GLENVILLE DEFEATS WESLEYAN RESERVES

Glenville clearly out-fought and out-generated the Wesleyan Reserves here October 11, defeating them 28-0. "Biz" eleven, showing some improvement since their last game, had a running and passing attack which the much heavier Methodists could not stop. Wesleyan's offense was better than their defense, for two times the visitors carried the ball almost the length of the field only to loose it on downs under the shadows of Glenville's goal posts. The Normal's ability to seize her opportunities to score won her the game.

The playing of Captain T. Rogers for Glenville was the feature of the game. He made good gains carrying the ball besides drop kicking and passing superbly. Lorentz, McCartney, and Holsberry also played well for the Normal, while Reiter, Stewart and Loudin were the outstanding players for Wesleyan.

The Game

Glenville kicked off, and after an exchange of punts Reiter, in attempting to pass, was tackled by McQuain, fumbled, and H. Rogers picked up the ball and ran 15 yards to the Methodist's goal line. Wesleyan made a long drive in the latter part of the quarter but was unable to score.

Glenville taking the ball on her 20 yard line, at the beginning of the second quarter, gained about 20 yards by McCartney's run and 10 yards by Rogers' double pass, but were stopped in mid field, and Lorentz punted. Soon Reiter punted to Lorentz who caught the ball on Wesleyan's 35 yard line and returned 20 yards. On the next play Lorentz made a perfect pass across the goal line to T. Rogers who caught it as a Wesleyan player batted it towards the ground. The half ended with Glenville in possession of the ball on her 10 yard line.

In the third quarter T. Rogers, advancing the ball 35 yards on two runs carried the ball to Wesleyan's 7 yard line from where he passed over the goal to Lorentz for Glenville's third score. In the last quarter, after a series of runs and passes, McCartney tore through the center of Wesleyan's line and scored for Glenville.

LADIES' RAINBOW ORCHESTRA TO APPEAR

At last we are able to announce to the students and public at large the appearance of the famous Ladies' Rainbow Orchestra at the Normal Auditorium for the evening of November first.

This group of seven entertainers under the personal direction of Sue Ernest Hewling is one of the most unique and at the same time one of the most delightfully entertaining organizations now before the public. It offers a program which includes a seven piece orchestra, a six piece saxophone band with piano, a brass trio, a chamber music group and numerous other ensemble arrangements which add variety to an unusually good program.

One of the delightful features of the program is the whistling solo work of Sue Ernest Hewling, who is a Victor Record Artist in this particular line of musical attainment. Mrs. Hewling is unusually gifted on saxophone, trumpet, slide-cornet and drums. More than that she is a natural organizer and a capable director. She has surrounded herself with a group of talented assisting artists who measure up to the high standards set by their gifted leader.

The organization derived its name from the celebrated Rainbow Division in the World War, following extensive work by Mrs. Hewling and her group in war entertainment service. The Rainbow idea is carried out in the program and costuming.

Not at any time has the Lyceum course offered a number that should have such general appeal to the public. Every one can find something to suit him in this program. It is to be hoped that every student and every citizen of Glenville and its environs will make his plans to come out to hear the Ladies' Rainbow Orchestra.

Great was the delight of the students of Glenville Normal School when they were asked one morning in chapel if they wished to have the social program that was enjoyed last year, continued throughout this year.

The social program is a series of social functions in which the faculty and students cooperate equally. Great effort is made to develop this phase of school life, as well as the literary phase. This program of social activity provides that an hour each Tuesday evening be devoted to playing games in the gymnasium, and hat one evening at the end of each month be given to a school party.

At the party given each month, the first half hour is devoted to a formal reception which is followed by an entertainment given by the faculty or one of the four classes. After the stunt, folk games are played in the gymnasium.

It has been decided that the entertainments or stunts will not begin until January, 1925. For the month of October a very delightful Halloween party is being planned, and another party for November. Because December is the holiday season, and because it is the month of final term examinations, no party is being planned for that month.

With these splendid series of recreational gatherings in view, it is not surprising that the students unanimously voted to continue this program through the year of 1925. Last year it was found a most excellent means to develop originality and dramatic ability.

The committee which was chosen to cooperate with the faculty committee is composed of the following members of the four classes: Hazel Gerwig, Ryll Spaur, Mary Whiting, Myra McQuain, Luther Berry, Lake Norman and Russell Ellyson.

G. N. S. WINS THIRD SUCCESSIVE GAME

Glenville, Oct. 18.—In the first game played on the new Rohrbough Field, the Weston Collegians proved easy opponents for the Normal eleven. While the game was played a bit irregularly, and there were many fumbles, Glenville made many well-executed plays which brought loud bursts of cheering from the Glenville rooters. Weston's line was stronger than her backfield, and by the good playing of McGaffic at end and Beach at fullback several of the Normal's line plays failed to gain. Weston made only a few first downs and were in danger of scoring only once; they also failed to break up Glenville's aerial attack which resulted directly in two touchdowns. Treacy, McCartney, and Holsberry were the stars for Glenville.

THE GAME

Glenville received on her 10 yard line and advanced the ball to Weston's 15 yard line where she was held for downs. Brewster punted to T. Rogers who fumbled, and Weston recovered on Glenville's 25 yard line but failed to make first down. Glenville punted and Weston fumbled, A. Jones recovering ball for the Normal on Weston's 8 yard line. Glenville had the ball on Weston's 4 yard line as the quarter ended. On the next play McCartney went over but fumbled, and Weston recovered. Later T. Rogers tried a drop kick on Weston's 20 yard line but missed, and Weston took the ball on her 1 yard line. Brewster's punt was blocked, but Weston recovered the ball behind her own goal; thus scoring a safety for Glenville. In the last part of this period T. Rogers passed 20 yards to McCartney who ran 10 yards to Weston's goal for Glenville's first touchdown.

In the third period McCartney scored through the line after Glenville had made a 40 yard drive. Just before the game ended Treacy threw a long pass to H. Rogers who made a pretty catch and crossed the goal line for Glenville's third touchdown.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Charleston, W. Va.—What's in a name? Geraldine by any other denomination would be as devoted to her dolls and Mickie as addicted to skinning the cat on the cherry tree with his Sunday clothes on.

Birth certificates that come into the division of vital statistics of the State Department of Health, reveal many odd names. The choice of paronyms by parents shows a vast variety and the decided influence of people and events which figure prominently in the day's news.

Personages of international, national, local and historical fame have their names carried on by the youngest generation of West Virginians.

The hero of Manila had a namesake last year in the person of Admiral Dewey Murphy. In 1923, thousands of Woodrow Wilsons, hundreds of Robert E. Lees, and scores of Izetta Jewel Browns were christened in West Virginia. Other Mountain State babies were named for George Washington, Victor Hugo, Jack Dempsey, John Joseph Cornwell and Edwin Denby.

The influence of the world war is seen in the baptizing of babies with such names as Argonne, Armistice, Alsace Lorraine, Marne, Independence and Liberty, while General John Pershing, in a score of variations, furnishes another popular supply of names and hundreds of boys were named Tom Mix, Charles Ray, William S. Hart, Kenneth Harlan, Charles Jones and Harold Lloyd, while the choice for the girls fell on Viola Dana, Lila Lee, Mary Pickford, and Mabel Normand. The most popular name for girls last year was Betty Jean.

Gifted with poetic imagination, some parents pick out of thin air for their progeny such appellations as Dearstine, Vernice, Deinortha and Blondena, while others less fanciful are Ardelphia, Precious, Posey and Story. At least one Adonis, in name

NORMAL EXTENSION DEPARTMENT FLOURISHING

Excellent report of the interest shown in the extension courses being offered by the Normal comes from Mr. H. L. White, Director of the Extension work for Glenville State Normal School.

Mr. White reports that he has a twenty five per cent increase in the number taking work in the classes he is personally conducting and as he has a number of city superintendents and principals who are assisting him in his work, the total enrollment will be much larger than that of last year. While we do not yet have the exact data of the total enrollment for this year, estimating on the basis of the number enrolled last year, we shall have probably two hundred or more enrolled in this department.

Using Spencer as his headquarters, Mr. White's itinerary carries him from Clendenin through Cassaway Sutton, Richwood, Cowen, Webster Springs and via Weston back again to his starting point. Thus it will be seen that the Extension work of Glenville Normal covers a large section of Central West Virginia. While speaking of Extension work and Extension Directors, let us say that Mr. White is considered one of the most popular and efficient Extension Directors in West Virginia.

if not in beauty, was born in this state last year.

Combinations sometimes make a queer cognomen. The 1923 crop of babies in West Virginia included Paris Green, Lemon Brown, Noah Arkus, Florida Nutt, Green Church, Icy Rhoades and Strewer Flowers, and the handles of Odell and Mondell were fastened to twins. Perhaps there was a prophecy in the name E. Z. Duty given to one infant, and the story of a little other as Adrenalin.

ORGANIZATION OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

On October 17, the Juniors came to life and called a meeting.

It was learned at the meeting that the present Junior class is not so large as it has been, but it may be that it is the best class that there has been for several years.

The following business was transacted; Paul Kidd of Glenville was elected President of the class. Fletcher Reip of Frametown received the next highest office which is that of Vice-President. Mary Jane Brown a graduate of Grafton High School was elected to the office of treasurer and secretary. Dolly Lorentz of Glenville was selected-cheer leader. No doubt Dolly will make an excellent one, for she has had much experience.

The colors that were selected were green and white, and the lily of the valley was chosen as the class flower. The motto is, B-Square.

Let's beat West Liberty!

THE WORLD'S STUDENT CHRISTIAN FEDERATION

The Messrs. Page Morrison and Elton Bush were sent as representatives of the Y. M. C. A. to Clarksburg to a sectional meeting of the World's Student Christian Federation.

The World's Student Christian Federation is a federation which was formed four years ago among the students of the world for the benefit of all students. Since the students of European countries are more in the need of help than the students of other countries, they receive more attention. This federation aids in the distribution of food, clothing, and money among the people of Europe. These people are helped regardless of race, belief, nationality or politics. Money is not simply given them but given to help them do something. Equipment is given them providing they will use it. In southern Europe there have been established many kitchens for the students. These kitchens are operated by the students under the care and direction of helpers who are sent in by the federation. The class of students who are being helped do not have so good food and clothing as prisoners in the United States. During the students' spare time they are provided with some work which will help in paying their own way in school. In Germany there are over sixty thousand students doing some kind of work. The turnover each month for ten months last year was $200,000 in Germany.

These are a few of the facts which Mr. Legate gave at the meeting in Clarksburg. Mr. Legate has been one of the men at the head of the work in southern Europe for the past four years. This report at Clarksburg was the first of its kind he has made in West Virginia.

SOCIETY

FACULTY HAS PICNIC
 "What a nice picnic!" This was the general exclamation which was heard on all sides as the belongings were gathered up at the close of the picnic.
 The facts dealt very kindly with all the plans and nothing could have been finer than the weather on the late afternoon of October fourteenth,
 when the faculty and a few close friends fared forth for their annual picnic.

The location, a very high point beyond Camden Flats, afforded a bird's eye view of Glenville and the river below as well as of the sunset glow in the west.

While Mr. Wagner and Mr. Whiting were scouring the surrounding fields for fagots, Mr. Rohrbough and Mr. Grose made the fire for boiling the coffee. Mr. Cooper, not to be outdone, was whetting his knife in order to carve the watermelon skilfully.

As the coffee bubbled over the wood fire the cloth was spread and the baskets were emptied of quantities of fried chicken, sandwiches, baked potatoes, slaw, pickles, olives, fruit salad, several kinds of cake, and lemonade.

Just as everyone was seated several pictures of the group were taken.

All appetites were whetted by the good cheer that prevailed. After the meal was finished a social half hour was spent before the camp fire was put out. As the early dew was falling the company broke up. Each one felt that it had indeed been a very nice
 picnic.

GLEE CLUBS ENTERTAIN IN CHAPEL
 The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs have been presenting some very interesting programs at the Friday morning sessions of chapel for the past three weeks.

The guests were: Miss Irma West,
 Mr. and Mrs. Erle Arbuckle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arbuckle, Mr. and Mrs.
 M. W. Harrison, and Mrs. Pierce, a sister of Mrs. Harrison.

The members of the committee were Miss Gould, Chairman, Miss Alma Arbuckle, Mrs. Rohrbough, Mrs.
 Dawson, and Mr. Cooper.

MISS BRAND ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

On Saurday afternoon, October eighteenth, Miss Brand was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon held on the dormitory lawn which served admirably as both parlor and dining room.

Four tables were placed about the big maple tree. Each table was decorated with an attractive centerpiece, dainty place cards and flowers. When the guests had found their places a delicious luncheon was served. Everybody enjoyed the food, flowers, favors and fun. Especially unique as favors were the Cambridge Cats.

After the luncheon the guests opened their sewing bags and drew forth needle and thread. Some sewed and some did not, but everybody talked. At the close of the afternoon Miss Brand served tea as it is served in England.

AT TEA

At three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October eleventh, a number of the faculty were guests of Mrs. M.
 W. Harrison at a formal tea. A delicious time, as well as delicious refreshments, was enjoyed.

On Friday morning, October 10,
 the Girls' Glee Club gave two numbers. The first was the Florian Song by Godard, and it was followed by The Maiden's Wish by Chopin. The girls who sang had been carefully coached by Miss Holman, and their numbers were quite beautifully given.

Friday morning, October 17, the nature of entertainment was entirely different. At this time both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs presented a program of one number. Their selection was Alouette, a French Canadian Folk Song. It may have been the beauty of the voices, or it may have been the dramatic way in which Pete Rogers and Ryll Spaur performed, that made this song the success that it was. At least, the applause was great enough for a second performance.

Since these programs have been received so enthusiastically by the students, Miss Holman says that the Glee Clubs must not disappoint them, and there are rumors to the effect that other and better programs are being planned.

YES, INDEED

 Pete Rogers: "Miss Bell, what did
 I get on that last test?"
 Miss Bell: "A, I think it was. I will look and see. Oh, no, I was wrong;
 it is only C."
 Pete: "I heard you the first time."

THE TOWER

GRID "IRON"

The Wesleyan Reserve game was a surprise to us; in fact it was a very pleasant surprise.

About every five minutes Wesleyan called time out to debate with the referee. These forensic combats were not a source of greatest pleasure to the spectators who could take no part in them.

The new Rohrbough Field will be a great help to athletics here in the future. Although it is now being used, it will probably not be entirely completed before next year.

Our cheering has been very weak the last two Saturdays. We ought not to have to say any more.

West Liberty State Normal comes here Saturday with a good football team. They defeated Fairmont 9-0, and Fairmont defeated the Wesleyan Reserves 13-7. That means that the Glenville—West Liberty contest will be a close one. Not by the comparative scores but by the really hard fight that Glenville is going to put up.

PERSONALS

Mr. James A. Hardman, of the Class of 1924, left with his family for Florida on October 15. The condition of Mrs. Hardman's health demanded a change of climate. Mr. Hardman will be greatly missed on the teaching force of the county.

Messrs. Page Morrison and Bryan McQuain were at the home of the former over the last week end.

Mr. John Lohan spent the week end in Glenville visiting his sister, Gertrude Lohan, who lives in the dormitory.

Miss Helen Sleeth was the guest of Hazel Gerwig at the dormitory, Saturday and Sunday, October 18-19.

The following dormitory girls spent the week end with their parents: Kate Cain, Mildred Stern, Ethel Brown, Mary Osborne, Lucille Matheny, Blon Heckert, Mildred Connolly, Bonnie Rymer, Velma and Vessie Hall.

Miss Mary Hefner of Burnsville visited Erma Engel on Sunday.

Herbert Rogers went to his home in Burnsville Saturday evening, October 18, after having played in the Glenville-Weston football game.

ISN'T IT DISGUSTING?

Our pencil has been making quite a number of pointed remarks about the sponge being soaked all day, and the waste basket being full. And at the same time the scissors have been cutting up, though the paper weight is trying to hold them down, and the paste is sticking around to see the stamps get a good licking. I am glad to say the ink's well, though it appears to be blue, while the bill is stuck on the file and the calendar is looking fresher after having had a month off. And all this time the blotter has been lying around taking it all in.—The Edifier.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WISE AND OTHERWISE
Satisfied Guest: That was a tiptop dinner, waiter. You know what that means, don't you?
Waiter: Yes sah; it's one that you top with a tip.

OLDER AND WISER

When you're taking her home in a trolley.

ANOTHER SAMPLE
Host: "Let me give you a little more beef, Mr. Smith."
Guest: "Well, just a very small piece like you gave me before."

SO THIS IS POETRY
The story is told of a cockney school boy who was asked to paraphrase the opening lines of Shelley's "Ode to a Skylark"— Hail to the, blithe spirit,
Bird thou never wert.
His version of it was:
"Hi, cocky,
You ain't no bloomin' bird."

ONE HUNDRED PERCENT AMERICAN

Grocer: "They're imported, mum."
Mrs. O'Reilly: "Wel, I'll take the domestic ones-them as had the brains to swim across to this country."

"An Ash."
"You mean a Nash don't you?"
"No, an Ash."
"What kind of a car is that?"

Slim: That's the way I have to do it.
