In Memoriam

John Donne stated the matter with an enduring clarity and validity. For whom doth the bell toll, he asked; and answered: it tolls for thee. For each of us, he is saying, is a part of the vastness of humanity and the loss of a part is felt by the whole. Such a loss—one that was deeply felt by many—was that of Henry J. Fasthoff. He was indeed a part not only of a school and its spirit but one, who in the highest function of teaching, left with those students who passed through his classes not only a fuller, richer appreciation of his subject but of life itself.

Administration and Faculty

the President

Dr. HARRY B. HEFLIN

The President and his family

The administration of Dr. Heflin has been marked by a growth and expansion of the college not only in the immediately evident sense of physical additions to the campus, but in the more meaningful sense of an increasing number of graduates more ably prepared and more deeply imbued with the intellectual maturity of a richer college career. The benefits of expanded physical facilities and more particularly of association with a conscientious and capable faculty which these graduates take with them is, in no small measure, a reflection of the capability of President of the college. The rising quality of the graduate of Glenville State College stands as credit to the students, the faculty, and to its President.

the Deans

DELMER K. SOMERVILLE

An alumnus of Glenville, Dr. Somerville subsequently received an M.A. from West Virginia University and a doctorate in Education from Cornell. He has held the office of Dean of Secondary Education and served as Chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology since 1947.

Seniors

A few thoughts in retrospect. . .

It seems quite suddenly that one becomes an alumni; that, abruptly, the college years become intensely compressed and over too soon. The occasional prolixity and the long succession of gray Mondays are now over; moreover, they are past with a curious and rather difficult to grasp finality. The preceding years have been for the people on the next pages a period of some broadening and realization and, perhaps more importantly, a face to face encounter—for a while anyhow—with how much there actually is to know in the world. The whole business has been easier for some than for others, and its relative value varies over a wide spectrum. Each, however, was influenced, perceptibly or no, by the some 125 hours of academic credit which got them on the next pages. Their grouping together here is something of a last acknowledgement of a common experience before the dispersion begins.

Organizations

the Organizations of High Purpose

Council President Paul Hughes and Faculty Advisor Stanley Hall

the Inter-Organizational Council

Organized in the fall of 1957 and still largely in the formative stage, the Inter-Organizational Council will in time assume certain of the duties now held by the Student Council. Among these would be the supervision of pledging and assistance to the Council in Homecoming details. The personnel of the group consists of the vice presidents of each of the organized campus groups. The chairman of the Council is elected by these representatives. The acting chairman is presently Pat Knicely. The members shown at right are, clockwise around the table, Phyllis Young, Thelda Strader, Fred Williams, Steve Posey, Gene Elmore, Robert Reynolds, Keith Pritt, Orton Jones, Pat Knicely, and Carolee Singleton.

the Student Council

Since its inception in 1935 the Student Council has continually expanded its function and importance upon the campus. Its growth and fulfillment of the need for a responsible student governing body is a demonstration of the character of leadership and the ability of its officers in the past and at the present time. Presently, the duties of the Council include the administration of the Student activity Fund, supervision of Freshman initiation, and organizational pledging. The Council also oversees the election of the Homecoming Queen, Princesses, and Pioneer and organizes the Homecoming Parade. The governing functions of the Council are carried out in conjunction with the president of the four classes. These officers, with the exception of those of the Freshman Class, are elected by vote of the entire student body in the spring preceding the academic year during which the officers will serve. The members of the Council shown at left are Orton Jones, Vice President; Paul Hughes, President; Robert Eakins, Sergeant at Arms; Trent Busch, Treasurer; Thelda Strader, Secretary.

The Dormitory Governing Boards and Council.

The formulation of policies and regulations for the betterment of dormitory residents and co-operation with the college and administration in the taking of disciplinary action is the common objective of the Council of Louis Bennett Hall and the Governing Boards of Kanawha and Verona Mapel Halls. These bodies form also a legitimate channel through which student needs and complaints may be interpreted to the proper college officials. The Governing Boards of the two Women's Residence Halls hold regular monthly business meetings; the Men's Council has unscheduled meetings called at the discretion of the president. The officers of the Governing Boards are selected in the spring for the following year and the representatives selected in the fall of the year. Both officers and representatives of the Council are elected in the fall.

the Organizations of Harmony

the Band

The Glenville Band, since its inception in 1949 has become one of the more noted campus musical organizations. Its halftime performances at Glenville's football games and its appearances in area parades and public functions have added to its growing stature. The Band presents also an annual spring concert. Membership in the Band is open to any student and college credit is awarded to members. The organization was formerly directed by Henry J. Fasthoff and is now under the direction of Dr. Harold Orendorff. The members at right are, in the first row, Harold Hudnall, Robert Rowe, Ruby Elder, Gene Elmore, Sue Davidson, Joyce Brannon, Stanley Burns, and Roma Starcher. In the second row are, Jim Given, Francis Angelos, Carmen Amos, Gary Gillespie, Shirley Hager, Ernest Backus, Charles Massey, Eddie McKown, Dave Arbogast, and Harold Johnson.

the Orchestra

This orchestral group is an outgrowth of the Music Department's classes in instrumental instruction. Its membership is open to students interested in increasing their musical skills, particularly with the stringed instruments. The Orchestra presents a limited number of public performances during the school year, including a Christmas program and a commencement presentation. The group was formed by and is under the direction of Miss Bertha Olsen. Its members receive college credit for participation in the organization. Alpha Psi Omega

A national honorary fraternity, membership in the Glenville State College chapter of Alpha Psi Omega is based upon exceptional contributions to the dramatic activities on campus. Membership is limited and is awarded only upon fulfillment of a point quota established by the national governing body. Shown above, in the FIRST ROW, are President Charles Beeghley, William Deel, Pat Kniceley, and Rodney Busch. In the SECOND ROW are Trent Busch, Orton Jones, Pat Christian, and Jim White.

Lyceum Committee

Under the chairmanship of Mr. Carl Kerr, the Lyceum Committee selects and arranges the presentation of the several Lyceum programs presented during the school year. These programs, presented without admission cost to the student body, are intended as a cultural and artistic supplement to campus life. The members of the committee at LEFT are, clockwise, Carolyn McCullough, Mr. Carl Kerr, Pat Kniceley, and Miss Bertha Olsen.

Assembly Committee

The Assembly Committee functions both as a clearing house for organizations wishing to present assembly programs and as an advisory group which may offer suggestions to increase the worth of the programs and maintain a consistent standard of quality. The student members of the committee also introduce each assembly program when given. The members, AT RIGHT, Clockwise, Lee Kes-singer, James White, Dr. Harold Oren-dorff, and the chairman, Dr. James Gay Jones.

A newly formed committee, this group is responsible for the production of the weekly series of radio programs, entitled "Radio Goes to College," which are broadcast over station WHAR in Weston, W. the Kanawachen

The publication of the 1958 Kanawachen would seem to mark a significant step in the return to what may become a regular and respected part of the campus scene. The resumption of the annual following the lapse of a year, and this attempt by the staff to produce a volume of worth and significance may, it is hoped, be the precursor of subsequent annuals of still higher quality. A major portion of the planning and preparation of the 1958 Kanawachen devolved upon its Editor, Randolph Stein and its Photographer, William Deel. Stein, standing in the picture at right, was responsible for the design and content of the work. Deel produced, with the exception of the Senior portraits, virtually all of the photographs used in the book.

The Editorial Assistants whose tasks included the more prosaic work of the book's preparation are at left. These people: Orton Jones, Dorothy Matics, Sherra Nell Poling, and Dave Weatheren.

Assistant Coach Leland Byrd and Coach Nicholas Murin.

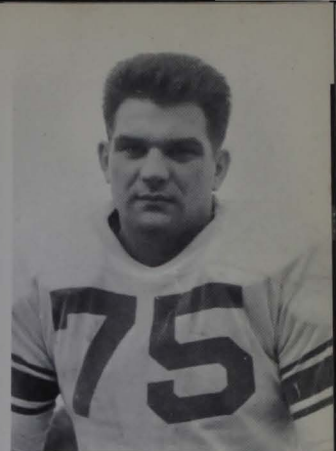

The season lidlifter saw a well-drilled Glenville eleven battle the Potomac State Catamounts to a 6-6 tie. The single pioneer tally came in a pass interception and a 52 yard sprint to pay dirt by Halfback Paul McKown. Following the opener at Potomac State, the Pioneers played host to a tough team from West Liberty. The G-Men, their lack of reserve power evident, bowed to the Hilltoppers by a 25-6 score. Glenville's lone tally came on a one yard plunge by Halfback Ron Stonfer. The scoring play was set up by a pass interception by Jack Campbell and carried by Stanley and McKown to the 19 and 1 yard line.

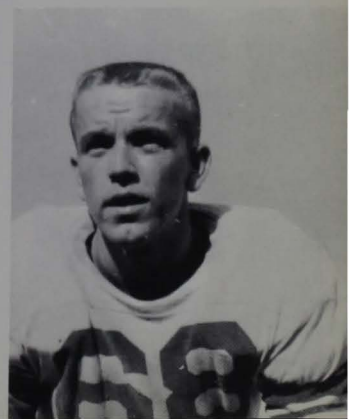

Coach Murin makes point in pre-scrimmage instructions.

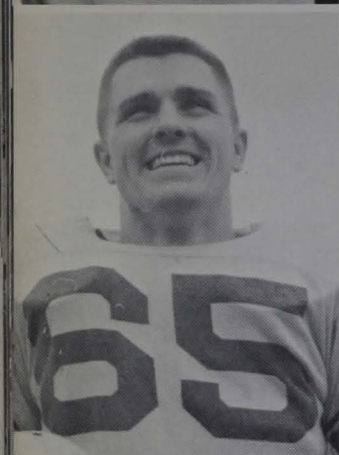

After the loss to West Liberty, the Pioneers traveled to Fairmont and suffered their second setback. A powerful Fairmont eleven subdued the G-Men by a 32-13 score. Behind 14-0 at the half, Glenville's initial TD came in the third quarter on a pass from Quarterback Jack Campbell to End Steve McMillian. Fairmont tallied twice again before substitute Quarterback Steve Taylor hit paydirt on a quarterback sneak. Emory Elkins' conversion ended the Glenville scoring. Glenville's first 1957 victory was over the Concord Lions in the annual Homecoming Game. The initial Pioneer score came in the second quarter with the Lions holding a 7-0 lead. Harris intercepted a Concord pass on the 20 and carried to the five. Larry Stanley cracked the Concord forward wall for three and on the next play Harris bulled over to make the score 7-6. Elkins' conversion knotted the score only to have Concord mount a sustained drive for their second touchdown. The Mountain Lion conversion was wide and the half ended Concord 13, Glenville 7.

Harris cracks the Concord line for a TD in the Homecoming game.

With five minutes remaining in the game Glenville took over on their own 23. Campbell promptly cracked through to the Pioneer 43. Ronnie Peters carried for 13 and a first down. Quarterback Campbell then handed off to Wilson who sprinted 20 yards to the Concord 24. The Concord defense stiffened but Peters bulled through for five and Wilson loped around end for the second Pioneer TD. With the score knotted at 13-13, Emory Elkins converted to give Glenville the margin of victory. Final in the Homecoming tilt: Glenville 14—Concord 13.

The Blue and White made it two victories in a row with a 25-7 triumph over Davis and Elkins. The Pioneer scoring started early with a spectacular 90 yard run by Stanley. Glenville's second tally came on a quarterback sneak by Jack Campbell. Both points after touchdown were wide and the half-time score stood Glenville 12, D and E 0. The Pioneers final two TD's came on sprints by halfback Paul McKown of 27 and 15 yards.

McKown carries off tackle in inter-squad action.

The season's finale saw an alert Glenville eleven dominate a hard-fighting Salem team. Following a quick series of plays leading to the sole Tiger score, the Pioneers struck back and were never headed. McKown tallied Glenville's initial TD on a two yard plunge following a 52 yard drive. Elkins converted and Glenville led 7-6. A sustained drive in the second period brought the ball to the Salem two where Eddie Armstrong cracked over. Elkins' successful conversion gave the G-Men an eight point lead. The Pioneers scored again in the third period in a sweeping 40 yard sprint to pay-dirt by Larry Stanley. Again Elkins' kick split the uprights and Glenville enjoyed a 21-6 lead. The Pioneers' final score came in the fourth period on a hand-off by quarterback Jack Campbell to Ron Stonfer who charged over from the seven. Another successful conversion made the final, Glenville 28-Salem 6, giving the Pioneers a season record of three wins, two losses, and one tie.

the season in Basketball

Assistant Coach Nick Murin and Coach Leland Byrd.

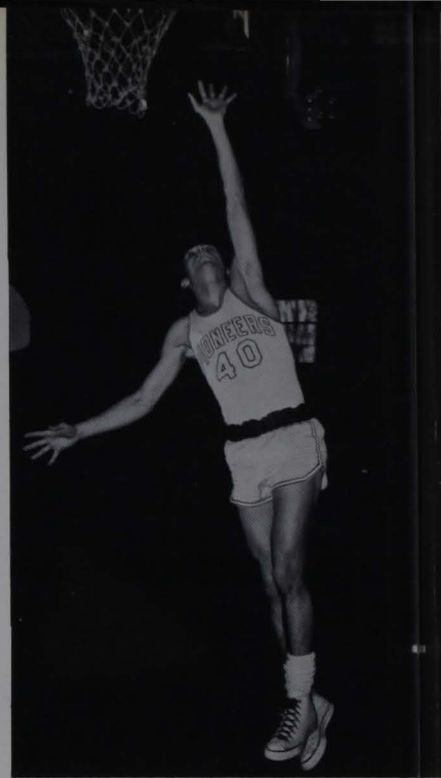

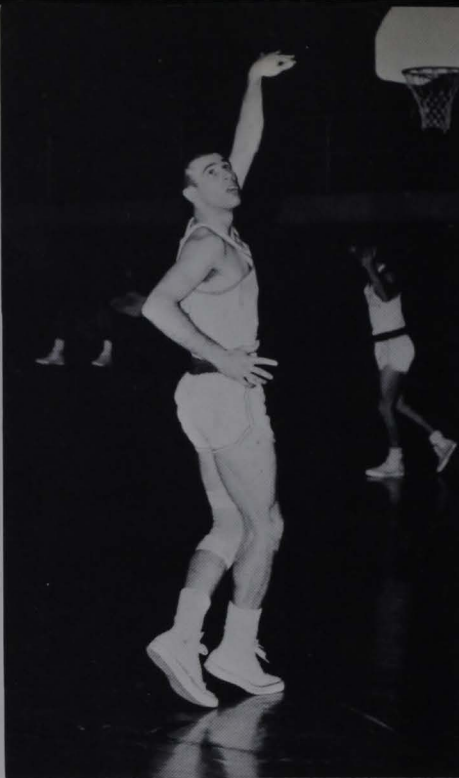

The 1957-58 season opened with the Pioneers facing the powerful West Virginia Tech squad on the White Wave's home court. Tech rolled up a dominating early lead and went on to a 110-84 victory. Rudy Poole and Bob Reynolds led the Pioneer offense with 23 and 19 points respectively. Glenville next played host to the Salem Tigers and with Poole hitting for 20, the Pioneers managed a 77-71 triumph. The two subsequent Glenville opponents, West Virginia State and Morris Harvey, played on successive nights proved too tough for the G-Men.

Bob Reynolds goes up for jump shot in Beckley game.

The State game on December 13 went to the men from Institute by an 87-69 score and Morris Harvey took the subsequent contest on the 14th by a 91-76 margin. Larry Barker took scoring honors for the Pioneers in both encounters. Glenville's final tilt of 1957 saw the G-Men play host to the West Liberty Hilltoppers and tally their second win of the season. Reynolds meshed 23 points as the Pioneers prevailed 75-67. On January 7 Morris Harvey journeyed to Glenville and trounced the G-Men for a second time. The score was 93-85. The Pioneers tasted victory the following night, however, overpowering the Davis Elkins Senators by the margin of 94 to 83. Again Poole led the Byrd-men in the scoring columns, netting 29, followed by Reynolds with 24. The Pioneers returned to their home court to meet Alderson-Broadus on January 10. The White Wave turned in one of their top performances of the season, coming from behind at the half to tie the game in the final seconds and then snatch victory by two points in an overtime period. Poole connected for 29 points in the 97-95 victory. Playing next a non-conference contest with a service team from Camp Lejune, the Pioneers watched victory slip from their fingers in the closing moments. The final showed the Marines on top, 85-84.

On January 16, the Byrd-men again met the high scoring Golden Bears of West Virginia Tech. Tech prevailed with ease and poured in 127 points to Glenville's 80. The Pioneers next dropped their third in a row on January 18 to the West Liberty Hill-toppers. Reynolds meshed 21 as the Hill-toppers took the contest 84 to 68. The White Wave finally returned to winning ways on January 21, topping a Davis Elkins aggregation for the second time of the season. The win came on the Glenville boards with Poole hitting for 20 and Reynolds for 19 in the 96-69 victory. Playing again before a home audience, the Pioneers racked up their second conquest in a row, trouncing Concord by 24 points for a 93-69 victory. Poole led the GSC scorers with 24 points.

Charlie Watt breaks through for layup in State game.

The Pioneers on January 27 traveled to Phillipi to engage Alderson-Broadus. A-B prevailed to even the season series at one game each. Reynolds contributed 25 points to the Glenville total of 73, but the men of A-B pumped in some 85. Clashing next with the Wesleyan Bobcats on the home court, the Pioneers failed to overcome a half time deficit despite a sparkling second half and dropped the contest 85-64. Rudy Poole with 26 led the Glenville pointmakers. Pioneer scoring moved into high gear on January 31 as the G-Men racked up 116 points to the 103 of the Hawks of Beckley. Bob Reynolds hit for his highest single game total of the season with 37 and Rudy Poole contributed 34.

The following night the Pioneers tangled with the Concord Mountain Lions and managed to bring home an 88-86 victory. Reynolds continued his high scoring ways with 32 points for the evening; tops for the G-Men. The White Waves next outing saw a smooth working Salem quint burn up the nets and take a 111-103 decision. Returning to their home floor, the Pioneers had little trouble with a visiting Beckley squad. With Poole tallying his season high of 40 points, the Byrd-men poured in the markers and took the 108-95 decision. On February 8 the Pioneers traveled to Buckhannon and dropped their second contest to Wesleyan, this time by a 92 to 85 margin.

The Pioneers again tasted defeat as the Fairmont Falcons visited the Glenville court and took the measure of the White Wave, 95-84. Poole hit for 26 to lead the GSC scoring. In the return engagement played at Fairmont, the Falcons remained dominant, pushing in 98 points to Glenville's 76. The final regular season game, played on the home floor, saw the Pioneers bow to West Virginia State 90 to 84. In WVIAC tournament competition, the Glenville squad defeated the Salem quint in the first round playoffs 86 to 73. In the second round the Pioneers were edged by a rugged team from Tech 74 to 68.
