

ROBERT FIDLER AND ROBERT STALNAKER TO SEEK PRESIDENCY OF STUDENT BODY

MERCURY MUSINGS

From Here and There
And Everywhere

By Albert Woolter

TO Adolf Hitler: We have heard that you plan to invade England. If so, you will be interested in hearing of another man, William the Conqueror, who had the same idea. He invaded England and was crowned king, but listen to what happened to him.

He went back to France, was injured when his horse threw him against the saddle, and died a few days later. For days his body lay on the bed, no one taking the trouble to have him buried. His sons had left to claim their inheritances. Thieves dragged his body from the bed while searching for valuables. Finally, a stranger, at his own expense, had the conqueror buried. But even then his body was not to lie in peace. During the Huguenot rebellion his bones were exhumed and scattered about the church.

GOOD READING

TWO articles in the April issue of "Reader's Digest" should be of special interest to those who will be graduated this spring. "Obey That Impulse," by William Moulton Marston, is based on the idea that one should obey all sensible impulses and should follow them to the end. The other, "Youth, Get Your Toe in the Door," by J. P. McEvoy, explains the value of knowing shorthand and typing in securing employment.

GOOD OLD DAYS

DID you ever wonder why people speak of the past as the good old days? The Glenville County chapter of the West Virginia Writers' Project may have the answer. Recently they found an article in an old issue of the Glenville Democrat which stated that at one time in this county there were at least four licensed distilleries. The article was based on an interview with Mr. John R. Lynch, retired business man of Northview, who said that the stills were generally housed in the same building with grist mills. Farmers would take their corn to the mill and receive either meal or whiskey, both of which were considered staples.

RADIO CHANGE

RADIO listeners discovered that many of their favorite stations had been moved over a few notches to the right on the dial Saturday. This created quite a problem for owners of push-button tuning sets, but was a boon for radio technicians who found no trouble in correcting the difficulty. Change in the frequency of about 750 radio stations was for the purpose of ridding the airwaves of interference from foreign stations. Time magazine called it "the greatest broadcasting change in the history of radio."

THOUGHT THIS WEEK

TODAY is April Fool's Day, but you will not be fooled if you attend the Women's Club Benefit Variety Show tonight in the College auditorium.

TEACHERS WOULD STRESS LANGUAGE KNOWLEDGE FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

College instructors, in a faculty meeting the past Tuesday, discussed the "Things most lacking in the training of high school students" and concluded:

- (1) Lack of language knowledge and use.
 - (2) Poor (or no) study habits.
 - (3) Too many extra-curricular activities in proportion to other work.
- The discussion came about as a result of statements filed by instructors at the request of Dean H. L. White, who recently discussed the subject before the Wirt County teachers at Elizabeth.

Reed and Holt Will Enter a Second Primary to Break Tie Vote

Robert Fidler, of Tioga, and Robert Stalnak, of Parsons, were nominated for president of the student body in the primary election the past Tuesday. Two-hundred forty students, or 69 per cent of the eligible voters, cast ballots in the election in which Delis Blake and June Wilson won for vice-president and Juanita Haught and Rosalea Williams Huff for secretary.

A primary election run-off is being held today to determine the winner for treasurer. William Kafer and Nicholas Murin were nominated for sergeant-at-arms; Warren Lamb and Jack Stalnak for the Supreme Court. Votes for female candidates for the Supreme Court were not counted because the two candidates, Mildred Wansley and Barbara Messenger, were unopposed.

Roland Holt and Ruddle Reed, Jr., were tied for treasurer on the first count with seventy-four votes each. Jennings Jarvis, another candidate, was out in front with ninety-one. A second count gave Holt the edge by one vote and the results were posted on the bulletin board. A third counting Wednesday result. (Continued on Page 3)

J. T. GRAVES WILL BE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER, JUNE 4TH

Birmingham Lecturer, Author
And Editor Will Address
Seniors of 1941

John Temple Graves, 11, lecturer, author and editor, of Birmingham, Ala., will be the commencement speaker here June 4, it is announced by Pres. E. G. Roubrough. Mr. Graves is on the editorial staff of the Birmingham Age-Herald and is the author of a daily column which is syndicated to southern newspapers.

He was graduated from the Horace Mann School, New York City, in 1910, and received the Litt. B. degree at Princeton in 1915 and the L. L. B. degree from George Washington University in 1920. He was on the editorial staff of the New York Journal, 1912-13, and was editor of the Palm Beach, Fla., Times, 1925-26 and the Jacksonville Journal, 1927-28. He was admitted to the bar in the District of Columbia in 1920.

Mr. Graves is the author of several books, among which are: "The Shaft in the Sky," "The Book of Alabama and the South," and "Tonight in the South." He has also written a number of poems, essays, short stories, and magazine articles. He was born in Rome, Georgia, in 1892.

Christian Movement Secretary to Come Here for Conference

Mrs. Louise G. Stuetz, regional secretary of the Student Christian Movement, Middle Atlantic Region, will be at the College Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to confer with the Christian organizations and their faculty advisers concerning Christian campus activities and to inform them of experiences that have proved valuable to organizations in other colleges.

There will be a joint meeting of the cabinets of the YMCA and YWCA, Thursday at 7:45, in the Louis Bennett Hall lounge to formulate plans for her visit here. Tentative plans are that she will interview the faculty advisers and YMCA and YWCA presidents individually, and will meet with the cabinets of each organization. A special joint meeting of the entire membership of the YMCA and YWCA may be held while she is here.

'CLIPPING ROOM' IN USE AT ROBERT F. KIDD LIBRARY

Miss Alma Arbuckle, College librarian, has established a "clipping room" in the basement of the library for the use of students who are making notebooks in various courses and need clippings from newspapers and magazines.

SHADOW: MEET MR. GLUESING

William A. Gluesing shakes hands with his own shadow in the General Electric "House of Magic" science show. A phosphorescent screen allows him to walk off the stage and leave his shadow behind, fold his shadow up in a box, or to do any of the many things you may have wished you could do with your shadow.

Candidates For Council Presidency Favor Progressive Student Government

Fidler and Stalnak Pledge
Efforts in Behalf of Voters' Welfare

Robert Stalnak and Robert Fidler, candidates for president of the student body, made known their plans for, and philosophies of, student government the past week. Both went on record as saying they favored progressive student government and improvement of student welfare.

In his room in Louis Bennett Hall Friday afternoon Robert Stalnak, son of Mrs. Alice Stalnak, of Parsons, told the Mercury that:

"If elected I will favor progressive student democracy, continuation of varied social activities, the formation of a college marching band, continuation of the fight for year books and aid to new as well as old campus organizations. I also favor varied assembly programs with a maximum of student participation and the continuation of freshman orientation."

A few hours later Robert Fidler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Fidler, of Tioga, in his room under the Robert F. Kidd library, explained his platform briefly and concisely:

"I want an efficient Student Council, recognition of extra-curricular activities and improvement in the welfare of the student body. If I am elected I will do all within my power to accomplish these things."

Fidler is a graduate of Cowen High School, class of 1938, and is a member of the G Club and the Holy Roller Court. He is treasurer of the Junior class and has been a member of the College football squad the past three years.

Stalnak, graduate of Parsons High School, class of 1938, is a member of the Onninghow Players, the College orchestra and the Campus Cats, swing band. He was once a member of the Chemistry Club. In high school he was chairman of a student committee on assembly programs for the senior class.

Fidler was named a candidate for sergeant-at-arms by the election committee but was nominated for president from the floor. He received 128 votes in the primary election the past Tuesday, more than twice as many as either of the other candidates. Stalnak was chosen by the election committee for president, as was Nelson Craddock, who withdrew. When James Heister, previously a candidate for vice-president, was nominated for president from the floor, there were three candidates for the office. In the primary Heister received fifty-two votes and Stalnak fifty-eight.

WILL SPEAK AT TEACHERS MEET

College Instructor and Alumni
To Appear on Program at Gassaway Conference

Four College instructors will lead discussions and summarize in sectional meetings of administrators of Nicholas, Webster, Clay, Braxton and Glen counties at the Central West Virginia Round Table meeting this week-end in Gassaway.

Two teachers from the Training School and one College student also will participate.

Dr. Charles P. Harper will lead a discussion on "What the Social Studies can contribute in education for Democracy" before a group of grade-school teachers. R. T. Crawford will discuss the same subject with a group of high school teachers. With teachers in a one-room school division H. Y. Clark will discuss "How the one-room school can provide better training for citizenship." Dean H. L. White will have charge of the administrative division.

Lucy Wolfe and Susan Summers, College alumnae and teachers in the Training School, will speak on "Language in a Democracy" and "Social Studies and Democracy in the Grades."

James L. Creasy, A. B. '33, superintendent of Nicholas County schools, will be chairman. Other College alumni who will have parts on the Round Table program are Thomas Dotson, Jesse Bell, Oakford Deitz and Michael Posey.

ADDED TO EXCHANGE LIST

Added to the Mercury's exchange list this week was the Hi-Tower, four-page student newspaper of Manassing High School.

ABOUT FORTY VISITORS JOIN STUDENTS FACULTY AT FIRST SAFETY CONFERENCE

Sidelights on Safety Education Conference Here

W. C. Easley: There is now too much drinking among the high school age group. Too many boys and girls of the high school age are being killed in automobile accidents between Friday and Monday, between 11 p. m. and 3 a. m. When I was a boy fathers and mothers knew where their children were at 9 p. m. Today, in this wheel age, children come in at 12 and 1 a. m. and wonder where their parents are. Driving an automobile is dangerous; mixed with 'snake bite' it is twice as dangerous.

Milton D. Kramer: Safety means skill; skill means safety. Accidents among the 15 to 24 age groups have increased 128 per cent. In the 5 to 14 age group they have decreased. Three out of five high school boys and girls will be driving automobiles a few years after graduation. Safety education develops a sense of responsibility, makes better citizens.

Kenneth M. Beadle: A pedestrian is a man who has a wife and one daughter and only one automobile. An expert is a person a thousand miles from home.

STUDENTS MAY EARN 12 HOURS IN SUMMER TERM

Schedule Arranged to Meet
Needs of Those Who Plan
To Attend

The College summer term, which will open here June 9, will offer several advantages for students planning to attend. The schedule is arranged for students to attend for a term and take work in amount to meet their needs or convenience as follows: (1) six weeks for six semester hours, and-or (2) a second six weeks for six hours, additional, or (3) nine weeks for nine hours. Work for the second weeks begins July 21.

The term may be divided as follows: June 9 to July 18, first six weeks; June 9 to August 29, or both; July 21 to August 29, second six weeks; and June 9 to August 8, nine weeks only.

Among the features of the 1941 summer term will be the following: An address by Mr. C. William Duncan of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, June 19.

A general conference of the improvement of professional relations and practices of education, July 16. Scheduled courses in American Diplomacy, Latin American History, Municipal Government, Problems of the Family, and School and Community Recreational Activities.

Arrangements with the Glenville Golf Club for students to use their course in learning to play golf or to play the game for recreation. In either case, credit in the amount of one semester hour will be given to students who devote the necessary amount of time to the game.

Graduate of 1902 Sees the World and Concludes That U. S. Is Best of All

Herbert A. Woolter Comes to Glenville to Meet Old Friends, Reminisce

By Albert Woolter

Spring came to Glenville, and with it came one of the town's faithful visitors, Herbert A. Woolter, of Detroit and Miami. Spring in Glenville has something of a fascination for him, because it was in June, 1902, that he was graduated from the Normal School here and started out in a life that was to take him all over the United States and Europe.

His visit this time was especially enjoyable, he said, because he met Mrs. Charles Barnett, the former Miss Grace Hauman, one of the five members of his graduating class here and the mother of several College alumni. Also he met Mr. Clarence W. Post, College instructor in geography, whom he had not seen since they were students at the University, 1902-06.

State and Out-of-State Speakers Explain Purpose of Driver Education Program

Students, faculty, and about forty superintendents, assistants, principals, teachers and bus drivers heard four speakers discuss safety education during a two-hour program here Wednesday, in assembly. Here under auspices of the State Education and Public Safety Departments, the speakers agreed that: (1) There is a vital need for courses in safety education, (2) that the surest means of eliminating the growing automobile accident fatality rate is the teaching of American youth the fundamentals of accident prevention.

Pres. E. G. Roubrough, in welcoming speakers and guests, said: "Safety is one of the most precious things in the world, but in today's troubled times it is one of the scarcest things—how to get safety and keep it is the purpose of this conference."

Mr. Trent Sparks, State Superintendent W. W. Trout told the audience that "we are seeking an educational program that will give more attention to the vocations—how to live better on the farm, in the home." He cited need for "more attention to health education, more education for a new mode of living—how to live longer."

Said he, "We would like more time for safety education, more safety education demonstrations and lessons, particularly in the high schools."

Chairman W. C. Easley, director of the safety bureau of the State Department of Public Safety, cited that the past year 391 persons were killed on state highways, 445 were killed in industrial plants, 435 in home accidents. He said 730 children, as a result of accidents, were left fatherless.

Have Done Good Job
He said that the "schools of the state have done a good job in teaching safety education. In 1934 we were forty-seventh; now we rank near the top."

Third speaker, Mr. Milton D. Kramer, Center for Safety Education, New York University, said 5000 high schools are teaching safety education in some form, 100 teachers' colleges and universities will offer courses in safety training this summer, twenty-eight states have courses of study in this field.

"There exists a definite difference between unnecessary risks and those that must be taken," he said. "Safety is the continuing and practicing of the right way to do things. Every time an accident happens, someone has made a mistake."

For Good Driving

Mr. Kenneth M. Beadle, of the National Conservation Bureau, New York, emphasized the need of courses in safety education, either integrated or separate. He pointed out that accidents are responsible for more deaths to persons between 1 and 21 years of age than disease, and listed four factors necessary for good automobile driving; namely: (1) Physical and mental qualifications; (2) individual responsibility for passengers, pedestrians and other drivers; (3) a mature knowledge and understanding of the traffic.

Tours Europe

After taking a course in mechanical and electrical engineering at the University, Mr. Woolter, a cousin of Mr. Carey Woolter, College registrar, and James and Albert Woolter, College seniors, was associated with the General Electric Company at Lynn, Mass. There, among others, he met Charles Steinmetz, world-famous electrical wizard. He made a tour of Europe in 1907, returned to his work, and became a major of engineers in the U. S. Army during the World War.

That was his second session in the army, for he was a sergeant of Glenville's Company E during the Spanish American War. He also served as a United States deputy marshal. (Continued on page 4)

FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY ABIDETH

HERE are a few reasons why we should attend the Benefit Variety Show which is to be presented by the Woman's Club in the College auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tonight. By attending we can show our appreciation for the unselfish efforts of the club, an organization which is always ready to extend aid to the needy. For several weeks now members of the club, as well as townspeople, have rehearsed for their parts in the show.

Others have made plans, procured materials and offered suggestions. Why have they done this? Certainly there are no thoughts of economic gain, for the money is to be used to sponsor worthwhile enterprises. And few, if any, of the actors actually plan to follow entertaining as a career. Their motive lies deeper than any of these. It has its basis in such concepts as "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," and "Now there abideth faith, hope, and charity . . . and the greatest of these is charity."

Whenever a group of people make sacrifices with no hope of material gain there is something back of it all that is on the higher plane, and by attending the show tonight we will share with the participants that good feeling which attends all humanitarian efforts.—Albert Woolfster.

SPRING! IT'S IN THE AIR AND EVERYWHERE

WITH a yawn and sudden slump of the body he arched into a snooze. Somehow he couldn't understand. He explained with: "This warm spring weather just gets into the blood stream." A stuffy room is stuffier still when one can hear the twittering robin, the buzzing bee and the patter of his schoolmates' tongues who "have no classes this period."

One can, from the inside looking out, see enticing scenes. There is unrest. One must do something, but what?

He turned to a pal for consolation. That last history test was a tough one and he was unwillingly not ready. Honest Injun seven times one he started to prepare for the test, but so far he's convinced Napoleon has not yet fought at Waterloo. 'Twas no farther than Jena that he got, or at least that's where he left him when Bill called, "Wanna take a walk?"

"This spring, and at least one person is glad, according to some instructors. Teutonic hordes will goose step in the Balkans, but students will 'sleep on'—if the professors will permit.—Cleo Berry.

MANY ASPECTS TO SAFETY EDUCATION

SAFETY education with regard to automobile driving has many different aspects. The comfort one feels in being able to do the right thing at the right time is gratifying. Too, one becomes more acquainted with his automobile, treating it better and in return receiving better service.

There is some merit in being able to discuss the mechanism of an automobile. One prefers not to be like the man who saw another trying to start his car and asked, "What's wrong?" "A dead battery," came the answer. "Well, I thought I heard an old car over here running like the battery was dead on it," was the comment.

Many a person has driven for six, eight, or even ten years without knowing how an automobile will act under given conditions. He must learn. He cannot afford to bathe his ignorance with the blood of a guiltless soul. Away with vanity! That all are not perfect, one must admit and begin to do something about it.—Cleo Berry.

Collegiate World

NEW WILMINGTON, DEL.—(ACP)—Classrooms at Westminster College will be done over in colors like salmon, apricot and "cool green" in an experiment to relieve the monotony of drab walls for students and thus keep sleepy ones awake.

Moving figure in the plan is Prof. Harold J. Brennan, head of the art department, who believes college classrooms are the "last citadel of drabness" and should be "individualized."

"There would be fewer dozing and sleepy students if classrooms were made attractive, instead of being merely 50 chairs surrounded by 80 feet of blackboards and bare walls," Brennan said.

Right With the News

by Agnes Wright

IF YOU'RE looking for entertainment and thrills, you'll get them tonight at the Woman's Club Benefit Variety show in the College auditorium, when townspeople, College students and faculty will join forces and give to spectators melodrama in its juiciest form, oldest and latest fashions of the day, and music styled the Woman's Club way . . . Basic principles that we thought were learned in Speech 101 will take a new form and bring art of the highest type when "He Ain't Done Right By Nell" will break out with all latest faculty touches to add that certain something . . . Curtain will go up at 8:15 o'clock.

THINGS I could write about but won't: Results of the primary election . . . Public safety, better expressed by a Fairmont columnist thusly: "One way to get rid of that run-down feeling is to stay out of heavy traffic" . . . Lenita Casto and Billy Wheeler—Reason and love keep little company now-a-days" . . . Easter vacation . . . Mid-semester grades to be, or why mothers get gray . . . Spring fashions—long enough to cover the subject but short enough to be interesting . . . Teacher hiring—Caviar for the few . . . Spring dances—why girls come to college but seldom leave.

DOWN on Main Street, signs of spring are everywhere in the making . . . Women with new frilly hats . . . Men in their shirt sleeves . . . Store window displays of Spring outfits . . . Easter bunnies . . . Garden and farm implements . . . Latest in spring foods . . . Roller skaters . . . Spring painting and house-cleaning . . . Music . . . All add up, we hope, to the fact that the gloomy days of winter are gone . . . Let's also hope snow doesn't come before this issue is off the press.

THINGS to look forward to: "King of Kings" motion picture in the College auditorium, April 11 . . . Spring music recital in May . . . General election . . . Press banquet in May . . . Canterbury Pilgrimage, April 22 . . . Speech recital . . . Fancy head dress ball April 19 . . . Holy Roller Court Dance, April 25 . . . G Club Dance, May 17, and Commencement exercises.

IN the music world we find: A survey being conducted by the Billboard, world's foremost amusement weekly, of New York, to find collegiate preferences in styles and types of dance music . . . Questions pertaining to types of music that monopolize campus tastes (swing, or sweet) and favorite male and female band vocalists are a few of the many asked . . . The College is one of the interviewees, and results will be published when the survey is completed.

MERRY MAIDEN'S MOVIE MOMENTS

GREATEST of all movies, "Gone With the Wind," is coming to Glenville again, Sunday and Monday, at the Lyric Theater. With nothing cut but the price! Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O'Hara and Clark Gable as Rhett Butler will thrill movie-goers once again, in this story of the Old South.

I've never seen Robert Montgomery in a picture that wasn't good, and I do believe that "Haunted House-moon" will make me take that back. It will be at the Lyric tonight and tomorrow night.

Walter Pidgeon is again in the role of the famous amateur detective, in "Sky Murder." A murder in the sky of a spy suspect is how the picture got its name. It's the Fifth Columnists against Pidgeon.

All the way, with Pidgeon, of course, cleaning them out, but good, before the final fade-out. Other members of the cast are Donald Meek, Karen Verne, Edward Askey, and Joyce Compton, among others. See it at the Lyric, Thursday and Friday.

THE picture, "Too Many Girls," taken from George Abbott's sensational Broadway musical comedy success, and directed by Abbott, will be at the Pictureland Theater, Wednesday and Thursday. The story centers around Lucille Ball who has four big time football stars as bodyguards. They're Richard Carlson, Desi Arnaz, Eddie Bracken, and Hal Le Roy. The picture also boasts of eight song hits, Ann Miller's dancing, and a dialogue far-above the average.

Latest of the super-westerns to come out of Hollywood is "Arizona," at the Pictureland, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Adapted from Clarence Buddington Kelland's "Saturday Evening Post" story, it is the graphic story of the birth of Arizona. All the characters in the film are taken from history books. Joan Arthur is cast as Phoebe Tins, the first white woman in Tucson, Arizona. Her best friend, Peter Muncie, is played by William Holden. A big company of other players, including Warren William and Porter Hall, make up the cast.

Those of you who have read "The Yearling" will be interested in knowing that the best-seller and story of Jody, is finally being screened. Thirty deer, twenty dogs, ten raccoons, eight bear and two specially trained buzzards have been shipped to the location.

A student mathematician announces there are 306,259 bricks on the outside of the seminary building at Mount Angel College.

A staff statistician reports in the Whitworth College Whistle that "there are only three clean saddle corfords on the campus and two approximately clean."

Notes from

The Robert F. Kidd Library

"That April with his shores soote" is here. Now is the time when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of studying for mid-semester exams. Evidence of such are noticeable in the library. FLASH! The latest non-read book in existence—"How to Win A's and Influence Professors," by A. S. Tudent.—APRIL FOOL!

"Now to get at the point of the matter, as the man said who sat on a tack . . . In keeping with the recent conference on "Safety Education" there are a number of interesting pamphlets in the library beneath the large safety poster on one of the bulletin boards. "Drive and Live" by James A. Fitzgerald, Carl A. Hoffman and John R. Bayston is recommended for use as a textbook in safety teaching.

Anne Morrow Lindbergh's latest book, "The Wave of the Future," a confession of faith, is "A positive faith for the future, for those bewildered by the bitter world events of our time can be supplied only by one who knows that courage is vital in our daily lives, against fear. This is a sincere and heartfelt confession." So says a critic of the book.

"Ambassador Dodd's Diary" is another book written by a man "who watched Europe go to war." The Ambassador to Germany, 1933-1938, wrote of Goering that he was "fat and cruel" and that "he didn't like him." It is a story of a fighter for a democracy who was "a supremely good reporter." Two other books worth reading are: "American Faith" by Ernest Sutherland Bates, and "The Atlantic Migration" by Marcus Lee Hansen.

ALL over the land professors and other old women are talking about the present generation of the young as soft and lazy, mediocre and fat. Maybe the young are soft. It is also true that all generations of the young have in their time been described as degenerate by the elders about them.

In the history of the world there has not been a generation in which the old were prepared to admit that the young were as strong as they were when they were young. It is eternal excuse for stiff joints in the presence of the supple. It is the anxious vanity of memory over manpower.

THE young certainly have their faults. They may not be as smart, brave, energetic, strong as their elders who want to be defended by them would have them be. But the old folks were young once also, and being young, not free from faults. The young have always, as the old folks reported it, been soft and the old folks, as the old folks hoped the young would believe, have always been wise.

That's the rule, but America need not be frightened now if our older people will be as wise as our young will be strong. We have better to count on young strength than old wisdom. The Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer thumps the critics of youth.

County Schools Will Graduate 115 Seniors

Gilmer County will graduate 115 high school seniors in May, announced Mr. Marvin Cooper, superintendent. This is the largest list in several years in comparison with the number of graduates of previous years. Glenville High School will graduate 35, Normantown 24, Tanner 23, Sand Fork 20, and Troy 13, according to the tentative schedules.

Bus transportation in the county accommodates 1038 pupils, the longest haul being 47 miles, which includes both elementary and high school pupils.

The County Board moved its offices the past week to the Tierney Building on Court Street. Three first-floor rooms are used for offices, and three are used for libraries and storage.

Will Attend Academy Of Science Meeting

Miss Goldie Clare James, instructor in biology, plans to attend a meeting of the West Virginia Academy of Science to be held at Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, April 24, 25 and 26. New discoveries and their use and new uses for old discoveries will be presented to the group. Miss James, a member of the Academy, is also a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Students to Select Candidate to Enter Tomato Festival Race

Glenville State Teachers College will again have a candidate for "West Virginia's Loveliest College Girl" to reign as Queen over the annual Tomato Festival at Berkeley Springs, September 5 and 6.

Names of four girls will be placed on the general election ballot April 8. The four candidates will be selected by the Student Council. The past year Miss Anne Amick, of Gilmer, was Glenville's candidate for the title, which was won by a Concord school in a nation-wide poll conducted by a weekly magazine.

Oldest Member of Class of '75 Dies Of Burns, Sunday

Funeral services were held at Spencer today for Mrs. E. H. Dodson, the former Lucy Belle Petty, S. N. '75, who died Sunday night of burns suffered after her clothing caught as she passed an open fire in her home.

Mrs. Dodson, 85 years old, was born near Camden, Lewis County, in 1856, and was married in 1878 to Dr. E. H. Dodson, former assistant superintendent of the Spencer State Hospital, who died several years ago. She is survived by two sons, Ray Dodson, Charleston, and Dr. Rex Dodson, Huntington; and three daughters, Edna Dodson, Charleston, Mrs. Clyde Porter, Huntington, and Mrs. Nell Hamilton, Grantville. Lawrence Hamilton, former College student, and Victor Hamilton, College freshman, are grandsons.

GLENVILLE'S RED TERRORS FETED AT BANQUET HERE ON THURSDAY

Coach A. F. Rohrbough Is Chief Speaker; Dinner Sponsored by Rotary Club and Local Churches

One's ability to play basketball depends upon speed, alertness, and thought over a long period of time. Coach A. F. Rohrbough, of the College, told a high school athletic banquet audience Thursday night in the Trinity Methodist Church dining room.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club and the local churches, the banquet brought to a close a round of festivities which have been held here and elsewhere in honor of Glenville's winning the state tournament 'B' championship.

Coach Rohrbough praised the "Terrors" and said, "All the praise we can give is due them." Humorously he recalled his days as a high school basketball player. He cited need for clean sportsmanship, and several times in his talk singled out Glenville players, who, he said, had "played smart basketball."

Coach C. D. Wilfong and Assistant Stanley ("Joe") Hall each praised the "Terrors" and admonished the senior members to "keep going" even in college.

Coach Wilfong advanced the idea that "during the coming years I think we'll find that physical education has been under-emphasized, not over-emphasized."

Capt. Jack Conrad, "Terrors" high scoring center, was introduced and spoke briefly, as did other members of the squad, and Pres. E. G. Rohrbough and County Superintendent Marvin Cooper.

Displayed during the banquet were the "Terrors" trophies won this year in the conference, sectional, regional and state competition.

Harry Pritt, on behalf of the senior members of the squad, presented gifts to Coaches Wilfong and Hall. Present were about thirty-five Red "Terrors", members of this year's football and basketball squads, three cheerleaders, Mrs. C. D. Wilfong and Mrs. Stanley Hall, wives of the high school coach and assistant, and eighteen Rotarians.

Dr. J. C. Shreve presided in the absence of Rotary president Earl R. Boggs.

In a brief business meeting the Rotarians elected B. E. McCullough to membership in the Club, also greeted Mr. Ruddell Reed, a new member.

SOPHOMORES TAKE CLASS TOURNAMENT; BUTCHER'S BATTLERS WIN INTRAMURALS

The men's class basketball tournament ended Thursday evening when the sophomores downed the juniors, 61-56. Spencer and Murin led the second-year class to victory, collecting 18 points each. Wednesday afternoon the juniors trounced the freshmen, 60-41, with Armstrong accounting for 23 points. The sophomores defeated the seniors, 60-29, to reach the finals.

ed in a tie and the election committee decided to hold a run-off for that office today.

Winners in the primary will be listed on the ballots in the general election next Tuesday.

Voting was close in other instances. Robert Stalnak received only six more votes than James Heater for president, and Juanita Hought beat Rosalea Huff by a single vote. At one time during the counting there was a three-way tie for the candidates for secretary. Robert Fidler received the highest number of votes with 128. Jack Stalnak and Delis Blake polled 103 and 101 respectively.

Voting and counting were under the combined supervision of the Student Council and the election committee, who will also have charge of the general election. Members of the committee are Olive Myers, Elmer Cawthorn, Jr., and Homer Lee Smith. A ballot box which the Council borrowed from the clerk of the county court was used in Tuesday's voting in Administration Hall. Private voting booths will be used in the general election.

Robert Butcher's Battlers captured the College intramural championship title Tuesday night by defeating Raymond Tracy's quintet, 64-47. Ray Baxter Musser, all-tournament choice, led the scoring with 21 points. Butcher's five also trounced Fred Shreve's Sharpshooters, 47-38, in the semi-finals, and Frank Hammer's team was the victim of Tracy's quintet, 57-44.

Each member of Butcher's championship team will receive an intramural medal.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Helen McElwee's team, undefeated, won the girls' basketball Round Robin this season. Members of the club decided not to play a final game, since Jean McMillon, Teresa Butcher, and Nina Snyder all had teams tied for second place. A foul-shooting contest was started Tuesday night and all were eliminated but Elizabeth Fryatt, Helen McElwee and Mildred Yoho. The contest will be finished this week.

Pioneer Sports Chatter

CENTRAL West Virginia is full of prospective college basketball stars. At least this is the opinion of those who saw the fast independent tournament at Sistersville over the weekend. High school seniors from this area who combined forces in an A-1 entry were undoubtedly the cream of the crop from this district. This team included Jack Conrad, Beecher Reed, Jack Lutzard and Jake Fitzpatrick, from the Glenville Red "Terrors"; Babe Mazza, W-I; Carl Robey, West Milford; Werner and Hildebrand from Gassaway. Wow! what an outfit this array of high-school luminaries would make after a year of experience under a top-ranking college tutor.

RALPH Mendenhall, ex-Pioneer guard, is said to have the impost on the Sistersville coaching job if Gene Heister decides to move down to Parkersburg this fall. . . Mendenhall has assisted Heister at the Tiger school for the past two years and helped coach the North squad for the annual North-South tilt in 1939. . . The big 200-pounder's home is in Sistersville. . . Harold Scott, chubby '41 cage co-captain, went to Charleston to play in a basketball tournament but wound up in the Capital City with a bad case of influenza and had to remain there a week before coming back to the campus, Sunday. . . Jack Byers, GSCC junior, who had quite a heyday at Unidus High School before coming here, was in Morgantown yesterday taking U. S. Air Corps entrance examinations. If he passes, he will go to Columbus, later to Texas, or California, he says.

ROBERT ("Red") Davies, while trouncing through the Pioneer stronghold Sunday, told us he is scheduled to leave Wednesday for Camp Meade, Md., to begin his year of service. . . Davies said, "I decided to get it over, and volunteered. I was due in May, anyhow."

ANYONE who ever had any interest in baseball remembers the remarkable feat of the then-aging Grover Alexander as he walked to the mound to face Tony Lazzeri in a world series game with two outs and the bases loaded. And Alex whiffed the Yankee star and clinched the series.

Then after the cheering in Alex's car, had died away, the old St. Louis star hurler went broke and tried his luck at barnstorming, pitching the first three innings of each game for the House of David, and he attracted crowds everywhere, for many still remembered him in his heyday.

It was then that your scribe saw him when the H. of D.'s came to town with their huge portable lighting system. Baseball under lights was then new.

In poor financial condition and too old to get back into the game which had brought him fame and fortune, Alexander took refuge and was forgotten by most followers. But recently the newspaper sports pages carried a brief story announcing that Alex had entered a veterans' hospital in New York.

He had been shell shocked in the World War and thus was eligible for admittance in the veterans' institution where he could get food and shelter, but baseball afforded him nothing. Which was more valuable to old Alex, a slight shell shock or a grand and glorious career in athletics?

TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION AT PHYSICAL EDUCATION MEET

Fifteen College girls will give a demonstration at the Midwest Physical Education Association Convention in Charleston, Friday. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Earl Boggs, instructor. They are: Catherine Withers, Ella Pitzer, Maxine Pitzer, Mildred Yoho, Anna Lee Vannoy, Katie Adams, Sue Brown, Nina Dora Snyder, Marion Jackie, Dolly Sauborne, June Taylor, Lucille Tonkin, Rene Strickland, Bobbie Duffield and Lorena Taylor. They will go in the College bus.

Coach A. F. Rohrbough, will also attend the meeting, the first of its kind to be held in West Virginia.

H. Y. CLARK SPEAKS AT ADRIAN SCHOOL MEETING

If the school is to educate for democracy it must change to meet the demands of a democratic society. H. Y. Clark, instructor in education in the College, told an audience at the Adrian Graded School in Upshur County, Friday. His subject was "Education for Citizenship."

These changes, Mr. Clark said, result largely from what the parents demand in the training of youth. Present demands are most noticeable in the programs of teaching safety, conservation, fire prevention, temperance, music and art.

Troy Brady, S. N. '12, was in charge of the meeting.

he placed on the ballot for a second election today.

Jennings Jarvis, the third candidate for the nomination, led the race for the office with ninety-one votes or a lead of seventeen votes over his tied opponents, Holt and Reed.

In the opinion of the Court Jarvis was declared a nominee for the General election April 8 without having to run in the second election. The Court recommended that the Student Council make a constitutional provision to handle a similar incident in the future.

It was the first case of two candidates tying in an election since the creation of student government here in 1935. The Supreme Court, created during the administration of the late Richard Dyer, in 1938, had never had a session until Friday afternoon. Pres. E. G. Rohrbough presided.

RICHMOND PROFESSOR TAKES 'C' AND 'I' FROM HIS 'CLASSES'

(By Associated Collegiate Press)
One of the well-known professors, at the University of Richmond felt lazy one day and wrote on the board, "The professor will not meet his classes today." One cute little co-ed got cuter, erased the "c" from the word "classes," leaving "lasses." When the professor returned to the classroom next day, he saw what had happened, went to the board, and, calmly erasing the "l" took another day off.

Albert Brake Speaks At Epworth League

An Epworth League program at the Trinity Methodist Church, Sunday evening, was led by Albert Brake, senior. In discussing the life of John Huss, a martyr of information, Brake said, "The Christian is marked by willingness to take the risk."

A series of talks included "John Huss Marked by God," "The Trial of John Huss," and "Our Debt to John Huss," were given by Donnell Betts, Paul Deal and Robert Hawman. Scripture was read by Jane Wilson. June Taylor was pianist.

Holds 14 Patents
Following the World War, Mr. Woolfer became vice-president and chief engineer of the Swift Electric Welder Company of Detroit.

"During my days in the welding business," he said, "I traveled all over the United States and Canada. I hold fourteen patents on improved welding devices. These machines in some cases increase the speed of the welding process as much as six times."

Mr. Woolfer retired in 1937 as has since spent most of his time traveling. He generally spends 60 summers in Detroit, the winters Miami, Florida or Mexico.

"The United States will always be my favorite country," he said, "but also like Cuba and Mexico. The most intriguing city to me in the United States is New Orleans with its quaint Spanish, French and Chinese customs. Outside the western hemisphere my favorite cities are London and Paris as they used to be."

Mr. Woolfer is 64 years old but looks much younger. He loves music, literature, and most of all, people. "Friendship," he said, "is the greatest thing in the world. One who has not made friends has not lived. He has only existed."

The word "hello" is spoken 176 times a day by the average student, according to an Alfred University survey.
