

COSSACK CHORUS TO APPEAR HERE TUESDAY, OCT. 7

Serge Jaroff Will Bring Troupe to Glenville For Another Lyceum Attraction

The original Don Cossack Russian chorus and dancers, under the direction of their diminutive originator, Serge Jaroff, will return to Glenville Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at 8:15 o'clock to open the annual Lyceum program.

The chorus was organized in February, 1920, and contains thirty-four members of the famous horsemen of the Don River and the Steppes who have traveled to all corners of the globe. During this time it has presented more than 4000 concerts in this and many other countries, and claims that no chorus member has missed a single performance.

The program, a part of the twelfth season of the chorus in America, has not been announced yet, says Hunter Whiting, faculty chairman of the Lyceum committee, but the chorus has more than 200 folk tunes, Cossack soldier songs, dances, and liturgies dating back more than one thousand years in its current repertoire.

No season tickets are sold for the Lyceum programs, but tickets for any of the performances may be obtained from the College at a reasonable price.

Students are admitted upon presentation of their activity tickets, paid for at the time of registration.

Mrs. Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Waugh of Wellsburg, takes the place of Mrs. Earl R. Boggs, who resigned. Mrs. Berry completed two years' work at the Physical Education School at West Virginia University and was graduated from Morgantown Business College in 1938.

Mr. Tatterton succeeds Robert T. Crawford who was granted a year's leave of absence to work on his Ph.D. degree at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Tatterton, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Tatterton of Reedy, received the Bachelor of Arts degree at Glenville State Teachers College in 1936 and Master of Science degree at the University of West Virginia in 1938. He was graduate assistant in the chemistry laboratory at the University. He taught for two years in Spencer High School, succeeding his former chemistry teacher three years after he was graduated from high school. The past year he taught at New Cumberland High School in Hancock County and during the summer was analytical chemist for the Weirton Steel Company.

While a student in the College, Mr. Tatterton was a member of the debating team and Canterbury Club. He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry society, and was president of the Chemistry at the University.

Greetings From Student President Robert Fidler

If we had a doormat at Glenville State Teachers College you would find on it a WELCOME to the students who have returned for another year's work. They have shown their faith in our College to give them the training they seek. I am sure they shall not be disappointed.

Then to those of you who have enrolled here for the first time we give a warm and sincere welcome and hope that Glenville State Teachers College will soon become a part of you, as it has those of us who have been here for a longer time.—Robert Fidler.

Pres. Rohrbough Addresses Students In First Assembly

The traditional passage of scripture from Ecclesiastes, Chapter 12, was read by Pres. E. G. Rohrbough as he opened the first assembly of the student body Wednesday. His charge to "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth... Fear God, and keep his commandments: For this is the whole duty of man" has been given to the students in the opening assembly practically every time for the past thirty-four years.

Asked why he uses this particular passage, Pres. Rohrbough said, "Just because it is so appropriate."

Seating the students was postponed until next week because of the urgency of filling in the physical examination blanks. The rest of the assembly period was spent in doing this after students were assigned to their faculty advisers.

Dean White Speaks To Lewis Teachers

"Help build civilian morale" was a point chiefly stressed in a talk on "What the teachers can do to aid national defense" by Dean H. L. White at a Lewis County teachers' meeting Friday, in Weston. The buying of defense-saving stamps and bonds, assisting in "drives" for U. S. O., assisting with health and nutrition programs and training of students in manual and industrial vocations were urged by Dean White.

DR. SHREVE ATTENDS STATE CHURCH MEETING

Dr. John C. Shreve returned Sunday from Huntington, where he represented Glenville at the annual conference of Methodist Churches. Each church in the conference was represented by a minister and one layman.

Young people of the Baptist Church will sponsor a social tonight at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

THEY'LL KEEP BUSY

Plenty busy with extra-curricular activities are these two College men, who dressed informally for the campus picnic held the first week of school and greeted each other just so the Mercury cameraman could get a picture. On the left is Robert Fidler, student body president and Pioneer football co-captain; right, Arnold Steorts, Mercury sports editor and publicity man for the athletic department.

Work Progressing On College's New Science Building

Work is progressing on the College's new science hall. Excavating of dirt was started August 11 by the Snider Brothers Construction Company of Keyser, and the company has employed twenty-seven men who are working daily. Dirt from the foundation has been moved to the rear of the College gymnasium. Several yards of dirt also were used in a fill on the local high school grounds.

The structure, which will be built of concrete and faced brick and is to be completed by the beginning of the next school year, will consist of four stories, including a basement and will be 56 feet 8 inches by 92 feet 8 and one-half inches.

Work completed consists of placing foundation footers and a retaining wall at the west side of the building. Purpose of the wall is to prevent the hill from sliding in.

Several small structures, a planning mill and storage and office buildings have been erected on the grounds in front of Verona Maple Hall.

DRAFT, TEACHING POSITIONS AND DEFENSE JOBS BRING DECREASE IN COLLEGE ENROLLMENTS THIS YEAR

Trend Seems General Over State and Probably Throughout Nation; Figures Not Available

The U. S. draft, demand for men in defense industries and the large number of openings in teaching positions whittled state colleges and the University enrollments down this year, though figures to show the per cent of decreases are not as yet available.

Saturday, Extension Classes Will Boost the College's Enrollment

The College began its sixty-ninth year with an enrollment of 252 students. This number represents a decrease of approximately 21 per cent from the previous year's enrollment, which was 321. Of the 252 enrolled, 112 are freshmen, 78 sophomores, 33 juniors and 29 seniors.

The enrollment figure does not include any students who are taking extension or Saturday classes.

Thus far extension classes have been organized in Burnsville and Spencer. Yet to be organized are classes in Clay, Elizabeth and Grantsville.

Already organized are several Saturday classes, namely: Art 303, 3 hours, advanced art education, Margaret D. Kenney, Room 2, Library; biology 452, 3 hours, forestry, B. R. Grose, Room 210. Both these classes meet from 8:45 to 11:30 a. m.

Education 434, 3 hours, elementary school supervision, H. Y. Clark, Room 200; geography (to be determined), 3 hours, C. W. Post, Room 208. These classes will meet from 12:15 to 3 p. m.

Approximately 150 students are living on the campus. In Louis Bennett Hall there are 65 men; in Kanawha Hall there are 20 girls; in Verona Maple Hall, 71 girls.

Meals for students living on the campus are being served at Kanawha Hall.

NYA WORK PROGRAM ASSIGNMENTS MADE

Benefiting Students Represent 7.5 Per Cent of Enrollment As of Past Year

By providing part-time jobs the National Youth Administration will enable approximately 450,000 students to continue their education during the 1941-42 academic year, it is announced by NYA Administrator Aubrey Williams.

It is expected that the number of students who have been able to work their way through schools and colleges by virtue of the part-time jobs provided under the NYA will pass the two million mark. In the six years that the NYA Student Work Program has operated, an estimated total of 1,750,000 different students have been given the opportunity of continuing their education.

Average monthly employment on the program for the 1941-42 academic year will be about 340,000.

This year the NYA program will operate in approximately 1700 non-profit making colleges and universities, and in 28,000 non-profit making high schools.

Students to be employed will be between the ages of 16 and 24, inclusive, and in need of jobs to remain in school.

Average estimated monthly employment on the NYA student work program in West Virginia will be 3362. Benefiting students represent 7.5 per cent of enrollment, compared with 9 per cent of the past year, a decrease of approximately 20 per cent. States with the highest employment total is Pennsylvania with 24,000. State with the lowest total is Nevada with 212.

The College's minimum pay allotment is $420. The minimum monthly payment per student is $8, at a 30 per hour rate. Assigned to jobs so far are 21 freshmen, 21 sophomores, 6 juniors and 2 seniors. Time reports will be collected on the 12th of each month.

Hear the Don Cossack Chorus here Tuesday, October 7.

Reports from scattered points indicate that the decrease in enrollments in West Virginia is general, likewise throughout the country, though the U. S. office of Education observed early this fall that there might be a small increase.

Chief reason for some persons believing there might be an increase was that though John had gone to the Army and would not be in school, Papa had gotten a better job and could now give sisters Mary and Jane at least a few years of college training.

Numerous instances have been reported on the campus of boys who had packed to come to Glenville a day or so before the College opened they received calls to report in defense plants. Promise of good wages could not be turned down, even by the young men just three months out of high school—the prospective college freshmen.

Washington, D. C. — (ACP) — While elementary school enrollment figures are plunging far below those of a year ago, America's Colleges and high schools have not yet felt the full effects of lowered birth rates during the depression of the thirties.

The United States Office of Education estimates college enrollment this year will be 1,430,000, a rise of 25,000. Some educators question the accuracy of this early estimate, in view of the drift of college-age men into the armed services.

Those expecting an increase in total college enrollment contend that while Johnny may go to the army or to work, "more men in jobs means more money for Mary's education."

The education office estimates enrollment in elementary schools has dropped to 20,707,000, a decline of 210,010 in a year. The estimate for high school enrollment is 7,334,000—up 100,000.

Total school enrollments, as calculated by the education office, embraces more than 2,000,000 in evening and part-time schools, business colleges, nurse training institutions and private trade schools. The grand total is set at 31,556,000, a decline of 160,000.

Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati and nationally known for his surveys of college registration, reports that numerous institutions, "including prominent eastern colleges for men," have conducted promotional campaigns and waived limitations on the size of freshman classes to offset losses in upper class enrollment.

Barnett Slated For United States Army Air Corps Reserve

Cadet Barnett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barnett of Charleston, and while at Glenville was active on the Mercury, in the Choral Club, Ohmingshow Players, and G. club. He played three sports, football, basketball, and tennis. During the summer of 1938 he did graduate work at the University.

Wholesome Attitude Prevails On College Campus As Activities Begin

ONCE again Glenville State Teachers College has opened its doors for another year. The enrollment this year is not as large as in former years, but advance indications show that this year should prove to be one of the most successful. A group of freshmen that seem to have what it takes to be successful students; a group of upperclassmen who are not antagonistic but rather helpful; an air on the campus of friendliness and comradeship, all blend into what should be a near Utopia. All that is needed now for a banner year is continuance of the attitude now prevailing on the campus.—Jack Miles.

Campus Organizations Will Be Happy to Welcome New Members

EVERY year, at this time, upper-classmen usually try to show their superiority by taking advantage of unfortunate incidents brought about by freshmen.

In trying to elude the so-called "Iron Hand," held over them by higher students, the freshmen seem to forget the intrinsic value of the clubs and organizations on and about the campus. In some cases, due to limitations, the freshmen are permitted to join but one or two of these clubs. However, it is never the case that they are prohibited from joining any one of them.

Several persons think that these clubs are made up of only the students that have trod the old road of experience and that freshmen cannot join because they are "green" and inexperienced. This is not true; a freshman has the same rights that an upperclassman possesses and will receive the same respect from sponsors and club officers of these organizations as do the others.

These clubs are for beneficial purposes or they would not exist; eighteen in number are waiting to receive those who might be interested in becoming members.—Earle Spencer.

An Argument For Loyalty Toward
The College Athletic Programs

YEAR after year we hear, "Show your college spirit and attend the football game."

The College athletes do need your support in order that they might perform at their best, but, if a student does not think enough of the importance of athletics to the College to lend his support, he would be much better off not to attend either the contests or the school. Now and then, unless this year is the exception, we'll hear the old story, "Gee, I would like to go home, but I am required to attend the football game." If you are one of these persons and do not think that Glenville State Teachers College rates your esteem, one of your Student Council members will be more than pleased to excuse you.

Some freshmen may think their presence at the contests is not beneficial. This is not true; for beyond all doubt Glenville State Teachers College has become famous throughout the eastern part of the country for its good athletic programs and enthusiastic audiences.

If a person could put himself in the place of an athlete for just a moment, he would realize the real importance of loyalty toward the College athletic programs.—Brooks Golden.

Glenville, a Good Town, a Friendly
Town For College Students

COLLEGE students during their stay here, will find wholesome enjoyment in getting acquainted with the business and professional people of Glenville, who are always anxious to make new acquaintances and willing to lend their efforts toward making the student element feel at home.

Glenville business people, we trust, will continue to support College activities. They have in the past. They will welcome those students who come in to buy, those who come in just to get acquainted.

Students will do well to consider these merchants as their friends; they will do well to make Glenville their shopping center, for there are bargains here in every store, and students can rest assured that local business and professional people are not out to 'get rich' from student trade.

Drop into Glenville's business places, tell the owners, managers and clerks who you are, and watch the smiles and friendly welcomes you will receive.

Glenville, like Glenville State Teachers College, is a friendly town, a good town for College students, who, when they get acquainted, will be willing to proclaim this to all their friends.

- The more things a man is ashamed of, the more respectable he is.—George Bernard Shaw.
- Mind is the great lever of all things; human thought is the process by which human ends are ultimately answered.—Webster.

Campus life will be what the students make it, and the best will be none too good.

When you have something to say, bring it to the Mercury editors and let your friends read it in the Student Forum.

The Mercury wants to print all the news that is fit to print. You can help the staff members get the news, and your cooperation will be appreciated.

You'll enjoy the Don Cossack concert here next Tuesday evening.

- The only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it.—Wilde.

The Robert F. Kidd Library

A new book which should be of particular interest to freshmen is "Larry—Thoughts of Youth," which was chosen by students at Hiram College as the books which represented most enjoyment and value to college freshmen in 1939. "Larry" is the diary and letters of a modern college student written without fear of criticism eyes. For information about our own College instructors and President E. G. Rohrbough read "Leaders in Education," a biographical dictionary recently added to the Library. It contains short sketches of living educationalists following the plan of "Who's Who." Among the reference material is a monthly magazine, "Current Biography—Who's News and Why" which deals with the people who are making the news today. All issues will be kept and bound. New plays include "There Shall Be No Night," a Pulitzer prize winner by Robert E. Sherwood; "Man Who Came to Dinner," a comedy by George S. Kaufman; "Arsenic and Old Lace," a comedy and mystery about two old women, by Kesselring; and "The Complete Plays of Gilbert and Sullivan."

Freshmen Say They Enjoyed Second
Annual Orientation Program HereFree Movies, Campus Sing, Party and Reception Highlight Week's Activities

College freshmen enjoyed their orientation program September 15 to 19, inclusive, held here this year for the second consecutive time under the direction of the Student Council. They liked best the free movies, a campus sing, party in the lounge and a faculty reception.

The program opened Monday, September 15, and included registration, purchasing of caps, badges and handbooks, group singing led by Miss Bertha Olsen, and a freshman party in the Lounge.

Tuesday, freshmen attended assembly, heard an invocation by the Rev. C. Lloyd Arehart, short talks of welcome and advice by Pres. E. G. Rohrbough, Dean H. L. White, and student body president Robert Fidler, and an explanation of freshman rules by Raymond E. Freed. A visit to the Robert F. Kidd Library followed the assembly. Intelligence tests were given in the afternoon, and a free movie at Pictureland Theater in the evening.

Wednesday, freshmen attended a second assembly where they learned the college song, heard an address by H. Y. Clark on "How to Succeed in College," and took part in a prize contest sponsored by the Student Council.

In the afternoon open house in all College buildings was held. A picnic for students and faculty members was held in the evening, and a party for all students completed the day.

Thursday there was a free movie at the Lyric theater.

The program was concluded Friday night with a faculty reception and dance in the gymnasium. Music was furnished by a local group, including College students, Charles Heasley, Russell Hugh McQuinn, and Roanna Gainer and one former student, Clark Wolfe.

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Maybe there is something to thank Adolf Hitler and his playmates for, after all. This fall, for the first time since John W. (Bet a Million) Gates founded the school in 1909, Port Arthur (Texas) College is permitting co-eds to attend classes bargeheaded.

Because of government-controlled silk supplies, college authorities decided to rescind the traditional ruling that campus legs must be covered.

Incidentally, co-eds in the "Shed silk for Uncle Sam" club at the University of Minnesota, believe theirs was the first of its kind to be organized. Purpose of the club is to convince campus women that the army needs parachutes worse than girls need silk stockings.

The SSUSC's nine "charter martyrs" have pledged themselves to "get along with the army and, if necessary, go bargeheaded in the interests of defense."

Twenty-Five Ministers and Ten Elders
Attend Kanawha Presbytery Held HereRev. C. Lloyd Arehart Is Host
Minister; Meals Served
By Auxiliary

Twenty-five ministers and ten elders of the Kanawha Presbytery closed a two-day meeting here last week after having elected the Rev. Philip M. Cory, of Kenova, moderator. They agreed to hold their next Presbytery, a one-day session, at Prenter.

Also they voted a change in the schedule to provide for two two-day Presbyteries to be held in the fall and spring and two one-day meetings to come in mid-winter and mid-summer.

Theme of the Presbytery, to which the Glenville church was host, was foreign missions, and the principal speaker the Rev. Elmer Bowyer, who stressed conditions in the Orient. Mr. Bowyer, an evacuated missionary, who has spent the past twenty years in Korea, spoke of the present conditions of the church in the Orient and depicted persecutions under the totalitarian regime in Japan.

The group agreed to support a campaign for "Christian education" and to give impetus to the publishing of a program to bring about further aid for colleges and seminaries, principally financially support.

One of the principal discussions to come before the group was that of amending the confession of faith of the church. Motion for the amendment was tabled until the next spring Presbytery.

Guests were entertained by local church people; meals were served in the church dining hall by members of the Auxiliary.

Host minister was the Rev. C. Lloyd Arehart. Mrs. Arehart assisted with local arrangements.

Thoughts That End In Rhyme

By Frances Myers

As College gets under way, many of you are experiencing campus life for the first time. You are learning the routine of Glenville, maybe joyously, maybe somewhat disappointedly. If you are among the disappointed group it may help to remember that you do belong. Act as if you do. It is a wonderful cure for loneliness to take part in everything. Starting with your classes, participate in all discussions. If you know your lessons it is easy. Then join a club. Be at each meeting on time, and take all the jobs assigned to you that you can possibly find time for. And attend church. Even that reaches out into the week when you may be lonely. For probably your disappointment IS loneliness.

You'll be quite rushed, and soon you'll see

That here you always have to be.

A class meeting now, a quiz tomorrow.

And missing either will be your sorrow.

But on the run you'll find a friend

Who'll hear your woes, and then will lend

A smile just now, a kind word next.

Or you'll be friendly to someone new

Who needs the smile he gets from you.

You'll feel a glow of warmth inside

Returning smiles frowns had denied.

So college is more than rushing 'round

To clubs and classes (as you've found).

It deals with friendships all the while—

The joy of speaking, or a nod, or smile.

So college is more than rushing 'round

To clubs and classes (as you've found).

It deals with friendships all the while—

PIONEERS OPEN SEASON HERE SATURDAY WITH 13-6 VICTORY

GLENVILLE TOO STRONG FOR POTOMAC; WHETSELL AND SHORT SCORE DURING FIRST HALF; CATAMOUNTS FIGHT HARD

Game Played In Rohrbough Stadium Before Crowd of About 400; Several Freshmen In Lineup Make Good Showing

By Arnold Steorts, Mercury Sports Editor

The Glenville State Teachers College football team got off to a good start here in their season's opener by defeating a heavier Potomac State team 13-6 at Rohrbough Field.

The first score came in the first two minutes of play when Joe Marra, scrappy Pioneer guard, broke through the Potomac line and blocked Saffron's punt on the Catamounts' ten yard line where Arthur Short, Glenville end, snatched the ball out of the air and raced across the goal line. The play for extra point failed.

After short again kicked off for the Pioneers, the ball had exchanged hands five times in Potomac territory when Bill Whetsell ran a Saffron-punted ball back fifteen yards to the Catamounts' 39 yard line. From there Karantonis picked up five yards in two tries through the line. Whetsell gained two yards, and later completed a pass to Warren Lamb for a first down on Potomac's 50 yard line. Billy Karantonis again plunged through the line for a gain; then Waitman Bailes completed a pass to Whetsell who later on to Brent Brown on the five yard stripe. On the next play Whetsell went over to score. Short's dropkick was good, so at the end of the first quarter the score was Glenville 13, Potomac 0.

Horse Lough's team got its lone score in the third period when Saffron started a touchdown drive when he carried a Pioneer punt from Potomac's 45 yard line to the Glenville 31; from there Yewic and Saffron alternately ripped through the Glenville line for gains that netted two first downs. Saffron again bucked the line for three consecutive one-yard gains which put the ball on the White Wave three yard stripe from where Yewic went over to score.

Although the scoring ended in the third period both teams again threatened in the final stanza when the Catamounts started a march, sparked by Howard, Saffron, and Yewic, from their own 30 yard line and traveled to the Glenville 26 before they fumbled and then lost the ball on downs.

In the waning minutes of the game the Pioneers began what seemed to be another touchdown jaunt from their own 26 yard stripe when Karantonis and Whetsell, with the aid of a completed pass from Whetsell to Lamb, netted three first downs and reached the Potomac 19 yard marker; but time caught up with them and the score remained Glenville 13, Potomac State 6. ## ALUMNI PLAN FOR ANNUAL HOME-COMING TO BE OBSERVED ON SATURDAY, OCT. 25

Acting President Arlan W. Berry Names Committees to Arrange Program; Students to Elect Queen

Plans for another Glenville State Teachers College Homecoming were started here the past week when Atty. Arlan W. Berry, acting Alumni president, called a special meeting of graduates and named committees to organize and direct program activities.

The event this year will take place Saturday, Oct. 25, and as usual will have as one of the highlights the traditional Homecoming football game; this one, Glenville vs. West Virginia Institute of Technology, formerly New River.

Alumni will arrange for a parade and a reception and dance, and College students, under the direction of the Student Council, will offer a coronation ceremony, at which a Homecoming queen, to be selected this week, will be crowned by Dr. E. G. Rohrbough, president of the College. Students also will elect a 1941 Pioneer this week to succeed Johnson Burke, A. B. 41.

More than a dozen town and campus organizations will be asked to enter floats in the parade, and local business places will be invited to decorate for the day.

Several special features are being considered and will be announced as soon as plans materialize. Committees named include: Pa-

Pioneer Sports Chatter

Coach A. F. Rohrbough opened training camp here September 8 with seven lettermen and thirty newcomers.

The first three days consisted mainly of calisthenics and other conditioning exercises; but on Thursday, September 11, pads were issued and dummy-tackling and rough work began. Before the week was over, Coach Rohrbough held blackboard sessions and rough scrimmages to thoroughly test his candidates.

Warren Lamb, of Glenville, returned to the Pioneer fold near the end of the first week, bringing the number of lettermen to eight.

With the beginning of the second week and the opening of school, the Glenville mentor parted his squad down to the present number and began putting his boys through the paces in earnest. Robert Fidler, Orville Wheeler, Brent Brown, Joe Radcliff, and Clarence Hinkle received slight injuries which kept them out of the roughest work for a day or two.

The eight returning lettermen, William Whetsell, Billy Karantonis, Waitman Bailes, Robert Fidler, William Kafer, Warren Lamb, Arthur Short, and Joe Marra, all showed up well, as did Frank Bowles, Brooks Golden, Donald Given, and newcomers Clarence Hinkle, of Richwood, Brent Brown, of Cowen, Winston Shelton, of Clay, George Tharp, Weston guard, Joe Rodriguez, of Beckley, and "Bud" Williams, of Cowen.
