NOTED RUSSIAN COUNTESS TO BE HERE ON NOV. 9

Irina Skariatina Will Talk on
"Russia Today and Situation
In Middle Europe"

AUTHOR OF MANY BOOKS

Lecture Will Be Third Number on
1936-37 College Artists'
Course

By JOHN W. MOWREY

The Student Council announces plans have been completed to present Irina Skariatina, noted Russian countess, as the third number on the College Artists' Course, Monday, Nov. 9.

Miss Skariatina, who was maid of honor to Empress Maria Feodorovna and the ill-fated Alexandra, will talk on "Russia of Today and the Situation in Middle Europe."

While serving in the World War as a nurse, Miss Skariatina was decorated under fire and later imprisoned by the Bolsheviks. She was saved, however, by members of the American Relief Administration who obtained a passport for her to leave the country. She came to the United States in 1923.

Since that time, Miss Skariatina has returned to Russia three times, where she made visits to schools, churches, and political meetings of the Bolsheviks. From her conversation with people she has become acquainted with their feelings toward Russia's present type of government and her lectures show vividly Russia's reactions, hopes, and beliefs for the future.

Miss Skariatina, aside from being a noted lecturer, has also written numerous books on Russia. Her last one, "New World for Old," was published the past year.

STUDENTS GIVE ASSEMBLY TALKS

Bantz W. Craddock, Jr.,
Stresses Importance of Enforcing Freshman Rules

The importance of freshman rules and the need for enforcing them was the general theme of the College assembly program Wednesday.

Short talks were given by Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., president of the student body; and by Goff Giboney, Thomas Dotson, Robert Davies and Garry Oles, presidents respectively of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes.

Craddock introduced representatives of the campus organizations, all of whom gave brief talks on club membership requirements.

The representatives were: Canterbury Club, Millard Cunningham; Young Women's Christian Association, Velda Betts; Young Men's Christian Association, William Hamilton; G Club, Paul Fulks; Holy Roller Court, Nathan Callahan; Chemistry Club, John R. Wagner; Current Events Club, Wendel McNeer; Ohnimgohow Players, Avon Elder.

Group singing was directed by Miss Bertha E. Olsen, instructor in music.

Raymond E. Freed, instructor in the College, was unable to meet his classes Thursday because of illness.

Mabel Ellyson, S. N. '36, attended the play given by the Jitney Players on Tuesday night.

Greetings to Home-Coming Day Visitors

PRESIDENT
E. G. ROHRBOUGH

A Welcome Message to Home-Coming Day
Visitors

Glenville State Teachers College extends a cordial welcome to Alumni and former students to the activities connected with the sixth annual Home-coming.

The faculty and students join me in expressing the hope that your visit may be a pleasant one.

Signed:

E. G. ROHRBOUGH.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS COMEDY

Jitney Players Give Sheridan's
Eighteenth Century Play,
"The Rivals"

BY (K. S.)

"The Rivals," a three act comedy by Richard B. Sheridan, was presented in the College Auditorium, Tuesday evening Oct. 13.

Especially commendable was the acting of Douglas Rowland as "Bob Acres" and Marjorie Jarceki as "Mrs. Malaprop." Ethel Barrymore Colt playing the supporting role of "Lucy" maid to Lydia Languish, a niece of "Mrs. Malaprop," deserves much praise for her polished acting and stage personality.

The authentic eighteenth century costumeing was colorful and added much to the farcical atmosphere of the play.

This, the first appearance of the Jitney Players at the College, was received enthusiastically by a large audience composed of students, town folk, and many out-of-town visitors.

MISS HINKLE GIVES READING;

Miss Harliss Tells "Three Strangers"
at Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Members of the Y. W. C. A. made plans the past Wednesday for their exhibit in the Home-coming parade. They are to sell balloons during and after the parade and at the game.

Entertainment was provided by Tulsa Hinkle who read Kipling's "If," and Sadie Harliss who told Harding's "Three Strangers."

Miss Margaret Dobson, club adviser, conducted devotional exercises.

NEW EQUIPMENT ORDERED

Chemistry Department Gets Glass and Eight New Locks

Two display cases for the chemistry department have been ordered by John R. Wagner, instructor of physical sciences. Glass has been donated by a West Virginia company. Eight locks were received the past week from a nationally-known lock company and will be used on the cases.

The new equipment will be used for storing chemistry exhibits.

An old Greek superstition holds that it is unlucky to be married in May.

MISS ARBUCKLE ON COMMITTEE

Pres. E. G. Rohrbough Names
Librarian to Assist With Social Functions

President E. G. Rohrbough announces the appointment of Miss Alma Arbuckle, librarian, to the College social committee to replace Miss Margaret Christie, who served the past year. The other faculty member on the committee is H. Y. Clark, of the education department.

Students who are members of the committee are: H. Laban White, Jr., John Barnett, William Hamilton and Neil Albaugh, presidents respectively of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes; Hillis Cottle, Holy Roller Court; Clifton Huffman, Chemistry Club; Brooks Sheppard, G Club, and John Rogers, Current Events Club; Y. W. C. A., Ella Summers; Y. M. C. A., James Osborn; and Canterbury Club, Mary Leone West. H. Laban White, Jr., also represents the Ohnimgohow Players on the committee.

FAMOUS SLEEP-WALKING SCENE SCORES BIG HIT IN SHAKESPEARE CLASS

"Out, damned spot! out, I say!" So mumbled Lady Macbeth as she lifted the corner of her gold-tinted night robe and tried to rub from her short, white, chubby hands, the blood she imagined was there.

A lighted candle illuminated a white and pain-drawn face, the eyes stared straight ahead, and the gray hair fell in strings about her face.

Advancing in short and faltering steps, she mumbled over the deaths of Macbeth's murdered victims. At last, she turned and went slowly out the door.

Thus, the Shakespeare Class was entertained in Room 1 at the Robert F. Kidd Library, Wednesday, when Miss Willa Brand, instructor in English in the College, gave her interpretation of the famous sleep-walking scene.

Electric Stylus Added to Library

A new electric stylus has been purchased by the College to be used in the Robert F. Kidd Library, says Laura Ann Miles, librarian. The stylus will be used in indexing for lettering on the covers of books.

Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, who has been ill the past week, is much improved and was able to be out yesterday.

HUNDREDS OF ALUMNI AND FRIENDS EXPECTED HERE SATURDAY FOR SIXTH ANNUAL HOME-COMING DAY ACTIVITIES

OFFICERS ELECTED BY OHNIMGOWHOWS

Dramatic Club Honors Eleanor Waggoner, Mary E. Young and John Barnett

Eleanor Waggoner was elected president of the Ohnimgohow Players, College dramatic organization, at a meeting Thursday evening. John Barnett was elected vice-president, and Mary E. Young, secretary-treasurer.

The club initiated four pledges, Lloyd Elliott, Mary Leone West, Mary E. Young, and John Barnett.

A committee, appointed to supervise the preparation of a float for the Home-coming parade, includes Jack Elder, chairman, John Barnett, and Mary E. Young.

Applications were considered and plans for initiating other students were made. New pledges are: Velda Betts, Paul Collins, Sadie Harliss, Howard Reeder, Goldie Reynolds, John Sims, Damon Starcher, Teddy Taylor, Hansel Warner, and Winifred White.

FRESHMEN ELECT CLASS TREASURER

Committee Named to Arrange
Float for Home-Coming
Parade

Miss Elizabeth Floyd was elected treasurer of the Freshman Class at a called meeting in the College Gymnasium Tuesday night.

R. E. Freed, instructor in the College, gave a talk on, "The Importance of Wearing Freshman Caps."

A committee of five was appointed to arrange for a float in the Homecoming parade. On the committee are: Marjorie Barnett, chairman, Barbara Haumann, William Chokey, James Woofter, and Arthur Holz.

FIVE NEW COURSES OFFERED

Three Subjects Given By Extension;
Two Night Classes

Five courses outside the original curriculum have been organized, it was announced by Dean H. Laban White today. Three subjects are being offered as extension courses. Political Science 102 and American Literature are taught by Carey Woofter, registrar, at Grantsville. A class in Test and Measurements is taught by H. Y. Clark, instructor in education, at Spencer.

Two evening classes have been organized here and are taught on Wednesdays by Linn B. Hickman, instructor in English, and C. P. Harper, social science instructor. These are: Short Story and Economics 103. A course in political science may be started at Spencer.

Social Committee Meets Tonight

The College social committee will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock in Room 203. Plans for a Halloween party will be made and the social calendar for the first semester will be completed.

Mary Allen Boggs was visiting in Charleston Saturday.

Bayard Young, A. B. '32, student at W. V. U., was a week-end visitor at his home in Northview.

Program Will Include Parade,
Football Game, Reception
And Dance

PIONEERS MEET CONCORD

More Than Thirty Floats and Exhibits Will Be Represented
In Line of March

By EARL WOLFE

Hundreds of alumni, their families, and their friends will gather here Saturday to celebrate the sixth annual Home-coming Day of Glenville State Teachers College.

An entertainment program, to include a colorful parade, a football game, a reception and dance, and other activities will begin at 10:00 a. m. and continue until a late hour at night. Miss Pearl Pickens, president of the Alumni Association, says more visitors are expected than ever because there is no conflict this year with the S. E. A. meeting.

Store and shop windows will be decorated with appropriate colors and designs in keeping with Home-coming spirit. Three judges, Miss Margaret Christie, chairman, Hunter Whiting, and Mrs. C. W. Post will select the outstanding window, for which a prize—complimentary tickets to the game—will be awarded.

Parade to Form at 10 a. m.

A parade will form at 10:00 a. m. in front of the College gymnasium. College classes and organizations, local civic clubs, and alumni units will make up the long chain which will move to Court, College, Main, and Lewis streets and then back to the campus.

A police escort will head the parade, followed by a motorcade carrying President E. G. Rohrbough, Dean H. L. White, Miss Pearl Pickens, and others. The Weston Blue and Gray or the Calhoun County High

78 ENROLLED IN TRAINING SCHOOL

Three Students Work Together;
One Hour Spent Observing and Teaching

Seventy-eight students are enrolled in elementary directed teaching under the supervision of Miss Ivy Lee Myers, Dr. John C. Shreve, and H. Y. Clark, all of the education department.

Three students work together in each classroom. One hour a day is spent observing and teaching. The subjects taught are: History reading, geography, arithmetic, spelling, civics, music, language, and elementary science. New material on history, geography, and arithmetic has been added to the training school library.

According to Miss Myers, the critic teachers are giving good reports of student teachers. The critic teachers are: Wahneta Moss, Lucy Wolfe, Juanita Bell, Drusilla Kidd, Evelyn Jones Beall, Lestelle Lorentz, W. E. Hull, C. D. Wilfong, Helen McGee, and Virginia Hall. Miss Bertha E. Olsen is acting critic of first and second grade music, and Miss Myers is critic of sixth and seventh grade English and reading.

PRESTO! ANOTHER HOME-COMING

Perhaps no greater occasion marks the social program of the College than does the annual Home-coming Day. From almost every county in the state, alumni and former students come back to their alma mater as do little chickens respond to the invitational cluck of a mother hen to share something good.

The annual affair brings together again many friends whose youthful and happy days were shared together; many acquaintances that ripened into everlasting friendship are waxed stronger and kept glowing.

If it were in the power of inanimate objects to speak and express emotions, we would not be surprised to see, on Home-coming Day, a big smile on the face of the old clock in the tower. "Turn backward, turn backward, O Time in thy flight" becomes a reality as well as beautiful poetry. Pleasant moments are intimately recalled; new hopes are inspired; castles of pleasant memories are erected to infinite heights.

May such an occasion be forever perpetuated to nourish our College spirit.—Denzel Garrett.

ARE YOU CURIOUS?

Are you curious? Do you have a lively imagination? Do unusual facts or figures strike a responsive chord in you? If you can answer all the foregoing questions in the affirmative, then, according to the psychologist, you have an alert mentality and may possess some of the earmarks of genius.

So far as the human mind is concerned the most stupendous spectacle has never been seen, the strangest fact has never taken place.

Curiously enough, the human mind is finite; has definite limits. It cannot comprehend the distance to the sun, nor can it call forth the breadth of vision and thought necessary to understand the tremendous dimensions of a light year. It is true that man can make comparisons by means of his puny standards of weights and measures, but it does not follow that comprehension is always the result of comparison.

Some enterprising mathematician has figured that if a person were to begin at the age of twenty-one and count at the rate of one per second, he would be almost fifty-three years old by the time he reached the billion mark.

When we are told that 675 tons of coal will be delivered this year to the various buildings on the College campus, exclusive of the new dormitory, we have assimilated just another fact. But when we learn that 16,250 bushels of coal will be used on the grounds, the fact takes on more significance. Now, by further exploration, we learn that would be 29,830,000 one-inch cubes of coal, which would make a vertical column approximately 5650 miles high, almost one-fourth of the distance around the earth.

Example after example might be cited, but all would lead to one conclusion. Man blunders on, making little use of unlimited opportunity to develop his powers of observation, thereby lessening his already limited powers of comprehension.—Otis Rexroad.

OPEN LETTER

To the Editors of the Mercury:

Dancing may afford the fullest measure of pleasing and healthful recreation only after one has learned to respond to the rhythm of music and to relax and move in graceful unison with one's partner.

If one is a beginner, he should not resent suggestions from those who have had more experience. If one is a veteran dancer, he should endeavor to share his accomplishment. Remember, too, that good ballroom etiquette demands consideration and courtesy from all to all.—A Student.

To the Editors of the Mercury:

Where is the "annual" the Student Council announced we were going to have? Will this year be like last? The students are talked into the idea of having one, and then the council drops the plans without even an explanation.

I believe I speak for most of the students in school when I say, Glenville State Teachers College ought to have a yearbook. Those who know us say that our school spirit is terrible. Personally, I do not believe this. But, if it is—what could we do that would better the situation or change the minds of those people more than to publish an "annual"?

Campus :—: :—: Capers

With Home-coming but a few days off, tension on the College campus has reached a new high. Girls are looking forward to the arrival of their "Big Moments" . . . Playboys are preparing for their annual "Blowout," and the plebes are tramping around in circles wondering what it's all about. . . . But enough of the pre-stuff. . . . Let's see what has really developed right before the eyes of your own Winchell.

Wall-flowers were numerous at the Leap-Year dance Saturday night. . . . They were not girls, either. . . . The pretty co-eds went right to town and enjoyed a field-day of tagging the big he-men. . . . What is this power that Robinson and Rogers hold over the flames? . . . Did you notice how these two were rushed? . . . Paul ("Pop") Mason, ousted president of the Library Laborers' Association and originator of the famous "Preston France," also came in for his share of the glory. . . . Velda seems to be getting along nicely in her initial campus romance with Teddy. . . . Robert ("Red") Davies is finding a little time now and then for the feds. . . . This time it is a pretty miss who works down at the I. G. A. . . . Most prominent among the Grill loafers' absentees is Casey Jones. . . . Wonder if those frequent sojourns to Weston will explain? . . . Sterling ("Cowboy") Cunningham, tobacco-chewing champion from dear ol' sunny Cal, claims the Casino championship of the school and will meet all comers at the Library Den. . . . Br, Br-r-r—it's getting cold! . . . Too bad the football field doesn't have a field house. . . . John Shreve and one of the Capital City's co-eds are hitting it off smoothly. . . . Alah, with thoughts of Herman only a memory, is devoting plenty of time to a big handsome freshman. . . . And as the undertaker would say: May you all live forever, and may I live to bury you. . . . Thass all there is. Be seeing you Home-coming Day. —The Mercury Stooze.

If a paddle-packer had to paddle a pack of paddle-packers, how many paddles would a paddle-packer have to pack?

If it is our fault that an "annual" is not published, then let us show the Council that we really mean to have one.—An Interested Student.

Way of the World

By WOLFE and WEST

IN THE DAY'S NEWS—

Men, as a rule, tip more generously than women; the latter tip heavily only when among other women. Paul Revere, famed horseman of the Revolution, was also an expert silversmith, bell-caster, dentist, and engraver.

The word "communism" first was coined in the secret revolutionary societies of Paris between 1834 and 1839.

Every six minutes there is an accidental death in the United States. The dull red tint of the Red Sea arises from millions of microscopic plants called algae.

Russia, Brazil, the United States, and Canada have the largest forest resources in the world.

A Japanese legend has it that music was devised by the gods to lure the sun goddess from a cave to which she had retired.

ZOOLOGICAL STUDIES

The yellow jacket isn't long, Nor yet so very thick, But, man alive, he s-re is strong In letting loose a kick.

AND SOME HUMOR—

Mr. Harper—For example, gloves are made at Gloversville. Mr. Collins, where are collars made? Paul Collins—At Collarville.

The bright young pupil looked long and thoughtfully at the second examination question which read: "State the number of tons of coal shipped out of the United States in any given year."—Then his brow cleared, and he wrote: "1492—none."

Miss Laura Ann Miles recently misplaced her umbrella and was found looking for it under "U" in the card catalog.

Miss Walker—Every day we breathe oxygen. What do we breathe at night?

Freshman—Nitrogen.

—A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Dare to Dream

Are you playing on the "sand lots of business?" then dare to dream great dreams about playing in the Big League of Business with the Deers of Big Things. If you are playing with the Scrubs on the sales force, dream of being a star salesman. If you are just one of the preliminary fighters in the Prize Ring of Business, dream of being a champion. In every field of life the men who ring the bell are the men who dare dream big dreams.—Selected.

FRESHMEN SHOULD KNOW—

That after being kept in hot water so long by demanding teachers, one will surely become hard-boiled.

That being "burned up" about something doesn't necessitate going up in smoke.

A bird in the hand is bad table manners.

In case of fire, stand still—green things won't burn.

That you aren't supposed to wait until the bell rings to go to class—we use a clock here.

If you want to remember things, tie a string around your finger. If you want to forget things, tie a rope around your neck.

—AND SOME VERSE "D'S"

(With apologies to the author of the noble poem "Trees.")

I think that I shall never see A grade so woeful as a "D."

A "D" whose spiteful face looks out And puts my week-end plans to rout.

A "D" that may in fall or spring Be such a hateful, dreadful thing; Whose aspect fills me with despair And plagues my weary heart with care

All other folks get "A" or "B," But oh! Alas, I get a "D."

—Opal Carper, '37.

At the Library

New Books at the Library

Several new plays have been added to the Robert F. Kidd Library. They are: "First Lady," Katharine Dayton; "End of Summer," S. N. Behrman; and "Romeo and Juliet," the motion picture edition, by William Shakespeare.

Some books of fiction that have been added are: "Weather in the Streets," Rosamond Lehmann; "Spring Storm," Alvin Johnson; and "Gaudy Night," Dorothy Sayers.

The following books of travel and biography have been added: "The Way of a Transgressor," Negley Farson; "Finland, the New Nation," Agnes Rothery; "Nantucket," William O. Stevens; "Father Struck Rich," Evalyn W. McLean; and "Ben Jonson," John Palmer.

"The Way of a Transgressor" Negley Farson, is an autobiographical story of an American journalist. "His book contains literally hundreds of episodes and anecdotes from the experience of a fishing, sailing New Jersey boy who became a famous college athlete, and engineer in England, spent two years in Czarist Russia, served with the Royal Flying Corps in Egypt, lay in the hospitals of several nations, went native in British Columbia, returned to sensational auto sales promoting, sailed 3600 miles through Europe in a small boat, and then for ten years as a foreign correspondent dashed around to the trouble centers of a dozen countries."

Anna Mae Cunningham spent the week-end at her home at Tioga.

Josephine Riffie and Eleanor Waggoner of Verona Mapel Hall, spent the week-end at their homes in Weston.

Students While Away Time by Mixing Hamburgers and Grading Systems

[This story—maybe a typical example of student conversation—is contributed by Cleo Berry.]

The other day as I sat in the Crystal Restaurant, my attention was drawn to two students, Johnny and Mary, who were discussing their teachers. Thus the conversation ran:

"Great guns! Isn't Mr. — going to be tough in that course? I'll bet my socks he flunks half of us," Johnny remarked.

"Heck, no! This is going to be a snap course," Mary replied. "I've had six hours to him before. All I can see wrong with him is that he gives me the same grade every time. If one makes a 'B' in one of his courses, he can't raise or lower that grade."

"Well, maybe I have a chance. I made a 'C' in that course we had together last summer, and I didn't study so hard, either."

"Goody, I pulled a 'B' in that one, and I didn't even study my text book. In fact, I never bought one."

"That's the way. You girls get all the breaks. I'll bet Mr. — is stuck on you. The men teachers all ways favor women students."

"Here comes Charles Brown. We shall see what he has to say about the professor. He was the only student in the class who made an 'A', I believe."

"No, he is the teacher's pet, and, of course he will think that the professor is all right. He is a boy, though, so we'll let him decide."

"Hi there, Charley."

"Hi there, Charley."

"How do you do, Miss Smith. How do you do Mr. Taylor."

"Oh, Charley, we've been discussing Mr. —'s ability as a teacher. What do you think of his grading system?" Mary asked expectantly.

Charles replied, "I have nothing to say that will add or detract from the efficiency of his grading system. He uses a scientific means of measuring. He does not give anyone his grade."

Alumni President

Miss Pearl Pickens, above, of Glenville, is president of the Glenville State Teachers College Alumni Association.

One makes his own grade; the professor merely sets the grades down. Good day, I have to study for tomorrow."

"Good day."

"Good day."

"Well, Mary, he did not settle our question whether the professor favors women or not. I still say I'm right."

Canterbury Pilgrims On Exhibit

Sand Fork High School Students Display Work at College

An exhibit of Canterbury Pilgrims, made by seniors of Sand Fork High School, is on display in Room 107 at the College. The characters are represented by dolls and clay figures which are fastened to a card-board.

Among the characters represented are Chaucer when a boy, by Pauline Detamore; the Yeoman, by Marie Lynch; the Scholar, by Genevieve Snyder; the Pardoner, by Beulah Steel; Wife of Bath, by Anna Laura Amick; the Prioress, by Eva Mae Burke; the Cook, by Chloe Hiney; the Knight, by Jack Keith, Jr.; the Squire, by Isabell Stout. The Merchant, by Teresa Butcher, was made of clay and human hair.

Three booklets including the life of Chaucer and character sketches of the Pilgrims complete the exhibit, which was made as an outside project under the supervision of Miss Pauline Roberts.

EXCITEMENT CAUSED AS FACULTY MEMBER ENCOUNTERS POLE CAT

One of the faculty members narrowly escaped being socially ostracized when he encountered what is commonly known as a pole cat in front of Kanawha Hall, Saturday night. The kitty looked its opponent over, decided against a gas attack, and ambled on about its business, leaving the faculty member in possession of the walk.

Eye-witnesses of the encounter were Whitman Hull, Randolph Urbanick and Russell Porterfield. During the ensuing conversation, Mr. Hull gave as the definition of a pole cat: "An animal to be killed with a pole; the longer the pole the better."

Dean H. L. White Attends Meeting

H. Laban White, dean, represented Glenville State Teachers College at a meeting in Charleston Thursday and Friday, October 15 and 16. The various school agencies of West Virginia met to consider ways and means of enacting school legislation in the next session of the state legislature.

Old Toilet Bowls Drop From Attic to Bring Life to Holy Roller Court

By JOHN ROGERS

Clatter! Bang! Crash! Amid such noise and confusion was the Holy Roller Court conceived one night in the fall of 1928. And today, amid annual initiation ceremonies, the court members go Smack! Ouch! Wham! But it's all in fun.

Coach A. F. ("Nate") Rohrbough was coming up Court Street toward Kanawha Hall. Suddenly he heard a great noise. He hurried on and reached the dormitory in time to see and hear some old toilet bowls come bouncing, banging and cracking down stairs from the attic.

There were rumors of expelling certain students. In order to protect themselves, the "rollers" banded together, believing, of course, that there would be power in numbers. What happened when the students went to the office of President E. G. Rohrbough was kept in the dark. But what happened to the students who banded together on that famous night is still making history. For out of all that confusion came the Holy Roller Court, an organization which is now headed by Paul Fulk, senior, of Weston.

Many members have come into the organization and many have gone out. But each year most of them return to the College to enjoy the court's big dance, one of the major social campus functions.

Just now initiation ceremonies are in progress, except for the football men who have been ruled out until the season closes, for Coach A. F. Rohrbough slapped a damper on the paddling and ruled that such tactics would not build football players. Other plebes, however, are going through with the exercises, and hardly an hour passes but one hears a familiar wham and an ouch reverberating from Administration Hall.

Many members of the court, that is those who have been in and have been graduated, are now holding high school coaching positions. Among them are Carlos Ratliff, promoted this year to assistant coach at Hinton; Gordon Eismen, coach at Elizabeth; Lionel Heron, Spencer; Harold Porterfield, Summersville; Paul ("Babe") Jones, Richwood; and Archie Morris, Burnsville.

Men Will Begin Plaster Finishing In New Boys' Dormitory This Week

Exterior work on the new dormitory is almost completed, according to C. W. Loar, superintendent of construction. Some grading remains to be done where the field office of the construction company now stands.

On the interior, the brown coat of plaster is complete on three floors. The application of the white, or finish layer, will begin this week. Placing of window frames and interior wood trim will take place as soon as plastering is completed.

The new dormitory is a P. W. A. project. The federal government is paying 45 per cent of the cost of construction; the remaining 55 per cent will be paid out of the income from room rentals. Payments will extend over a period of years at a moderate rate of interest.

The original bid on the building, including materials, was $122,212, but additional excavations and changes in specifications have brought the total cost to near $130,000.

The federal government is providing some money for furniture; the state will furnish whatever additional amount is needed.

Bids are now being received for supplying furniture for the building. The contract will be let by October 30.

Modern university graduates apparently have no illusions left on the value of a diploma. Thirty-seven diplomas belonging to this year's graduating class of the University of California are awaiting for their owners to call for them.

Professor Warren, of Harvard Law School, concedes a modern youth a little: "An A. B. degree nowadays means that the holder has mastered the first two letters of the alphabet."

Economy has frequently nothing whatever to do with the amount of money being spent, but with the wisdom used in spending it.—Henry Ford.

CLASS SPONSORS GIVE PARTY FOR FRESHMEN

Miss Lois Thompson and James Petry entertained with a series of tap dances at the freshman informal reception Thursday afternoon from 3:30 until 4:00 o'clock in the College gymnasium. Approximately 125 students attended the party, which was given by the class sponsors, Miss Ivy Lee Myers, Carey Woofter and H. Y. Clark.

Other entertainment features were group and individual songs and yells. Refreshments were served.

The reception was the first of its kind this year, and because it was so well attended, the sponsors have agreed to give another one soon.

Freshmen All Agog Over Home-Coming; Wants Ma and Pa to See Big "Prade"

Dear Ma,
Guess you can go ahead and sell my pig cause I got to have some money. October twenty-fourth is Home-coming Day and us freshmen are going to paint the town red. I guess to do much painting I'll have to have as much as a dollar.

I suppose this will be a state holiday so you and Pa can hitch old Dobbin to the buggy and come over.

On Saturday morning there will be a prade and lots of important people will be here. I think Pa could give one of his campaign speeches and maybe get several votes. As I said many important people will be here: Shakespeare, who is either a football player or a writer; Chaucer, who made a pilgrimage somewhere, I think he is the one who came across on the Mayflower with the Pilgrims; also the Holy Roller Court will be in the parade, they carry hand paddles and use them on freshmen, that's why I have to eat standing up; the Chemistry Club, Current Events Club and all the other clubs and classes on the kampus will be in the prade. The Freshman Class will be the largest group in the prade and we are not only the largest but we are purty influential on the kampus. I guess in all the prade will be two or three miles long. At least one of the seniors told me so.

Saturday afternoon the football team is goin to meet the Concord Mountain Lions. This football is a funny game. It reminds me of a free-for-all on lection day at home. One side is given the ball and the other side tries to get it away and the boys just knock each other around somtin awful.

After the ball game we are going to have a hoe-down in the gymnasium, that is where we have our class in gymnastics. This dance won't be quite like our dances. We'll have a brass band to dance to and not the banjo and fiddle like we have at home. You go up to a gel and ask to dance, you and me out on the floor and then you put your arm around her and she don't slap you either. You prance around on the floor with the gal walking on your feet most of the time but I guess that is part of the dance. The band is comin clear from Clarksburg.

I guess this here Home-coming will be the greatest event in the state. I don't know whether we will get the President or not but I heard that there were going to be some wful important men there.

When you come over if you can't find the College get someone to show you where it is for Glenville is mighty hard place to find your way about at first.

Your son Bill.
P. S. Better bring my red flannels over when you come cause it's gettin right chilly these nights.

Miss Grace Lorentz, dietitian in the College, left the past week for Baltimore where she is to receive medical treatment. She will return this week.

Mercury Reporters Granted Interview By Miss Ethel Barrymore Colt

By ROBERT DAVIES and JOHN BARNETT

"I have acted in everything except grand opera and burlesque," smilingly suggested Miss Ethel Barrymore Colt the past Tuesday night as she sat down front in the College Auditorium immediately following her appearance here in the Jitney Players "The Rivals."

And then she looked at us and continued: "Well, what is the first thing you want to know?"

We asked her a few questions and she told us these things:

"I received my early training at a finishing school abroad and I have gone back twice to study dramatics. For two years I have been with the Jitney Players and I like them because they are really the nearest thing nowadays to strolling players, the type my ancestors were when they used to ride around in carriages, throw out a rug wherever they happened to be, and give a performance then and there.

"I got my first part as 'Seraphine" in "Scarlet Sister Mary," the play Mother was in at the time. Then I had three months of one-night stands with Mother in the South, playing in "The Love Duel." And after that came musical comedy review, vaudeville, radio singing and acting, a season with the Municipal Opera Company of St. Louis and a summer at Skowhegan, Me.

"My uncles, John and Lionel Barrymore, have never influenced me, for I have always prided myself in having a mind of my own. We never talked theater in our family, except as a business man might speak of coming home from the office."

At this time, Douglas Rowland, who played the part of Bob Acres in "The Rivals," interrupted to remark, "Come on, sister, let's hurry. We want to get some sleep tonight."

"Are you ready?" asked Miss Colt, as she looked at Mr. Rowland and then turned to us, clasped her hands over her head and smiled, "Goodbye and good luck."

Game Played on Wet Field;
Glenville Allows Visitors
Only One Touchdown

EVERETT HOWES IS STAR

Porterfield and Bennett Strong in Backfield; McMillen Makes Good Showing

Coach Bartell's Hilltoppers proved so powerful for the Pioneers Saturday, and the boys from up-state went off to Rohrbough Stadium with a 6-0 victory. Because of the weight of their line, the muddy field proved ideal for the Hilltoppers.

After outplaying the West Liberty team the first quarter, the Pioneers weakened, allowing the visitors to put across the only marker of the game.

Romero Scores

Having gained on exchanges of punts, West Liberty got possession of the ball on the Glenville 41-yard line. Held until the third down without gain, Kuznicki, broke loose for 11 yards and a first down on the Glenville 30. Romero was held, Kuznicki made 4 yards through right tackle and carried the ball to the Glenville 6. On the next play, Romero, on a reverse around left end, carried the ball to the Glenville 3-yard stripe. The Pioneer line held twice, but on third down Romero went over for the touchdown. Churchman's place-kick was wide.

West Liberty gained on the first exchange of punts in the second half. Kalcum, punting from his own 45, got off a 50-yard kick which Bennett, Glenville safety man, picked up on his own 5-yard line. Sidestepping and stiff-arming his way to the Glenville 39, Bennett completed the longest run of the game but was forced out of bounds by the West Liberty secondary.

Pioneers Threaten Often

The Pioneers threatened twice in the final period, but both rallies fell short of the goal line. Gibson punted to Romero who fumbled on the West Liberty 41. Glenville recovered. After carrying the ball to the Hilltopper's 30, Edwards, attempting to toss a pass, fumbled and West Liberty recovered. Another exchange of punts and West Liberty held the ball on their own 20. Romero lost 15 yards on the next play, and Kalcum was forced to punt from behind his own goal line. Bennett received the punt on West Liberty's 38 and carried it down to the 28. Glenville gained 5 yards on a West Liberty penalty, but were held on downs, ending the threat. The ball was in possession of West Liberty on their own 30-yard stripe as the game ended.

Featured in the contest was the great defensive work of Evert Howes, Pioneer guard, who broke through the line several times to throw the Hilltoppers for losses. Porterfield and Bennett were outstanding in the backfield, while McMillen, freshman end, made a good showing. For West Liberty, the running and ball-carrying of Romero was a feature of the game.

Substitutions: Glenville—Bennett, McDonnell, McMillen, Staats,

WELCOME OLD GRADS, visitors and fans. This is the one day in the year when we share the school again with you. Help us to make this the best Home-coming of them all. Show these young Pioneers the way it should be done.

OLD LADY LUCK was right at the game Saturday but certainly she was occupying the West Liberty bench. A tough game for any team to lose, but such is football. We should forget about the past and think about the future. What is in store for us this Saturday? Well, we wish we knew.

DID YOU NOTICE that cheering section? What with a drizzling rain and the Pioneers behind six points, they didn't even stop. The cheer leaders, with umbrellas over their heads, led the pep gang right through to the finish. Isn't that school spirit? We ask you?

WE AREN'T TRYING to alibi, but we were just wondering what the score would have been if the weather had been different. A different tale, we'll guess. Glenville's backfield is hard to stop on a dry day.

GUY BENNETT SHOWED plenty of stuff Saturday. Hope he duplicates the performance Saturday, Evert Howes really earned the name of "Speedy"... He played as we have never seen him play before. Porterfield was great on his line plunging and Jim McMillen, freshman end, did considerable damage to the Hilltopper backs.

AGAIN, LET US welcome the grads, visitors and football fans. And don't forget the big parade—the football game and the dance. See you at the game.

RILEY FORFEITS TO NOROSKI

Louis Romano Elected Captain of New Volley Ball Team

Captain June Riley's team, winner of two straight, forfeited to Noroski Wednesday evening in the volleyball race for intramural honors. It was the only game scheduled for the past week.

A new team, captained by Louis Romano, was organized. Members of the team are Laban White, Teddy Taylor, Paul Collins, Brooks Golden, Henry Norris and William Kidd.

Chokey, the only undefeated team in the league, will open this week's schedule Monday evening when he meets Harry Hall's team. Romano will make his first appearance Tuesday when his team clashes with Mick Osbourn and Naylor will meet Wednesday. On Thursday evening Riley will play Noroski.

CONCORD LIONS HERE SATURDAY

Pioneers Settle Down to Hard Work in Preparation For Home-Coming Game

Although they were victims of the West Liberty Hilltoppers on a rain-drenched field Saturday, the Pioneers resumed a series of afternoon practices yesterday in preparation for the Home-coming battle with the Concord Mountain Lions—the game which will draw the season's largest crowd. The kick-off will come at 2 p. m. Admission will be seventy-five cents.

Concord has a veteran eleven and boasts three straight wins with not a score against them. Because of this impressive record, the Lions will enter Saturday's game a slight precontest favorite. The past year Glenville lost to Concord, 13 to 6. The Lions beat Morris-Harvey, Saturday, 14-0.

Coach A. F. ("Nate") Rohrbough was favorably impressed with the showing of his men Saturday against West Liberty, despite the fact his proteges emerged on the short end of a 6-0 score. Evert ("Speedy") Howes, guard was the most outstanding star of the game. He broke through on the West Liberty backfield all afternoon and frequently nailed the visiting ball-toters in their tracks. Martino, Summers, Mowrey, Bickel, and Fulks also turned in fine line performances, as did Cottle, Gibson and Porterfield in the backfield.

Andrew Edwards, ace ball-toter, will likely get back into scrimmage this week, after having been out with a bad leg.

Students Get New Bulletin Board

The bulletin board at the left of the entrance to Room 103 is to be used by the student body, Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., president of the Student Council, announced Wednesday. Mr. Craddock asks that all clubs and organizations use this board. The old bulletin board at the entrance of the auditorium will be used by members of the faculty.

Hundreds Expected For Home-Coming

School Band, will lead the procession.

Millard Cunningham, who was recently elected 1936-37 Pioneer, will ride in a cart drawn by oxen, and will wear a costume typical of pioneer days. Following him will stalk a snarling Mountain Lion, symbolical of Concord State Teachers College. Boldly and sedately, Miss Albia Arbuckle, head marshal of the parade, will be at his heels riding her sorrel horse, "Victor." She will be dressed in blue and white, and will be assisted by twenty-four honorary marshals, including: Neil Albaugh, Elbert Backus, Fredrick Bell, Laddie Bell, Newton Cooper, Jack Elder, Lloyd Elliott, Denzel Garrett, William Hamilton, Bertchel Kittle, John Marra, James McHenry, Richard McKinney, Wendall McNemar, Edward Meadows, James Croner Musser, Jr., John Rogers, John Sims, Damon Starcher, Kendall Strother, Willis Tatterson, and Harold Winters, all students in the College. The honorary marshals will wear blue paper fez caps and carry wooden staffs from which will dangle blue and white streamers.

Classes to Be Represented

All alumni will either ride or march in the parade arranged in order of graduation. The oldest graduates, of course, will hold the highest places of honor. All classes in the College will be represented by floats in which will ride some members of each. The Chemistry Club will be represented by twenty new members, who were recently pledged, wearing their laboratory aprons and carrying their flasks (chemically speaking). Vorley Rexroad, alias Geoffrey Chaucer, will be mounted for his annual pilgrimage. Members of the Holy Roller Court will wear bath-ropes as usual, but they are keeping their other plans a secret. Other organizations which will be represented are: The Current Events Club, The Ohningohow Players, The G Club, The Y. W. C. A. The Y. M. C. A., and The Glee Club, and The Mercury.

Earl R. Boggs, last year's president of the Alumni Association, will bring back memories of Glenville's first graduating class, that of 1874, as he drives a cart, drawn by two mules and bearing a member of that class. The class of 1890 will be represented by Stanley Hall, '29, and Mabel Wolfe, '33, dressed in 1890 attire and riding bicycles. Miss Lestelle Lorentz, '36, will drive a pony cart, reminiscent of the days of 1910.

Gilmer County Band to March

Members of the Gilmer County Band, in red and white uniforms, will add color to the rear half of the procession. After returning to the campus, the parade will disband, and everyone will take time out for lunch.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, a football game between the Concord Lions and the Glenville Pioneers will begin. Admission will be 75c. Freshmen, wearing their blue and white caps, will form a "G" in the stadium.

For the evening entertainment, a reception, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, will precede a dance at 9:00. Joe Mallory's orchestra of Clarksburg will furnish the music. Admission for the dance is 75c. In the receiving line will be: President and Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Dean and Mrs. H. L. White, Stanley Hall, Miss Hazel Fisher, Nelson Wells, Mrs. Fern Rolylson, Mrs. Gilbert Cain, Fred Madison Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Boggs, Miss Alma Arbuckle, Robert T. Crawford, Linn B. Hickman, Miss Drusilla Kidd, and Miss Pearl Pickens.

There will be no registration this year, according to Miss Pickens, who will be general chairman of the Home-coming Day activities. Assisting her with the day's program will be the following committees: Parade, Mrs. Gilbert Cain, chairman, Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough, Earl Boggs, Stanley Hall, and Lestelle Lorentz; decorating, Wilbur Beall, Mrs. Frank M. Beall, and Helen McGee; publicity, Linn B. Hickman and Carey Woolter; entertainment, Fred Madison Whiting, Mrs. Earl Boggs and Louise Cain; refreshments, Mrs. Fern Rolylson, Pauline Roberts, and C. D. Wilfong; property, Drusilla Kidd, Donald Young, and Virginia Hall; ticket sales, Robert T. Crawford.
