G CLUB DANCE IS GREAT SUCCESS

Paul Fuls Is Introduced as Football Captain for Coming Year

Beneath the glow of soft blue lights radiating through long blue and white streamers, 133 couples danced to and fro to the enticing strains of Ed McGraw and his eleven piece Cleveland orchestra at the annual G Club dance Friday night in the College gymnasium, marking the opening of the spring social season on the College campus.

As an intermission feature Coach A. F. Rohrbough introduced Paul Fuls, junior in the College, as the captain of next year's football team. Frank Martino and Hillis Cottle were introduced as co-captains of the Pioneer basketball teams for the coming two years.

Lloyd Metheny, Robert Gibson and Paul Jones made up the invitation and program committee. The decoration committee was composed of John Mowrey, Frank Martino and Brooks Sheppard.

President and Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Dean and Mrs. H. Laban White, Coach and Mrs. A. F. Rohrbough and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Freed were the patrons and patronesses.

Superintendent J. A. Jackson Says "Drop Down Your Buckets Where You Are"

"We need teachers, first of all, who recognize that their chief duty is not merely to appraise the finished product, but to improve the product," declared J. A. Jackson, county superintendent of Harrison county schools, in a chapel address Wednesday, Mr. Jackson was introduced by President E. G. Rohrbough.

Pointing out the difference between the "old school" and the "new school," Mr. Jackson said, "The schools of yesterday encouraged competition, whereas today they have substituted cooperation." He described the old Burnside stove and the ceremony which went with the passing of the "water bucket." He said the schools of today "are preeminently child-centered schools" and added, "in my day we studied about things and not the things themselves."

Jackson said, "There is no room in the teaching profession for the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde sort of person. I do not know of any profession which needs those of good moral character more than the teaching profession."

Quoting Ralph Waldo Emerson, he said, "What you are and what you do, thunders so loudly in my ear that I cannot hear what you say."

Mr. Jackson advised students "not to wish that you are at Harvard or Cambridge or some other place, but drop down your buckets right where you are."

A. P. Morrison, member of the Harrison County Board of Education, who accompanied Mr. Jackson here, was introduced by President E. G. Rohrbough and spoke briefly.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Morrison, together with Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Morrison, were luncheon guests at the home of President and Mrs. Rohrbough following the chapel program.

BANTZ CRADDOCK WILL BE COUNCIL HEAD FOR '36-'37

Son of Local Lawyer Defeats
John Barrett, of Pine Grove,
For Presidency

399 VOTES ARE CAST

John Mowrey, Sadie Harliss, Nathan Callahan, and Ertle Bickle Are Other Officers

Bantz Craddock, Jr., of Glenville, was elected president of the Student Council at the general election here Friday. More than ninety-five per cent of the student body went to the polls to give Craddock 211 votes to 187 for John Barrett, of Pine Grove. Craddock will succeed Lloyd Metheny, retiring president.

Craddock is the son of Bantz W. Craddock, local attorney who was recently appointed assistant federal attorney for the northern district in West Virginia.

Election Follows Big Campaign

The election climaxed a week of intensive campaigning in which rivalry for the presidency of the Council became the source of parades and student speeches. On the eve of the election both factions sponsored parades which went through the main streets of Glenville and ended on the campus in front of Verona Maple Hall, where bands played and students spoke briefly. WORKERS FINISH CONCRETE STEPS

Contractors May Pour First
Concrete For Dormitory
Tomorrow

Work on the various construction projects on the College campus is progressing this week at a rapid pace. The first concrete for the foundation of the new boys' dormitory will be poured tomorrow when the main work of excavating is finished, according to C. W. Loar, project superintendent for Baker and Coombs, Morgantown contractors.

The brick work, Mr. Loar said, will be started about May 11. Moody Brothers, of Weston, have the contract of delivering brick and tile to the building site.

A flight of concrete steps leading from College Street to the campus was completed the past week. A concrete walk leading from the steps to the old administration building will be poured soon. The work is being done by W. P. A. labor.

STUDENTS VISIT AT SPENCER

Chemistry Club Members Give Program in High School

Three members of the Chemistry Club, with their instructor, John R. Wagner, went to Spencer the past Wednesday where they gave an entertainment program in the high school. Experiments were performed by Benjamin Tatterson, Clifton Huffman, and Creaver Dimmick, and were explained by Mr. Wagner.

At the conclusion of the program the club members were guests at a luncheon served by the Spencer High School Chemistry Club, under the direction of Mrs. Otis Parks.

SIXTY-ONE TO GRADUATE

More Than 230 Students Are Candidates for Standard
Normal Certificates

By ISADORE NACHMAN

Will Durant, internationally known lecturer and author, will deliver the sixty-third annual commencement address at Glenville State Teachers College, it is announced by President E. G. Rohrbough. The Rev. Gill I. Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Parkersburg, will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

Commencement exercises will be conducted Monday morning, June 1, following the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, May 31. Sixty-one seniors will receive A. B. degrees. More than 230 students are candidates for Standard Normal certificates.

Has Traveled Extensively

Mr. Durant has circled the globe twice in search of material to write about. He has lectured in most of the larger cities, and he talked eighteen times within a period of twenty days in and around Los Angeles during the 1932-33 season. Mr. Durant has also addressed packed houses at Carnegie Hall, New York City, and in Portland, Ore., where 3900 people heard him and more than 1000 were turned away.

With the ever-increasing complexities of modern social and educational life comes the problem of making profitable use of leisure time. In many vocations the decrease in the number of working hours per day means additional hours of leisure time for the worker, and it is disposed of by him either profitably or unprofitably.

The problem of the student of today, however, is not necessarily an increased number of leisure hours. It lies rather in using most advantageously those leisure hours already at his disposal. To the present day student and teacher the soap box and the Burnside stove have gone the way of the horse and buggy. Instead, we have at our disposal no end of valuable devices and means to increase knowledge, to enrich entertainment, and to broaden life's horizon to a fuller and more enjoyable degree.

Whether or not students make the most of these opportunities while in college is obviously a matter for serious consideration. To the energetic and the industrious, leisure time does not mean squandered time. Rather, it is time utilized by the student to give him a broader, fuller, and richer view of life. — Jarrett W. Jones.

VALUE DEPENDS ON POINT OF VIEW

Why are we in college? Ostensibly we are here to acquire knowledge, actually to learn how to live life as it reveals itself to us. Life is not a series of remote theories or visions of the imagination. It is composed of real problems to be confronted and solved. These solutions may be either right or wrong but they must be made. The degree to which we have encompassed the knowledge presented to us by our collegiate opportunities is clearly shown by the number of successes or failures we make in the tests offered us by civilization.

First, we must have a solid foundation of elementary and secondary training. Next we must keep in mind that a clear conception of the values of a college education is a requisite to scholastic attainment in college. Then we must remember that monetary returns are not necessarily derived from college training.

We may acquire a knowledge of practical applications or just a jumble of theories, depending upon the idea we have of the purpose of college training. May we suggest that education without a knowledge of application is useless. And the time in which some of us have to recognize that fact is limited. — Jack Elder.

WE MUST GO ON AND ON

Within a month the first Student Council of Glenville State Teachers College will be history. Much praise is due Lloyd Metheny, first president of the organization, and the other council members. We must remember that the first year of any organization is the hardest and that our student council has done remarkably well, although it has been handicapped and often criticized.

Last week we elected a new council and we know that it will not be perfect. But, we ask, is there anything that is perfect? The new council headed by Bantz Craddock, Jr., will have an easier road to travel. Next year Mr. Craddock will be able to profit by the mistakes of his predecessors and will also know how to go about carrying out the problems of his administration.

The student body, as a whole, should be congratulated on the splendid manner in which they have cooperated with Mr. Metheny. We assume that next year, after the newness has worn off, that the council will function even more smoothly and in a more efficient manner.

LEAVE WHEN THE CLOCK STRIKES

The clock is striking. The end of the class period has come. Recitations for the hour are over, regardless of the fact that dear teacher stands in his usual place and continues to enumerate the topics in tomorrow's lesson.

Teachers, like students, are sometimes a bit negligent in observing the rules that are imposed on them. Students, on the other hand, are unaware that as the clock tolls the first note of the hour they are under no further obligations to endure what seems to be ceaseless chatter. Thus, students are constantly obtaining tardy marks in their next class.

According to Dean White, these tardies are unnecessary. A regulation of Glenville State Teachers College specifies that classes are completed on the hour and at the first sound of the clock. Students should be and are at liberty to leave at this time. — Sara Margaret Fischer.

At the Library

New Books Added At Library

Several new books have recently been added to the Robert F. Kidd Library. Among them are: "Parade of the Animal Kingdom," Robert Hegner; "Mars, His Idiot," K. M. Tomlinson; "The Ghost Story," Booth Tarkington; "American Men of Science," James Cottell; "Appreciation of Pictures," Walter Klar; "Modern Photography," Charles Holme; "Nobel Prize Winners in Literature," Annie Marble; "The Story of the Drama," Joseph Taylor; "Modern Publicity," Frank Mercer.

"We Who Are About To Die"

One of the most interesting books recently ordered for the Robert F. Kidd Library is "We Who Are About To Die" by David Lamson. The author, sentenced to hang, spent thirteen months in the death row at San Quentin before he was acquitted. With cool detachment he describes in detail the daily routine, attitudes, conversation, and behavior of the prisoners condemned to die.

General Election Sidelights

By WOODROW WOLFE

Never before has the student body been so alive and so stirred about any one thing, excepting athletic events, as was the case in the general election. The fact that more than ninety-five per cent, 399 of 420 students enrolled, voted in the election, a remarkable percentage, shows that we do have school spirit and are interested in the welfare of the College. . . . When the counting was being done, behind locked doors, all eyes were glued on the blackboard where Mr. Freed chalked up the votes as Lloyd Metheny read them from the ballots. . . . Craddock jumped in the lead when the counting started and was never headed. At one time he had a majority of thirty-two votes. . . .

Word was passed from the window of the counting room (Room 203) on the second floor of the Administration Building, at different intervals, to an eager crowd on the campus below. When the news was given out that Craddock had won, a great cheer went up. . . . Joe Haught played the part of Paul Revere when he went through the town carrying the news of Craddock's victory. . . . Craddock was placed on the shoulders of Paul Fulk and Joe Haught and carried to the Verona Maple Hall campus, where fifteen "rahs" for the new president were given by the group that followed. . . . To celebrate the victory, Paul Fulk bought three students a shave. . . .

William Sprigell's slogan was "Craddock, by cracky, or we'll croak" . . . Young and old alike displayed unusual interest in the presidential race. Several older people

MERRIMENT PREVAILED over all Glenville Friday night when graduates, former students and friends of the College gathered here for the annual G Club dance. The event was a success in every sense of the word, and was cited by some as the biggest and best dance thus far this year.

PAUL FULKS, HILLIS COTTLE and Frank Martino deserve special recognition for having been selected by Coach Rohrbough to lead our fighting forces through next year's athletic season.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Bantz Craddock, Jr., and the newly elected members of the Student Council for 1936-37. Their past merits prove them worthy of their offices. May the entire school show them the best of cooperation with the issues they will bring forth and introduce.

FOUR ONE-ACT Plays will be presented by the class in play production Thursday evening in the College auditorium. . . . Toy Lee Long and Virginia Laura Smith, former students, were in Glenville, Sunday. . . . Who was the fair young Romeo who tried to play "Tarzan" at the G Club dance?

THE FIGHT IS on between Miss Margaret Dobson and Miss Bertha E. Olsen. The cause: Who will get the use of the auditorium? The senior play, under the direction of Miss Dobson, and the operetta, under the direction of Miss Olsen, are new releases. . . . Glenville State Teachers College is honored to have them presented here this year.

ANNE LORETTE KEENAN WEDS CAREY M. BENNETT

Mr. and Mrs. Carey M. Bennett arrived in Glenville Saturday noon after having spent a brief wedding trip in the southern states. They were married Tuesday morning in Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Bennett is the former Miss Anne Lorette Keenan, daughter of Mrs. Mary Tracy Keenan, of Clarksburg. She attended a convent school in St. Louis, Mo., and for a number of years has been a bookkeeper with the Honer-Gaylord Company.

Mr. Bennett, '88, graduated from the law school of West Virginia University and is now associated with Thomas J. Gillooly and William C. Black, of Clarksburg, in the Gilco Oil and Gas Company. For a year he served as associate director of the housing administration with headquarters in Parkersburg, but resigned this post last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will make their home in Glenville.

PRESIDENT GIVES LIST OF RULES

Graduating Sophomores Are Required to Attend Commencement Exercises

President E. G. Rohrbough announced yesterday that Standard Normal seniors will be required to attend commencement exercises but that they will not wear caps and gowns, as will the A. B. graduates. Each student completing requirements for the Standard Normal certificate will receive a diploma and will also be given one ticket for the commencement address.

Heretofore Standard Normal seniors marched in the procession with the A. B. seniors. Beginning this year, the Standard Normal seniors automatically became members of the sophomore class. Approximately 229 Standard Normal seniors will receive certificates this year.

Allen C. Smyth to Get Degree

The name of Allen C. Smyth, of Sutton, was unintentionally left off the list of candidates for A. B. degrees, it is announced by Carey Woolter, registrar. The list was published the past week. Smyth has been a member of the Pioneer football squad for four years and this year organized and captained a tumbling team that performed at basketball games and other entertainments. He will graduate June 1, and he plans to teach and direct high school athletics.

SHOWS HIS INDIAN PEACE-PIPE

THAT INDIAN PEACE-PIPE IS ONE OF THE FAVORITES IN YOUR COLLECTION, ISN'T IT, DADDY?

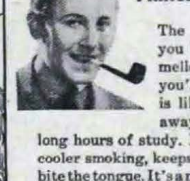

YES, THE CALUMET IS ABOUT THE ONLY DECENT MEMENTO OF OUR LONG-USELESS AND BLOODY INDIAN WARS.

IT SEEMS THAT BOTH REDSKIN AND WHITE HELD THE CALUMET AN INVOLUNTARY SYMBOL OF PEACE

I GUESS THE DAY OF PEACE-PIPES IS PAST, EH, JUDGE?

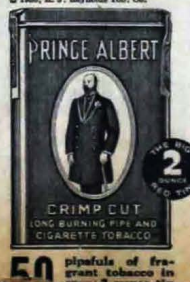

NO INDEED, SON. P.A. IS SO FRAGRANT, COOL, AND SOOTHING, IT MAKES ANY PIPE A PIPE OF PEACE

ONE-WORD DESCRIPTION OF PRINCE ALBERT: "COMFORTING"

The minute you light up P.A., you know you've met as cool and mellow and fragrant a tobacco as you'll ever want. No other tobacco is like it. Prince Albert charms away your cares—brightens the long hours of study. It is "crisp cut." That makes cooler smoking, keeps pipes sweeter. P.A. does not bite the tongue. It's a national favorite. Read our open invitation to all college men to try P.A. without risk.

Student Writes Word Picture of New College Dormitory Now Being Built

By JARRETT W. JONES

Many students have been wondering what the new dormitory will look like when completed. Here is a word picture of the building under construction:

The building will be L-shaped.

The first wing, to be built on the site of the former double tennis court, will be approximately 150 feet long and 32 feet wide and will be three stories high, with no basement. The entire wing will be used for bedrooms.

The second wing, running parallel with the single tennis court and at a right angle to the first wing, will be approximately 122 feet long and 32 feet wide. It will consist of four stories, besides a furnace room underneath at the lower end.

The first floor of the second wing, one end of which will be underground, will consist of a kitchen, dining room and meeting room. The remaining three floors will consist of student bedrooms.

Complete Directed Teaching

Forty-five students enrolled in Education 219, under the supervision of Miss Ivy Lee Myers, completed their directed teaching the past week. Students enrolled in Education 219 taught by H. Y. Clark will not complete their directed teaching for several days.

—for Digestion's sake—smoke Camels

MENTAL STRAIN induces nervous tension—slows down the digestive functions. Smoking Camels increases digestive activity—gives you a "lift." Smoke Camels for digestion's sake. Camels set you right!

Camel's aid to digestion confirmed by Science

Many phases of modern life—the hurry, worry, and mental effort—tend to slow down the flow of the digestive fluids. Smoking Camels helps release you from this strain on digestion. Renews and increases the natural and necessary flow of the digestive fluids.

Enjoy Camels steadily! They encourage that delightful sense of comfort and well-being that good digestion brings in its wake. Smoke Camels with meals, after, as often as you like—for the pleasure of their matchless flavor...for digestion's sake...for their cheery "lift." Camels set you right! You can smoke as many as you please. Camels never get on your nerves or tire your taste. Turn to Camel's costlier tobaccos today.

Dining de Luxe at Pierre's, New York

What will you have? It's pleasant to imagine. Perhaps Borsch Polonaise to start. Then Suprême of Halibut à la Russe, Braised Lettuce, and String Beans au Gratin. Then...a Camel...a crisp salad...a Camel again...and an ice with demi-lasse and... Camels! Camels are part of the art of dining today. They stimulate digestion—add to the sense of well-being every one should have after dining. M. Bonaudi (above), the banquet manager of Pierre's, who handles many of New York's smart "deb" parties and other exclusive society functions, says: "Camels are by far the most popular cigarette here."

METHOD USED.

Credit for paving the way for the discovery that Camels promote digestion goes to Pavlov, the great physiologist. Recent investigation confirms Camel's beneficial effect.

TEAMS BATTLE TO 11-11 TIE IN THIRD GAME OF SEASON

OTHER GAMES PLAYED

Students Show Keen Interest In Intramural Program at Rohrbough Field

The College intramural baseball league opened Wednesday with Paul Fulks' Minutemen winning a close 6-5 victory over Andrew Edwards' Rivermen. In the second game of the league season, Thursday, Frank Martino's Hilltoppers defeated Ted Riddle's Bull Dogs, 6-5. In the third game, played yesterday, Fulks' team and Riddle's outfit battled to a 11-11 tie.

Large crowds attended all games. In the three games played to date all teams appear to be evenly matched. Eleven hits are the most any team has made to date in one game, that by the Bull Dogs in yesterday's game with the Minutemen.

Teams Play Ragged Ball

In the game yesterday both teams played sloppy ball. After Riddle's team had taken a one-run lead in the opening inning, Fulks and his mates came back strong to cross the home plate six times on four hits, two errors, a free ticket and a fielder's choice. The lead was short lived as the Riddlemen came to life in the third frame to cross the plate four times, added to the two allies they had picked up in the second inning, and took the lead, 7-6.

Minutemen Rally in Seventh

The Bull Dogs held their lead until the last half of the seventh inning when the Minutemen put on their slugging togs to earn a tie. Gibson opened the last half of the inning by going out to first base unassisted. Mullenix, who relieved Bennett in the fifth inning, got to first on an error. Strader struck out and the game appeared to be in the bag for the Bull Dogs. Sullivan then doubled to score Mullenix. Fulks followed with another two base wallop to score Sullivan. Springer then hit a hard ball that was muffed for an error. Fulks scored with the tying run. With the winning run on second, Bennett struck out to end the inning and the game.

BEST WISHES TO Paul (Scamper) Fulks, Frank (Chi Chi) Martino, and Hillis (Cod) Cottle. Fulks will lead the 1936 Pioneer football squad after serving for three years as a regular end for Coach Rohrbough. Paul will be the only senior on next year's squad. We hope that Fulks will be able to keep that promise he made at the G Club dance—"an undefeated season for the Pioneers and a victory over Wesleyan" . . . Martino and Cottle are to lead the 1936-1937 and 1937-1938 Pioneer basketball squads. Never before have co-captains been appointed for more than one year . . . With these men at the helm of Pioneer athletic teams next year, we predict another great season.

THE NEW INTRAMURAL baseball program began in a fitting manner. Close games were in order the first week of play. Fulks' "Minutemen" opened the new program with a 6-5 win over Andrew Edwards' "Rivermen" . . . Martino's "Hilltoppers" and Riddle's "Bull Dogs" showed plenty of potential power in their opening tilt . . . Large crowds have attended all games to date, which shows that College students still have a great interest in the diamond game.

DID YOU KNOW that Stanley Jeranko and Dorsey (Shumie) Hines are applicants for umpire jobs in the West Virginia State Baseball League . . . George Susce who caught for the Pioneers a few years back is catching for the Kansas City Blues in the American Association . . . Tennis fans will soon be able to wield their rackets "with the greatest of ease" when the new courts are completed at Rohrbough Field . . . President E. G. Rohrbough played a mean game of football for Allegheny (Pa.) College during his collegiate days?

Y. M. C. A. WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Nominations May Be Made
at Meeting Wednesday Night

Nominations for president and vice president of the Y. M. C. A. for next year were made in a business session of a meeting of the Y. M. C. A., following a brief program Wednesday night, according to DeWitt Moyers, president. William Hamilton was nominated for president. Harry H. Russell, Jr., and Russell Hogue were nominated for vice president.

Further nominations will be accepted for these and other offices in the organization at a meeting May 6, when a general election will be held.

Topics discussed at the meeting included "A Student Observes a Sabbath in Glenville State Teachers College," and "How Should We Spend our Sundays?" Principal speakers were James Moore and William Hamilton.

Coral May Gulentz visited at her home in Philippi Saturday and Sunday.

PAUL FULKS WILL LEAD PIONEERS IN '36 GRID CAMPAIGN

Coach A. F. Rohrbough Selects
Former Weston Athlete
For Important Post

COURT CAPTAINS NAMED

Frank Martino and Hillis Cottle
Will Be Co-Captains of Glenville Quintet

Paul Fulks, of Weston, will be captain of the 1936 Pioneer football team, and Frank Martino and Hillis Cottle will act as co-captains of the Pioneer basketball squads for the coming two years.

The three stellar athletes received their appointments during a formal ceremony Friday night as a feature of the annual G Club dance in the College gymnasium.

Coach A. F. Rohrbough called Fulks to the orchestra platform where the retiring grid captain, Thomas J. Pierce, of Chester, presented the former Weston High School athlete with a shiny leather football. Fulks accepted the post amid a loud ovation from the gay dancers. He pledged his best efforts on behalf of College football and expressed the desire that Glenville defeat Wesleyan next fall. Fulks plays an end position.

Co-captains Martino and Cottle were formally presented by the retiring floor captain, Paul (Babe) Jones. Both Martino and Cottle got a big hand when they were called to the stage. Their appointment as co-captains for two years marks the first time that floor leaders here have been named for more than one year in advance.

Both Martino and Cottle were members of the Pioneer floor quintet which compiled an enviable record the past season. Martino is a former Washington-Irving High School athlete, while Cottle comes from Spencer High School, where he took a prominent part in athletics. Martino plays a forward position and Cottle is a guard. They are both stellar football players and will be regulars on the Pioneer eleven next fall.

Isabel Hickman, '35, and Grace White, a former student, attended the G Club dance Friday night.

Bantz Craddock Will Be Council President for '36-'37

County band, attired in their new maroon and white uniforms, led Craddock's parade, while a student band played for the Barrett supporters.

Signs displaying slogans and mottoes were placed at strategic points on the campus, and the streets of Glenville were painted with the candidates' names.

Interest Runs High

Interest in the presidential race ran extremely high. The sergeant-at-arms was forced to keep the crowd back from the voting place at various times. Although electioneering was prohibited within twenty-five feet of the polls, several persons solicited votes during the day on the campus.

Other officers elected were: John Mowrey, Clarksburg, vice president; Sadie Harliss, Madison, secretary; Ertle Bickle, Webster Springs, treasurer; Nathan Callahan, Richwood, sergeant-at-arms.

Following are the complete election returns: President, Bantz Craddock, Jr., Glenville, 211; John Barrett, Pine Grove, 187.

Vice-president, John Mowrey, Clarksburg, 255; H. Laban White, Jr., 140.

Secretary, Sadie Harliss, Madison, 245; Leone West, Glenville, 145.

Treasurer, Ertle Bickle, Webster Springs, 270; Robert Shreve, Glenville, 125.

Sergeant-at-arms, Nathan Callahan, 214; Lee Summers, Summersville, 179.

Charles Baughman, '34, attended the G. Club dance, Friday night.

Will Durant Will Give Talk Here June First

During the past few years he has written for the Saturday Evening Post, and he is the author of several books, among which are "Philosophy and the Social Problem," "The Story of Philosophy," "Transition," "The Mansions of Philosophy," "The Case for India," "Adventures in Genius," "A Program for America," "On the Meaning of Life," and "The Tragedy of Russia."

Was Born in Massachusetts

Mr. Durant was born in Massachusetts in 1885. He received his A. B. degree from St. Peter's College, Jersey City, and also received his A. M. from the same school in 1908. Durant married Ida Kaufman of New York City in 1913 and then received his Ph. D. degree from Columbia University in 1917.

President Rohrbough said Mr. Durant had not announced the subject of his address but that he had two subjects under consideration.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Parkersburg for several years. He is widely known throughout the state and recently served as governor of the twenty-fourth district of Rotary International, which comprises all of West Virginia.

Frank Martino visited at his home in Clarksburg the past week-end.

Eleanor White, a student in West Virginia University, visited her parents, Dean and Mrs. H. Laban White, Saturday.

History tells us that when Christopher Columbus' sailors took tobacco back home with them everybody hailed it as one of the first new pleasures in years.

Today tobacco gives more pleasure to more people than ever before.

Many different claims are made for tobacco, but most everybody agrees on this . . .

Smoking is a pleasure and the cigarette is the mildest and purest form in which that pleasure can be enjoyed.
