

DR. W. A. SHIMER WILL SPEAK AT COMMENCEMENT

Is First Alumnus Ever to Address G. T. C. Graduating Class

EDITS PBK QUARTERLY

The Rev. W. V. Mallilieu to Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon May 29

Dr. William Allison Shimer, editor of The American Scholar, will deliver the commencement address to the A. B. and Standard Normal seniors of Glenville State Teachers College on June 1. Dr. Shimer will have the distinction of being the first alumnus to deliver a commencement address here. He is a member of the Class of 1914.

While attending school here Dr. Shimer was active in campus activities. He was a member of the Cosmian Literary Society, the Cosmian Debating Club, the Y. M. C. A., athletic editor of The Bulletin, business manager of the Kanawhachen, and a member of the football and basketball squads.

Finishes Harvard in Three Years
After leaving Glenville Dr. Shimer entered Harvard University where he completed the four-year course leading to an A. B. degree in three years. He was graduated with high honors from Harvard. Upon leaving there he enlisted in the services of the British Government and was sent to Mesopotamia, but illness forced him to return to the United States before he assumed his duties there.

He entered Harvard University for graduate work upon his return to the United States and received a Ph. D. degree.

He was then given a traveling fellowship by Harvard, and spent one year in study in Europe. Upon his return to the United States he became professor of philosophy at Ohio State University.

He went from there to New York where he became national secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity. In 1931 he was appointed editor of the Phi Beta Kappa quarterly, The American Scholar.

Mr. Mallilieu to Preach Sermon
The Rev. Wilbur V. Mallilieu, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Charleston, will preach the baccalaureate sermon here on Sunday, May 29.

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE HELD*Senior Members of Canterbury Club Make Short Talks

The Canterbury Club held its annual April Pilgrimage Thursday evening. A program consisting of three stories taken from The Canterbury Tales was given to commemorate the pilgrimage of Chaucer to Canterbury. "The Clerk's Tale" was told by Miss Marjorie Lindell, "The Nun's Tale" by Sigel Taylor, and "The Knight's Tale" by Glen Henderson.

After the program the club went to the Crystal Restaurant where a lunch was served.

After-dinner talks were made by Miss Rena Mick, Miss Helen Snodgrass, Earl Boggs, Walter Moore, Trell Reger, Selden Brannon, and Warren Blackhurst.

Jackson to Talk in Chapel Tomorrow

J. A. Jackson, superintendent of the schools of Clarksburg, will address the assembly tomorrow, Hunter Whiting, chairman of the program committee, announces.

CHEMISTRY DAY TO BE SATURDAY

Local High Schools Are Invited—Exhibits and Pictures Will Be Shown

The Chemistry Club has invited forty high schools and the local public to attend its Chemistry Day program on Saturday. The purpose of the program is to create more interest in physical science.

One hundred fifty exhibits from different industrial companies will be on display. Eighteen exhibits gathered by the first-year chemistry class will also be shown. The members of the first-year class will prepare their exhibits from material collected when they visited plants in Clarksburg and Weston on April 21. Bayard Young, president of the club, announces that the following program will be given in the physics laboratory and in the auditorium. The motion pictures will be presented at the Pictureland Theater.

9:30—Register and get acquainted.

10:00—Exhibits.

10:30—Welcome Address by Pres. E. G. Rohrbough.

10:45—Experiments by John R. Wagner.

11:15—Address by Dr. F. E. Clark of West Virginia University.

12:00—Noon recess.

1:00—Experiments by John R. Wagner.

1:30—Address by Prof. Nicholas Hyma of Wesleyan.

2:15—Motion Pictures at Pictureland Theater.

4:00—Adjournment.

The club and Ray Thompson, local photographer, are presenting to the school a picture of George Firestone, janitor for thirty-five years. Chemistry Day the picture will be placed on the display cabinet which Mr. Firestone recently gave to the club. The picture is now being tinted by Mrs. Elwina Sample, instructor in art.

HURST, LEE OBTAIN POSITIONS*Mays and Jones Will Teach in Richwood Junior High

Marvin Lee and Hugh Hurst, who will receive degrees on June 1, have obtained positions for this coming year. Lee has been named assistant coach at Clendenin High School and will teach physical education. Hurst will teach chemistry, physics, and biology at Greenbank High School.

Clyde Mays and Lloyd Jones will teach in the Richwood Junior High School.

SUNRISE BREAKFAST PLANNED*"Y. W." Will Have Business Meeting Tonight

The Y. W. C. A. will have a Sunrise Breakfast Saturday morning. This breakfast was postponed from April 23, because of an injury received by the president, Miss Jane Butler, in an automobile accident.

There will be a business meeting of the organization tonight at 7 o'clock in the auditorium.

CAST IS SELECTED FOR "THE COUNT AND THE CO-ED"

Misses Jones and Walker, and Young and Lynch to Have Leads in Operetta

DANCE DIRECTOR NAMED

Rehearsals Will Begin This Week, Says Miss Olsen—Musical to Be Given Last of May

After a series of try-outs given last week by Miss Bertha E. Olsen, instructor in music, Miss Glenna Walker, Clendenin, and Miss Evelyn Jones, Glenville, were selected for the feminine leads in the college operetta, "The Count and the Co-Ed," to be given in the last of this month; while Jaynard Young, Glenville, and James Lynch, Granite City, Ill., have the male leads.

Miss Walker, a mezzo soprano, will have the part of Dolly McSpadden, daughter of the college president. Miss Jones, a soprano, is cast as Marjorie Blackwood, belle of the campus; Young, a baritone, has the part of Kenneth ("Snooze") Andrews, comedian of the glee club; while Lynch, a tenor, is cast as his friend, Hamilton Hunter, leader of the college glee club.

Eight in Supporting Cast

The musical comedy will have the following supporting cast: Miss Demetrius Keffer, alto, of Middleport, O., as Miss Agatha Lockstep, house mother of the girls' dormitory at Marsden College, a Middle Western setting for the operetta; Dana Eakle, bass, of Clay Court House, as Dr. Cicero McSpadden, president of the college; Phyllis Rohrbough, Glenville, as Mrs. McSpadden; Elizabeth Summerville, mezzo soprano, of Auburn, as Amy Arnold, a bright and efficient junior; Miss Mary Mae Sellers, soprano, of Elkins, as Birdie Boggs, a sweet and simple freshman girl; Earl Boylen, baritone, of Jane Lew, as Mark Watson, the college cheer leader; Paul Bramlett, Glenville, as Willie ("Sleepy") Cater, a freshman at Marsden; and Bayard Young, baritone, of Glenville, as Dan Flanagan, a smart young motor cop. A chorus will be comprised of the combined glee clubs.

Mrs. Boggs to Coach Dances

Mrs. Earl Boggs, instructor in physical education, will direct the dances.

George Moore has been chosen as stage, property and business manager.

The presentation date has not been definitely decided upon, but it will be either Saturday, May 28, or Monday, May 30. The orchestration has been ordered from the music publishers and rehearsals will begin by the end of this week.

TENNIS SEASON OPENS TODAY*Wesleyan to Play Here—Tourney Is at Semi-Finals

The G. S. T. C. tennis team composed of six men will meet Wesleyan College on the campus courts here this afternoon.

A tennis tournament under the direction of H. Y. Clank, was completed last week only to the semi-finals. Jennerich, Jack, Barnett, and Cain are the four remaining undefeated players.

275 SPRING TERM STUDENTS ENROLL
TO SWELL REGISTRATION TO 715;
POPULATION OF GLENVILLE ONLY 535*Classes Will Not Meet on May 10

Classes in Glenville State Teachers College will not meet on Primary Election Day, Tuesday, May 10, President E. G. Rohrbough announces.

SENIOR CLASS
PLAY CONSIDERED*"Death Takes a Holiday" May Be Produced by Miss Scott if Rights Are Secured

"Death Takes a Holiday" is under consideration for the senior class play, according to Miss Kathleen Scott, instructor in public speaking.

Miss Scott has written the Samuel French company of New York to see whether production rights can yet be obtained. "Death Takes a Holiday" had a long run in New York during the season of 1931. Hunter Whiting, who is familiar with the play, says, "It's above the sort of slop that schools, including this one, usually present."

Even though the production rights for the play can be secured, Miss Scott is not sure that she will produce it unless it can be cast satisfactorily.

MISS DOBSON RETURNS HOME*Accompanied By Sister of Decatur, Ill., Who Visited Here

Miss Margaret Dobson, former instructor in dramatics here, who had been an invalid in the Weston General Hospital most of the time since Jan. 28, left Weston Sunday with her sister, Miss Grace Dobson, for her home in Decatur, Ill.

Miss Grace Dobson spent a few days in Glenville last week as the guest of Miss Ivy Lee Myers. She was accompanied to Weston by Miss Willa Brand, Miss Bessie Bell, and Miss Myers on Friday afternoon.

4-H CLUB WILL HAVE ROAST*I. B. Boggs From W. V. U. to Attend—Committees Appointed

The Glenville College 4-H Club will have a weiner roast tomorrow night for its members and any one else interested in 4-H work.

I. B. ("Tubby") Boggs, of the Extension Department of West Virginia University will be an honored guest at the outing.

Charles Wilson, president of the club, has announced the appointment of the following committees to make arrangements for the roast: location: Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lawson and Woodrow Radcliffe; entertainment: Eustace Pickens, Miss Kathryn Rohrbough and Kenneth Prichard; refreshments: Misses Thelma Richardson, Madge Kidd, and Nellie Cottrill.

Instructors Attend Science Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wagner, instructors in physical and natural science respectively, attended the annual meeting of the West Virginia Academy of Science, which was held at Concord State Teachers College, Athens. They returned home on Sunday.

Present Figure Represents a 20 Per Cent Increase Over
Year Past*BUILDINGS ARE CROWDED

380 Take Meals at Dormitories—List of New Matriculations Given

Swelling the enrollment of Glenville State Teachers College to a total far greater than the population of the town of Glenville, 275 students had registered at noon yesterday for the spring term which began April 25. Glenville has a population of 535 and the college a registration of 715.

The enrollment of 715 represents a 20 per cent increase over the year past, one that is probably larger than that in any other state school. This figure includes only resident students, and no duplications are counted. Enrolled in the regular spring semester are 440 students, and in the spring term 275. In 1931 these enrollments were respectively 342 and 228.

Besides the college dormitories—Verona Mapel Hall for women, and Kanawha Hall, Firestone Lodge, and the Annex for men—many of the rooming houses in town are filled. About three hundred students take their meals at Kanawha Hall and eighty at Verona Mapel. Hallways and classrooms of the administration building and Robert F. Kidd Library are crowded. Only by patience and shoving can one make his way from some classrooms to others when the classes change.

Many of the spring term students this year are doing regular college work leading to a degree.

At noon yesterday the following persons had enrolled for the spring term:

A—B
Margaret Alderson, Summersville; Martha Allen, Valley Fork; J. Burgett Allman, Jane Lew; Mary Allman, Lost Creek; Edith Anderson, Harker Valley; Eula Arthur, Grantsville; Helen Auvi, Philippi; Dana H. ### JEWISH HUMOR

Humor, that precious product of the intellect, is surely of a racial genre. Have you ever heard of a Swedish Calverley or a Jewish Carroll? May be there are no adequate translations of the former, but certainly no Eddie Cantor or George Jessel wrote "The Walrus and the Carpenter." He couldn't have.

Oppressed and grasping, his race has had to think quickly and trade fast, and the end, or the profit, has for him justified his means. Ability to laugh at his own misfortunes—something not to be depreciated—must have first produced his witticisms, and uncanny ability to capitalize these misfortunes must have accounted for the first Jewish professional humorists. Because the stage was a lucrative business at times, it attracted him; and because he became wealthy and felt secure, his sex interest, perhaps secondary only to obtaining wealth, characterized the jokes of his second stage of development. Jack Pearl of Ziegfeld's "Follies" and the Eddie Cantor of "Whoopie" are two nauseating examples of satyriasis who are called comedians, as is the Marx brother who constantly pursues the maiden. Still heavily flavored with money and sex, a third type is evolving—a staccato humor that is cheap because it is strained. Examples can be found in Mr. Cantor's article in the Saturday Evening Post of April 16. For instance, "The people in Hollywood aren't really bad. They were good once. They just like to play follow the leader. Only if the leader is going down hill, they're ahead of him."

Today Jewish humor dominates every other type of humor in America. The difference between it and the delightful rimed nonsense of an Edward Lear or a Lewis Carroll, nonsense such as no Jew has ever written, is like the difference between a Ben Davis apple and a Stayman's Winesap. Both are apples, but one who knows their flavors will always choose the winesap.

SPRING TERM COURTESY

When a member of the family has been away from home for a period of time, he returns with the expectation of receiving a warm welcome. Surely no brother or sister would be out to meet him with a long list of embarrassing remarks. If this were the case how would one feel? Probably he would feel like turning back to the place from which he had come. And so it is with the student who comes to enter school for the spring term. He comes with the expectation of being received as a member of the school and not to be jeered and be the bull's eye for remarks shot at him from every window, stairway, and street corner. Such treatment does not lessen the embarrassment, not to speak of the uneasiness of one when he has come to mingle with a strange herd of heterogeneous personalities.

Whether a person has been formerly enrolled in school or not, he feels somewhat ill at ease for a few weeks and is much in need of courteous and kind treatment in order to get a good beginning. The first few days are a strain on his nerves.

It is really not known why the spring term students are subject to so much talk and the object of so many remarks and jokes as they are, probably it is just a custom, and perhaps some feel that there is really a cause for all the fun-making. However, it is quite safe to say that most of this is custom handed down from class to class. It would be well for persons to pay little heed to things that are said by older students. And above everything each should try to make the other feel at home, for the first few days in school often determine whether a person will be a success or failure in his work. If at the beginning one creates a repulsive attitude toward his work and school activities, the attitude will probably remain. Surely such discourteous treatment does not stimulate the enrollment of more students.

POLONIUS' ADVICE

Polonius must have been sending Laertes to Paris to college when he gave him the parting advice "Neither a borrower nor a lender be." We wish Polonius would come back to preach his sermon again, for almost everyone seems to have the "borrowing bug" or the "gimme" habit.

One hears: Lend me a pencil. Give me a sheet of paper. Are you using your English book? Some people will even borrow reports to copy, as they have no time to write their own, or the books they wanted to use were out of the library.

Webster says that borrowing is "to obtain the use of a thing, for a time, with the understanding that it is to be returned." The first part of the definition is correct in theory, but the second part should be "until the lender goes and gets the article that he lent."

Some people borrow without any idea of returning; some borrow from necessity; while others borrow from habit. Everyone should think twice before he asks to borrow something, and even then it would be better not to do it.

If lenders were just endowed with enough courage to say "No," this epidemic of borrowing might cease, or abate for a time. Polonius' advice was good, but like most good advice no one gives it careful attention.

MAY 10TH

The Primary Election of May 10 again brings to mind the oft-heard principle of the right to vote and the corresponding duty of the citizens to vote. Every person who is duly qualified by age and the necessary requirements as provided by law has the right of suffrage. Accompanying this right it is the duty of all voters to cast their ballots at election time, for in this so-called democracy, the will of the people is supposed to determine the government of the United States. We shall not reach this goal if the voters neglect their task.

With this in mind, we wish to remind the students of Glenville State Teachers College of the coming election. It is the duty of every student who is eligible to vote to be sure to exercise his right of franchise. With the United States in its present period of depression, it is very important for the voters to elect a man who will make an honest and conscientious effort to restore business to normalcy. Those students who are eligible to vote should make an unprejudiced survey of the several candidates and should cast their ballots for the ones who seem to be best qualified. Because the ballot will be longer than usual this year, it should be studied more carefully than ever before the voter goes to the polls.

Presumably students are farther advanced than the average man; so it is up to them to vote and to vote more intelligently. Above all, vote on May 10.

We congratulate Pearl S. Buck, whose novel, "The Good Earth," was yesterday awarded the Pulitzer Prize. Mrs. Buck is a native West Virginian, the first probably to receive this prize. For many years she has lived in China.

PIONEERS TRAVEL TO SALEM TODAY

G. S. T. C. Baseball Team, With Three Days Practice, Will Play Baptists

After dropping their first game to Morris Harvey, the Pioneer baseball squad resumed practice Thursday in preparation for the game with the Salem Tigers today at Salem.

Baseball practice was discontinued for a number of days following the Morris Harvey game, in order for the squad to participate in the intramural track meet held here April 23. Bad weather prevented practice the first three days of the week past. Because of these two interruptions Glenville will be somewhat handicapped in facing the strong Salem team.

Salem has been training for a number of weeks and has already played three games; however, the Pioneers are all veterans, and strengthened by several players who have just come in for the spring term, they will have an even chance of downing the Tigers whom they defeated last year.

George Sertick, star infielder of the Pioneers, injured his ankle in the Morris Harvey game but will be able to play today.

The Pioneers will play a series of three home games following the Salem tilt. They meet Wesleyan on May 6 in the most important game on the home card. Glenville will be trying to avenge a 1 to 0 defeat suffered at Buckhannon last spring. Salem then comes here for a return game May 13, and then Morris Harvey on the 16th.

FRESHMEN TAKE TRACK MEET HERE

Event Held to Determine Men to Represent Pioneers in Wesleyan Contest

Coach Natus Rohrbough held his first try-out for track this year on April 23 with twenty-five or thirty candidates taking part. The jumping and weight throwing events were all held at Rohrbough Field in the morning. In the afternoon, the boys were taken out to the Fair Grounds where they engaged in the sprints and the distance runs.

Rowley Baker, a junior in the college, was high point man of the meet. Baker competed in all the dashes and the pole vault and broad jump, collecting in all, 13 points.

Robert Combs, a freshman, followed close behind with 16 points. Combs also entered the sprints, winning the hundred in easy style, in 10:1. James Hatfield followed in third place, being entered in the high jump and the half-mile run.

Just as an experiment, the candidates were divided into teams representing their respective classes. The Freshmen, with 62 points won first place in the meet. The Juniors, with 45 points were second. Next came the Sophomores with 9 1-2 points. The Seniors were in last place with one point.

The results of the meet are as follows:

HIGH JUMP—First, Hatfield; second, Lindell; third, Harris and Vass. Height: 5:5.

JAVELIN—First, Baker; second, McCollum; third, Cox. Distance, 158:8.

BROAD JUMP—First, Baker; second, Combs; third, Vass. Distance, 20 ft. 3-4 in.

DISCUS—First, Hackney; second, Johnson; third, Lieberth. Distance, 109 ft.

SHOT PUT—First, Harris; second, Lieberth; third, Baker. Distance, 31 ft. 1-4 in.

POLE VAULT—First, Vass, Baker, and Combs. (Three-way tie) Height, 9 ft. 9 in.

MILE RUN—First, Lloyd; second, Lansing Elmer; third, Johnson. Time, 5:12.

HUNDRED—First, Combs; second, Vaughn; third, Baker. Time, 10:1.

440-RUN—First, Morford; second, Baker; third, Burk. Time, 57 sec.

TWO MILE—First, Summers; second, McCartney; third, Nottingham. Time, 12:32.

HALF-MILE—First, Hatfield; second, Nichols; third, Lloyd. Time, 2:20.

220-RUN—First, Combs; second, Vaughn; third, Baker. Time, 24 sec.

Brown, High-Jumper, Sprains Ankle

Glen Brown, a freshman, and a member of the track team, sprained an ankle on Thursday while practicing for the high-jump. He was unable to compete against Wesleyan on Saturday.

Weston Minister Addresses Assembly

The Rev. M. O. Magnuson of the Presbyterian Church of Weston spoke on Wednesday at the regular chapel period. He said that the troubles affecting the world at the present time are largely economic in character, and he warned against allowing them to influence our appreciation of the cultural and aesthetic things of life. Over-specialization was to be avoided, he said, in order that students might not make their fields of study too narrow and not see things in their true proportions.

New Students Keep Librarians Busy

When asked if any new books had been received at the library, Miss Alma Arbuckle said, "We have not received any new books, but we have received an industrious group of new students." She added that the new students were keeping her and her helpers very busy.

A 93-year-old negro woman is a pupil in a public school night class in Topeka, Kans.

300 PRESENT AT SPRING RECEPTION

Red Bud and Ash Leaves Used in Cheerful Decorations of Gymnasium

The Annual Spring Term Reception of Glenville State Teachers College was held in the gymnasium Friday evening from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock. About three hundred students were guests.

The gymnasium was cheerfully decorated with spring colors. Arches made of orchid, green, yellow, and pink crepe paper were placed over the doors and bleachers. Red bud and ash leaves decorated the walls and windows. The orchestra was inclosed in a fence which was decorated with flowers. Directly above the orchestra was a large moon.

During intermission the Social Science Club, under the direction of Miss Bessie Bell, presented a skit entitled "Pokey Huntus," spoken in the meter of "Hiawatha."

A local orchestra under the direction of Maynard Young played for the dance.

The chairmen of the committees in charge of the dance were: Miss Rebecca Criss, decorations; and Graydon Woodford, refreshments.

TWO MARRIAGES ANNOUNCED

Hyar-Prim and Taylor-Wilson Weddings Took Place on May 9, 1931

An announcement was made at Christmas in Fairmont of the marriage of Miss Hazel Hyar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hyar of Big Otter, to Robert Prim, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Prim of Fairmont. They were married in Cumberland, Md., May 9, 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Prim are both students in Glenville State Teachers College. Mr. Prim was captain of the Pioneer football team in 1929.

Miss Marie Taylor of Richwood and Fred Wilson of Parkersburg accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Prim to Cumberland and were also married on the same day.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were graduated in 1931, Mr. Wilson receiving an A. B. degree. Mrs. Wilson was active in college dramatics. Mr. Wilson was a member of the baseball team for several years. They are now living at Cedarville.

CLUB TO SHOW PICTURES

Making and Uses of Wall-boarding to Be Exhibited May 10

Motion picture films, prepared by a wall-board manufacturer will be shown in the auditorium on Thursday, May 10, at 7 o'clock. These films are being brought to Glenville under the auspices of the Chemistry Club.

A representative of the company will bring motion picture equipment. The films will show the uses and the processes of making various kinds of building material.

Students and the public are invited to attend the show which will be free.

E. G. Rohrbough Attends Convention

President E. G. Rohrbough went to Huntington Sunday as a representative from the Glenville Rotary Club at a state Rotary convention being held in that city yesterday and today. He will return to Glenville this evening.

New Students May Join Orchestra

An invitation has been extended by Miss Bertha E. Olsen, instructor in music, to all spring term students who play musical instruments to try out for the college orchestra. Miss Olsen asks that those interested see her today or tomorrow. Rehearsals are held Monday and Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock.
