Bob Arnold Cops Presidency In Quiet Student Election

Edsel Ford Is Chosen Vice-President; Martin Named to Secretaryship

By Bill Harper

Robert Arnold, newly pledged member of the Holy Roller Court, was elected 1950-51 president of the Glenville State college student council in a close but peaceful race last week.

Arnold, who was opposed in the campaign for the high post by MERCURY Sports Editor and member of Xi Nu fraternity Ronald Rollins, is a transfer student from West Virginia University. A resident of Glenville, the new president is a member of the GSC track team, and was a former high school track star.

Edsel Ford, of Scarbro, member of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, rode into the office of vice-president with comparative ease. His opponent was Joe Rader, also a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa.

In the battle for the office of secretary, Miss Lois Martin of Ellenboro, president of the Wesleyan Foundation here, was elected. Nadine Clark was her adversary.

Miss Shirley Osborn, of Burnt House, will take the reins of the treasurer next year, having won over Juanita Allman.

Sergeant-at-Arms for the '50-51 session is Bud Cooper, having successfully waged the campaign with Earl Gainer. Cooper is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Official vote counters for the election were Glendene White, Mary Walters, Ronald K. Shuman, Charles Adams and Professor Stanley Hall.

It was observed by many onlookers at the polls that voting was very sporadic during the two day election, and this fact is borne out by the official tally of votes, approximately 193. This is less than half the student body.

Student Council President Louis Kania has also announced that officers of the respective classes—senior, sophomore, junior—will be elected this week. Students are urged to participate in this important election.

Mercury Musings

By Dan Kengers

WELCOME, high school seniors. This day has been set aside for you. We extend hearty greetings in hopes that you will take this opportunity to visit the various grounds, buildings and demonstrations that have been prepared for your benefit. We want you to be part of "our family."

Congratulations to Bob Arnold, Edsel Ford, Lawrence Cooper, Shirley Osborn and Lois Martin who were victorious in the recent student council election. May the road to success always be fruitful.

The spring season usually brings an unexpected note of good cheer and the announcement that the Ohnimgohow Players are planning to present three one act plays is proving. A bouquet of roses to director Opal Starcher.

One of the successful events of the year was the Regional XI Band Festival which was held here last week. To those who were responsible for this performance, a tremendous "well done" is extended.

When the men's quartet gave a presentation of songs at St. Mary's high school recently, they were "hounded" by a score of students seeking autographs. Now, they are all up in the clouds.

It has been announced that the annual spring dance, which is sponsored by the Holy Roller Court and scheduled for Friday, May 5, will feature music by the Melloaires of Fairmont.

Symphony Concert Program Released

By Doris Cunningham

Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C Minor and The River Saga by Composer Director Antonia Modarelli will be included in the concert to be presented by the Charleston Symphony orchestra April 30 at 2:30 p. m. in the college auditorium.

Of all the great symphonies, Beethoven's No. 5 in C Minor, has remained the best example of form and the most direct musical message that any composer has given the world. It was really written in 1807 and first performed in 1808 in Vienna; However there have been sketches of the work found dating back to 1800. The first movement begins with the "Fate Motive" of four tones. These four notes develop into a raging, towering organism of tone and the mercilessly dynamic character of the principal theme is produced. The bitterness and violence of this movement have no equal in music. There is no gentleness, peace, or triumph as the movement ends.

The Finale of this movement is a hymn of triumph and makes one believe that Beethoven has portrayed his defeat of the fetters with which Fate would bind him. The "River Saga," is a symphonic poem depicting in vivid musical language the flow of the New and Kanawha rivers together with contrasting aspects of life along their banks over the centuries.

"River Saga" is a fine program

TRAVELING IN WEST VIRGINIA

Stewart Airport and Sky Motel

Parkersburg—A scant distance outside of Parkersburg's northern boundary line is located a remarkable innovation in overnight accommodations for travelers in West Virginia. The new Stewart Sky Motel, operated in conjunction with Stewart Airport, provides lodging for both motorists and air travelers.

The Sky Motel (or Sky Tel), unique in West Virginia, is setting the pace for similar developments in other parts of the country. Its unusual facilities and modern decor are the result of several years of study and planning by J. Wayne Stewart, the owner-operator, a widely known Parkersburg businessman and air enthusiast.

For the private pilot there is no finer port of call than Stewart Airport which has been in operation for a number of years. The administration building, which stands several feet south of the Sky-Tel, is a modern brick structure housing complete facilities for servicing aircraft and accommodating the sky farer.

The layout includes a lunch room, an observation deck overlooking the landing area, a pilot's lounge, waiting room, service and accessories departments, ground school classroom and storage hangars. Private T-hangers are available on the field nearby.

During his stay, the aircraft owner can have his plane washed or polished, the power plant checked and repaired if necessary; or he can even trade his plane for a new model.

One of the outstanding events held at the airport is the Annual Flight Breakfast and Air Fair conducted by the Parkersburg Pilots Association as a means of promoting private flying. Last year the event attracted 225 privately owned planes, and 500 free breakfasts were served to visitors from other fields.

As a guest of the Sky-Tel, the motorist also finds many conveniences. From the minute he steps from his car and walks toward the long, low building with its modernistic front, he immediately feels "at home" in the hospitable atmosphere.

The combination lobby-lounge of the Sky-Tel is an experience in modern design and originality. Fronting the room is a huge picture window, angled to create an unusual effect, and placed several feet to the rear is a large foliage box containing plants, entwined about green wooden bars, that climb to a coral colored ceiling.

Behind the foliage box, the main part of the lounge is a display of good taste in furnishings. A startling effect is achieved by a well-placed coral colored rug which is of such odd design that it can best be described as "schmoo-shaped."

ON the CAMPUS

Justice and Cunningham

Band festivals, ball games, dances, and forthcoming Senior Day are the major outlets for all the new energy that spring has brought. Of course, there is romance, too. Bill Waldeck and Helen Jackson are two prominent spring couples.

What's this about Joann Rollyson meeting a new man from Parkersburg? Friends come in handy, don't they, Joann?

It seems that Claudette Hefner is good at keeping secrets. She and Byron McKnight have been dating for years.

Maybe Jackie Lynch is taking track so that she can catch Wayne Osbourn.

Tom Arnold and Janet Hinkle are being seen together at the local highspots. What's your major, Tom—Women?

We hear that Ruby Campbell and Bud Ellyson are dating. They should give us more details.

To cool down some of the rumors about Edward "Kibe" Thorn's absence from the campus, it was an absented tooth.

Is Glen Martin suffering from heartbreak, looking over the field, or does he have a girl at home?

Joe Bokovitz says that he is willing to spend the rest of his life in Pennsylvania. He must have a good reason. A girl, no doubt.

Dr. C. L. Underwood's psychology class went to Western Mental Hospital to observe patients.

Who is the secret man in Ann Clay Allen's life?

Arnie Wilson and Shirley Osborn should adopt the song, "I Couldn't Stay Away From You," as their motto.

Things are liable to become dangerous in the duel between Dan Anderson and Alexander Jokoy over Dorothy Rice's affections.

Foster Minney must have a weakness for red-heads.

Ray "Boone" Waldo has not turned down woman hate. He has a nice looking future at it.

Jim Laughlin's hair didn't all come out, girls. He just got it cut short.

The girl in Bill Torildas's life is Peggy. A cigarette lighter can be incriminating evidence, Bill.

Pioneer Team Appears In High School Program

The "Pioneer Team", which has previously been known as the "Week Team", will make six appearances at high school assembly programs during April.

This team has already visited Harrisville and Weston High Schools April 12, Bursville High School April 19, St. Mary's and Doddridge County High Schools April 20, and will visit Clay High School today.

This is the second year that this team has been in operation on the GSC campus. It is now being sponsored by the Music department under the direction of Prof. Harold Orendorff. Last year it was presented by the Holy Roller Court.

The purpose of this program is to establish better relationships with the nearby high schools. Due to limited transportation it will be possible to visit only the schools within a small radius.

Programs presented will be primarily musical with a brief talk about Glenville college.

dent body. We have found them to be good students and a product of which their high schools could well be proud.

I hope many of you will return to our campus next year and that you will take advantage of this opportunity to meet as many of our faculty and students as possible and to ask for any information we can give you.

Best wishes for a happy and profitable day!

Sincerely yours,

Outlook In Phys. Ed. For Future Is Bright

The outlook for physical education in the future at Glenville State is bright because of the many improvements made in the past year. Prof. Carlos Ratliff, head of the Physical Education department, announced.

There has been an increase in the physical education staff to three members: Prof. Clarissa Williams, Prof. Michael Josephs, and Prof. Carlos Ratliff, and there have been improvements made on the athletic field.

A number of new courses are now being offered to students who are interested in physical education. Some of these courses are: camp counselling, tests in physical education, classes in major sports, and more classes in rhythmic. There are plans for an increase in physical education for elementary schools in the near future.

The new physical education building which is being built, will also provide for a marked improvement in this field. It will consist of a large gymnasium floor, a small gymnasium, an individual corridors room, a swimming pool, more classrooms for physical education, and a health center.

Some of the different physical education activities now offered at GSC are: golf, badminton, archery, horseshoes, volleyball, softball, shuffleboard, and intra-mural basketball and track.

The intra-murals consist of the Women's Athletic association and the Men's Athletic association. Both groups meet two nights a week and all students are eligible to take part. Their most popular activities are volleyball, basketball, softball, badminton, aerial darts, and horseshoes.

MAA has not been really active for two or three years but it is in the process of revision.

Work To Begin Soon On New Modern Physical Education Building on Campus

By Perry Smith

In March of 1949, a fund of one-half million dollars was approved by the state legislature for construction of a new modern physical education building on the campus of Glenville State college. This building will be located behind Verona Maple hall.

Swimming pool, classrooms, playing floors, and health service will be available in the new structure. This new health building, which will be one of the most modern on the state-supported school's cam-uses (traveled only by Morris Harvey's pine plank emporium) will thrust Glenville college onto the scene as one of West Virginia's foremost coaching schools and physical education plants.

Along with the new Gymnasium, a new modern, fully-equipped fieldhouse and cement bleachers will also add to the convenience of incoming Glenville State Bleachers and sport participants. The fieldhouse and bleachers were completed last year. 1,300 spectators may be seated in the rejuvenated stadium.

The swimming pool, which will be located in the already-mentioned physical education building, is one of the major accomplishments to be provided in this structure. For some years Glenville students have had to use the Little Kanawha River for swimming purposes. This will soon be a thing of the past, as Glenville advances with growth. Work on the new structure is to be started in the near future as the architects proposed drawing (see cut) has already been completed.

Numerous College Organizations Provide Extra Campus Activities

There are many organizations on the Glenville campus that offer extra-curricular enjoyment and relaxation for the students. They consist of both social and scholastic groups, some of which are local and others national.

The Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary fraternity with membership limited to persons who have taken an active part in some dramatics work.

Kappa Sigma Kappa is also a national fraternity. Its purpose is to develop wholesome living and to promote social and scholastic activities. Membership is to men only and by invitation.

The College Choir consists of a selected group of voices. The membership is limited to 50, and approval of the instructor.

College Chorus is an unselected group who meet twice a week for group-singing.

College Orchestra is a regular credit class. Any student possessing or playing an orchestral instrument may become a member. The Holy Roller Court, a mock fraternity, has as its dual purpose the promotion of good feeling and the sponsoring of social events. Membership is by invitation.

Xi Nu fraternity, a chapter of the Sigma Tau Gamma, was established this year. Its purpose is to foster more color and activity on the college campus. Membership is limited to 30 members, by invitation.

G-Club is an organization of athletes who have earned varsity letter awards.

The Home Economics club includes all home economics majors and other students, having an average who have a second or third teaching field in home economics. Its aim is the development of a better understanding of home economics through experience.

International Relations club is designed for the opportunity of students to discuss world events.

There are no special membership requirements.

The Student Christian association is an organization of the YWCA and YMCA of the campus. Membership is open to anyone who is interested.

Wesley Foundation group, part of the Methodist Student Movement, has for its purpose the developing of good fellowship among Christian students. Membership is unlimited.

The Onimogowh Players is a prerequisite for membership in the Alpha Psi Omega fraternity. Its purpose is to give training for those interested in intra-mural sports. Letters are awarded.

The Women's Athletic Association consist of all women who are interested in participating in games and sports.

The Pep Band has for its purpose the stimulating of school spirit at athletic events. Membership is unlimited.

Music Degree Obtainable In Newly Installed Plan

LOW COST OF HIGH EDUCATION

Glenville State college offers education at a lower cost than any other college in the state.

Board and room for nine months is $270 plus $5.40 sales tax. This may be paid in full or divided into eight payments.

Tuition for the nine months is $50, plus activity fee of $5, special service fee $2 and tax 60 cents, which the student pays when he enrolls.

Students who enroll after regular registration days will be charged a late registration fee of $2 during the first week. After the second week it will be $5.

Incidental expenses are lower at Glenville State than any other college. Reasonable laundry service is available for students; the student union, which is located on the campus, serves as a meeting place for all students; and movie rates here are below the average price elsewhere.

Choir, Orchestra, Band Give Opportunities To Interested Aspirants

"There shall be music" is a theme which reigns throughout the year at Glenville State college, through the medium of a large number of classes in the various phases of music.

In addition to the varied courses offered, there are means of practical music work by participation in the GSC band, orchestra and a number of choirs.

And—most important of all—there is a degree offered in this field.

Also, for those who are not musically gifted, but who are lovers of music, there are appreciation classes. These sessions, designed especially for the instruction of students in the works of the greats, are utilized chiefly for listening to recorded music. What better way is there to spend an hour and get credit for same?

Students who qualify for membership in the band or orchestra have opportunities throughout the year to display their talent—by means of concerts, playing at ball-games, and participation in annual Homecoming.

Instructors in the music department are Professor Harold S. Orndorff, graduate of Columbia University, and Professor Bertha E. Olsen, graduate of New England Conservatory of Music.

A new musical organization which has been added to the department this year is a chapter of the National Educators National Conference, an organization which provides outlets for talented students.

Other information on the department may be obtained at the office of the registrar, or from students and instructors in music.

Art Department Is Outstanding On Local Campus

The GSC Art department has been an outstanding part of the college curriculum since 1900. At that time it was a one term course designed primarily to aid the teacher in black board demonstration. From this start, it has developed until it has become one of the subjects in which degrees are offered and it is a requirement for an Elementary certificate.

Six hours of art, Introduction (Art 101) and Public School Art (Art 102, 208, or 302) are now necessary for a first class collegiate Elementary certificate.

Twenty-four semester hours are required for a bachelor of arts degree in art. The required courses for this degree are: Free hand Drawing (Art 101, 102), Design (Art 201, 202), History and Appreciation (Art 305), and Painting and Sculpture (307). There are several electives from which to choose to make the necessary amount of hours.

Thursday the painting class will be working in the art room for the benefit of visiting high school seniors. There will also be a display of paintings which have been done during the year.

Home Ec Dept. Constructs Draperies

Students in Home Economics 313 have completed draperies for the dining hall and are now working on ones for the entrances into Kanawha hall.

"We have made a suggestion for the walls to be painted a delicate shade of aqua to match the back-

Numerous Jobs Are Available

They are numerous jobs available for campus students who desire part time work, according to financial secretary, Lloyd C. Jones.

At the present time there are sixty students who have on-campus jobs. These do not include those students on scholars'hip.

There is a variety of work which may be received by students desiring work. These are: waitress, typists, janitors, and student assistants in library, biology, and chemistry department. Assistants are also needed in the departments of English, education, and social science.

The student rates are fifty-five cents per hour. This does not include waitresses who receive their board in payment for their services.

ground of the drapes," stated Mrs. Lillian Chaddock, home economics teacher. "Scientific research has proven that attractive colors keep people cheerful," she continued.

Journalism Students Receive Practical Training Through Weekly Publication

"The pen is mightier than the sword" is an oft-repeated adage, and visiting seniors who are of a mind to write will be interested to note that Glenville State college offers several courses that might help them to determine whether or not this axiom is true—in the journalism field.

The journalism department—which weekly produces a complete coverage of GSC news as embodied in THE MERCURY—offers courses ranging in variety from editorial to straight news writing. Other courses offered are "advanced reporting and editing," "the high school newspaper," with more being added each year.

This year something new was added to the many attributes of Glenville college—the Bachelor of Science degree—which means also that students can minor in journalism for which this certificate is offered.

In addition to book "larnin'" on the subject, students get practical training in reporting and writing through the medium of THE MERCURY. All students enrolled in journalism courses are assigned beats in connection with campus activities, and in this manner are taught the fundamentals of the work. The acquisition of a camera for the department, make it possible that a photography course will be offered in the near future, as well as other courses dealing with the physical side of newspaper work.

THE MERCURY has achieved nation-wide fame among college publications, having won honors in intercollegiate competition. The paper is a member of the West Virginia Inter-collegiate Press Association, the West Virginia Newspaper Council and the Associated Collegiate Press.

Faculty Members Attend Annual Educational Meet

On April 21-22 the annual meeting of the Association of Higher Education of West Virginia was held at Shepherd college at Shepherdstown. The general theme for this meeting was "The Association of Higher Education: A Vital Influence In West Virginia Education."

Members of the Glenville State faculty who attended this meeting were Professors Asa Anderson, H. Y. Clark, Genevieve Butcher, Marvin Newman, Bessie B. Bell, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hefflin.

Prof. Bell is the secretary-treasurer of this organization. Just one year after the first liberty ship keel had been laid, the U. S. had reached the point of turning out new ships faster than our enemies could destroy them in World War II.

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND SCHOOL

Council President Greet Visitors Future GSC Health-Physical Building

The Students of Glenville State extend a hearty welcome to you and wish that your visit be a pleasant one. We hope that through this brief visit you will get a "peep" at student's college life and create a desire within yourself to go to college and further your education, here or elsewhere.

You have probably been informed of the increasing necessity of higher education but do not regard the task of obtaining a higher education with repugnance. College life has its bright side along with work and study. On our campus there is a variety of activities throughout the year to make college life more enjoyable. The functions and activities on the campus are conducted largely by the students through various student organizations. Students are given ample opportunity for personal growth along with their professional training.

Feel free to inquire about any question you may have concerning student life at our college. We students will be glad to give you any information we can. We are happy to have you on our campus and sincerely hope that you will be back for a longer stay this fall.

Tigers Prove Hard to Tame As Pioneers Drop Opener In Free-Hitting 9-5, Tiff

Laughlin, Rengers Smack Triples; Paracha Shows Good Control For Salem

By Ronnie Rollins

Salem Tiger bats were kept silent for six scoreless innings by "Diamond Dan" Rengers last Tuesday afternoon at Rohrbaugh field as the 1950 Pioneers cracked the seal on their current campaign but the Tigers finally exploded for six runs in the top half of the seventh to vault into the lead and they went on to win 9-5.

Tall, right-hander Rengers, handicapped by a heavy schedule that allows him only a few moments of practice time in the evenings, kept the title-contending Tigers in check for the first six frames, scattering seven hits over the route, but they began to tag tripping Dan in the seventh.

Seventh Is Fatal

But aside from the rip-roaring seventh canto when the Ratiffmen made several miscues and lost their poise, the rebuff Pioneer nine showed promise of developing into a balanced club with ample hitting power.

Tiger catcher Lodge started the big rally for the invaders in the seventh when he singled and went to first. Pitch Paracha then bunted and when Rengers grabbed up the slow roller and threw second, Lodge came around to third and Paracha raced to second.

Second baseman Yurchak then rapped a one-base blow, plating Lodge and Paracha. Berkes kept the uprising in high gear, poling a single which brought in Yurchak.

Morus Plates Two

Cackowski then belted a double that sent Berkes racing home and later in the inning Morus connected to score Cackowski and Juliano.

It looked as if the die had been cast after this six-run Tiger attack but the Wavemen came to life in the bottom of the seventh to tally four runs.

Vannoy and Pugh singled to tight the fuse, Bokovitz then whiffed, but hard-hitting Shirley Wilson banged out a single that brought Vannoy across as the Pioneer fans came to life.

Pitcher Rengers then almost won his own ball game with a well-placed, smashing triple that pushed Pugh and Wilson across and when Waddell fled out to the centerfielder, Rengers came pounding home after the catch.

Clean-up man Jim Laughlin laid the lumber to a bounding triple in the bottom of the eighth but his GSC buddies couldn't solve Cordua's slants and Jim died pawing third base.

Cooper Scores

Sub-catcher "Bud" Cooper scored the final Pioneer run in the last of the ninth when he, with two gone, came sprinting home after Bill Rosenlieb, another first-year man, grounded out.

Diminutive Walt Paracha, who has won his last nine outings on the knob, was tagged for 10 blows, fanned six, and walked one before he was relieved by wild Russ Cordua in the eighth.

Steve Dishauzi, a smoking fast-baller, came on the hill to replace tripping Rengers who had just bearded Cackowski and Juliano with the bags saturated and retired the side.

Four G-men Die

Four Glenville men died on base while seven Tigers never made it home.

Golfers Drop Two Matches

Rain has curtailed diamond warfare somewhat this season but the Glenville State linksmen, defying the elements, have already had their caddies double-timing over the Glenville Country Club golf course as the local golfers wade into their attractive 10-game slate.

Salem Drubs Golfers

The Glenville golfers tasted defeat for the second time last week when a veteran Salem college outfit trimmed them 11 1-2 to 3 1-2. Foster Minney picked up two of the GSC points while Harold "Kitty" Wilson grabbed one and Glenn Thomas squeaked in with 1-2 a point.

In the West Liberty match, hard-driving "pro" Foster Minney bested his opponent by two strokes, 84-86, but the Hilltoppers still romped to a 10 to 2 and 1-2 win.

Club-swingers on the Wave aggregation include: the Wilson brothers, Harold and Arne, Bill Rymer, Foster Minney, and Glenn Thomas.

Teachers Win Tourney Duel

Duplicate bridge tournament was held last Tuesday night in Louis Bennett lounge from 7-10:30.

There were six tables of bridge and 18 hands were played.

Loving cups were presented to Mrs. Hugh Daniell and partner Mrs. Joe P. Ball, for the high East-West. Mrs. Paul Hauman and partner won the high North-South cup.

High honors were taken for the superior strategy playing of Prof. Michael Posey and Prof. H. Y. Clark, who have been setting up offensive playing for the past two weeks. Both were presented a beautiful vase.

Not to be out done by their wives, Prof. Ball and Mr. Daniell won honors for the strategic playing and won a prize.

Alexander Jokay won the door prize, while Mrs. Edith Holstein and partner won high hand for the students.

The tournament was directed by Prof. Marvin Newman, assisted by Mrs. Paul Hauman. Miss Joanne Nash and Steve Ball acted as hostesses and host.

Students who are interested in a bridge class are asked to contact Miss Nash, who is president of the bridge club.

DIAMOND DUST

By Ronnie Rollins

It was the bottom of the eighth inning in the Salem-Glenville tiff last week.

Chatterbox Charles Curry, sidelined first string Wave catcher, was reclining in the Pioneer dugout with his "Achilles' heel" waving and gesticulating with his cane and hurling barbed words at the ump, the opposition, and anyone else who would lend an ear, when fence-busting Jim Laughlin ambled up to the dish.

Curry Is Backer

Now Curry is a staunch backer of "Gentleman Jim" and when the big boy, who is built like a beer barrel with twice as much kick, picked up the big splinter and stepped into the batter's box, Curry leaned forward on the bench and began to nervously chew a piece of hemp that was passing as a cigar.

Tiger moundsman Walt Paracha, out of front of the G-men 6-3, and displaying good control, took one look at the Pioneer batter when big Jim knocked the dust out of his spikes, then trembled down to his toes.

But Paracha caught the signal from Catcher Lodge, went into his wind-up, then hurled the sphere plowward.

Crack! It never reached the catcher's mitt as latent Laughlin stepped into the pitch, connected, and smacked a hit deep into centerfield that looked as if it were going to climb the big Elm at the edge of the playing orchard.

Laughlin Sprites

Football flash Laughlin took off like a flying saucer and he was puffin' like Fulton's first steam engine as he rounded second and headed down toward third.

But the Tiger outfielder got on a bike, retrieved the pill, and rifled it home in time to hold Laughlin up at third, robbing Jim of a round-tripper as Curry muttered under his breath.

Curry's spiel would make spicy reading matter but the code of good reporting keeps me from printing "Chaz's" remarks.

Noise-box Curry, official GSC score-keeper while he is on the bench, may be on the sidelines for some time with torn ligaments in his right foot. Curry injured his foot in a workout with Bob Conley.

Mackey Incites Uproar

When umpire Ed Mackey called a ball on Tiger Paracha in the eighth inning, allowing Laughlin to walk in home with a run that put the locals only one run behind, Tiger Skipper Doug Stone bounded off the bench, flipped his lid, and quoted several different rule books to confused Mackey.

Quite a heated discussion followed although the college debate team remained in the bleachers and took no part. Finally, Mackey reversed his decision and as a howl went up from the Glenville rooters, Laughlin shuffled back out to the third sack.

Several Wavemen showed up well in the opener. Shirley Wilson, known chiefly as assistant umpire, seems to be a capable retriever; Robert Pugh still can ride that

Moody Waddell Is Prize Rookie

By Ronnie Rollins

Good-looking Moody Waddell, a former all-state shortstop who grabs up scorching grounders like a hungry chicken picking up corn, has been impressive in recent Pioneer diamond workouts and has cinched a starting position on this year's weather-thwarted nine.

Waddell Shows Promise

Muscular Moody, one of the most modest and well-liked chaps in school and in the Wave camp, stands 5' 8", weighs a compact 175 pounds, and is considered by many out-of-bounds observers to be a brilliant infielder.

Nimble Moody is a one-man defense in plugging the hole between second and third and his strong right arm allows him to hurl rapid, unwavering pegs.

Moody, who rooms with his high school teammate and press agent Harry Peters, graduated from Stoco high school last year, an institution located some 12 miles out of busy Beckley.

While wearing the colors of the Stoco Indians, Waddell pitched, caught, played short and belted home runs. He was also an elusive halfback in football, and a basketball regular.

Moody often goes to the hill in practice tiffs in the evening and in the words of clown prince Jim Laughlin, "This Waddell has a knuckle ball that really does slow rolls, loops and a guy can break his back swinging at the baffling toss. He also has a straight fast ball."

Moody Is All-stater

Named to an all-state shortstop position, rookie Waddell played in the schoolboy North-South baseball game at Parkersburg last year.

Active in independent baseball last year, Moody performed with Coal City in the Raleigh county "B" League and is a sterling addition to this season's freshman-dominated squad.

"Charlie Noble" is the slang name for the galley smokestack on a Navy ship. The term is said to derive from a skipper named Charles Noble who insisted the stack be kept brightly polished.

rock; outfielder Glennard Vannoy seems to have found his batting eye this season, and the Pioneer infield shows promise.

With a little more experience under their belts the locals should start to finish in the win column although the competition will be plenty tough. Tech, Wesleyan, Fairmont, and Salem have all started the season with lopsided wins and all appear to be loaded.

Falcons Show Here Today

Marietta Here Thursday; Bobcats Are Saturday Foe

By Ronnie Rollins

A heavy bill-o-fare is on tap for the hustling Pioneer spike-wearers this week as three rival college nines will exchange extra-base knocks with the potentially strong Ratiffmen. The ump will start his calling promptly at 3 p. m. at all home games.

Pioneer fielders cracked the seal on their abbreviated 17-game menu last week in bouts with Salem and Wesleyan, losing to Salem 9-5, in a free-hitting melee.

Two Home Games This Week

Continuing their home stand, the Wavemen will meet with Fairmont's rapid Falcons here Tuesday afternoon, Marietta here Thursday afternoon, but will motor to Bobcatberg Saturday afternoon for a bout with the Bobcats.

It will be Pioneers vs. Pioneers Thursday afternoon at Rohrbaugh park when the Marietta college crew sprints onto the field. Marietta is the only new addition on the Wave slate.

In a wild-scoring slugfest that will be remembered by all who attended last year, the beefy Bobcats belted the locals 22-10, over at Buckhannon and also conquered the G-men here on the home grounds.

Four Wins Last Season

Last season's baseball outfit wound up its slate with four wins and eight losses but the G-men look to improve on last year's mark. West Liberty and Alderson-Broadhead were beaten once by the Wavemen last year while Concord's (Continued on page 6)

Softball League Is Organized In MAA

An eight-team men's softball league was organized last week in the college gymnasium, drawings have been made, and the teams are starting the Round-Robin double elimination tournament.

Boys who have entered in the the playoffs are: Charles Marks, John Adkins, George Johnston, Glendale White, Allan Keeney, Robert Allen, and Richard Elliot. All games will be played at Rohrbough field.

Another interesting feature is a large dining room in which breakfast only is served to guests, the general public or private parties. Many of the popular "flight breakfasts" have been and will be held there by the private pilots of West Virginia and surrounding states.

This summer the lounging comfort of the guest will be increased by the establishment of a patio between the wings of the Sky-Tel. From this vantage point loungers will be able to observe flight activities at close hand and enjoy cool breezes from the Ohio river nearby. A new swimming pool is being given serious consideration as an added attraction.

Other recreational facilities in the immediate vicinity are a well-equipped golf driving range and an outdoor theater. Downtown Parkersburg, with its growing shopping district and theaters, is less than ten minutes away by bus or car.

Having been featured in two national aviation magazines, the fame of Stewart Airport and Sky-Tel is spreading widely. An indication of this is the congratulatory letter from Arthur Godfrey, himself a private pilot, which Mr. Stewart proudly and prominently displays beneath the glass top of the odd-shaped registration desk.
