

In starting this column I would like to make clear that it is always open to criticism and constructive criticism will be welcomed, not only that but it will be followed if possible. Just a few things that would help though. Don't offer any criticism without giving some way that the matter under discussion could be improved and second, it would be appreciated if any person should care to criticize, if he would sign his name or the name of the organization which he is representing.

This column will be open from time to time to print any letters but before such letters can be printed names must be signed.

The veterans organization is getting underway in fine order and has rolled up a sizeable membership and as the organizers predicted, it should carry much power on the campus. We were all glad to hear that the organization would not be a pressure group. A strong organization is needed on the campus. At the present the big issue will be an enlarged social program on the campus. I'm sure the entire student body wishes you much success on this and other enterprises.

Come on you loyal students of GSC, we have none who are not loyal to us, set that old brain to work on a college song. A song that can be used at these meetings and at games. From what information that has leaked out from behind closed doors, we should have something to sing about, so let's have something to sing. Who wouldn't like to have his name in the paper now and mentioned with respect by future students.

It might even be arranged so that the budding author (or authoress) would have his picture printed. We'll keep plugging from this column until something comes of the idea if that is nothing except scrapping it.

Of course former editor, Gray Barker, may say we are leaning too far towards the veterans again but from reports received from some of the leading colleges in the U. S., the vets are leading the non-vets by a sizeable margin. This is just the first half of the first semester but it looks as if the vets are going to do the same good job they did in the service. A few educational bumps are to be expected, but at that I doubt if there are as many loafing on Uncle Sam's money as there are loafing on Dad's.

Mrs. Maroney Teaches

Mrs. Margaret Dobson Maroney, former speech teacher in the college, is now an instructor in speech at the University of Virginia.

Mrs. Maroney's husband, Mr. James Maroney, is enrolled in the law school in the same university.

College Needs Fight Song

You probably know we have a college song. You freshmen have seen it in your handbooks, but how many ever heard it sung?

Former students have, no doubt, heard the song but what do you think of it? We realize it is a beautiful song, but is it the type we need for these meetings or games? Students who have heard the song know that it is very hard to sing.

The lack of school songs in our college is quite pronounced. We

Two Court Games Open WSSF Drive In College Gym

Hardman Beaver Opposing Craig

Two basketball games will initiate the local World Student Service fund drive. The first—Harman's Eoavers vs. Craig's Bearcats—will begin at 7 p. m., Monday, December 16. The other, between Hinkle's Hoboes and Stump's Independents will follow immediately.

A. Ray King, WSSF chairman, announces that there will be no admission charge, but contributions will be accepted at the door. All proceeds will be used in giving aid to students in foreign lands, chiefly food and medical care.

This is the first of a three-part plan to secure funds for WSSF. The other two, a variety program under the direction of Miss Cpl. A. Vincent, and a campus canvas by students, are scheduled to be conducted soon after the Christmas vacation.

This drive follows an appeal made to the students by a representative of the WSSF, Miss Edith Daly, in assembly a few weeks ago.

Operating cost of the WSSF is being held to a minimum as only 15 per cent of the money taken will be used for operating expenses.

Aid will be sent to several new fields this year which includes the Philippines, China and India.

Provide Practical Studies In Offices

Students enrolled in the class in office practice have begun work in various offices in town and on the campus.

It is a requirement of the course that each student do a minimum of two hours' work each week in a regular office.

A list of students and the offices in which they are working is as follows: Helen Cox, County Agent's office; Betty Rose Hardman, Kanawha Union Bank; Ethel Mae Radcliff, E. I. Singleton; Blondena Fitzpatrick, County Agent's office; Jean Nottingham, President D. L. Haught; Joan Cross, Dean R. T. Crawford; Jewell Cain, Pritt's Beauty Shop; Kathryn Wilfong, Kanawha Union Bank; and Leona Williams, Dean R. T. Crawford.

Pioneers Prepare For 22 Cage Tilts

Dean Shurtliff Speaks Thursday

Oliver Shurtliff, Dean of Fairmont State college and District governor of Rotary clubs of West Virginia, will be the chapel speaker Thursday, Dec. 12, at 10 a. m.

Dean Shurtliff is a member of the State Dharma society and is recognized as an authority on the care and cultivation of the perennial.

Dean Shurtliff is a graduate of the University of West Virginia and did post-graduate work in the University of Chicago, receiving his M. A. degree from this institution in 1922.

He was a teacher of rural and elementary schools 1905-1919 and served as superintendent of schools of Braxton county 1919-1927. He became a member of the faculty of Fairmont State college in 1927.

Dean Shurtliff is given mention in "Leaders in Education," 1941 edition.

Barker Publishes Paper On Caesar

"Caesar Is Stabbed" is the screaming headline of THE ROAMIN' HERALD, a publication of Elliott City high school in Maryland. Other heads are "Roman Federal Bureau of Investigation Nabs Cassius"; "A Ruler Falls"; an editorial "Kill The Dictator."

This system is used by Gray Barker, former editor of THE MERCURY, teacher of English and a graduate of the local college. The paper is made by his class in the Elliott City high school. Many things in "Julius Caesar" are put into language of our own day.

Professor H. L. White says this is "an ingenious, clever device for teaching, in that it makes the play realistic. It also gives good practice in journalism."

Professor H. Y. Clark, "It is fine, I want to know more about it."

Professor Hunter Whiting, "It is fine; you may see my copy when it is returned to me."

Underwood Speaks For YM & YWCA

Recently Dr. C. L. Underwood, of the education department, spoke before a joint meeting of the YWCA and YMCA at Salem college on the subject of "Service."

In his speech Dr. Underwood stated that, "We are all servants and in serving we should try to be the best in whatever field we are working."

Salem college officials requested that Dr. Underwood appear as speaker before the joint meeting of the two Christian service organizations.

Ratliffmen Face Shepherd State On December 18

Alderson-Broadbudds Game Is January 18

Coach Carlos Ratliff has announced a 22-game basketball schedule opening on December 18, when the Pioneers will meet Shepherd State at Shepherds-town, and closing March 5, against Alderson-Broadbudds. Last week the Pioneer mentor announced the cancellation of a home game against Morris Harvey, scheduled for February 4, and said he had contacted Beckley College to fill in on that date. The complete schedule is as follows:

December 18—Shepherd State, away; December 19—Potomac State, away; January 7—Davis-Elkins, home; January 10—West Liberty, away; January 11—Bethany, away; January 14—Salem College, home; January 18—Alderson-Broadbudds, home; January 22—West Virginia Tech, home; January 28—Bethany, home; January 30—Morris Harvey, away; January 31—Concord, away; February 1—West Virginia Tech, away; February 6—Davis-Elkins, away; February 8—Concord, home; February 11—Salem (at Clarksburg); February 14—West Virginia Wesleyan, home; February 15—Fairmont, away; February 18—Potomac State, home; February 21—West Liberty, home; February 25—Fairmont, home; March 3—West Virginia Wesleyan, away; March 5, Alderson-Broadbudds, away.

Whites Have Guests

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Laban White were their daughter, Eleanor C. White, and Mrs. Paulene Mainwaring of Alliance, Ohio.

Miss White, who is a violinist, is a member of the Canton Symphony orchestra.

How Is Your Dancefloor Etiquette? Here Is How To Evaluate Yourself

By Richard Workman

Below are listed ten dance-floor menaces. To evaluate yourself on these statements, "No" being the approved answer in each case.

(1) First and worst is the character (usually female) who chomps gum and cracks it viciously in the partner's ear. If you're not guilty, give yourself 23 points.

(2) Then there is the pump-handler, who energetically moves the off-arm vertically in, or out of, time with the music. This rarely results in a flow of anything other than words suggesting that, "Let's sit the next one

Christmas Dance To Be Sponsored By College Vets

Music To Be Played By Local Orchestra

Several out-of-town visitors are expected here Friday, December 13, for the college's annual holiday semi-formal dance which is to be sponsored by the veterans organization headed by Robert Higgins.

The dance will begin at 9 p. m. and continue until 1 a. m., with music by a home-town, 9-piece orchestra.

The party will be one of the major social events of the year and will be open to students, faculty, former students and alumni. Admission will be 75 cents (single), $1.25 (couple) for students, and $1.75 (couple) for former students and alumni.

Robert Higgins, president, told a MERCURY reporter that, "We are grateful to the Social committee for relinquishing their date in order that the veterans organization could get started with a bang, also to Evelyn Finster of the Social committee for serving as vice president in charge of decorations."

Pine will be used in the decorating scheme and candles will provide the only lighting.

Miss Alma Arbuckle will be in charge of refreshments.

Kathryn Elliott Sees Army-Navy Game

Kathryn Elliott, sophomore, celebrated Thanksgiving holidays by attending the Army-Navy football game which was played at Philadelphia.

She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McIntosh, who motored to Philadelphia, to attend the game and visit their son, Charles, a former student, and nephew of Dean R. T. Crawford, who is now a cadet at West Point.

Miss Elliott said she enjoyed the midshipmen and cadets' parade before the game. She also saw President Truman, who sat on the Navy's side the first part of the game and at the half crossed the field and sat with the Army for the remainder of the game.

Seven points for this one. Scorns Line-Plunger

(3) The line-plunger, who insists on going where they are instead of where they ain't, is another common offender. Closely akin to this one is the quarter-back-smearer. He dances close to impenetrable masses on the floor, spots a hole, and dives. He often "fails to gain." If you don't qualify on either of these, mark up seven to the good.

(4) The soloist, often otherwise an excellent dancer, mars the performance by competing with the official music. Unless you're an outstanding vocalist, count off five for a "yes" on this one.

United States; Bastion Of Freedom

Six Americans have been named for the 1946 Nobel Prize winners for Physics, Chemistry and Peace. The Physic and Chemistry awards are made by the Swedish Academy of Science, and those for peace by a committee of five persons elected by the Norwegian Parliament.

The Peace prize is the first to be awarded since the outbreak of war in 1939. The full prize of $34,000 was given to Dr. John R. Mott, 81, of Orlando, Fla., evangelist, affiliated with the Young Men's Christian association, and Prof. Emily Greene Balch, 79, of Wellesley, Mass., honorary international president of the Women's International league for Peace and Freedom.

Prior to the war, majority of Nobel Prizes were awarded to people from foreign countries. In 1944, three Americans were awarded prizes, in 1943, two were awarded and in 1937, '38 and '39, only one each year. This year only one of seven was from a foreign country. He was Herman Hesse of Switzerland. This might indicate that the United States is today one of the few bastions of truth and where freedom of thought and action continues to exist.—by Helen Cox.

Lewis Tiff Calls For Showdown

Most persons experience, during their adolescence, a period of rapid growth. It seems strange that John L. Lewis should get too big for his britches while in his senescence.

This time Lewis has far overstepped his bounds. He has called for a showdown. And unless he can back down gracefully, as he is now trying to do, a showdown we must have. He has defied the United States government as well as the people's opinion. He has delayed production in the many fields dependent upon coal, at a time when full production was sorely needed.

Much more than the immediately apparent issues depend upon the outcome of this conflict. In a nation moving toward conservatism, already considering pro-management legislation, this indiscreet fracas can only cause a further labor setback, regardless of whether Lewis accomplishes all or part of his objectives of this strike.

Besides the damage that may be done to organized labor by this untimely strike, there is a probability that Lewis' personal power and prestige may be smashed. Now that John L. has enough rope, coal operators do not intend to deprive him of it by giving him an opportunity to save face in a compromise. With them it's all or nothing, and "all" may well mean the end of the career of that great labor dictator, John Llewelyn Lewis.—By Richard Workman.

WSSF Is Good Investment

Money given to World Service fund is an investment in the future.

These funds will be used to give sorely-needed aid to students in Europe and Asia in the form of food, medical attention, and books. With daily caloric consumption averaging about 1200 in Europe, and scarcely more than half of that in China and India, (Healthful minimum is 2000, U. S. average is 3300 calories) and tuberculosis rate running as high as 35 per cent, it can be readily seen that these persons need our help.

And it is to our advantage to aid them, for in every country students opposed the aggressors; in every country Hitler disbanded and imprisoned the students, burned the libraries and universities. Well he knew that he could not allow these, the fountainheads of freedom, to exist.

One of the goals of WSSF is unity of students the world over. Such student solidarity, promoted by international understanding among them, will prove a powerful force for peace.

Of your WSSF dollar, 33.3 per cent goes to Europe, 33.3 to China, 1.7 per cent to the new fields of Burma, Philippines, India, and East Indies, 15 per cent for emergency needs, 1.7 per cent for students in the United States, and 15 per cent for educational and operating budget.

Students and faculty will have an opportunity to contribute when the WSSF drive opens next week. WSSF deserves your support.—by Richard Workman.

On The Campus

By Janet Boggs

With all these vacations and everything to take up so much time, there's hardly time enough left for the kind of stuff that makes gossip columns; however, a few people still manage to find time to do a few things that are worth mentioning.

Kathryn Elliott has really found a super way to spend her time off . . . going to see "Mac," who, she says, is "positively the handsomest thing she ever saw." Now what's a certain campus Romeo going to say about that?

Look who's at it now! None other than "Casanova" Rader himself who's spending all his time explaining things to Mary Helen Reed . . . betcha he's simply snowing her under with that strictly Sinatra-like voice of his.

Ethel Mae Radcliffe, we hear you're having a little trouble making up your mind as to who is the top character on your heart-beat list now. Just now, from all reports, "Mole" Eock and Ronnie Gainer seem to be in the lead.

Bob Bennett, why don't you have that ole trial moved to Glenville so you could keep Mary Lou in town for the few weeks you have left around here? Sounds like a good idea . . . you take over from there now.

Miss Myers won't tell us whether or not she killed the deer, but she says she's been eating venison steak for dinner. Now, Miss Myers, is you is or is you ain't the killer of that deer?

Ray Watson is, no doubt, quite a mathematician . . . has to be. Else how could he get his time divided equally between Beatrice Stewart and Patty Jack? We just hope he doesn't get his schedules mixed.

Now that football season is over and there's no more practice, we betcha Paula Shelton and Betty Koon will have lots more time for darning their husbands' socks and stuff like that. We doubt whether they missed many more practices than some of the players themselves.

Looks as if the veterans are really going after things in a hurry . . . already taking over the Christmas dance. It may not be Harry James, but what's he got anyway that the local orchestra doesn't have?

Former Student Weds Pine Grove Veteran

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Agnes Wright, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Wright of Glenville, and Jack Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Higgins of Pine Grove. The ceremony took place Friday evening, November 22, in the Spruce Street Methodist church in Morgantown, Rev. L. H. Burns officiating.

Mrs. Higgins is a graduate of Glenville college, and has done graduate work at WVU. While in college she was a MERCURY staff member and vocalist with the college swing band.

Mr. Higgins, who is a veteran of more than three years in the army, is now in business with his father near Pine Grove.

Jackie Walker spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her grandparents at Buckhannon.

Leona Williams accompanied her mother to Charleston last Tuesday.

Louella Amos Weds John Harper, Nov. 28

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Louella Amos, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Tomey of Sand Fork, to John Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Harper of Glenville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald C. Webber at the Baptist parsonage of Burnsville, on November 28.

Mr. Harper, a veteran of the ETO, is a freshman in the college. He was graduated from Glenville high school before entering the service.

Mrs. Harper is a graduate of Sand Fork high school.

November 18, 1946

Editor, THE MERCURY,

I have detached a clipping from THE MERCURY of Tuesday, November 12, 1946, headed "Congress Acquired Permanent Home in Washington List 66 Years Ago." The heading of "66 Years Ago" is reflected in the article:

"On November 17, 66 years ago Congress found a permanent home. Until 1800, the Congress of the United States had no definitely fixed abode."

It is again reflected in this, "Congress adjourned its last Session in Philadelphia on May 20, 1880."

Let me suggest that you check that article and recast it in the light of historical fact. You will find that "The present House Chamber was occupied for legislative purposes December 16, 1857, and the Senate Chamber January 4, 1859, nearly 90 years ago. In rechecking, let me refer you to the 79th Congress, Congressional Directory, August, 1945, Page 287, for a condensed history of the building of the Capitol. No doubt but that you can find the same historical facts elsewhere.

Let me assure you that I am not criticizing THE MERCURY merely because I have found a fly speck on the paper, but you have unintentionally forced in the minds of the student, an error that would naturally become permanent and would not wash away in years to come. I hope you will pardon me for calling your attention to this, and that you will bring this error to the attention of your historian, and that the article, not I, will feel the effects of my criticism.

Very truly yours,
William S. O'Brien,
Secretary of State.

Editors' Note:

"The Congress of the United States had no definitely fixed abode until 1800."

" . . . Congress adjourned its last session in Philadelphia on May 20, 1880. The seat of Government was moved to Washington early in June and Congress held its first session there on November 17."

These statements are taken directly from "The American Book Of Days," by George William Douglas, A. M., Litt. D.—Member of the Historical society of Pennsylvania, Copyright 1937. This book was published by The H. W. Wilson Company.

THE MERCURY appreciates Secretary O'Brien's interest and comments. Since it is felt that Congress unquestionably has the right to write its own history, there seems little use to contest the facts set forth in The Congressional Directory. The problem is, how did Mr. Douglas confuse the facts?

On The Local Screen

Perhaps the number 1 movie of the week is Columbia's "Gilda" which will be shown at the Lyric Thursday and Friday (or at least it is scheduled for that time).

Gilda is portrayed by glamorous Rita Hayworth while Glenn Ford has the lead opposite her. The setting of this drama is a luxurious Argentine gambling establishment which is run by a mysterious German.

Gilda marries the German and Glenn Ford, thinking he hates her, determines to make her suffer. This pix should hold the interest of everyone.

In this production, La Hayworth acts, dances, and sings.

Incidentally, Columbia spent a small fortune—$60,000, to be exact—on Rita's wardrobe. Ten thousand dollars went for an ermine wrap which she never wears, but merely drags it around on the floor after her. One gown in particular would make practically anyone swoon and with Miss Hayworth wearing it, why not?

"There's No One But You," the recently popular song hit is played throughout the movie.

WAA Winners Headed By Marks, Cain And Lydick

Riddle, Hardman, Strader Take Lead

Teams captained by Lydick, Marks and Cain easily defeated their opponents in WAA aerial dart games Monday evening.

In the first game of the evening Betty Lydick's team defeated Grace Palmer's team by a score of 15-3. Betty Hardman was outstanding in her returns for Lydick's team.

Helen Mark's team won an easy victory over Marianne Heavener by a score of 15-4. Mark's started off well and kept a safe lead throughout the game. Jewell Cain's team won over Gay Reedy's team by a score of 15-10. Foreman and Cross were outstanding for the winners, who were playing under a handicap of 5 girls to 8. Eloise Boggs was outstanding for the losers. Gay Reedy's team was the only undefeated aerial darts team until tonight. She still holds the lead in points.

Riddle Defeats Furr

Maxine Riddle's volleyball team defeated Mary Helen Furr's team by a score of 17-14. Riddle took an early lead and Furr's team was not able to break her serves.

Betty Hardman's team beat Joan Foreman's hotshots 17-13. Foreman took the lead but Hardman was able to gain pace again by Thelma Ryan and Kathryn Elliott's tricky serves. Outstanding for Foreman's team were Joan Cross and Foreman.

Lou Strader's undefeated volleyball team defeated Verona Dean Ellis' team by a score of 17-4. Strader's team took an early lead and easily defeated Ellis. Outstanding for Strader's team were Wanda Berkhamer and Ethel Mae Ratcliff.

Miss Ivy Lee Moyers and Miss Rachel Myers were dinner guests of Miss Alma Arbuckle last Friday evening.

Nick Murin Named Red Terror Mentor

Nicholas Murin, 47, president of student council and former football and basketball star, has accepted a position as coach and teacher in Glenville high school.

Murin, who will graduate from Glenville State college at end of the first semester, has been named by the Gilmer county board of education to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Harold Scott.

New coach of the Red Terrors played two seasons of football and one of basketball under Pioneer colors. He is a graduate of Elkhorn high school.

The Glenville coach is married and resides in Glenville with Mrs. Murin and their son.

deGruyter Brothers Are YMCA Speakers

"The Declaration of Christian Faith," was the subject of talks by Paul and Conrad deGruyter at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last week.

Five cardinal principles as brought forth by the deGruyters are:

1. We declare our faith in God.
2. We declare our belief that in Jesus Christ God reveals himself most fully.
3. We declare our belief that God has created man in His own likeness.
4. We declare that God is Lord of all men and of all areas of life.
5. We declare our allegiance to the Christian community.

From The Sidelines

By Jack Rader

All eyes are focused on December 18, when the Pioneers will open their season against the Potozoc State Catamounts at Keyser and the following night opposing Shepherd State at Shepherdstown.

At present, Coach Ratliff has been doing plenty of shifting around in order to find the combination which will carry the Blue and White colors through the basketball wars this season. One quintet which has been showing up favorably has Beecher Reed and Jesse Lilly, forwards; Bob Whiting, center; and Jack Luzzader and Joe Marra, guards, with David "Jake" Fitzpatrick alternating at both center and guard. All these basketeers are veterans of the hardwood and are expected to carry a large share of the burden.

Several newcomers have been showing good form, among them Larry Pritt and Ronnie Galner of Glenville, Holla "Mossy" Garrett of Sand Fork, James Marks of Normantown high school and Bob Conley of Richwood. We venture to say that you'll be seeing and hearing a lot of these former high school stars in Pioneer uniforms this winter and in seasons to come.

Rumors Are Circulating

Incidentally, you can bet your family jewels that Coach Ratliff wouldn't moan at a certain rumor about Earle Spencer returning to GSC the second semester. The Richwood ace, a standout for three seasons of pre-war play, could make the Pioneer cause look very good indeed, but... who are we to spread rumors; we learned to shun the word in the service.

Though not accustomed to going out on the well-worn limb in regard to predictions, we will, if only to keep up with the times, IN ONE INSTANCE. We say: The Pioneers will have a successful season (we refuse to be put on the spot by saying how successful), and will look, by tournament time, like the Pioneer teams of old. "The" game, from a local standpoint, will be when the Alderson-Broadus Battlers invade Glenville on January 18. Better circle that date on your calendar.

Navy Exams Set For January 18

Get out a red pencil and circle December 17 and January 18th on your calendars, because they really will be red letter days.

January 18, 1947, is the date set by the Navy for a nation-wide competitive examination to select several thousand young men for its new College Training Program and December 17th, 1946, is that not-too-far-distant deadline when all applications must be in the hands of the examining board.

You have seen the posters on the bulletin board, and if you're eligible and interested have probably already picked up your application. But, this is just to remind you that your application should be mailed as soon as possible, and must be mailed in time for it to reach the Naval Examining Section in Princeton, New Jersey, by the 17th of December.

To each man selected, the Navy is offering a college education, and commission as an officer in the U. S. Navy or U. S. Marine Corps. He may choose the field in which he would like a bachelor's

Blair Gainer Dies In Doctor's Office

Blair Gainer, 52, assistant to the chief engineer of State Road district No. 7, and father of former students, Roanna Gainer and Mrs. David Fitzpatrick, dropped dead of a heart attack in a Weston physician's office at 3:50 p. m., Monday.

Mr. Gainer became ill while at his office in Weston and went to the physician's office where the fatal attack occurred.

A son of Lee Gainer and the late Mrs. Gainer, he is survived in his immediate family by two daughters, Roanna, at home, and Mrs. David Fitzpatrick, also of Glenville.

Tuberculosis Seal Campaign Underway

Money for 177 sheets of Christmas seal has been received in the local campaign, Mrs. C. L. Underwood, chairman, announces. Funds obtained in this drive will be used nationally to combat tuberculosis, which, according to doctors, kills more persons between 15 and 35 than any other disease.

Seals may be purchased from Mrs. Underwood in Kanawha Hall.

Station WPLH is a subsidiary of the Mutual Broadcasting system and is an F. M. station.

How Is Your

(5) And there is always a dreamer. This one moves blindly and blandly over the floor — eyes closed, mind far away, and an idiotic smile illuminating his countenance. When this results in a collision, he just smiles and nods and dances happily away toward another. Someone usually has to tell him when the music ceases, as his soul singeth lyrics more beautiful. Good for five points if you don't do it.

(6) Among the persons who may "sit the next one out" is the leader, the female who insists on going that way, while the proud male, supposedly master of the situation, wishes to go this way. This usually results in damage to both the morale and the pedal digits. Five points for a "no."

Blacklists All Alone Type

(7) High on the black list is the all-alone type. This jerk becomes engrossed in his gyrations, lets his heels and his partner fly incautiously through the air, and the shinbones crack where they may. This is a serious offense, 13 points.

(8) Relatively harmless is the grandstander, who, while performing tricky twirls and flourishes, keeps one eye on the spectators to see whether they are keeping an eye on him. Five points.

(9) Dangerous is the strangler. This one grasps the opponent in a death grip, crushing the ribs and endangering blood supply to the brain. Opposite, but almost as bad, is the distant type (female) who dances with a three-foot air space separating her from her victim. Rather than wrap her right arm around the poor guy's neck in the approved manner, she places it on his bicep. That's tiresome. Unless you dance with tough specimen, one who can take it, count off five for a guilty plea.

(10) Last, AND LEAST, is the hula addict, who cannot distinguish between a waltz and a polka, so does a shake-and-shimmy routine for either. This is harmless fun—only three points.

Perfect score is 79, if you rate 57-76, you'll do, 56 or below, you're lousy—go see Arthur.
