

SOCIAL CALENDAR IS OUTLINED FOR FIRST SEMESTER

Includes Two Formal Dances and Numerous Informal Parties

TWO COMMITTEES NAMED

Laban White, Jr., is Chairman of Arrangements for Annual Thanksgiving Party

Two formal dances, numerous informal parties, club entertainments, a football game and a three-act play are among the outstanding campus activities listed for the first half of the present school year, it is revealed in the social calendar prepared yesterday afternoon by a committee of students and two faculty members.

The appearance of Cornelia Otis Skinner in the College auditorium Saturday evening, Nov. 9, presentation of the three-act play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," November 21, and a formal Thanksgiving dance, November 22, will feature the social functions this month.

Laban White, Jr., was named chairman of a special committee to complete arrangements for the Thanksgiving dance. Assisting him will be LeRoy Sheets, Fred Smith, Josephine Riffe and possibly additional members if needed.

Committee for Christmas Dance

A special committee for the Christmas dance was also named at yesterday's meeting. The dance will be held December 14. Myrtle McClung is chairman. Others of the committee include Frank Cooper, Paul Rishel and LeRoy Sheets.

Listed among this week's social activities is an informal dance to be held in the College gymnasium Friday night. Admission will be ten cents. A nickelodeon will be used to furnish the music. Students and members of the faculty may attend.

METHENY WILL PRESIDE

Student Council to Have Charge of Chapel Exercises

Whether or not Glenville State Teachers College will have a year book and whether or not the Senior Class will adopt standard rings will be decided tomorrow during chapel exercises.

The Student Government Association, under the leadership of President Lloyd Metheny, will have charge of the assembly program.

Among the other things to be considered will be the adoption of the student government constitution. A head cheer-leader will also be selected from the three present cheer-leaders. All students are urged to vote.

Chemistry Club Initiates 19 Pledges

Nineteen pledges became members of the Chemistry Club after the final initiation at a meeting Wednesday night in Room 201. The new members are: Harley Reger, Leah Stalnaker, Dorothy Dye, Ella Summers, Darius Stalnaker, Creavor Dimmick, Lota Carnifax, Lucille Spray, Iva McCartney, Willis Tatterson, David Haight, Felice Harpold, Robert Fleming, Fred Nuzum, H. L. Hall, Warren Clarkson, Cecil Lee Jays, William Keller, and Bruce Reay.

FOUR OF FACULTY ATTEND MEETING

Several Alumni Also Present
at Inter-City Rotary Dinner

Eight Glenville Rotarians, including four members of the College faculty, attended an inter-city meeting in Sutton Wednesday night at which were represented club leaders and members from seven central West Virginia cities. Several alumni of the College and former students were also present, among them being B. W. Craddock, local attorney, W. W. Lovell, county superintendent of schools in Braxton County; Virgil E. Harris, assistant to Mr. Lovell; Paul Hyre, teacher in Sutton High School; Dr. H. F. Withers, of Glenville, and Fred K. Holbert, Gilmer County farm agent.

Principal speakers were District Rotary Governor Lon H. Kelly and Attorney Jack Snyder, both of Charleston. Dean H. L. White and Attorney B. W. Craddock, responded to introductions for the Glenville club. Those attending from here were: President E. G. Rohrbough, Dean H. L. White, Carey Woofter, Linn E. Hickman, Dr. H. F. Withers, Dr. Guy Stalnaker and Fred K. Holbert.

MARY LAWSON HEADS Y. W. C. A.

Twenty Members Will Attend
State Meeting in Salem
Sunday

Mary Ernestine Lawson was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening to fill a vacancy made by the resignation of Catherine Wilson. Miss Wilson is secretary of the Student Council and resigned because of conflicting duties.

Election of Miss Lawson featured the semi-monthly meeting at which time a program of two short talks was given by Margaret Isner and Coral May Gulantz.

Twenty members will go to Salem, Sunday, Nov. 10, to attend a state meeting of the Christian Association of Colleges.

Ninety Students Attend Y. W. Dance

About ninety students and faculty members attended the Y. W. C. A. dance in the College gymnasium Saturday night. A nickelodeon was used to furnish the music. The faculty sponsors were Miss Margaret Christie and Miss Alma Arbuckle.

To Speak Here

Congressman Andrew Edmiston, above, of the Third West Virginia District and former state commander of the American Legion, will deliver a special Armistice Day address in the College auditorium Monday, beginning at 10 a. m. Classes will be in session until the chapel hour. Students will be dismissed for the day at the close of the Armistice Day program, which will take the place of the regular Wednesday chapel exercises.

MISS SKINNER TO APPEAR HERE SAT.

Will Give Two-Part Program
of Original Character
Sketches

The second number of the 1935-36 artists' course will feature Cornelia Otis Skinner in a series of original character sketches to be presented in the College auditorium Saturday, Nov. 9, 8:15 p. m.

Miss Skinner, writer and monologist, is the daughter of Otis Skinner, illustrious dean of the American theater. She has won through her impersonations a popularity rarely attained by a single entertainer. Each of her sketches is a novel, or play, in little. Through her adroit handling of dialogue she peoples the stage with imaginary characters which she makes real by her pause, look, or action.

Eight Character Sketches

By her creative acting Miss Skinner will bring to life eight entirely different women characters in her two-part program. The first will include "Nurse's Day Out," "In a

DR. SHREVE PLANS SERIES OF TESTS

Will Measure Ability in Various Subjects, Also General
Intelligence

The series of standard tests which began with the arithmetic examination Wednesday, will be continued in about two weeks with tests in language and penmanship and with a general intelligence test, according to Dr. John C. Shreve, head of the education department.

Freshmen are required to take the tests, as are all others who have never taken them. The tests are being planned, Dr. Shreve said, as a part of the requirements for graduation, and will be included with the group of subjects designated as "constants" for students in elementary and secondary education.

Y. M. MAY ENTER NATIONAL MEET

Plans Advanced for Sending Delegate to Convention in Indianapolis

Tentative plans for sending a delegate to the twelfth quadrennial of Students' Volunteer Movements at Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28 to Jan. 1, were discussed at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. Frank Cooper, John Shreve and DeWitt Moyers were named a committee to act on the plans.

James Jones, Roy Byrd, and John Shreve were asked to arrange Y. M. C. A. events for the College social calendar. Roy Byrd and Albert Piercy were authorized to accept qualified candidates for membership from a list submitted at the meeting.

Aptitude Test to Be Given Dec. 6

Students planning to enter medical school next fall may apply for an aptitude test adopted by the Association of American Medical Colleges, it is announced here by John R. Wagner, chemistry instructor. The test is one of the normal requirements for admission to a recognized school. Students applying for the test will be required to pay a fee of $1. The test will be given December 6, in the chemistry laboratory.

MID-SEMESTER GRADES

Monday, Nov. 18, will mark completion of the first half of the present semester.

Mid-semester grades must be in the office not later than Monday evening, President E. G. Rohrbough states. Private conferences with students will begin as soon as the grades are made ready for distribution, he adds. Grades will not be sent to parents of students, except in cases where students are not making passing marks.

Carey Woofter, registrar, asks that instructors make out grades on uniform size sheets of paper and that figures be double spaced in case typewriter is used. All grades are to be recorded in figures when submitted at the office.

MANY WORK ON DEGREE

Freshman Class With 215 Out-
Numbers Any Other Group

Several interesting trends in education are revealed in figures released yesterday at the office of Carey Woofter, registrar.

There are 439 resident students enrolled in the College, not including the seventy-three who are taking extension work at either of the two classes in Spencer, the two in Grantsville or the one in Gassaway. Several additional students probably will enroll in the class in Gassaway this week. The work was started three Wednesday.

More significant, however, than the mere fact that the enrollment is considerably larger this year are these trends which College officials point out:

More A. B. Students

There is a noticeable decrease in the number of students enrolled for the shorter courses and a corresponding increase in the number taking Standard Normal work and courses leading to completion of the A. B. degree. It is estimated that there will be an increase of about 20 per cent this year in the number of A. B. students to graduate. Last year there were 44. As near as College officials are able to determine at this time, there will be fifty-four to receive the A. B. degree this year, or a gain of ten.

Carey Woofter, registrar, points out that the largest number of students, or 215, are freshmen and that the greatest number of them have enrolled for Standard Normal and A. B. courses; not work leading to completion of requirements for temporary certificate. The increasing number enrolls for the longer courses, he explains, is perhaps due to demands for higher standards for teachers. Several nearby county boards of education are insisting that their teachers and prospective teachers have at least a Standard Normal certificate. Many of them urge that teachers complete their degrees as soon as possible.

More Counties Represented

Mr. Woofter states that there is a noticeable gain in the number of students here this year who come from counties in which boards of education are demanding increased preparation of teachers and prospective teachers.

There are thirty-six counties represented in the enrollment this semester, or a gain of five over the corresponding semester last year. Again the College continues as one of the few in the state in which there are more men students than women students. Latest statistics available show that there are 235 men enrolled and 204 women.

Perrine, '34, Injured Recently

Stanley O. Perrine, '34, of Sutton, a member of the West Virginia state police, was painfully injured recently in a motorcycle accident while on his way from Elizabeth to Moundsville. He is being treated at the Glendale Hospital in Moundsville.

Ghosts and Goblins Make Whoopee At Annual Halloween Celebration

More than 250 students, members of the faculty and guests packed their troubles in their old kit bags Thursday night and laughed, danced and made merriment at the annual Halloween party in the College gymnasium.

Portraying ghosts, witches and goblins, the merry throng of fun-makers paraded in a spectacular grand march several times around the harwood court in the colorfully decorated gymnasium, while three busy judges worked and fretted over the selection of the winning costumes.

Paul Fulk and his "Honolulu girl friend" led the big noisy parade. John R. Wagner, chemistry instructor, won first honors in the tackiest costume contest. Kenneth Landacre presented the most original costume.

The prize for the best personification went to Miss Willa Brand. Roy Smith got first honors for the most spectacular costume, and the prize for the funniest garb went to John Barnett. A prize was to have been awarded the best looking couple in costume, but the contest was so close that Judges Hunter Whiting, Miss Margaret Dobson and Miss Bessie Boyd Bell divided the honors among Ruth Ramsey, Luzelle McCutcheon and Billy McVay.

William Sprigell, nimble-footed likeness of Fred Astaire, entertained the crowd with a number of tap dances, and Edward Bode sang the ever-popular "In a Little Gypsy Tea Room." Refreshments included doughnuts and cider. Music was furnished by a local orchestra.

KEEP UP THE FIGHT

Having lost a football game Saturday to the Morris-Harvey Eagles may have taken away some of our rejuvenated school spirit which we were rapidly developing. But has it taken all of it?

Of course we disliked losing the game Saturday. Of course we always want to win. But we can't always expect to be the conquerors on the football field. We must learn to take it on the chin. After all, that in itself is good sport.

No, students, we just lost a ball game—not our school spirit. We will be playing more games and more good games. We are not through. The sport and our team will go on and on and there will be just as many rooters as ever. The majority of people like a good clean game and when it is necessary to lose they can take it. A little optimism might go a long way just now, especially a few good words around the football field. Will you be one to pass the information along? Will you boost with us? Get the habit, you may like it?

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The national Red Cross Roll Call is now in progress.

Once again humanitarians here and those throughout the nation seek to raise funds with which to carry on a vast program of service to persons in need or want and those whose circumstances often become acute through no fault of theirs and by means which man cannot control.

One would be tucking his head under the sand like an ostrich were he to declare that the benefits of the Red Cross are not worth the effort annually put forth to keep the service on the high plane to which it has been lifted in the past few years.

One doubting the service of the Red Cross has only to glance at a daily paper now and then to learn of the work which this organization is conducting each day of the year. Read of the Florida hurricane which recently swept all in its path and left thousands dead and thousands homeless. Read of earthquakes, floods, fires or any of the other common disasters which strike the nation at intermittent intervals. The story of these disasters is never completed without mention being made of the significant work done by the Red Cross. For years the organization has prided itself in being the first on the grounds—the first to lend a hand to those in need.

Benefits of the Red Cross have come to be recognized by the public. The public is willing to contribute in most instances. But the public as a rule does not include college students. We feel that in some way the students of Glenville State Teachers College might be given an opportunity to serve in this great undertaking. There are ways to help without having to donate money, which in the case of the student would not be expected too strongly. Students might encourage their parents, their friends and their associates to boost the Red Cross program.

NATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

Once each year, in November, the schools are called upon to observe American Education Week.

Notwithstanding the American public school is the most important social enterprise which engages the attention of all our people and one in which practically every family should have a personal and sustained interest, it seems both desirable and necessary to set aside a period once a year for the purpose of enlisting anew the attention of all the citizens in the work of the schools. This is the week in which patrons and friends of the schools are invited and urged to cooperate with the teachers in summing up the school situation and in discussing means of improving instructional opportunities. It is a special occasion for taking stock of the objectives and the results of the institutions that are being financed by the public for the purpose of training citizens.

Not only is education important from the standpoint of what it achieves in citizenship training but from the business man's standpoint it looms as one of major interest.

Thirty million people in the nation at large, five hundred thousand of whom are to be found in this state, are engaged in the colossal business of education.

All organizations in every community in the state—service clubs, churches, the American Legion, parent-teacher associations, colleges, and so forth, are urged to cooperate with the schools during Education Week.

Six million citizens in four thousand communities participated in the celebration of American Education Week last year. Let every community in West Virginia this year have one or more programs in which citizens are invited to take part.—West Virginia School Journal.

FRESHMEN TAKE ARITHMETIC TESTS

Results Show that Class Ranks About Same as Groups of Past Years

The Freshmen Class, although ranking extremely low on the standardized arithmetic test given Monday, Oct. 7, is not an unusual class, according to H. Y. Clark, instructor in education in the College, who last week finished tabulating the results.

The test was given to 160 freshmen and the grades, ranged from fifth-grade standards to high-college standards. The median of the group was 36. This average is one point lower than the average eighth-grade class.

Commenting on the results of the examinations and on the fact that the median was so low, Mr. Clark said, "The results may seem alarming, but they are not. In giving these tests during the past five years it has been customary to find the

Career Need Not Conflict With

Home Life, Says Miss Skinner

So much thought is being given now-a-days to the professional woman and her home and family that it is refreshing to find any one who takes all her joys in life so much a matter of fact as does Cornelia Otis Skinner who only recently passed the thirty mark.

Brought up and educated for the most part near Philadelphia, at the Baldwin School and at Bryn Mawr College, Miss Skinner may have absorbed some of the loving qualities of the Philadelphians. In any case, one has only to step across the threshold of her apartment in New York or her charming house on Long Island to feel that she excels not only in her dramatic sequences and character sketches. She has managed also to fill the places where she lives with a sense of the permanence and enchanting comfort. Here, too, as well as behind the footlights, one feels, she is at home.

Into this background of stability, therefore, it is not strange that she should fit her other job of being a wife and mother. As the wife of Alden S. Blodgett and the mother of Otis Skinner Blodgett, Miss Skinner is more interested in the most successful way to bring up children than she is in making a professional career for herself.

Her son, named for his distinguished grandfather, is called, "Dicky" by all those who know him well. He is a sturdy young man of two, red-headed and independent, and already endowed with a fine repertoire of nursery rhymes which he recites with delight.

Miss Skinner maintains that being a mother and an actress is all a matter of planning. She feels that she sees as much of her child as the average mother because when she is not on tour, she devotes herself exclusively to him. Many other things in life are sacrificed, like pleasant contacts with other people, because there is not time for everything and her chief interest is to be with "Dicky."

One of her chief pleasures with her son is to play good music on her electric phonograph for him. Balancing his chubby form on rather uncertain legs, he then solemnly tries to dance, while his mother counts out the rhythm for him, exulting to the fact that he seems to have an excellent ear and sense of time.

MISS CHRISTIE HONORED

College Magazine Carries Her Picture in Oct. Issue

A picture of Miss Christie, art instructor in the College, appears in the October issue of "The Peabody Reflector and Alumni News," several of which have been received on the campus.

Miss Christie spent more than a month last summer studying art in France, England, and Scotland. Her picture appears with the art pilgrimage group, which was photographed at Chartres Cathedral, France.

Miss Christie received the Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degree from George Peabody College for Teachers, majoring in the department of fine arts.

She became art instructor in the College in 1934, replacing Mrs. Alwina Samples.

average college freshman isn't any better in arithmetic than the average eighth-grade student. Students often forget most of their arithmetic during their four years in high school. All of us soon forget what we don't use."

Clark said that contrary to popular belief, the Freshman Class this year did not go lower on the tests than corresponding groups in past years.

The test, required by the State Board of Education of every person working for an elementary certificate, was conducted by Clark and his assistant, Thomas Pentony.

EDWARDS' PASS IS GOOD

Martino Kicks Extra Point—Coach
Rohrbough Substitutes
Freely

Swooping down on the Pioneers stronghold Saturday, the Morris-Harvey Eagles clawed and scratched their way to a 13-7 win, which came after the locals had scored first and given every indication that they would avenge last year's encounter.

Glenville, apparently out to put the down-state eleven to flight, played a fair brand of ball throughout the first quarter and at times had the Eagles by the wings. Fuls, Glenville end, recovered a fumbled Morris-Harvey punt on the 17-yard line and in three successive plays the Pioneers marched the ball to the 12-yard stripe, from where Edwards tossed a swift little pass to Cottle over the goal. Martino kicked the extra point.

Use Aerial Attack

Flapping their wings with determination, the Eagles settled themselves in the second half and launched an aerial attack to met them two touchdowns and one extra point. The Eagles scored seven of their points in the third quarter and six in the final period. Listless ball was played throughout most of the second quarter. There was no scoring and very little spectacular playing. The Eagles did threaten once in the latter part of the first half, when they started an aerial attack. Bohensky put an end to the threat, however, when he intercepted an Eagle pass on the Glenville 30.

Morris-Harvey took the kick-off in the second half and rushed the ball to the 21 yard line. Captain Pierce intercepted a pass on the 15-yard line and halted the progress of the game. Failing to gain any ground, Glenville elected to punt. Edwards dropped back and booted the ball to the 46. Receiving the punt, the Eagles passed twice to get the ball to the 19-yard line, from where an Eagle back heaved a nice one to Captain Vickers over the goal. Fulk threw the ball to McCrary for the extra point.

Longest Run of Day

In the final quarter, the Pioneers launched a potent march when Edwards took an Eagle punt on the 30 and returned to the 34. Malone made five yards, at tackle and on the next play passed to Martino for a first down on the Eagles' 48. Pierce made eight yards in two tries. On the next play Richmond, Eagle back, jumped into the air and matched a pass thrown by Malone and paced the field for a marker. The run was the longest of the day.

Glenville fought bravely to the finish but was unable to get up sufficient momentum to drive through the visitors' line. Coach Rohrbough substituted freely in an effort to locate a combination good enough to reel off a touchdown. Glenville scored 4 first downs against 8 for the Eagles.

PIONEER NIK-NAKS

Orchids to the cheering section. It was at its best during the football game Saturday. Maybe we have been working under the wrong impression.

Captain Pierce has been the most outstanding performer throughout all of the games to date. Smyth and Bennett were out of the game and did not see action Saturday. Their hurts are expected to be healed when the Pioneers meet West Liberty, Saturday.

When the Pioneers won two of their first three games, optimism was at the new high. Two losses in succession has put the local stock at a low level.

Rex Pyles, '34, has started basketball practice at Phillips, the Alderson-Broadus team will have to be reckoned with this winter. We understand that Rex will bring his team here for a game during the basketball season. Neil Sappington, former student, will probably be found at the pivot post for the Baptists.

After the Pioneers lost the game Saturday, our only consolation was the manner in which the Notre-Dame Ramblers came back to take Ohio State. In case you don't know it, the Notre Dame team has three West Virginia boys playing regularly, Wojchowski of Weston, and Fromhart and Lautar of Moundsville.

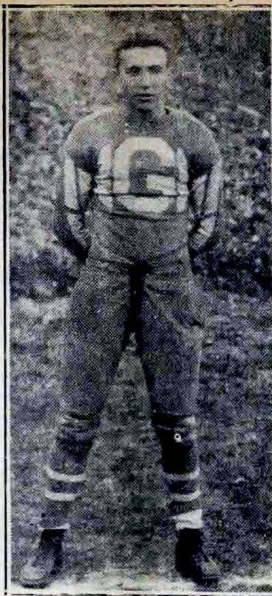

Although they have lost their last two games we pick the Pioneers to win over West Liberty Saturday. They are bound to come into the form they showed earlier in the season. Stay in there and fight Pioneers. We are still for you.

The Glenville High School band was out again Saturday. They certainly add the needed touch to a game. All we need now to make a game complete is a decisive victory.

Last Rites Held for O. E. Reed

Funeral services were conducted last week for Oliver E. Reed, of Clay, who was killed Sunday night, Oct. 27, in an automobile accident near his home. Mr. Reed, who had served as county clerk in Clay county since 1932, is the father of Eugene Reed, a freshman in the College.

Pioneer Senior

Paul (Babe) Jones, senior, of Richwood, will be out of the Pioneer line-up for the remainder of the season. Jones was injured following the Salem game and has been incapacitated since. He will captain the Pioneer basketball squad the coming season.

JONES, BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Veteran Guard Will Lead Pioneers to Court Wars

Paul (Babe) Jones, senior, of Richwood, who will be out of action the remainder of the football season, will captain the 1935-36 basketball squad.

Jones enrolled in the College in the fall of '32. During his first year, he played little football but earned a letter as a guard on the court squad.

The fall of '33 saw "Babe" come into his own as a grid player. His play against Wesleyan that year was a bright spot in his career.

Coach Rohrbough appointed Jones basketball captain last spring. Along with Tom Pierce, football captain, they will be the only seniors on this year's court squad. This session will mark Jones' fourth year as a regular member of Pioneer court squads.

Ruth Lester and Edyth Haymaker spent the week-end at their homes in Arnoldsburg.

Miss Vera Dobbins, R. N., of Baltimore, Md., was a guest of Lily Carpenter, Sunday.

Mary Eileen Jarvis and Helen Magnuson spent Sunday at their homes in Weston.

Avon Elder, a member of the Mercury staff, is confined to his room this week because of illness.

PIONEERS PLAY WEST LIBERTY SAT.

Coach Rohrbough Busy Getting
Squad in Shape
For Battle

The Pioneers will take their second trip of the year this week when they meet the West Liberty Hill-Toppers Saturday. It will be the sixth game of the season and the local squad will be seeking its third victory and a chance to avenge the scoreless tie played here last season.

Coach Rohrbough gave the squad a day of rest Monday but extensive preparations began today. The line will come in for more than its share of work. Coach Rohrbough feels the line has not played up to expectations in the past two games. Indications lead one to believe that the starting backfield will also contain a few new faces when the opening whistle blows for Saturday's tilt.

Pioneer stock was considerably below par in the Morris-Harvey game as Smyth and Bennett were unable to play. Malone was withheld from the game for a long period because of an injury. Those who played against the Eagles came through with out any serious injuries. Captain Pierce suffered a leg injury in the second half, and was removed. He is expected to be able to start against the Hill-Toppers, however.

Following Saturday's game, the Pioneers have but two more tilts to complete their schedule. Shepherd State Teachers College will be met here Nov. 16. The season will come to a close with the annual battle with West Virginia Wesleyan at Buckhannon, Nov. 22.

Coach Rohrbough will probably carry the same men on this trip who made the Concord excursion. He plans to carry twenty-seven players, Manager Sheets and himself.

Y. W. OFFICERS ENTERTAIN

Social Activities and Christmas Party are Discussed

Miss Dobson, faculty adviser of the Y. W. C. A., and Mary Ernestine Lawson, president, entertained the officers of the club with an afternoon tea Sunday from 4 until 5:30 o'clock at Verona Maple Hall. Those present were: Gwendolyn Ann Smith, Marjorie Craddock, Lou Williams, Julia Swiger, Wanda McCutcheon and the hostesses.

Plans were made for the girls of the club to visit Salem College next Sunday. Social activities and plans for the annual Christmas party for children were discussed.

Mrs. Harvey Harmer, of Clarksburg, will be a guest of Miss Willa Brand this week-end.

MISS SKINNER TO APPEAR HERE SAT.

Gondola, "Homework," and "Times Square." In the second part will be "Hotel Porch," "Being Presented," "On a Beach at Barbados," and "Motoring in the 90's." Miss Skinner presents her sketches exclusively under the direction of James F. Reilly of New York City. She will come here from Roanoke, Va., and following her presentation Saturday will return to Virginia to appear in Richmond on Monday.

All Seats Reserved

Tickets for this feature will be on sale Thursday and Friday. Students will be required to exchange their activity tickets for reserve seats. All seats will be reserved.

The ticket and ushering committees were appointed yesterday by Lloyd Metheny, president of the Student Council. John Mowrey is chairman of the ticket committee. He will be assisted by James Jones, Marjorie Craddock and Mary Eileen Jarvis. Thomas Pierce, chairman; Fred Smith, Roy Byrd, Gwendolyn Smith, Helen Magnuson, Myrle McClung, Lou Williams, Coral Mae Gulentz and Benjamin Tatterson will usher.

SCHOOL HISTORY PROJECT STARTED

Survey Includes All Gilmer County Schools — Will Publish Data

Gilmer county is soon to have its first complete history of all county schools, according to plans announced by Carl McGinnis '34.

As county superintendent of schools, McGinnis has outlined a county-wide survey which is to include a short history of each school. Plans for making this work a W. P. A. project are underway but have not been approved. McGinnis says he has asked for three persons who will spend several months editing the material collected and getting it ready for publication.

Each teacher will be responsible for gathering the material and for writing a full and complete history of his school. Mimeographed sheets have been sent to teachers suggesting things the histories should contain, among which are: Date the school was first established, type of building first used, names of persons who were interested in establishing the school, and conditions that resulted. The book will be called "A History and Directory of Gilmer County." It will contain 92 stories and will have about 125 pages. One directory will be placed in each school, in the county.

NEW DAIRY BARN COMPLETED

Nine Cows Now on College Farm — May Add More

The new dairy barn at the College farm has been completed and will soon be ready for use, President E. G. Rohrbough announced last week. A sewer line is now being installed and will be completed soon.

The barn is a two-story structure with sufficient room on the first floor for twenty cows. There are nine cows now on the farm. Purchasing of a few more is contemplated, President Rohrbough said.

Writes New Book of Poems

Miss Louise Preys, '32, has completed a new book of poems, "Hills," which will be released in a few weeks. Miss Preys, a grand-daughter of Lord Rinsler Preys, German writer, completed her first book of poems at the age of fourteen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. F. Preys of Elkins. Miss Preys has been teaching in the Randolph County schools for the past few years. One book of her poems, "Dark Stars," is in the College library.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONSTITUTION

(This is the second and final installment of the student government constitution, the first nine articles of which were run in last week's issue of the Mercury. The constitution will be voted on tomorrow in chapel.—The Editors)

ARTICLE X

Amendments

Section 1. Any amendment to this Constitution shall be presented to the Student Body Council through the Secretary of the Student Body Council at a regular meeting of the said council. When such a proposed amendment is presented by the secretary, the president will cause it to be read before that session of the council. After this reading, it may be discussed or left on the table until the next regular meeting of the council, according to the decision of the council members present. At the next regular meeting of the council, the proposed amendment shall be read a second time. If after due consideration, by the members of the council present, a majority of them approve of said amendment proposed, the president of the Student Body Council shall read, or cause to be read the proposed amendment before the Student Body at the next meeting of that body. It shall not be discussed, or otherwise acted upon at this meeting, but the president and secretary of the Student Body shall cause a typewritten or printed copy of this proposed amendment to be posted on the bulletin board in the main hall of the Administration Building, and kept there until the next meeting of the Student Body, and in no case for a period less than two weeks. The president and secretary of the Student Body shall also have the said proposed amendment published at least once within these two weeks in the school paper.

Sec. 2. Final Vote. At the next regular meeting of the Student Body after the proposed amendment has been posted for two weeks and published in the school paper, one or more times, the president shall cause it to be read again before that body. After allowing time for discussion, the president shall cause a vote of the Student Body to be taken on the amendment. If three-fourths of the members of the Student Body present at this meeting vote in favor of adopting the amendment, it shall become effective as a part of this Constitution immediately, unless there is a provision in the amendment setting the date at which it is to be effective.

BY-LAWS

I. Quorum. Student Body Council Meeting: Voting in the Student Body Council shall be by means of a majority vote, at a duly constituted meeting, unless there is a provision in the constitution to the contrary on the question at issue.

Voting in the Student Body meetings shall be by a majority vote of those present at a duly constituted meeting, unless there is a provision in the Constitution to the contrary on the question at issue.

II. All Parliamentary Procedure shall be in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order.

III. Amendments of By-Laws. The By-Laws of the Student Body Council or the Student Body shall be amended in the same way in which amendments are made to the Constitution, except the By-Laws effecting the Student Body Council, which shall be voted on by that body only.

CANTERBURY CLUB TO MEET

Holbert, Magnuson and Reger will Tell Stories

Oreta Holbert, Helen Magnuson, and Harley Reger will entertain members of the Canterbury Club at the semi-monthly meeting in Miss Brand's class-room tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

Several new names will probably be presented for membership. Miss Mary Eileen Jarvis, president, will preside.

STUDENTS SEE NEW PICTURES

G. M. C. R. representative Shows Five Reels of Sound Film in Chapel

Students of the College were taken on a flying trip during the chapel program Wednesday. The trip, sponsored by the General Motors Corporation, was conducted by L. C. Loy, company representative.

The expedition was in the form of five reels of motion pictures entitled, "News Reel," "Spring Harmony," "Behind the Bright Lights," "Fire Control," and "Don't Try It." The first stop was at Key West, Fla. Other visits were made in Baltimore; Long Beach, Calif.; Jackson, Mich.; St. Augustine and Miami Beach, Fla.

By far the most interesting feature was the make-up and operation of the world's largest electric sign, located in Times Square, New York City. The remaining reels pictured the construction and testing of the company's motor cars.

Dean H. L. White presided in the absence of President E. G. Rohrbough.

Among the girls of Verona Maple Hall who spent the week-end at their homes were: Fay Coplin, Summersville; Melba Kirby, Grantsville; Anna Marie Golden, Clarksburg; Ruthalke Keener and Edyth Mae Oxendale, Gassaway.

W. V. U. MAGAZINE RECEIVED

A. F. Rohrbough, C. M. Bennett Listed in Quarterly Publication

Coach A. F. Rohrbough, of the College, and C. M. Bennett, '88, local attorney, are among the Glenville people mentioned in the most recent issue of the "West Virginia University Magazine," a copy of which was received here last week by Dean H. L. White. The magazine is published quarterly.

Coach Rohrbough has been named a member of a registration committee to assist in obtaining names and addresses of University alumni. He will be responsible for compiling names and addresses of those living in Gilmer county.

Mr. Bennett is referred to as a graduate of the Law School at the University, class of 1892. In addition to his practice of law here, Mr. Bennett is an orchardist and has extensive oil and gas interests. He recently resigned his position as associate state housing director to devote his time to private business interests.

Miss Willa Brand, preceptress, and Miss Teresa Davis, College nurse, were in Clarksburg Saturday. Miss Brand attended a weekly meeting of the College Club.

Wanda McCutcheon and Eveleen Robinson spent the week-end at Miss Robinson's home in Clarksburg.

Lucille Garrett and Mary Carper spent the week-end at their homes in Spencer.

Carey Woofert, registrar, attended the Washington and Lee-West Virginia University football game at Charleston, Saturday.

Jarrett Jones visited in Walton over the week-end.
