FIVE COEDS WILL ENTER RACE FOR QUEEN OF G CLUB

Students Will Vote Thursday;
Winner Will be Crowned on May 13

TO BE 2ND CORONATION

Candidates Are Misses Spiker, Riffe, Craddock, Summers and Wilma Bransford

Five College coeds will compete in the race for Miss G. Club the Second, the queen who will preside over the lettermen's annual ball in the gymnasium on May 13, it is announced by Guy Bennett, president. The election will be the first of its kind here and will mark an innovation in the Club's method of naming a queen. Last year the lettermen chose their first queen, Miss Lois Jarvis of Grantsville, and staged their first annual coronation ceremony in connection with their yearly swing.

Named to compete for what students generally consider one of the most important campus honors are Josephine Riffe of Weston, Geneva Spiker of Oxford, Marjorie Craddock of Glenville, Susan Summers of Glenville, and Wilma Bransford of Welch. Miss Riffe and Miss Spiker are residents of Kanawha Hall, Miss Summers and Miss Craddock are town girls, and Miss Bransford lives at Verona Mapel Hall.

The election will be held Thursday, April 28, and the four defeated candidates will automatically become maids of honor and will participate in the coronation activities. Dr. E. G. Rohrbough, president of the College, will again be asked to conduct the crowning ceremony.

All students will be eligible to vote for the queen and the public will be invited to the G. Club ball. Personal invitations will be mailed to all former members.

Arrangements for an orchestra and plans for a decorative motif have not been announced.

CANTERBURY CLUB SPONSORS OUTING

Group Enjoys Dinner at Crystal
Restaurant; Miss Brand
Is Speaker

Unlike Chaucer's characters, members of the Canterbury Club who went on their annual pilgrimage Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, used automobiles instead of horses. Then, too, instead of going to worship a martyr they went to the Crystal Restaurant for a "smack" and then sat around to hear talks by Miss Willa Brand, sponsor, and all seniors who are members of the club.

Elsie Taterson and James Musser were asked to speak because they had represented the club in the home-coming parade the past fall.

Before taking their pilgrimage, the club met at 7 o'clock in Room 101 of the Robert F. Kidd Library and heard stories as follows: "Priores' Tale," Marjorie Craddock; "Knight's Tale," Jarrett Jones, and "Clerk's Tale," Clifford Garrett.

Lucille Spray, president, announced that fourteen club pins have been ordered.

Stories written by Guy de Maupassant are to be told at the next meeting by Lucille Spray, John Rogers and Lois Mason.

Holy Rollers Hear Earl St. Clair Give Majority Report at College Swing

The Holy Roller Court went into its annual session Friday night from 8 to 11 o'clock in the College gymnasium, while Earl St. Clair and his orchestra, of Parkersburg, gave the majority report in swing.

The Court room was decorated in a motif of blue and white. At the sides of the dance floor, between the center posts, were dogwood blossoms intertwined in lattice work, with red, white and blue streamers above. On each side of the blossoms were blue netting with H. V. C. and ensigns of the Court radices in white paper. Above the floor were streamers of red, white and blue hung from the lights and draped between the rafters. Blue and white streamers were strung from both banking boards to the walls behind. Curtains of the same colors covered the lower windows.

The Court was opened with the traditional "Hail Ye! Hail Ye!" After the jury was impaneled, the Court came to order, got into the groove and moved in good rhythm through the acts of indictment, prosecution, rendering of the verdict and the sentence—a good time, which was given by Judge Nathan Callaghan. With approval of the sentence, the Court adjourned at 1 o'clock until next year.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Underwood, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Shreve and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rohrbough.

Hillis Cottle, clerk, signed 250 summons, which were mailed to former members and to persons whose names were turned in by court members.

Willis Taterson sold tickets in the box office, while J. Arthur Butcher and Dexter Dotson were at the gate.

Officers of the Holy Roller Court are: Judge, Nathan Callaghan; clerk, Hillis Cottle; sheriff, Everet Howes; prosecuting attorney, Clifford Huffman; jury, defense attorney, Guy Bennett.

Following music by the Trio, Miss White played two violin solos, including "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak-Kreisler and "Suite Populaire Espagnole" (Jota) by de Falla.

Concluding the concert was the cantata "The Village Blacksmith," taken from Longfellow's poem by the same name. Musical arrangement for the cantata was by Gaines and Miss Lola Hawkins was the piano accompanist.

IT'S LEMON TIME ON SINKING CREEK; OR IS IT A GRAPEFRUIT?

It's lemon time on Sinking Creek, near Glenville.

Miss Ida Goff, a cousin of Leroy Davis, sophomore in the College, has been making the headlines the past week with a tree which this year produced fifteen lemons, the largest of which weighed fifteen and one-half ounces, nearly five times the size of an ordinary lemon. The fruit measured twelve and one-half inches in circumference.

Miss Goff planted the tree about fifteen years ago. She keeps it in the house during the winter and out in the open during the summer.

BICKEL, VICE PRESIDENT

Other Officers Include Harrison,
Craddock, McMillen; Will Take Office Next Fall

Climaxing almost a month of heated campaigning, the Progressives elected their candidate, Richard Dyer, president of the student Council in the general election here on Tuesday, April 12. Dyer, a junior in the College and a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dyer, of 407 College Street, Clarksburg, won over Clifford Garrett of Spencer by a margin of 163 to 120. Dyer will succeed Denzel Garrett of Fletcher and he will take office next fall.

Earle Bickel of Webster Springs, a Progressive, pre-election "dark-horse," was elected vice-president over John Rogers of Charleston. The vote was 182 for Bickel, 100 for Rogers. Miss Marjorie Craddock of Glenville defeated Susan Summers, also of Glenville, 158 to 116, for the office of secretary. She will succeed Garnet Reed. Miss Craddock is a daughter of assistant Federal District Attorney and Mrs. B. W. Craddock and is a sister of Banti W. Craddock, Jr., who served as president of the student body the past year.

In the race for treasurer, the Liberalists' candidate, Miss Ernestine Harrison of Fenwick, defeated J. Arthur Butcher of Gassaway, a Progressive, 170 to 144.

Only in the race for sergeant-at-arms was the voting close. Winner by a five-vote margin was James McMillen, sophomore, of Massontown, who defeated Harold Noroski of Monhall, Pa., 144 to 139. Both candidates represented the Progressive party.

Campus walks, walls and even the lawn in front of the Verona Mapel Hall were lined and painted on the eve of the election and this year for the first time several of the candidates had printed and distributed personal cards carrying portrait pictures and announcing the office sought. One candidate even passed out the cigars.

Paul F. Mason of Terra Alta, a senior, cast the first vote and more than 250 ballots were in before 2:30 p. m. Approximately three-fourths of the eligible voters went to the polls.

Mrs. Williams Enters Art Exhibit

study of the sociological implications of the situation.

The unimpressive showing of Glenville's tennis aggregation against Fairmont State last Saturday will prevent Pioneer athletic units from making a clean sweep of all contests this year. Incidentally, this is the only setback that Glenville team has received in West Virginia Collegiate conference competition this year.

Despite their sub-par performance in other branches of sport, the Marion Countians have continually presented superior net tennis and should be commended for their play. The reasons for their excellent court play can be accredited to adequate equipment, excellent courts located in advantageous locations, and a perennial supply of competent material. However, this corner is confident that the Pioneers, after a proper amount of seasoning, will offer the strong Coblebankers opposition of a sturdier nature. We shall see on May 12.

Robert Shreve, Glenville's ace No. 1 player, said following the Fairmont matches, that he is not at all discouraged with the play of the Pioneer netmen. "We have a potentially powerful team and with sufficient practice should develop into a strong outfit," he concluded.

Congrats to Earl ("Lonesome Harry") Wolfe for chalking up Glenville's lone victory against the Fairmont team. The Earl, a natural athlete, has confined most of his sports activities to basketball at Glenville, but we are told by authentic sources that the local boy is a wicked racket-wielder, and is destined to go places this spring.

After numerous delays because of inclement weather, the College's intramural baseball league was formally launched yesterday. As in the past, the league is again a four-team circuit, and judging from the enthusiasm shown thus far, there should be an interesting quadruple scramble for the pennant. Frank ("Chi-chi") Martino's Yankees won the championship last year, but Earl Wolfe's Jungle Buzards appear to be this year's strongest contenders.

Barnyard golf seems to have replaced archery on the campus. Through the diligent efforts of Paul F. ("Pop") Mason, three pitching pits are now available for both male and female enthusiasts. In the men's division, Kenneth Hutchinson and Ralph Hought of the fourth, Ep Noble of the second, and Jack ("Loquacious") Mace of the third sections were taking all comers. While in the women's division, Mary Allen Boggs, Marjorie Bush, Mary Elizabeth Young, Susan Summers, Ruth Hull and Mildred Fitzpatrick hold the upper hand.

Vignette of Sport: Archie San Romani pulled one of the major track upsets of the season last Saturday by breasting the tape in the mile run at the Kansas Relays a few seconds ahead of the Great Glenn Cunningham. Owner Sam Bredon of the St. Louis Cards is reputed to have traded Dix Dean to the Cubs for the good of the club, but judging from the wad of kale he received in the deal, it looks as though his bank account was the chief concern. Sam ("Slammin'") Snead, of pro golfing fame, entered the U. S. Open tennis tournament at White Sulphur Springs yesterday. Fighting Fox, brother of Gallant Fox and uncle of Omaha, again proved that he will be the horse to beat in the Kentucky Derby by winning a Jamaica last Saturday. Earl, a lean of American jockeys, however, asserts that Stangehand will win this year's classic. With Dimaggio back in the fold, New York Yankee fans have ceased to sing the blues. Down Charleston way they say that Morris-Harvey is going to have a sweet football team this year. Incidentally, Glenville will tee off against M-H in a nocturnal game at Spencer on Sept. 30. Don't say you weren't told.

NETMEN TO PLAY NEW RIVER HERE

College Team Will Have Busy Week-End; Morris-Harvey on Saturday

Back from a disastrous invasion of Marion County, where they dropped the season's opener to Fairmont State by an 8-1 count the Pioneers' experienced netmen are now preparing for their initial home engagement of the year with New River State this Friday. Saturday will find the Pioneers on the local courts again opposing Morris-Harvey.

Although little is known of the calibre of the New River team, it is expected that an interesting match will be staged. Morris-Harvey will also be a serious threat, having trounced Pikeville (Ky.) College by an 8-2 count in its opening match last week.

Against Fairmont, Glenville was ineffective in all departments, losing five single and three double matches. Coach Rohrbough was entirely dissatisfied with the performance of his proteges in the Fairmont matches, and will probably send a revamped lineup against New River on Friday.

GIRLS TO PLAY TENNIS

Will Engage in Intercollegiate Contests and Tournament

Approximately twelve students joined the Girls' Tennis Club which was organized Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in Room 203.

The tennis tournament will be held the last two weeks in May and the dates for the practice periods will be announced later by Miss Olive Thorn, sports leader.

The intercollegiate tennis team will be selected from the Girls' Tennis Club and the collegiate team will play girls' teams from other colleges.

WILL SLOW UP GAME

Coaches Will Put Brakes on "Race-horse" Basketball Next Year

CHICAGO, ILL., (ACP)—"Race-horse" basketball, as played on college and university courts during the past season will be slowed up when the hoopers resume play next winter.

At its meeting here last week, the Coaches applied two brakes to the National Association of Basketball game: They increased the number of time-out periods to five and provided for optional use of four ten-minute quarters instead of the usual twenty-minute halves.

The group also approved the use of a four-foot instead of a two-foot out-of-bounds margin behind the banking boards and barred making of substitutions after a goal is made until the ball is back in play.

FOOTBALL, NON-PAYING SPORT

National Survey Shows Small Colleges Lose on Gridiron Game

OBERLIN, O., (ACP)—Football for the small colleges is far from a profitable sport, Oberlin College's President Ernest H. Wilkins reports. "After a coast-to-coast survey of the financing of the gridiron sport.

Quoting figures that deny the fact that "football supports the rest of the athletic program," President Wilkins states that in the 22 colleges he surveyed an average deficit of $1,743 resulted from last year's football schedule.

Total receipts ranged from $2,660 to $16,213, he reported, but expenditures ranged from $3,829 to $18,060. Just two of the 22 show a surplus at the end of the season, and one of these was for only $79. Deficits revealed were as high as $5,830.

Heaven alone knows how I resent 'im.
What fate could possibly have sent 'im?

As far as he goes,
As everybody knows,

As he raves about us madly,
It makes me sick,
There's not even a brick,
Temptation I put behind me so sadly.

THE FOE OF YOUTH

In many colleges and high schools in West Virginia, students are being tested to find out how many are infected with the germs of tuberculosis. This is being done for the purpose of thwarting the development of the disease before the germs have done any serious damage to the lungs. The idea is to find tuberculosis before it starts and to guide the students in keeping in good health.

It appears that tuberculosis takes most of its victims by serious illness and death in the age period between twenty and thirty-five years. It is reported that sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis are filled mostly with patients within that age group. They are there because their early infection was provoked into disease by the breaking down of physical resistance.

There are in West Virginia more than 800 beds in sanatoria for tuberculosis. Every bed is occupied constantly and there is a waiting list every month of more than 150 applicants. There are more than 1,000 deaths in West Virginia annually from tuberculosis. Nearly 45 per cent of these deaths are during the ages of early maturity. The cost of treatment is expensive to the patient, his family and the state. Every case leaves a trail of broken homes and social insecurity. Health authorities responsible for the tuberculosis program believe that tuberculosis can be eradicated if college and school students generally will co-operate in the present program intended for their welfare.
