H. L. WHITE ADVISER TO HOLY ROLLERS

H. Laban White, head of the English department, was elected adviser to the Holy Roller Court at a meeting Wednesday to replace Miss Willa Brand, instructor in English, who served as adviser to the club for the past two years. Miss Brand was made an honorary member of the Court.

Meetings will be held on Tuesday of each week in the College lounge unless otherwise planned by William Whetsell, Court judge.

Classes Hold Elections To Fill Vacancies

Class meetings were held following assembly Wednesday to elect officers where vacancies occurred.

Freshman officers elected include: President, Ray Watson, Weston; vice-president, Harold Wilson, Glenville; and secretary, Peggy Williams, Norman-town. Because of lack of time, the electing of a treasurer and lyceum representative was postponed.

Anna Faye Moyers, of Gem, was elected secretary, and Winston Shelton, Clay, treasurer, of the sophomore class. Other officers are: President, Earl Stalnaker, Glenville; vice-president, Orville Wheeler, Beckley; lyceum representative, David Tewell, Davis.

Clifford Stalnaker, of Weston, was elected president of the junior class, replacing Kilne Bush, who did not return. Elma Emrick, of Parkersburg, was named secretary to replace Arnold Steorts, and Helen Taylor, of Weston, treasurer, to replace Sue Brown. Lorene Wolfe, only officer to return, is vice-president. Catherine Withers, of Glenville, is lyceum representative of the class.

All senior officers returned.

YWCA Members Plan Service

Eunice Wilfong led the devotionals at an opening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. September 17. Fifty-four persons, representing more than two-thirds of the Verona Mapel Hall students, attended.

The club will hold a brief business meeting Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the College lounge. A candlelight service for new members will be held October 29, and sometime during the semester the Y. W. C. A. will have its annual silver tea.

A new secretary will be elected to replace Virginia Samples who withdrew from College because of illness.

Glenville Has Youngest College Freshmen In State This Semester

By Frances Myers

Charles McIntosh, freshman in the College, is believed to be the youngest college student in the State, having enrolled here September 14 at the age of fourteen years and six months.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McIntosh, Walkersville, both former students in the College, and nephew of Dean R. T. Crawford, Freshman McIntosh explains his advancement thus: My mother and father were both teachers, and so was one grandmother. They taught me at home until I was ready for third grade, then I went to school and took third and fourth grades the same year. After that I just went straight through like anyone else.

"I don't remember how old I was when I started to school. I don't see that I did anything unusual, because anyone with the same training could do the same thing."

Young McIntosh, preparing to be a chemical engineer, plans to come here two years, then finish at the University. He hopes to join the Chemistry Club and Y. M. C. A., "if they

Rev. Mr. Moore To Speak In Assembly

The Rev. Gilbert Moore, local Baptist minister, will address students and faculty in assembly tomorrow at 10 a. m. The Rev. Mr. Moore is a graduate of Alderson-Broadus College and came to Glenville a few months ago to accept the pastorate of the local Baptist church. His appearance here tomorrow will mark the second time he has appeared before a College audience since he came to Glenville.

Wilson, Whetsell Get Places On Student Council

June Wilson of Clarksburg and William Whetsell of Kingwood, seniors, were appointed by the president of the Student Council, Steryl Brown, to fill vacancies on the Council. Miss Wilson will be vice-president, replacing Katy Adams, and Whetsell will be treasurer, replacing Reynolds Brooks. Miss Adams and Mr. Brooks did not return to college. Other members of the Council are: Sergeant-at-arms, Sol Levin; secretary, Catherine Withers. Presidents of the four classes also will serve on the Council.

At the first meeting of the Council in the College lounge September 21, seven freshmen were given a hearing on charges of disobeying freshman rules.

Last night the Council considered a budget for the year.

College Has Twelve In Band This Year

Because of the lack of string instruments, this will be the second consecutive year for a College band. Twelve students are receiving credit for band. Eight are freshmen.

Under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Olsen, band members will meet four times a week and will soon begin playing for assemblies.

will have me."

When eight years old, McIntosh spent three weeks here with his mother, who was taking work in an inter-session. He remembers that Miss Alma Arbuckle gave him candy and books and took him to the show. He attended classes and read most of the day.

Valedictorian of his high school class, he won a sweater given for high scholastic standing. He commented, "It was disappointing to have to rip the letter off before I could wear it here."

Asked if he felt inconveniently young, he replied, "No, it doesn't make any difference how old my friends are. I don't ask them."

LIBRARIANS LIST HOURS FOR OPENING, CLOSING

The College library will not be open during the noon hour, it was announced the past week. Otherwise the hours will be the same, from 7:45 a. m. until noon; from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m., and from 6 until 8 p. m.

Semester Enrollment Down; Night, Extension Students Will Boost Semester Total

One hundred eighty students are registered for the current semester, a decrease of approximately ninety from the enrollment the past fall, according to Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean. Seventy-three of the 118 women students are living in Verona Mapel Hall; thirty-nine of the sixty-two men stay in Louis Bennett Hall. Kanawha Hall has been rented in apartments, with the exception of two rooms used by high school and College commercial classes.

You Can Do It At Glenville, Too . . .

BATON ROUGE, LA.—(ACP)—The student at Louisiana State University can live cheaper than he could at home, according to President C. B. Hodges.

He pointed to bureau of labor statistics that said living costs had increased 16 per cent in three years, and asserted the rise at the university had been only eight-tenths of one per cent.

New Instructors On Faculty For Current Year

Among the new faces on the College faculty this semester in addition to President D. L. Haught, formerly dean at Concord State Teachers College, and Dean R. T. Crawford, former instructor in the College, are Miss Louise Whitlow, commercial science instructor, and Mrs. John Bonnell, instructor in art, substituting for Miss Margaret D. Kenney.

Miss Erma Edwards, secretary to the president, also has been added to the staff. Miss Edwards is a former student in the College, and formerly was clerk at the Weston State Hospital.

Miss Whitlow, of Oakland, Ky., received the A. B. degree from Western Kentucky Teachers College, and the A. M. degree from Feabody Teachers College. She studied commercial science at Bowling Green College of Commerce, the University of Texas, and the University of Kentucky. Before coming here, she taught in the Georgia College for Women.

Mrs. Bonnell, A. B. '36, is the former Mabel Fitzpatrick, of Glenville, who taught three years in the Glenville public school.

FACULTY MEETING TODAY

First faculty meeting of the year is to be held in Room 101 this afternoon at 4:10 o'clock, announces Dr. D. L. Haught, president of the College.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

First paid subscribers this semester to get their names, addresses on the mailing lists were: William Keller, William Wheeler and Jack Stalnaker, Charleston; Miss Drusilla Kidd, Glenville; Miss Marjorie Harden, Spencer; Donald Swicker, Alaska; C. D. Wilfong, Weston; Harold Boston, Elizabeth; Miss Ruth Glass, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Endowed with the income of a fund of more than $100,000 the Charles Fremont Dwight Institute for Promotion of Human Genetics is now in operation at the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. C. L. Underwood, wife of Major C. L. Underwood, College instructor on leave of absence to serve in the army, will occupy one apartment in Kanawha Hall. Miss Margaret D. Kenney, instructor in art, Miss Louise Whitlow, instructor in

Freshmen Enroll Monday

Advance registration of freshmen was held September 14. A sing and freshman party were held in the evening. On September 15, registration day for upperclassmen, freshmen assembled in the auditorium for welcome and advice. Welcome was extended by President D. L. Haught; advice offered by Steryl Brown, student body

Helen Taylor On Governing Board

Residents of Verona Mapel Hall the past week completed the organization of their house governing board by electing Helen Taylor, junior, of Weston, secretary-treasurer; to replace Helen Clark, who did not return.

Holdover officers are: President, Alice Lee Marple; vice-president, Anna Mary Mearns. The girls elected the following class representatives to serve on the board: Freshmen/Edith Lockard and Juanita King; sophomores, Justine Kincaid and Louise Brown; juniors, Sylvia Workman and Pauline Burk; seniors, Velda Betts and June Wilson.

Miss Bessie B. Bell, dean of women, explained at the house meeting a change in the rules which gives the freshmen one evening out from Monday to Thursday inclusive; sophomores, two evenings; juniors, three; and seniors, four. The forty-five minute period used last year will count as a night out.

SMILES ARE EVERYWHERE

Friendliness radiates from every corner of the campus this year. It escapes in the smile accompanying the freshman's hearty response; it glows in the reason behind the twice-heard comment, "I didn't want to come here, but now I wouldn't leave"; and sparkles in the new student's exclamation, "The people in this town are so friendly I feel like I belong already!"

Why? Why are students friendlier now than they have been in past years?

The enrollment shows a significant drop from previous standards. Many who might have been here are in the armed service or have jobs made possible by defense needs or by the shortage of men in peace-time occupations.

Knowledge that some of the men, who would have swelled the ranks of the student body, are fighting for students to have the privilege of being in school furnishes a bond hitherto absent from the campus. The fact, in itself, that fewer students are here makes for more intimate knowledge and closer fellowship within the school.

Confidence that the efforts and interests of every student and faculty member are connected in some way with winning the war induces a comradeship that is felt throughout the College.—Frances Myers.

BUILDING PHYSICALLY

In colleges all over the country, physical fitness has become a necessary part of the curriculum. Army and Navy requirements for students who are members of the Reserve have made it necessary for all colleges who are members of the reserve program to give a specified number of hours of physical education per week. This ruling has opened the way for other students, who are not members of any Reserve, to prepare themselves physically for the time when they might be called into service.

Whether it be in the Army, the Navy, in defense work, or in some phase of civilian work, physical fitness will be required as a means of being prepared to carry out the duties required of the different groups. We, as college students, should realize the necessity of such a program, should be the first to prepare ourselves for the future.

At the beginning of the present conflict the number of men turned down for minor defects was astonishing. Many of these defects could have been corrected with the right type of physical exercise. After the first few months of World War II, the government took steps through the Army and Navy, and through private companies doing war work, to improve the physical qualities of future army personnel. Thus, we are combatting the possibility of facing an exhaustion of physically fit man power.

Our College is a member of the Army and Navy reserve training system and offers one and two-hour courses in physical education which meet four times a week. Each and every one of us should make it our business to enter some phase of the physical program offered. Thus, we will be doing our part by becoming better prepared for the task that is in store for us.—William Whetsell.

YOUR JOB AND MINE

A look around the campus to see the activities and achievements of students to keep the God-given liberty that is ours would make one think that our national defense is impregnable as long as we are fighting on foreign soil. That is a fact, but have we thought that in order to keep fighting on foreign soil our soldiers must have every bit of equipment that we can gather, along with the cooperation of each person in the country?

A plea for us to help is billed in every town, in every newspaper, and is broadcast over every network in the country. We are prone to wait, thinking that there are millions of others who will do the work efficiently. Often it is said, "Why can't they think of something else to talk about?"

Let us stop to think how we can help in this important cause. By saving paper, rubber, metal and many other things, we might help arm a soldier so he can defend himself better and return safely home to the family he has left behind. Keeping busy is one of the best ways to stay happy.—Clifford Stalnaker.

Asst. War Secretary Believes College Men "Living On Borrowed Time"

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(ACP)—America's college students "are living on borrowed time."

"There is no commitment that any man may complete his college education."

So spoke Harvey H. Bundy, assistant to the secretary of war, in an address to Yale freshmen.

Willingness of the government to permit young men to enter college rather than go into the fighting front was described by Bundy as a "loan" and an "experiment."

"If the loan to the colleges becomes a method by which men who ought to be in the thick of the battle avoid the hazards of war; if the colleges retain any of the aspects of the country club which have been painfully evident in the past; if the men who can afford to go to college are considered as a separate class exempted from fighting, the experiment will be a dismal failure and will not long continue," Bundy said.

What the government expects of the colleges is an increasing number of professional men fitted for "greater future service to their country."

Minnesota President Says Scholarship Plays New Role In These War Times

"Scholarship, alone, in times like these, is not enough. There must be scholarship, yes; and it must be utilized in every way possible to further the cause of which we are fighting. But something more is necessary—a collective something hard to define, yet easy to understand; loyalty, courage, perseverance, sacrifice, devotion, faith and singleness of purpose—in war or peace these human qualities are an ever present requisite of national greatness. But in time of war they acquire a new and deeper significance, for through them a nation's war effort can be focused. Scholarship today, without these values to motivate it, is certain to be inadequate; scholarship, driven by the power these values generate, will help us as a nation to attain the victory we must win." President W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota calls attention to the new role of scholarship in wartime.

This Collegiate World

GALESBURG, ILL. (ACP)—Blanket graduation requirements are a thing of the past at Knox College, where the faculty has adopted system of all-out individualization in which each student's course of study will be tailored made to fit his own professional aims and aptitudes.

Designed to achieve at last that high degree of personalized attention which has long been the boast of small colleges, the new plan too effect with the summer session.

In abandoning the traditional requirement Knox is thoroughly aware of the new and vital importance it thereby attaches to the advise system. In fact, the faculty adviser, no longer able to write out a student's curriculum simply by consulting the catalogue for a list of required courses, must now make a careful and conscientious analysis of the student's objective and abilities.

"The student tells us what he wants to do and then we tell him what he has to do," explains Charles J. Adamec, dean of the college.

A freshman's program at Knox is determined on a basis of his announced professional aim on his aptitudes as revealed in vocational guidance tests or in terms of his major departmental interest.

The only general requirements retained are rhetoric, physical education and the widely discussed survey course, in which Knox freshmen approach the problems of living and learning through a study of the Middle West, their own environment.

Campus

Capers

Alive again is the College campus, and students, old and new, have settled down to the books after spending summer vacations in sun-dry places. New faces appear; some older, more familiar ones are missing, which is nothing new in any college, of course.

Activities opened with a bang... Freshman orientation days came and went but lacked little of the punch and one main feature, the faculty reception... But students need not be slighted, for Dr. D. L. Haught et al. are planning for just such a party in the very near future... Hope the professors don't have to tiptoe in their "jeans" to foot the bill.

Congratulations to Miss Grace Lorentz, who presented a splendid picnic dinner for an orientation-day activity... Those who attended agree the meal was good, everything was successful.

President Haught likes the "Chattanooga choo-choo" song... Freshman lassies seem more friendly than usual and are taking the campus regulations in the right spirit—the spirit in which the whole Student Council is developing the making of a better student atmosphere... John McCutcheon takes over as the Mercury sports department when Arnold Steorts elects to remain in Baltimore and work in a defense plant.

Other news quicks: William Kafer, who recently received an honorable discharge from the U. S. Navy Air Corps, has returned to Glenville and has become a Pioneer guard on the football team... Sol Levin and Earl R. Stalnaker are assistants to Manager Steryl Brown, who incidentally, is looking for a "roomie."

Pioneers Defeat Catamounts 7-0

Game Is First Of Season For Both Elevens

By JOHN MCCUTCHEON
Mercury Sports Editor

Glenville's Pioneers loosed some aerial fireworks that thrilled the rain-soaked spectators in the Stayman Field stadium in Keyser Saturday, gaining a 7-0 decision over the Catamounts of Potomac State and lifting their hopes toward a 1942 conference championship.

It was sophomore substitute Joe Rodriguez of Beckley who skirted left and early in the fourth quarter and crossed the goal line standing up after a pass by Whetsell from the 40 to Fitzpatrick that netted 36 yards. Spencer place-kicked the extra point.

Not once in the contest did the Potomac gridders advance beyond Glenville's 35 yard line. The Glenville lads tallied 10 first downs to 0 for their opponents. Glenville attempted 8 passes and completed 5 for a total of 106 yards, while Potomac completed 2 out of 3 for a total of 11 yards.

In the first quarter neither team advanced far out of its own territory until Whetsell quick-kicked and set the Cats back on their 25 yard line. From then until the end of the first period it was mostly a kicking duel between Whetsell and Cox.

Early in the first quarter Lamb's shoulder was thrown out of place and the game was temporarily delayed, however, Lamb resumed play.

With but three minutes of the last period gone, the mighty Glenville machine began to roll. Whetsell faded back to the fifty yard stripe and hurled a long pass to Fitzpatrick on the 10, Fitzpatrick lateraled to Karantonis, who advanced to the 4 yard line. Karantonis center plunged for 3 yards and then Joe Rodriguez, who had entered the game earlier in the quarter, scouted left and behind some magnificent blocking for the only touchdown of the game.

Spencer, of Glenville, and Rice, of Potomac, both received serious leg injuries in the fourth quarter and were removed from the game.

Contractor Hopes To Finish Science

Progress on the new science Hall, says the contractor, has been slowed considerably within the past few months because of a shortage of materials and a lack of skilled brick layers.

Final shipments of tile and other materials, which have been delayed because of war priorities, are expected to arrive within the next four weeks.

However, with the bulk of heavy work completed, the workers have begun the laying of the present supply of tile in the various rooms throughout the building. If the work continues on schedule, without any further delay, the project will be finished by January 1.

Pioneers Will Meet Bethany There Saturday

Striving to correct defects brought to light in Saturday's game with Potomac State, Coach A. F. Rohrbough will run his team through more intensive practices this week preparing to meet the Bethany Bisons in enemy territory Saturday.

The Bethany congregation will be out to avenge last year's 13-0 defeat at the hands of White Wave and thus gain their first victory in either football or basketball in two seasons.

Graduation, service calls and defense industries cut in on the Glenville squad this year. Fifteen faces are missing from last year's line-up, and only two of these left via the diploma route; however, there has been an addition of 5 freshmen and 4 upper-classmen to leave the squad only 6 short of last season's number.

With only a possible minor change the starting line-up Saturday will probably include the same eleven that started against Potomac State.

After the Bethany entanglement the Pioneers will entertain the Hilltoppers from West Liberty, the defending conference champs. October 17 is still vacant, the date originally reserved for the Lions of Concord State who chose to drop football for the duration. On October 24 the Pioneers will be guests at West Virginia Tech, for their annual home-coming game. Fairmont State will play here on October 31, and the season will end under the lights at Laidley Field in Charleston, November 6, against Morris Harvey.

ARTHUR MOORE HEADS TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Arthur Moore, A. B. '35 of Normantown, has been chosen president of the Gilmer County Teachers Association. Alton Peters, A. B. '42, of Gilmer, is vice-president, and Miss Marjorie Craddock, A. B. '39, of Glenville, secretary-treasurer.

War Cuts Conference Football Line-Ups

The Glenville Pioneers are one of at least five West Virginia conference football teams to stay in the running this year after the war, rationing, etc., upset the plans of all colleges and brought about a situation which made it necessary for many to cancel their schedules.

Though late to announce plans to play this year, Bethany, the Pioneers' next opponent, finally decided to participate, along with Glenville, Fairmont, West Liberty, Morris Harvey and Potomac State.

Among those to drop the sport this year were Wesleyan, Salem, Shepherd and Concord.

Students Hear Talk By Rev. C. L. Arehart

The Rev. C. Lloyd Arehart, pastor of the Glenville Presbyterian Church, exhorted students to "Know how ye ought to answer every man," in the first College assembly, Wednesday at 10 a. m.

After reading from the third and fourth chapters of "Colossians," the Rev. Mr. Arehart advised students not to think too highly of themselves and on the other hand not to have too low an estimate of themselves.

He admonished his audience "to think clearly about what you are to do and to accomplish your task, whatever it may be."

Dr. Robert T. Crawford, dean of the College, presided, and Miss Bertha E. Olsen led group singing.

Chemistry Club To Meet Tonight

Members of the Chemistry Club will meet tonight in the physics laboratory to plan for initiation of new members.

At the first meeting, held the past Tuesday, Brooks Walker was elected treasurer to replace Arnold Steorta, who did not return.

Other officers, elected the past spring, are: President Clifford Stalnaker; vice-president, Bernice Duke; secretary, Evelyn Wagner.

Local Churches Entertain Students

More than 100 persons attended receptions given for students at the Glenville Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches Monday evening, September 21. Representatives from the churches to plan the receptions were: Baptist, Mrs. Gilbert Moore; Methodist, Miss Ivy Lee Myers, director of Elementary Teacher Training in the College; and Miss Alma Arbuckle, College librarian.

Nelson Craddock and Miss Stump Married

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Faustine Stump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fell Stump of Arnoldsburg, to P. Samuel Nelson Craddock, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Craddock of Glenville. The ceremony was performed in the Greenup, Kentucky, Methodist Church parsonage with the Rev. W. H. Muncy officiating.

Mrs. Craddock, a former student, is a teacher in Calhoun County.

Pvt. Craddock, also a former student, is stationed at Buckley Field, Colorado. He is a brother of Miss Marjorie Craddock, A. B. '39, and Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., A. B. '37.

Fleming, Tewell On Club Program

At a meeting of the Current Events Club yesterday Helen Fleming reviewed "A Short Guide to Britain," a book which the United States War Department published for the American soldiers in England to use. David Tewell talked about "Complications in India."

The club will meet again October 12, at 4 p. m.

Dean Crawford Is Adviser of YMCA

Dean Robert T. Crawford was elected adviser of the Y. M. C. A. at a meeting Thursday evening.

James Dotson, secretary-treasurer, led devotionals, and Brooks Walker, president, told about the origin and purpose of the Y. M. C. A. and the duties of its members.

David Tewell, vice-president, is program chairman. There were ten men present.

president, and R. E. Freed and H. Y. Clark, instructors in the College. Mr. Brown explained freshman rules. Mr. Freed clarified the position of the Student Council, and Mr. Clark gave hints on study habits and spoke of the purpose and need of a college education.

A College picnic was sponsored by Miss Lorentz the same day and a College mix for all students and faculty members was held afterward in the gymnasium. The faculty reception, originally scheduled for September 18, will be held at a future date, according to President Haught.

Will Have Parts On PTA Program

Two members of the College faculty, a freshman, and a College alumna, will appear on a Glenville Parent-Teachers Association program Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school building.

Among the other speakers will be John R. Wagner, who will talk on "The Youth in School in the Community"; Miss Beattie B. Bell, "The Ideal Community"; Ernest Lee Arbuckle, "The Youth Out of School in the Community"; and Miss Lucy Wolfe, A. B. '34, "The Teacher in the Community."

The P-T. A.'s membership drive which started September 22 will end today.

College Represented at Christian Advance

Miss Willa Brand, instructor in English, and Ernest Lee Arbuckle, freshman, were among those from the College who had parts on a religious education advance program presented following a dinner at the Presbyterian Church Thursday, 6:30 p. m.

Miss Brand offered a prayer as a part of a devotional exercise conducted by Mrs. A. E. Berkhouse; Mr. Arbuckle spoke on the subject "What Is the Advance?" Other speakers were Mrs. A. F. Rohrbough, Dr. H. F. Withers and the Rev. C. Lloyd Ahehart. Mrs. John E. Arbuckle had charge of the music.

A feature of the program was the burning of a series of notes to mark completion of payment for the new annex to the church.

The program served as an observance for Religious Education Week, September 22 to 29, and as the opening feature of the religious advance which is to continue throughout the United States for four years in an attempt to bring the Christian faith to a part of the sixty million people who, it is claimed, do not get any definite Christian training.

About sixty persons, including College students, attended the dinner.

year. R. E. Freed is occupying Room 204, formerly used by Dr. Charles P. Harper; H. L. White is using Room 203, formerly used by Mr. Freed; Miss Willa Brand has returned to her former classroom in the library; Mr. Hunter Whitling is occupying Room 205, recently vacated by Miss Brand; and Miss Louise Whitlow is using two rooms in Kanawha Hall for typing classes, and holds two classes, shorthand and accounting, in Mr. Linn B. Hickman's room, Number 107.

Several of the men students in the College are members of the Army and Navy Reserves, but final figures for this group will not be available until next week, according to Carey Woolf, registrar.

W. A. A. MEMBERS TO MEET TOMORROW EVENING

The Women's Athletic Association, organized on the campus in 1938 with Miss Eleanor C. White as the first president, will meet tomorrow evening in the gymnasium to reorganize for the year. The meeting will be at 6:30 o'clock.

Directed Teaching Work Underway

Miss Ivy Lee Myers, director of elementary teacher training, reports there are twenty girls enrolled in directed teaching. Education 218, Mrs. Stanley Hall is the only one enrolled in the advanced course, Education 444.

Dr. Shreve, head of the department of education, has seven directed teaching students in Education 442. Five of these are men.

15 Students Get N. Y. A. Scholarship

West Virginia colleges and the University are operating under a severe cut in N. Y. A. allotments this year as a result of the reduced appropriation as finally approved by Congress.

Also as a result of the reduction in administrative funds, the administrative setup has been reorganized. West Virginia, formerly a separate unit, is now a part of Region IV along with Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and the District of Columbia, with Glenn S. Callaghan as administrator. Headquarters for the region is in Charleston.

With the allotment based on 3.84 average of the enrollment as of November 1, 1941, and May 1, 1942, Glenville this year is to receive a monthly allotment of $150, or fifteen student scholarships at $10 each.

All appointments in the College work program have been made and the first month's program will end October 10.

The program will be operated on a quarterly basis. Throughout the year the N. Y. A. work periods will begin on the 11th of one month and end on the 10th of the following.

With the exception of a few changes in the application blanks, all forms are the same as used the past year.

FIRST TO ENROLL

First to present a registration card on the first day of registration was the Rev. Talbert N. Bennett, of Troy. First four Glenville students to enroll were Ernest Lee Arbuckle, Homer Paul Heckert, Billie Hardman and Goff Summers. First girl to enroll was Wanda Strader, of Troy.

NEWS BRIEFS

About Men In The Service

Before the first word of copy had been prepared for this, the first issue of the year, requests by letter and post card began arriving from alumni and former students who are serving in the U. S. forces and who want the College's program of sending free copies to men in the U. S. service continued.

After inaugurating this program the past year, the Mercury compiled a mailing list of about fifty men in the service. This list is intact this fall, plus additions received the past two weeks. In several instances, however, addresses have been changed.

Parents, friends and even the men themselves are asked to keep the Mercury informed of changing addresses in order to facilitate mailing.

Four addresses received in one afternoon (Friday) include Lieut. Johnson H. Burke, Camp Stewart, Ga.; Jennings J. Jarvis, Leesville, La.; Pvt. Joe Marvis, Langley Field, Va.; Leonard Wagner, c/o Postmaster, N. Y.

Typical of the sentiments received recently are these excerpts:

"As I am now a long distance from home (censoring will not permit me to state where), I don't get to know much about what is 'going on' in the old home town. If it is at all possible, and I can be sent the Mercury, please let me know regarding the cost." Signed (only initials used here, "C. D.")

And another alumnus writes: "Please have my name added to the mailing list of the Mercury for the year. I enjoy receiving it very much and do not want to miss a single copy. That is why I am sending my request early." Signed (only initials used here, H. L. C.)

TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS USE COLLEGE ROOMS

Three rooms in the College's Old Building are being used for classrooms for local graded school pupils. Fourth grade pupils, taught by Miss Drusilla Kidd, are using Room 108, first grade students, taught by Miss Marjorie Bush, are using Room 105, and a group of first and second grade pupils, taught by Miss Pearl Stalnaker, are using Room 112. Two of these rooms, 105 and 108, were used by the grade school the past year. Transferring of additional classes to the College building this year was necessary because a part of the training school building has been condemned.
