AND REMIND YOU:

Students Should Feel Obligated To Help Select A Pioneer And A Queen Tomorrow

AS I SEE IT

Observations, Reflections From The Nation's Colleges

A new wrinkle in military affairs comes from Trinity College at Hartford, Conn., where Mrs. Remsen B. Ogby has asked of his students to get car operators' licenses so they will be ready to drive army automobiles or tanks should the United States enter the World War the Second.

PHYSICALLY FIT

Students who enter college today are in much better physical condition than their predecessors, believe, Dr. A. O. DeWeese over at Kent State University. Outstanding improvement in nutrition was shown in a twelve-year survey of examinations.

POLICEMEN NEEDED

Out at Salt Lake City the Utah association of civil service commissioners believes colleges and universities should offer training courses for policemen and firemen. Basis for the contention is that policemen and firemen are public servants and they get larger salaries than teachers. Wouldn't take long to train needed personnel for Gilmer County; there is one city policeman in the county.

LIKE FATHER

Dr. Alice B. Pillsbury, University of Michigan psychologist, maintains the father's IQ could be used for the son's college entrance examination. Dr. Pillsbury found through study that the difference between the father's grades and his son's marks is comparable to the relative scholastic achievements of the son in high school and college.

And here is Dr. Pillsbury's conclusion: The government should give financial aid to intelligent couples so that they might produce intelligent offspring.

NO TEXTBOOKS

Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, author of "How to Read a Book," declares that colleges and universities should do away with textbooks and substitute the study of 100 of the world's greatest volumes. There is nothing new about Dr. Adler's pronouncement, except that he goes on to suggest that the smaller colleges are the ones who must stir this movement. Says he: "The larger schools are so top-heavy with watertight compartments of so-called fields of learning that they will not lead in any change." Most notable exponent of the no-textbook theory of education is St. John's at Annapolis.

A LOT OF HOOEY

Dr. Clarence W. Mendell, Yale's new athletic boss, recently took a poke at the "league instinct" in college athletics when he declared: "All this super-organization which has developed in the past few years is bound to collapse under its own weight. I can't see any advantage in having all these leagues, one for every sport. . . . Instead of arranging our own schedules, we see fit to be told when we will play and when. It makes the thing completely out of our hands and all we get is some undesirable publicity."

More Than 175 Physical Exams Completed Here

About 175 physical examinations have been given under the supervision of the College nurse, Mrs. Teresa Strother, and the College physician, Dr. W. T. Smith, in the Lounge of Louis Bennett Hall. Several who enrolled late have not yet reported to fill out physical examination blanks. Mrs. Strother requests these be filled out immediately. Examinations are to be completed this week.

SON BORN TO MR. AND MRS. PAUL BROOKS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brooks of Camden-on-Gualey, announce the arrival of a son, October 1. He weighs seven pounds and twelve ounces and has been named Paul, Jr. Mr. Brooks is a former student and a brother of Reynold Brooks, a freshman in the College.

Harvard University's $143,000, 100th anniversary makes it America's oldest educational institution.

O'DONNELL SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY IN ASSEMBLY HOUR

Harpers Magazine Representative Also Talks to Mercury Staff Wednesday A. M.

By Mary Adelaide Brown
Facts on book and magazine publishing were presented by Mr. Bernard O'Donnell, public relations manager of Harpers Magazine, to a College assembly audience Wednesday.

"Do not feel bad if your manuscript is returned from the publishing house," Mr. O'Donnell encouraged. He explained that in the past two years competition was so great that articles by such authors as H. G. Wells and Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt were returned.

Mr. O'Donnell explained that the psychological moment is important in selection of usable articles. Of the 25,000 manuscripts Harpers receives in one year, not more than 250 are published, he said.

"We receive about two thousand fiction, non-fiction, and juvenile manuscripts a year," he said, and added, "Religious, business and textbooks are solicited from experts." He said about forty of each type are published yearly.

Steps in Publishing
The speaker explained the work of each department of the publishing house from time of acceptance of the manuscript to the publication of a book, saying, "The manuscript comes first to the publishing house where a record of the author and article is made." Several authorities then read the book, and each one answers questions on a special report form, including, "Have you any suggestions for improving the title?" and "Does the manuscript need a serious revision?" If the cost of publishing the book compares favorably with its estimated sale, the manuscript is accepted.

To illustrate his address, Mr. O'Donnell passed among the audience authentic magazine and book manuscripts by such authors as Elmer (Continued on Page 4)

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS ARE IMPROVED DURING SUMMER; ROOMS AND HALLS PAINTED

New Plumbing Installed At Gym; Garage Made Longer To Accommodate Bus

Extensive summer improvements to College buildings and grounds have been completed, announces Pres. E. G. Rohrbough.

The College auditorium, corridors, and all classrooms in Administration Hall were repainted. In the Old Building, only those rooms which were not painted the past year were painted this year.

In charge of the painting was Harlan Hauman, alumnus of the College, and Cecil Reaser and Clarence Rader.

Laboratory Remodeled

The biology and botany laboratory was completely remodeled and refurnished. A partition was removed, an attic room torn out and the laboratory and Room 109 made about equal in size.

A room in the Old Building, used the past few years as a classroom for pupils of the second grade, was reconditioned and made ready for use by Dr. Brown's classes in mathematics and mechanical drawing. Pupils in the second grade were assigned to a room in the Training School.

Windows throughout Administration Hall and the Old Building were repaired and new panes put in where needed.

Concrete Ramp Built

A concrete ramp was built to lead from the driveway behind the Old Building to the furnace room of Louis Bennett Hall. Also a new door was installed. The ramp was built in order to facilitate removal of ashes from the furnace. Formerly ashes had to be hoisted out in heavy steel buckets.

New plumbing was installed in the gymnasium and all old pipe removed.

Dr. C. P. Harper

Made a charter member of the West Virginia Historical Society at an organization meeting in Charleston, Saturday, was Dr. C. P. Harper, of the College faculty. See story in this issue.

ELECTED CURRENT EVENTS PRESIDENT

Teresa Butcher Will Direct Activities of Club; Miss Bell Is Adviser

Teresa Butcher, a senior, is the new president of the Current Events Club. Elected the past Tuesday, Miss Butcher will serve as president for the second time. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Butcher, of Cedarville.

As her vice-president, Miss Butcher appointed Helen Heater, senior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Heater, of Weston. Agnes Wright will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Committees appointed were: Program, Clyde Dotson, Juanita Haught, Helen Taylor, membership, Jo Reeder, Richard Harper, Elizabeth Clark; home-coming, Richard Harper, Olive Myers, Agnes Wright. New members taken into the Club are: Helen Taylor, Clyde Dotson, Elizabeth Clark, Imogene Hamrick, Richard Harper, Helen Light, June Taylor, Lorene Lewis, Katy Adams, and Juanita Haught.

Four Faculty Members Attend Forest Festival

Four members of the College faculty were among those from Glenville who attended part of the activities of this year's Mountain State Forest Festival, in Elkins.

Highlight of the festival was the crowning of Miss Eloise Campbell Long, of Huntington, who became Queen Silvia XI. On Friday the main features were a three-mile long parade and a musical concert in which twenty-six bands participated.

Approximately 40,000 persons were present Saturday night for the closing event which featured a blackout and a display of modern methods of warfare.

From the College went Miss Alma Ar buckle, librarian; Miss Margaret D. Kenney, art instructor; Mrs. Earl R. Boggs, physical education; Dr. W. Byron Brown, mathematics; Mrs. Brown and daughter, Mary Adelaide; Juanita Haught, Gwendolyn Beall, Sarah Malcolm, Jennings Jarvis and Estella Bonner.

H. Y. Clark Speaks To Calhoun Teachers

H. Y. Clark, instructor in education, spoke to the Calhoun County teachers Friday on the subject: "Organization of the One-Room School." While there he also addressed students for extension classes which will begin tonight with E. R. Grose, instructor. Mr. Clark was accompanied by Mrs. Clark.

CANTERBURY CLUB TO MEET

Waltham, Paine, and Daudet stories will comprise the Canterbury program tomorrow evening in Room 1, James Heater, Olive Myers, and Madelyn Conrad will be on the program.

WILL PRESENT ONE-ACT PLAYS

Ohningohows and Alpha Psi Omega Members Hold Try-Outs To Select Casts

Seventeen girls and eleven boys manifested an interest in dramatizing by filling out questionnaires and participating in tryouts for plays Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the Ohningohow Players and Alpha Psi Omega plan to present several one-act plays, which will be cast from those who tried out. Participation will count toward membership in the dramatic clubs.

First to be presented is "Concise Account," by Janet Katherine Smith. Helin Heater, a senior, is director.

Two Freshmen Get Free Subscriptions Harpers Magazine

Catherine Withers, of Glenville, and Floyd Martin, of Liverport, winners of a contest held Wednesday during the College assembly, will receive free a six months subscription to Harpers Magazine.

Their sets of questions were drawn at random from a stack of more than two hundred collected from the audience by Mr. Bernard O'Donnell, assembly speaker, and public relations manager of Harpers Magazine.

To his collection of approximately seven thousand which are photographed and kept on permanent file, will be added those from the audience. In this way he tabulates the number of times the same question is asked.

Concerning her gift, Miss Withers, College freshman said, "I was certainly pleased to win this subscription, and I think the idea of holding such a contest all over the country is a unique way of publicizing the magazine."

Sundown Tomorrow Will Bring Freedom To These Freshmen

Four College freshmen who forgo to comply with campus rules made by the Student Council are looking forward to a hurried-up sundown tomorrow evening. . . . for for with sundown will come liberty.

In session Monday evening, Sept. 30, the Council, headed by Pres. Earl McDonald, advanced plans to elect the 1940 Pioneers, Home-coming queen and cheerleaders, all of which will take place in assembly tomorrow.

Also, the Council, after listening to charges of violation of freshman rules, ordered a few signs prepared and asked four first-year students to tote them around and display such inscriptions as: 1. "I am weeping because while sweeping I forgot to wear my cap." 2. "Let it rain, let it shine, you wear your rap and I'll wear mine!"

One freshman was asked to wear a four-inch ribbon around his neck, a reminder that freshmen are expected to wear neckties to class.

Still another freshman was assigned to wear a cardboard badge on her back, reminding of the rule that caps and badges are still a part of a newcomer's apparel.

Three Changes Are Made In Schedule

Three changes made in the College schedule the past week are: C. W. Post, replacing Carvy Woolfer in Bible class; E. R. Grose, conducting extension class at Grantville, biology 406, economic zoology; and Carvy Woolfer, conducting extension class at Elizabeth, in place of C. W. Post.

Gwendolyn Beall Named President Of Ohningohows

Gwendolyn Beall, a senior, was elected president of the Ohningohow Players at a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 25. Other officers are: Vice-president, Geraldine McClain; and secretary-treasurer, Olive Myers.

A program committee of three was appointed consisting of Eva Amos, Jo Reeder, and John Hunter Williams.

ALUMNI WILL MEET THIS EVENING TO PLAN FOR HOME-COMING TO BE CELEBRATED HERE SATURDAY, OCT. 19

Students Will Meet In Auditorium Tomorrow Morning to Choose Pioneer, Queen and Elect Cheerleaders

First definite steps toward getting the 1940 Home-coming plans in progress will be taken here this week when at least two organizations meet, elect committees and transact necessary routine matters.

Dr. W. Byron Brown, above, is a new member on the College faculty this year. He teaches mathematics and mechanical drawing.

DR. BROWN IS P.-T. A. SPEAKER

Dr. J. C. Shreve Conducts Devotional Exercises; SEA Man Attends

Dr. W. Byron Brown, instructor of mathematics in the College, spoke on "Education for a Mechanical Age" before the Glenville Parent-Teachers' Association at its second meeting Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. J. Gilbert Cain presided in the absence of Mrs. Russell McQuain, president. "America the Beautiful" was sung by everyone, and Dr. J. C. Shreve gave the devotional. A saxophone quartet, directed by Frank Beall, played three numbers.

Miss Virginia Hall, sixth grade teacher, spoke on "Elementary Citizenship as an Activity."

The fourth grade received the banner award for having the most parents present.

Jan Valjean Roberts, field representative for the State Education Association, was present at the meeting.

Dr. C. P. Harper Is Made Charter Member Of West Virginia Historical Society

Organization Elected Saturday At Meeting In Charleston; Governor Speaks

Dr. C. P. Harper, instructor in political science, was in Charleston Saturday for an organization meeting of the West Virginia Historical Society, which has for its first president, Charles McComie, Wheeling attorney.

Dr. Harper was made a charter member to represent his home county, Pendleton.

Prof. Thomas P. Abernethy of the University of Virginia, reviewed the work of southern historians in an address to the group, and cited a growing scientific interest in history during recent years.

Governor Homer A. Holt, Roy Bird Cook of Charleston, author of several West Virginia historical works; President Leonard Biggleman of Morris Harvey College, Dr. James E. Allen of Marshall College, and others appeared before the group.

Other officers elected were: Festus Summers of Morgantown, first vice president; George Bowers of Mannington, A. D. Kenan of Shepherdstown, D. B. Kraybill of Montgomery, Herbert Fitzpatrick of Huntington, Mrs. D. E. French of Bluefield, and Cook, second vice president.

Mrs. Francis C. Davis of Charleston, state historian, was made executive secretary, and J. C. Sanders of Keyser treasurer.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the College Alumni, headed by Pres. James Hatfield, of Burnsville High School, will assemble in Room 101 here at the College and map out a complete Home-coming program for Saturday, Oct. 19.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the College student body, headed by Pres. Earl McDonald, will meet in the auditorium and:

- (1) Elect the 1940 Pioneer, (2) choose a Home-coming queen, and (3) select cheerleaders.

Will Discuss Yearbook
Also the student body will be asked to express views regarding a yearbook for 1940-'41, which will be, if published, the first since 1937.

The yearbook question has been before the Council twice this year and was the chief item on the Council's agenda at last night's session in the lounge of Louis Bennett Hall.

This year's Home-coming queen will be the third. Custom of choosing a queen to reign over the annual festivities was started three years ago by the Council. First to be elected was Mrs. Lois Mason Mace of Elizabeth. Second in the line of Home-coming queens was Miss Jean McGee, of Glenville, who was crowned the past year during a ceremony on the lawn in front of Verona Maple Hall.

Former 'Pioneers'
The custom of choosing a Pioneer originated several years ago. This honor, considered one of the top-notchers on the campus, must go each year to a senior boy who has not participated in athletics but who has done much for the College in his more-than-three-year stay. The Pioneer, by virtue of his election, automatically becomes a member of the G Club, lettermen's organization.

Pioneers of former years are: Warren Blackhurst, '34; Lloyd McHenry, '35; Millard Cunningham, '36; Willis Patterson, '37; Clifford Garrett, '38; Hebert Brooks, '39.

HALL GIRLS VOTE TO PAY HOUSE DUES

Verona Maple Hall girls will pay house dues of twenty-five cents a semester to buy two daily papers and care for other expenses that arise, it was decided the past Tuesday.

H. Laban White, Jr., Is Honored at WVU

H. Laban White, Jr., son of Dean and Mrs. H. Laban White, was recently appointed associate editor of "The West Virginia Law Quarterly," official journal of the College of Law in the University, where Mr. White is a student. Scholastic are made on the basis of scholastic attainment.

On to Weston Saturday Night, Say Glenville Fans

A last-minute change announced to the Mercury today moves the Glenville-West Liberty game to Weston, where Coach A. F. Rohrbough's White Wave will battle a State conference opponent and a team that shipped Salem the past week, 35-0.

There'll be fanfare aplenty when game time rolls around, 'cause students, faculty and townspeople are already crying "On to Weston, Pioneers," and "Beat West Liberty." Students will be admitted free, but must present activity tickets. The Gilmer County band will be guests at the game.

Game time is 7:30 p. m. and the place is Weston's new athletic center. See page 3 for advance story on this game.

One Wonders, Are We Truly Civilized?

AN INSTRUCTOR in the College told a class the other day that because of the war, civilization had been set back a thousand years.

One wonders if man is yet truly civilized. True, he can record his thoughts on paper, and can speak long distances by telephone and radio.

But it seems that man is never content with either good or bad. He spends billions of dollars for materials to make people comfortable and happy and then spends billions more to tear them down.

Are we truly civilized?—Albert Woolfer.

The Metamorphosis of A Campus Club Bug

THE EXTREME opposite of the bookworm is the club bug. He flits about from club to club, not devoting enough time to any activity to become proficient in it.

There are four stages in the life history of a club bug. During the preliminary stage he develops the idea that he must belong to several clubs in order to have a well-rounded college career.

You've Got a Good Campus, Now Keep It

ON MY FIRST day at Glenville State Teachers College I was greatly impressed by the beauty of the campus. I gazed in wonder at the stately and beautiful building which I later learned was Verona Mapel Hall.

Are we going to keep it as such, or are we going to allow some thoughtless student to mar its beauty by tearing down lawn chairs, throwing paper on the lawn, and trampling down the grass?

Of course our dormitories, with the exception of Louis Bennett Hall, are not the most modern ones in the state, but they are comfortable, and the exterior a compliment to any school.

The past week, when the lawn chairs were turned upside down and rammed into the ground, the damage was charged against a horse, one who happened to be taking a "forced" midnight stroll on the campus.

In America even the poor go to college and as in any other world the one with the pull gets the job. Sweet is pleasure after pain, but sweeter still would be the pleasure if their were no pain.

On the Shelves At the Robert F. Kidd Library

New reading materials in the Robert F. Kidd Library which should be of interest to students are the West Virginia publications by the Federal Writers Project.

"Smoke Hole and Its People" is a history of the narrow and so long isolated little canyon on the South Fork in Pendleton County. Another is, "Mountain State Tintypes," a humorous selection of legendary tales of real pioneers of the state, namely: "The Right Reverend John B. Mills, moonshine sir" from moonshine to preacher; "Banjo Jim, remember him"; "Rindire Hamrick, the philosophic nitro-d", of Webster County, still living a typical mountaineer life; "Uncle Billy Frum, backwoods play-boy," and others.

"Oceans and the Cook Family" is a history of Wyoming County. Its setting is at Oceana, the first settlement of the county. Another West Virginia book is "Outside Paradise" by Louise Rosalie Preysz, an alumna of the College, who produced the hit, "Larmin" last year. Miss Preysz teaches in Elkins.

Claudius Crozet has written "Charlottesville, Virginia"—a history of the turpikes through Virginia and West Virginia which he helped build. Crozet was an engineer and soldier for Napoleon, taught engineering at West Point, then became state engineer in Virginia.

Shutterbugs May Cash In on Good Action Pictures

The Mercury calls attention to possibilities of selling live, local (but unusual) pictures to Collegiate Digest for use in the weekly retrospective reedition distributed here on the campus.

So if you're a shutterbug, here's an easy way to pick up a little spending money:

Bring pictures to the Mercury and have them forwarded to Collegiate Digest in Mississippi. Payment of $3 for each photo used will be made upon acceptance by the Digest editors. Pictures should be at least 4 by 6 inches in size. Good quality glass prints are essential. Action or candid pictures are preferred.

All photos must be properly captioned.

COLLEGE ALUMNA DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Funeral services were held yesterday at Los Angeles, Calif., for Mrs. Hester Hays Snodgrass, 70 years, and a former resident of Gilmer County, who died of paralysis.

She was graduated from the College in 1889 with a Standard Normal certificate, after which she taught school until her retirement thirty-five years ago.

BEATRICE NORMAN AND PAUL CAIN MARRIED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Beatrice Norman, a former student, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Norman, of Orton, to Paul Cain of Zanesville, O. The marriage was performed August 2, 1940, at Ashland, Ky. They now live at Canton, O.

STATE NEWSPAPER COUNCIL TO MEET NOVEMBER 14-16

The annual meeting of the West Virginia Newspaper Council will be held at Morgantown, under auspices of the University, November 14 to 16, announces C. T. McHenry, Charleston, secretary. Linn B. Hickman, faculty adviser of the Mercury, is a member of the Council and will attend the two-day meeting.

Keeping Wright With The News

TO COLLEGE SENIORS with a flair for fashion and the ability to write comes this news: Vogue Magazine is offering a Prix De Paris contest, sponsored primarily to discover new talent for Vogue's editorial staff and to train students in fashion and feature writing.

HERE IS A CHANCE for senior girls to step from college life into a career. . . . Major awards offered are: First prize, a year's position on Vogue's fashion staff. . . . second prize, six months as a feature writer on Vogue's staff as a special Vanity Fair award. . . . and five cash prizes for best contest theses.

TOPS IN FASHION sees the wearing of identical styles in dress by both men and women these days. Even designs on gloves are styled the same. . . . Noticeable on our Campus are jackets and hats fashioned alike for both sexes.

NEW TO FRESHMEN and soon to be forgotten by upperclassmen were the Time affairs tests given the past week, what with other pre-planned quizzes and academic work.

STUDENTS IN GSTC have their troubles, but compared to those of Edward R. Murrow, C. B. S. commentator in Europe, they're very small. . . . Recently, while enroute to the office to prepare a broadcast, Murrow had to fall five times in order to avoid bomb splinters. . . . "Bombs may interrupt cables, but can neither bend nor break short-waves," Murrow said in a cable to C. B. S. director of public affairs, Paul White.

All the Way From Mississippi Come These Coeds to Meet For First Time

Mary Adelaide Brown and Sarah Malcolm From Same Town and Same State

Peculiar is the coincidence heard of a few days ago when a discussion between two students revealed that Miss Mary Adelaide Brown, student and daughter of Dr. W. B. Brown, instructor in mathematics in the College, and Miss Sarah Malcolm, student from Barbours County, came from the same state, same city, same high school.

Like Monday Is Thursday to Occupants Of Louis Bennett Hall, Men's Dormitory

Monitors, Cleaners Charged With Responsibilities of 'Clean-Up' Day

Though less traditional than the Monday wash-day in the typical American home, "the Thursday clean-up day" at Louis Bennett Hall receives little short of the same emphasis.

The program, designed when the hall, a dormitory for men, was first opened, calls for a thorough inspection of each occupied room each Thursday and a rebuke from monitors or preceptors when corridors, walls, ceiling, floors and furniture don't look as if they had been touched by the cleaners' rags and brushes.

Living in each section, besides the "regulars," are a monitor and a cleaner, upon whom direct responsibility for conduct, cleaning and distribution of laundry falls.

At present there are ten monitors and ten cleaners for the four sections. Monitors are Gordon Thompson, Robert Armstrong, Johnson Burke, Robert Stalnaker, Harold Raymond Tracy, Newman Rader, Irvin Conley, Kenneth Hutchinson and Forest White. Cleaners are Sam Marchie, James Heaster, Homer Lee Smith, Jack Miles, Roland Holt, John Strickling, Jack Byers, John H.

Williams, Patsy Palumbo and Earle Spencer. Louis Bennett Hall preceptors are R. E. Freed and A. F. Rohrbaugh.

Glenville People See Missouri-Pitt Game in Pittsburgh

Fred Madison Whiting, Jr., instructor in Normantown high school, Mary Moran, College sophomore, and Mr. and Mrs. Linn B. Hickman were in Pittsburgh Saturday for the Missouri-Pittsburgh football game.

The Pitt-Pittsburgh, featuring a 203-pound fullback, won 19 to 13. Missouri's chief threat was famed Paul Christman, football's No. 1 passing ace. The game was played as a "Knute Rockne Memorial" and the day set aside in Pittsburgh as "Missouri Day."

More than 300 Missouri alumni sat in the Tigers' section on the west side of the Pitt stadium. Many of the alumni attended an open house, luncheon and reception at the Missouri headquarters in the Schenley Hotel preceding the game. Mr. Whiting and Mr. Hickman are Missouri alumni.

Alah Blake visited at her home at Sandville, over the week-end.

COSMIC DUST

By James Woolfer

AN IMPORTANT issue to come before the student body tomorrow is the selection of the Pioneer and the Home-coming queen. These titles are probably the highest to be conferred upon any student by the elective method with a possible exception of the presidency of the Student Council.

With this in mind, election of these two personalities should be on the basis of merit. It should not be a popularity contest!

Nominate a candidate and give him your wholehearted support. Don't permit some student to be elected by twenty or thirty persons who have only their own interests at heart, and who wish to keep all honorary titles within their own group?

NEED UNIFORMS

WHETHER HAS been some comment as to whether our cheerleaders should have uniforms. Why shouldn't they? What is there to distinguish them from other students when they are performing their duties? Other schools with approximately the same enrollment, and in some cases even less, have them.

If those students who wish to become cheerleaders knew that they were to be rewarded for being successful, would it not cause them to try much harder, and would they not have many more aspirants to defeat. In this manner competition would be raised to a greater level, thus resulting in better cheerleaders, a better cheering section, and more school spirit.

COLLEGE LIFE

AT COLLEGE, if you have lived right, you have found enough learning to make you humble, enough friendship to make your hearts large and warm, enough culture to teach you the refinement of simplicity, enough wisdom to keep you sweet in poverty and temperate in wealth. Here you have learned to see great and small in their true relation, to look at both sides of a question, to respect the point of view of every honest man or woman, and to recognize the point of view that differs most widely from your own. Here you have found the democracy that excludes neither rich nor poor, and the quick sympathy that listens to all, and helps by the very listening. Here too, it may be at the end of a long struggle you have seen if only in transient glimpses—that after doubt comes reverence after anxiety peace, after faintness courage, and that out of weakness you are made strong. Suffer these glimpses to become an abiding vision, and you have the supreme joy of life." Le Baron Russel Briggs, long-time professor at Harvard, summarizes from his varied experiences what college life can offer.

CO-RECREATION

THE PAST WEEK a co-educational sports program was inaugurated. This is the first time that a venture of this type has ever been undertaken in this institution, and in order to succeed it will require the support of the student body. At the first meeting there were several students who turned out, but there were many more who must have "turned in"; they weren't present.

This program, if correctly carried out, will do more than serve as a sports program. It will foster better student acquaintance and make for a greater degree of cooperation among students as a whole.

The 1940 "Pioneer" Must Be More Than a Title Holder

THE TIME HAS come for the students to select a Pioneer to represent the College in the Home-coming festivities. Some senior boy will be honored by being chosen as this symbol of pioneerism on the campus.

The boy who is chosen should be a deserving one, because he is representing more than himself. To the outsider, he may be just another young man honored by the students of the College, but to us, he is more than that. He is a gentleman of rare qualities, a person who has come to college for more than a "four-year-load," and one who is not afraid to think and express himself.

We, here on the campus, will know the Pioneer when he steps out on Home-coming Day because we have associated with him. Let us elect a pioneer who is worthy to be called "Pioneer."—Virginia West.

World Conditions Bring Curriculum Changes

WORLD conditions have had their influence on curriculum changes out at the University of Wisconsin, where recently the faculty submitted a 14-page report which proposes to modernize and liberalize the work in the college of letters and science. In general the curriculum is to be made more flexible by broadening and liberalizing the study opportunities of students. At least three new broad survey courses designed to help students keep abreast of the times are to be added.

It is said that Americans fly in circles. Of course they do; the world is round.

One should read first to learn that others can't write and second to learn to write.

Old stories are just as true as new ones, since they're all stories. Give life that men can live and write a man may better live with men.

PIONEERS WILL MEET HILLTOPPERS SATURDAY AT WESTON

GLENVILLE GIVES NEW YORK OPPONENT PLENTY TO WORRY ABOUT AND COMES THROUGH ONLY THREE POINTS BEHIND

St. Bonaventure Team Takes Advantage of Last Few Seconds to Score Field Goal and Win Saturday's Tilt, 10-7

By Earl McDonald, Mercury Sports Editor
 OLAN, N. Y.—Glenville's reconditioned Pioneer football team turned a quick about-face here Friday night long enough to keep St. Bonaventure hanging on the ropes for sixty minutes before allowing the Bonnies to tally a field goal in the final thirty seconds of play to win, 10-7.

In this tough encounter the Pioneers really lived up to all pre-season predictions. They hit a drive in their own fifteen and kept things interesting for the Saints during the rest of the first period. Taking the ball at the opening of the second quarter on St. Bonaventure's 12-yard line, Glenville backs, Whetsell and Hammer, pounded their way to a 4-foot line where the Irish eleven PO with a light defense.

Scoreless At Half
 Against Kafer's three kicks, which went out of bounds inside the five-line, kept the Saint's backs coming from behind their own goal in the second stanza. The half ended in a scoreless tie with Glenville holding the ball on the New Yorker's 26.

Forest White and Frank Hammer paved the way for the Pioneers' touchdown when they blocked Gregory's kick and took possession of the oval on the Bonnie's 15. A fifteen-yard penalty was slapped on Glenville which set the ball on the 30, from where Kermit Smith ran wide to his right and heaved a pass to Nick Murin for the score. Kafer placed-kicked the extra point with Hammer holding the ball.

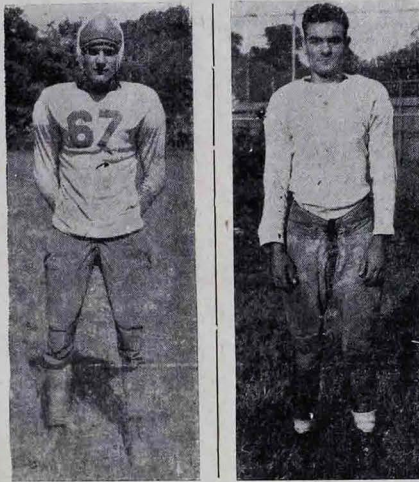

Grace Runs 70 Yards
 Only five plays later Grace, flashy Irish back, thrilled the estimated crowd of 2000 spectators by prancing 70 yards around his right end for a St. Bonaventure score. Tackle Hahn converted the point to tie the score, 7-7.

After battling the greater part of the closing quarter in mid field, the Catholic team drove to the Glenville 25 and Hahn attempted a field goal which was short. Later two complete passes and a dash by Gregory brought the ball to the Pioneer 11. Hahn again went back to place kick a field goal with 30 seconds of play remaining to give St. Bonaventure a 10-7 victory. Lineups:

Glenville	Pos.	St. Bon.
Palumbo (C)	LE	Kokoski
Conley	LT	Cipot
Fidler	LG	Antosh
W. Kafer	C	Barrett
Marchie	RG	Bernas
Long	RT	Hahn
White	RE	McDonald
Bailey	QB	Quinn
A. Kafer	HB	Grace
Smith	HB	Raykovitz
Hammer	PB	Gregory

Score by periods:
 Glenville—0 0 7 0—7
 St. Bonaventure—0 0 7 3—10
 Substitutes: Glenville—Lamb.

Two Reasons For a Good Pioneer Team

Two big reasons why the Pioneer goal line has not been crossed consistently this season are pictured above. This pair, Forest White, left and Patsy Palumbo, hold down the terminals for the Pioneer eleven. Both are juniors. Palumbo captained the team against St. Bonaventure the past Friday.

Bennett Stump's Red Caps Finish Baseball Season

College Alumni Help Stumptown Nine Win 17 Games Out of Twenty-four

BULLETIN
 Stumptown's Red Caps will take on one more foe before closing the season. They will meet Brooklyn's Clarkburg All-Stars next Sunday at Stumptown. Dick Adams and Paul Hegerty will comprise the batteries for the All-Stars.

Bennett Stump, College sophomore, and his Stumptown Red Caps recently completed a season of 17 victories and 7 losses in 24 games.

The Red Caps, managed by Stump and made up of several College alumni and former students, played their home games on the Yerkey farm near Stumptown. William Boggs, pitching ace, got 115 strikeouts and is credited with a shutout against a Charleston Negro team. Frank Marino, College alumnus and Normantown High School coach, led the hitting for the season.

When basketball season opens, several of the Red Caps and several boys from Normantown will organize an independent team.

COACH A. F. ROHRBOUGH'S ELEVEN TO PLAY SECOND STATE CONFERENCE GAME

Students to Be Admitted on Activity Tickets; Gilmer County Band Will Play; Kick-off at 7:30 P. M.

Bulletin
 Coach A. F. Rohrbough told the Mercury today that the Glenville-West Liberty football game had been shifted to Weston's athletic field. The game is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Student activity books will be honored and Gilmer County's band (in uniform) will be admitted free.

The sudden shift of the Glenville-West Liberty tilt to Weston is undoubtedly a wise move on the part of the local athletic department. Weston fans showed their appreciation of collegiate football last year when they packed the new stadium to see Glenville and Salem battle to a scoreless tie. Weston is a natural spot for the Pioneers to play this year since two former Minutemen, August Kafer and Frank Hammer, are almost sure to start for Glenville. William Kafer may get the call over Warren Lamb at the center job. Brooks Golden, erstwhile manager for the Lewis countians at one time, will likely see service as a tackle.

The Pioneers will swing back into West Virginia conference competition again this week-end when they meet West Liberty at Weston. The tilt will mark the White Wave's third night appearance this season. The Hilltoppers, now holding the West Virginia conference title, have made impressive showings during the season thus far, slipping Fairmont, 39-0 and Salem, 33-0. On this basis the panhandlers should rule as heavy favorites. The Bartell team gave Glenville a 25-0 walloping last year at New Martinsville.

In Stine and Willison the Hilltoppers will present a pair of backs who can do just about everything behind the strong forward wall West Liberty has. It was Stine last year who scored twice on the Pioneers with long dashes. Scrimmages will be light in the Pioneer camp this week. The tough struggle against St. Bonaventure left the squad with several bruises which must be mended before Saturday night. Coach Rohrbough's plan of strategy against the Panhandlers will likely be a passing attack, since this weapon proved effective the past week-end. A big heavy West Liberty forward wall will probably halt any running attack the Pioneers might employ.

SPORTS CHATTER

By A Cub Columnist
 Earl McDonald

OLAN, N. Y.—Should there be any doubt in anybody's mind as to whether or not athletes are a happy lot he should take just one lengthy journey with the Glenville Pioneer football squad which made such a remarkable showing here tonight against a strong St. Bonaventure eleven.

Do they worry? Well, perhaps they did tonight a little just before kickoff time when everybody is on edge, including yours truly. This is one time when their tomfoolery ceases and is not resumed until the final whistle blows.

Do they sing? Well, I never saw so many boys who liked to make melodious tunes and still could hardly sing a note. But under the leadership of Manager Robert Butcher they really have fun. Of course in the general fun making there must be a generous amount of the verbal "ball" slinging which seemingly everybody is able to do quite frequently. And as to jokes — the humor magazine editors are missing lots of good ones.

With Ferdinand replaced by the Pioneers' new and modern road vehicle, traveling with the White Wave squad has become a real pleasure.

One of the most amazing things witnessed the past week-end by this columnist was the change of spirit the team carried with them when they tangled with the Bonnies as against that which they had when they met Bethany only six days before. The Pioneers this time expected a battle and lost no time in making a good offense their best defense. For it was the Glenville eleven which reached the goal line first. And it is this commentator's belief that the New Yorkers were the toughest eleven the Pioneers will have to face this season.

A part of the 26,000 spectators who saw the mighty Pitt Panthers whip Missouri Saturday afternoon was the Pioneer squad and attendants. Judging from his play in this contest, Paul Christman, the widely-heard pass specialist from the Middle West, is the most over-estimated player in the big time. With the exception of his passing ability, he was a hindrance to the Missouri eleven, only carrying the ball twice, and those two occasions came when his team was in pay dirt.

Buildings, Grounds Are Improved

garage at Firestone Lodge was built in order to make possible parking the new College bus.

The past week repairs to doors at both the north and south entrances to the Old Building were completed.

Work by A. R. Yerkey
Much of the carpenter work done about the buildings was under the direction of A. R. Yerkey and assistants. Plumbing and many other jobs were done by Doy Fitzpatrick, College electrician. Warren Lamb, sophomore in the College, assisted.

Improvements to the extent of painting the barn and tool shed were also made at the College farm, one mile northwest of the campus.

Early the past spring a section of lawn in front of the Old Building was reseeded and a concrete walk built, running from the Old Building entrance to the driveway on the east side of the campus.

Davis, radio commentator, and frequent Harpers contributor; and Harold J. Laski, writer of "The American Presidency."

"The first edition of Harpers Magazine," explained Mr. O'Donnell, "was published June, 1850." It contains the selection, "Lizzie Leigh," from "Household Words," by Charles Dickens.

On Extended Tour
Concluding his program, Mr. O'Donnell, who recently completed a speaking tour on the West Coast, conducted an open forum in which he collected questions written by students and faculty and answered as many of them as time would permit.

Preceding this address, Mr. O'Donnell spoke to the English 321, or journalism class. In emphasizing the news angle, he urged the importance of cooperation, between departments and staff members. The speaker advised students to "write according to the importance of the copy." He said "Don't let your personal feelings interfere with your news sense. Give the news as it is."

Mr. O'Donnell remained on the campus for several hours following his program and conferred with teachers of composition regarding use of Harpers Magazine in class activities.

He went to Wesleyan College at Buckhannon from here and on Saturday visited Marshall College in Huntington. He came here from Fairmont.

Assembly music was furnished by the College orchestra under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Olsen.
