HOME-COMING DAY FEATURES TO BE VARIED THIS YEAR

Chairman of Parade Committee Says Elaborate Plans Are Under Way

MARSHALS ARE NAMED

Joe Mallory's Orchestra Will Play For Reception and Dance

BY EARL WOLFE

Preparations are well under way for the sixth annual Home-coming Day, Saturday, Oct. 24, according to heads of various committees recently appointed by the president of the Glenville State Teachers College Alumni Association.

Mrs. John Gilbert Cain, chairman of the parade committee, says that elaborate plans for the parade are being made by most of the organizations on the College campus. All alumni and local civic organizations will receive an invitation to take part in the parade. Stanley Hall, A. B. '29, and Mabel Wolfe, A. B. '33, will dress in clothes typical of the gray 90's and will ride bicycles. Each class since 1890 will be represented, and a pleasing array of floats, costumed individuals, and animals will march before local residents, students, and home-comingers at 10:30 Saturday morning. A band to head the parade has not been arranged for.

Marshals for the parade include: Neil Albaugh, Elbert Backus, Fredrick Bell, Laddie Bell, Newton Cooper, Millard Cunningham, Jack Elder, Lloyd Elliott, Denzel Garrett, William Hamilton, Bertchel Kittie, John Marra, James McHenry, Richard McKinney, Wendall McNemar, Edward Meadows, James Croner Musser, Vorley Rexroad, John Rogers, John Sims, Damon Starcher, Kedell Strother, Mills Tatterson, and Harold Winters, all students in the College.

A bitter struggle is expected between the Concord Mountain Lions and the Glenville Pioneers in the annual Home-coming football tilt Saturday afternoon.

Joe Mallory's orchestra of Clarksburg will play for the annual reception and dance in the College gymnasium.

SEVEN STUDENTS TO DEBATE

Will Argue Subject of Minimum Wages and Maximum Hours

Seven College students have reported for debating class, says Miss Margaret Dobson, instructor. They are: Millard Cunningham, Goff Giboney, both veterans of last year, and Eleanor Waggoner, George W. Miller, Denzel Garrett, and H. Laban White, Jr. Two members not receiving credit are William Hamilton and Millard Cunningham.

The subject, a Pi Kappa Delta question which is being debated in all sections of the United States, is: "Resolved, That Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry."

Seniors Name Parade Committee

The Senior Class, at a meeting the past Tuesday, agreed to order elections November 15 and elected a committee to arrange a float for the Home-coming parade. On the committee are Mildred Thompson, Elizabeth de Gruyter, Ella Summers, Teddy Taylor, Thomas Dotson, and H. Laban White, Jr. Goff Giboney, president, presided.

McNEMAR ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF CLUB

Current Events Organization Names John Rogers Social Representative

Wendell McNemar, of Burnsville, was elected chairman of the Current Events Club at a meeting Wednesday evening in Room 106, at which was featured an open forum discussion of the "Spanish Revolution."

A committee, which includes Agnes Fleming, Clemit Humphreys, Wendell McNemar, Richard Prim and James Osborn, was appointed to make plans for the club's exhibit in the Home-coming Day parade. John Rogers was named a representative to the College social committee.

Members present, in addition to those mentioned above, were Dwight Walker, Howard Winters, Charles Smith, John Barrett, James Musser, Noel Bush, June Riley, Lois Mason and Ruby Lamb.

The club meets every other Tuesday. The next topic to be considered is "The Life and Work of Christopher Columbus."

CUNNINGHAM IS ELECTED PIONEER

High Honors Conferred on Student During Heated Pep Meeting

Millard Cunningham, senior in the College, was elected "Pioneer" at a meeting of more than 225 students in the College gymnasium Friday night at 6:30 o'clock. The election followed a heated but brief campaign in which John ("Red") Barrett, of the Lodge, featured prominently.

Cunningham, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cunningham, of Tanner, was a member of the debating team the past year and has been prominently associated with several campus organizations. His election gives him one of the higher honors conferred on students here. The custom of conferring the "Pioneer" award originated three years ago, when Homer Blackhurst was elected and was asked to preside over the annual Home-coming Day activities. The past year Lloyd Metheny represented the College as the "Pioneer."

The only other candidate to feature in Friday night's election was Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., president of the Student Council. Craddock received a heavy vote. The official count was 133 for Cunningham against 80 for Craddock.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

John Sims Is Vice-President And Hylbret Is Secretary-Treasurer

The College chapter of the Young Men's Christian Association recently elected the following officers: Vice-President, John Sims; secretary-treasurer, Kenneth Hylbret; representative to the social committee, James Osborn. William Hamilton, president, and Russell Hogue, reporter, were held over from last year.

All members are urged to be present at the meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the club room. Several names will be submitted for membership.

Dean White to Speak in Assembly

Proposals of the legislative committee of the West Virginia State Education Association will be discussed tomorrow in assembly by Dean H. L. White, it is announced by Dr. E. G. Rohrbough, president of the College.

Douglas Rowland

Douglas Rowland, above, will be seen here tonight when the Jitney Players present Sheridan's "The Rivals," featuring Ethel Barrymore Colt. Mr. Rowland was born in Detroit and showed his aptitude for the stage when at the age of eight he appeared as "The Cheshire Cat" in "Alice in Wonderland."

"Y. W." ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

Velda Betts Will Head Club This Year; Other Officers Chosen

Velda Betts, of Grantsville, has been elected president of the College chapter of the Young Women's Christian Association. Other officers are: Vice-President, Sadie Harless; secretary-treasurer, Josephine Riffe; corresponding secretary, Leah Stalnaker; representative to the College social committee, Ella Summers.

Members of the chapter attended services at the Presbyterian Church in a body Sunday. Among the activities planned for the year are: To attend church once a month, to give an assembly program, and to give a Christmas party for the benefit of the poor children of this community.

Whoa, Victor! It's Time For Bride And Saddle Again

Whoa! Whoa there, Victor! Don't you realize it's about time for the bride and the saddle and the big Home-coming parade?

And so Miss Alma Arbuckle, College librarian and chief parade marshal, addresses her sorrell riding horse at the Arbuckle Farms near here, just two weeks before the advent of another gala Home-coming Day at Glenville State Teachers College.

Victor likes the parades, too. This year he will make his sixth annual parade pilgrimage. The equestrienne will be Miss Arbuckle, who has always been a keen fancier of pure bred riding horses.

Physical Examinations Completed

College students completed their required physical examinations Thursday. The examinations were conducted by Dr. W. T. Smith.

JITNEY PLAYERS, FEATURING MISS ETHEL BARRYMORE COLT, WILL GIVE SHERIDAN'S DRAMA, "THE RIVALS," AT 8:15 TONIGHT

WILL COMPLETE SOCIAL CALENDAR

Committee Plans Program of Varied Entertainment For Week-End Dances

John Mowrey, chairman of the College social committee, announces the social calendar for the first semester will be completed this week. All organizations on the campus have elected representatives as follows: Canterbury Club, Leone West; Current Events Club, John Rogers; Chemistry Club, Clifton Huffman; Holy Roller Court, Hillis Cottle; G Club, Brooks Sheppard; Y. W. C. A., Ella Summers; Y. M. C. A., James Osborn; Ohnimgohow Players, Liban White, Jr.

CHORAL CLASS ON CHAPEL PROGRAM

Soloists Are Alyce Walker, Hansel Warner; Miss Vinson Is Accompanist

Eleven members of the College choral class entertained with a musical program in assembly, Wednesday, under the director of Miss Bertha E. Olsen, instructor in music.

Miss Alyce Walker, sophomore of Clarksburg, sang "Wiegenlied" by Howard Johnson and "One Alone" by Sigmund Romberg. Hansel Warner, junior, of near Charleston, sang "Desert Song" by Sigmund Romberg. Miss Virginia Vinson, of Tynner, was the piano accompanist.

Members of the chorus were Miss Marguerite Moss, Miss Alyce Walker, Miss Barbara Haumann, Miss Lois Thompson, Miss Marjorie Barnett, Miss Winifred White, Miss Eugenia Adams, John Barnett, Hansel Warner, H. Laban White, Jr., and Harold Winters.

Group singing by students and faculty preceded and followed the special numbers.

CHANGES MADE IN N. Y. A.

Work Divided Among 74 Students; First Month's Reports Filed

Several changes have been made in the N. Y. A. program as a result of students who had scholarships and failed to enroll in school and those who had work but dropped out of school.

The monthly allowance, $675, is now divided among seventy-four students, R. T. Crawford, instructor in charge of the program, states. Forty-four students receive $10 each a month; twenty-eight receive $7.50; and two receive $12.50 each.

Reports for the first month's work were filed Saturday.

Senior Class Elects Miss Summers

Ella Summers, of Northview, was elected secretary of the Senior Class at a recent meeting in the College auditorium. Miss Summers replaces Sara Margaret Fischer, who accepted a teaching position in Lewis County and did not return to school this year.

Large Crowd Expected For Second Number on Artists' Course

13 PERSONS IN CAST

Scenery and Stage Settings Evolve Spirit of Eighteenth Century

By ROBERT DAVIES

Ethel Barrymore Colt, slim princess of the theater's royal family, will appear this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the College auditorium, when the Jitney Players of New York City present Richard B. Sheridan's ever-popular, eighteenth century comedy, "The Rivals."

Miss Colt, twenty-three-year-old daughter of Ethel Barrymore and niece of John and Lionel Barrymore, all favorites of screen and stage, will be supported by a cast of twelve other actors and actresses, including Mrs. Alice Keating (Cheney), Douglas Rowland, Pendleton Harrison, Homer Hull, Marjorie Jerecki, Thomas Coley, Helen Dunlop, Jack Harling, Phyllis Flanagan, John DeAngelis and Maynard Samsen. Douglas Rowland, who several times has refused offers from Hollywood and Broadway, will play the part of "Bob Acres."

Miss Colt is following the footsteps of her famous mother, Ethel Barrymore, in playing the part of "Lucy." John DeAngelis is the "Sir Lucius O'Trigger." Alice Cheney plays "Lydia Languish" and Marjorie Jerecki is the amusing "Mrs. Malaprop."

Ethel Barrymore has given to the Jitneys some of the priceless eighteenth century costumes from her private collection of theatrical dresses. Miss Colt plays the same part in "The Rivals" as her mother played with John Drew's all star revival.

Scenery for the production was designed by Maynard Samsen and evokes the spirit of the eighteenth century in its swift depiction of the Pump at Bath, the lodging of Young Captain Absolute, and the duelling ground on Kings Mead Fields.

SPEAKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Mr. C. P. Harper Delivers Address On "Trends in Government"

Centralization is one of the greatest trends in government today, declared C. P. Harper, head of the social science department in the College, in an address before the Woman's Club last night in the social parlor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Harper was introduced by Miss Bessie Boyd Bell, instructor in social science, who presided.

Miss Margaret Dobson, speech instructor in the College and president of the club, conducted a brief business session at which eleven persons were voted memberships. A tea, with Mrs. J. C. Shreve and Mrs. Frank M. Beall pouring, and a social hour concluded the meeting.

Class Sponsors Will Entertain

All freshmen in the College will be guests of their class sponsors, Miss Ivy Lee Myers, Carey Woolfite and H. Y. Clark, at an informal reception Thursday afternoon from 3:30 until 4:30 o'clock in the College gymnasium. A program of music and other entertainment features has been planned. Refreshments will be served.

TEACHERS! MEN OR WOMEN?

If we may take the findings of a survey in Utah as indicative of conditions in the nation, we find that men are succeeding women as teachers in the country's high and junior high schools. In Utah it was found that in the last school year men teachers outnumbered women in the senior high schools 572 to 399 and in the junior high schools 380 to 342, whereas ten years ago the women teachers outnumbered the men by 50 per cent.

In the opinion of the Secretary of the Utah Education Association, the depression may be blamed or praised for aiding in bringing about the change. He thinks that many young men who found themselves unable to bear the expenses of training for the medical or legal professions turned to teaching, and found that they liked it. There is further cause for satisfaction on the part of those whose vision is not limited to material gains; they see in teaching a public service.

We can but wonder what becomes of the women teachers displaced by men. It is reported that some of the women are marrying the men teachers. Whether this is the ideal solution remains for those who try it to decide. Others become milliners and clerks, stenographers, or enter other occupations.

Many people, who have felt that the training of the youth of the land should not be largely in the hands of female teachers, will receive the report from Utah with satisfaction. This attitude implies no reflection upon the ability of women teachers. Instead, it perhaps implies that the teaching force of the nation will secure the best results if mere man does a fair proportion of the work.—Denzel Garrett.

MUSIC, MORE MUSIC

"They also serve who only stand and wait," said Milton. "But one can't wait too long," adds Miss Bertha E. Olsen, instructor in music in the College. As a result, students and members of the faculty enjoyed a delightful program in assembly. There was music and more music, and we must say there was considerable interest and appreciation shown.

Wednesday's assembly was just a sample of what can be done when students are given an opportunity to perform and are given encouragement by their instructors and their classmates.

Without a doubt, there is more hidden talent on our campus. Why not plan a Major Bowes amateur hour, Miss Olsen? Variety and good music made students like the assembly programs. Maybe more good music and some hidden talent can make students say: "We wouldn't miss assembly for anything"; rather than, "Let's skip today."—Denzel Garrett.

EDUCATION AND DEPRESSION

How much has the depression hurt education? At first glance, the decreased revenue and slashed salaries and appropriations of the depression years would indicate that education has been partly sacrificed along with other institutions in the economic upset.

Out of this period of financial stress, however, comes a new idea of what youth should know. Uneducated parents have been hard hit by unemployment. Moreover, parents trained in vocations made obsolete by modern methods and machinery have learned the need of a wider knowledge.

It is not enough to be able to do only one thing. In this fast changing twentieth century one must be capable of filling more than a single position, else he is apt to be left in the cold. Adults are having these facts brought home to them. In addition to the value of education they have learned the value of diversified knowledge and the importance of culture.

Should the depression continue there will no doubt be a decline in the immediate facilities for learning, but it is certain that returning prosperity is going to find the public understanding of education far saner. Indeed, education shows unmistakable signs of coming through as a more practical, sounder institution—if adequately supported.—Columbia Missourian.

Myself

Would you know the thought that came to me as I lay half asleep the other night, that startled me, keeping me wide awake till the shadows took their flight? Then, here is the thought that held me fast as I came in the dark to me—"I shall always have to live with myself, no matter where I may be. Wherever I may live and how long I may live, and whatever the things I may do, I can never get away from myself." That startled me, wouldn't it you? And so, as I never can hide myself away from myself, you see, I must make myself so I can like myself—and fit for the whole world to see. —(Selected).

New College Dormitory Will Be Fire-Proof, Weather-Proof and Sound-Proof

The new dormitory for men, now in its final stage of construction, will be sound-proof, fire-proof, and weather-proof, says C. W. Loar, supervisor of construction. A special asbestos compound, formed into rectangular blocks, has been used as a base for the plaster on all interior walls, as well as a sub-flooring on which tile will be laid instead of the conventional wood.

About 10 per cent of the material, including tile flooring and wood trim, has not been delivered. All of the remaining 90 percent has been used, or is on the ground.

The low-pressure steam-heating plant which is the self-starting type is said to be highly efficient and capable of maintaining a constant temperature throughout the building. The radiators are the recess type modeled after the automobile radiator. This feature will make it possible to regulate the temperature of the building in accordance with outside weather changes.

The brown coat of plastering is one-half completed, flagstone walks are all in place, windows have been glazed and are now ready to be placed. Conduit work is finished, but the wiring has not been completed.

Ceiling lights will be placed in all bedrooms, halls, and bathrooms; bracket lights will be installed in all bathrooms, and convenient outlets will be distributed throughout the building.

Section A, consisting of three apartments which will be occupied by members of the faculty, will be equipped with bathtubs. All other apartments will have shower baths.

Minus Pomp and Ceremony, Canterbury Club Observes Fifteenth Anniversary

By KENDELL STROTHER

Minus any pomp or ceremony, the fifteenth anniversary of the Canterbury Club, oldest organization on the College campus, was observed Friday.

But whether there was formal observance or not, there was one person on the campus who did not fail to recall the days when the Canterbury Club of Glenville State Teachers College met and organized their club, which has withstood the test of time and has become today a truly honorary institution.

Miss Willa Brand, instructor in English in the College, sitting in her cozy suite in Verona Mapel Hall, leafed through notes and files of club minutes and seemed extremely interested when I asked her to tell me a few things about the Canterbury Club.

Club Organized in 1921

It was back in 1921 that Miss Brand, founder and constant sponsor of the club, called together a group of College students and suggested an organization to honor the life and the works of Geoffrey Chaucer.

Here in the College—Glenville State Normal School then—the Canterbury Club was conceived with thirteen charter members. Major objectives of the club, as outlined in 1921, were: To familiarize students with some of the best short stories and tales of all times, to provide a bi-weekly social hour, to pay homage to the author of the Canterbury Tales, and to maintain an organization to perpetuate high scholarship.

Summerville Elected President

Howard Summerville, now of Clarksburg, was elected first president. Charter members included Rita Young, Charles Lynch, Asa V. Cooper, Paul H. Woodford, T. Bryan McQuain, Bailey Sleeth, A. E. Harris, Glen Callaghan, Pauline Steele, Evalena McCutcheon, Hale Maxwell, and Dorothy Hatfield.

Many of these charter members and those that followed have since become prominent in various fields. For instance, Dr. A. E. Harris is a professor in Marshall College, Glen Callaghan is state director of the N. Y. A., Dr. Charles Lynch is a research chemist and is located in Elizabeth, N. J., Dr. Bailey Sleeth lives in Philadelphia, George McQuain is an attorney associated with the firm of Steptoe and Johnson in Clarksburg, Frederic Barnett is an attorney for the South Penn Oil Company with headquarters in Parkersburg, Shirley Morton is superintendent of schools in Nicholas County, and Miss Evalena McCutcheon is doing missionary work in South America.

800 Stories Told Since 1921

Miss Brand estimates that more than 800 stories have been told since the inception of the club. The organization is always limited to twenty-nine members. Three stories are told at each meeting.

Each year Miss Brand provides a special Christmas party for the club and sponsors an April Canterbury pilgrimage.

One of the interesting features of the club meetings was the tenth anniversary observance here in 1931, when Dr. John Harrington Cox, of West Virginia University, was the principal speaker. Mr. Summerville, the first president, was present and spoke briefly.

32 Freshmen Called Before Council

The Student Council, at a meeting Thursday night, completed arrangements for the second number on the Artists' Course, reprimanded three students for failing to observe freshman rules, and ordered all first year students to purchase their own Freshmen guilty of violating rules were given copies of the College yells and were required to get them at a council meeting last night.

"Sweepstakes" bring pleasure to war veterans

From a veterans' home in Legion, Texas, a number of entries all in the same handwriting come in each week. Of course we checked up to make sure that the entries conformed to the rules, and one of the men explained: "Most of the boys can't get around—but I do and so I fill out their cards for them."

We're glad to say that the boys have been pretty good pickers, too.

Have you entered yet? Have you won your delicious Lucky Strikes? Tune in "Your Hit Parade"—Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Listen, judge, and compare the tunes—then try Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes." And if you're not already smoking Luckies, buy a pack today and try them, too. Maybe you've been missing something. You'll appreciate the advantages of Luckies—a LightSmoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

Porterfield Smashes Line For Heavy
Gains — Visitors Threaten In Third Quarter

The Pioneers opened their football crusade here Saturday with a smashing 20-0 rout of Jasper Colebank's "Fighting Teachers" of Fairmont. Despite a weak aerial attack and some spotty early season line performance, the Pioneers, in downing the Marion County eleven, showed promise of a powerful aggregation.

Held scoreless in the first period after receiving the opening kickoff and driving to the Fairmont 6-yard line, the Pioneers registered their first marker in the second period. Fultz punted to Porterfield on the Fairmont 40. In the first play, a reverse, Porterfield to Bennett, the former Phillip High School star skirted Fairmont's left end and sprinted 40 yards for the score. Edwards kicked the extra point.

Bohensky Intercepts Pass
After a listless third period, the Pioneers came to life when Bohensky, Glenville's unsung hero, intercepted Davis' pass on the Fairmont 45-yard line and raced to the Fairmont 10. Porterfield then picked up 3 yards at center; Gibson made 5 yards through tackle and Cottle took it over. Cottle kicked the extra point.

The final tally came in the same period. Receiving Fultz's punt on the Fairmont 45, the Pioneers released a powerful running attack, with Haught, Gibson and Cottle carrying the ball, that carried them to the Fairmont 5. On the next play, Haught fumbled and Fortney recovered for Fairmont. Fultz, in the shadow of his own goal, attempted to punt out of danger, but his kick was blocked by Huffman and the Pioneers' captain fell on the ball for the score. Cottle's kick was low.

Fairmont Threatens
Fairmont's only serious scoring threat came in the third canto. After receiving Cottle's punt on the Glenville 40, Duvall, in a brilliant end run, lugged the ball to the Glenville 20. Two short passes, Hammon to Fortney and Hammon to Davis, penetrated the Glenville 10-yard line. The Pioneers stiffened, and Fairmont lost the ball on downs. Cottle punted out of danger.

Featured in the game was the spectacular line smashing of Porterfield, who ripped the Fairmont forward wall for consistent gains all afternoon. Cottle, Bohensky and Haught also turned in some splendid performance in the backfield, as did Summers, Fulks and Whitman on the line. Duvall, Fultz and Hammon were the main sparkplugs for Fairmont. The punting of Fultz thwarted several scoring threats by Glenville.

The lineups:
Glenville
Fulks (C) L. E. Fortney
Whitman L. T. Lyons
Mowrey L. G. Joyce
Bickel C. Kundrakik
Howes R. G. Hughes
Summers R. T. Howes
Martino R. E. Fultz
Bohensky Q. B. L. Davis
Edwards L. H. Duvall
Bennett R. H. Byer
Porterfield F. B. Hammon
Score by quarters:
Glenville 0 7 0 13
Substitutions: Glenville—Mendenhall, Karnes, Cottle, Wilson, Mason, Callahan, Gibson, Staats, Haught, Huffman, Sheppard, McMillen

By LLOYD ELLIOTT

COACH (NATE) Rohrbaugh is to be congratulated for putting such a smooth running team on the field Saturday. That's the way we like to see a football team play. A great season is ahead for the Pioneers.

HOW DID you like the way that line cracked things Saturday? Plenty good from the sidelines. We think. That interference certainly cooperated with the ball-carriers. Did you notice how the field opened for Bennett on his touchdown run? After he passed the line of scrimmage, a Fairmont man couldn't get within shooting distance of him. Bennett himself looked like a second Jay Berwanger, side-stepping, squirming, and stiff-arming all would-be tacklers as he dashed for the goal line.

THE WHOLE team, every man and the coach, carried away honors. Even the substitutes looked like first stringers, as they continued the pace set by the starting line-up. Haught, Cottle, Gibson and Mendenhall look as if they might crash the starting machine Saturday.

BOHENSKY PAVED the way for another touchdown as he snagged that Fairmont pass in the third quarter. Captain Fulks played a great game at end. So did the rest of the line.

THE PIONEERS will be out for their second straight win Saturday, so don't miss it. Remember West Liberty tied Salem 0-0 earlier in the season and should furnish the Pioneers some stiff opposition.
