SENIORS EACH TO GIVE ALUMNI $10 AFTER GRADUATION

Class Hopes That Precedent
Will Be Set for Aiding
Graduate Association

NOT TO ISSUE YEARBOOK

Will Try to Prevent Unsportsmanlike Remarks Being Made to Visiting Teams

At the suggestion of the Alumni Association the members of the senior class voted Friday to contribute $10 apiece to the funds of the association at some time after graduation. This money is to be paid as soon as the graduates find it convenient to do so. There is nothing compulsory in the giving of this money. The seniors hope to establish these contributions as a tradition of each graduating class.

Warren Blackhurst, class president, submitted a report of a committee of faculty members pertaining to the possibility of publishing an annual this year. The report suggested that, because of a lack of funds, there be no "Kanauchen," as the book is called, this year. The seniors adopted this suggestion.

Other matters brought to the attention of the class at this meeting were the home-coming game, class jewelry, and the conduct of the students at games. The entire class was asked to be on the campus Saturday. About twenty seniors voted that there be class jewelry. The class decided to oppose and suppress slurring remarks made to the players of visiting teams by students.

Meetings of the other classes were held Friday for the purpose of inviting the members to the dance and reception Saturday and to promote greater courtesy at local games.

HALLOWEEN PARTY ATTENDED BY 200

Four Prizes Are Awarded for Costumes—Local Orchestra Plays

Two hundred persons attended the Halloween masquerade which was held in the gymnasium Oct. 28 between the hours of 8 and 12.

The entertainment committee awarded four prizes. The prize for the best costume was awarded to Ross Hays, who was dressed as a Spaniard. William Van Camp, who was dressed as a clown, won the prize for the funniest costume. The prize for the most original costume was awarded to Henry and Frank Bailey, who were dressed as Amos and Andy. Mabel Smith, dressed as a gypsy woman won the prize for the most original costume. The judges were Miss Godlie James, Miss Bertha Olsen, and Robert Crawford. Apple cider and doughnuts were served for refreshments.

PIONEERS TALLY IN 3RD QUARTER TO TRIM SALEM

Touchdowns by O'Dell and
Heron Come After Long
Marches Down Field

TIGER MAKES 50-YD. RUN

Final Count Is 13-7—Porterfield Called Outstanding Star of the Game

The Glenville Pioneers won a rather easy victory over the Salem Tigers Oct. 30, on the hospital lawn at Weston. After a scoreless first half Glenville came back to score thirteen points in the third quarter and Salem seven in the last to make the final count 13-7.

The game was rather slow until the starting of the second half when Glenville made two consecutive marches down the field which resulted in two touchdowns. The first one was carried over from the 1-yard line by O'Dell and the latter from the 2-yard line by Heron. Salem's only marker of the game came in the fourth quarter when West went through the Pioneer line and ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Tiberi's placement for the Tigers was good as was the first of two kicked by Porterfield for the Pioneers.

The game opened with Perette of Salem kicking to Clem on the 30-yard line. The Pioneers started a drive which ended on the 20-yard line, where they lost the ball on downs. Salem, hitting the Pioneer line but with little gain, was forced to punt. The first period which was played mostly in Salem territory, ended scoreless. The Pioneers held the edge on first downs in this period. The Pioneers also held the edge on first downs in the second period. The Tigers started an aerial attack but did not gain from it. The Pioneers suffered some penalties. The half ended scoreless.

It was in the third quarter that the Pioneers looked like a football team. They made two consecutive marches to score, O'Dell, Morford, and Heron carrying the ball for continuous gains. After a 15-yard penalty the Pioneers completed a 30-yard pass to continue their march down the field.

It was in the last period that the Tigers made their only score of the game. Their first gain came by a pass from West to Hogue. Snow kicked out of bounds on the Glenville 25-yard line. After the Pioneers punted, Fagler, West, and Tiberi made three successive first downs. Heron intercepted a forward pass to stop this drive toward the goal. Glenville tried Salem's line, then kicked to the 50-yard line. West went through the right side of the line and raced down the field for a touchdown. Salem opened an aerial attack in the last few minutes only to have its passes knocked down and intercepted by the Pioneer backs. Porterfield for Glenville was the out- (Continued on page 2)

STUDENTS CHOOSE CLASS OFFICERS FOR THIS YEAR

Warren Blackhurst of Cass Is President of Seniors and Frank Vass, Juniors

'30 ELECTION NOT HELD

Lawrence Keith and Homer Black-hurst Head Sophomores and Freshmen

For the first time in a number of years, all of the classes of Glenville State Teachers College have organized and chosen class officers.

Warren Blackhurst, of Cass, was elected president of the senior class at a called meeting held Oct. 27. Blackhurst was president of the class in his sophomore year. He has been a member of the football squad in the fall of '28 and '30, and for the past two years has been on the college debating team. The other officers chosen were: Vice-president, Hugh Hurst, Auburn; secretary, Miss Leona Davis, Glenville; treasurer, Bernard Hayhurst, Burnt House.

The junior class chose the following officers: President, Frank Vass, Cirtsville; vice-president, Trel Reger, Ireland; secretary-treasurer, Miss Helen Snodgrass, Sand Fork.

The officers chosen in the sophomore class were: President, Lawrence Keith, Harrisville; vice-president, Miss Erma Edwards, Glenville; secretary-treasurer, Miss Pauline Roberts, Glenville.

The freshman class elected: President, Homer Blackhurst, Cass; vice-president, Miss Carolyn Hyer, Sutton; secretary-treasurer, Miss Marjorie Lindell, East Liverpool, O.

CLUB WILL GIVE PLAY AND DANCE

Warren Blackhurst Is Elected
President of Holy Roller
Court

The Holy Roller Court of Glenville State Teachers College at their annual election of officers Wednesday chose Warren Blackhurst president. Other officers are: secretary, Roma Arnett; treasurer, Blake Hayhurst; custodian of the spittoons, Clyde Mays.

As soon as the election was completed, several major activities were outlined to be carried on in addition to the customary schedule of dealing out justice to offenders against the common weal.

The alumni association of the school has delegated the Holy Rollers to provide entertainment at the home-coming football game Saturday. Committees were appointed to have charge of entertainment for this occasion and to see to it that the crowd lacks nothing in laughs. A permanent committee was also appointed to provide entertainment for each athletic meet of the year.

The Rollers plan to present a play which they say will be a masterpiece of dramatic performance at some time during the year. A dance under the direction of the organization is being planned, but will not likely be held until late in the year.

SIX TO TRY FOR DEBATING TEAMS

Question Concerns Governmental Fixing of Production and Distribution

Six students have been announced by Miss Margaret Dobson as candidates for the debating team. They are Warren Blackhurst of Cass, who has been a member of the team for the past two years; Fred Eberle of Wheeling, who was a member of the team last year; John Jennerich of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Loren McCartney of Henrietta; Woodrow Radcliffe of Brownston; and Earl Boggs of Orton.

The subject for debate is "Resolved: That for Our System of Production and Distribution of Goods for Commercial Purposes the United States Adopt the Centralized Governmental Principles of the Stuart Chase Plan." Stuart Chase is a young economist liberal in theories, and his plan is fully described in the June number of Harpers Magazine for 1931.

In March each college will send two delegates to Fairmont to debate either side of the question. Numbers will be drawn to determine which side of the issue any given team will defend. An expert judge from outside of the state will hear the arguments presented by each college and will rank them according to their merits.

Before this meet in March, a series of non-decision debates with other colleges will be held.

PIONEERS ANXIOUS FOR POTOMAC WIN

Two Weeks Rest and Wealth of Material Is Advantage
in Favor of Glenville

Because the contest with the Potomac State Catamounts Saturday has been made a home-coming game, a victory will be doubly important to the Glenville Pioneers.

With the week-end open following their Salem game, the Rohrbough clan has had an opportunity to prepare earnestly for the forthcoming encounter. Although there were several injuries in the last game, the lapse of two weeks time and a wealth of reserve material have removed that worry from Coach Rohrbough's mind.

Potomac State College is to bring a team here for the game that is practically on a par with the strong eleven that the Easterners have placed on the field within the past few years. They hold victories over Shenandoah College, the Fighting Teachers of Fairmont, and last week they played the Aviators of Langley Field, Virginia.

The Parrishmen have always proven the hardest in the state for Glenville. Last year they tied the Pioneers 7-7, but this year the locals hold a slight edge.

16 High School Teams Invited to See Grid Rivals Clash at 2:30 Saturday

TO REGISTER AT LIBRARY

Graduates Will Also Be Received by President and Mrs. Rohrbough at 7:30

For the first time Glenville State Teachers College is to have a home-coming of her graduates and former students. The occasion is the annual football game with Potomac State here Saturday. Many of the 1000 to whom letters have been sent are expected to be present Saturday. C. D. Wilfong, J. Wilbur Beall, and A. E. Harris constitute the committee on general arrangements, having been appointed by Mrs. Lilian H. Rohrbough, president of the alumni association.

On coming to Glenville, Saturday, the former students will register and meet friends and classmates of other years in the new Robert F. Kidd Library between 10 and 12 o'clock. Teachers will be in their rooms during this time and will be glad to have visitors.

16 High Schools Are Invited

In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Glenville State Teachers College Pioneers will meet the Potomac State Hilltoppers on Rohrbough Field. The Pioneers of 1931 have shown by their contests with West Liberty State Teachers College, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Salem, that they have one of the best and strongest teams in their history. Members of the committee are trying to secure the Grantsville or Spencer High School band for the occasion. The football teams from sixteen high schools in the vicinity have been invited to the Pioneer-Potomac State game. They are Glenville, Cassaway, Richmond, Burnsville, Sutton, Grantsville, Clendenin, Harrisville, West Union, Cairo, Tanner, Spencer, West Milford, Jane Lew, and the basketball squads from Sand Fork and Troy. Nov. 14 is Rockne Memorial Day and there will probably be an appropriate ceremony.

Before game time, the Holy Roller Court of this college will stage a parade, and at the end of the half will provide some unusual entertainment, the committee says.

President and Mrs. Rohrbough will be at home to visitors from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

Various Alumni May Entertain

A reception and dance will be given in the gymnasium from 8:30 until 12:00 o'clock. A local orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. Guests who have been asked to entertain are Mrs. Roxie Bell Henderson of Elkins, Mrs. Muriel Barnett Allen of Clarksburg, Mrs. Phyllis Davis Rohrbough, Miss Wahneta Moss, Miss Eleanor White of Fairmont, and Angelo Eagon.

Members of the social committee appointed for the home-coming are: Miss Bessie B. Bell, chairman, Mrs. Fern Huff Rollyson, Miss Alma J. Arbuckle, Hunter Whiting, Stanley Hall and the various class presidents, Warren Blackhurst, Frank Vass, Lawrence Keith, and Homer Blackhurst.

COLLEGES AND NOW

It is significant in this day when major events are taking place in the political and economic history of the world that so little stress is placed upon such subjects in many of our colleges. Of recent importance in world history has been the election in England and the visit of Premier Laval of France to this country. However, it is safe to assert that very few students were aware of these facts. Can it be that the student is not interested in something that directly concerns him, or is it that educational facilities have tended to thwart his interest in placing emphasis on other topics?

One of the primary purposes of colleges is to teach our men and women how better to fulfill their privileges as citizens. If that is the case, why is so little thought given to contemporary affairs? The student becomes overwhelmed with facts and opinions of a past history and his knowledge of present-day occurrences of this kind is woefully lacking.

Nations of the world have always had difficult problems with which to contend, but the complexity of these problems has never reached the state which faces our governments today. It seems that problems are growing in such intensity and complexity that the great mass of individuals are not keeping pace with them. What individual, whether he be a college graduate or not, in our present scheme of things, could comprehend the details of our fiscal policy or how our governments are conducted in every aspect? Yet our colleges have long contended that in their academic subjects lies the key to better citizenship.

It is our contention that colleges have failed considerably to give students an insight into affairs with which they will later be confronted. One becomes so immersed in the often musty details of the past that he lacks perspective of the problems of the present and of the future.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR FRIENDS

A deal of pressure has lately been brought to bear upon the matter of using correct speech. In the classroom and in chapel we hear it, and in books and newspapers we read about it. It would be strange indeed if we were not beginning to take some of this to heart and start doing something about it. For those who welcome a suggestion, it might be well to begin on something not too difficult.

Nearly everyone is guilty of using certain words with such frequency that his conversation becomes a deadly bore. Often these are slang, or sometimes merely adjectives or verbs. "How darling!" cries Harriet, seeing a baby, a new hat, a bowl of flowers, or even a piece of music. And even her friends cannot be blamed if they wish, just now and then, that she would acquire a new adjective. "That's priceless!" Frances exclaims every time anything the least bit unusual comes to her attention. "Hectic" is Jean's favorite, and "marvelous" is Nell's. Ruth uses "How grand!" almost every time she opens her mouth, except on those occasions when she is saying "How terrible." And the worst of it is that most of the things of which she speaks are neither "grand" nor "terrible," but probably pleasant, appealing, delightful, or sad, unfortunate, disagreeable. An overworked word so seldom fits its place; it is either too large or too small (usually too large), but not often exactly the right size. Always to use the right word—the exact word that expresses the meaning—is a difficult matter, we know. It means care, work, study, and thoughtfulness. But is it not worth it?

FLICKERING LIGHTS

It is probable that there are no omnivorous readers such as Milton in Glenville Teachers College whose sight might completely fail should they read by guttering candles, but students still do study, and perhaps a big majority of the 452 by electric lights.

Lights that constantly flicker have a tendency to make tired and sore eyes which are poor tools for preparing lessons. One who does much reading by the lights produced by the present system has just cause to find fault with them. Now and then the plant fails to produce light at all. This more or less holds up important activities. But the greatest fault is that continuous flicker which slowly but surely ruins many eyes.

Probably the best way to meet this situation would be to supply the town with a better electric system. Either a new local plant or a high tension line from a larger plant would make a welcome improvement.

CLOSED DOORS

We frequently see people do foolish things. Neighbors belittle the family across the street to those on either side because the one across the street has not returned the lawn-mower. Obviously the simplest thing to do would be to go after the lawn-mower without starting a neighborhood quarrel. Small animals in the grass spend long minutes of their lives struggling over a stone when it would be much easier to go around it. There is a large stone in our midst which several hundred students are climbing over every day. Of course we refer to the single door that is unlocked at the entrance of the new building.

At some time during each day a thousand or more students pass through this lone door. We have no data on the matter, but it stands without proof that each passage requires a short period of time. When there is a large number of students trying to use this single door there results the familiar between-class congestion that occurs four times each morning. This is a condition that might be readily changed. There are four doors available. We see no good reason why the four of them should not be used.

When a reader thinks of a book as a classic and reads it because it is a classic, it is already dead to him and he to it.

—Lewis Gannett.

The metric mind of man needs to have its gaps padded a little by the "infinite" understandings of women.

—Judge Camill Kelley.

By and large our political and economic thinking looks to the past. We should look to the future.

CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FRESHNESS and flavor in a cigarette trace right back to natural moisture.

If you overheat or process tobacco so harshly as to dry out all natural moisture you drive out freshness and flavor too.

Camel never parches or toasts the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos it uses—they are naturally smooth, cool, mellow, with natural moisture retained.

That's why the Camel Humidor Pack proves such a blessing to Camel smokers—it brings them a fine cigarette fresh to start with, and fresh to smoke.

If you don't realize what natural moisture means in genuine freshness and flavor, switch to Camels and see.

Try this mild, slow-burning, throat-friendly favorite for just one day—then leave it, if you can!

Made FRESH — Kept FRESH

- Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against sweat, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked
