WHITING TO BE DIRECTOR

Men's Physical Education on Schedule—3-Hour Courses to Meet Six Days

Final arrangements for the 1931 summer term of Glenville State Teachers College, as it will be after June 4, have been completed in readiness for its beginning on Monday, June 8, Hunter Whiting, director, says. The schedule of courses was finished yesterday.

All of the teachers who were here during the regular year will remain, except Curtis F. Baxter, who will spend part of the summer in Europe. Miss Minnie Boyd, of the special spring term staff, will also be here for the summer. One additional instructor has been employed, Raymond E. Freed, who is now an instructor in Fishburne Military School. He will teach social science.

A. F. Rohrbough, athletic director, will remain for the summer term to teach men's physical education. President E. G. Rohrbough has announced. This is the first time a course in men's physical education will have been offered during a summer term. Women's physical education and hygiene will also be given but not for the first time. These three courses were not listed among the courses in the Summer Term Bulletin.

There will be fifty-eight courses taught. "History of England," "Mythology," and "Lyric Poetry" are being offered, not for the first time but for the first time in several summers.

Mr. Whiting wishes to call attention to an error which occurred in the bulletin concerning the credit received for Education 18 and 19. According to the bulletin, Education 18, "Observation and Directed Teaching," will be a three-hour course and Education 19, a continuation of Education 18, will be only a one-hour course. Both will be two-hour courses.

Two-hour courses will meet four times a week, and three-hour courses will meet six times weekly.

Library to Keep Present Schedule

The hours which the R. F. Kidd Library will be open have been definitely decided and the same schedule will be maintained through the summer term. For the first five days of the week, the library will be open from 7:45 to 12 o'clock in the morning, from 1 until 5:15 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 6:30 until 9:30 o'clock in the evening. On Saturday the hours will be from 9 until 12 o'clock in the morning and 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Social Committee Holds Last Dance

About thirty couples attended the school dance given in the Normal gymnasium Friday evening from 8 to 10:30 o'clock. Miss Vinco Moore and A. E. Harris were faculty chaperons. This will be the last dance given by the social committee this year.

PLAY BILLED FOR SATURDAY

Seniors Are Rehearsing "The Love Expert" Daily

The senior play, "The Love Expert," a three-act comedy under the direction of Miss Vinco Moore, will be given Saturday evening at 8:15 in the auditorium. Tickets will be on sale at the Grille for 40 and 50 cents. Rehearsals are being held daily.

Those appearing in the cast are Misses Marie Taylor, Mabel Rose, Marjorie Miller, Mary Hyre, Edythe Moser, and Fred Wilson, Ernest Mearns, Thomas Pentony, Paul Davis, and John Kirkpatrick.

WILL ENTERTAIN SENIORS TONIGHT

President Rohrbough, Sponsor of Class, to Give Dinner and Dance for 105

President E. G. Rohrbough, class sponsor of the first senior class of Glenville Normal School which has bachelor of arts graduates, will entertain the 105 members of the class this evening with a dinner, followed by a dance.

The dinner will be served in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 7 o'clock. The Glenville Normal School orchestra, under the direction of Miss Bertha Olsen, will play, and a varied program may be given.

After the dinner, the group will go to the Normal gymnasium for dancing and other entertainment, lasting until 12 o'clock. Ewell Sergeant and his Sunshine Boys, dance orchestra of Spencer, will play.

OPERETTA TICKETS ON SALE

Rehearsals Held Each Evening for Presentation Friday

Miss Bertha Olsen, instructor in music, reports that rehearsals are being held regularly each evening in preparation for the presentation of "Sylvia," the operetta which will be presented in the Glenville Normal School auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Evelyn Jones and Maurice Shock who are cast in the featured roles and others who have singing roles will be accompanied by the Glenville Normal School orchestra which will play the scores. Mrs. Phyllis Rohrbough, 'cello, and Lyle West, violin, will assist the orchestra.

Costumes have been ordered from Pittsburgh and are expected to arrive in time for a dress rehearsal tomorrow evening.

Tickets for this operetta which are on sale at the Grille today are 40 cents for reserved seats and 30 cents for general admission.

STUDENTS TO VISIT ASYLUM

Sociology Class Will Make Trip in Bus This Afternoon

The Sociology 11 class will go to Weston this afternoon to visit the state asylum. They will go in the school bus and will return this evening. It was planned that the class would visit the Spencer State Hospital several weeks ago, but these plans were changed. A. E. Harris, instructor in the course, will accompany the students.

Those who will make the trip are Misses Rhea Kee, Mildred Snodgrass and Ruth Smith; A. E. Harris, Fred Eberle, Selden Brannon, Paul Davis, John Jenerich, Spurgeon Kennedy, Bernard Stemple, and Edwin Deem.

UTES FOR ALBERT STONESTREET HELD NEAR LOST CREEK

G. N. S. Freshman Died of Heart Ailment Thursday
After 2 Week's Illness

WAS ACTIVE ON CAMPUS

Many Students and Faculty of Normal Attended His Funeral Saturday Afternoon

Albert Stonestreet, a freshman in Glenville Normal School, who died Thursday at the age of twenty, was buried at Rockford, near Lost Creek, on Saturday afternoon. At his funeral were many students and faculty members, his friends, from the Normal. His death was attributed to heart trouble.

After suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia in December, Mr. Stonestreet returned to school and continued his class work until May 8, when he became ill at Kana-wha Hall where he lodged. It was thought he had influenza; and after his illness was diagnosed as being aggravated by a weakened heart, he was taken to the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Holbert of Rockford. On Thursday morning at 5:20 o'clock he died.

Was Active in School Affairs

Well-known and well-liked by his fellow students, Stonestreet took an active part in school affairs. He was the member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet in charge of social service for the coming year and a member of the Canterbury Club.

His father, A. D. Stonestreet of Huntington; two brothers, Raymond Stonestreet of Spelter and Tillman Stonestreet, U. S. N.; and two sisters, Mrs. Rosella Ashcraft of Clarksburg and Mrs. Pearl Strother of Morgantown, survive him. When he was a child, his mother died.

G. N. S. Students Pallbearers

Funeral services were held at the Rockford Methodist Protestant Church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and burial was made in the church cemetery.

Among the active and honorary pall bearers—students and faculty of Lost Creek High School—were Robert Holbert and Lloyd Swisher, students in the Normal this year, and Howard H. Summerville, a graduate of the Normal and a member of the high school faculty.

TRAINING CLASS WORK ENDS

12 to Get Certificates From Council of Religious Education

The first annual Sunday School Teacher's Training Class closed with its thirteenth session Monday, May 18. Refreshments were served to those who successfully passed the course which was entitled "A Study of The Pupil."

A total of twelve persons will receive credit from the International Council of Religious Education for the work done. Of the twelve who finished, two were Presbyterians, two Baptists, and eight Methodists.

It is expected that a similar course will be offered by the Y. M. C. A. next year, says Earl Looker.

President E. G. Rohrbough attended the funeral of Albert Stonestreet, student who died Thursday, at Rockford on Saturday afternoon.

R. E. FREED TO TEACH HERE

Has A. M. From U. of Va.—Employed At Fishburne Academy

Raymond E. Freed has been employed to teach social science for the 1931 summer term of Glenville Normal School. He received his A. B. degree from Roanoke College, Salem, Va., and his A. M. from the University of Virginia.

He has taught in several of the schools in that state and is now teaching in Fishburne Military Academy, Waynesboro, Va. Mr. Freed married a graduate of the Normal, Miss Mary Jake Fisher, formerly of Sutton.

ALUMNI RECEPTION WILL BE MONDAY

105 Seniors to Be Guests of Association—Sergeant's Orchestra Engaged

Glenville State Normal School's alumni association will give its annual reception and dance in the gymnasium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The 105 members of the 1931 graduating class will be guests of the association. J. Wilbur Beall, president, says that each will have the privilege of bringing a guest for whom an admittance fee of $1 is charged. Each member of the alumni is also entitled to bring a guest. Tickets will be $2 a couple.

Ewell Sergeant and his Eleven Sunshine Boys will play for the dancing, says Mr. Beall. In the receiving line will probably be President and Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Beall, George McQuain, vice-president, and Miss Lucy Wolfe, secretary and treasurer.

Decorations are under the supervision of Mr. Beall, while Miss Wolfe is in charge of refreshments.

TWO TAKE MASTERS EXAMS.

H. L. White's Thesis on Recruiting Teachers in W. Va.

H. Laban White and Mrs. Eleanor W. Carroll took their masters examinations at the College of Education of West Virginia University on Saturday. Both were doing work in education. Mr. White is extension director of the Normal and is an instructor in education. Mrs. Carroll was employed at the beginning of the special spring term. Mr. White's minor work was done in English.

The oral examination was conducted by Dr. L. B. Hill, chairman of the examining committee, Dr. Rebecca Pollock, and Dr. J. N. Deahl. Any professor or graduate student in the department of education was privileged to ask questions, and visitors were allowed.

If Mr. White's thesis, "Recruiting for the Teaching Profession in West Virginia," is accepted, he will be granted an A. M. degree at commencement on June 9. His thesis begins by giving a background of his study, then states the problem, and explains the technique—questionnaires, tests, case studies, and examination of other recent studies—used in solving his problem.

After giving the results of these tests and questionnaires and results of previous studies both in West Virginia and in other states, Mr. White interprets his data, drawing certain conclusions and making certain suggestions.

A part of the material used in his thesis was gathered from tests given in Glenville Normal School.

95 WILL RECEIVE CERTIFICATES AND 10 A. B.'S. MONDAY

With Granting of Degrees, 1st
Academic Procession Will Be Held

DR. BRYAN IS SPEAKER

Baccalaureate Sermon Will Be Preached Sunday at 10:30 by
Dr. Fymington

President Elmer B. Bryan of Ohio University will deliver the commencement address to 105 Glenville State Normal School seniors on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the auditorium. At this 58th annual commencement ten persons will be granted Bachelor of Arts degrees—the first that the Normal is to give—and ninety-five will receive standard normal certificates.

Preceding the address, the academic procession will start from the gymnasium and pass Verona Mapel Hall and the Robert F. Kidd Library, entering the administration building by the west door. In it will be the president and faculty of the school and members of the State Board of Education and the State Board of Control, followed by the four-year seniors and then the standard normal graduates. All will wear caps and gowns except the normal course seniors. It will be the school's first academic parade.

Orchestra Will Play

A member of one of the state boards will present the diplomas, it not being known which ones will attend.

Special music will be played by the Glenville State Normal School orchestra, under the direction of Miss Bertha Olsen. The combined glee clubs will sing.

On Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock Dr. T. A. Fymington, pastor of the Congregational Church of Huntington, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. Caps and gowns will not be worn for this exercise. Music is to be furnished by the school orchestra and glee clubs.

The following students will receive bachelor of arts degrees: Floyd Almon, Cox's Mills; William Brannett, Glenville; Selden Brannon, Orma; Paul Davis, Fairmont; Linn Hardman, Tanner; Linn Hickman, Weston; Rhea Kee, Glenville; Harry Taylor, Troy; Fred Wilson, Parkersburg; and John A. Pirkey, Troy.

Normal Graduates

Those graduating from the standard normal course are: Beulah Allman, Jane Lew; Grace Bail, Vena Bail, Morris; Agnes Ball, Glenville; Eulah G. Barker, Stout's Mills; Mary Barker, Burnsville; Mabel Bashaw, Richwood; Mollie P. Bias, Walkersville; Jay Bibbes, Walker; Ruth Blake, Weston; Sarah Bragg, Harrison; Bruce Brannon, Connings; Lloyd Britton, Auburn; Joda B. GRADUATES AND JOBS

It is a pessimistic business world that some half a million graduates will confront within the next two weeks. The optimism of the few is apparently due more to intuition than logic. All of these graduates must live; most of them must work to do so, and jobs are scarce. In spite of this, opportunity has never been so great.

Reasons for suspecting a, somewhat disappointing industrial future are many. Certainly with improved machinery—the "progress of science" we term it—a change similar to the Industrial Revolution of the eighteenth century is taking place. Machines increase production and lessen the number of laborers. Those without work cannot buy, and those with work cannot buy more than they did. Until a readjustment can be made, consumption will be decreased. These facts account for factories operating far below capacity and showing deficits instead of dividends. Stocks are at the lowest level in years—much lower than it was said they could go in 1929.

This slackening of industry is felt in many ways. Big corporations that carefully recruited their personnel from the colleges are reducing their quotas of employees. One that ordinarily hired 435 each year will next month employ 50. What will the others do? Teachers, we notice, are becoming far more numerous than schools. No doubt a scarcity of business openings makes many more persons choose teaching or another profession when they would not at other times. Of still greater importance is the fact that emigration exceeded immigration during the first three months of 1931—an unparalleled event.

America the land of opportunity, New York the shrine of the world, and every city the place for acquiring wealth—thus the United States was pictured by millions of foreigners as they made preparations to come to our shores. That about three thousand more persons, including seven thousand deported, left the United States then entered it in January, February, and March must indicate a sterility of which we should not be proud, notwithstanding President Hoover's elated comment upon it. It demonstrates that perhaps a floating population sees more advantages elsewhere.

Government and industry at present are deeply mired in indecision and ignorance. Who is to control our public utilities, corporations or the people? How shall we increase our foreign trade, which it looks as if we must do, when exports and imports have to be hoisted over high tariff walls? How shall we divorce politics from intelligent and honest government in order to prevent corruption? If the Soviet plan is worked out successfully (as perhaps it may be if, when the country becomes economically stable and prosperous, the government will give its people freedom to which they have a right), will not the United States and other countries of the world have to become socialistic in order to compete? Might not our corporations be so powerful by that time that a transition from private ownership to government ownership could be easily and bloodlessly made? Are not our business executives and economists more than a little helpless when the spontaneous industrial growth and prosperity that have been due to an abundance of natural resources ends? Perhaps we have been boastful about our ability as financiers and business leaders.

Now is the time for a study of these problems. What the answers may be we shall not attempt to predict, but we do say that the present generation of college graduates are living in a time of opportunity. All of our social and economic theories cannot be correct, nor are the ones we have all that might exist. Our maladjustment may also show us that even a college graduate working at a blue-shirt job may learn that the world is full of a number of things and that business itself merely supplies us with food and shelter so that we can be happy.

BACCALAUREATE SERMONS

At commencement time each year one may read of commencement week activities of practically every high school and college in the state. With few exceptions, high schools have on their calendar an exercise which they call a baccalaureate sermon. In reality, however, high schools, do not have baccalaureate sermons. Only universities and colleges can properly employ the term "baccalaureate." High schools should and may properly call such exercises annual sermons.

Anyone who consults Webster may read that baccalaureate means "degree of bachelor, usually arts." Thus, only degree-granting institutions may properly and correctly use the term "baccalaureate sermons," while high schools and preparatory, and non-degree-granting normal schools properly have annual sermons.

A BIGGER STAGE IS NEEDED

With the arrival of commencement week comes the presentation of the operetta and the senior play in the Normal auditorium. With their presentation, one sees the need of additional seating capacity, better seats, and particularly a larger stage. If all special spring term and regular students were to attend the operetta and play, good seats would indeed be hard to find.

When the Shakespeare Players came to Glenville to present "Macbeth," the congestion of properties and actors backstage was so serious as to present the best interpretation. With a large cast, the stage is overcrowded, and conditions backstage are almost unbearable, as anyone who has been behind the scenes during a performance well knows. The stage decidedly lacks depth, and the dressing rooms are too few and too small.

We suggest that before more money is spent for other buildings, that an addition be made to the auditorium. There is enough room on either side of it to make it wider. Whether the seating capacity is increased or not, the stage should be made larger and there is sufficient room behind the building for suitable dressing rooms and a better stage to be built. With our growing enrollment as a college, the auditorium does not meet our needs.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

For the first time in the history of Glenville Normal School the senior class will march in an academic procession and the first Glenville Normal School college graduates will wear caps and gowns. No doubt these changes in commencement day exercises will make the ceremony much more impressive.

In previous years most students, other than the seniors and their intimate friends, took little interest in graduation, but with these changes in the program, the exercises should be more impressive, if only for the ceremony. We hope that the commencement day program will be well-attended.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

THE CALCULATING COLLEGIAN

From Judge

Not long ago this page told about the astonishing incomes of Columbia graduates. Then along came figures purporting to show that the average income of Princeton alumni is $18,695. Like all averages, this may be misleading. Some Princetonians who hadn't been doing so well may have modestly refrained from reporting at all. Some others may have been boasting a bit. A few very rich men would bring up the average. And anyway, less than half the average income reported was earned in salary, the rest coming from invested capital.

Some new statistics from Yale seem to mean more. They are for the class of 1926—five years out of college. They cover only salaries. The average is about $3,000. Interesting details appear, particularly with reference to men working for firms controlled by their own families. It appears that so far as income goes the young lawyer does better by not working for his father and so does the salesman for a manufacturer. Otherwise the family jobs pay best.

It is also to be noted that in almost every classification the salesman gets more than the non-salesman. We are still in that stage of development where the creative worker gets a smaller reward than the lad who goes out on the dotted firing line.

It is well not to put great stress on such figures. There is entirely too much effort to calculate the economic value to the individual of college education. Money looms too large in every aspect of American life. Boosters of education have fallen into the error of imitating the boosters of commerce. Can't anybody get up a questionnaire about the spiritual rewards of education? At that the college might show up badly in comparison to other institutions. But the information would in the long run be more illuminating, a better guide to the footsteps of aspiring youth.

Women usually do the most competent gold digging of their lives somewhere around the age of eight.

—Elsie McCormick.

Every man may find some good kind of opportunity in front of him if he is earnest to avail himself of it.

—John Wanamaker.

G. N. S. GIRLS WIN FROM BOBKITTIES

Local Team Defeats Wesleyan Players 6-0 in One-Sided Match Wednesday

Making it three wins in as many starts, the Glenville Normal School girls' tennis team stepped out and completely swamped the Wesleyan Bobkitties on the local courts Wednesday morning, 6-0, to make it two setbacks Glenville has dealt Wesleyan this season.

The best matches of the meet were between Misses Wolfe and Haught in the singles and in the doubles Misses Wolfe and Wise played well, as did E. Thomas and Welch to win over Carder-Haught and Matheny-Bell, respectively.

E. E. Looker, of the faculty, and Prof. William Hallam, of Wesleyan, had almost completed their sets 6-3, 5-4 (thirty love) in an exhibition affair when they were forced off the courts by rain, thus ending the meet.

The results of the girls' matches are as follows:

Singles

Wise defeated Bailey, 6-3, 6-3.
Wolfe defeated Haught, 6-0, 6-4.
E. Thomas defeated Reppert, 11-9, 6-2.
I. Thomas defeated Furbee, 6-3, 7-9, 6-2.

Doubles
Wise-Wolfe defeated Carder-Haught, 6-1, 6-3.
E. Thomas-Welch defeated Matheny-Bell, 6-4, 6-2.
Exhibition Match
Looker defeated Hallam, 6-3, 5-4 (30 love).

The Attention of Those Enrolling Is Called to These Matters

- The maximum credit for the summer term is 9 hours.
- Students in the normal course are allowed 6 hours of elective work. This amount may be increased only by written permission from the President.
- Normal students will not be admitted to second term courses in college work as electives unless they have carried the first term prerequisites for such courses.
- In the social sciences the advanced courses have the preceding courses of the same science as prerequisites. The only exception to this rule is Sociology 3, Rural Sociology.
- English 19 is prerequisite for English 20, English 20 is prerequisite for English 21. The usual 10 hours of freshman English are prerequisite for English 29, English 30, and English 33. English 32 is open only to students who have 68 hours of credit, including the 10 hours of freshman English.
- History 7, History 8, and History 9 are 3-hour courses. History 4, History 5, and History 6 are 2-hour courses. English 1 and English 2 are 3-hour courses. English 19, English 20, and English 21 are 2-hour courses. In each of these subjects the student should continue in the series in which he has begun.
- Students qualifying for certificates must carry work that will meet the requirements for the certificate sought.
- English 1 and English 2 or their equivalents (English 19, English 20, and English 21) are required for certification unless the student has to repeat the first course.
- Students qualifying for a second grade temporary certificate are required to have 1 hour in physical education; for a first grade temporary certificate, 2 hours; for a short course certificate, 3 hours; for a standard normal or a college certificate, 4 hours. If the applicant is lacking in the required hours but has carried physical education each term it has been offered, he will be considered to have met the requirements. The excuse of a physician is required from all who claim exemption from physical education.
- Glee clubs and an orchestra will be organized at periods that will not conflict with scheduled courses. 1 hour of credit may be earned in this manner in the summer term. The maximum credit that may be earned in these organizations is 3 hours for normal students; 4 hours for college students.
- STUDENTS ENTERING COLLEGE FOR THE FIRST TIME AND WORKING TOWARD A TEACHING CERTIFICATE ARE ADVISED TO CHOOSE FROM THESE COURSES: ENGLISH 1, ENGLISH 27, HISTORY 7, GEOGRAPHY 6, BIOLOGY 3, EDUCATION 4, HYGIENE AND SANITATION, MUSIC 1, ART 1, PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

NORMAL GRADUATE MARRIES

Dana Farnsworth of Linn Wade
Elma Morris of Harrisville
Dana L. Farnsworth, of Linn, Guilmer County, a graduate of the Normal in 1923, and Miss Elma Morris, of Harrisville, were married March 18, at Oakland, Md. The announcement was made at a banquet given by the Phi Beta Pi national medical fraternity, at Prospect Inn, near Morgantown.

While attending the Normal, Mr. Farnsworth was active in various organizations of the school. After leaving Glenville, he received his bachelor of arts degree from West Virginia University in 1927, and will be graduated from the college of medicine in June.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Morris, of Harrisville. She is a graduate of the Harrisville High School and of West Virginia Business College, Clarksburg.

After August 1, Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth will go to Boston, Mass., where Mr. Farnsworth will study at the Harvard Medical School.

Miss Mildred Allman visited her parents who live at Lost Creek over the week-end.

ADDRESSES HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

President E. G. Rohrbough Says Indifference is America's Vulnerable Spot

"The United States, like Achilles, has just one vulnerable spot," said President E. G. Rohrbough in his address to the graduates of the Glenville High School in the Normal auditorium Friday evening. "It is our indifference toward our government."

"The United States has grown in territory until she wants no more land. We have more than our share of wealth. Our national income is 320 billions annually. Our standard of living is higher than that of any other people. Even the laborer has luxury. In education our country has done its duty by the youth. High school instruction is provided for every boy and girl. We are foremost world."

"America's success has been great in all these fields, and its resources are yet ample. People tell us that we are great, but let us not deceive ourselves for America has its Achilles' heel. It is the lack of interest on the part of Americans toward the administration of the government. Less than fifty percent of the citizens run the government because the others fail to vote. There is a plea for better trained statesmen, but it will be useless without an awakening of the people."

"Voting is one of the greatest rights that the high school student may look forward to. You will constitute the electorate within the next few years. You must concern yourself with becoming a good citizen. Consider your work seriously. Have you the spirit to toil? Education should give one the spirit to work and earn a living. What do you regard as your duty to your country? What is your attitude toward law? Are your ideals high? What are your ideas concerning marriage and divorce? Do you regard christianity as the most potent force in civilization today?"

"If your training has brought you to think wisely on these questions, I assure you success in life," he concluded.

Thirteen other new books have been received at the library. Most of these are reference books to be

SIXTY-SIX ATTEND BANQUET

Y. W. C. A. Entertains Sweethearts At Baptist Church

Sixty-six persons attended the Sweetheart Banquet given by the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Miss Ruth Blake, president, Thursday evening in the Baptist Church.

The tables arranged in the shape of a "Y" were decorated in blue and white crepe paper.

Miss Ruth McCray was toastmistress. The theme of the program was the acoustic, "Joy." Three talks were given, "Jesus First," by E. E. Looker; "Others Second," by Miss Virginia Chidester, a member; and "Yourself Last," by H. Y. Clark of the faculty. Misses Mildred Snodgrass, Ruth Blake, Mary Myers, and Cleora Deitz sang "Farewell to Thee," and "A Melody of Love." A piano solo was played by Miss Jane Butler. Bayard Young sang, "At Dawning," and "Would God I Were a Tender Apple Blossom."

LANGUAGE ERRORS STUDIED

Survey Is Made Of High School And Normal English Classes

The two sections of Earl E. Looker's Education 21 class is making a survey of language errors among the English classes of fifty high schools and the four ranking classes of Glenville State Normal School.

Forty common errors in language have been the special object of the survey. Final results are not yet available, but it has been discovered that almost all of the forty errors decrease in number as students advance in high school and college.

LUCY WOLFE WINS TOURNEY

Defeats Virginia Wise in Girls' Tennis Finals

In the women's elimination tennis tournament Miss Lucy Wolfe defeated Miss Virginia Wise in the finals, easily taking three straight sets 6-1, 6-1, 6-4. Two or three times Miss Wolfe has won the Little Kana-wha Valley Tournament held here.

Misses Genevieve Welch and Iva Thomas were runners-up.

H. L. White and Mrs. Eleanor Carroll, of the Normal faculty, spent the week-end at their homes in Fairmont.

BROADDUS EASILY WINS MATCHES, 7-3

Deitz and Lindell Take Singles as Henderson Loses in 3 Sets to Woodford

Although the Glenville Normal School Pioneers played good tennis on the local courts Thursday, the Broaddus Battlers took all but two of the singles and one of the doubles to hand Glenville a severe trimming 7 to 3.

The opening sets of the singles between Henderson and Woodford were probably the best of the entire match. Deitz and Henderson played a whale of a game to come from behind and win the first of the doubles 1 to 6, 6 to 4, 6 to 1. Lindell and Simmons played Dye and Bland off their feet in the last set of their doubles after each had won one set, only to lose the last, 8 to 6.

H. Y. Clark, of the faculty, lost to Dean Denman of Broaddus in an exhibition match after the regular scheduled contest, 6-8, 4-6, 6-3.

The results of the matches were Singles

Woodford, Broaddus, defeated Henderson, 4-6, 9-7, 6-4.

Deitz, Glenville, defeated Myers, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Bland, Broaddus, defeated Simmons, 6-2, 6-4.

Dyer, Broaddus, defeated Zinn, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lindell, Glenville, defeated Boehm, 8-6, 6-3.

Steward, Broaddus, defeated Bloor, 6-2, 6-4.

Smith, Broaddus, defeated Barnett, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles

Henderson-Deitz defeated Woodford-Myers, 1-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Boehm-Smith defeated Bloor-Zinn, 8-6, 6-4.

Dyer-Bland defeated Lindell-Simmons, 6-2, 2-6, 8-6.

Miss Liona Cox of Verona Mapel Hall went to the home of her parents at Grantsville for the week-end.

Baseball Season Closes at G. N. S.

Just as the Glenville Normal School Pioneers were taking their batting practice Wednesday at Salem, a severe rain storm stopped their would-be engagement with the Salem College Tigers. Owing to the final examinations the latter part of this and next week, the game has been indefinitely postponed. The games with Wesleyan and Morris-Harvey have also been cancelled. No more games will be played this season.

Pleasure Is in Work, Says President

"The award is with you and the work ahead of you" was the statement made by President E. G. Rohrbough at chapel Wednesday. He said that pleasure should be derived from doing work. "We should not plan to be free from activity for our greatest conciliation is work,—the only course that is worthwhile."
