The President

In this book you will find chronicled recent happenings at Glenville State College and see those responsible for the events. Much has taken place since our last yearbook was published. We believe the initiative and effort exhibited by those responsible for this publication are indicative of that shown by the entire student body and staff. With new buildings, a constantly improving program, and an increased student enrollment, we are forging ahead. With the help of alumni and citizens of our area, our dreams can become realities and Glenville State College will continue to render outstanding service to the citizens of West Virginia.

Student Council

Glenville State College's Student Council has this past year assumed a burden of responsibility exceeding that of any other group that has so represented its student body. The past year's council, working for the first time under a new constitution and an administrative mandate which gave them control over the distribution of the student activity fund, accomplished an almost unequivocal amount of positive progress toward better student government. . . . This council was a veritable driving force behind the independent student movement which made the publication of this yearbook possible.

Officers of the 1952-53 council were:

Frank Fultineer	President
Carolton Gandee	Vice-President
Clarence Maze	Secretary
Lonnie J. Miller	Treasurer
Robert Milligan	Sergeant-at-Arms
Mr. Stanley Hall	Faculty Adviser

DQUARTERS

Kappa Chi Kappa

Kappa Chi Kappa is a local sorority which was organized in the fall of 1951. The eight charter members were JoAnn M. Richards, Dorothy Terrill, June B. Adams, Mary Robinson, Ruby Ann Cromwell, Margaret W. Stanevich, Martha Mick, and Nancy Harris.

The sorority offers opportunity for wholesome and gracious group living. It establishes bonds of friendship, develops womanly character, and furnishes a small nucleus for campus activities. An annual April Showers Dance is the highlight of the various social functions sponsored by the group.

Row four: Noreen Westfall, Alice Ann Griffith, Patty Hardman, Susan Arnold, Jane Ratliff, Beulah Beckner, Kathleen Barr, Joyce Georgalis, Eunice Hatfield.

Xi Beta Tau

Xi Beta Tau Sorority was organized September, 1951, to give Glenville State College girls an opportunity to work together to benefit the college and themselves, morally, spiritually, and socially.

During each school year, Xi Beta Tau Sorority has two "rush periods" to select new girls with new ideas to become members. Membership is limited; girls who become pledges assist Xi Beta Tau in sponsoring a Help Week during which the pledges give positive assistance to worthy causes.

Xi Beta Tau tries to give the college students more social activities by sponsoring an annual "Sock Hop." During the past school year Xi Beta Tau added to its list of activities an assembly and a student mix.

Officers during the past year were: Faith Bingman, President; Sally Waggoner, Vice-President; Maizie Hughes, Secretary; Juanita Green, Treasurer; Mary Faith Holbert, Corres. Secretary; Miss Julia M. Nutter, Faculty Adviser.

Row one: Mary Helen Somerville, Juanita Green, Sally Waggoner, Faith Bingman, Maizie Hughes, Mary Faith Holbert, Nora Ann Kennedy, Marlene Brown.

Holy Roller Court

Glenville State College's oldest social organization, the Holy Roller Court Fraternity, was formed in 1928. The purpose of the Holy Roller Court is to foster better relations between students, encourage student and group initiative, and to lead in the staging of recreational and social events.

The Court is limited to 30 members, and membership is by invitation. The Court holds two initiation periods of two weeks duration each year. The first is in the Fall, ending at the Homecoming dance, and the other is in the Spring, ending at the annual Court Dance, which is held on the first Friday of May. Initiation procedure is outlined in the constitution.

The Holy Roller Court has the reputation of sponsoring successful social events and of supporting events of equal merit sponsored by other college groups. The Court Dance, the class tournaments, and "Fun Night" are three Court sponsored events that are eagerly awaited each year by the student body.

Officers during the past year were: Holt Gray, Judge; Carl Galgani, Clerk; Richard Barrett, Sheriff; Maurice Buck, Treasurer; Ronald Butcher, Prosecuting Attorney; Gerald Kress, Defense Attorney; James Gainer, Custodian; and Dr. James G. Jones, Faculty Advisor.

Row three: Don Merriman, Bernard Jolley, Charles Ray, Ervin Hull, Raymond Oxier, Denvin McClung, Charles Sturgill.

Row four: Bill Lilley, Paul Hunt, John Brisendine, Louis Hinkle, Bill Rumbach, Joe Romano, Dr. James G. Jones.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

The Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity is the oldest National Social fraternity, and the first fraternity to be granted a charter at Glenville State, being established April 28, 1947 with 23 charter members.

The fraternity has set an example of its work by giving their services as leaders of various organizations, by improving their attitudes toward helping their fellow students, and their participation in various other campus activities.

The fraternity strives to enlarge and maintain their organization by taking in new members each semester.

Besides the sports and school activities in which the fraternity takes part, it sponsors three social affairs during the school year. The first of these is the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance; second, a square dance; and third, the annual Easter Dance.

These three dances are highlights of the year and much is done to promote social gatherings among the students.

Officers during the past year were: Lonnie Miller, President; Harold Hissam, Vice-President; Joe Riddel, Secretary; Carlton Gandee, Treasurer; Paul Lanham, Corres. Secretary; Charles Zakarian, Sergeant-at-Arms; Harold Butcher, Chaplain; and M. E. B. Elder, Faculty Advisor.

Rose of Sigma Tau.

Officers during the past year were: William Waldeck, President; James Scott, Vice-President; Bill Radcliff, Secretary; Robert Milligan, Treasurer; William Phelps, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Dr. Byron Fleck, Faculty Adviser.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Alpha Xi chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, a national social organization, was founded on the Glenville State college campus March 14, 1950 with a charter member group of 20 men. William Harper from Parkersburg was elected first president of the fraternity, the third men's social organization to be established on campus.

The fraternity has as its aim to foster social activity and color on campus by participation and cooperation in school events.

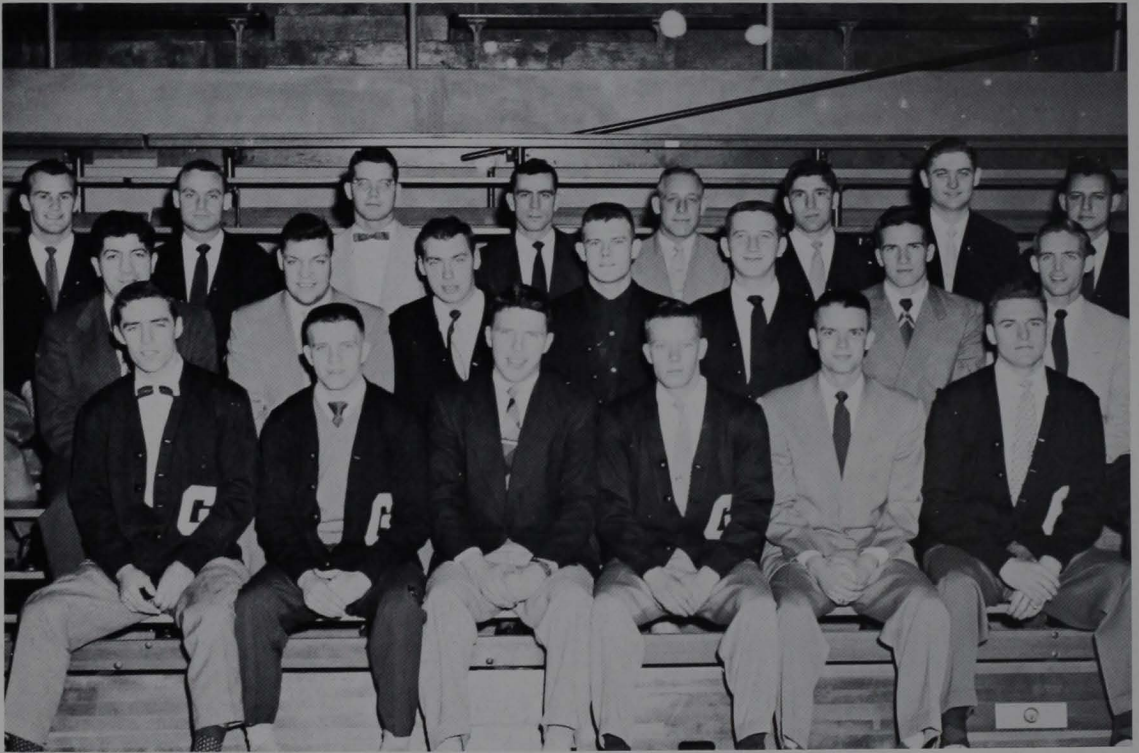

The fraternity annually sponsors many social events, including student mixes, stag parties, picnics, smokers, and their top social event of the year, the annual White Rose Christmas Dance. The colorful event was held this year on December 13, at which time Miss Doris Spicer was officially crowned 1952-53

G Club

Glenville State's intercollegiate athletes combine to form this organization which has for its purpose the furthering of social contact among fellow teammates, and the honoring of graduating athletes with deserved awards.

The G-Club is a self-supporting group which has the rights to all concessions at college sponsored athletic events. This past year the club instituted a new movement with which they hope to accumulate a library of textbooks which can be used by athletes who otherwise would have difficulty in obtaining them.

Women's Athletic Association

The W.A.A. is Glenville State College's foremost women's organization for the promotion of intra-mural athletics. It provides the college coeds with valued physical activity.

The club is formed on the merit system. Each girl must participate and exhibit some proficiency in a number of physical skills each year in order to remain a member in good standing with the group. Awards are given in accordance with accomplishment.

William Boram

Mercury

Staff

Oracle of Glenville State College is the school newspaper, the Mercury, printed weekly by the journalism department of the college. Staffed by members of the several journalism classes and students who like to contribute their endeavors along this line, the Mercury has long been considered one of the finest collegiate publications in the state.

For the past two years, the paper has been edited by William A. Boram, an English, journalism, and speech major from Weston. His exceptionally fine work has done much to make the paper what it is today.

Veteran's Club

Formed only this past year, the Veteran's Club claims the title of the college's newest organization. Composed mostly of veterans who have served since the end of World War II, the club was formed for the benefit of returning servicemen as a campus coordinating unit between them, the Veterans' Administration, and the college.

The group also has hopes of sponsoring several social events in order to form a better relationship between the veteran and the usually younger non-veteran.

Charles H. Ray, Jr. of Richwood was named the first president and Mr. Marvin Newman, mathematics instructor, became the first faculty adviser.

Row two: Frank Fultineer, Hobart Childers, Bill Stanley, John Lazear, John Short, Louis Hinkle, Bill Hanlin.

Row three: Carl Galgani, Harold Hissam, James Scott, Bill Radcliff.

Alpha

Delta

Epsilon

Alpha Delta Epsilon fraternity was organized in the fall of 1952 by students in the field of business education. Its purposes are to encourage and recognize scholarship in the field of business education, to provide a medium through which social-business problems may be discussed, and to foster a social spirit among the members.

Membership is by invitation, and is limited to thirty.

Officers during the past year were: Clarence Maze, President; Frank Fultineer, Vice-President; Ruby Ann Cromwell, Recording Secretary; Doris Spicer, Corres. Secretary; James Scott, Treasurer; Mrs. Genevieve Butcher, Faculty Adviser.

Alpha

Psi

Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity and one of the largest honorary societies in the United States, returned to the Glenville campus in 1952 after several years of relative inactivity. Reorganized through the efforts of Miss Marjorie Skelton, speech and dramatics instructor, and William Boram, the one student on campus who had previously belonged to the organization, the fraternity assumed a membership of seven in its initial year of revival.

Boram conducted the rites that again established this popular group at Glenville State, and he, for the first year, served in the capacity of president.

Row one: Marjorie Hardman Burke, Claudette Hefner, Ruby Ann Cromwell.
Row two: Bill Boram, Bill Waldeck, Hobart Childers, Charles Doddrell.

Future Teachers of America

The H. Y. Clark Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was organized in the fall of 1950 and chartered on May 16, 1951 with fifteen charter members.

The two-fold purpose of the club is to provide a situation in which young people interested in teaching can gain practical experience in the problems of teaching and to recruit other young people into the teaching profession.

Officers for the past year were: James Scott, President; Norene Westfall, Secretary; Dorothy Brannon, Treasurer; Eunice Hatfield, Historian.

International Relations Club

One of Glenville State's oldest clubs, the International Relations Club, is a group of students bound together by their mutual interest in governmental and world affairs as they affect our contemporary society.

Besides their regular meetings, the club sponsors assembly programs and panel discussions which reflect upon their vein of interest.

Officers during the past year were: John Lazear, President; Connie White, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Bessie B Bell, Faculty Adviser.

4-H

Club

Affiliated with one of the nation's largest organizations, the 4-H club is a student group dedicated to the principles of a consecrated pledge. Pledging head, hand, heart, and health to the betterment of their nation and their school, this group has done much to foster a productive social spirit at Glenville.

They work in coordination with school officials in sponsoring assembly speakers and backing worthwhile endeavors.

Officers during the past year were: Dorothy Lanham, President; John Loyd, Vice-President; Genevieve Hinter, Secretary; Robert Cutlip, Treasurer; James Scott, Dorothy Brannon, and Caroline Boyd, Adult Counselors; and Miss Naomi Albanese, Faculty Adviser.

Home Economics Club

Dedicated to the improvement of sociological conditions as they exist within the home, the Home Economics Club is a long standing organization at Glenville College. Pledged to the exalted purpose of championing the moral and ethical phases of living, this group of girls have formed a social group that both fulfills this purpose of learning and also provides them with a wider range of collegiate social life.

Officers during the past year were: Helen Brammer, President; Nancy Harris, Vice-President; Glenda Hinter, Secretary-Treasurer; Jolene Jones, Historian; Genevieve Hinter, Reporter; and Miss Naomi Albanese and Mrs. Lillian Chad-dock, Faculty Advisers.

Row four: Richard Hoover, Frank Simons, Marion Beckett, John Loyd.

Student Christian Association

Bound together in the cause of Christian fellowship, the Student Christian Association is a group of young people whose purpose is to foster the Christian religion and to correlate it with the various other phases of campus life.

They receive and distribute, at regular intervals, literature which promotes their cause, and which they hope will enlighten others and breed religious interest on the campus.

Wesley Foundation

A national collegiate Methodist organization, the Wesley Foundation is a Christian group dedicated to the promotion of church life for college students away from home. Other than their weekly meeting, the organization sends exchange groups to other colleges and works closely with local church affiliations.

Officers during the past year were: Jane Myers, President; James Watson, Vice-President; Betty Dobbins, Secretary-Treasurer; and Miss Jewel Matthews, faculty adviser.

Onimogohow

Players

The Onimogohow Players are a group of college students bound together by a mutual interest in dramatics. Their purpose is to further the interest in dramatics on our college campus.

They sponsor plays which serve as educational aids in scenery making and stage managing.

The past year they produced two plays, Mr. Barry's Etchings and Death Takes A Holiday.

Officers during the past year were: Ruby Ann Cromwell, President; Joyce Georgalis, Vice-President; Betty Jo Simons, Secretary; Marjorie Hardman Burke, Treasurer; and Miss Marjorie Skelton, faculty adviser.

*Music
Educators
National Conference*

The Music Educators National Conference is a national organization whose purpose is to study all forms of music and musical relationships.

At Glenville State, the local chapter backs all other musical organizations, and once a year serves as host to the area high school band festival.

Officers during the past year were: Mary Faith Holbert, President; Eugene Gherke, Secretary-Treasurer; and Mr. Harold Orendorff, faculty adviser.

College

Band

Organized through the efforts of Mr. Harold S. Orendorff, the college band has, for the past two years, been a very prominent group in college social affairs and especially at athletic contests. This group presents concerts and plays at all home ball games.

Their lively renditions have highlighted the cheering activities at many basketball games.

College

This group of musicians was organized under the direction of music instructor, Miss Bertha Olsen. Its purpose is to foster the cultural growth of music on the campus.

Orchestra

The orchestra annually presents a spring concert, and each year, plays for graduation.

Row one: Nora Ann Kennedy, Miss Bertha Olsen, Eugene Gherke.

Frank Montrose Memorial Award

for

Outstanding Senior Athlete of the Year

This year it was decided that some recognition should be given to the senior athlete of each graduating class who was most outstanding, not only as an athlete, but as a scholar, a leader, and a person of high moral character. It was also decided that the selection would be made from the previous year in order to include the entire basketball and baseball seasons.

The next question which arose was what to call the award. A diligent examination of the past records of the school's athletic history by Jim Robinson, freshman sports writer, revealed the following.

Frank Montrose came to Glenville in the fall of 1939 from Richwood High School where he had established himself as a grid great under the guidance of "Babe" Jones, a former Pioneer.

In the gridiron campaign of Frank's freshman year, during which he was used sparingly at first before he came into his own, he established himself as one of the most promising backs in the school's history.

Frank's first touchdown in collegiate competition came in the first period of the Fairmont game on a 63 yard punt return. Perhaps his greatest performance came in the following game against Shepherd, when he passed and ran his team to a 34 to 0 victory.

Shortly before the final examinations in the spring of his freshman year, Frank went blind. A month later, on June 21, 1940, the 21 year-old Montrose died in a Baltimore hospital, a victim of nephritis.

Just before Frank left school, Earl McDonald, Mercury sports writer, shook hands with him and said, "See you in September at the training camp, Frank."

"Don't worry, I'll be back," Frank said.

And now, with the newly instituted "Frank Montrose Memorial Award," he is once again back at Glenville.

As this yearbook goes to press, the recipient of the award from last year's graduating class has not been selected. We can only hope and feel confident that the athlete who is chosen will carry on in a manner befitting an all-around good fellow, Frank Montrose.

Football Resumé

Glenville State College's 1952 gridiron edition, standing on the brink of an imminently disastrous season, bounced back from the throes of defeatism to establish the best Pioneer football record since 1942.

Although the Blue and White gridders ended their brief season with a seemingly mediocre three won, three lost record, the won and lost column does not stand as an indication of the year's proceedings. Opening on a dreary note, and then dropping the two succeeding contests, the Pioneers lashed into the latter half of their six-game card with three defeats on the ledger, and prospects for a dismal future with two major foes occupying two-thirds of the remaining games.

Then came the change with a feline-like suddenness that clawed two favored foes into submission and buried the third under a touchdown deluge, controlled only by last-half restraint. The mid-year awakening was a thing of surprise to all local followers, and it forecast bad news to future Pioneer opponents if Uncle Sam will keep his beckoning hands off the young men who last year found themselves when the going was the roughest.

GLENVILLE 6 SHEPHERD 20

Opening the season without a pre-school training camp and on foreign soil, the White Wave was vanquished by the traditionally powerful Rams by a two-touchdown margin.

Glenville scored first on a Tennant to Godfrey pass, but Shepherd bounced back to take a 7-6 half-time lead and then added two quick third period tallies to waltz off with the victory.

GLENVILLE 6 FAIRMONT 26

The powerful Falcons, eventual state college champions, traveled to the Pioneer lair and wasted little time in showing their prowess. They registered three times in succession before the locals had hardly more than touched the oval. This was enough to secure victory although rampaging Jim Cherocci added a 65-yard third period gallop to the total. "Bullet Bill" Hanlin, offensive captain and stalwart Pioneer rip-runner, scored for Glenville besides playing his usual magnificent game.

GLENVILLE 7 CONCORD 25

Homecoming Day dawned on GSC with gala celebrations and evening faded into dark despair. Concord's Mountain Lions, following the Fairmont pattern, scored the first three times they touched the ball and then turned on the defense, matching the Pioneers last-half tally with their own. Mistakes cropped up again in the Wave attack that spelled early disaster, and the Pioneer offense fell apart completely under the opponent's much larger defensive line.

Bill Hanlin again led the Glenville offense and scored the only touchdown on a short jaunt.

GLENVILLE 14 POTOMAC STATE 0

With three defeats and 150 miles of travel behind them, the Pioneers hit the victory trail with an incentive, team-victory that left Pioneer fans aghast and Catamount rooters dismayed.

An airtight defense that refused to yield at the right moments, and an air attack that functioned when the going got tough on the ground provided the margin of victory. Gene Spadaro was the individual hero of the day, grabbing off two Tennant passes for scores besides several other brilliant catches and an irreproachable defensive game.

Spencer, Vincent, and Jolley are three other individuals who appeared often to throw back Catamount threats, while Hanlin, Riddel, and Hissam bore the brunt of the hard-moving ground attack.

GLENVILLE 25 DAVIS & ELKINS 7

Seemingly taking inspiration from their Potomac State victory, the Blue and White moved on to greater heights the following week by pulling one of the top WVIAC upsets in many years.

The highly favored Senators ran into an early rampaging Pioneer machine that cast back their every effort and then marched 91 yards for a first quarter score with Godfrey carrying the last four yards.

Spadaro snatched a second quarter Tennant aerial for a score before D. and E. retaliated. Hanlin ground out the third Pioneer marker and the Blue and White held tight the rest of the way.

Riddel's last quarter touchdown gallop was anti-climatic as the Pioneers walked off the field with one of their sweetest victories ever.

GLENVILLE 38 SALEM 6

Salem's oft-beaten Tigers provided little opposition to a sweeping Glenville offensive which scored almost at will during the initial half. Hanlin's 65-yard gallop on the third play from scrimmage set the night's pattern which later let to a 32-6 Glenville halftime lead. Salem's Beto matched Hanlin's jaunt moments later to tie the score 6-6 momentarily but Spadaro and Hanlin grabbed off two of Tenant's long heaves for additional first period scores.

Then in the second period, Spadaro caught a short Tenant pass for the fourth Pioneer tally, and moments later intercepted a Salem aerial which he returned 50 yards for the score.

Godfrey registered the sole second-half marker on a twisting 45-yard third quarter run, and Coach Josephs emptied the bench, giving the reserves valuable experience.

Gone via graduation from the Pioneer ranks next year will be eight seniors who formed the experienced nucleus of the past year's squad. Co-Captains Bill Hanlin and Gene Spadaro will be badly missed along with the following: Charles H. Spencer, tackle; Lonnie Miller, guard; Frank Fultineer, back; Joseph Riddel, back; Donald Weaver, guard; and Fred Gainer, defensive end.

However, on the brighter side, many experienced men will return to the fold, which, barring their military call, should provide Coach Josephs with a unit around which to build his future clubs. The most prominent among these are: Frank Vincent, Bernard Jolley, Jack Tennant, Harold Hissam, Ronald Godfrey, Donald Merriman, Michael Popp, Edward Tekieli, Oliver Hunt, Paul Lanham, Danny Hall, Charles Sturgill, Robert O'Dell, James Robinson, Dick Barrett, "Bud" Huff, and veteran returnees, Avis Partain and Marlin Snyder.

At the end of the season seven Pioneers were honored with mentions on the All-WVIAC selections. Two of these boys, Charles Spencer and Gene Spadaro, received first-team berths for their great 60-minute play.

Two others, Frank Vincent, center, and Jack Tennant, quarterback, were named to the second eleven. Captain Hanlin received particular honorable mention and Bernard Jolley and Joe Riddel were given honorable mention to the select group.

Next year's schedule is as follows:

Sept. 27	Shepherd	Home
Oct. 4	Fairmont	Away
Oct. 11	Concord	Away
Oct. 18	Potomac	Home
Oct. 25	Davis & Elkins	Away

Basketball Resumé

While the 1952-53 edition of the Glenville basketball team failed to win any conference laurels, they did present a colorful, aggressive style of play that made them a serious threat throughout the campaign.

The Pioneers won seven and lost 13 in conference competition, and split even in two non-conference engagements, for a season total of eight victories and 14 defeats.

Led by Jack Tennant's 27 points, the White Wave opened the season famously by whipping Fairmont, 88-68, at Glenville. The Wave then fell into a three-game losing streak which was not checked until they registered a 64-61 win over the Alumni.

Wesleyan, West Liberty, Tech, and Alderson-Broaddus beat the Josephsmen in succession following the Alumni victory, but the Glenville quintet found Davis & Elkins an easy mark in their next outing to annex their third victory, 85-80.

Concord was the next foe to appear on the local court, and the most exciting battle of the season ensued. The Pioneers raced to an early lead only to have the Mountain Lions overtake them in the final seconds to send the game into overtime. The teams finished the first overtime in another deadlock, and in the second extra session the visitors outlasted Glenville to win, 86-84.

Sparked by Tennant's 26 points and Bob Poole's 25, the Pioneers rebounded from the Concord defeat to edge Beckley, 77-67.

The team then journeyed to Marietta to do battle with their namesakes, the Pioneers. The Ohioans, one of the leading quintets in the Ohio Valley region, faced some stern opposition before finally overcoming the White Wave, 68-63.

The conference champions, Morris Harvey, were the next visitors to Glenville, and although the Pioneers were impressive in the first meeting of the two teams in Charleston, the locals were completely outclassed in this one, 85-66.

Things began to look up when the Wave trounced Davis and Elkins and Beckley on successive nights to open the longest road trip of the year, but defeats by Concord and Fairmont evened matters as the Pioneers returned home for the last leg of the campaign.

Playing against some of the strongest opposition in the state, the Wave gave out with their finest efforts. Alderson-Broadus started things off by barely eeking out an 87-84 win over the locals. Once again the Pioneers came back from defeat to tame the Salem Tiger, 92-85. High-flying Wesleyan was forced to pull out all stops in nudging the Wave, 73-63, at Buckhannon. The White Wave ended the season in a blaze of glory by taking the measure of the defending champions, West Liberty, 90-82.

The Pioneers failed to survive the first round of play in the WVIC tournament at Buckhannon as the home forces, Wesleyan, ran wild in burying the Glenville team, 105-75.

Leading the Glenville squad in scoring for the second straight year was their talented forward, "Dynamite" Jack Tennant. Tennant racked up a total of 516 points to set a new Glenville regular season scoring record. The old record was 499 points, scored by Bob "Hooks" Hardman during the 1950-51 season.

Tennant's 516 points came in 22 contests for a 23.4 game average. The "Fairview Flipper" scored over 20 points in 16 games during the year, including four contests in which he scored 30 or more points. His highest output for the campaign was against West Liberty when he poured in 39 points.

Following Tennant was sophomore Bob Poole, who counted 368 points for a game average of 16.7. Poole went over the 20 point mark five time and hit thirty or better twice.

Diminutive Dickie Barrett, playing in only 21 tilts, scored 344 points to raise his career total to 671 points.

Cheerleaders

Charles "Chick" Zakarian, Betty Sue Sims, John Rohrbaugh, Dorothy Lanham

Charles "Chick" Zakarian has led the cheering aggregations from Glenville State for the past three seasons during which he has served as head cheerleader. Hailing from Pawtucket, R. I., "Chick" is a junior physical education and social studies major.

Two-year veteran Betty Sue Sims calls Washington Bottom, W. Va. (of which Parkersburg is a suburb) her home and is a sophomore home economics and business education student.

The newcomer to this year's foursome is freshman John Rohrbaugh who hails from Thomasville, Ga. and Hampton, Va. and plans to study engineering in the future.

Another two-year veteran is "Dottie" Lanham, a sophomore home economics and physical education major from Marsville, W. Va.

Lyceum

Through the efforts of Mr. Marvin Newman and a beaver-like Lyceum committee composed of Miss Bertha Olsen, Joyce Georgalis, and Hobert Childers, the schedule of Lyceum programs for the 1952-53 school year has been one of the best to appear here in recent years. By surmounting what appeared to be impossible financial and scheduling difficulties, this hard-working group has brought to the campus a six-program series of musicians, speakers, and artists featuring the world-renowned Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers, and the Barter Theatre of Abingdon, Virginia. Other artists featured on the program were:

Paul Mattheson —Bass-baritone
Tibor K. Bebek —Lecturer
Grant Reynard —Artist and Lecturer
Irene Marik —Pianist
