Holy Rollers Get Action In Salvage Drive

Scrap metal collection by Holy Roller Court members has yielded more than 3000 pounds, inspired a "Queen of the Salvage Drive," cleaned out basements on the campus, and instigated diligent searches in faculty homes.

Pauline Burke, junior, was elected "Queen of the Holy Roller Court Salvage Drive" at a meeting Thursday.

Glenville will be divided into five districts, each to be canvassed by a pair of court pledges. Court members have been assigned to faculty homes to carry scrap to the pile behind Administration Hall.

Scrap metal estimated to weigh a ton was taken from the basement of Kanawha Hall. The "Fidler Victory Bell" occupies a place toward the front of the pile.

Glenville Will Hold Blackout Wed. Night

College students and faculty will join Glenville and suburban citizens tomorrow night sometime between 8 p. m. and 12 midnight in staging a partial blackout, the first to be held here under the Civilian Defense program.

All lights on the campus and all in the city and suburbs except the major street lights will be turned off or blacked out and remain so until the all-clear signal is given.

Earl R. Boggs, chairman of the county Defense Council, says the signal for the blackout will come sometime after 8 p. m. and will be relayed throughout the city and suburbs via the local fire siren and a similar sound device at the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Gas Station at Hays City.

Here for the partial blackout will be John T. Flynn, of Clarksburg, Civilian Defense chairman, Third District. Flynn and local OCD leaders will check carefully on activities in order to develop further plans for a county-wide blackout which will be held October 21.

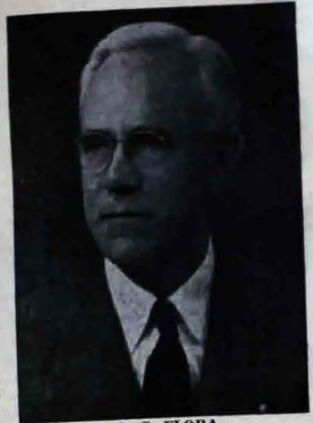

Pres. D. L. Haight in assembly Wednesday called students' attention to the approaching blackout and stressed importance of each one's seeing that there are no slip-ups, no lights left on or not blacked out.

WE'RE IN THE SCRAP

The Holy Roller Court members on the campus put action ahead of talk the past week and went after the scrap, which so far totals more than 3000 pounds. And to encourage readers to pile out the unused metal and other materials useful in the war effort the Mercury this week presents a 2-column advertisement on page 4, with loyal and patriotic advertisers behind the program. See page 4 and you'll have no trouble in finding out what materials are needed, what YOU can contribute. Give the Holy Rollers a call and, presto, the junk will be called for.

NEA President Will Be Guest Of College On Tuesday, October 20

A. C. FLORA

The College may have a host of visitors on Tuesday, Oct. 20, when A. C. Flora, president of the National Education Association, comes here to address an 11 a. m. assembly audience.

Dr. D. L. Haight, president of the College, who recently completed arrangements for Mr. Flora's appearance here, has seen to it that Glen County teachers, superintendents and others have been invited to hear the southern educator, who has been depicted by many persons as "the sane, even-tempered president of N. E. A."

Attention Called To Changes In Assembly Dates

Dean R. T. Crawford reminds students and faculty of the following changes in assembly dates:

From Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 11 a. m., to Friday, Oct. 16, at 11 a. m. Speaker will be T. Aubrey Morse, associate director of the American Youth Foundation.

From Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 11 a. m., to Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 11 a. m. Speaker will be Pres. A. C. Flora of the National Education Association.

Classes scheduled to meet Friday, Oct. 16, at 11 a. m., will meet Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 11 a. m.

Classes to meet Tuesday, Oct. 20, 11 a. m., will meet Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 11 a. m.

MISS BRAND MOVES INTO COLLEGE APARTMENT

Raymond E. Freed, instructor in social studies, and Mrs. Freed have moved out of an apartment on the second floor of Louis Bennett Hall. Before entering his training for the Red Cross, Mr. Freed will visit relatives in Virginia.

The apartment vacated by Mr. Freed will be occupied by Miss Willa Brand, who has been living in the C. L. Griffith apartment on Court Street.

MISS KENNEY RETURNS TO CLASS WORK

Miss Margaret Kenney, instructor in art on leave of absence because of illness, resumed her classes yesterday. Mrs. John Bonnell has been substituting for her.

PRES. HAUGHT ATTENDS RETIREMENT BOARD MEET

President D. L. Haight, member of the West Virginia Teachers' Retirement Executive Board, attended a meeting in Charleston Thursday and Friday.

LIBRARY TO BE OPEN DURING NOON HOUR

The College library will be open during the noon hour, it was announced the past week. Other hours will run according to the new schedule, from 8:45 a. m. until 6 p. m., and from 7 until 9 p. m.

College Offers More Classes In Extension

Arrangements for ten extension classes to be taught by College instructors have been made, announces Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean.

The following three-hour courses will be given: Mr. Carey Woolter, registrar and English instructor is teaching Contemporary Literature and History 452 at Clay on Wednesday evenings, and at Spencer on Friday evenings he is teaching New Testament Literature and Sociology 404.

Dr. J. C. Shreve, head of the Education department, is teaching a class in Conservation at Grantsville on Friday night.

Mr. H. Y. Clark, instructor in Education, will teach a class in Educational Sociology at Elizabethton on Tuesday evenings.

Dean Crawford will teach Physical Science and Miss Goldie C. James will teach a class in Problems of the Family on Thursday evenings at Sutton.

Two classes, Folk Literature of West Virginia, and History 452, may be taught at Summersville on Saturday mornings. Mr. Woolter will teach both if they are given.

Senior June Wilson Crowned Queen Of Glenville's 12th Home-Coming

June Wilson of Clarksburg was crowned queen, there was music by the College and high school bands, friends greeted friends, the Pioneers lost a football game, and about 140 persons attended a nickelodeon dance here Saturday as Glenville's twelfth annual Home-coming was celebrated.

First of the three-part program was a coronation which took place on the lawn in front of Kanawha Hall at a few minutes after 11 a. m. Down the walk from Administration Hall, 100 yards away, the royal procession moved to the coronation site, where Dr. D. L. Haight, president of the College, lifted a golden-tinted crown from a deep purple cushion held by John Davis Rohrbough, crown bearer, and placed it on the senior brunette as he expressed the wish that "be it yours to reign with dignity over

Janie Bingman Is Head Cheerleader

Janie Bingman, sophomore, of Creston, was elected head cheerleader for the College in a student election held Wednesday by the Student Council. Miss Bingman's assistants will be Geneva Proctor, sophomore, of Summersville, and Peggy Gainer, freshman, of Glenville.

Miss Bingman, only hold-over cheerleader from the past year, received 144 votes; Miss Gainer got 80 votes; Miss Proctor, 63.

The three other candidates were Mary K. Smith, Mary K. Mackey, and Juanita Westfall.

Rev. Mr. Johnson Is Guest Speaker

"God's Method of Revelation" was the subject of a devotional led by the Rev. Grover J. Johnson in assembly Wednesday. He said, "I believe that it is not possible for the physical world to know God without a revelation, and I doubt if a man can know God through nature."

Speaking from the first chapter in Hebrews, Mr. Johnson concluded that God is revealed through Jesus, through science, and through the Bible.

118 Persons Eating In Kanawha Hall

Miss Grace Lorentz, College dietitian, said today 118 persons are eating at Kanawha Hall.

During the past summer the cooks, under her direction, canned the following: Twenty-seven gallons of beets, thirty gallons of jam, 108 gallons of apple butter, forty gallons of kraut, nineteen gallons of pear preserves, fifteen and one-half gallons of tomato relish, forty-two gallons of pear honey, and twenty-one gallons of canned apples.

Fifty bushels of pears were brought from the College farm the past week.

BOOKS DONATED TO COLLEGE LIBRARY

Books have been received at the library from Dr. E. G. Rohrbough, Major C. L. Underwood, Mr. R. E. Freed, and the College book store. One book is a current hit, Esther Forbe's "Paul Revere," announces Miss Wilma White.

American Youth Leader Will Be Here This Week

T. Aubrey Morse, associate director of the American Youth Foundation, of St. Louis, will visit the campus from Thursday evening until Monday afternoon and will speak in assembly Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Morse will be brought to the College by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. through Miss Wilma White and James Dotson, who met him the past summer at Camp Minnawana, Michigan.

For Friday night the Y. groups are planning an open meeting with Mr. Morse. On Saturday evening the Y. cabinets will meet with him, and at 8 o'clock there will be a free party for students in the gymnasium.

Sunday morning, Mr. Morse may be available to speak in a Sunday school class. In the evening the Y's are sponsoring a vesper service from 6:30 to 7:15 o'clock. Young people's organizations in the churches have been invited to attend.

At times when nothing else is scheduled, Mr. Morse will be available for interviewing and counseling.

In a recent letter, Mr. Morse said, "I will plan to bring along some of the personality development questionnaires as I have done at other colleges. We are interested in leadership training, self discovery, life planning, and vocational interests."

Council Approves Budget for Mercury

The Student Council, in its October 5 meeting, set aside a $250 portion of the activity fee which is to be applied toward the expenses of publishing the Mercury for the school year. Later the Council's action was approved by Pres. D. L. Haight. Rest of the expenses of the paper will be paid with revenue from subscription fees and advertising. Other items to be included in the budget of activity fees will be given approval, probably this week, and will be published complete in a later issue of the Mercury.

HOLY ROLLERS GET 10 NEW MEMBERS

The following ten men were initiated into the Holy Roller Court the past: Winston Shelton, Jack Luzader, Jake Fitzpatrick, Cornelius Williams, Clifford Stalnaker, John McCutcheon, David Tewell, Russell Hugh McQuain, Harry Pritt, and John Baker Ellis.

On Matters of Diction .....

Some persons question whether "junk" is the right word for the sundry items being collected by the Holy Rollers.

The answer is "yes." Webster's Dictionary defines the word: "Old iron, or other metal ... waste material which may be treated or prepared so as to be used again in some form."

But don't ever call one who collects junk a "Junker"—cause the word means: "A young German noble or squire."

Newsboys Doing Their Part

The newspaper of today is an important asset to all democratic thinking peoples in that it performs an economic and a social influence representing the best interests of the community it serves.

During the present emergency, newspapers all over the country take it upon themselves to advertise the different "drives" in collecting of scrap metals, and rubber, and in the selling of war bonds and stamps.

According to State War Savings Administrator Roy F. Yoke, West Virginia's newsboys rank eighth in the United States as war bond and stamp salesmen. "Newsboys," he said, "have sold bonds or stamps to 37 per cent of the population of the state. . . Our newspaper carriers deserve the commendation of every West Virginian for their magnificent contribution to the 'all-out' effort for Victory," Mr. Yoke said.—Clifford Stalnaker.

Education to Move Ahead

That public school education will continue to progress in spite of war conditions is the opinion of Dr. Walter Anderson, professor of education at Northwestern University.

Obstacles are many, Dr. Anderson points out, and hindrances to progress necessitated by war conditions can become a powerful drag or even be a backward influence. In an effort to curtail expenses, the size of classes has been increased, laboratory work has been decreased, and modern practices of many kinds eliminated.

Men are being drafted from the teaching profession; women are leaving at for higher-paid positions. The result is a shortage of good teachers, and a crop of younger teachers replacing them.

Dr. Anderson believes that, in spite of obvious hindrances, "modern schools will not only survive—they will progress during the war—and afterward."

The challenge clearly lies with educators to make the best of material that can be had; and, to bring it closer home. It is the privilege of every future teacher to prepare himself to carry on the democracy of the world by being a good teacher, in the best sense of the word.—Frances Myers.

Cooperation Needed Always

Basis of good student government is the constitution behind it—the machinery with which to put it into effect. College students are fortunate enough to have both.

But, not all depends upon these two phases; the Council must have the cooperation of students, and faculty, too. We cannot have a successful government with factions pulling in opposite directions. We students must show our willingness to cooperate. By this method we may be able to iron out our differences to the satisfaction of all concerned. Problems which may come up as the year progresses should be presented to the Council so that it might work out a suitable solution. We need not be backward about presenting such problems; we may rest assured that we will find the Council more than willing to consider any matters concerning the welfare of the students.

The Council has received some criticism concerning punishments for the breaking of freshman rules. Council members will not play favorites with any freshman or groups of freshmen; they have been elected to carry out the duties of their offices to the best of their abilities, and when they impose a penalty for infraction of a rule, they weigh the possible good it will accomplish. They are trying to help freshmen become adjusted.

Why don't we, in the future, try to cooperate with our Student Council members by extending them our cooperation in carrying on student government. This is the way by which we can best help student government to succeed.—William Whetsell.

Iowa State college short courses drew a total of 12,502 persons to the campus last term. Harvard University is the oldest men's college in the United States.

Only four men have been twice elected captain of University of Wisconsin football teams.

NOTES FROM

The Robert F. Kidd Library

Miss Willerma White, College librarian, believes that students should read more essays. "Of course it takes a little time to get interested, but they are well worth one's time," she says.

She recommends Bacon's essays for deep thinking; Emerson's for philosophy. Robert Benchley, a living author and actor, says in satire the things you think but can't find words to express. Try his "Treasurers' Reports," urges Miss White.

Stephen Leacock wrote "Outlines of Everything," which included "Shakespeare's Works," "The Theory of Evolution," and many others. Don't let them mislead you—they are purely satirical.

One reads essays every day in the form of editorials and articles without being aware of it. Miss White suggests that we try losing ourselves in the essay world.

A Freshman's Idea of Complete News Coverage on College Campus

John Tyson, red-headed Pioneer who camped out recently, is taking an extension course under the direction of some of the local males. Probably you have noticed the laboratory sessions which meet before meals when Tyson is being violently shaken up in "Ultra-Advanced Tumbling."

News from the "Big House": At a "house warming" recently in Verona Maple Hall, girls unanimously decided to abstain from "kissing boys repeatedly," "petting on the campus," and taking Turkish baths. Romeo who insist upon throwing pebbles at the windows of fair damsels will be taken to certain house on campus and beat to death. The problem to be discussed at the next meeting will be "What to do when the lights go out." All girls must come in when the "bell rings."

Needed urgently at G. S. T. C.: Slugs for telephones in dorms; shorter periods between "dings" at mealtime; more nights out for gals; broadcasting station for McIntosh and the boys, or soundproof rooms in dorm; less semi-important upper-classmen who make it their business to check up on the frosh; freshmen to follow aforementioned and "shoo" the flies off with a palm leaf.—G. B.

Says Newswriters Show Improvement

"In general, news writing in college newspapers has been improving constantly. Sentence structure is tighter, the thought is more concisely set down, excess wordage has been eliminated. Paragraphs have been made shorter to sustain reader interest. And still the writing isn't of sufficiently high quality.

"Here, perhaps, is the greatest single opportunity for improvement. Only by the painful drudgery of learning words and their uses, only by mastering spelling and grammar and syntax, only by writing and rewriting, can the student learn to write. There is no short-cut."—Fred L. Kilgus, assistant professor of journalism, University of Minnesota, underscores the point that writers are made, not born.

Dear Judge:

Using the Fidler Victory Bell for scrap metal will be our loss, but when the bell fulfills its mission, it will be the Axis powers that lose.

The Collegiate World

Glady's Swarthout, singing star of Columbia network's "Family Hour," will give concerts at four colleges on her annual concert tour this year and will return each Sunday to New York for her radio broadcasts.

Her itinerary includes Miami University, Oxford, O., October 14; University of Michigan, October 29; Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., November 10, and Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, November 13.

Patois—Poor Understanding

That this war is too big for superlative words like "appalling," "devastating" and "annihilating" is the opinion of Dr. Gilbert Murray, president, International Committee of Intellectual Cooperation. He thinks a return to simplicity in description, to the restraint of understatement, would be more graphic.

"The shock of the horror vocabulary," says he, "was tremendous at first, but gradually it has lost much of its meaning." He thinks we may come to a greater degree of understatement than we have ever before permitted ourselves.

"For one thing we need a clear standardized English, because English is bound to be the second language in the Allied countries after the war." Dr. Murray is emphatic in his view that patois is a poor basis for understanding among peoples.

Colleges in War Effort

Fourteen Tennessee colleges united in a civilian defense training program which turned out 4,500 instructors who are now passing it on to 225,000 volunteers.

Brooklyn College made first aid a required freshman course and certified more than 2,000 students in the subject the first year.

Michigan State College's Department of Speech helped to enlist 1,600 speakers who average 6,000 speeches a month on various phases of the war effort.

Stephens College girls have organized "flying squadrons" to stage discussion programs on war aims at rural schools and churches.

Northern Illinois State Teachers College has conducted 29 three-day institutes in nearby towns to train leaders of wartime forums.

Dramatic students at Wayne University have cooperated in the development of plays on war themes for community audiences.

Capers

The scrap metal drive, which has been in progress around here the past week, has made campus life a little more exciting. . . . Pauline Burke gives a lovely "Salvage Queen" . . . Let's give the Court the credit it deserves. . . . At least students and faculty have become scrap conscious, what with the noise of clanging metal being pitched on the pile behind Administration Hall.

Home-coming Queen June Wilson and her princesses, Velda Betts, Pauline Burke, Louise Brown, and Edith Lockard, ruled over Home-coming events in true "Pioneer" fashion.

Earle Spencer is still on the casualty list because of a knee injury. . . . Billy Karantons is sporting a bruised collar bone, or is it that bad finger? . . . Ray Watson, Orville Wheeler, and Jesse Lilly are branded "lady-killers" by Coach A. F. Rohrbough. . . . William Kafer finally makes the Naval Reserve after a thorough kicking around by Navy doctors. . . . Cornelius Williams went one step ahead of the Draft when he joined the Army Reserve the past week. . . . Coach Rohrbough may have to leave us for Navy work soon. . . . Let's hope it isn't too soon.

The "Fidler Victory Bell" went to the scrap pile the past week only to be reclaimed. . . . Ask Mr. Carey Woofler, College registrar, why it was removed from the heap.

President D. L. Haught issues strict orders against courting on the campus. . . . Miss Bessie Bell relays it to the girls in the hall.

Sol Levin and Steryl Brown are leading scrap collectors thus far. They have a ton to their credit. . . . Nice going, fellows. . . . Coach Rohrbough says, "We want scrap, and we are going to get it." . . . By the way, he is responsible for all of Gilmer County's scrap collection.

Pioneers Lose By 20 to 13 Score

Karantonis Is First to Cross Opponents' Goal

By John McCutcheon
GLENVILLE, Oct. 10. — The Glenville Pioneers fell from the ranks of the undefeated by a 20-13 score here today at the hands of the Hilltoppers from West Liberty in a local 12th annual Home-coming game.

They could not check the passes of Leo Zilla, one of the greatest passers that West Virginia has seen in a long time; and a continual bombardment of aerial fireworks exploded the Hilltoppers to score 3 touchdowns. Glenville took a last minute "do or die stand" and advanced to the 10 yard line in a final effort to tie the score, but an intercepted pass stopped the advance.

Karantonis Scores
Karantonis scored early in the first quarter when he went over from the 1-yard line after the Pioneers had registered four successive first downs. Rodriguez added the extra point.

The Hilltoppers were held scoreless the first quarter but came from behind in the second stanza to tie the score. Allison, a sub back, went over on a line plunge and Zilla dropped-kicked for the extra. West Liberty scored again in the third period on a play that belongs to the storybooks. Zilla passed to Blair from the 10; Blair advanced to the 8, and as he was being tackled lateraled to McElroy. McElroy in turn lateraled to Zilla, who went over standing up.

Luzader Pulls Surprise
In one of the most spectacular plays in the game, Luzader, on the first play after he entered the game, took the ball on the West Liberty 39 and went through the entire Hilltop team to score standing up. Rodriguez's placement failed.

Later in the fourth quarter, Zilla passed from the Glenville 22 to Blair, who dodged a host of tacklers to score the final touchdown. Zilla's drop-kick went wide.

George Tharp, Pioneer guard, set the Glenville team on another touchdown spree by intercepting one of Zilla's passes on the West Liberty 27. Two power plays put the ball on the 10, but a pass by Whetsell intended for Lilly in the end-zone was intercepted by Reeve.

West Liberty was on the heavy side of a 12 to 9 first down count. The Pioneers completed 6 of 11 passes; the Hilltoppers 7 of 14. Line-ups:

FIRST STUDENT BODY MEETING OCTOBER 28

Steryl Brown, president, announces that the first student body meeting will be held at the regular assembly period on Wednesday morning, Oct. 28.

GSTC Quarterback

Waitman Balles, above, senior from Summersville, will be at the quarterback position when the Pioneers meet West Virginia Tech.

Pioneers Idle This Week-End

The Pioneers will receive a much needed rest this week-end as they lay idle for the first time since September 26 and the last time until after November 6 when they meet the Morris Harvey gridmen in Charleston.

Concord had originally been placed in the October 17 date, but they chose to drop football for the duration, along with Salem and Shepherd, who were also on the Pioneer schedule.

No definite date for the West Virginia Tech game has been set because of a mix-up in schedules of the two teams; however, it will either be on Friday night, Oct. 23, or the following afternoon, Oct. 24. The next and last home game will be on October 31 against the Fighting Teachers from Fairmont.

W.A.A. Members Choose Officers, Sports Leaders

Members of the W. A. A. met October 8, in the College gymnasium and elected the following officers and sports leaders: President, Helen Taylor; vice-president, Hazel Gallien; secretary, Anna Mary Mearns; treasurer, Geneva Proctor; badminton, Neva Cross; volley ball, Alice Lee Marple; basketball, Evelyn Wagner; archery, Anna Mary Mearns; tennis, Helen Taylor; ping pong, Estella Bonner; hiking, Anna Faye Moyers.

Leaders of the various sports will meet with their groups and organize the sports in the near future.

Miss Whitlow's classes in Commerce 103, Shorthand at 11:00, MTTh; and Commerce 201, Accounting at 2:00, MWF, are now meeting in Room 207 instead of Room 107.

NEW ORCHESTRA MEMBER

Richard Riggs, Paden City, is a new member in the College band. He plays the baritone.

IN CLEVELAND COLLEGE

The Mercury received a subscription from Boyd ("Sammy") Lamb, A. B. '41, the past week. Lamb, who is assistant division manager in the S. K. Willman Company, Cleveland, O., which does aircraft and tank work, has enrolled in night school at Cleveland College.

USO Nets $212 From Proceeds Home-Coming Tilt

Former Pioneers and many other U. S. service men may get a USO lift some of these days and not be aware that a Glenville Home-coming crowd made it possible.

But just the same that's what is planned here, and one phase of the program has already taken shape.

Pres. D. L. Haught the past week ruled that the Home-coming football game be made a no-admission affair and that each person who attended be invited to give a free-will offering which in turn became the property of the USO.

A total of $212.27 was donated at the gate. The same procedure will be followed when the Pioneers entertain Fairmont State here on October 31, the second and the only other home game scheduled.

WOMAN COUNSELLOR POINTS TO HAZARDS OF WAR MARRIAGES

Marry if you are ready, but don't if you are not, is advice offered by Mrs. Ruth O. McCann, counsellor of women, Northwestern University.

"There is no simple rule or principle for a good marriage," she advises. "There are hazards in all marriages and war increases these hazards. In the years ahead it is going to be increasingly difficult to work out our relationships with men due to men and women being called into armed service and for industrial defense work. There will be dislocation of families and delinquencies are bound to result."

Kappa Gammas Teach Mathematics

Prospective army fliers in Chicago are invited to call upon sorority girls—for lessons in mathematics.

The pre-army study course is offered by Kappa Gamma Gamma sorority to help any air-minded men needing instruction and, possibly, to supply a bit of oomph to induce enlistment.

The sorority's Northwestern University chapter announced a corps of the more mathematically minded sisters would act as tutors and coaches to candidates for induction.

Nation's Athletes, Too, Will Be Hit By Coming 'Share-the-Meat' Program

Glenville football players and those throughout the U. S. may not experience the effect of the government's "share-the-meat" program this fall, but other for the battles of the gridiron may shrink in size so enough food will be available for the winning of struggles on foreign fields.

The OPA has reduced packers' deliveries of meat to retail outlets by about 20 per cent and has asked civilians to hold their consumption at 2½ pounds per person per week, an average peacetime quota.

There will be plenty of other foods, however, and there are no restrictions on liver, kidney and other delicacy meats, nor on casing meats, such as sausage.

The athletic director at one nationally-known school estimates the members of his football squad at the training table put away at least twice as much food as a like number of civilians.

AND LOCALLY:

The share-the-meat program is a problem of two dimensions; first, to get enough meat even for the 2½ pounds per person average; second, to get each student to see the importance of sharing a plate of meat with all others at the table.

About Men In The Service

Second Lieutenant Donald Young, A. B. '36, is spending a 10-day furlough here with his father, Atty. Guy B. Young, of Glenville. Lieut. Young, who recently completed training in the Officers' Candidate School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, is located at Camp Campbell, Kentucky.

Pfc. Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., A. B. '37, who is in the U. S. Marines at Farris Island, North Carolina, is spending a 10-day leave with his parents, Atty. and Mrs. Bantz W. Craddock, of Glenville.

Sergt. Earl Wolfe, A. B. '38, who is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, left Wednesday after spending a three-day leave here with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Wolfe, of Glenville. Sergt. Wolfe, a medical supply clerk, has been at his present location one year. He is a brother of Eloise Wolfe, senior in the College.

Royce Snodgrass, A. B. '39, has been sworn into the U. S. Naval Reserve and received his Commission the past week. Snodgrass will report at South Boston, Mass., on Nov. 2 for active duty. Before his enlistment, he was coach and teacher at Sand Fork High School.

Dr. Lynwood Zinn, A. B. '33, of Clarksburg, has been commissioned a Lieutenant (jg) by the U. S. Navy and will report for duty at Portsmouth, Va. on October 19. Dr. Zinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Zinn, of Glenville, was graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1937, served two years internship in Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Conn., and was resident physcian two years at Woman's Hospital in Baltimore. Since May, 1941, he has been associated with Dr. H. H. Haynes in Clarksburg.

He will be accompanied to Portsmouth by his wife, the former Miss Ruth Blake, S. N. '31, of Weston.

Private Beecher E. Reed, a student in the College the past year, who was inducted into the army in August, is located at Camp Davis, North Carolina, where he is in the anti-aircraft school.

Eunice Wilfong Leads YWCA Chapter Program

Velda Betts led devotionals and Eunice Wilfong led the program, both centered around the home, at a recent meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

Included in the devotional was scripture, read by Mary Louise Fluharty; musical reading, Evelyn Reese, accompanied by Janie Bingham; talk, Velda Betts; and a duet, Janie Bingham and Neva Cross, accompanied by Velda Betts.

On the program were Noma Conaway, who pictured "The Ideal Home"; and Anna Mary Mearns, who described "The Happiest Home I Know."

Methodist Youth Organize Here

Methodist students and students who are members of denominations not represented in Glenville were served supper at the Methodist Church Sunday evening, Oct. 4. The meal was followed by a period of fellowship and a program.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship was reorganized September 28 and after a short program the following officers were elected: President, Evelyn Wagner; vice-president, Irlene Hess; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Sims.

GLENVILLE WILL

To check some of the late details, Chairman Boggs and members of the local command section met at the control center last night at 9:30 o'clock.

When the county-wide dim-out comes on the 21st, Major Easley, representative, Fifth Service Command, U. S. Army, will be here to check activities and advise for future programs.

OCD classes have been in progress here for several weeks, and OCD chairman, Earl Boggs, says Troy community citizens have asked that arrangements be made for offering similar classes there.

In progress here, with H. Y. Clark, of the College, in charge, is a second series of classes which started Thursday evening. Special group meetings were held Friday night, and last night a class in gas defense B was given. Other classes scheduled include: Fire defense B, tonight; fire defense A on Thursday, and the general course on Friday. All classes are held at the court house and begin at 7:30 p. m. Volunteer workers who expect to qualify for civilian defense work are asked to attend classes required for their respective duties.

Home-Coming Offers Many Sidelights And Highlights For Mercury Readers

Home-coming came and went, but not without its interesting aspects, sidelights and highlights, some of which are offered here:

Student Prexy Steryl Brown was a busy man; he helped plan and execute, was active in judging freshman signs Friday night, led the royal party to the throne Saturday. Carried the medicine kit and threw in the towels at the game, and escorted Peggy Sheline's big sister, Lois, to the dance. . . . The U. S. Marines, Air Corps and the Navy were prominent throughout the day as former students, in the service but back on furlough, attended activities. . . . Men in service uniforms, two American flags which waved in the breezes over the stadium entrance, and the high school band's playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" lent a patriotic atmosphere to the game.

Mrs. D. L. Haight, wife of the College president, enjoyed the coronation as she stood on the walk on the west side of the grounds; she liked the game, too, and Dr. Haight was of the opinion the contest was "well played." . . . Someone remarked, "That's cooperation," referring to Mrs. A. F. Rohrbough's playing a trumpet and leading her school band in a few tunes that went far toward spurring her husband's Pioneers on in the football battle.

Corp. Isadore Nachman, fresh back from Hawaii, contrasted the twelfth Home-coming with those of '35 and '36. . . . Bantz W. Craddock, Jr., of the Marines, Lieut. Donald Young and big brother, Bayard, of Latrobe, Pa., were around for the day, both looking well. . . . Nachman, Woodrow Wolfe and Mrs. Wolfe, Charles Barnett, et al., all alumni, got together at the game for a real old-fashioned reunion. . . . Then there was Hills Cottle and Leon Rishel from Spencer, and Frank Bailey from Flatwoods, who joined Mrs. Bailey, student here, and the young daughter.

Happy, and glad to be back were Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDonald; he a former Mercury sports editor and student president, now of Parkersburg, with the State health department; she a teacher in Northview Junior High, Clarksburg. . . . Billy Adams and his sister, Katy, were in for the day; he from Point Pleasant, she from Elizabeth.

Carey Woofert, registrar, and Dr. R. T. Crawford, dean, had to be in Summersville for the morning and therefore missed the coronation, though both made it to the game. . . . Mrs. Crawford was seen in the bleachers. . . . Dean Crawford sat out at the dance, explaining that Mrs. Crawford was home with the baby daughter.

There were pleasant yells when Jack Luzader, local boy, went into the game, took the ball on the first play and ran for a touchdown. . . . Sports Editor John McCutcheon was busy every minute in the press box, covering for the Mercury, several dailies and getting the customary 100-word leads and line-ups to be sent via Western Union to Pittsburgh.

Cheerleaders Janie Bingham, Peggy Gainer and Geneva Procter and Pioneer John Tyson worked together at the game; Bingham for the second year, Gainer and Procter for the first time. . . . John Fryatt of the U. S. induction center, Clarksburg, jokingly remarked, "I'll put a spot on your lung for twenty bucks." . . . Fryatt greeted friends at the dance. . . . Air Corps Lieutenant Robert Shreve's spouse, the former Sadie Harless, was on hand for the activities; her husband, as you know, is flying a heavy duty plane, transporting across the waters. . . . Mrs. Fred Shreve also was here, as was Mrs. Willard, the former Marjorie Barnett. . . . She left the bleachers to greet Brother Charles, Mrs. and the small son, who came from Clay. . . . Billy Bennett, from down Tanner way, was seen hobbling on crutches as a result of a broken left ankle, suffered in a fall. . . . Bennett was to have gone into the Marine Corps yesterday. . . .

Evelyn Waggoner was here from Weston, and there was an enthusiastic crowd of Weston fans at the game. . . . One fellow insisted on yelling "Hold that line!" . . . Jack Keith, attorney, and Mrs. Keith, enjoyed the game. Mr. Keith, recent W. & L. graduate, expects to enter the service this week as a candidate for officers' training school. . . . Mrs. Keith recalled when she was a candidate for

Training School Teachers Enjoy Demonstrations

Dale Haven, representative of Ginn & Company, Columbus, O., conducted a series of music demonstrations in Glenville High School, October 5 and 6.

Mr. Haven used the teachers as the pupils and divided them into three groups, primary, intermediate and upper grade. The first demonstration was with the primary group Monday afternoon; the second was Monday night; the third was Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Haven, head of the department of music at Ohio State University for five years, also taught at Rochester University, New York.

Gilmer County will have a county-wide music program to reach every pupil soon, announces Miss Mary Louise Lewis, instructor, who will also have charge of other demonstrations in the near future.

CHANGE MADE IN AIR MAIL SERVICE

Effective since Monday, October 5, air mail will leave the local post office at 11:55 a. m. going south, and 3:55 p. m. going north.

LOUISE PREYSZ HONORED

On the required reading list for students of American dialect in colleges and universities is "Dear Teacher," latest book by Louise Preysz, A. B. '36, of Elkins.

SENIOR JUNE WILSON

of the Junior class; and Velda Betts, senior, walked with President Earle Spencer.

Campus and off-the-campus shutterbugs snapped pictures of various phases of the coronation while along the sidelines the past year's Home-coming queen, Miss Madelyn Conrad, now of Washington, D. C., and E. G. Rohrbough, Glenville's president emeritus, who crowned her, watched with more than casual interest.

Though the crowd was smaller than usual—leaders here had not urged out-of-town visitors to attend because of the rationing program and other war emergency measures—there was interest in all activities and there were several new features that made the day unique.

Students offered a rousing pep meeting Friday evening, saw freshmen compete in a contest for the best sign featuring the theme "Beat West Liberty." Nina Moore of Glenville and Harold Paul Reese of Richwood won and split the $1.00 prize offered by the Student Council.

The football game was a no-admission affair, except that those who attended were invited to contribute to the USO, which will also be the case when Glenville plays Fairmont here.

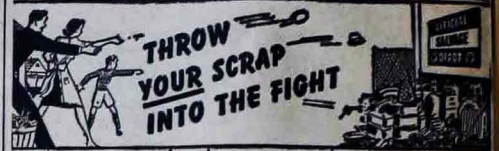

On the sidelines at all the Home-coming events were graduates and former students now serving in the U. S. forces and representing several different branches of the Army, Navy and Air Corps.

Alumni joined with the Student Council in offering a nickelodion dance in the gymnasium. Colored leaves at each pillar and crepe paper V's over the windows gave a festive look to the room where about 140 persons, including out-of-town guests, danced from 8:30 until 12 midnight. Students were admitted with activity tickets; others paid a small fee, and all enjoyed free punch.

state tomato queen, said she had received hundreds of letters, circulars, etc., as a result of the publicity she got.

Teresa Butcher was in from Clay County; June Taylor from Richwood, and there were dozens of others whose names would be used except for lack of space.
