NEA President To Speak Here On October 20

A. C. Flore, president of the National Education Association, will be the speaker in a special College assembly Tuesday, October 20, announces Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean.

Mr. Flore, of Columbia, S. C., who was named N. E. A. president at the Denver, Colorado, convention in July, has been in school work at Columbia, S. C., the past 29 years, and superintending there since 1928.

On October 19, Mr. Flore will visit at Marshall College in Huntington and the following day will come to Glenville from Charleston, where he will be the guest of the State Education Association and the State Department of Education. R. B. Marston, executive secretary of the S. E. A., will accompany Mr. Flore to Glenville.

A special invitation has been sent to Gilmer County teachers and students of Glenville High School to attend the assembly.

Classes that meet regularly at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 20, will meet at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Oct. 21.

New Minister May Enroll In College

Glendon McKee, minister replacing the Rev. W. H. Beal, who has retired, moved into Glenville yesterday with his wife and baby. Mr. McKee, who has been working in Parkersburg, expects to take work in the College in addition to his duties in the seven churches in the Glenville - Normantown charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Beal plan to remain in Glenville. They are the parents of May Beal, who has done post-graduate work in the College; Monta Beal, A. B. '40; and Paul Beal, former student, who is now taking work in the school of Divinity, Duke University.

U. S. Citizens Reminded This Is National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8

The Glenville Mercury is co-operating with newspapers all over the country in the observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1 to 8, by displaying the flag, which has been furnished by the A. C. P. feature service.

Great democratic leaders down through the ages have recognized the importance of newspapers in promoting democracy. Typical of their sentiments are the following quotations from George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Edwin F. Abels, N. E. A. president.

Promote, then, an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened.—George Washington.

The basis of our Government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right. Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.—Thomas Jefferson.

Newspaper week should be a time of reaffirmation of the profession. Information that inspires leadership must be

Charles McIntosh In For Nation-Wide Publicity And Much Fan Mail

Fan mail for Charles McIntosh, fourteen-year-old freshman, made its debut Friday in a letter from Rush D. Holt, former United States Senator.

Mr. Holt graduated from Weston High School when he was fourteen, later taught at Glenville. He said:

"You have a brilliant future. The world will need young men of your proved ability and intelligence to aid in solving the many complex problems we will have after the war. I have confidence that you will contribute to their solution."

Mr. Holt expressed a hope that "it will be my pleasure to meet you."

A picture of Freshman McIntosh has been requested by the Collegiate Digest, and also by the Associated Press. Both requests have been answered.

College Changes To Pre-War Time

A change in the hours for meeting classes at the College to conform to that effective in the county school system was made yesterday.

Eight o'clock classes are meeting at 9 and all others on hour later than has been the case during the war-time schedule. The noon hour comes from 1 to 2 p. m., and the first afternoon class convenes at 2. Laboratory periods are held from 3 until 5 p. m.; Glee Club meets from 4 to 5, orchestra 5 to 6, choral 8 to 9 and first aid class 7:45 to 9:45.

Says Christian Faith Serves A 4-fold Purpose

The Rev. Gilbert Moore, pastor of the Glenville Baptist Church, spoke to students and faculty on "Why I Am a Christian," in assembly, Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Moore was emphatic in his views that being a Christian serves a four-fold purpose: It solves the problem of sin; handles the problem of human suffering and sorrow; handles the problem of social order; and solves the problem of the human mind.

He emphasized that "the word 'Christian' is the most significant one in the language, and he insisted that the world's social order can never be equalized without the Christian spirit."

REV. MR. JOHNSON TO SPEAK HERE TOMORROW

The Rev. G. J. Johnson, minister of the Methodist Trinity Church of Glenville, will be the speaker in assembly tomorrow. He will be the third local minister in as many weeks to address a College audience this semester.

USO DRIVE ON HERE

Under the direction of Marvin Cooper, assistant superintendent of schools, a Gilmer County USO campaign has been planned and already fifty dollars have been contributed toward the $500 goal. Contributions are to be sent to John E. Arbuckle, treasurer.

SIXTY-FOUR GIRLS JOIN COLLEGE WAA

Campus girls have gone W. A. A. this year and sixty-four have signed up for membership.

Officers and sport leaders will be elected at the next meeting which will be held in the gym Thursday evening at seven o'clock. Also 25 cents club dues will then be collected.

COLLEGE MAY OFFER NIGHT CLASSES HERE

Arrangements may be completed this week by Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean, for night classes to be offered on the campus. Miss Louise Whitlow, commercial science, may teach a three-hour course in typing. English 329 (Current Magazine) may be taught by Linn B. Hickman, instructor in English and journalism, and Miss Bessie B. Bell, history instructor, may teach a class in the social science field. The work to be offered, of course, is dependent upon the number of students who wish to enroll.

R. E. Freed to Join Red Cross Field Service

Raymond E. Freed, instructor in social studies, has been granted a leave of absence from the College to become a field director of the American Red Cross for foreign service with the armed forces.

Mr. Freed will teach the rest of the week, after which his classes will be assigned to H. Y. Clark, Carey Woofter, H. Laban White, and Miss Louise Whitlow. Linn B. Hickman will succeed Mr. Freed as adviser of the Student Council.

Mr. Freed is scheduled to report in Washington October 19 for two weeks of special training. From there he will be assigned to a training center for two more weeks, when he will be moved again. After three months in training, he will be assigned to a unit of the armed forces for foreign service.

A regular instructor in the College since the fall of 1934, Mr. Freed taught several summer terms prior to that time. He has taught English and social studies, and has been adviser to the Student Council since its beginning seven years ago.

Before coming to Glenville he taught in Fishburne Military School, Waynesboro, Va., and in high schools in McDowell County.

Mrs. Freed has no plans beyond moving to the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Jake Fisher, Sutton. She is a former student in the College.

Students Pick Queen, Retinue Of Princesses

Plans for the College's twelfth annual Home-coming to be observed Saturday got under way the past week when the Student Council held an election to choose a Pioneer and a queen to reign over the day's festivities.

June Wilson, senior, was elected queen, and John Tyson, senior, was named Pioneer. Princesses in Miss Wilson's court will be: Senior, Velda Betts; junior, Pauline Burke; sophomore, Louise Brown; and freshman, Edith Lockard.

Events scheduled for the day include the crowning of the queen, by President D. L. Haight, on the lawn in front of Kanawha Hall; in the afternoon a football game with the Glenville Pioneers meeting the West Liberty Hilltoppers; and in the evening a victrola dance in the College gymnasium, sponsored by the Student Council.

A Home-coming parade, major event in past years, has been eliminated for the duration. Home-coming officials are not urging out of town persons to attend because they would rather they conserve gasoline and tires in accordance with the war effort.

Cheerleaders to Be Elected Tomorrow

Three cheerleaders will be elected in assembly tomorrow morning.

IN 'FOOTBALL NEWS'

The Glenville Pioneers are represented in The Football News, a sports weekly published at Ferndale, Michigan. The second issue contained the current schedule and the score of the Potomac-Glenville game and arrived here just 4 days after the game was played.

Student Prexy Extends Greetings, Stresses Importance of Class Work

I am grateful for this opportunity to again extend to you a cordial welcome.

I think it wise that you have decided to attend college and particularly our college. You will find your stay at Glenville to be very successful and enjoyable if you try to make it such. The people of this school, as well as the community, are very friendly if you give them the opportunity to be.

It is only natural that some of you will not be contented with your new home at first. College life is a sudden change from your home life, but as time passes and you get accustomed to the change, I feel sure that you will be well satisfied.

Above all I would like to stress the fact that your studies and school work come first. To obtain a higher degree of education was your chief motive in coming to Glenville and this cannot be obtained without mastering the required work.

Your social life here is important, but from my own experience and information from others, I find you have sufficient time for both studies and social life.

Please feel free at all times to consult any member of our Student Council about any problem which may arise as you continue your college life. I am sure that he will be glad to help you.—Steryl Brown, president of student body.

Extension Classes Offered In Three Nearby Towns

Extension classes, to be taught by College instructors, have been organized in three towns and probably will be started in three others, announces Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean.

Registrar and instructor in English, is teaching two classes at Clay on Wednesday night and two at Spencer on Friday night. Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the education department, is teaching a class in Conservation at Grantsville on Friday night.

Classes may be given in Elizabeth, Sutton, and Summersville, but arrangements are incomplete.

WE LOSE; RED CROSS GAINS

War touches our campus again as it takes a valuable faculty member to a more valuable service. Mr. Raymond E. Freed, who volunteered his services to the American Red Cross for foreign duty, has been accepted by that organization, to its gain but our loss.

For seven of the eight years Mr. Freed has been teaching in the College, he has been adviser to the Student Council, during which time two yearbooks were published, freshman rules were drawn up, freshman orientation week was inaugurated, and the Student Council gained control over the student activity fee.

Not only in the College will Mr. Freed be missed, but in the town. For more than a year he has served as secretary of the Rotary and Golf Clubs. He has also been active in the Methodist Church.

We students regret that Mr. Freed is leaving, but we feel, perhaps, as he does, that one is privileged to go where he will and enter the service he is interested in when he knows that his contribution to the sum total of the war effort will be worthwhile. Our best wishes are with him 100 per cent as he goes into active service for our country.—Frances Myers.

A WAR-TIME EMERGENCY

Home-coming, in past years, has been a full day of festivity, featuring such events as the crowning of a queen, a colorful parade, a football game, and an orchestra dance. The purpose was to entertain former students, graduates, parents, and friends of those connected with the College who wished to journey to Glenville to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

Home-coming, this year, will hold a different significance. It will not be held to celebrate the return of former students and friends; it will be held to retain a framework on which future Home-comings may be based after we have won the war. Home-coming officials do not urge former students and other persons who live outside of Glenville to come, but rather that they would conserve gasoline and rubber in compliance with National Defense regulations.

Students and residents of the immediate vicinity of Glenville are urged to cooperate in making this Home-coming a pleasant "stay at home-coming" by attending the program which has been arranged. Turn out and give the Pioneers some enthusiastic support at the football game and help them emerge victorious. Thus, when the time comes for reminiscing over those "good old days," we may look back on Glenville's twelfth annual Home-coming as a pleasant memory.—William Whetsell.

ALL FOR YOU

Reading current magazines is an important part of any alert college student's routine and should be one of the "must" items on his extra-curricular schedule.

There are several reasons for the above statement. One of the first reasons is that by reading magazines students will be able to keep up on the constant changing conditions.

Miss Willerna White, college librarian, says, "The best way to follow up the 'best-selling' books is to read them as they appear in serials in many of the monthly and weekly magazines." Through the picture magazines students get a more graphic view of what they have read or are reading.

A casual survey made this fall shows that the freshmen are making more use of the magazines in the library than are the upperclassmen, in proportion to numbers enrolled.

This, we realize, is a busy time for all of us, but we should not neglect this important part of our extra-curricular program.

The Robert F. Kidd Library has a large number of magazines on the racks, a sufficient number and variety to supply anyone with good reading matter on any topic he might choose to investigate.—Clifford Stalnaker.

OCD Leaders Make Further Plans For Glenville Blackout

County Civilian Defense leaders expect to intensify activities this week, summarize progress thus far and announce further steps toward staging a blackout in Glenville this month, says H. Y. Clark, director of the OCD school.

Tonight Scott Vanhorn, chairman of the auxiliary police unit, and Earl R. Boggs, OCD county director, will meet volunteer squad workers at the court house and map final arrangements for policing the city during the blackout. Tomorrow night at the court house there will be a class for all who wish to complete details of the general course; and Friday night John T. Flynn, of Clarksburg, may come here to give final instructions to those in charge of the control center.

The past Friday night more than 150 volunteer workers attended a general course taught by Roy B. Lister, assisted by Harry Jay, both of Clarksburg. The Friday night crowd was the largest group yet to attend any of the OCD meetings.

Contributions Must Have a Signature

Submitted to the Mercury this week was a composition that is appreciated, but, as the sender has doubtless discovered, could not be used.

The Mercury staff likes to have students bring to them anything they would like to have published, whether it be an open letter, an editorial, a poem, a feature story, a news story, or even a gossip column, as this was, but there is one requirement that must be fulfilled before ANY contributions may go into print. The student's name must be known by the editor. It need not appear in print or even be known to other staff members, but it is self-evident that the author must be known to the person who allows the contribution to be printed.

To "The Man Behind Your Back," and others with similar aspirations, we acknowledge our thanks, and extend an invitation to contribute more copy, complete with your name.—The Editor.

Youth Foundation Speaker Here Oct. 16

T. Aubrey Morse, associate director of the American Youth Foundation, is scheduled to be assembly speaker next week. He is expected to be in Glenville October 16 through 18, and, to fit this schedule, assembly will be postponed from Wednesday to Friday.

Mr. Morse is brought to the campus by the Y. W. C. A. He will speak to members of the Y. W. and Y. M. at an open meeting, and will attend a meeting of the cabinets.

Worth Quoting

If the present struggle between force and reason has any lesson for educators, it is that the development of personal freedom must be accompanied by the development of a sense of responsibility to and for those democratic ideals and institutions which alone can give meaning to freedom.—Dr. I. D. Kandel, Columbia Teachers College.

Mercury Rewrites of ACP Releases

Interesting because of his recent connection with the government is C. A. Dykstra's analysis of the official government viewpoint toward colleges. Mr. Dykstra, president, University of Wisconsin, in a recent speech before the American Library Association, said, "The government considers America's institutions of higher learning as key centers in the war effort."

Universities and colleges are reservoirs for the recruiting of fighting men, specialists for national services, and teachers of men in training. . . . The government wants universities and colleges to carry on their regular training and educational programs. . . . It does not want to face the fact of a lost generation of educated leadership.

"America's policy at this time contemplates maintenance of vigorous and comprehensive educational programs. . . . to do this does not require sacrifice of standards or relinquishment of long-time objectives. It means only a temporary redirection of certain activities and changing emphasis where it becomes necessary. The task in general remains the same, education of the new generation, making of citizens, pushing outward the boundaries of knowledge. . . . which will make our national life more decent and wholesome."

Keep Your Shirts On

Dr. A. L. Chapman, University of Texas bureau for research in education by radio, urges college students and professors to "keep your shirts on" when listening to war reports. In a list of seven precautions he suggests: (1) Don't perform any sudden act as a result of what you hear on a radio newscast.

(2) Listen to every word. . . . The words "not" or "possibly" may alter the meaning of a sentence or a whole newscast. (3) Don't become hysterical. Reports viewed at a distance may not be as bad as they sound. (4) Check radio news with newspaper accounts of the same news. Intonations, pauses, changes in tempo and other speech techniques used by newscasters may give the wrong impression to the listener, may differ from the newspaper's interpretation. (5) Note the source of the news; a U. S. Army communiqué is quite different from the "usually reliable sources."

(6) Don't report radio war news as facts. (7) Regard opinion and conjecture as such, especially when listening to commentators who frequently express their own opinions relative to the future progress of the war.

John Tyson, our new Pioneer, is ready to lead the Pioneers to victory Saturday. . . . Home-coming queen-elect, June Wilson, and the class princesses, are busy preparing for the festivities. . . . May their reigns be a success in every way.

Other news quicks: Highlight on this week's radio calendar was "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" heard last night over the Blue Network, 9:30 EWT. . . . Coach Rohrbough and the Pioneers receive a letter from former Pioneer Beecher Reed, now serving in the armed forces. . . . Jake Fitzpatrick and Harold Wilson take over Frank Bowles' and Bob Bolster's "lair" in the College gym. . . . Steryl Brown, student body president, gets Sports Editor John McCutcheon for his new room-mate. . . . We will miss Mr. R. E. Freed around the College.

Ray Watson has not only landed a starting berth on the football team, but he has also landed the heart of the pretty sophomore cheerleader, Janie Bingham.

Pioneers To Meet Hilltoppers Here Saturday

Game Will Be Headliner At Home-Coming

Though the going hasn't been too tough during the past two weeks, the Glenville Pioneers will be pitted against a mass of weight and experienced men when they meet the West Liberty Hilltoppers in Rohrbough Stadium Saturday in the annual Home-coming game.

It must be remembered that it was the Hilltoppers who last year handed the Pioneers their first defeat and upset their chances of winning a conference title, to go on and take the crown themselves.

Glenville is not ready for an opponent boasting the strength of the West Liberty team, and to make matters worse for Coach A. F. Rohrbough, two of his first-string men have been out with injuries and may not see action. Earle Spencer, who was injured in the Potomac game, was not able to make the trip to Bethany and Waitman Balles, also injured in the Potomac game, saw little action against the Bisons.

West Liberty has a team that features six regulars from last year's starting line-up that includes a complete backfield and a center who weighs 190 pounds.

The Hilltoppers have an edge on Glenville in games played during the past 11 years. Glenville has won 3, lost 5 and tied 3. Following is a list of scores of games since 1931.

College Freshman In 200-lb. Class

It may be true in some cases to say a college freshman's place is not very big, but Ray Watson, 200 pounder from Weston, has ideas definitely to the contrary.

It will be admitted by the men who played opposite him in the Potomac and Bethany encounters that he does a mighty good job of holding down the tackle position on Coach A. F. ("Nate") Rohrbough's football team.

Watson played only two years of football in high school, his freshman and senior years. When a sophomore he had an attack of typhoid and was not sufficiently recovered to resume play when a junior. Last year Watson played on the North team in the annual North-South grid classic. Paul Fulks, a former Glenville athlete, coached Watson in high school.

Glenville Team Too Much For Bethany Bisons

By John McCutcheon

BETHANY, Oct. 3.—The Glenville Pioneers out-kicked, out-passed and ran rough-shod over the Bethany Bisons today to take their second game of the season, 37-0, before a small crowd.

Using every available man, the Pioneers scored almost at will and let the enemy penetrate into their territory only twice.

In the first quarter Karantonis, fullback, went off-tackle from the five-yard line to score first. Whetsell and Lilly had 2 touchdowns apiece and Williams scored the other.

Glenville completed 6 of 9 passes; Bethany completed 3 of 17. The Pioneers averaged 13 yards a pass; the Bisons 20 plus. Glenville was on the top side of an 11 to 4 first-down count.

Glenville got off on the right foot when Whetsell punted to Bethany's 2-yard line. Harris' return kick carried only to the 40, and four plays later Karantonis went over from the 2. A placement by Whetsell hit the upright and glanced to the outside.

At the opening of the second quarter Karantonis went through tackle to the 1 yard line. On the next play he went over the goal line, but the ball was brought back on an off-side penalty. With the ball back on the 6, Whetsell went around his right end to score. A pass from Whetsell to Rodriguez for the extra failed.

An intercepted pass on the 48 allowed Bethany to enter Glenville territory for the first time, however, only two plays later Karantonis intercepted a Bethany pass that set the Pioneers on another touchdown drive. Three power plays put

Faculty Reception to Be Held Thursday

A faculty reception to which all students are invited, will be held Thursday in the College lounge, from 8 to 9 p. m., after which students may go to the gymnasium for a dance, which will begin at 9 p. m.

Arrangements for the reception are being made by Miss Alma Arbuckle, chairman; Miss Ivy Lee Myers, and Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean.

Robert Butcher, Mildred Keener Are Married

Robert Jackson Butcher, A. B. '41, and Miss Mildred Kathleen Keener, a former student, were united in marriage September 26 by the Rev. C. Lloyd Arent in a ceremony performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pickens in Glenville.

Miss Teresa Butcher, A. B. '41, was the bride's only attendant, and Roland Butcher, A. B. '34, and assistant superintendent of Gilmer County schools, served as his brother's best man. A wedding supper at the Pickens home followed the wedding.

Mrs. Butcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Worthy Keener of Gassaway, teaches in Braxton County. She is a sister of Ruth-lea Keener, A. B. '42.

Mr. Butcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Butcher of Cedarville, served as student manager of athletics during his senior year in college, the past year taught school at Bryceville, Fla., and in April enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve and was sent to a radio school at Brad- was the engagement and ap- he was graduated Monday, Sept. 28. He expects to be transferred to another assignment soon.

Canterbury Club Members Honor Velda Betts

The Canterbury Club has the largest membership to start on this year that it has ever had, says Miss Willa Brand, sponsor of the Club, which held its first meeting Wednesday evening.

The following officers were chosen from the eleven members who returned: President, Velda Betts, senior; vice president, Evelyn Wagner, junior; and secretary-treasurer, Janette Cunningham, sophomore.

Helen Taylor, Lorene Lewis Wolfe, and Janie Bingman volunteered to tell stories at the next meeting, October 14.

The Club, organized in 1921, will be twenty-one years old on October 11.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrett, former College students, of 2009 East Pratt Street, Baltimore, announce the arrival of a son, September 20, a first child, who has been named Cody J. Garrett. The mother is the former Hattie Belcher of Hacker Valley. The father, a native of Gilmer County, is employed in the Bethlehem Fairfield Ship Yard in Baltimore.

8 Play Clarinets In College Band

Janette Cunningham, Peggy Gainer, Mary K. Smith, Peggy Williams, Evelyn Cheatham, Grace Murphy, Janie Bingman, and Earl Stalnaker represent the largest section of the College band, the clarinets.

The two cornets are played by Clarence Underwood and Clifford Jimison. Blending in the melody is the french horn, Nina Craig; saxophone, Neva Cross; xylophone, Sue Amos; and lyre, Mary Alice Wagner.

For the bass section there is the bass violin, Evelyn Reese; bass horn, George Adams; and two trombones, Anna Mary Mearns and Russell Hugh McQuain. The drummer is Domenick Schirripa.

School System Sees Effects of War

Gilmer County's school system is experiencing the effects of war conditions, it is seen in statistics compiled by Roland Butcher, assistant superintendent. Of the county's 120 teachers, 47% were hired this year.

Fourteen teachers have entered military service; 42 have resigned to seek employment in defense areas or for other reasons. Certification of Gilmer teachers in 1941-'42 included 14 A. M. degrees, 56 with A. B. degrees, and 60 with Standard Normal certificates.

The number of A. M. and A. B. degrees has decreased slightly from the past year, but the number of Standard Normal certificates has increased in an effort to replace numerous resignations. Mr. Butcher reports that 1200 students are transported daily by nine county school buses and one contract bus.

About Men In The Service

Lieut. (jg) Marvin S. Lee, A. B. '32, of Clendenin, has been appointed to the officers' staff of the Navy's new training school for Diesel recently established on the University of Missouri campus.

Lieut. Lee, a former teacher and coach of Clendenin High School, is the new executive officer for the training school, where nearly 1,000 sailors are learning to operate, repair and service the large oil-burning power units used in the U. S. fleet. He received his A. M. degree from West Virginia University.

John Cooper, student in the College in 1937-'38, has enlisted in the Naval Reserves V-11. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cooper, of Glenville, awaiting his call into service. Since his graduation from the University in '40, Cooper has been employed as a Farm Security supervisor in Grafon.

Corp. Harold L. Scott, A. B. '41, writes from Daniel Field, Augusta, Ga.: "I'd like to have the Mercury again . . . It won't be long before my whole family is in the service . . . Four are already serving and a fifth expects to go soon . . . I saw in a paper down here that the Pioneers won a football game Saturday. They had my luck, for that (Sept. 26) was my birthday."

Corporal Isadore Nachman, A. B. '36, who is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Nachman, Glenville, is not superstitious. He was inducted into the service on Friday, March 13; left a camp in Illinois with a group of 313 soldiers; took 13 hours to reach Missouri; was placed in Group 13; started for San Francisco on a train of 13 coaches; and sailed back to the United States from Hawaii on September 18.

Corporal Nachman, who will go from Glenville to Miami Beach to enter Officers' Training school on October 20, was with some of the first troops to arrive at Pearl Harbor after December 8.
