Under the awful strain,
 But no laundry worker could stand it,
 And something burst in his brain.

Violent? No; in the kitchen
 He smiles as he shells the peas:
 Poor devil, he thinks they are buttons
 From customers' beeveedees.

One Hundred Thirty-Five

Our answer to the question, "Where is the modern jazz era going to?" is: It's going into one era and out of another.

Nephew: Well, Aunt Sophia, how did you enjoy the football game?

Aunt: Not much. But the players, poor things, tried hard to be entertaining.—
Life.

STUDENT'S PRAYER

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I haven't studied for a week;
If I should die before I wake,
How much difference would it make?

What's the shape of the earth?" asked Mr. Post in Geology, calling suddenly upon Grey Bird.

"Round."

"How do you know it's round?"

"All right," said Grey, "it's square then. I don't want to start any argumen:."

Said Roderick Dhu to Ellen Fair,
"Please mayn't I kiss you, dear?"
And Ellen said, "Why, Roderick Dhu!"
And Roderick did.

Betty: Hurry up, or we'll be late at Sunday School.

Bobby: Well, God is eternal.

Miss Cokeley (in Sanitation and Hygiene): Name an animal food.

May O'Brien: Dog biscuits.

Mr. Moyers: I read a good article in the WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION last night.

Charles Holt: Yes, I studied to be one also.

A football player on a muddy field looks like his sister with her beauty clay on.

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF FAMOUS MEN

Claude Reip: I'm a ten cent dude.

Mr. Moyers: Who will tell?

Carl Hamric: Gosh whiz!

"Doc" Cunningham: Come up to my den, and we'll talk it over.

Fletcher Reip: Huh?

"Sid" McLaughlin: Hot dog in the brier patch!

Russell Ellyson recited a stanza from the "Psalm of Life" thus:

"Liza grape men allry mindus
Weaken maka liza blime,
Andy parting Lee B. Hindus
Footprints Johnny Sands a time."

WORDS OF WISDOM

Always agree with a fool, never contradict him. If he could suffer contradiction, he would not be a fool.

Mr. Wagner (in Chemistry): What is an aqueduct?
 French Hyre: It's a water duck.

Girls' kisses are like olives in a bottle—the first is hard to get, but the rest come easy.

IT MUST BE AWFUL

"Talk about torture——"

"Yes?"

"Nothing is worse than sitting in a barber's chair with your mouth full of lather, watching the boy try to give another customer your new Panama hat."

TUT, TUT!

An Englishman and an American were standing before the Victoria Falls, when the Englishman said, "Surely you must concede that these falls are far greater than your Niagara Falls?"

"What!" replied the American, "compare these to our Niagara Falls? Why, man alive, these are a mere perspiration."

Kind old gentleman: What is your little brother's name?

Buddy: His name would be Jack if he was my brother, but he ain't; and her name is Ruth.

SUGGESTIONS ALWAYS WELCOME

Angry parent (striding into dimly lighted room): Young man, I'll teach you to make love to my daughter!

Daring Cray Minney: Wish you would, old boy; I'm not making much headway.

THE RESULT IS THE SAME

The six jazz kings had their instruments poised ready to begin, all except the saxophone player, who discovered that his reed needed adjusting. "Go on ahead," he directed; "I'll play fast and catch up with you."

AN HONEST WAITER

Waiter, I wish to dine very well tonight. What would you suggest?
 The restaurant around the corner, sir.

TRY IT OUT.

A jaundiced young gent in an attic
 Once thought he had trouble hepatic;
 He bought him a flivver,
 Which shook up his liver—
 His mentality now is ecstatic.

THE PHANTOM VARIETY

A small boy handed in the following in an examination paper on United States History:

"General Braddock was killed in the Revolutionary War. He had three horses shot under him, and a fourth went through his clothes."

One Hundred Thirty-Seven

Mr. Wagner (in Chemistry): Why is it that the earth does not fall into the sun?
 Mary Whiting: Because it is below the sun, and, of course, it can't fall up.

The gum-chewing girl
 And the cud-chewing cow
 Are something alike,
 Yet different somehow.
 What difference?
 Oh, yes, I see it now,
 It's the thoughtful look
 On the face of the cow.

It must be a gran' and glorious feelin' to say, "Meet the wife!"

I call my sweetie "Latch Key", because she is something to adore.

"At times," said the girl, "you seem to be manly enough, and then at other times you're absurdly effeminate. Why on earth is that?"

"Er-ah-heredity," he answered.

"Heredity?"

"Yes. You see half my ancestors were men and the other half were women."

First Niggah: You is so thin you could close one eye and pass foh a needle.

Second Ditto: You ain't thin, is you? You is so thin your ma could feed you on grapejuice and use you foh a the-mometer.

A famous singer relates that once by mistake in the dark he gargled with ink. For a time it was feared he would have to confine himself to negro melodies.

Mary Conrad: You raised your hat to that girl we passed. You don't know her do you?

Ernest Houghton: No, but my brother does, and this is his hat.

"Red" Meredith (between dances): There's a lady over there who has been watching you ever so long. She'll be asking for an introduction soon.

"Sid" McLaughlin: She won't—she's my wife!

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

Miss Aten (at the dinner table): That's disgusting! You put back a toothpick after using it!

Mildred Reynolds: I want you to understand, ma'am, that I'm an honest girl.

Miss Cokeley: Are you in favor of women taking part in public affairs?

Mr. Moyers: It's all right if you really want the affairs public.

"Doc" Cunningham had just cleaned his room, so he called to French Hyre to come and see it.

"Doc": How do you like the room as a whole?

French: As a hole it's fine—as a room, not so good.

Mr. Whiting (when the lights had been off the night the TEN COMMANDMENTS was to be shown): My prayers did not bring the lights on.

Miss Brand: The prayer of the wicked availeth not.

One Hundred Thirty-Eight

Miss Fries: How is your husband getting along with golf?

Mrs. Rohrbough: Oh, very well indeed. Edward is allowed to watch him now.

A northerner riding through the West Virginia mountains came up with a mountaineer leisurely driving some pigs.

"Where are you driving the pigs to?" asked the rider.

"Out to pasture 'em out a bit."

"What for?"

"To fatten 'em."

"Isn't it pretty slow work to pasture them on grass? Up where I came from we pen them up and feed them on corn. It saves a lot of time."

"Yaas, I s'pose so," drawled the mountaineer; "but what's time to a hog?"

—Wall Street Journal.

Times are so poor in Hollywood that a lot of the girls there are reconciled to making last season's divorce do another season.

Rastus: Has yuh had yer vacation?

Sambo: Naw, dawg gone hit! Ah cain't git fired!

DOWN ON THE FARM

You'd hardly know the old place:

The place where you turned into the lane when bringing home the cows has been rented for a barbecue.

Just across the way a company has leased ground from Grandpa for a filling station.

The wood lot is a camp for tin-can tourists.

The old homestead is an antique shop.

Grandpa is a Floridian.

The only familiar thing about the old farm is the mortgage.

Mrs. Rohrbough: Did you take a shave this morning?

Edward: No, is there one missing?

FULLY EQUIPPED

Mr. Whiting: The team couldn't play any out-of-town games this season—the faculty wouldn't stand for it.

Visitor: Faculty? Oh, have you one of those things here?

Mr. Post: And now, my dear, we enter upon the territory of the glacial age.

Mrs. Post: Oh, Clarence, and you've come without your overcoat again.

SUGGESTED AS A FREE AD FOR CALIFORNIA

Our climate is so mild that when you have to sleep outdoors on account of an earthquake, you don't mind it.

Young man, I don't know whether you can support my daughter, but you can certainly keep her up.

Lorena Hefner: Do I have to go to Sunday school this morning?

Miss Brand: Of course, why not?

Lorena: Somehow, I don't feel as if God and I are in sympathy today.

One Hundred Thirty-Nine

"Now listen, Doc," said Lake Norman; "before you start to work on me I want you to understand that I haven't got inflammation of the purse."

PARAGON

St. Peter (at the gate):: Have you any letters of introduction?
 Russell Ellyson: No, don't believe in 'em—never gave one to anybody.
 St. Peter: Select your harp.

"That isn't gneiss," said Mr. Post, as Clarence Ray threw a rock at him.

HEREDITY A. D. 2000

Claude Reip: I want to marry your daughter.
 Mr. Rohrabaugh: Any tonsils or appendix.
 Claude: No, none in my family in over a hundred years.

Mr. Cooper: You ought to keep better hours.
 Clio Henderson: Are there any better ones than those now in use?

Visitor (at G. N. S.): What do they teach you here?
 John Hendrick: Addition, multiplication and sub-division, ma'am.

"Tuck" Waldo: I'm becoming so nearsighted that I bump into people when I walk along the street.

Edith Miller: Goodness, man! That's dangerous. Why don't you buy a car and drive it?

Miss Fries (to sales girl): No, no, child, it's too late for summer sulks; show me some woonter willies.

When a good joke dies it goes into the college annuals.

Mrs. J. O. McLaughlin: What would you like for dinner?
 "Sid" (fed up): Anything but company.

Foster Minney (after getting pictures from studio): Earl, have you given any of your pictures away?

Earl Boggs: Yes, have you?
 Foster: No, I think too much of myself.

Claude Linger: Mr. Grose injured his back last year while playing basketball.
 Miss Aten: How did that happen?
 Claude: Well, he injured it when he stooped over to drop the ball into the basket.

OFFICE CHATTER

The pencil has made a number of pointed remarks about the sponge being soaked all day and the wastebasket's being full. The scissors are cutting up, and the paper-weight is trying to hold them down, while the mucilage is sticking around to see that the stamps get a good licking. The ink's well, but appears to be blue, while Bill is stuck in the file and the calendar expects to get a month off. The blotter has been taking it all in.

Joke Editor: Miss Bell, have there been any jokes told in your classes this term?
Miss Bell: No, there is never anything wise said by any of my students, or me either.

Miss Bell (in class): Order! Order!
Allison Davis (just waking up): I'll take a coca-cola.

If love makes the world go round, no wonder "Doc" Cunningham acts dizzy.

Mr. Whiting: Did you ever hear the story of the high cliff?
Miss Fries: No, what was it?
Mr. Whiting: It was just a bluff.

Miss Dobson: Why do you call your alarm clock Macbeth?
Miss Brand: Macbeth doth murder sleep.

Virginia Morris (examining cartoons for the Kanawhachen): This cartoon isn't shaded enough.

Clyde Riddle: Maybe not, but wait till you see the joke that goes with it.

French Hyre: I don't care for Chemistry any longer. I'd rather take up Astronomy.

Mr. Wagner: But you can't. You'll have to have a better excuse for staying up nights with her.

Miss Bell: Did you get the second question in history?
Opal Waldeck: No.
Miss Bell: How far were you from the right answer?
Opal: Four seats.

A little girl was told that polite people did not complain about their ailments outside the family; so when a visitor asked her if she was well, she said, "In the family I have the stomachache, but in company I'm quite well."

Markowitz: Has Peny found the book, "The Gentleman from Indiana."
Bill Lorentz: I don't know, ask Pete Rogers.

Miss Fries (in English VI): Mr. Carr, give me a sentence using the word "diadem."

Paul Carr: People who drink moonshine diadem sight quicker than those who don't.

ANATOMICAL NOTE

I had six older brothers,
My sisters numbered eight;
Of course Ma served the others
Before I passed my plate.
I got the leanest pickin's,
No matter how I'd beg;
I came to think that chickens
Were chiefly neck and legs.

I've bettered my condition
Since those dim years of youth,
Yet childish intuition
May hold the germ of truth.
And judging by the dresses
Girls wear on left and right,
I think my boyish guesses
Were pretty nearly right.

THE GAMBLER

Deacon Dan was a godly man,
 Who wouldn't play penny ante;
 But he sold his home and frying pan
 For a Florida bog and shanty.

It has been rumored that Claude Linger goes to sleep singing "Nancy Lee," and Nancy Craig goes to sleep singing "Linger Awhile."

"And the girls, they will say
 Uncle JOSHUA:
 You're old, but you're awfully tough."

NIGHT

Slowly fall the shades of night,
 Quite inured to phrases trite;
 Now awaken vivid joys
 In the hearts of girls and boys.

Lights burst forth to rout the gray
 Murkiness of open day.
 Music, mirth and gaiety
 Set the weary spirit free.

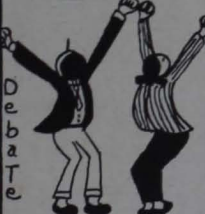

Souls who pass the day in gloom
 May their happiness resume;
 Day has only care to give;
 Night is when we really live.

Night, I give thee my applause—
 Not too noisily, because
 After ten this dump is dead:
 Everyone has gone to bed.

KANAWHACHEN CALENDAR 1925-1926

SEPTEMBER

- 21—School opens with the usual flourish. New students, hair cuts, and curriculum are the attractions.
- 22—Several girls are taking courses with Mr. Moyers.
- 23—A good football team is predicted by all.
- 24—Cosmians give a good program.
- 25—Mr. Cooper marches out with several willing followers to pick apples at the state farm.
- 26—Kanawha Hall boys advertising for housecleaners.
- 27—The first Sunday and rain. Homesick freshies.
- 28—First housemeeting at Kanawha Hall. Mr. Cooper lays down the law.
- 29—Earl Boggs, in English Six, asks Miss Brand to kiss him.
- 30—Seniors organize long and furiously.

OCTOBER

- 1—Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. give a get-acquainted party in the new gymnasium.
- 2—Lose our first football game to Marshall College.
- 3—A few scrubs organize a reserve football team. It is decided that there will be no weekly social hour this year.
- 4—Just to show his appreciation of our kodaking, Mr. Eastman should build us a library or a swimming pool.
- 5—Both dormitories turn out ninety per centum strong to Pictureland Theater. "The Ten Commandments."
- 6—English XIX is getting smaller every day.
- 7—Girls are still buying bobs. Two to-day, three last week. Only a dozen left.
- 8—Lose another football game. Three players go home to grow some more.
- 9—Physics lab about as per usual—short and easy.
- 10—Saturday and no football.
- 11—Doc Cunningham puts his hat on his week end and goes strolling.
- 12—We go up the St. Lawrence river with Miss Cokeley in chapel to-day.
- 13—J. O. McLaughlin carries a basket and milk bottle and sings lullabies all the day.
- 14—Two more bobbed heads. Ten crowning glories left unknown.
- 15—Thuse meeting called, but no thusers.
- 16—Daily broadcasting of onions from Pine Knot.
- 17—Reserves receive a trimming at the hands of Grantsville.
- 18—Sunday, rain, and chicken dinner. What's that about "October's BRIGHT blue weather?"
- 19—KANAWHACHEN staff selected.
- 20—Who will sponsor the senior class?
- 21—Shall we dance, or shall we play pussy-in-the-corner? The faculty must decide.
- 22—"Thou shalt not loiter in the halls nor be over-affectionate with thy companion," so decrees the Czar in chapel.
- 23—The Humane Society prevents one girl from having her hair shingled. Praises!
- 24—And again we lose a football game.
- 25—Waldo wears a clean shirt. Wonder who she is?
- 26—Mr. Moyers holds chapel—not with a rope, but spellbound.
- 27—Carl Hamric dates up at Verona Maple Hall.

- 28—Boys smoking their pipes again. Court in session.
- 28—Doc Cunningham wears his tragedy hose.
- 30—Independents give a good program to a small audience.
- 31—Hallowe'en. Walpurgis night party in the gymnasium.

- 2—Bluer Monday. The first snow.
- 3—Russell Ellyson goes fishing.
- 4—Several members of the faculty go to Huntingto nto the S. E. A.
- 5—G. N. S. vs. F. N. S.; result: 0-0. Reserves hold Cassaway to a scoreless tie.
- 6—Did you hear about Kate Cain's getting all the words right in the spelling test which was sprung in chapel?
- 7—Fletcher Reip makes his debut as detective.
- 8—Sunday. Two-o'clock dinner.
- 9—Cheer up! Turkeys are fattening.
- 10—Faculty meeting. "The baiting-place of wit."
- 11—Armistice Day. A few flags, no holiday.
- 12—The seniors buy their class rings.
- 13—Friday, the thirteenth. No wonder we lost to Broaddus.
- 14—The Elizabethan Players present THE TAMING OF THE SHREW. See Hamlet's advice to the players.
- 15—Whis and Luke breakfast in their rooms.
- 16—Mr. Cooper walks from Gilmer between midnight and 8:00 A. M.
- 17—The Reverend Orin D. Curtis of the M. E. Church conducts chapel exercises.
- 18—The L. S. C., a new secret organization, makes its appearance with colors flying.
- 19—Mr. Rohrbough announces a vacation of two days for Thanksgiving. We do.
- 20—Tom Thumb is married again in the auditorium at low eight o'clock.
- 21—A formal reception, in the gymnasium, to the students by the faculty.
- 22—Shall we begin to study? No, let's wait till after Thanksgiving.
- 23—At the weekly convention of Pine Knot boys, Mr. Cooper proclaims Berry the loudest bare of tone singer in the house.
- 24—After to-morrow the "flashing sickle" and "ripened grain" will disappear from chapel song till next fall.
- 25—Some faculty members and students, fearing the boat may not run to-morrow, foot it to Gilmer.
- 26—Thanksgiving Day.
- 27—Easy times reported from both dormitories.

- 26—Tuesday. Tempus fugit.
- 27—Ichabod Crane rides into town on the shoulders of Charles Holt.
- 28—Miss Cokeley, in chapel: "Save your pennies—if you have any."
- 29—Town girls defeat Verona Mapel girls in basketball by a close score.
- 30—The dormitory on the campus has a thorough cleaning and rearranging.
- 31—Gypsy Maude proposes to French Hyre at dinner. A good time is enjoyed by all.

FEBRUARY

- 1—Willie Sholes seems to be a little bruised.
- 2—Ground-hog day. Tuck stays in his den till sundown.
- 3—Fletch Reip takes a deep breath at Luzader's Opera House, and the Luzader boys get all wrought up.
- 4—Chances for dancing look rather slim.
- 5—Moyers and his Tigers off for sunny Calhoun.
- 6—Gassaway Y as meek as lambs.
- 7—Tigers return with two scalps.
- 8—Monday. Teachers believe that the students remembered the Sabbath day and also kept it holy, but they must have forgotten the day before.
- 9—Now is the time for all good students to have their maps made at once for the KANAWHACHEN.
- 10—G. N. S. wins from Potomac State. Hot game.
- 11—The Reverend Mr. White, of Spencer, conducts devotional exercises at chapel.
- 12—Verona Mapel girls entertained Pine Knot boys.
- 13—Pine Knot boys turn out to meet their new mother with a '98 model yellow cab. The vehicle is manned by ten huskies in harness. Night spent in cleaning goloshes.
- 14—Waiters report good appetites at the dinner party given by President and Mrs. Rohrbough for the faculty last evening.
- 15—The TOWER and KANAWHACHEN staffs are photographed. Plates reported blank.
- 16—Water off. No school. And the Ancient Mariner did not know that he was sitting pretty.
- 17—Ray Thompson says that he is unnerved and is losing money every time he makes a picture.
- 18—Glenville debating team defeats Fairmont team here.
- 19—Subtibes a bad co'd ca't be hebbed.
- 20—Negative debating team returns from West Liberty.

- 24—The Reverend J. E. Brown, of Gassaway, conducts the exercises at chapel.
- 25—Miss Arbuckle remarks no philandering in the reading room. Reference books are shocked off the shelves.
- 26—Our basketball team wins from Broddaus, 26-25.
- 27—Great need of a beautifying camera. Nobody admits the correctness of her map.
- 28—Smitty tells another experience. He is the modern D. Boone.

MARCH

- 1—We wish this was the 29th of February.
- 2—Water is off, but SCHOOL KEEPS.
- 3—Creed Riddel takes a bath in one pint of H₂O.
- 4—Water is as scarce as flowers. Basketballers set out to Fairmont for the last game.
- 5—Tigers are rechristened Lambs after the Burnsville game.
- 6—Gilmer County Teachers' Basketball Tournament. Glenville District champions.
- 7—Sunday. Chicken dinner. Water off. Cat your plates.
- 8—Wisdom still lingers, and even knowledge does not come.
- 9—Mr. Whiting's mustache and sideburns are still growing.
- 10—Thompson is still losing money.
- 11—Miss Aten: "Spring has come."
George Firestone: "Two weeks yet."
- 12—We learn to sing PALM BRANCHES in chapel to-day. Easter must be coming.

- 13—Winter back with a blizzard. Miss Brand throws big party.
- 14—Kodak day for the KANAWHACHEN. Film exposed to many harrowing sights.
- 15—Examination schedule is announced. As usual no one leaves before the last day.
Mr. Rohrbough must be pretty clever.
- 16—Several class-goers begin studying for the past term.
- 17—Examinations hit like a cyclone.
- 18—One crowded hour of glorious cramming.
- 19—Yes, they are over. We are under.
- 20-22—Mid-year vacation. It is hard to believe, but it is true.
- 23—Enrollment day again. Mr. Cooper abandons his boys and sets out for Columbus by way of Morgantown. Mr. H. L. White hurries to town to adopt the orphans.
- 24—The teachers declare that the students must work more this term, and, to make the statement more forceful, they outline a year's work for the term. Hot pedagogues!
- 25—Mrs. Underwood returns to school with her hair cut. "And then there were nine."
- 26—Bill McGinnis informs Miss Brand that the Royal Exchange is on page 369.
- 27—Edward Rohrbaugh inhales his usual eight glasses of water at dinner.
- 28—Miss Cokeley changes us about so that we may become better acquainted at table.
- 29—The members of English XX receive several F's.
- 30—Doc and Fletch skip the weekly convention, so Mr. Rohrbough says.
- 31—Pete is not feeling very well.

APRIL

- 1—April Fool Day. Draw your own conclusion.
- 2—Evelyn Beall stages Red Hot Stunts at the auditorium for the benefit of the athletic association.
- 3—Watch for the Easter frocks to-morrow. No doubt it will rain.
- 4—Clear skies and a cool wind. Easter frocks in full showing. Several cases of frost-bites reported.
- 5—The end of a perfect day. KANAWHACHEN should go to press.
