JAMES C. WILSON WILL SPEAK HERE ON JANUARY 15

Noted Writer and Lecturer to Illustrate Talk With Colored Slides

HAS TRAVELED WIDELY

Pres. E. G. Rohrbough Announces
Other Artists' Course Features
For Second Semester

The Student Council announces that plans have been completed to present James C. Wilson, writer, lecturer, and traveler, as the first number on the Artists' Course for the second semester. Mr. Wilson will lecture in the College Auditorium Friday night, Jan. 15, at 8:15 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson, who with his companion, Francis Flood, traveled 3806 miles in the African jungle on a motorcycle, will lecture on the subject, "Three-Wheeling Through Africa."

With motion pictures, colored slides, and an exhibit of gifts from native chiefs, he will illustrate the story of this motorcycle adventure among tribes of the jungle and the colonial officers who maintain white man's authority in Africa.

Rarely gifted as a speaker, Mr. Wilson will combine happily in his lecture, breath-taking adventure, crackling humor, and discerning observations. His articles have appeared in the National Geographic Magazine, and his book, "Three Wheeling Through Africa" was published this past fall.

Pres. E. G. Rohrbough announces that two other numbers have been added to the Artists' Course. The Little Philharmonic Orchestra will give a concert Wednesday night, March 10 and John Erskine, noted author and lecturer, will speak Monday night, March 22.

Final Rites For Mrs. Carnifax

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Carnifax were held Sunday, Nov. 29 at Alderson Church at Craigsville. Mrs. Carnifax is the mother of Lota Carnifax, a student in the College.

Hickman and Roberts Visit Here

J. H. Hickman, secretary of the State Education Association, and Jean Valjean Roberts, '26, field agent, were visitors at the College the past Wednesday.

Yearbook Staff Asks Cooperation

Tomorrow's assembly period will be given over to the taking of group pictures for the "Kanawhachen" College annual. All students are asked to observe these instructions:

Pictures will be taken in front of Robert F. Kidd Library between 10 and 11 a. m. Members of the following groups are asked to assemble immediately after dismissal of 10 o'clock classes: Canterbury Club, Chemistry Club, Ohnimgohow Players, Current Events Club, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Social Committee, Student Body Officers, Orchestra and Freshman and Sophomore Classes.

Thomas Dotson, business manager, will be on hand to arrange groups. Students will please report immediately when groups are called. Treasurers of organizations will be held responsible for collection of ten-cent fee from each member of each organization.

G CLUB MINSTREL TO BE SATURDAY

Fulks to Act As Interlocutor;
Jokes and Songs to Feature
Program

The annual G Club minstrel will be given by the members of the club Saturday night at 7:45 in the College Auditorium.

All members will take part. Paul Fulks, president of the club, will act as interlocutor. The end men are: John Bohensky, Samuel Whitman, Albert Lilley, John Mowrey, Guy Bennett, and Robert Davies. Other members of the club will be seated on the stage wearing their G sweaters.

NEW DORMITORY IS INSPECTED

Three Members of the Board of Control Here to Look Over Structure

Completion of the new dormitory at an early date was indicated last Tuesday when a preliminary inspection tour of the building was made.

Those who came to examine the construction work are as follows: C. C. Wood, supervising architect of the building; C. P. Nelson, M. D. Carrico, and A. B. White, members of the West Virginia State Board of Control; Luther E. Lowe and H. H. Stephens, traveling engineering inspectors for P. W. A.; H. S. Shryock, state engineering inspector for three states; J. F. McCulloch, assistant state engineering inspector, and Wayne Coombs, member of Baker and Coombs Construction Company.

According to C. W. Loar, superintendent of construction, the wiring, including placing of outlet receptacles, is practically completed. All weather-stripping is in place and the long windows facing the stairways have been installed.

A plank coat of gypsum compound is being applied to the subflooring preparatory to receiving the composition tile flooring.

The flooring will be made up of various patterns with black border and black base, says Frank Williams, resident architect. Three color schemes will be used in the building.

COMPLETES YEARBOOK STAFF

Editor Otis Rexroad Names Students

CLUB PLANS ANNUAL FAIR

Fred Bell Shows Moving Pictures of Home-coming Parade

Members of the Chemistry Club discussed plans for their second annual fair and were entertained by a moving picture of the Home-coming Parade the past Tuesday night in Room 201. President Creaver Dimmick appointed the following committee to make arrangements for the fair: Marjorie Craddock, Leah Stalnaker, Ione Brown, Fred Bell, and Willis Tattersson.

William Ramsey was in charge of the program. Topics relating to the study of chemistry were discussed by John Sims, Damon Starcher, Fred Bell, and William Ramsey. Moving pictures of the Home-coming parade were shown by Fred Bell.

Miss Winifred White was a guest of Miss Anna Mae Cunningham of Tioga, Nicholas County, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

MISS BRAND TO ENTERTAIN CLUB

Annual Christmas Party to Be Held at Verona Maple Hall
Saturday Night

Members of the Canterbury Club will be entertained immediately after the G Club minstrel, Saturday night, at Verona Maple Hall, by Miss Willa Brand, founder and sponsor of the club.

Canterbury stories will be told by some of the members, after which there will be a social hour. When the clock strikes twelve, Miss Brand and her guests will gather around the large open fire-place and sing Christmas carols.

CHORAL CLASS TO PRESENT CANTATA

Christmas Music to Be Given in Assembly; Also at the Presbyterian Church

"The Hope of the World," a Christmas cantata by R. A. Schneck, will be presented by the College Choral Class in assembly Wednesday morning, Dec. 16. The cantata, under the direction of Miss Bertha Olsen, also will be given Sunday morning, Dec. 13, at 11 o'clock in the Glenville Presbyterian church. The accompanists on this occasion will be Mrs. J. E. Arbuckle at the organ and Miss Virginia Vinson at the piano.

The cantata is cast in four parts: Introduction, "Ring Forth, Ye Bells"; part I, "The Shepherds"; part II, "The Wise Men"; and conclusion, "Hail, Royal Babe."

In addition to the full chorus, the following vocal ensembles will be heard: Double quartet, Alyce Walker and Marguerite Moss, sopranos; Marjorie Barnett and Hilda Leader, altos; Vorley Rexroad and Elbert Backus, tenors; Hansel Warner and Harold Winters, bass. Alyce Walker will be the soloist. The women's trio includes Alyce Walker, Marguerite Moss and Marjorie Barnett.

Additional Christmas selections will be presented by the orchestra and a vocal sextette composed of Alyce Walker, Winifred White, Marguerite Moss, Lois Thompson, Marjorie Barnett, and Hilda Leader.

HARD WORK PAYS THE BILL

We read that there is a price for everything, be it home, clothes, dissipation, success, or even grades for school work. Three weeks ago, mid-semester marks were given. What are we buying and what is the price we are paying? The price of a successful college career is hard work. Grades are merely cash registers that show what we are paying toward our education. Mid-semester grades are only records of our down payments. However, the account soon will be closed. There are approximately five weeks of school remaining, five weeks in which to improve grades that are not satisfactory. The price is hard work.—John Rogers.

SELLING EDUCATION

Every successful teacher should be an ideal salesman. The greatest teacher the world has ever known was also the greatest salesman. In this rapidly moving age, with new methods of teaching being introduced, it will be necessary that we as teachers learn to sell education.

It is usually true that people accept new things readily, but not so with education. Here we must contact the prospect (parent) through the children. There will be no better way to make a success of our teaching profession than through the child. If what we have to offer in the way of an education is worth while, then we can prove to the world we are not selling a cure-all.

When we have finished our course of study, will we be able to sell our "wares"? Will we have acquired sufficient knowledge to convince the buying public that we have something worth while? If so, then we may be able to find a job.—Paul Carr.

ESTIMATING OUR ACHIEVEMENTS

Mid-semester has come and gone. We have finished another period of intensive training. Our instructors have rated us according to our mastery of the subject matter presented. Those of us who received high marks will maintain that we received our just due, while those of us who received low ranking will contend that we have been unjustly dealt with.

There is a tendency among us to place too much emphasis on high grades. It is freely admitted by most educators that a bright student can put in a few hours of intensive preparation and pass a test with a high mark. Such a grade is unfair to the student because a false value is attached. A small amount of effort has yielded a reward out of all proportions to the investment of time and application.

It is possible for us to arrive at a fair judgment as to the accuracy of a grade by comparing our ability and application with the mark we received. No one can do that for us, because we are the ones who know how well we have laid the foundation for learning, and how zealously we have builded on that foundation.

Let us then as students place emphasis where it belongs, on careful preparation, close observation and practical application of what we learn; the grades will then be more truly representative of the degree of our achievement.

AT THE LIBRARY

New books recently added to the Robert F. Kidd Library on physiology and physical education are: "Elementary Human Anatomy," Katherine Sibley; "Physiology of Exercise," James H. McCurdy; "History of Physical Education in Colleges for Women," Dorothy Ainsworth; "Achievement Scales in Physical Education for Men," Frederick W. Cozens; "Theory of Play," E. D. Mitchell; "Tumbling," Bonnie Cotterall; "Health and Social Progress," R. M. Binder; and "History of Physical Education," Fred E. Lennard.

Two debate series, "Freedom of Speech" and "Government Ownership ship of Electric Utilities" by Julia Johnson, have arrived at the library.

The following general books have been catalogued: "Flowering of New England," Van Wyck Brooks; "Green Laurels," Dinald Culross Peattie; "Was College Worth While?" John R. Tunis; and "History of American Sailing Ships," Howard I. Chapelle.

Members of the College faculty discussed plans for second-semester laboratory schedules, Tuesday night, in Room 101. Instructors present were: H. L. White, dean; Miss Margaret Christie, art; Miss Ivy Lee Myers, education; Miss Gladys Walker, biology; E. R. Grose, biology; John R. Wagner, physics and chemistry; and Clarence Post, geography.

The What, the How and the Who

[Editor's note: The following was contributed by Dean H. L. White during his talk on the education week program in assembly, Wednesday, Nov. 25.]

This is Education Week

The time when everyone should seek To extend his information Concerning the status of education.

There are three main lines of inquiry, The What, the How, and the Who. I shall consider the last one, Since these others have done the first two.

Rousseau, Pestalozzi, and Troebel, Horace Mann, Mark Hopkins, and James, Conant, Hutchins, and Boucher To you are familiar names.

"What's in a name?" inquired Shakespeare; Answer to which I'll try to make clear,

And instead of going afar to roam, Like charity, I shall begin at home.

Arbuckle is, it is plain to see, The name of a very little tree. A Bell is a cup turned upside down, Which, when swung, gives a ringing sound.

Brand is a high-falutin name Put upon wares to sell the same.

Boggs are wet and soggy ground Where many weeds and frogs are found.

Christie means a little saint And also one who likes to paint.

A Clark is one who can write and read And also cast accounts with speed.

Crawford means a ford for crows Where Crawfish live, as everyone knows.

Dobson's the son of Dob, you know; And Dob is another name for crow.

Freed is the past-tense form of free, But since he's married, how can it be?

Grose means a hundred and forty-four In arithmetic, neither less nor more.

A Harper may be a skilled musician Or a person who's fond of repetition.

Hickman's a name on which I stick—I find the man but not the Hick.

Miles on any road or street Are 5280 feet.

That Myers means either lake or sea Is quite apparent to you and me.

Olsen's the son of Ole, I ween, But certainly not of Margerine.

Post means the same as place or position And "well posted" means great erudition.

As well as I could learn from the book, Rohrbough means a noisy brook.

Shreve is ancient English for sheriff Who collected the tax in the boroughs.

A Wagner used to drive horses, I think, But his trade is now almost extinct.

A Walker is a pedestrian Whom motorists try to miss, if they can.

A Woofter's the same as a weaver, Or the one who told me's a deceiver.

A. Merz to Talk Here Next April
August Merz, vice-president of the Calco Chemical Company, will be one of the principal speakers on the Chemistry Day program next April, says John R. Wagner, instructor in Chemistry. His lecture will be on "The Development of the Coal Tar Dye Industry" and will be accompanied by a sound film showing the Calco plant in operation.

Way of the World

By WOLFE and WEST

IN THE DAY'S NEWS—

Americans make the finest husbands in the world—after wives learn how to handle them.—Mrs. Bernard Ragner, Paris, French wife of American war veteran.

Though many pests I'd love to jug. For they're all bad you have said. None is as bad as that small bug Who tries to share your bed.

AND SOME HUMOR—

An Indian was riding his pony slowly along the road while his squaw walked sedately behind him. A passerby said to the Indian, "Why don't you let your wife ride?" The Indian answered, "Humph, she got no pony."

Purchaser: "I'd like to get a pair of silk stockings for my wife."

Clerk: "Sheer?"

Purchaser: "No, I left her at home."

Teacher: "Now if I lay three eggs here and five eggs there, how many eggs will I have?"

Skeptical Pupil: "I don't think you can do it."

—A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Things in this world are relative, and size by itself is never the great thing. The great thing always is, not how much capital have you, not how much brains have you, not how much of opportunity have you, but what are you doing and how far are you getting with what you have? If this is true, then, no matter how small your town or how limited your opportunity, it is within your power to do something which is at least relatively great.—(Selected).

President E. G. Rohrbough Presides at Annual Athletic Conference in Clarksburg

By EARL WOLFE

President E. G. Rohrbough and Coach A. F. Rohrbough attended a meeting of the West Virginia Collegiate Conference, Friday, Dec. 4, at Clarksburg. Dr. Rohrbough is president of the conference. W. H. S. White, president of Shepherd College and brother of Dean H. L. White, is secretary-treasurer.

The conference voted to again hold their annual collegiate basketball tournament which started two years ago. By all indications, the tourney will again be held in Clarksburg, probably the week of March 9. Dr. Rohrbough was named to appoint a committee of coaches to stage the event.

In the afternoon session, the group moved that any athlete of any school who participated in an independent tournament before or after the intercollegiate tourney was to be ineligible in that sport the following year. The question of the football championship was discussed, the general consensus of opinion favoring West Virginia Wesleyan. However, no decision was reached. It was agreed to permit the eligibility committee to name the champions next year in both football and basketball.

Thirteen coaches representing thirteen schools were present, as well as the administrative officers and the eligibility committee. Bethany College was the only absentee.

Coaches spent a good part of both the afternoon and morning sessions in completing their court schedules for the season.

Approximately Twenty-Five Teachers Attend Science Meeting Here Saturday

Approximately twenty-five science and mathematics teachers attended the second annual science teachers' conference sponsored by the physical science department, here Saturday.

Those who appeared on the program were: Dean H. L. White, who discussed "Teaching How to Study Science"; Kyle Bush, whose subject was "Which Is the Best, Laboratory or Demonstration Experimentation?"; Hugh Hurst, who discussed "Values Claimed by Physics"; H. D. Rohr, and John R. Wagner, who performed electricity experiments.

Plans for the annual Chemistry Day to be held next spring were discussed.

Those present were: Mrs. Myra Mick and Earl Boggs, Glenville High School; Albert Dietz and Flavin McCann, Nicholas County High School, Summersville; Donald Young, Normantown High School; H. D. Rohr, Wallace Grant, and Ervin Dorsey, Weston High School; Hugh Hurst, Doddridge County High School; J. A. Perkey, Troy High School; Kyle Bush and Ray Giboney, Tanner High School; Bradford Davis, Cedarville High School; Byron Turner, Walkersville High School; and Mrs. John R. Wagner, Glenville.

College instructors present were: Dean H. L. White and Miss Ivy Lee Myers, education; E. R. Grose and Miss Gladys Walker, biology; and John R. Wagner, physical science.

A luncheon was served to the visitors at Kanawha Hall.

EDUCATION PROGRAM GIVEN

Five Members of College Faculty Speak in Assembly

With Dr. John C. Shreve presiding, members of the education department in the College observed Education Week in an assembly program Wednesday, Nov. 25. The program had been planned two weeks earlier but because of a conflict with other entertainments already scheduled it was postponed until the Wednesday preceding Thanksgiving vacation.

Speakers were Robert T. Crawford, who stressed the importance of developing a sound mind and a sound body; Miss Ivy Lee Myers, who reviewed briefly the growth, development and importance of teacher training institutions, formerly normal schools; H. Y. Clark, who pointed out the significant changes in teaching methods; and Dean H. L. White, whose contribution will be found on the editorial page of this issue.

Dr. Shreve read Education Week proclamations by national and state officials and also a Thanksgiving proclamation.

MISS LUCILLE CAIN AND ARTHUR MOORE MARRIED

Lucille Cain, a freshman in the College, was married November 25 to Arthur Moore, A. B. '35, of Normantown. The ceremony was performed at the Glenville Baptist church, with the Rev. J. C. Musser reading the service.

Mrs. Moore is a daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. W. L. Cain, of Glenville. Mr. Moore, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moore, of Normantown, has been employed for several years in the Normantown grade school.

Seventy-Five Persons Attend Dance

Approximately seventy-five persons attended the informal week-end dance Friday night. Music was furnished by the electrola. Chaperons were Miss Alma Arbuckle and Miss Bertha E. Olsen.

Mrs. Iris Miller, mother of Mrs. Mary Miller Vass and Warren Miller, Jr., graduates of the College, died Thursday following an operation. Funeral services were held Saturday at the Hiney Church and burial was made at the cemetery there.

"YOU KNOW HOW one ride feels," says Al McKee, scenic railway operator. "I do it all day and digestion is no problem. I smoke Camels during meals and after—for digestion's sake."

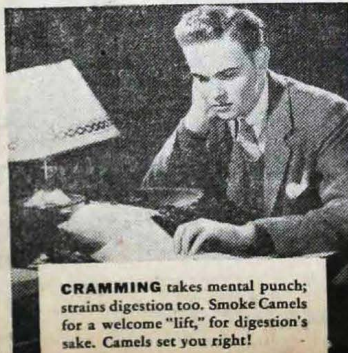

Sir Hubert Wilkins, Famous Polar Explorer, After Rugged Arctic Fare—Gets Comfort and Cheer with Camels!

He knows the Arctic and the Antarctic. He has known abysmal cold; fought his way step by step through howling blizzards; lived on pemmican and biscuit. "Where I've gone, Camels have gone," says Sir Hubert. "An explorer needs good digestion," he continues. "In the Arctic, I take what I can get to eat and like it. Food is monotonous—concentrated—hastily prepared. Smoking Camels adds gusto to my meals and brings me a great feeling of well-being afterward. Camels set me right! A Camel has often given me the 'lift' I needed to carry on."

ENJOY CAMELS OFTEN...FOR A CHEERY "LIFT"...

"For Digestion's Sake
...Smoke Camels!"

CRAMMING takes mental punch; strains digestion too. Smoke Camels for a welcome "lift," for digestion's sake. Camels set you right!

IT'S NOT alone what you eat that's important. How you digest it counts for a lot too. Camels at mealtime help in two special ways. They ease tension and stimulate the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—so necessary to normal, healthy digestion.

Join the Camel smokers! Camel's mildness and finer flavor—Camel's energizing "lift" and aid to digestion—add pleasure the whole day through. Camels set you right!

FRESHMAN GIRLS DEFEATED

Upper Classmen Win 25 to 5 in First
Intramural Contest

A freshman team was defeated, 25 to 5, by a mixed squad of sophomore, junior and senior girls Saturday morning in the first intramural basketball contest of the current season.

Playing on the mixed team were Billy McVey and Marie Ellyson, forwards; Ora Mae Poling and Mary Crago, centers; Icy Loyd and Garnet Reed, guards. On the freshman team were Frankie Woods and Lomis Gulentz, forwards; Madeline Moore and Eugenia Adams, centers; Mary Lusk and Martha Daniels, guards.

Games will be played each Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, announces Mrs. Earl Boggs, instructor in physical education, who urges all girls interested in basketball to report as soon as possible. Thirty-two girls are now enrolled in the league and are eligible to play.

Lucille Cain Moore was shopping in Clarksburg Saturday.

Co-Captains Pose for Camera

Co-Captains Hillis Cottle of Spencer and Frank Martino of Clarksburg (above) will be two of the main-stays on the Pioneer basketball team this year. Both are veterans. And our prediction is: You'll be hearing and seeing more of them as the season progresses.

TEN INTRAMURAL TEAMS SELECTED

Captains Named and Players
Assigned; Will Play Games
Regularly

College intramural basketball got under way the past week after teams and captains were selected Monday night. Ten teams were organized. The captains and team members are as follows:

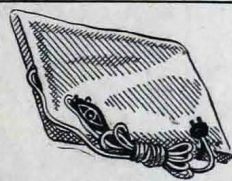

Urbanick, captain, D. Stalnaker, Naylor, Mace, Bohensky, Collins, and Rohrbough.

McNemar, captain, McKinney, Peck, Staats, W. Phillips, and Norris. Riley, captain, Fulks, Albaugh, Vaden, Danley, and Williams.

Barrett, captain, Robinson, Abbott, J. Shreve, Boggs, and Kennedy. Haught, captain, Hall, Dyer, Riffe, B. Golden, Morford, and J. D. Smith.

Mason, captain, K. Miller, N. Callahan, Whitman, Taylor, R. Snyder, and Elliott.

Giboney, captain, McMillen, S. Wright, Cunningham, McClung, P. Mason, and Simms.

GET WARM GIRLS

When you're chilly and lonesome because you're away from home—and wish you had some one to cuddle up to, quit wishin'. Do the next best thing . . . warm those cold and aching spots with an electric warming pad.

Wilson, captain, D. Haught, L. Jones, Huffman, Brooks, P. Brooks, and Tatterson.

Mendenhall, captain, L. White, Keister, Kidd, W. Keller, Hull, and H. Winters.

Gibson, captain, Bell, V. Stalnaker, Oles, Mowrey, Starcher and Barnett.

WHY NOT START the basketball season with a bang? And how about that Ohio U. scalp, Pioneers? There's nothing like a good start for a successful finish.

FRANK MARTINO, Hillis Cottle, Albert Lilly, and Robert Davies are stronger this year than ever. James Musser, Junior Rhoades, John Marra, Earl Wolfe, Harold Noroski and William Chokey are looking good. The Pioneers have a strong squad, and plenty of competition for first team berths should result in a good team.

THE INTRAMURAL show seems to have attracted much attention. Coach A. F. ("Nate") Rohrbough has been hanging around the gymnasium during the games . . . Wonder if he has his eyes on any of the loop stars?

ODDLETS AND ENDLETS

COACH FARLEY Bell of Victory, a former student in the College, coached his team to the Clarksburg City Championship this year . . . Carlos Ratliff, one time star halfback of the blue and white, has been doing a good job as assistant coach at Hinton . . . Pitt got the order for the Rose Bowl classic . . . Well, here's hoping they do better than they did on the three previous occasions. Remember how they were licked 35-0, 47-14, and 7-6?

DUQUESNE WILL BATTLE in the Orange Bowl encounter . . . Whom? Well it isn't decided as yet . . . McKinney, Fulks, McMillen, Mason, and Hall seem to have stolen the intramural basketball show . . . Of course we can't overlook Brooks Golden, Kenneth Norris or John Bohensky . . . We took it for granted that the managers wouldn't play on any team . . . But there's where we missed it . . . We only hope the interest continues to be as good as it is at present.

INTERCLASS TEAMS OPEN CAGE SEASON

McNemar, Mason, Riley, Gibson
Winners in Their Opening
Contests

Wendell McNemar's team opened the intramural basketball season Tuesday night by downing Rudolph Urbanick's five, 33-17. McKinney led the way for the winners with 12 points while Urbanick with 9 was high for the losers. Riley beat Barrett in the second game, 26-15. Fulks proved too powerful and scored 20 points to lead all scorers for the night.

Mason downed Haught Wednesday night, 46-24, running up the biggest score of the week. Mason was outstanding for the winners, his accurate ate passing and floor game accounting for most of his team's points. Hall was high for the losers with 11. Giboney downed Wilson in the second game, 31-25. McMillen was best for the winners with 15 points.

Mendenhall took it on the nose Thursday night from Gibson, losing 38-26. Summers proved best for the winners with 21 points. Fulks led Riley's team in the second game in beating Urbanick, 42-27. Fulks scored 24 points for the winners.
