

ANGELO EAGON GIVES MASTER PIANO CONCERT

Huntington Pianist Plays Intricate Exercises With Perfect Ease

FORMER STUDENT HERE

Comes Here Under Auspices of Glenville Woman's Club

Choosing a program from Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy and de Falla, Angelo Eagon, Huntington pianist and former student in the College, gave a fine demonstration of his piano technique Saturday night in the College auditorium. His appearance here was sponsored by the Glenville Woman's Club, an organization which annually presents one or more outstanding artists' programs.

The concert opened with Mozart's fantasia in C minor and included the Beethoven Sonata in A flat (Opus 110), three mazurkas of Chopin, the Scherzo in B minor, the Prelude, Poissons d'or and Minstrels by Debussy, Rituelle de Feu by de Falla, and two of his own compositions, both of which were request numbers and were played only after an appreciative audience had applauded him back to the stage three times. His "Impression du Matin," presented as a request number, recently won for him a scholarship in composition under the eminent German pedagogue, Arnold Schoenberg. The composition is based on a poem by Oscar Wilde.

STUDENTS ENJOY TURKEY DINNER

Annual Thanksgiving Feast Is Held at Kanawha Hall Sunday

President and Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough were guests at the annual Thanksgiving dinner Sunday at Kanawha Hall. Miss Brand's guests at Verona Mapel Hall were Mrs. James E. Arbuckle, Misses Ivy Lee Myers, Olive Myers, Alma Arbuckle, and Alice Arbuckle.

The dinner, consisting of turkey, cranberries, oyster dressing, gravy, sweet potatoes, cauliflower, celery, hot biscuits, peach butter, fruit salad, mince pie, pumpkin pie, whipped cream, coffee and tea, was served on a new set of dishes. The new dishes, bought by the State Board of Control for the College, will be used only on special occasions as long as the old set is serviceable, Miss Grace Lorentz, dietitian, said.

The last meal before the Thanksgiving holidays will be served Wednesday at noon. The first meal following the Thanksgiving recess will be dinner Sunday, Dec. 1, at Kanawha Hall, for both boys and girls.

Y. W. to Give Christmas Party

The Y. W. C. A. will meet Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock in the music room to make plans for a Christmas party to be given some time in December. The party will be arranged for the children of Glenville who all have little Christmas at home. A violin solo by Coral May Gulentz

COLLEGE FACULTY TO GET VACATION

Many Will Spend Thanksgiving Day at Homes in Glenville

When asked—Where are you going to spend the Thanksgiving vacation?—here is how the College faculty answered:

President E. G. Rohrbough: "Home, so far as I know."

Dean H. L. White: "I'm going to stay home on Thursday, Nov. 28. I'm going to Clarksburg on Friday, and I'll probably come back and stay home as usual."

Dr. John C. Shreve: "We are planning to be here."

Mr. John R. Wagner: "Home." (Glenville).

Mr. C. W. Post: "We are planning to visit Mrs. Post's uncle, Shelby Kincaid, of Fairmont."

Mr. Linn B. Hickman: "I'll be here most of the time."

Miss Margaret Christie: "I'm going to attend the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia."

Mr. E. R. Grose: "I'm planning to be at home in Sago."

Mr. Robert T. Crawford: "I'm planning to be at home in Walkersville."

Miss Ivy Lee Myers: "Home." (Glenville).

Mr. H. Y. Clark: "I am undecided. I'd rather some one would tell me where to go, rather than ask where I'm going."

Miss Margaret Dobson: "I'm going home with Coral May Gulentz, of Philippi."

Mr. Raymond E. Freed: "Mrs. Freed and I will spend our vacation in Sutton."

Miss Laura Ann Miles: "At my home in Huntington."

Miss Alma Arbuckle: "At home." (Glenville).

Mr. Hunter Whiting: "As far as I know, in the city of Glenville."

Miss Bessie Boyd Bell: "I'll be here in Glenville."

Mr. Curtis Baxter: "I'll be in Huntington."

Miss Willa Brand: "I'm going to Indianapolis."

Miss Goldie C. James: "If nothing prevents, I am spending my vacation in Huntington."

Miss Bertha E. Olsen: "I am going to visit in Huntington."

Coach A. F. Rohrbough: "Will probably visit Mrs. Rohrbough in Toledo, Ohio."

Charles P. Harper Visits College

Charles P. Harper, of Franklin, was a professional visitor at the College, Thursday, Nov. 21. Mr. Harper recently received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Johns Hopkins University. He is a former principal of Romney High School. Mr. Harper was accompanied by Mrs. Harper and small daughter.

LOOKING FORWARD

Wednesday: Thanksgiving vacation begins at 12 a. m. Dr. C. S. Boucher, president of West Virginia University, speaks to Rotarians and guests at dinner meeting in Kanawha Hall, 6:30 p. m.

Monday: Thanksgiving recess ends. Basketball squad reports for first practice.

Tuesday: Faculty meeting at 4 p. m. (Dec. 3)

Rotary Governor

Lon H. Kelly, above, of Charleston, district Rotary governor, will be on the speaking program tomorrow evening with Dr. C. S. Boucher at the inter-city Rotary Club dinner in Kanawha Hall. Dean H. Laban White will be toastmaster. Coach A. F. Rohrbough heads the committee on arrangements.

Me Makee Heap Low Grades, Maybe Me No Study Likee Should

A student was leaving President E. G. Rohrbough's office. He was weary and depressed. His eyes all but spurted tears. He was sad and forlorn. Another student, maybe a room-mate, came from the same office. He was one big smile. For him the world was sunshine and roses. Sparkling eyes and a glamorous grin told the story. Both had just received mid-semester marks. One student had studied; the other had thought studying was a waste of time.

Faculty Meeting to Be Held Dec. 3

The monthly meeting of the College faculty, scheduled for today, has been postponed and will be held Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 3, at 4 o'clock.

Miss Brand Goes to Indianapolis

Miss Willa Brand, English instructor in the College and preceptor at Verona Mapel Hall, left today for Indianapolis, Ind., where she will attend the annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Smith or Smyth? — Thirteen of Them Answer to Orthodox "Smitty"

One need not become alarmed when on crossing the campus he yells "Hey, Smitty" and is made to feel like a plug nickel when thirteen other persons answer to the same orthodox greeting. There are thirteen Smiths in the College. Twelve of them are just S-M-I-T-H-S; one is S-M-Y-T-H. But they all answer to that familiar "Smitty."

Allan (Chuck) Smyth, who comes from Braxton County, is the only one of the thirteen who deviates from the common spelling of the name "Smith" and insists that his is "Smyth," but pronounced S-M-I-T-H (nonpareil).

Among the list of Smiths, to which our attention was called while President E. G. Rohrbough was passing

DR. C. S. BOUCHER, PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY, WILL SPEAK AT KANAWHA HALL TOMORROW NIGHT

FEWER F'S, A'S IN MID-TERM GRADES

President Rohrbough Grants Each Student Private Conference

"There are fewer F's and fewer A's," President E. G. Rohrbough said yesterday when questioned concerning the mid-semester grades. He added, "This would seem to indicate that we have more average students this year than we had the corresponding semester last year."

President Rohrbough has been giving out the grades the past few days, checking carefully with each student the marks recorded and suggesting possible remedies for erasing grades below passing. Each student is permitted a private conference with President Rohrbough.

The grading system in force here is that adopted by the State Board of Education. The system provides that a student must have attained a "C" average before he can be graduated. This means at least one honor point for each hour carried. Honor points are earned in this manner: Grade of "C" gives student one point for each hour the course is worth; grade of "B" gives student two honor points for each hour the course is worth; grade of "A" gives student three honor points for each hour the course is worth.

Students having a "B" average or from 2 to 2.5, may graduate with honors; students with averages above 2.5 graduate with high honors.

MISS BELL ATTENDS MEETING

Represents College at Social Science Conference in Fairmont

Miss Bessie Boyd Bell, history instructor in the College, was in Fairmont, Friday, Nov. 22, to attend the fifth Inter-Collegiate Council of the Social Science Teachers of West Virginia. Principal speakers were Dr. J. M. Callahan, West Virginia University, and Dr. Kimball Young, of the University of Wisconsin.

Returning to Clarksburg, Miss Bell attended the annual Victory-Washington Irving football game. Farley Bell, coach of the Victory team, is a brother to Miss Bell.

Address Will Feature Rotary Club's Inter-City Meeting

WHITE IS TOASTMASTER

Lon H. Kelly Also to Talk — Nine Clubs to Be Represented

One hundred and twenty-five Rotarians, their wives and other guests are expected here tomorrow night for the inter-city Rotary meeting in Kanawha Hall.

Dr. C. S. Boucher, president of West Virginia University, and Lon H. Kelly, Rotary district governor, of Charleston, will speak.

Dean H. Laban White will be toastmaster. The Rev. J. Frank Baxter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will pronounce the invocation. Soloists will be E. V. Shorr, Weston; Tom Rider, Sutton; and Mrs. J. E. Arbuckle, Glenville. Group singing will be in charge of H. Y. Clark.

A turkey dinner, prepared under the direction of Miss Grace Lorentz, College dietitian, will be served by Marjorie Craddock, Helen Wright, Ella Summers, Elizabeth Lewis, Ann Wilson Lewis, Maxine Satterfield, Gwendolyn Smith, Goldie Reynolds, Mary Jane Jack and Lestelle Lorentz.

Guests have been invited from Spencer, Ripley, Widen, Clay, Buckhannon, Weston, Sutton, and Richwood.

The arrangements committee is composed of A. F. Rohrbough, the Rev. J. C. Musser and E. J. Bush.

STUDENTS HEAR R. W. SHUMAKER

Upshur County Superintendent Urges Adequate Preparation for Future

Adequate professional training for the future was urged by R. Worth Shumaker in a chapel address Thursday morning. Mr. Shumaker is county superintendent of schools in Upshur County and was formerly superintendent of schools in Spencer, Roane County. He was presented to the students and faculty by President E. G. Rohrbough. Mr. Shumaker, in urging College students to prepare for the future, produced statistics to show that the unemployed element in the United States between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five is made up largely of those who never attended college and those who did not so much as complete their high school training.

The speaker also urged an adequate national defense as a means of the United States keeping out of war and stated that there are too many dictators in the world, each of whom possesses too much power.

Following his talk at the College, Mr. Shumaker was a guest of the Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon in the Whiting Tea Room. In a brief talk there he pointed out some of the more interesting phases of Rotary International, basing his remarks on a recent visit to the club headquarters in Chicago. He was introduced by Dean H. L. White, club president. Mr. Shumaker is a

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES 3-ACT PLAY

College Students Give Splendid Interpretation of Gripping Melodrama

(By W. W. W.)

Opening the College dramatic season, the Ohningohow Players presented "A Murder Has Been Arranged," three act melodrama, in the auditorium Thursday night under the direction of Miss Margaret Dobson, speech instructor.

The play, highly imaginative throughout, was well received. Complimentary remarks were heard from many sources—from students and faculty alike.

Although the melodrama was listless at times, the production as a whole was a thrilling display of action and superior stage technique. Based on a novel plot, where the murder was committed on the stage directly in front of the audience, the play carried a striking element of horror and suspense leading to an inexorable ending.

Parts Well Done

While the play did appear to be too deep for an amateur cast, the acting was superb at times. Much credit should go to Avon Elder, who performed excellently as a substitute for Dewitt Moyers, who became ill with the mumps only three days before he was to have appeared as Sir Charles Jasper. At all times was Mr. Elder in character.

Because of the intervals of superior acting by the various characters, it would be difficult to single out any one character other than Mr. Elder and distribute an undue amount of praise. Dolores Morgan, Thomas Pentony and Arnold Stalnaker were good.

One or more times there was evidence that the cues were being followed too mechanically; there was not enough of "living the parts."

Music Adds to Setting

The orchestra also deserves some mention. The music furnished an important setting for certain periods of the play. Especially well done was the number "Solitude," which was woven into the plot already become horrifying and steeped in mystery.

One could not pass up a review of the play without mentioning the acting of Miss Eleanor Waggoner, who executed her actions with great ease and refinement. Playing the part of a dumb woman was perhaps as difficult an assignment as any in the play. Miss Waggoner handled it as only one who had worked on her part could have handled it.

Miss Mary Eileen Jarvis, Miss Pauline Hammett and Miss Julia Swiger also acted in a manner to bring forth much praise from an appreciative audience. Their roles were not, of course, as difficult as those played by other characters.

Dr. Shreve Ill Friday and Saturday

Because of illness caused by an abscessed tooth, Dr. John C. Shreve, head of the education department in the College, was unable to meet his classes here Friday or to conduct his extension work in Spencer on Saturday. He was also unable to deliver a brief address which he had planned to give Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the Gilmer County Teachers' Association in the DeKalb District High School at Tanner. Dr. Shreve returned to his classes yesterday.

Y. M. Buys Ping Pong Equipment

Plans to sponsor a ping-pong tournament were made at a recent meeting of the Y. M. C. A. The club has purchased new equipment for the table and will install it soon. The next meeting will be Wednesday.

CANTERBURY CLUB MEETS

Isadore Nachman, Madison Whiting, Maxine Pick Tell Stories

Three new members were accepted by the Canterbury Club at a meeting Wednesday, Nov. 20. They are, Gwendolyn Smith, Ella Summers, and Thomas Pentony. The program was made up of stories: "The Three Strangers," Thomas Hardy, told by Isadore Nachman; "Seige of Berlin," Alphonse Daudet, told by Madison Whiting; and "Namgav Doola," Rudyard Kipling, told by Maxine Pick. Stories will be told at the next meeting, Dec. 4, by Julia Swiger, Millard Cunningham, and Jason Meadows. The club now has twenty members, only five short of the total allowed.

INTRAMURALS TO GET UNDER WAY

Captains and Players Will Be Selected at Meeting Next Week

The intramural basketball season will get under way the week following the Thanksgiving holidays, according to Coach A. F. Rohrbough. Mr. Rohrbough has appointed a committee consisting of Paul Fulk, chairman, Allan Smyth, and Madison Whiting, which will have charge of the players, captains, schedule, and such things that may come up during the season.

Captains will be selected from the upper-classesmen at a meeting next Monday night. Boys who expect to play in the league will nominate and elect the ones they want for captains. There will be seven men on each squad, giving the teams two extra men in case some of their players should be eliminated for personal fouls.

Members of the varsity squad will officiate at each game. They will be selected by Coach Rohrbough.

The games will start at seven o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings. Two games will be played each evening, or eight games a week.

G Club to Start Rehearsals

First rehearsal for the G Club minstrel, to be given in the College auditorium December 13, will be held Monday night, Dec. 2, from 9 until 10 o'clock. Thomas Pierce, president, said yesterday. All G Club members will have a part in the minstrel.

Oh. Aren't They Cute?—Don't Crowd You Guys!—There's Room, etc., etc.

"Oh! Aren't they cute." "Don't crowd youse guys." "There's room for everybody."

Such was the trend of conversation and the general uproar in the front hall of the administration building when the caps and tams were given out.

Freshmen were hurrying hither and thither about the hall demanding that LeRoy Sheets put in his appearance with their long-awaited tams and caps.

Hogue Gets First Cap

About five minutes before the big clock in the tower struck twice, Sheets put in his appearance. To the front marched the president of the "freshies" and demanded the first blue and white "top covering." This seemed to arouse the indignation of a few of his fellow classmen who had been waiting for their "lid" for about forty-five minutes.

But Mr. Russel Hogue came out the victor. He was followed by two fair damsels, Helen Curtis and Virginia Hamilton, who trotted down the hall in high disdain with their tams riding high.

Sheets Takes Drubbing

Sheets attempted to preserve some kind of order and tried to form a line but to no avail. Freshmen were tearing here and there, pushing, shoving, screaming, and in general causing one heck of a commotion. Fifteen minutes later, Mr. Sheets was seen wandering around the hall in a daze.

"It's a pity these freshmen couldn't pick on some one their own size," he muttered.

New Travel Books Added to Library

Several new books on travel and current events have been added to the book shelves at the Robert F. Kidd Library. For travel: "Contemporary Rumania and Her Problems," Joseph Roncek; "White Cayuca," John V. Devel. For current news: "Bismark and Mussolini," Charles H. Sherrell; "An Atlas of Current Affairs," James F. Horrabin. "A House Divided," Pearl S. Buck, and "Catherine, a Portrait of An Empress," Frau G. Kaus, have also been added to the library.

Miss Margaret Dobson, Speech instructor, Armond Stalnaker and Millard Cunningham, attended the Cambridge - University debate in Morgantown, Sunday, Nov. 24.

ITALY CONTINUES HER MAD MARCH

Italy continues to advance on Ethiopia and the League seems to be doing very little about it, except to draw the embargo net a little tighter and deprive Italy of oil, coal, iron and steel in hopes of paralyzing her war industries.

President Roosevelt's firm determination to keep alive the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact in which nations pledged themselves to renounce war as a national policy, and Adolph Hitler's decision not to profit by the Italian-Ethiopian War, may help to stabilize the action of the League.

Poor little Ethiopia is no match for the giant Italian, and Il Duce's forces are rapidly conquering a brave but practically defenseless nation. It seems to be a case of dog eat dog and Italy is doing most of the eating. Ethiopia is getting a bitter dose of it. But what is the League to do about it? Is there any force which can put an end to useless warfare? Apparently there is none.

All this leads us to believe more and more in an adequate national defense, about which we have been hearing so much lately. We are also led more and more to believe in education to the point where people will have become accustomed to live and let live—to know that wealth and power lead to destruction and that after all war is a child's way of settling our differences.

CHEERIO, FOOTBALL SEASON

Our football season was brought to a close last Friday. We lost to one of the greatest teams in the state and we have no alibi to offer. We gave Wesleyan a good hard battle and we played good clean football. After all, that is something to be proud of. That in itself comes near to being the chief objective in any type of sports.

We won four games this fall and lost four. Our team was several times handicapped by injuries. Several times we failed to get the so-called "breaks" in our games. We were forced to earn every point we made. We didn't have anything handed out to us.

Just now we feel that the football squad, Coach A. F. Rohrbough and all others who had anything to do with the success of the season should be congratulated. We have everything to be proud of—nothing to be ashamed of.

Soon basketball season will open. The floor game has always been our strong suit. We understand that about twenty-five men will report for practice. That means there will be more than 400 of us left to sit on the sidelines and cheer. We might do well to get organized early and have things ready for the first game. Our influence might help the basketball men to get off on the right foot.

IT'S NOT THE ETHIOPIANS

Tramp, tramp, tramp. No, it's not the Italians or the Ethiopians on the march; it's the rumbling roll of many feet as the students in the College stride through the halls to and from their classrooms. This happens practically every hour of the school day, and because of the many students in the College, there is no little amount of confusion as these class changes are made.

We are wondering if all the noise one hears in the halls is necessary? And, also, we wonder whether or not it can be avoided? All of the hall floors are not noise-proof, and unless each student carefully attends his steps, there will result an undue amount of confusion.

Through experiments, and also in established practice, it has been found that a minimum of noise is highly conducive to better mental work and to prolonged periods of physical exertion. Business executives and officials of large cities are ever on the alert to discover methods of lessening noise in order to gain tranquility of mind and thus increase efficiency in work.

After all, someone is working in the College administration building at all hours of the day. As a soft answer turneth away wrath, so will a soft step alleviate noise.

"BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN"

Society is so constructed that its very existence depends upon the fraternal spirit portrayed by its various members. It may be that civilization is only a complex state of savagery. But that complexity is a result of the cooperation between the persons who constitute our social order. College life represents, on a small scale, all the difficulties and advantages to be found in organized society. In order for a college to be a successful institution the student body as a whole must cooperate with its individual members. They must all be "brothers under the skin."

Student Recalls October Day When "Akron" Zeppelin Made Trial Flig

(This is the second and final installment of a story written by Alva M. Bennett as an assignment in English 310, advanced composition, taught by Miss Willa Brand. The story deals with the building and trial flights of the "Akron" zeppelin. The first part of the story was run in this column last week.—The Editors.)

Silence was maintained, as if a talking picture were in the making, as the nose of the mighty ship began to form a tongue in the mouth of that great hangar. Eyes were staring and fingers were pointing to the ship. Men on the ground eased the ship to a starting position. I could see the water flowing from the ballast-bags. The ship was getting lighter. The men let loose of the ropes, and only the mooring mast held the ship to the ground. Motor after motor was started until the propellers of all eight were turning as if they were lazy. The switch was thrown, cutting the ship from the mooring mast. The flight was on!

The horns of the cars could be heard above the cheering of the people and the many whistles that the boys were putting their last ounce of breath through. The cheering continued until the ship was about five hundred feet above the ground. The cheering died a slow death. The show was above our heads for a short time then it moved off in the general direction of Cleveland.

Crowds See Ship

The milling crowd started home. Horns of the cars now had a different tone. The sight of the traffic jams that evening turned many of the thoughts to the clouds. How long will it be before hundreds of such ships are in the air?

At seven o'clock that evening the pride of the nation returned to the hangar. There were only a few thousand people there to welcome her home.

The ship was later taken to Lakehurst, N. J. where it was put through many tests by the Navy. One night while out on one of the tests, a storm came up catching the ship out over the ocean.

Once again the "Akron" got the spot lights of the radio and news. A crew of seventy-seven men had gone down into the shark-infested water. A few members of the crew were rescued. They tell the sad story.

We learned much from the construction to this ship. The sister ship "Macon," met a similar fate. While they are gone, I am sure the next one will be a success.

Earl Nay Weds Miss Maxine Brown

Joseph Earl Nay, of Lumberport, a former student of Glenville State Teachers College, and Miss Maxine Brown, of Haywood, near Clarksburg, were married Nov. 23, at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Lumberport. Mr. Nay is employed at the Lumberport-Shinnston Gas Company.

Chester Staats in Weston Hospital

Chester Staats, a freshman in the College, and a member of the football squad, was removed to the medical department of the Weston State Hospital, Sunday, Nov. 24. He had been confined to his room since Nov. 10, suffering from a torn ligament received in a scrimmage. He was accompanied to the hospital by Dr. W. T. Smith, Coach A. F. Rohrbough and Allan Smyth.

Anna Marie Golden, Clarksburg, and Alice Snyder, Roanoke, students in the College, were removed to their homes Wednesday, because of illness.

DR. SHREVE PLANS TESTS

Standardized tests in English, composition, spelling and arithmetic were ordered last week, according to Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the education department. No definite plans have been made for giving the tests, but they will not be given for two or three weeks, Dr. Shreve said.

Freshmen will be required to pass the examinations with eighth-grade average and in addition to this they must make an average of seventy on the Ayer hand-writing scale.

An intelligence test will be given each freshman and all others who have not taken one.

MUST WE GOSSIP?

To the editors of the Mercury:

Character has been defined as that which we are; reputation is what others think we are. We determine what our character shall be; other often decide what our reputation is to be. We take years to mold character; we tear down a reputation in few minutes. How? Often we do it in one of those ever-popular "business sessions." Why? We just don't know. Apparently, we just must gossip.

Now gossip in itself need not be bad. There are two kinds of gossip—good gossip and bad gossip. While we are accustomed to? Must we always employ the latter type? Must we spend hours saying mean things about our associates—our friends? Must we join the crowd and add our part of "now have you heard this, or have you heard that?" Can't we learn to discuss some topic other than our friends—our would-be friends—were we to give them a chance?

Those little cattly remarks we often hear are likely to take root and grow. Let's cut them off in the bud by resolving now to say something good about our associates. We help build reputations—not tear them down. —S. M. Glenville, Nov. 18.

OUR LANGUAGE

To the editors of the Mercury:

How many of us would stand by and allow our country's flag to be thrown on the ground and trampled under foot. Not one, yet we are doing something equally as bad when we carelessly misuse our English language. We often say, "it don't" or "I seen." After a moment's thought, we realize we have committed an unpardonable sin. We study how to use our language correctly, but we don't consider how we are to be benefitted by our knowledge of English.

We should be just as proud of our language as we are of our flag. We should try to keep it clean and beautiful.

The use of good English is a mark of distinction. We are often judged by those of higher learning. Many times our chances for success may be lost because of the poor impression we make by some trivial mistake in our English.

We should consider the care of our language a sacred trust and privilege. In doing so we may help others to do the same. Someone has said, "A nation which allows her language to go to ruin is parting with the best half of her intellectual independence, and testifies her willingness to cease to exist."

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB MEETS

Current Topics Discussed—Nineteen Members Present

The Social Science Club held its regular meeting Tuesday Nov. 19. Nineteen members and one visitor were present.

The following topics were discussed: "A Review of the News," Carroll Greathouse; "Whither the Philippines," Harley Reger; "The Supreme Court Grows Up," Jarrett W. Jones; "Trial by Jury Is Obsolete," Phyllis Sims; "Strike Breaking Incorporated," John P. Hunter. A book review, "The Land of the Free," was given by Joyce Trusler.

The club will meet again Tuesday, Dec. 3.

"Camels never get on your Nerves"

STEADY SMOKERS SAY

WILLIE HOPPE, champion of champions, and most famous personality of the billiard world! Mr. Hoppe has learned that a mild cigarette affords more pleasure... and that mildness is essential to one who prizes healthy nerves. He says: "Championship billiards call for healthy nerves. It was a happy day for me when I turned to Camels. I found I could smoke all I wish and never have 'edgy' nerves. I have smoked Camels for a long time, and I want to compliment Camels on their mildness. It must take more expensive tobaccos to give that special Camel flavor I like so much—always cool and good." You, too, will find a new delight once you turn to Camels. They never get on your nerves... never tire your taste.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

GLENNVILLE LOSES TO WESLEYAN BY 19 TO 6 MARGIN

Game Marks Close of Season for Pioneers — Small
Crowd Sees Contest

FULKS GETS TOUCHDOWN

Was Last Grid Battle for Captain
Thomas Pierce and Allan
(Chuck) Smyth

Playing at Buckhannon on a slippery, soggy, snow-covered field before a small crowd of not more than 100 enthusiastic fans, the Glennville Pioneers closed their 1935 season Saturday against the Wesleyan Bobcats. Glennville lost 6 to 19.

The Pioneers' lone touchdown came late in the second quarter. The Bobcats were on the Glennville 20-yard stripe. Mullins faded back to pass but Martino and Fulks were on him like a leech. As the ball left Mullins' hand, Martino hit it and mocked it into the air. Fulks tore through to catch the ball in the air in the 30-yard line and to run the remaining seventy yards to the Wesleyan goal unmolested. Martino's attempted kick for extra point failed.

Mullins Scores Touchdowns

The Bobcats scored in the first, second and fourth periods. Mullins, freshman back, accounted for all the points. Weber made only one of his three attempted conversions.

The first Methodist score came after a sustained drive of fifty-five yards. Mullins and Mackey alternated to carry the ball to the two-yard line, from where Mullins scored. Frequent off-side penalties gave Wesleyan an advantage. After the Pioneers had held Wesleyan for three downs, a five-yard off-side penalty gave the Methodists a first down on the seven-yard line. Mullins scored on the fourth down.

John Bohensky played the best game of his college career. He backed the line and often threw opposing backs for losses before they could get underway. Howes, sub guard, showed up well when he was substituted for Smyth.

Second Wesleyan Marker

The second Wesleyan score resulted from a forty-seven yard drive down the field. Mackey and Mullins carried the brunt of the attack. Mullins scored his second touchdown from the one-yard line. Weber's attempted kick was blocked.

The Pioneers played great defensive ball throughout the third period. The Bobcats threatened twice, carrying the ball to the twenty-yard line. Here the locals held and took the ball on downs. On the first play Edwards quick kicked and the ball carried to the Wesleyan twenty-yard stripe for the longest kick of the game.

Gains on Fumble

The last Bobcat score came as the result of a fumble by Captain Pierce on the fourteen-yard line. The Pioneer line held for downs and took the ball on the two-yard line. Edwards punted out to the 35 but Mackey returned to the twenty. The next play Weber picked up four yards. The Pioneers were penalized fifteen yards. Two plays later Mullins ran left end for the score.

This game saw Captain T. J. Pierce and Allan (Chuck) Smyth close their collegiate grid careers. Pierce was the only member of the team to play all the game. Although he did not show his usual offensive drive, he was plenty potent in the defense. Smyth, handicapped throughout the year by injuries, was removed from the game in the first half but later reentered the game and showed some real fight.

Gets Promotion

Howard Lindell, '33, above, has recently been promoted to head basketball coach of East Liverpool, O., High School. Lindell was a member of the famous Hines-Lindell-Vass combination of the Pioneers from 1929-33.

HOWARD LINDELL APPOINTED COACH

Former College Court Star
Gets Promotion at East
Liverpool, Ohio

Howard J. Lindell, '33, has been appointed head coach of basketball in the high school at East Liverpool, O. Lindell was a member of that famous Hines-Lindell-Vass combination that clicked so well here from 1929 through 1933.

Lindell's appointment came when Tom Dixon resigned to accept the position of head coach at Bellaire High School. Up to this time Lindell had been employed as mathematics teacher and assistant basketball and football coach. He was head coach of the track squad at East Liverpool last year.

Previous to being employed at East Liverpool, Lindell was head coach at Chatteroy High School. In his first year out of college he developed a team which won 14 of 21 games and went to the Montgomery tournament. There the team won the consolation game.

Lindell has had great success at East Liverpool. His freshman and reserve squads in both football and basketball experienced successful seasons.

Lindell played a forward for the Pioneers for four years and captained the team during his senior year. Coach Rohrbough considered him to be one of the best all-round forwards he has ever turned out.

Pioneer Nik-Naks

With the season's first snow came the Pioneers' most decisive defeat. The local team made a record to be proud of, however. They scored at least one touchdown in each game. Captain Pierce led the scorers with five touchdowns for thirty points. The team amassed a total of ninety-six points for the season, an average of twelve points a game. Last year they scored only thirteen points during the season.

Although the Pioneers won but four games while losing the same number, the most any opponent beat them was thirteen points. Some more consolation may be received from the fact that Glennville scored where the University could not. Wesleyan in our opinion can give the Mountaineers of W. V. U. all they want right today.

Only two men who were in the starting line-up Saturday will be graduated, Captain Pierce and "Chuck" Smyth. If last year's freshmen can improve so much in a year, what will they do with another year's experience? Gibson and Staats are two promising looking freshmen. Staats was injured before the West Liberty game and did not see action in any of the last three battles. He is a hard worker with lots of drive. Porterfield, another frosh, looked good throughout his first year. He was also injured the latter part of the season. Springer and Mendenhall are other first year men who have seen service.

Basketball practice is just around the corner. With a nucleus of veterans from last year, the Pioneers may be one of the strongest teams in the conference. "Bob" Combs, '35, captain of last year's court squad, was among those present at the Wesleyan game. Rex Pyles, another former Pioneer, now coach at Alderson-Broadus College, was there trying to "holler" the Pioneers in; so was Harold (Tooty) Porterfield, '34, coach at Summersville High School.

PIONEER FLOOR SQUAD TO START PRACTICE DEC. 2

Twenty-Five Candidates Will
Be Listed on 1935-36
Roster

PAUL JONES IS CAPTAIN

Schedule Incomplete — Will Be Announced at Athletic Conference

"Basketball practice will begin Monday afternoon, Dec. 2, following the Thanksgiving recess," Coach A. F. Rohrbough said yesterday. About twenty-five men will be invited to report for equipment at this time. Paul (Babe) Jones, veteran guard, of Richwood, will captain the squad.

"Our schedule is not completed and will not be until the winter meeting of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association, some time after the Thanksgiving holiday," Coach Rohrbough continued. "Three trips have been arranged. The first will take us into Pennsylvania for two games January 6 and 7. The second will be into the northern panhandle where Bethany and West Liberty will be played. A third trip will include the southern section of the state, where we will play New River, Morris-Harvey and Concord."

Pre-season indications point to a strong team. Only two members of last year's squad were graduated, Captain Robert Combs and Charles Barnett. A third member, Stanley D'Orazio did not return to school this year. These positions will be open to last year's substitutes or promising freshmen.

Among the members of last year's squad who will report to Coach Rohrbough are: Frank Martino, Hillis Cottle, Thomas Pierce, Paul Fulks, Guy Bennett, Richard McKinney, John Barnett, and Herman Vannoy. The rest of the squad will be made up of freshmen who have shown up well in games during physical education classes.

ANGELO EAGON GIVES MASTER PIANO CONCERT

Mr. Eagon came here Friday from Huntington. He was the guest of a group of intimate friends at a dinner Friday evening in the Whiting Tea Room. Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert Cain, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Woofter, Miss Lestelle Lorentz, Miss Virginia Hall, Miss Pauline Roberts, Bayard Young and Linn Hickman, all of Glenville, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Therin Rogers, of Spencer.

Following his concert Saturday night, Mr. Eagon was the honor guest at an informal reception given by the Woman's Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Arbuckle.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA DEC. 18

"Childe Jesus" to Be Presented by College Choral Class

"Childe Jesus," a Christmas cantata by Joseph W. Clokey and Hazel Jean Kirk, will be presented in the College auditorium, Dec. 18, as a regular chapel exercise. This will be a presentation of the College Choral Class of forty-five members, under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Olsen, music instructor.

Sara Margaret Fischer has been named piano accompanist for the cantata. Miss Olsen says definite plans for rehearsals will be made in a few days.

'35 ALL-OPPONENT TEAM IS CHOSEN

32 Men Mentioned in Pioneers' Balloting on Mythical Eleven

Doug Stone and Paul Krumenacker, both of Salem College, were the only men to be chosen unanimously on the Pioneers' all-opponent 1935 grid team. Stone was given votes for every backfield post, while Krumenacker was chosen at left end by all of the Pioneers.

Teamed with these two men are Baxter, of Concord, at the other end position. The tackles are taken care of by Vaught, of Morris-Harvey, and Moore, of Wesleyan. McShane, of West Liberty, gave Moore a close race in the balloting. Harris, of West Liberty, received the majority of the votes for a guard position. His running mate is Storage, of Shepherd. Stafford, of Wesleyan, won the race for the pivot position. Stone, Captain of Team

The backfield is composed of Stone of Salem as fullback and captain. Churchman of West Liberty is at quarter. The half-back posts are handled by Mullins, of Wesleyan, and Schmidt, of Slippery Rock.

Thirty-two men were mentioned on the various ballots. They represented every team the Pioneers played. On the first mythical eleven every team is mentioned but Fairmont. Fultz, an end, and Hammond in the backfield, both received numerous votes but were nosed out for positions on the first eleven.

21 Get Honorable Mention

Others who received honorable mention by the local gridgers are: Ends—Gibson, Slippery Rock. Tackles—McShane, West Liberty; Vicars, Morris-Harvey; Yennari, Salem; Clifton, Salem; Mustachio, Fairmont. Guards—Cotton, Morris-Harvey; Green, Concord; Popko, Slippery Rock. Centers—Graham, Slippery Rock; Baldwin, Morris-Harvey. Backs who received one or more votes are: Uram, Salem; Secret, Salem; D'Antonio, West Liberty; Miller, West Liberty; Warfield, Wesleyan; Richmond, Morris-Harvey; Hannah, Shepherd; Roney, Concord; Meals, Slippery Rock; and Grubbs of Salem.

Wagners Entertains College Faculty

Several members of the College faculty and their wives became students of science last night while John R. Wagner taught a demonstration lesson in chemistry as the feature of the first faculty party of the year. Concluding the evening's entertainment, refreshments were served by Mrs. Wagner to President and Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Dean and Mrs. H. L. White, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Shreve, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Post, Miss Willa Brand, Miss Margaret Dobson, Miss Bessie Boyd Bell, Robert T. Crawford, Raymond E. Freed, E. R. Grose, A. F. Rohrbough, Linn B. Hickman and Mr. Wagner.

Frank Martino, "Dick" and John Marra spent the week-end at their homes in Clarksburg.

HISTORY STUDENTS TO SPEAK

Six Subjects Listed on Program of Social Science Club

Six timely subjects of historical interest will be discussed by members of the Social Science Club at a meeting Tuesday night, Dec. 3, in Miss Bell's room.

Subjects and the speakers are: "News Review," John P. Hunter, III; "Comments on Social Science Teachers' Meeting at Fairmont," Miss Bessie Boyd Bell; "Fifteen Years of Naval Development," Millard Cunningham; "The Danger of Mounting Deficits," John Rock; "The Decline of the Professions," Joyce Trusler; "Made in Japan," Sara Moss.
