CHEMISTRY DAY TO BE HELD AT COLLEGE, APRIL 3

Dr. August Merz, of the Calco
Chemical Company, to Be Principal Speaker

375 DISPLAYS DONATED

Representatives Are Expected From Sixty Schools in Central West Virginia

Simple, tricky experiments in physics, a mineral rock exhibit from states, a display showing products and tests made from brass, a display showing the many Vicks' products, and many displays on copper and glass—these and many others will be explained by the chemistry students of the College, Saturday, April 3, when the sixth annual Chemistry Day is held under auspices of the Chemistry Club.

Dr. August Merz, vice-president of the Calco Chemical Company, Bound Brook, N. J. will be the principal speaker. Dr. Merz will speak Saturday morning on "The Development of the Coal Tar Dye Industry."

Many leading manufacturing companies have contributed display material which will be seen during the exhibit. Mr. John R. Wagner, instructor in chemistry, explains that more than 375 exhibits will be on display, seventy-five of these having been received this year. The other exhibits have been collected during the past five years.

Some sixty high schools throughout central West Virginia will be asked to send representatives to the Chemistry Day activities, where they will be guests of the College. Mr. Wagner estimates that approximately 800 visitors will attend.

Following is the program for April 3: Registration begins at 8:45 a. m.; address of welcome by President E. G. Rohrbough in the College Auditorium, 10:45 a. m.; 12:00 noon, recess; exhibit opens at 1 p. m., conference of high school chemistry teachers, 1:30 p. m., address, "The Technique of Lighting," 3 p. m., and sound film, "The Wonderland of Chemistry," from E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company, 3:45 p. m.

Dr. Chrisman to Speak in Assembly

Dr. Lewis H. Chrisman, head of the English department at West Virginia Wesleyan College, will be the assembly speaker here tomorrow. His subject has not been announced.

Little Philharmonic Orchestra Arrives Late But Receives Lasting Applause

By MARY E. YOUNG

In spite of an evening of blinding snow which made motoring and even walking hazardous, a larger-than-average audience came to the College auditorium, Wednesday night, at 8:15 o'clock, to hear the Little Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of George H. Shapiro, who easily captivated his audience with his magnificent control and unassuming personality.

Having been directed eighty or more miles out of the way, en route here from Marietta, O., the bus in which thirteen members of the orchestra travel, arrived about 9 o'clock, forty-five minutes after the concert was to have begun. Consequently, what was to have been an after dinner program turned out to

PRODUCTION STAFF CHOSEN

Students Named to Help With Play, "The Millionaire"

The production staff of "The Millionaire," a three-act play by Tompkins, which is to be presented by the Ohningohow Players on April 1, has been chosen by Miss Margaret Dobson, speech instructor; Avon Elder, director, and Elizabeth Andrews, assistant-director.

The staff includes: Stage manager, James Price; stage hands, James D. Smith, Karl Trippett; electrician, Forest Masters; costume mistress, Mary E. Young; property managers, Garnet Reed, Esthelene Frame, Alda Enlow; make-up, Goldie Reynolds and Virginia Vinson.

In last week's issue of this paper, William Hamilton should have been listed among the cast. He will play the part of Gideon Heath, the Millionaire.

DEBATERS ARGUE IN CHAPEL HOUR

Coach Rohrbough Presents His State Champions and Trophy to Student Body

Presentation and acceptance of the state basketball championship trophy and a debate featured the assembly program Wednesday morning.

Coach A. F. Rohrbough, on behalf of the basketball team, presented to the school the victory trophy which was won at the intercollegiate tournament in Clarksburg, Monday and Tuesday of the past week. President E. G. Rohrbough accepted the trophy on behalf of the College. All members of the basketball squad and the cheer leaders were called to the stage during the assembly hour.

The two College debating teams argued the labor and hours question. The affirmative side was upheld by Denzel Garrett, George Miller, and Laban White, Jr., while the negative was represented by Goff Giboney, and Millard Cunningham. The decision was won by the negative team. Linn B. Hickman, instructor in English and journalism, Raymond E. Freed, instructor in social sciences, and Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the education department, were the judges.

Glenville to Meet Morris Harvey

A College debating team composed of Millard Cunningham, Goff Giboney, and George Miller will meet a team from Morris Harvey College here Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

be a before-dinner concert for most of Mr. Shapiro's artists.

Rushing into the auditorium with their instruments, which they assembled in almost no time, the master musicians silenced their audience with their opening number and from then on charmed an appreciative group with their excellent tone qualities. Only Mr. Shapiro and Mr. Erich Sorantin arrived in time to dress in formal. Other members of the orchestra appeared in their traveling clothes; a feature, however, which did not detract in the least from the brilliant concert.

While waiting for the orchestra, Mr. Sorantin, a concert master, an artist of high rank, a teacher, an author and a composer, entertained

PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST WILL BE HELD MARCH 12

Fifteen Schools to Participate in Annual Affair Held at the College

ARCH RIVALS TO SPEAK

Winners Will Vie for State Honors at West Virginia University
the Following Week

Eight schools have signified they will participate in the Interscholastic Public Speaking Contest to be held in the College Auditorium, Saturday, announces Miss Pearl Pickens, chairman of this district. Seven other schools are expected to register between now and Saturday. Those already enrolled are: Victory of Clarksburg; Parkersburg, Harrieville, Unidis of West Milford, Burnsville, Sand Fork, Glenville, and Troy.

Prof. James B. Lowther, of the public speaking department of West Virginia University, head of the program this year, estimates that the state contest will be the largest ever held. This is the fourth annual meeting to be held at the College. In the three years that the contest has been held here, four of the winners in this district have been winners in the state contest held at West Virginia University.

The judges of the contest have not yet been named, but it is known that members of the faculty of Glenville State Teachers College will serve in this capacity.

NEWSPAPER BOOKS RECEIVED

40 Copies of 'Making a Newspaper'
Given to Journalism Class

Forty copies of the book, THE MAKING OF A NEWSPAPER, by Henry Edward Warner, were received here recently and distributed to members of the journalism classes. One copy was placed in the President's office and another filed in the library.

The book contains a general survey of printing methods, early colonial journalism and treats elaborately of the Sunpapers, founded in Baltimore in 1837 by Arunah Shepherdson Abell.

Numerous pictures illustrate the workings of the editorial, telegraph, advertising and news departments of a metropolitan paper, and also show in operation the linotype, motype, presses and other machinery necessary for speed in news turn-out.

Will Attend Christian Conference

Miss Velda Betts and Miss Sadie Harless will represent the College chapter of the Young Women's Christian Association at a Student Christian Movement Conference to be held at Salem College on March 19, 20 and 21.

Miss Eleanor White Attends Concert

Miss Eleanor White, daughter of Dean and Mrs. H. L. White and a student in the school of music at West Virginia University, was here the past week for a brief visit with her parents and to attend the concert Wednesday night by the Little Philharmonic Orchestra.

James Mick spent the week-end in Burnsville visiting his parents. Also, he attended the play, "Mountain Mumps," given by the Burnsville High School faculty.

STUDENTS PREFER FICTION

15,000 Books in Library; Private Donations Made

College students read more books of fiction than any other kind, a card-check estimate made recently at the Robert F. Kidd Library reveals.

There are more than 15,000 books in the library, the larger number of which are of the reference variety. Many new books, periodicals, and magazines were added this year. Besides those purchased by the state, many private donations have been made.

The loss of books from the library is very small each year. During one school year only four were missed including those misplaced by students, and those discarded because they were no longer usable. The average number of books lost is slightly higher than this, however, explains Miss Alma Arbuckle.

EASTER CANTATA TO BE PRESENTED

100 Members of Glee Clubs and Choral Class to Offer
"Calvary," March 24

"Calvary," an Easter cantata by Henry Wessel, will be presented in the auditorium, Wednesday night, March 24, at 8:15 o'clock, by a chorus of 100 voices from the College Glee Clubs and the choral class, announces Miss Bertha E. Olsen, director and instructor in music.

Featured soloists will be Miss Winifred White, Miss Marguerite Moss, Miss Marjorie Barnett, Miss Eugene Adams, Vorley Rexroad, Harold Winters and John Barnett. Miss Virginia Vinson and Miss Mary Lola Hawkins will be the piano accompanists.

Additional features will include numbers by the College orchestra and selections on bass and woodwind ensembles. There will be no admission and the public is invited.

Dean White to Speak in Parkersburg

"Teachers' Organizations and Public Sentiments" is the subject of a speech which will be made by Dean H. L. White, Thursday, at a meeting of the Wood County Teachers Association at Parkersburg. Approximately 500 teachers are members of the association.

Mrs. E. G. Rohrbough is spending a few days in Richwood, the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Rohrbough, Jr.

More Than 160 Persons Dance at Victory Ball in Honor of Glenville Pioneers

By JOHN ROGERS

Ten members of the Glenville Pioneer basketball team were guests of the College Social Committee at a Victory Ball in the gymnasium the past Friday night from 9 until 1 o'clock. Approximately 160 persons were on hand to dance to the music of Jimmy Flinnakin's orchestra and to honor the Pioneers, who only the past week put the finishing touches on the greatest basketball season in the College's history. Coached by A. F. Rohrbough, the Pioneers lost only two conference games this year and then took the finals in the college tournament at Clarksburg.

As an extra-special, the Pioneer champions, wearing boxing gloves, staged a mock basketball game with four out-of-town girls and one local coed as opponents and Coach A.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRIMARY ELECTION ELIMINATES THREE

Garrett and Callahan Nominated for Council Presidency in Election Friday

250 BALLOTS ARE CAST

General Election, Scheduled for First of April, to Fill Five Offices
For Next Year

By ELWIN WILSON

Three candidates for offices on the Student Council were eliminated Friday in the primary election held from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. Room. There were 250 votes cast.

Denzel Garrett and Nathan Callahan, both juniors, were nominated for president of the Council, while John W. Mowrey, Jr., was a close third. Garrett led the voting with 126. Callahan and Mowrey had a close fight for second honors, Callahan, with 65 votes, edging out Mowrey, with 59.

Garnet Reed, a freshman, and Robert Shreve, a junior, were nominated for secretary, Miss Reed receiving the highest number of votes cast for any one person. Sterling Cunningham with 28 votes was third highest. For treasurer, Brooks Shepard, a junior, led the race with 105 votes. Russell Porterfield was second with 81 and Earl Wolfe a close third with 66.

Eliminations resulting from the primary election leave two nominees for each post on the Student Council. Students did not vote for nominees for vice-president and sergeant-at-arms in the primary, since only two persons were named candidates for these offices respectively.

The general election will be held early in April, announces the Council, the voting place to be the Y. M. C. A. Room, under the Old Building. Individual voting booths will be provided to assure voters' freedom from outside influence.

"Y. W." to Give Pageant, Mar. 21

The College chapter of the Young Women's Christian Association will present the pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross," at the Glenville Baptist church, Sunday evening, March 21, at 6:30 o'clock, with Miss Mary Margaret Robinson as director. The public is invited.

HIGHWAYS OF DEATH

During 1936 there were 503 persons killed in automobile accidents in West Virginia, with a damage to property amounting to a total of $669,000.

These figures are alarming when we realize that West Virginia has spent millions of dollars for road construction in order to make travel safe and to permit an easy flow of traffic within her borders. Each year upwards of ten million dollars are expended in the upkeep and repair of our primary and secondary roads, yet the number of accidents and the amount of damages do not materially decrease. The personnel of the Department of Public Safety has been increased, safety councils have been organized in the counties, safety instruction has been instituted in our schools; on every hand efforts have been made to educate the automobile drivers of West Virginia to a safe and sane driving procedure. Yet, almost every day an accident occurs.

Of course West Virginia is not the only state in which automobile accidents occur. So far this year Maryland has had one hundred thirteen. Other states in the Union are also visited by the grim monster in the form of automobile accidents, but the sad part of all is that the same discouraging outlook for improvement exists in common.

What is to be done by the life-loving, sober, and intelligent citizens of West Virginia to retard this appalling condition of death and destruction upon our highways? What can the boys and girls in our high schools and the men and women in our colleges, who drive automobiles, do to lessen the dangerous evil on the highways? Certainly the situation merits the soundest thinking among our people.

To say we can entirely eliminate automobile accidents and accompanying heart-aches is certainly doubtful, but if each person who owns an automobile would drive in the sanest, most careful, and sensible manner possible, we could then say that we have reached the point where accidents will be held to a minimum.—Thomas L. Dotson.

YES, "LET GEORGE DO IT"

"For years we have taught the injurious effects of alcohol and tobacco, and yet in what country is the per capita consumption of cigarettes and hard liquor as high as here? For years we have taught physiology and hygiene, and yet no country on this earth is such a veritable paradise for chiropractors, patent medicines, goiter belts, dietary insanities, cancer cures and every imaginable fake and fraud and swindle of the most palpable and idiotic variety. In what other country could you actually found a political party, even temporarily, on the proposition that you were going to pay every 60-year-old person $200 a month for life? What country on earth accords such worship to movie cuties, baseball players, prize fighters, even gunmen and criminals, pig-pen love, and the vulgar display of mere money by rich nonentities? If this be education, make the most of it."

The foregoing charge was made against teachers in the March issue of FORUM, under the title of "A Last Word to Teachers." This seems to be a serious charge against the teachers. The author of those words fails to give to anyone the praise for having aided in building America to its foremost position among the nations of the world.

There are some 24 million homes in America, which, we are told, are largely responsible for the proper training of children. There is a proportionately large number of churches in America. If the church and the home have been the primary factor in developing America, then they too might be looked upon as being largely responsible for the condition which the FORUM writer describes.

We fail to understand why all charges for humanitarian progress are placed against the teachers.

Intellectual Ability at A Premium

Between Columns

Highly trained college men are needed in business, declared Mr. Donald Bridgeman, personnel director of the America Telegraph and Telephone, in a recent address at New York University.

"Before 1920," he said, "only three per cent of business employees were college graduates. Right after the War industries became conscious of college men as prospective employees. They wanted a highly selected group to increase their supervisory staffs, and they realized they could be found in college."

Referring to his own industry, Mr. Bridgeman said all men who advance rapidly are the college graduates. It takes non-college people twice as long to progress. "The type of person industry wants and needs at the present time," he said, "is one with high scholarship; on the whole, a person with intellectual ability."

"The first thing a person having aspirations toward journalism should do is get an education," stated Dr. Harriet Goodwin Deuss in an interview recently at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, Texas. "Knowing the six kinds of leads to a news story is not what makes a good journalist. A news writer must have a good background in English, and he must be aware of what is going on in the economic and political world today in order to write worthwhile material."

College Or Non-College Dances?

To the editors of the Mercury:
A Victory Ball was held in the College Gymnasium Friday night. Those who were there had a good time and enjoyed Jimmy Flenniken and his orchestra. But, as usual, the College men had "imported dates." Practically all the bigger dances held here this year have been attended by almost as many out-of-town girls as local. Usually about one-fourth of the Verona Maple Hall girls get bids to the dances, while others who can dance and who would be pleasant companions if they were lucky enough to be asked, are left at home. Isn't there something that could be done about this situation?

Then too, there are many girls in school who would learn to dance and would like to learn if they had any assurance that they would get a chance to go to one of the bigger parties. They don't like the idea of sitting at home, or off in some dark corner in the gymnasium, or listening to the radio while others are enjoying a big evening.

Could our College men help to make our dances College dances? Can the men give the girls a break and at the same time label themselves gentlemen?—A Student.

AT THE LIBRARY

New books on science and hygiene added recently to the Robert F. Kidd Library include BLOOD GROUPS AND BLOOD TRANSFUSION, A. S. Wiener; ORGANISM AND ENVIRONMENT, J. S. Haldane; DIGESTION AND HEALTH, Walter B. Cannon; WISDOM OF THE BODY, Walter B. Cannon; ANIMAL MICROLOGY, M. F. Guyer.

Sociology books include THE FAMILY, M. F. Nimkoff; RECENT TRENDS IN AMERICAN HOUSING, Edith E. Wood; PIONEERING IN AGRICULTURE, Mary Meek Atkeson and Thomas Clark Atkeson.

Among the general books added are: INDIA'S MINERAL WEALTH, J. C. Brown; WE OR THEY, TWO WORLDS IN CONFLICT, H. F. Armstrong; AN HOUR OF AMERICAN DRAMA, B. H. Clark; WILLIAM MEISTER'S APPRENTICESHIP AND TRAVELS, Johann Goethe; and EDUCATING FOR DEMOCRACY, A SYMPOSIUM.

DR. C. S. MARSH'S NEW "AMERICAN UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGES" ADDED

AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, a book edited by C. S. Marsh, chairman of the National Council of Education, was received at the Robert F. Kidd Library the past week and is now available to faculty and to students.

In this single book of reference are listed the prominent and much sought-after facts concerning the 679 accredited institutions of higher learning in the United States, verified by the administrative officers of each institution, details regarding organization, control, property, requirements for admittance and graduation, etc.

Part I is devoted to a general explanation of the organization and operation of higher education with a brief survey of graduate study and research.

Part II gives the separate statements of the individual colleges and universities arranged alphabetically. Apart from this, a general exposition of the American system of education is presented.

Indices, giving alphabetical lists of names of university professors, administrative officers, and names of the towns and cities in which the institutions are located, also are included in this book, as are complete

AND SOME HUMOR—

A farmer, followed by his dog, had been plowing steadily all day. Toward the end of the day the horse stopped in his tracks, turned and looked back at the farmer and said: "Darn! I'm tired."

The farmer looked at his dog and exclaimed: "I'll swear I didn't know that horse could talk!"

The dog, equally surprised, said: "I didn't either."

For a might-have-been has never been,
But the has-been was an are.

Smith-McConkey Wedding

Announcement was made recently of the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Cedarville, and Flaire McConkey, son of Mrs. Bertha McConkey and late George McConkey of Copen. The marriage took place in Winchester, Va. last August 4. Mrs. McConkey, S. N. '33, now teaches at Chapel. The couple will reside at Copen.

DR. SHREVE IS GUEST SPEAKER

Addresses Teachers' Meeting at Summersville in Absence of Dean H. L. White

"As it appears to me, the one and only one point in the matter of vocational education is the degree of possibility of getting it done," said Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the department of education, at a meeting of the West Virginia Association of School Superintendents in Summersville, Friday. Dr. Shreve based his remarks on a paper prepared by Dean H. L. White, who was to have spoken, but because of illness was unable to attend.

Dr. Shreve illustrated his attitude toward vocational education by telling the story of Dinah, who, when her husband, Rastus, had died, said, "Po' Rastus am dead and gone where I 'spect' he ain't."

"In similar manner," said Dr. Shreve, "I say that I wish vocational training were possible in our schools, but I cannot escape serious doubts as to its being done effectively."

He said that schools could, however, do more than they have been doing in vocational guidance and listed the following three types of information that high schools could give students in vocational planning: 1. Number of persons employed in various industries and prospects for new employees. 2. Traits, qualifications, and characteristics necessary in securing work in various industries. 3. Assistance to students in determining which of these characteristics they possess.

Former Students in Burnsville Play

Ten College graduates and former students were in the play, "Mountain Mumps," given by the faculty of the Burnsville high and graded schools, Saturday night, in the high school auditorium. Those taking part were: Miss Marjorie Hefner, S. N. '32, Michael Posey, '33, C. E. Whyt-sell, James E. Hatfield, '33, Miss Mabel Chrisman, '27, Archie Morris, '32, making up the cast; Miss Rena Mick, '34, director; Miss Grace Hammer, '22, prompter; Walter L.

Moore, '32, advertising; and Miss Rena McPherson, '33.

Members of Faculty Club Are Guests of Education Department at March Meeting

Members of the Education Department in the College entertained the Faculty Club from 8 until 10:30 o'clock last night in the Kanawha Hall parlor.

Following the reading of a paper by Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the department, Dean H. L. White presided as chairman over an open forum on the professionalized faculty in the teachers' college. That instructors in purely academic subjects should supervise directed teaching in their respective fields, that one-third of the faculty should do graduate study each summer, that all instructors in a teachers college should have at least eight hours of graduate work in education, and that the work of the various departments of a teachers college should be better coordinated were among the subjects considered.

W. W. Lovell, superintendent of schools in Lewis County, was a guest at the meeting and was among those to participate in the open forum, which was followed by the serving of refreshments, including chicken salad on head lettuce, hot biscuits, cup cakes, butter, coffee and tea.

Present, in addition to Mr. Lovell, were President E. G. Rohrbough, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Shreve, Dean and Mrs. H. L. White, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rohrbough, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Freed, Miss Ivy Lee Myers, Miss Willa Brand, Miss Alma Arbuckle, Miss Margaret Dobson, Mr. C. W. Post, Mr. R. T. Crawford, Mr. C. P. Harper, Mr. Hunter Whiting, Mr. E. R. Grose, and Mr. Linn B. Hickman.

Miss Bessie Boyd Bell, president of the club, and Carey Woofter, registrar, were unable to attend because of illness.

Members of the English department will entertain at the April meeting.

Mr. Carey Woofter, registrar in the College, who has been ill for the past few days with an attack of influenza, resumed his duties at the College today.

Ruby Keeler says:

"Luckies are a light smoke that treat a tender throat right"

"In a way, it's easier to keep in condition as a dancer than as a singer. Exercise can keep the muscles in shape, but there are a lot of things that can go wrong with the voice and throat. It stands to reason, then, that any actress wants a cigarette that is gentle and strikes the right note with her throat. I started smoking Luckies 4 years ago. They're a light smoke that treat a tender throat right."

LOVELY WARNER BROS. STAR
NOW APPEARING IN
"READY, WILLING AND ABLE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Keeler verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

PIONEERS WIN STATE COLLEGIATE TOURNAMENT

PIONEERS DOWN SALEM IN FINALS OF TOURNAMENT

Martino Leads Scoring, Davies and Lilley Play Great Defensive Ball

AHEAD AT HALF, 29-21

Morris Harvey and Concord Beaten in First Two Games; Second Team Looks Good

Glenville's Pioneer champions settled any dispute as to who is the rightful owner of the state conference leadership the past Tuesday night when they swamped Salem's Tigers, 58-43, to win the third annual West Virginia Intercollegiate basketball tournament, in Clarksburg.

Besides winning the collegiate tournament, the Pioneers definitely established themselves as basketball champions of West Virginia by finishing first in the conference with sixteen wins against six losses. By virtue of these victories, they also became runners-up in the tri-state district, as picked by Jess Carver of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The Pioneers jumped into a 10-0 lead against Salem as Lilley consistently obtained the tipoff from Krumenacker, Salem center. That six-point margin was never threatened and the Pioneers dominated throughout the first half, despite a late rally by Salem that fell nine points short of tying the count at intermission. The half ended with Glenville ahead, 29-21.

Throughout the second stanza, Glenville continued to set the pace as Coach A. F. Rohrbough's under-studies consistently out-fought and out-manuevered the battling Tigers. During the last two minutes of the game, the Glenville seconds took the floor, and despite heroic efforts on the part of the Tigers, they continued to outdistance the weary Tensilers and finished the contest on the long end of a 58-43 margin.

Co-captain Frank Martino led all scorers with fourteen points. Louie Romano, Pioneer substitute and Quinn, Tiger reserve, were tied for second honors with twelve points each. Cottle, Davies and Lilley played bang-up floor games for Glenville, and Krumenacker, Percy and Uram, were the stars in the Tiger attack.

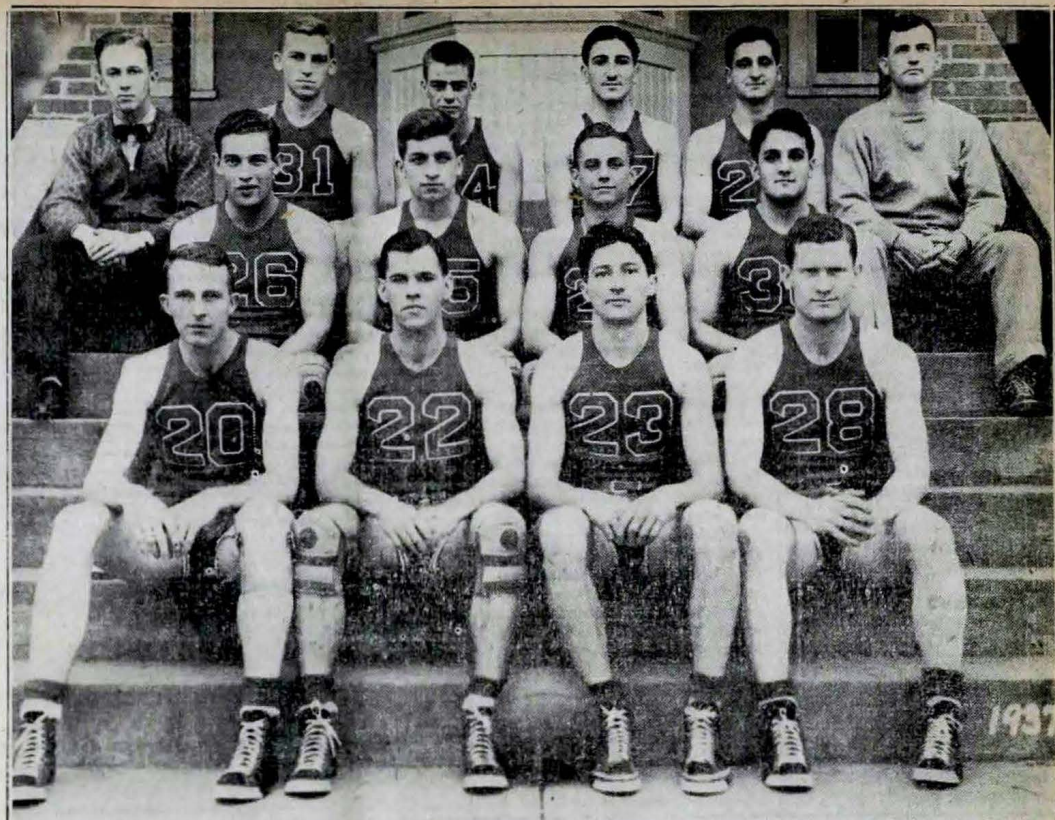

To reach the finals, Glenville defeated Morris Harvey and Concord, while Salem was forced to the limit to trim West Liberty and Fairmont. In the first round of the tournament, Monday afternoon, Morris Harvey took Shepherd 45-35; Concord defeated Alderson-Broadus, last year's champions, 33-27; West Liberty nosed out New River, 34-30, and Fairmont licked Potomac State, 49-45. Fairmont reached the semi-finals by tripping Bethany, 55-48, and Concord upset Davis and Elkins, 50-30.

down front with two violin solos, including "Capriccio Amoreoso," one of his own compositions. Mr. Sorantin, who before he began playing said, "This is the first time I have had the honor of Mr. Shapiro as piano accompanist," needed no introduction to a Glenville audience. Only the past year he appeared here as violinist with the Alberto Salvi quintette.

In Wednesday night's concert, Mr. Sorantin used two rare instruments, true Stradivarius and Gagliano violins.

All the numbers were received with what seemed to be enthusiastic applause; however, Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" probably were best received, "Souvenir de Moscou," by Wieniawski a violin solo, was played brilliantly by Mr. Sorantin. Also well done was Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," an English horn solo played back stage by John Cimino. Two encores, "Pizacato" by Delibes and "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, also brought heavy applause.

A flute solo and a French horn were played with infinite delicacy and both were received enthusiastically.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Butler of Sutton announce the birth of a daughter. The mother, the former Miss Winifred Watkins, is an alumna of the College. Mr. Butler teaches in the Sutton High School. This is their first child.

THE PIONEERS played a fine brand of basketball in Clarksburg the past Monday and Tuesday to win the College tournament. . . . In the first game, we wondered which quintet was supposed to be the first team. . . . The squad averaged 59 points a game to 35 points for opponents. . . . The biggest upset perhaps was Concord's victory over Davis and Elkins. . . . Fairmont State also pulled a surprise over Bethany. . . . Davis and Elkins and Bethany were both seeded teams. . . . We agree with Art Ward and Sam Kistler, who said, "Eight college games are too many to call in one day." . . . Having seen all the games, we thought the officiating was good. . . . Davis and Elkins, who won the first College tournament, and Alderson-Broadus, who won the second, were beaten in the opening rounds this year.

THE PIONEERS finished second in the Tri-State District, according to Jess Carver, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. . . . Washington and Jefferson got first place. . . . Leo F. King picked three Glenville men on his all tournament team. Lilley, Davies and Martino. . . . He also mentioned Cottle and Noroski.

THE STATE high school basketball tournament will be held in Buckhannon, Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19. . . . Eight teams will battle for the state crown. . . . "Diz" Dean, gabby hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, is still calling for $50,000 or nothing. . . . "Larrupin' Lou" Gehrig is another major holdout. He also says $50,000 or no play. . . . This may be "Sleepy" Glenn's last year as basketball coach at West Virginia, because he will probably enter medical school at Northwestern. . . . Cebe Ross, coach at Wesleyan, said he enjoyed this year's college tournament more than any that he had attended, because his team was not entered.

Mrs. Marmel Brown, student in the College, visited her parents at Cassaway over the week-end.
