

PROFESSOR at the Kanawha Hall table: When discussion turned to playing marbles, bemused Grover Weaver said, "I never played because you had to get down on your knees in the dirt to do so. I always was looking for a marble game which you played standing up, and I found just what I was looking for when I came to Glenville and went to the pool room. Weaver thinks he'll take a fling at salesmanship this summer. Other professional interests are becoming a school teacher or an auctioneer.

HASTING BAILEY speaks to table visitor Robert Grapes and epigrams (note to seniors: "epigrams" is a combination of "epigram" and "pun"). "The wrath of Grapes." Turning from the table, we quote Dr. J.C. Shreve in a recent class:

SAID DR. SHREVE: I'd rather dig in the ditch than teach where one would be forced to discipline students constantly. Then a student replied, "You can make more by digging." Question: Who makes less money than a school teacher? Answer: Another school teacher.

MR. HUNTER WHITING, catechizing students upon heathen religions in Mythology classes. When students persist in the "patorial" for example, Mr. Whiting shakes his head and says, "One lone teacher against the community and habit doesn't have much force."

NICE PLACE for you men to get warm is in the boiler room of Ad. Bldg. on cold days. You can drop your cigarette ashes anywhere or have a conversation with the janitor. A late trip there discloses that College maintenance men have installed a new smoke-stack of a rig on the furnaces. This will increase the efficiency of the system, one is told. Incidentally if while in the boiler room you see the meter up to fifteen pounds of steam, better run, because it is told that is the point at which the boiler "blows off."

Charlie McIntosh asks, "Of what is this imitation: 'I love you honey. Ouch! I love you honey. Ouch! I love you honey. Ouch!'" The answer: Two porcupines necking.

"INCENDIARY BLONDE," next Sunday at the Pictureland is an example of a bad picture gotten right to the public's taste. Betty Hutton is more restrained than usual in the Technicolor extravastika, but she still lets off a lot of steam. Story is of Texas Guinan, who rose from rodeo to Broadway, had a brief fling at the flickers and then made herself an institution for nightclubbers with her "Hello Sucker" greeting. The film is even sadder at times especially in that the heroine dies in the end—see, I spoiled it—and "It Had to Be You" is sung nicely.

Sample dialogue: Producer:—"Texas, each one of those legs is worth $150 a week to my show." Texas:—"Mister, you've just bought yourself $300 worth of legs."

WHEN RAY King bumps his head don't believe him. It's one of his tricks to pretend to do so and then even got wrote up in the Mercury. makes an awful to-do about his head. Probably some deep-seated psycho-neuroanalytical device.

VISIT MISS BELL

Mr. and Mrs. Farley Bell, former students of Glenville State College, were week-end visitors of Mr. Bell's sister, Miss Bessie Boyd Bell of Kanawha Drive.

Dr. Haught Speaks At Central State School Meeting

President D.L. Haught was one of the principal speakers at a meeting of superintendents of schools in Central West Virginia counties held in Sutton Thursday. Dr. Haught, who spoke on "The Outlook for Meeting the Teacher Emergency," was accompanied from here by J. Therin Rogers and Roland Butcher, superintendent and assistant superintendent of Gilmer county.

Others on the program were John Amos, speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates, who talked on "The Strayer Report from the Legislative Angles," and H. Cliff Hamilton, representative of the State Department of Education.

EARLY MOVIE SET FOR TOURNEY FANS

To accommodate spectators at the Little Kanawha Valley basketball tournament to be held here the coming week-end, the Lyric Theater has scheduled a showing of "Johnny Angel" to begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The show will be out by 11:45, the management said.

HAS ANYONE SEEN GRAY'S ANATOMY?

Miss Alma Arbuckle, librarian, is in dire need of a detective to trace down a copy of Gray's "Anatomy," mysteriously disappeared from the Robert F. Kidd Library shelf. Better still, a detective's services will not be needed, she says, if the person possessing it will just bring it home.

Even the Men are Enrolling in Myers' Class in Arts and Crafts

Arts and Crafts organized by Miss Ivy Lee Myers has grown to be a fascinating class of great size, occupying two rooms and a workshop on the ground floor. The interest is spreading from the girls to the boys since one ex-service man is enrolled this semester and seems to be enjoying the course.

For those who may not be familiar with the work, a list of projects follows:

Old fashioned rag rug weaving (just like great-grandmother made) These are very pretty, as care is taken in selecting the material, the pattern or design and in the workmanship.

Miss Myers has ordered a bedspread pattern to be made from white loops which will be most colonial in appearance.

Knitting and crocheting are taught. Loop mats of many different designs and colors are made. Hot dish mats are designed and painted and painted. Crepe paper is put to various uses in weaving, making baskets, and trays. Paper cutting, silhouettes, crayon pictures, finger painting, painting, shelacing, bracelets, rings, soap trays, statuettes, etc.

Mrs. Phyllis Rohrbough has added a very attractive plaque to the class. This plaque is a floral design made of seashells to represent a basket or vase of flowers. These flowers or shells are painted in pleasing colors. Mrs. Rohrbough contributed quantities of shells, which she picked up along the seacoast and other materials and is teaching the class the art of making the plaque.

If one wishes to do a great deal of work and have much to show for it and be equipped to teach something interesting and worthwhile in his schoolroom or community, an excellent class would be Arts and Crafts.

Rev. Wilson Speaks in Assembly On Behalf of W.S.S.F. Campaign

That the Nation now has an opportunity to build rather than destroy was the theme advanced by the Rev. Val H. Wilson, state director of student work for the Baptist denomination and West Virginia University pastor, when he spoke in convocation on behalf of the World Student Service Fund Thursday morning.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, introduced by Miss Bessie B. Bell, head of the assembly committee, explained the work of the fund in providing aid for students struggling to obtain education in countries stricken by war, and pointed out the staggering need for assistance.

Two million dollars is the goal set to be raised this year, he said and of that amount half is to come from American students.

Conditions in China, where the need is greatest, were disclosed. There, when war with Japan started, students moved universities literally on their backs for thousands of miles to safe locations. In order to carry on their studies they used bamboo stalks for test tubes and when disease struck because of malnutrition and exposure they used crude instruments for surgery, such as ordinary manicure scissors in appendectomies. In these stricken universities tuberculosis is rampant and books are so scarce, he said, that students line up forty deep to be able to read one.

"The Lights of Learning are going on all over the world," the representative stated, "and we have an opportunity to build rather than to destroy . . . . This time we must know how to build."

He told of the G.S.C. drive the past year that raised $117.44, an amount more than $1 per student enrolled then.

After the talk, he met with Mr. John R. Wagner, Helen Cox, Gray Barker, and student prexy Homer Paul Heckert to lay initial plans for the drive to be conducted here soon. It will begin here when the American Red Cross campaign is concluded, Mr. Wagner stated.

Organization of the Campus drive will consist of students from key organizations here, who will appoint solicitors to contact each person on the Campus. Coach William Whetzel has been asked to promote a special basketball game during the drive to swell additional contributions.

YWCA RECOGNIZES NINE NEW MEMBERS

YWCA Recognition Service was held in Louis Bennett Lounge Thursday evening. The following girls became members of the organization: Margaret Ullom, Marian Heavner, Celia Duffy, Nora Groggs, Doris Sparks, Garnet Boyce, Betty Baker, Betty Jo Simon and Reva Brown. Ruth Groves, president of the organization, and Miss Alma Arbuckle, faculty sponsor, were in charge of the program.

EXHIBITS SLIDES AT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

Dr. C.L. Underwood, instructor in chemistry, showed a series of lantern slides on scenic beauties in the U.S. at a meeting of the local Garden Club Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the courthouse. The meeting was open to the public.

Cox and Murin Candidates For Student Prexy

At a meeting of the election committee appointed by the Student Council to nominate candidates for student body officers next year, the following nominees were selected: President, Helen Cox and Nicholas Murin; Vice-President, Rosalee Stalnaker and Hasting Bailey; Secretary, Mary Helen Reed, and Mary Jo Ellyson; Treasurer, Mary K. Shumate and Isabelle Clark; Sergeant-at-Arms, Ray King and James Collins.

At a meeting in the near future the student body will have an opportunity to nominate others for these offices, Student Prexy Paul Heckert said. Gray Barker, Maxine Wright and Maxine Riddle made up the election committee.

Miss Helen Taylor And James Junior Marks are Married

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward A. Taylor of Summersville are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Taylor of Weston to James Junior Marks, son of J. O. Marks and the late Mrs. Maysel Bourne Marks of Orton at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, February 24 at the Presbyterian church in Weston with the Reverend Mr. Alton Gilmore officiating in the single-ring ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Weston High School and from Glenville State College where she was affiliated with the Alpha Psi Omega and held offices in many campus organizations. Mrs. Marks former teacher in Jane Lew High School was chosen her junior year to represent the College in "Who's Who Among America Students in Colleges and Universities."

Mrs. Marks is a daughter of the late Mrs. Okareda Kee Taylor.

Mr. Marks, who is employed by the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Gas Company, was recently discharged from the U. S. Navy as Signalman, 1-c. He served forty months.

The groom is a graduate of Normantown high school where he was an outstanding athlete in both basketball and football.

"One World With One Destiny" will be the topic discussed by Rabbi Charles B. Lesser in Assembly, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, according to Miss Bessie Boyd Bell.

The hour of assembly has been changed because Rabbi Lesser is attending a convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations March 3, 4 and 5, and cannot reach Glenville for the regular assembly hour. The regular 1 o'clock classes will meet at 10 o'clock on Thursday, according to Dean Robert Crawford.

Rabbi Charles B. Lesser was educated at Southwestern University of Cincinnati and was ordained by the Hebrew Union College in 1935. He did post-graduate work at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas and occupied pulpits in Temple Beth-El in Corsicana, Texas; Temple Beth Israel in Jackson, Michigan; Congregation Rodef Shalom in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and Temple Berith Shalom in Troy, New York.

Rabbi Lesser served as civilian chaplain to the Air Cadets and Student Trainees at the University of Pittsburgh (1942-44), and during those same years he served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Pittsburgh Round Table. From 1939 till 1942, Rabbi Lesser was Associate National Director of the Speakers' Bureau of B'nai B'rith. He is also very active in working with the National Conference of Christian Jews.

At the present time, Rabbi Lesser is serving as spiritual leader of the Eoff Street Temple in Wheeling, West Virginia.

They're Free—Hard To Believe But True

How would you like to have 8x10 photographs of singing stars Perry Como and Jo Stafford—and autographed, too? If you think someone's loco, just turn to page three and note the big offer Chesterfield is offering students in a limited amount of colleges, and it isn't every college newspaper that has been selected to run this special advertisement!

Chesterfield, throughout the years has shown a great interest in college students, and have got behind their student newspapers with tremendous amounts of advertising. So you can do the firm a good deed in return by taking advantage of the offer. A post card will do.

Just to show you the pictures are even better than advertised samples have been posted on the bulletin board. Look them over!

Get To Work On Those Books, Srs.

To seniors worrying about those final examinations Dean Robert T. Crawford imparts this information:

To be exempt from final examinations a senior must have an honor point average for ALL COURSES preceding the present ones of 1.5. IN ADDITION to this in each course exemption will depend upon an honor point average of 2, "B" average. A person will be exempt only in courses in which he has that average.

Seniors not exempt will be given final examinations at a date earlier than other students.

COUNCIL, STUDENT PREXY, ETC

Whether or not it represents a majority of students in G. S. C.—and it is hoped it doesn't—there seems to be floating around the Campus comment, not entirely complimentary in nature, about what the Student Council is or is not doing. These sentiments have been aired on the walks, in student domiciles and from the lecture stands.

Being here for four years, and being actively engaged in many Campus activities particularly during the past three,
the writer has had opportunities to watch the Council closely both by serving on it a year and reporting its activities to the Mercury.

But narrowing our discourse to the present year,
the one in which criticisms have first arisen, particularly since the second semester, there are several activities
one can list as being done, and being done with adequate effectiveness, by the student government organization headed this year by Prexy
Homer Paul Heckert:

1. The Council printed freshman hand books for this year, the first time such has been done since the year 19-41-42. Heckert worked for many days during the preceding summer term to get the copy to press and was responsible for the idea.

2. The Council ordered and sold freshman caps after many a long wrangle with the help-short manufacturer.

3. The Council supervised
Freshman Rules.

4. The Council planned and supervised parties for freshmen during the first week of the winter term.

5. The Council made an earnest endeavor to put on an amateur contest but failed because students failed to cooperate.

6. The Council has been responsible for a convocation program each month. These included a variety program formed from students who agreed to appear on the amateur contest and still cooperated when it was not held;

freshman and sophomore class programs, a student body meeting at which students were asked to air opinions of what the Council should and at which not a student said a word; and the program Thursday when the Rev. Val Wilson was speaker.

7. The Council laid plans for a World Student Service Fund drive in which students have shown no great amount of interest, although, as was said before, they are willing to point out an imagined inactivity of the body and the president they put into office last year by their balloting.

8. Representing the Council
Mr. Heckert the past summer aided Miss Rose Funk in formation of the Men's Athletic Association.

9. The Council is planning an entertainment program similar to the "Gay Nineties Revue" held the past year on the Campus, which also toured the four outlying Gilmer County high schools in benefit performances that raised $219.47 for the Red Cross.

The student body stuck by its representatives during the past war years when the Council was in a large part responsible for preventing the Campus from sinking into apathy, during which time many spent the most enjoyable part of their four years of college life. Some of these people had better be getting behind G. S. C. and the Council with all they've got—these people who deep down in their hearts have a warm feeling for College ideals and not shenanigans.

If you want the Council to do things, you had better pitch in and help them do it.
—Gray Barker

YWCA

YWCA is one of the organizations on the Campus that all the girls should want to join. We would be very happy to have each new girl as a member of this organization.

With its twenty-six members this is one of the largest organizations on the Campus.
It meets the first and third Thursday evening in each month.

The purpose of this organization is: We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow him.

The YWCA is for you—for each girl on the Campus—for spiritual fellowship. Each of you are cordially invited to become a member.

New Games Chosen; Officials Elected

With the basketball season over for W.A.A., new games were organized and their leaders were selected the past Monday evening. These sports leaders elected are as follows: Kathryn Elliott, ping pong;
Mary Lou Law, Tennis; Verna D.
Ellis, hiking; Joan Foreman, softball.

Esther Hinman, "Sis" Ellis, Hannah were chosen as the Badminton Captains.

President Rosalee Stalnaker was in charge of elections.

There are a number of different kinds of magazines in the library or interesting reading. Special interest has been shown recently in the magazine "Fortune." Let's devote a leisure hour in reading a good magazine.

A list of new books in the Robert
F. Kidd Library is as follows:
Dictionary of Sociology, Fairchild; Organizing the Social Studies in Secondary Schools, Bining, Mohr and McFeely; Teaching the Social Studies,
Wesley; A Dictionary of American Politics, Smith and Zurcher;
One America, Brown and Ruckel;
The American Impact on Great Britain, Heindel; The Battle Against Isolation, Harper; The Economics of Peace, Boulding; The Time For Decision, Sumner (Welles); Economic Problems of War, Steiner; Public Finance, Buehler, and The Dynamics of Industrial Democracy, Golden and Ruttenberg.

Miss Craddock Will Fly to Canal Zone

Miss Marjorie Craddock, for two and a half years a cashier in the local office of the West Virginia Water Service Company, will leave Wednesday for an extended visit with relatives in the Panama Canal Zone.

Miss Craddock, who has been granted a leave of absence by the water company, will go by train to Miami, Fla., and from there fly to Balboa. In the Canal Zone she will visit her aunts, Mrs. Eula J. Ewing and Mrs. O. M. Ewing.

During her absence the work
here will be handled by her mother, Mrs. B. W. Craddock.

Ruth Groves, Ellen Welch, Fonda Wellings and Hastings Bailey were elected delegates to the Regional Conference of The International Relation Club. The conference will be held at Shepherds State College, April 12 and 13. The delegates were elected at the regular meeting of the organization which took place Thursday evening in The Louis Bennett Lounge.

Miss Louise Whitlow, guest speaker of the evening, reviewed George Soul's recent book, AMERICA'S STAKE IN BRITAIN'S FUTURE.

Girls End Series Of Cage Games

The last games of basketball were played in W.A.A. last Monday night. Feb. 25 Edna Ruth Ellyson, "Sis" Ellis and Joan Foreman were the captains of the winning teams.

An unusual thing took place when Morrison's team was defeated by Edna R. Ellyson's "on and off" girls. On Ellyson's team, Betty and Rosemary Teter act as the main spokes of the team and they were fully responsible for Ellyson's victory. Morrison acquired the honor of making the only two points that her team made.

"Sis" Ellis' girls, led by Hardman, won a game from Joan Cross' team by a score of 8-4. Cross was the scorer for her team, and she was minus one of her regular forwards

Students, Faculty, Enjoy Bubble Dance Friday Evening

Almost anything happened at a "Bubble Bubble Dance," held Friday evening in the Gymnasium under the direction of Miss Evelyn Finster, when students danced with balloons tied to their legs, made speeches, blew bubbles, watched a male bubble dance, and danced in the conventional manner.

Seventy-five persons watched Ray King, Gray Barker and William Rexroad, wearing only rolled-up trousers and a huge balloon in front engage in terpsichorean undulations during the floor show. In the encore the dance was brought to a quick halt when the balloon held by Ray King was punctured.

Losers in a tag dance in which persons were tagged with balloons, forfeited speeches about the balloons they carried, and in the floor show Helen Cox, Mary Lou Law, Jacque Line Walker and Marie Furr danced with balloons tied to their legs.

At the punch bowl cupbearers were Mary Friend, Ruth Groves, Nora Kieth Grogg, Eloise Boggs and Grace McKissic.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Nelson Craddock and Robert Stalner were nominated for student council president.

leaving her with a weak offense.

In the last contest, Ruth Groves' team was defeated by Joan Foreman's girls by a margin of 8 points. For the winners, Foreman again chalked up the points and Joan Gawthrop was the losers' strength down on the offensive side.

Pioneers Who Won Last State Tourney, Played Before The War, Are At It Again

Tonight is the night the gallant Pioneers and fans have been waiting for for several months. The Pioneers will journey to Buckhannon to match their skill against eleven other state colleges in the first tournament since World War II. The last tournament was held in '42 with the Pioneers winning the championship.

A great drawback to the Pioneers in the tournament will be the loss of "Bob" Whiting, lanky freshman forward, who has been the spearhead of attacks since his return from the Armed Forces. Whiting was informed very definitely by his specialist that he was not to play any more ball.

The Pioneers will play the winner of Potomac State and Morris Harvey game tonight at 7:30. Their next victim will be the victor of the A-B-Concord game. Coach William Whet-sell plans to take 10 men and the manager. From the talk about town, it appears that many Pioneer fans will be there to watch the Pioneers defend their championship.

Gainer's Wildcats Hold Undeclared Record in MAA Basketball League

Jake Gainer's Wildcats romped over King's Tigers 24 to 16 to hold undisputed position of first place in the M. A. A. basketball league while Siegrist's Panthers squeezed out a five point victory over Hinkle's Eagles to remain in the runner-up position, Wednesday night.

James Collins led the Wildcats in scoring with four doubledeckers for a total of eight points while two of his teammates, Goff Summers, the league's leading scorer with 33 points to his credit, and Captain Jake Gainer, were garnering five points each. Paul Rishel and Sammy Williams played good floor games for the winners. Captain Ray King of the Tigers led his teams scoring with nine points to his credit.

Paul Siegrist's Panthers had a tougher-row-to-hoe when they met Clarence Hinkle's Eagles in the second game of the evening but managed to come from behind to gain a five point victory after Hinkle had substituted some reserves into the game. The game was hard fought from start to finish with both teams playing heads-up basketball. Harold Hall, 6' 1" center for the Panthers, led in his team's scoring with 10 points while playing a good floor game. Frederick Boggs, Eagle guard, scored 12 points for the losers.

Games next week will be played on Thursday. The evening's entertainment will be sparked by a game between the two leading teams of the league, Gainer's Wildcats, sporting an undefeated record, and Siegrist's Panthers, defeated only once by their rival. The second game will find Hinkle's Eagles battling it out with King's Tigers. Everyone is invited to attend.
