Lloyd Jones To Serve Overseas For Red Cross

Lloyd M. Jones, A. B. '34, College financial secretary, has been granted a leave of absence and has enlisted for service as an assistant field director, foreign service, American Red Cross. He will leave here Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he is to start training preliminary to going overseas. Jones recently had offered his services in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Jones is the second College alumnus and the second member of the College staff to enlist for this work. R. E. Freed, an instructor, left a few months ago, and Nelson Wells, teacher in Sand Fork High School, joined the service only recently.

Granted a leave of absence here, Jones will go to Washington for two weeks of training, will then serve two weeks in an army camp, after which he will be assigned to foreign duty.

Karantonis On 2nd All-State Team

Billy Karantonis, Pioneer senior fullback from Colcord, was named on the All-State second team picked by members of the West Virginia Sports Writers' Association and announced Sunday. Karantonis was chosen on the first team the past year.

Jesse Lilly, sophomore end, and Joe Rodriguez, sophomore back, both of Beckley, were picked on the third team. Honorable mention went to William Kafer, of Weston, and Warren Lamb, of Glenville, guards, and Orville Wheeler, of Beckley, tackle.

West Virginia University, for the first time allowed to compete with smaller colleges, placed four men on the first team, as did Morris Harvey, Marshall and West Liberty placed two each. Twelve men were chosen because of a tie between M-H and Marshall guards.

WALKER GIVES REPORT AT YMCA MEETING

Members of the Y. M. C. A. heard a report, "The Negro In the Army," by Brooks Walker, and discussed the problem of how high the Negro should be permitted to advance from the ranks. This was the third of such meetings for the discussion of the Negro problem.

Robert Butcher Witnesses Boston Night Club Fire

Robert Butcher, A. B. '41, saw the disastrous fire that swept through the Coconut Grove night club in Boston recently and took the lives of about 478 persons. Mr. Butcher, serving in the U. S. Navy at Boston, said that he was firmly convinced "people need not be on the battle fronts to die."

Soldiers, sailors, and marines were everywhere helping to relieve the suffering, Butcher said. The night club "was overflowing with patrons due to the Boston College-Holy Cross football game which was played in the afternoon."

As a result of this fire, the Mayor of Boston ordered all the city's night clubs closed. One of the victims of the fire was Buck Jones, famous screen cowboy hero.

HEADS FEDERATION

President of the West Virginia Federation of College students, for which Catherine Withers was a candidate, is Mary Alice Eades, junior at the University. Miss Eades was elected at a meeting of the officers of the Federation in Fairmont recently.

Scrap Drive Nets 300 Tons As County Wages All-Out Campaign, Nov. 30

From along the muddy waters of the Little Kanawha to seldom traveled by-ways in sundry parts of the county came about 300 tons of scrap iron, steel and rubber the past week when Glenville and Gilmer County went all-out for all day to wage the first salvage campaign so far seen here.

To three collection centers in Glenville came trucks—more than 500 loads—with cast-off items ranging from 4-ton steam boilers to baby carriages, bed springs, boots and broken bikes. Largest depot to which swarmed curious crowds throughout Monday, Nov. 30, was established on lower Main Street. Another was established at Upper Main, and a third at the College athletic field.

A. F. Rohrbough, College coach and chairman of the salvage campaign, believes the 300 tons to be a conservative estimate. Leaders in the drive believe the collections should net more than $500, allowing for a part of the scrap which will not be salable to a junk dealer. Proceeds are to go to the Civilian Defense and to other county war-time programs.

Schools throughout the county were closed for the day; likewise stores, banks, barber shops and all other business places except restaurants and filling stations. The latter did a land-office business, chiefly because of the rush for gasoline before the rationing program started on December 1.

CHRISTMAS RECESS DATES

The Christmas vacation will begin Friday, Dec. 18, 6 p. m. and end Monday, Jan. 4, 9 a. m., announces Dean R. T. Crawford.

Abe Woolfer Reads GSTC Scores In London Newspaper

Glenville football scores really got around. Pfc. Albert Woolfer, AB '40, now doing military police work in England, writes and says that Glenville scores, along with the scores of other state colleges, are carried weekly in the "Stars and Stripes," U. S. Army paper published in London.

Woolfer says "life here is about the same as in West Virginia, though the people are more reserved."

Woolfer expressed a desire for more mail from this side of the Atlantic, said he had not met anyone there whom he knew, but was waiting for a letter from Lt. Homer ("Tiny") Moore, former student, now overseas.

DO SUBSTITUTE TEACHING

Three senior students substituted for county teachers the past week. June Wilson taught at Tanner for Asa Cooper; James Murphy, Sand Fork, for Newton Cooper; and Eloise Wolfe, Normantown, for Merle Boggs.

Two local stations experienced a gasoline sell-out long before dark.

The College, because there were enough people already engaged to put the drive across, did not dismiss for the day.

College students, it is noted, have been active in gathering scrap.

One organization, the Holy Roller Court, recently sold the last of its 8-tons collected. The State Road Commission furnished 12 trucks and 4 pickups, and county owners donated use of 61 trucks. Many other trucks were used but owners' names were not obtained. Throughout the county farmers donated teams, wagons and sleds to haul scrap to the hard roads.

College Players Ready to Offer First Dramatic Production of the Semester

First dramatic offering of the semester by the College Alpha Psi Omega and Ohningohow Players will be presented in the auditorium, Friday night, at 8:30 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents plus tax for students and 35 cents plus tax for adults. Someone asks, "Is there a dress rehearsal tonight?"

The moving of sets and scenes on the stage, make-up kits with their familiar smells of grease paint are ready. About twenty-five people busy with either their lines, a paint brush, or a hammer are all signs that say, "Yes, the play, 'Letters to Lucerne,' is going to be ready for its public presentation!"

One change in the cast was made the past week. Gray Barker, freshman, took the role of the policeman, Koppler. David Fitzpatrick was originally cast in this part.

The cast, which has been working for more than a month, holding regular rehearsals under the direction of Miss Kathleen Robertson, includes: Carolyn Sims, Janie Blingman, William Kafer, Cornelius Williams, Velda Betts, Anna Mary Mearns, Eunice Wilfong, Helen Taylor, Estella Bonner, Elsie Moore, Helen Goldberg, Gray Barker, and Sheldon Riggs.

The play, in three acts, written by Fritz Rotter and Allen Vincent, has a timely theme—effects of war on a girls' school. General setting is in the historically beautiful Switzerland. The acting takes place in one room and covers about two weeks of late summer. It will take about 2½ hours to give the play.

Tickets will be sold by students who will canvass the campus and town this week. Harold Reese will be head usher.

Holy Rollers To Offer Letters To Service Men

The Holy Roller Court, having completed a successful scrap collection drive, is sponsoring another project—sending letters to men in the service.

Already members of the court have mailed seventy-five Christmas cards with letters enclosed to alumni and former students now serving in the armed forces. The court has placed a box in Administration Hall to collect unstamped letters, with postage being guaranteed by the Court.

During their recent scrap drive, members of the court collected 14,575 pounds, for which fifty-eight dollars and twenty-eight cents was received. Approximately 3000 more pounds of the iron fence behind Louis Bennett Hall was taken down and donated by the Holy Rollers as their contribution in the county-wide scrap drive.

The Court sponsored a dance Saturday night with proceeds to be used for the postage needed during the letter-writing project.

STANDARD TESTS GIVEN TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN

Freshmen students went through the annual testing program Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, under the direction of Miss Ivy Lee Myers, Dr. J. C. Shreve, and Mr. H. Y. Clark. Three kinds of tests were administered: Personal and social adjustment, progressive achievement, and intelligence tests.

8 FORMER STUDENTS IN NEXT DRAFTEE GROUP

Among the thirty Gilmer County men scheduled to leave Glenville Saturday for the induction center in Clarksburg are eight former College students: Frank E. King, Jr.; Billy Bennett; Paul Woodford; Harold Winters; Meredith Skis; Ray Baxter Musser; Paul H. Kidd; and Rymer Garrett.

Among the thirty draftees are a few married men, the first to be inducted by the local board.

The moving of sets and scenes on the stage, make-up kits with their familiar smells of grease paint are ready. 18-Year Olds to Register This Month

Several College students will be among the 18-year-olds who will register for army service this month.

December 11: Those born on or after July 1, 1924, but not after August 31, 1924, are to register during the week beginning on this date.

December 18: Those born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924, are to register during this week.

December 26: Those born on or after November 1, 1924, but not after December 31, 1924 are to register during this week.

Men reaching eighteen on or after January 1, 1943, are to register on their birthday unless it is Sunday or a legal holiday, in which case they will register on the following week day.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE TO MEET TOMORROW EVENING

The Social Committee will meet tomorrow evening in the library and plan for social events to be presented during January. Anyone wanting a date on the calendar will see Miss Alma Arbuckle.

Clarence Underwood, Jr., who has been visiting his mother here, returned Saturday to the University of Maryland, where he is a sophomore.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest White were recent visitors in Glenville. Mr. White, A. B. '42, is coaching at Cowen High School.

LET'S GO ALL-OUT NEXT YEAR

It happened just a year ago today. On December 8, 1941, the country sat, glued to the radio, listening to a declaration of war. Just a year ago this morning we were a neutral nation, by law; just a year ago this afternoon we began active participation in a world-wide struggle.

During the year, a host of changes have been made in community life, and individuals have found it necessary to modify their hopes and aspirations "for the duration." During the year, military activities have had their ups and downs. During the year, fights of all types, civilian, governmental, military, to name a few, have been fought and won, fought and lost.

At the end of the year, our national defense plans have not yet fully crystallized. At the end of the year, America has not yet adjusted to a war-time basis of living. At the end of the year, the American people are still griping about giving up the luxuries of travel, food, and interrupted plans. At the end of the year, Americans have only begun to realize the full weight of the statement, "The nation is at war."

During the coming year, there is much to be done. Each person must radiate the spirit of all-out cooperation, and follow it up with action. —Frances Myers.

GIVE THE SERVICE MEN A BREAK

Prized among the possessions of men in any branch of the service are the letters they receive from the folks back home. These letters are their only direct avenues of information about the life they enjoyed before war took them away from that life. Are we doing our part in helping keep up the morale of our fighting men? That question can be answered only by each of us individually.

Not so many weeks ago, high army officers placed letters among the requisites for men in the service. Letters, they said, were as vital in this war as guns, tanks, or airplanes, for who cares about those latter things when he is homesick for news from the homefront.

Many College students keep up a weekly correspondence with friends in the service, and many do not write at all. Those who don't write should ask themselves this question, "How would we feel if we were in the army and never received a letter from those we thought were our friends?" Let us put ourselves in soldiers' places and ask ourselves that question.

Students, all of us, should get the address of some man in the service and write him a friendly letter. If we want to do our part by helping keep up the morale of our fighting men, then now is the time to start. Men in the service would be glad to receive a letter from any one from their "Alma Mater." Addresses of men in the different branches of the service can be copied from a list which will be posted on the bulletin board for the next two weeks.—William Whetsell.

STILL TOO MUCH NOISE

Life in the dormitories could be made much better if some of the students living there would show more consideration for the others.

Students this year are getting along better than in previous years, but there are still some things that could and should be ironed out.

There is an unwritten rule that quiet hours start at 8 p. m., but at present not many of the students are observing this rule, and the noise generally lasts until the last person has gone to bed. This may be any hour in the morning.

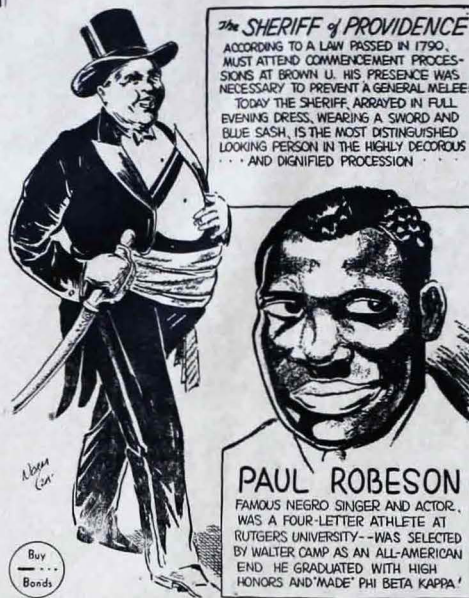

Some of us, if not all, have come to College to learn what we can, and at this time this is a very important factor in our lives. We all like good times, but sometimes our fun is carried too far. This is illustrated at night when the unnecessary "bull sessions," "quiz programs," and other noise making activities are carried on late at night, keeping others from studying or sleeping.

Our instructors tell us to study every night, and our physician says we should get at least 8 hours of sleep a night, but this is almost impossible to do in some parts of the dormitories.

We do not carry on like this at home, so why can't we show consideration for the others living with us as we do for our brothers, our sisters and our parents at home? It would be appreciated if we would be reasonably quiet after a certain time and allow those that wish to study or sleep to do so without being disturbed.—Clifford Stalnaker.

The worst disappointment you can experience is disappointment in yourself.

NOTES FROM

The Robert F. Kidd Library

By Eunice Wilfong

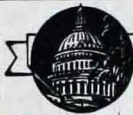

A magazine beginning publication this year to which the library subscribes is the Negro Quarterly, which should be useful to Y. W.-Y.-M. chapters and sociology classes. Editor is Angelo Herndon. Among its contributors are Richard Wright, author of "Native Son"; Langston Hughes, "Shakespeare in Harlem"; and Henrietta Buckmaster, "Let My People Go."

We often hear of the "forgotten men" of science, medicine, etc., who are worthy of the highest recognition yet are scarcely known outside the circle of their intimate friends. In our library we have some "forgotten magazines," magazines of great merit and interest, yet too often passed over as "high-brow."

Among these is Vogue, built up by the late Conde Nast from a rambling wreck to the last word in fashion magazines.

Another is The House Beautiful. As old Gustave says, in the Ohlninghow Players' current production, "Letters to Lucerne." "It is too bad it has to happen to these girls..." Gustave meant the war, but I mean the neglect of The House Beautiful magazine. Emphasis is placed on beautifully illustrated articles on the more expensive type of home, with occasional material on small and moderately (Continued On Page Four)

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

Many colleges report 70 to 90 per cent of their students enrolled in one or another branch of the military forces. The army expects to get about a third of all its officers from colleges. Colleges themselves will train about 250,000 men this academic year for the Student Enlisted Reserve Corps, the army and navy ROTC. Another 250,000 will be sent from the services to colleges for specialized training. Besides that, 50,000 men now in uniform will receive instruction through army correspondence courses offered by 77 colleges. Furthermore, some 800,000 men and women will receive training this year, in 250 colleges and universities, for technical work in war plants.

All in all, 1,350,000 men and women will be provided the use of college facilities so that they may take an active part in prosecuting the war, either in combat service or industry. Despite the fact that regular student enrollment has dropped, many colleges (Continued On Page Four)

After graduation here, Jones taught one year in Richmond before he returned to Glenville to accept the position of financial secretary, which he has held since August, 1933. He married Miss Ella Summers, A. B. '37, in 1941, and this year has been living in an apartment in Firestone Lodge. Mrs. Jones plans to continue teaching in Tanner High School and will retain the apartment here. Jones is a brother of Paul ("Babe") Jones, A. B. '36, a former Pioneer basketball captain, now of Charleston, a brother of Nora Pauline Jones, College freshman, and a son of Mrs. William M. Jones, of Richmond. His father is deceased.

Successor to Jones as financial secretary will be Miss Erma Edwards, a former student, of Glenville, who this fall has been serving as secretary to Pres. D. L. Haught.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Indiana University, fewer than 100 miles from Lincoln's boyhood home, has purchased the last big privately-owned library of material on the Civil War president. The collection, one among five great Lincoln libraries, comprise 8000 volumes, engravings and busts.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Dr. Frank N. Freeman, dean, school of education, University of California, thinks research in educational problems has been woefully neglected. There are two fields in which research is needed, he says. One is problems of organization and administration of schools; another is problems in psychology, economics, political science, sociology and even biology.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Brunets who dance well and are good conversationalists are the ideal dates, according to the Independent Women's Association. Men rate conversational ability first, dancing ability second. Sixteen of 71 men polled preferred slenderness in dates. A high percentage of men frowned on too much makeup and condemned snobishness. All men preferred a good sense of humor and rated intelligence high. Frowned upon were drinking among women dates and smoking cigars.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Assigning words to be studied for an unlimited period is unprofitable and undesirable in teaching spelling, believes Dr. Luther C. Gilbert, professor of education. Teaching good perceptual habits is the most efficient method of gaining mastery of words. An aid in determining optimum study rate is the eye-movement camera.

With the passing of the Thanksgiving holidays, students have begun to look to the coming Christmas recess... With the announcement, day by day, of the remaining shopping days by daily newspapers, it's no wonder students look forward to two weeks of vacation. Who can blame us for that?

Basketball players the past week started training for the season which opens when West Liberty meets the Pioneers here December 18. The Holy Roller Court took the lead in mailing letters to men in the service when seventy-five letters and Christmas cards went to alumni and former students... This might be a cue to other clubs around the campus.

A new novelty for "lovebirds" around the campus is to have in possession an alarm clock, pocket-size, to ring when it is time for the girl to be in the hall... This is only meant for those who get too engrossed in each other to watch the College clock... Is that right, M. K. M. and E. S.? Maybe you had better tell J. F. and B. A. ... I notice that she hits the door a trifle late frequently.

Sol Levin organizes a boys' intramural basketball league to take his mind off a certain girl back in Pittsburgh... After the first session the past week, "Solly" resembled a big-time promoter going around patting his boys on the back after a fine evening's entertainment.

The oft' heard expression that, "The old-type courtship methods are out of mode and forgotten," is not as true as it might sound, according to some instances that took place over the Thanksgiving holidays... Warren Lamb went to the city with June Wilson; Bill Whetsell took to the wide open spaces with Pauline Burke; Waltman Bailes entertained Elizabeth Clark at his home; and Sterly Brown made up for lost time at the home of Evelyn Fox in Mannington.

Gasoline rationing is making it tough on some of the boys who always used a car or truck to ride on the hill to meet their dates... At least it will be beneficial as far as health is concerned.

Lenora Everson takes time out to help her man butcher... At least, that was the idea in general... Marilyn Thorn, formerly Miss Keith, spent the holidays honeymooning... Sam Williams tells H. L. White a certain College code "went crazy," and Mr. White responds: "Maybe you are just jealous."

Pioneers Get Ready For 1st Game Dec. 18

Candidates for the 1942-43 Pioneer basketball squad are busy, after a Thanksgiving layoff, preparing for the Hilltoppers from West Liberty, who are to come here December 18. This game, originally scheduled for the 17th, had to be changed because of a conflict in the West Liberty schedule.

Practice is now 3 weeks old and Coach A. F. Rohrbough has been putting his squad through heavy scrimmages in order to get some idea of what to expect on the opening night, and find a suitable substitute for the forward position vacated by Bob Armstrong, A. B. '42.

Solomon Levin, Pittsburgh, and Steryl Brown, ex-Green Bank court wizard, are putting forth plenty of energy in an attempt to gain a starting bid.

Because there are a number of seasoned men, there may be a change in some other than the forward position. "It depends entirely on who improves the most from now until the final practice before the game," Coach Rohrbough says.

Karantonis Would Like More Men For New Program

By John McCutcheon
A physical fitness program, instituted by Coach A. F. Rohrbough and directed by Billy Karantonis, is conducted from 4 to 6 each afternoon in the gymnasium. Though only a few students are attending, Karantonis still hopes men will come out. "Give me the boys," he says, "and I will give you the men."

Dwindling interest in this program prompts the writer to republish the article which appeared in the October 28, 1941, issue of the Mercury, written by former sports scribe, Arnold Steorts. Said he:

AMANDA GREENLIEF DIES OF ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

Mrs. Amanda Louise Greenleaf, former student, of Whitman 14, Logan County, was accidentally killed recently by a shotgun discharge fired accidentally by her 10-year-old brother, Bobby Watts. She is survived by her husband, Harley Greenleaf, formerly of Glenville, and daughter, Barbara Francis, 21 months old.

Bailes, Karantonis Honorary Captains

Billy Karantonis, fullback from Colcord, and Waitman Bailes, quarterback from Summersville, were elected honorary captains of the 1942 Pioneer football team by members of the squad. Coach A. F. Rohrbough announced the selections at the recent Thanksgiving dinner.

Bailes, who earned his letter as a freshman and has played regular for 3 years, is a graduate of Colcord High School.

Karantonis, who played regular his freshman year until an ankle injury benched him, is a graduate of Colcord High School.

The Schedule

Nine home games are listed on the Pioneers' current basketball schedule, which comprises 17 games to begin December 18 and close March 4. The schedule follows:

December 18, West Liberty, Glenville; January 7, Salem, Glenville; January 12, Salem, Clarksburg; January 16, Fairmont, Fairmont, Fairmont; January 19, Alderson Broadus, Glenville; February 2, W. Va. Wesleyan, Buckhannon; February 5, West Liberty, West Liberty; February 6, Bethany, Bethany; February 10, Morris Harvey, Charleston; February 11, W. Va. Wesleyan, Glenville; February 23, Salem, Glenville; February 25, Concord (pending), Glenville; February 27, Fairmont, Glenville; March 4, Morris Harvey, Glenville.

Four Teams Enter Intramural League

Intramural basketball, directed by Sol Levin, was started Wednesday night. Four teams were organized and a coach and captain named for each.

Two games are to be played Monday, Tuesday, and possibly Wednesday nights, depending on the schedule worked out by the girls.

The "Big Five," coached by Jesse Lilly and captained by Goff Summers, swept to a decisive 50-16 victory over Joe Rodriguez's "Lumberjacks."

Earl Stalaker led his "Hot Shots" to a close 36-33 victory over Waitman Bailes' "Grizzleys." The "Hot Shots" are coached by Earle Spencer and the "Grizzleys" by Bill Whetsell.

CANTERBURY MEMBERS ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Miss Willa Brand entertained former members, members, and guests of the Canterbury Club with an annual Christmas party Saturday night in her apartment in Louis Bennett Hall, where Janette Cunningham, Lorene Wolfe and Frances Myers told three traditional stories: "Bird's Christmas Carol," by Kate Douglas Wiggin, "The Other Wiseman," by Henry Van Dyke, and Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Present besides the regular members were Max Ward of Mt. Zion and Henry Bailey of Gassaway, former members, and Mrs. Frank Bailey and Edgar Kitchen, special guests.

Entertainment features included a star hunt won by Janie Bingham and Max Ward, star questionnaire won by Frances Myers and Frank Bailey, and a reindeer drawing contest won by Velda Betts and Edgar Kitchen.

The party closed with the group singing carols, always a Canterbury Club party feature.

A complete coverage of the College's Pearl Harbor Day program will appear next week.

Calhoun was the first county in West Virginia to report officially having reached its November War Bond quota.

You'll enjoy "Letters to Lucerne" Friday night.

Ruth Annabel Hull, Nicholas Murin Married, Living In Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hull of Northview Addition, Glenville, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Ruth Annabel Hull, A. B. '40, to Sergeant Nicholas Murin of the U. S. Army Air Corps.

The wedding was an event of Thanksgiving day and took place in a Methodist parsonage in Sacramento, Calif., with the Rev. Mr. Osborne officiating. The bride wore a street-length dress of teal blue jersey with brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Murin, who has been teaching in Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, is a graduate of Glenville High School, where her father is employed as a teacher. In college she was active in extra-curricular activities, served as a member of the Student Council, a member of the Mercury staff, and as homecoming queen during her senior year. The same year she served as a princess at the 160th anniversary celebration of the founding of Greenbrier County, at Lewisburg, and was elected to "Who's Who Among American University and College Students."

Sergt. Murin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murin, is a graduate of Elkhorn High School, MacDowell County, and was a sophomore in the College when he enlisted in the Air Corps. He was a popular athlete in high school and played both football and basketball in college.

He is stationed at Mather Field, near Sacramento, where the couple will live.

Faculty Reception to Be Held In Gymnasium

Pine boughs and flickering candles will be used for decorations in the gymnasium Saturday night, Dec. 12, from 8 o'clock until 11:45 when a College Christmas party and faculty reception becomes a reality. Former plans for having the reception in the lounge of Louis Bennett Hall have been canceled; both the reception and dance will be held in the gymnasium.

Dean Robert T. Crawford will arrange the receiving line. Miss Ivy Lee Myers is chairman of the program committee; Miss Beattie Boyd Bell the decorating committee, and Miss Alma Arbuckle, refreshments.

Pres. and Mrs. Haught Entertain For Faculty

President and Mrs. D. L. Haught honored members of the faculty with a reception in the College residence last night from 8 until 10:30 o'clock.

Music was furnished by Janie Bingham, June Wilson and Peggy Williams, under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Olsen.

YW Members to Have Christmas Party Dec. 17

The devotional was led by Evelyn Reese and Carolyn Sims; Janie Bingham sang "My Task," and Miss Willerma White spoke about the significance of being a Y. W. C. A. member at a meeting of the chapter Thursday evening.

Y. W. members have obtained names and addresses of thirty American-Japanese girls in internment camps to write to and send Christmas presents to. They are also sending a box of toys, clothing, etc., for small American-Japanese children.

Chapter members will have a Christmas party in the Louis Bennett Lounge, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 17, from 5 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Letha Cain, Mr. James Keith Married

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Letha Cain, of Glenville, to Mr. James Keith, of Sand Fork, at the Cain home in Brooklyn Addition, Thursday evening, Nov. 19. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. J. Johnson, minister of the Glenville Trinity Church.

Mrs. Keith is the mother of Mrs. H. Y. Clark, Frank Cain, and Billy Cain, former students. Mr. Keith is the grandfather of Mrs. Adrian Thorne, College sophomore.

Hall Girls to Have Christmas Party, Dec. 16

Verona Mapel Hall girls will have their annual Christmas party, Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Girls will carry lighted candles and sing Christmas carols while going from third floor to first, where they will exchange gifts.

After the party, girls will sing carols on and off the campus.

Anyone who can "doodle" can learn to draw, believes Dr. Arthur M. Johnson, associate professor of botany at the University of California.

Then there's the New Yorker, perhaps the leading humorous periodical of the present, cleverly written and illustrated and deliberately "sophisticated" and cynical. The December Reader's Digest carries a section of New Yorker cartoons, proof of the magazine's growing popularity.

CAPITAL TO CAMPUS

throughout the nation are cram-packed with the greatest assemblage of men and women ever gathered on their collective campuses. Harvard has a one-month course for army chaplains. Some 300 men of all creeds and sects attend classes at the old university. That's not a bad record.

Right now the lid is down tight on information concerning the army's plan for sending drafted 'teen age men back to college. Officials and educators here say it soon will be spelled out in detail.

However, it is a virtual certainty that all 18 and 19 year olds who are drafted, whether or not they're college men, will be eligible to take tests to determine whether they shall be assigned to colleges and universities for technical and scientific training.

"One thing that has failed to click as it should on this campus is an intramural sports program. Volleyball teams have been organized and a few games played, but too often there have not been enough men on hand to have a game. It's like this: A good intramural program, with all students taking part, would create a better atmosphere, and give a form of much-needed exercise and enjoyment."

NEWS BRIEFS

About Men In The Service

Frank Martino, A. B. '38, instructor in physical education in the U. S. Navy, is spending a seven-day furlough here. Formerly stationed at Norfolk, Va., he has a transfer to Sampson, N. Y.

Beecher Reed, former student now in the armed forces, visited the campus the past week-end while home on a seven day furlough. Private Reed, who is stationed at Camp Davis, North Carolina, is remembered by Pioneer basketball fans for his exploits on the hardwood court the past season.

Ralph Cross, former student, was inducted into the army the past week and will enter the service as soon as his furlough expires.

Guy Stalnaker, Jr., a former student, has enlisted in the Naval V-5 service and returned the past week from Washington where he took his final induction examinations. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Stalnaker, of Glenville.

Dana Starcher, a former student, returned the past Monday to the naval base at Norfolk, where he is rated as a first-class fireman.

Roland Holt, Jr., an ensign on scouting patrol in the Atlantic, will come to Glenville this week to visit his father, Roland Holt, editor of the Glenville Pathfinder. Holt, a former student, returned the past week from the Bermuda Islands.

From Pvt. Brooks Golden, A. B. '42, comes a letter stating that he hasn't got "into the big show yet" and is still stationed at Camp Stoneman, Pittsburg, Calif.

Lieut. Elmer Cawthon, A. B. '41, visited friends on the campus the past week. He is to leave from Hunter Field, Ga., where he is stationed as an Army Air Corps pilot.

Pvt. Donald Given, former Pioneer tackle, is playing football again with the Drew Field Signal grid squad. His picture appeared with his teammates in the Tampa Morning Tribune before they played the University of Tampa.

Isadore Nachman, A. B. '38, pulled a muscle in his leg while attending Officers' Candidates School and is now in Nautilus Hotel Hospital, Miami Beach, Fla.

"Thanks a million for the Mercury," says Pvt. Heath Miller, who is located at Hamilton Field, Calif. Pvt. Miller states, "It's nice country out here but I'll take W. Va. anytime."

A letter from Pvt. Frank Bowles, who is training to be a paratrooper at Camp Toccoa, Ga., encourages one to become a member of his corps, because in his opinion "the paratroopers are the most happy-go-lucky outfit in Uncle Sam's Army."

Pvt. Charles Griffith, former student, who is located at Washington, D. C., visited his mother, Mrs. C. L. Griffith in Glenville the past week.

Ensign Ivan H. Bush, A. B. '34, stopped at Glenville for a brief visit before going on to Reedy to visit his wife and son. His wife, the former Bonale Sheppard, S. N. '34, is teaching at Reedy. Ensign Bush was en route to Miami, Fla., where he reported for duty at a Submarine Chaser School Friday.

You'll enjoy "Letters to Lucerne" Friday night.

"The Coke's in"

"That's the happy greeting heard today when a new supply of Coke arrives at a cooler. Folks wait for it... wait because the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola itself. Customers smile and start moving up to pause and be refreshed.

"There's a cheerful spirit about this way of accepting wartime restrictions. Morale is high."
