WHITE DISCUSSES WORLD WAR AND PEACE IN CHAPEL

Says Conscription of Property and Money Would Help Prevent Fighting

CRAWFORD ALSO SPEAKS

"To the 2 Million U. S. Soldiers in France the Armistice Meant Getting Home"

"When property is conscripted, and when propaganda is bridled, then may come peace and righteousness," was the summarizing statement of an Armistice Day talk given in chapel Wednesday by H. L. White, instructor in education and a veteran of the World War.

Mr. White spoke at length of his experiences among the soldiers in France during the war. "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning"; "Where Do We Go From Here Boys?"; "K-k-katy, Beautiful Katy"; and "Keep the Home Fires Burning" were quoted to recall the time when the "Yanks made Heinie bellow at the Belleau Woods, and finally put the gone in Argonne."

Meanings of War to Nations

When speaking of the meaning of the armistice, Mr. White said that there was a question as to what the war had meant to the various nations engaged. This question was answered in this manner: "To the Germans it was business; to the English it was duty; to the French it was glory, and to the Americans it was a game." To the doughboys, armistice meant relief from many hardships.

The vaccination of people against propaganda, the provisions for the conscription of property and money, as well as men, in case of war, and the eradication of hatred and greed, Mr. White stated, will bring about world peace.

Crawford Relates Reactions

At the request of Mr. White, R. T. Crawford, instructor in mathematics, who was wounded in France, discussed the reaction of the soldiers to the signing of armistice. The soldier's first thought was to go home, he said, but they were soon informed that they had to remain in France until the peace treaty was signed. This period of waiting was little enjoyed by the boys over there.

WHITE TO ADDRESS MEETING

Will Talk to Camden-on-Gauley
P-T. A. There Friday

H. Laban White, instructor in education, will address a Parent-Teachers Association at Camden-on-Gauley, Friday evening.

On Armistice Day Mr. White delivered three addresses. In the morning he spoke to the students at chapel, in the afternoon he addressed a community gathering at Cedarville, and in the evening spoke at a dinner of the local chapter of the American Legion.

Electric Lights Installed at Annex

Several repairs have been made at the Annex, men's dormitory, this year. Electric lights have been installed, wall boarding has been used to replace wall paper in the rooms, and a new floor has been put in the bathroom. The building has been repainted both inside and out.

To Vote on Thanksgiving Holiday

President E. G. Rohrbough has announced that the extent of the Thanksgiving vacation will be decided upon tomorrow. School will not be in session on Thanksgiving Day, but if classes are not held on Friday following, that day must be made up on some Saturday. The will of the students will be the deciding factor.

H. Y. CLARK, MRS. SAMPLE RETURN

Former Instructors to Begin
Duties Here Again Next Semester

President E. G. Rohrbough announces that Mrs. Elwina Sample and H. Y. Clark have been added to the staff of Glenville Teachers College for the second semester. Mrs. Sample will teach art, while Mr. Clark will become a member of the education department. Last year Mrs. Sample taught art here, but since no course in art is being given this semester, her services are not needed. In August Mr. Clark was granted a leave of absence this semester so that he could study.

At the present time Mrs. Sample is visiting friends in Findley, O., and Mr. Clark is taking graduate work in education at Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tenn.

This semester Otis G. Wilson was hired to fill Mr. Clark's place in the education department. Mrs. Otis G. Wilson was also appointed to fill temporarily the vacancy left in the education department by E. E. Looker's resignation.

ARM LENGTH? 32; WAIST? 30

Costume Makers Are Preparing 12th Century Clothes

From behind the locked door of Room 106 comes the buzz of sewing machines, the swish of paint brushes, and such expressions as "How beautiful" and "Won't that look wonderful under lights." Then, very silently someone comes down the hall and gives the secret tap at the door; the door is opened hurriedly and in he goes. Then can be heard something like this: "Arm length?" "32." "Waist?" "30." "Come back at 4 o'clock for a fitting."

All this means that the costume committee for the play, "Robin Hood," is making the costumes for the cast. From the simple garments of Robin Hood's men to the chain armor of the guards the details of the dress of the twelfth century are being carried out.

STUDENTS SHOULD HELP

On Armistice Day the American Red Cross began its fiftieth anniversary annual roll call. This year the organization will use every means of getting additional members, because of the many needs for its services. In its announcement, it stated that it will "go back to war-time habits and tap every possible source in the country" to get members. The goal set is an enrollment of five million members by Thanksgiving Day. The Red Cross officials declare that this will be the hardest year in the way of calls on the organization for help than there has been since the World War. Many persons who have always before paid their dues to the Red Cross are this year not able to do so; some of the previous members are in need themselves.

While the Red Cross was originally a war relief work, today the peace-time calls for help are so great that it is one of the greatest agencies in the world.

During the past year it brought relief to drought sufferers in twenty-two states. It aided more than six hundred thousand families numbering nearly three million persons. In addition to its work of relief in times of disaster, the Red Cross carries on its public health training and life-saving agencies. Last year more than one hundred thousand persons engaged in volunteer service under the direction of the local chapters of the Red Cross. This year there is a need for additional forces to carry on the charity work in every city, town, and in the country. Students, merely because they are students, should not feel themselves to be exempted from subscribing the dollar for membership. A few possibly cannot, but the majority should help carry our burden.

RED HEADED TEMPER

When we are feeling a little depressed and someone comes along who annoys us, what a temporary relief and satisfaction it is to loose that "red head" temper and go into a tantrum! In our joyous abandon we hardly notice our scolding words or ridiculous actions, but in our moments of aftermath we think of them. Are these tirades worth the shame of making ourselves seem childish, ridiculous and even a little insane? And, too, there is the humiliation of apologizing to our enemy who probably did not lose his temper. On the whole a burst of uncontrolled temper is an unsatisfactory experience. A teacher or parent who easily loses his composure and judgment in a fit of anger loses much of the respect and confidence of students or children. In moments of extreme anger we are not normal. Psychologists say that at such times we are temporarily insane, and we can easily believe that. No really sane person charges about doing and saying the things which some people are guilty of saying during a tirade.

Surely tempers were given to us for some good reason. In the picture of Jesus scouring the money changers out of the temple we probably have an example of temper displayed perfectly. His anger was not directed against a petty annoyance, but against a real wrong. It was dignified by being under perfect control and guidance.

We have a mingled feeling of contempt and pity for a person who allows himself to be trampled upon, a person who never displays temper to protect himself from injustice, but we also have the same feeling for a person who is always up in arms against some one for trivial or perhaps imaginary wrongs. Is there not some way in which we can have tempers yet use them more carefully and usefully than we do?

MORE PRESSURE IN MANCHURIA

The situation existing in Manchuria is growing more alarming daily. The leading nations of the world have failed to reconcile their differences and as a last resort have turned to virtual war. It is regretful that after a decade of peace, prior to which was staged the most gruesome debacle mankind has ever known, that nations cannot settle their difficulties in a peaceful manner.

China and Japan, signatories of the Pact of Paris and also members of the League of Nations, present a most interesting spectacle. After going to considerable expense to help maintain the peace of the universe, and hardly before the ink on the parchment dried, they have resumed an extremely hostile attitude.

Now that the transportation and communication systems of the world have drawn nations nearer to each other, the welfare of an one country vitally concerns the interests of every other nation in the world, whether directly or indirectly. It distorts the balance of trade and affects the import and export policy of all the nations. The East and West must exchange their products for their mutual well-being.

This dispute in the Orient should serve as a warning to all other peace-loving peoples. Their very homes and lives are threatened if this present affair should extend its area of activity. Let us aid in bringing more pressure to bear upon these countries in the hope that ultimate peace may once more be enjoyed.

"Where the College Crowd Goes"

PARTY HEARS DURANT'S TALK

Philosopher Asks "Is Democracy a Failure?"—Answers "Yes"

Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Miss Bessie Bell, Miss Goldie James and Robert Prim attended a lecture given by Will Durant at Fairmont, Tuesday.

The topic of Durant's lecture was "Is Democracy a Failure?" and he answered by saying yes. Some of the reasons for its being a failure, Durant said, are because our economic system is so complicated that we cannot stabilize ourselves for any length of time, because the birth rate of ignorance outruns the propagation of intelligence, and because of the corrupt condition of our state and city governments especially. Durant said he was sorry he could not offer more constructive criticism besides his one suggestion that we be taught how to govern.

Miss Jane Butler Elected President—Three Talks Given

Miss Jane Butler has recently been elected president of the Y. W. C. A. for the present year. The other officers are: vice-president, Mrs. Trula talks were given by Misses Ruby Edwards; treasurer, Miss Helen Ferrell. Miss Goldie James has been chosen as faculty advisor.

Wednesday night the Y. W. C. A. held its second meeting of the year.

The subject discussed was, "Religious Life on the Campus." Three talks were given by Miss Ruby Edwards, Edna Judy, and Carol Magnuson. Miss Winifred Steele played a violin solo accompanied by Miss Jane Butler at the piano. Misses Glenna Walker and Sally Young sang a duet.

Never parched, never toasted CAMELS are FRESH in nature's own mild way!

EVERYONE knows now that Camels are the fresh cigarette.

If inquiry went deeper, it would reveal that Camels are the natural moisture cigarette.

That's important, because in handling fine tobaccos, when you process out natural moisture, you sacrifice freshness and flavor too.

Camel smokers needn't worry about that, because Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that are never subjected to violent processing. They need no parching or toasting to make them smooth, palatable, cool.

That's why the Camel Humidor Pack is such a boon to Camel smokers—it preserves the freshness, flavor, natural moisture, fragrance that are in this fine cigarette to start with.

Camels are fresh in nature's own mild way, and if you want to see what that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to them for just one day—then leave them, if you can!

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. 1200 SEE G. S. T. C. BATTER POTOMAC AND WIN 38 TO 7

O'Dell and Pioneer Forwards
Wear Down Opponents for 4th Quarter Spree

MIERS RUNS KICK 75 YDS.

Line Plunging of the "Babe" Cracks
Catamount Defense Constantly
for Good Gains

Twelve hundred gay and noisy persons assembled Saturday to see the Pioneers play Potomac State in the first home-coming game to be held here. And these 1200 spectators were gayer and noisier after the final whistle and the last blast of the Pioneer band, for Glenville won 38-7. It was the worst defeat they ever gave a Potomac team.

As much of the credit for victory as can go to one man except in unusual football games is Babe O'Dell's — the Pioneer 170-pound fullback. Starting fast and hitting harder he found a hole or trampled over an opponent or two for about five yards every time he carried the ball. Only on cross bucks, and they are not his type play, did he fail to gain. Anyhow it all began when Jeranko kicked off.

Miers Runs 75 Yards

Miers came back 20 yards, and Potomac kicked on second down. Combs fumbled, but Glenville recovered on Potomac's 40. One, two, three first downs, gained mostly by O'Dell, then Morford scored through the weak flank of the line from 3 yards back. Porterfield's try for goal failed.

Jeranko again kicked to Miers, who burst from behind his interference, was tackled at a few times and did not stop going until Combs caught him from behind. It was a 75-yard run and a brilliant one. But Potomac was held for downs.

Porterfield punted and soon did Potomac. Then a 15-yard pass from Heron, who replaced Combs, to Jeranko initiated another march for a touchdown, Clem going over.

Potomac Line Battered

Potomac received. Spatafore's pass to Slate advanced the oval 30 yards, and other gains placed it on the Pioneers' 35. Again we saw Miers run. This time through Glenville's right tackle, then to the right, left, and right. It was a clever run, and the fans cheered. The half ended with Glenville holding the ball in mid-field and leading 12-7, for Potomac passed for their extra point and Porterfield's second kick went wide.

The Pioneer forwards and O'Dell badly battered the Potomac line in the third quarter. Nor did Graham's tackling, blocking and hitting ease their troubles. He replaced Clem at quarter after the latter was slightly injured. It was O'Dell's plunges that put him in a position for a third Pioneer score.

Penalties, times out, and substitutions in the second half made the game tiresome for the bleacherless spectators. Leg muscles became weary and feet were tired. Heron and Clem did their song and dance acts in the final period after O'Dell left the game. They scored three more markers. Then ten fresh Pioneers entered the game, Graham remaining in and running the team.

Band Leads Parade

It was the Pioneer line and O'Dell that did the most damage, as it was Miers who proved to be the Potomac threat. Morris, Eismen, Morford, and Graham prevented many Potomac gains.

A parade led by the Grantsville band, employed for the occasion, and a stunt by the Holy Rollers which seemed not to amuse the spectators, were a part of a successful first home-coming.

PIONEERS HOLD EDGE ON M. H.

Game to Be Played This Week in Huntington

The Glenville Pioneers will meet Morris-Harvey at Huntington either Friday night or Saturday. A night game depends on weather conditions. The Pioneers will be in good condition for the clash, as no injuries were received in the Potomac State game Saturday, but Baker and Marvin Lee may be out another week.

The Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey have a strong team this year, but the Pioneers are the favorites for a victory. The team is having hard practice sessions this week in preparation for Gibby Welch's eleven.
