Survey Reveals Need of Education

A VOTE OF THANKS

Perhaps you have been wondering why there were so many happy smiles running around the campus the past week. The explanation is that the commuting students in the College, who are wearing these smiles, have finally been given what they have long desired on the campus—definite quarters where they may spend their odd hours during the school day. While it is unfortunate that accommodations for these students could not have been made sooner, we feel assured that the present arrangements, though more or less temporary, have met with the heartiest approval.

The boys were given the use of rooms in the Lodge, and the Lounge in the basement of the Administration building was placed at the disposal of the girls. Here the students have bases from which they may carry out their daily schedule with greater satisfaction and a minimum loss of odd hours. Suitable tables and chairs have been provided which assure the students comfort and ease during the lunch period and the time they are not attending classes.

Convinced of the desirability of placing such accommodations at the disposal of all commuting students, we believe that efforts should be made to provide permanent quarters on, or near, the College campus. Certainly the satisfaction which these students would derive from such arrangements would more than compensate for all money or efforts which would need to be expended. —Jarrett Jones.

NOT FOR ENTERTAINMENT

Dr. Norman W. Cox, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church of Huntington, in a recent book, YOUTH'S RETURN TO FAITH, makes the statement that many young people today are looking upon the church as a means of entertainment. People want to be entertained, and they have expected the church to move out of its intended sphere to satisfy their desire.

Bearing out Dr. Cox's assertion is an experience common to many campuses. A young woman student in a state school was outspoken in her dislike for a professor who taught the student class in her church. She just couldn't find any good in the man. Two things were obvious—she liked to sleep late on Sunday morning, and the professor was perfectly serious in his teaching. But when the student group gave a party, that girl was present. She wanted the church to entertain her.

The purpose of the church is not to entertain people. The church has not done all it could do to be of service to people and to provide attractive programs for those who come. No one will be more willing to admit this than the conscientious pastor who is trying to make his church an agency for greater service in the community.

The most of us are well aware of the things for which the church stands, and the service it attempts to render. I appeal from a sense of fairness. Let us cease trying to make the church what it is not, and accept it for what it is. —Lela Susan Wright.

Sunday, May 8, marks another milestone in man's ever-increasing love and respect for mother, the personality around whom America wraps its faith and dedicates its reverence once a year on the day known as MOTHER'S DAY.

This year, again, America salutes the mothers, living and dead, and praises the work of Miss Ann Jarvis, the Grafton woman who founded Mother's Day.

BE WISE—THINK FOR YOURSELF.

Public opinion is rated very highly in a democracy such as we have on our campus, and yet what is more pernicious, more frequently mistaken, and more inimical to intelligent opinions than this very same public opinion? It is pernicious because it always tends to enforce conformity and easily manifests itself as mob fanaticism. Public opinion is likely to be mistaken because it is the product of misinformation, prejudice and limited petty motives of self-interest, and back of it is hardly ever any sort of thinking. Again it strikes at the thinker who manifests an inclination to stand apart, creating an atmosphere which blights the tendency to be original.

Students associating together in college life are very susceptible to the lethal qualities of public opinion. A very small minority will think for themselves at times, but even these are kept from this inclination by the pressure of public opinion which is always in some degree being applied to the great and small things of life. Every day we face some situation which gives us a chance to keep high our ideals and build up our character—What do we do? Too often we give the answer of the crowd, choking all opportunities for originality.

The only opinions worth considering are the opinions of individuals. The wise student never regards public opinion at all except as a danger.—Mary Leone West.

A NOTE TO COLLEGE GRADUATES

(Philadelphia Record)

Back in 1913 a modest young man went to work for the Evening Bulletin. He was 21, and a recent graduate of Princeton University.

His job was driving a truck for the circulation department. His contacts were with newsboys, who clamored for night extras, the Bulletin's great home edition.

He kept accounts, he collected nickels and pennies. He was a pleasant youngster, and the "newsies" liked him. . . . some day they might drive Bulletin's trucks, too.

His name was Bob McLean, and the kids who bought papers from him every day called him Bob, and considered him their friend. He still is, and the Bulletin's Night Extra is still its great home edition, read in the quiet hour after dinner by the family crowded around the cleared table.

Monday the young ex-truck driver, still quiet, still friendly after 25 years in the newspaper business, was elected president of the Associated Press, which most people think is the biggest job a newspaper man can hold.

He is known now to those associated with him as Major Robert McLean, president of the paper where he started to work as a truck driver.

Editors See It

From the Weston Independent
About 130 Weston high school students and teachers again enjoyed the annual All Science Day at Glenville State Teachers College. Thanks to the Lewis County Board of Education that this large group was transported to and from the College in three of the large school buses at the nominal cost of fifteen cents each. Two other buses also carried capacity loads to this splendid science exhibit and program, these being from high schools at Alum Bridge and Walkersville.

In spite of inclement weather, all agreed that the trip was an enjoyable one as well as interesting and worthwhile from a learning point of view. The conduct of the students was commendable both in and around the College buildings. We are sincerely convinced that the touch of college life obtained by our students and the contacts made by associating with nearly a thousand other students from high schools in central West Virginia, along with the real science knowledge from the study of over 450 explained exhibits in the various class rooms and the hearing of three or four outstanding lectures and demonstrations in the auditorium, were equal in learning value and educational growth to several days of our regular work in our schools. We shall hope for the continued rapid growth and popularity of this annual affair.

If anyone should think this is a rather strong statement about it, we suggest that he ask one of the Weston High School students.

Faculty Members Attend Annual Meeting of A. A. U. P. in Fairmont

By John Rogers

Sating that the purpose of their trip to the Regional Conference of the American Association of University Professors at Fairmont State Teachers College, Friday, was to determine whether or not the College should join the Association, Dean H. L. White said that he and Mr. Raymond E. Freed agreed that there was no need for a chapter in the College.

Both Mr. White and Mr. Freed said the Association was superfluous in such a small school as this, because the organization is primarily beneficial to institutions having a faculty of 800 members or more.

Some of the subjects the two instructors heard discussed were: "Faculty-Administration Cooperation in Colleges and Universities," "Annals and Policies of Tenure," "Academic Freedom and Tenure," and a review of the work done by the chapters.

The work of the Association is based on freedom of speech and stability of tenure.

Chapters of the Association within the state are located at West Virginia University, Bethany College and Fairmont.

Woodrow Morris Reports That 200 Illegitimate Children Are Born Daily

By Elizabeth Lewis

Two hundred illegitimate children are born each day in the United States, and the two chief reasons for this are economic handicaps and young people's ignorance of sex life.

These were observations made the past Thursday by Woodrow Morris, senior, in a report on "Illegitimacy" before the Sociology 304 class.

Mr. Morris, who was assisted by Mrs. Maxie Reynolds and Geneva Spiker, also reported that most of the illegitimate children are born of mothers under twenty-one years of age; that more illegitimacy occurs in urban centers than elsewhere, and that the greater percentage of illegitimacy occurs among the Negro race in the southern states.

The report was one among many which the class is compiling. Others to be heard yet this year include: How many children should a family have? Should young women continue their work outside the home after marriage? What factors should the young people especially consider in choosing a mate? Bohensky, Romano, McMillan and Wiseman Lead Batting Parade With .500 Average or Above

Junior Rhoades' team suffered its first defeat of the season the past Thursday as Wright's team got to Woodrow Maxwell for a total of four runs and won, 4-3.

Trailing 2 to 3 in the fifth inning, Lonnie Wiseman led off with a single, Romano grounded out short to first to send Wiseman to second and then big Albert Lilley smashed a tremendous triple against the center field bleachers to score Wiseman with the tying run. Lilley scored the winning run on Bickel's sacrifice.

With one man out in the last half of the sixth, John Bohensky doubled to right field and went to third on (Buzard's) late return of the ball. Noble laid a punt down the third base line, but Bennett threw him out at first and Lilley threw Bohensky out at the plate for a snappy double play.

John Bohensky led the hitting attack for Rhoades' team with two hits in two official times at the plate.

In the other games of the week, Norri's team defeated Wolfe's team 11 to 9. Wright and Wolfe played a 6 to 6 tie and Rhoades' team won over Norri's team 5 to 0.

BAR YARD GOLF IS POPULAR HERE
MARION NETMEN HUMBLE PIONEERS

Much to the disgust of a host of late morning slumbers, a troupe of ambitious and conscientious early risers have organized a tennis club, appropriately labeled, ("The Breakfast Club Boys"). With tennis enthusiasm existing as it is on the campus, this corner is in sympathy with the later group, because (1) The courts are overcrowded throughout the day, (2) It is the only time that they have to get an essential amount of exercise, and (3) The grumblers, as a whole, haven't the slightest idea when to retire at night.

ORCHIDS TO MISS BRANSFORD FOR BEING VOTED MISS C-CLUB II. QUEEN OF THE PIONEERS!—Her winning smile, lovely physique, and abundant supply of vivacity more than makes her eligible for such an honor, and we are confident that "e will make a charming queen. However, several members of the club are wondering why the entire campus is entitled to vote for the C-Club Queen.—If all students are permitted to vote, why not call her Queen of Glenville State College?—We believe that a queen representative of the club should be elected wholly by the club.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO THE INTRA-MURAL LEAGUE SPIRIT?—Instead of the tight race for the pennant that this corner predicted, we find, after a week of play, nothing but a series of ragged exhibitors of how baseball should not be played.—Someone remarked the other day if a one-ring circus was in town—

Of course we must realize that the boys have not had sufficient time to practice, but let us hope that enthusiasm will reach a higher pitch this week.

Despite the fact that Paul F. Mason has exercised a great deal of effort in constructing pitching pits, interest in horse shoe pitching is on the wane, primarily because of a lack of adequate shoes.—The sport, comparatively new in local circles, has provided many students with wholesome idle-moments entertainment and should not be permitted to die out for such a reason.

Numerous colleges in this section of the state are winding up their annual spring football training drills with pre-season practice games, the most prominent being West Virginia Wesleyan, Morris Harvey and Marshall. All three of these institutions have been holding drills for the past three weeks, and from all indications, the trio should trot much improved elevens on the field next fall.

Spring football may be O. K. in schools where plenty of competent material is available, but in the smaller colleges it is an excellent way to waste a lot of time. The average collegiate footballer, after a three months vacation, usually has to condition himself before the season opens anyway, so why can't mentors spend their spring training time with other branches of sport. Another detriment of spring football drills is the fact that a lot of time is spent with material that will not be available in the fall.

Dickinson College Requires Extra-Curricular Activities for Graduation

CARLISE, PA., (ACP)—Dickinson College has made participation in extra-curricular activities a requirement for graduation.

In a report by a special committee which established this new rule for students in this liberal arts college, the faculty assumed complete regulation of all student activities.

President Fred Pierce Corson said: "The report is the result of a long and careful study in which a large number of students participated. It is based on the belief that extra-curricular activities should be a part of the student's development and should not take any time which belongs to other phases of the student's development."

The committee, it was said, has attempted to do two things: First, to restrict the over-assertive student; and, secondly, to compel the inactive student to participate in outside activities.

The maximum number of activities in which a student is allowed to participate is figured in terms of hours, and the minimum participation allowed a student is figured in terms of value points.

The committee recommends that a student with an A average for the last semester of the preceding year should be allowed unlimited privileges, that the B student be restricted to 1,000 hours, the C student to 750 hours, and the D student to 500 hours. Also it is required that the members of the upper three classes earn at least 100 value points during the year.

Freshmen, in the interests of their best orientation to college work, are excluded from extra-curricular activities beyond physical education. They may be permitted to take part only with the approval of the Board of Deans.

Pioneer Tennis Team Breaks Even In Matches Held Here Over Week-End

The Pioneer Tennis team broke even in a pair of closely-contested matches here over the week-end, gaining its first victory of the season Friday afternoon in turning back New River State, 4-3, and dropping its second match of the year to Morris Harvey Saturday by the same count.

Earle Wolfe, playing No. 4 man, was Glenville's outstanding player in both matches, winning both of his single matches and pairing off with Andrew Edwards to cop a pair of doubles.

The Shreve brothers, Bob and Fred, playing No. 1 and No. 2 positions, were far off form in their single matches, returning services badly with weak volleying and lacking punch in their shots. However, playing together in double matches, they displayed fine form, winning two matches in straight sets. The summaries:

Singles—Plymal, (NR), defeated B. Shreve, Glenville, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4; O'Neil, (NR), defeated F. Shreve, Glenville, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Edwards, Glenville, defeated Hyer, (NR), 6-4, 10-8; Wolfe, Glenville, defeated Bailey, (NR), 6-1, 7-9, 6-4; Hopkins, (NR), defeated Barnett, Glenville, 6-0, 6-3; Armstrong, (MH), defeated B.
