1951 Commencement Speaker Is Selected

Cast Chosen For Spring Revue Skit

Adkins, Eckman, Turner, Orendorff Will Have Leading Roles in Play

By Joan Person

The cast has been chosen for the George M. Kaufman skit, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do", which will be one of the features in the Spring Review.

The cast includes Dr. Edwin P. Adkins, Professor Byron J. Turner, Professor Harold S. Orendorff, and Professor Frederick W. Eckman.

The Review, in its entirety, will be composed of three major parts. The first scene will have a fair-carnival theme. There will be folk dancing, acrobatics, singing and the general carnival atmosphere that is associated with the county fair.

The second scene will be entitled the "Club Union", and will be a mild satire depicting the activities in the Union from the opening in the morning until closing hours. It will show what happens, or could happen, during the major part of the students' day.

The third scene will be called Spring-Love. It will endeavor to show how infectious spring is to beauty and love through all age groups. This scene will have no speaking parts but will all be picture, movement, and music under a moonlight effect.

Terrill Elected To Presidency Of Verona Mapel

Dorothy Louise Terrill, junior biology major from St. Marys and a transfer student from Marietta college, was ushered into the office of president of Verona Mapel hall, and two other dormitory officers were named in an all-dormitory election last week. Housemother Hazel K. Marshall announces. Miss Terrill, a member of the Science club and a candidate for vice-president in the recently-occupied student council election, served as sophomore princess in Homecoming activities this year. She came to Glenville State at the opening of the second semester in 1949 from Marietta College.

Other officers named to the hall governing board were Ruby Ann Cromwell, sophomore from Elkview, vice-president, and Kathryn Raines, freshman from Walton, secretary-treasurer. Ruby Ann previously served on the governing board as secretary-treasurer.

Outgoing officers include: Martha Mick, president; Doris Perkins, vice-president; and Ruby Cromwell, secretary-treasurer.

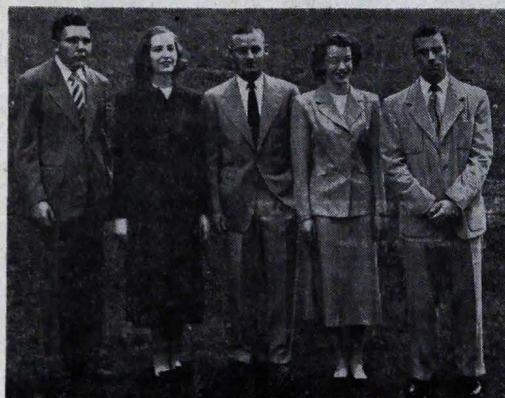

Elizabeth Boyce Attends State SCA Conference

Elizabeth Boyce, newly elected president of the Student Christian association, has just returned from attending a recent leadership conference at Clarksburg. She was accompanied by Gerald Bockner, chairman of the Student Christian Movement and retiring president of the Student Christian association.

The purpose of the conference was to discuss and formulate plans for Student Christian activities for the coming year. Represented at the conference were Salem College, West Virginia University, and Glenville College.

Main speaker at the conference was Miss Helen Mosier, traveling representative for the Philadelphia office of the Christian association and a recent visitor to the Glenville campus.

While here, Miss Mosier spoke on the many qualities of leadership necessary in the Christian groups. She also showed slides on Camp Michaux, an institution for developing leadership traits.

Hanlin Elected to Science Academy Vice-Presidency

By Bill Boram

Billy D. Hanlin, '53, Sistersville, was elected vice-president of the West Virginia Collegiate Academy of Science at a meeting in Huntington April 27 and 28.

Hanlin, a biology major, is president of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, vice-president of the student council, and a member of the G-club, the Inter-fraternity council and varsity halfback on the Pioneer football team.

At the meeting, Hanlin, along with Lonnie Miller, presented a paper on research conducted as did the other Glenville State representatives: Helen Brammer, Alvy Tustin, Lucy Andrick and Cyril Anderson.

Hanlin's and Miller's paper concerned their original investigation on the growth and persistence of root hairs in the radish. In the paper they explained their investigations of what happened after the root hair reached maturity.

Paper Presented

The paper presented by Lucy Andrick and Helen Brammer concerned a study of legume nodules in which they explained their comparisons of the nodule structures of four different legumes collected at four different seasons.

Tustin's paper was on the topic: "Growth Characteristics of the Bread Mold." The paper concerned a study of different types of bread mold under different conditions and the measurement of spore germination and early growth.

Anderson's paper was titled: "The Effect of Gases on the Rate of the Heartbeat of the Chick Embryo." For his report, Cy compiled statistics showing changes in the rate that the heart showed when the embryo was kept under pure quantities of each of the following gases: Oxygen, hydrogen and carbon dioxide.

Anderson, Brammer and Tustin are members of the local Science club while Miller, Hanlin and Andrick, although not affiliated locally, are members of the state association.

Constitutional Committee Formed LBH Legislature Is Given Green Light

By William A. Harper

A two-thirds majority of the residents of Louis Bennett hall voted for the establishment of a student-governing body for the dormitory in a sweeping gesture for furthering the proposal at a recent meeting of the men with Dean of Men G. Gordon Kingsley.

After three weeks of discussion and arbitration of the matter, the group decided on the long fomenting question of student supervision of dormitory affairs.

Men present at the meeting immediately after voting for the establishment of the council elected a committee to prepare a tentative constitution. This group will select a chairman and begin work this week, they said.

When resolutions to be embodied in the constitution are drawn up they will be put to a vote before the men of the hall. If it is not approved, according to officials, a new constitution will have to be formulated.

American University Head To Deliver Annual Address

Dr. Paul Douglass Is Named to Speak Here at Exercises for 127 Graduates

Dr. Paul F. Douglass, president of American university, Washington, D. C., will deliver the annual commencement address at Glenville State college May 28 in the school auditorium, President Harry B. Heflin announced yesterday.

The speaker will address the 1951 graduating class of approximately 127 students.

14 Students Attend Home Ec. Meeting

Fourteen students from the college home economics department attended the West Virginia Home Economics College club meeting at Jackson's Mill last Friday and Saturday.

Five of the girls represented Glenville State in a style show held Saturday afternoon. The girls who participated in the show were Helen Brammer, Elizabeth Boyce, Betty Langford, Marilyn Black, and Lenore Durham.

The meeting featured panel discussions, group discussion, exhibits, and was climaxed with a banquet on Saturday evening.

Those attending were Jane Myers, who is the president of the campus home economics club, Professors Lillian Chaddock and Naomi Albanese, Shirley Osbourne, Nancy Simms, Ruby Campbell, Georgia Reed, Elizabeth Marks, Jean James,

Week Team Completes Tour

Shown above are the members of the Glenville State college Pioneer Week Team which has just completed a tour of area high schools with a program of music and other forms of entertainment. The group has also performed here. Sitting are Caroline Boyd and Prof. Max Liptrap. Standing, left to right, are Brent Cool, Donald Arbogast, Frank Fultineer and Myron Mason.

Foods Department Holds Open-House for Faculty

The foods department held open house for the members of the faculty last Wednesday evening after the group's meeting.

The purpose of the open house was to give the members a chance to see the new drapes, which were made by the clothing department and the four new Tappan gas ranges.

One of these ranges, which were donated to Glenville State college by the Calhoun Super Service, is completely automatic. A new Frigidaire mangle was also given to the school.

Refreshments consisting of apple pie, ice cream, and coffee were served to the guests.

Far Reaching Program

This week several students will be taking the dreaded "comprehensive" examinations. Many of them will wonder why, as they sweat through the two-hour tests.

If students would take a long-range view of the exams they would understand and thank the college of Glenville for giving an opportunity which many students in other schools do not have.

They are not objective tests as many of us think, but are diagnostic. A doctor of medicine uses all sorts of instruments to learn what is wrong with his patient. Glenville State college uses the "comprehensive" test as a means of discerning prospective teachers' needs and shortcomings; to protect us from incapacity in the future.

Essentially the tests are diagnostic, not objective. They are designed to aid, not hinder; they are administered in time for the student to choose another field if he is lacking in one. The purpose of the tests is to discover the weak spots in the preparation of students for teaching soon enough for them to be corrected.

Students apparently do not realize the far-reaching effects of this system. The two-year-old program has been copied by other schools—at least similar programs have been adopted—and Dean Edwin P. Adkins said he has had inquiries concerning the matter from schools as distant as one in California.

The dean also pointed out that school superintendents and principals—students' potential employers—have expressed favorable comment regarding the program.—B. H.

Controversial Project

At last definite action has been taken on the three-weeks old proposal to establish a men's governing body for Louis Bennett hall.

After presentation to the residents of Louis Bennett the long-range project seemed to have been forgotten. However, it was lifted from the doldrums to which it had sunk last Wednesday night at a meeting of the men.

Great strides were taken to solve the problem of discipline and other matters accruing to dormitory life when the project was voted into being by a two-thirds majority.

This does not mean that a governing body has been established, for a duly elected committee has been designated to draw up a constitution upon which will rest the council's work.

If, when the bill is prepared, it does not meet with approval, it can be abrogated by the committee's constituents and a new one assimilated. This is a checkmate that must be kept in mind.

We urge all men to vote for a constitution which is satisfactory to them. This can have a lasting effect on Louis Bennetts and under no circumstances should it be "railroaded" through.

This may seem a trivial matter to outsiders, but to those whom it concerns it is by no means unimportant. In fact, we dub it the most expedient legislation for men here in many a moon.

We also take this opportunity to urge the committee to work with alacrity in drawing up the constitution, exercising, of course, the greatest caution possible.

There is no time for procrastination.—B. H.

Kee Elected Junior Class President

Carlyle Kee, Elkview, was elected president of the class of '53 at a special election held in the auditorium April 30.

Others officers elected at that time were: vice-president, Robert Allen, Elkview; secretary, Ruby Cromwell, Elkview; treasurer, Lonnie Miller, Webster Springs. Kee, a chemistry major, is a charter member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity and was recently elected treasurer of that organization.

Miss Cromwell, the newly-elected secretary, is a library science major, a member of the Omhingohow Players and the Woman's Athletic association.

Allen, a business major, is a member of the Holy Roller Court and is active in campus athletics.

Miller, the newly-elected treasurer, is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, the Glenville State football team and drummer for Brent Cool's Collegians.

TRAVELING IN WEST VIRGINIA

Huntington's Ritter Park

HUNTINGTON — Hugging the West Virginia foothills and sloping gently toward an attractive residential section is Ritter Park, largest of Huntington's many recreation areas.

A brief drive or a brisk walk south eastward from downtown Huntington will bring you to Ritter's main entrance at the head of Tenth Street. Pass through the gateway and you will be in a land of trees and flowers and decorative shrubbery. Here are more than 100 acres devoted to outdoor recreation within walking distance of the city's busy commercial center and some of its large industries.

The park received national recognition recently when its landscaped gardens were chosen as experimental sites by the Public Rose Garden Committee of the All-American Rose Selections. This means that new varieties of the rose family should adorn the already colorful landscape this summer.

Springtime apparently arrives early in Ritter Park, for already a considerable number of visitors are to be found there, some of them strolling through the woods or across the lawns and others driving slowly along the paved roadways.

One of the gardens is planted solidly in vari-colored pansies, and some of these were already peeping bright heads through the warming earth to sample the April sun.

The entire park is expertly landscaped, but the gardens are carefully terraced and cared for meticulously. Some of the areas are encircled by walls of tawny fieldstone and are interlaced by red brick walkways.

Dense clumps of evergreens are plentiful and other trees of the forest adorn the hillsides, harboring a large bird population which fills the air with constant chirps and whistled melodies.

Hard-surfaced roads lead through wooded areas to secluded picnic sites with benches, tables and open fireplaces. Scenic views of the park and the surrounding countryside may be enjoyed at many points along the way.

Holy Roller Court Judge Curtis Kiddy reports that the annual Court Ball which was held Friday in the Glenville State gymnasium was enjoyed by a large crowd and enabled the Court to realize a profit.

Judge Kiddy also reported that the Court served lemonade and furnished six guides for the senior day celebration held on the campus last Thursday.

Kappa Sigma Kappa Newly elected Kappa Sig officers were officially installed at the fraternity's last meeting, according to secretary Frank Stanevich.

Stanevich also reported that the group decided to hold a fraternity party some time within the next two weeks.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Sigma Tau secretary Alexander Jokay reports that the fraternity voted at the last meeting to accept the petition for membership presented by two local fraternities at Wayne University.

Sigma Tau athletic committee chairman Tony Megna reports that softball games will be arranged with other campus fraternities before the end of the term.

Large Crowd Jams Auditorium to See G-Club Minstrel

An overflow crowd jammed the Glenville State auditorium last week to witness a laugh-filled presentation of the annual G-club Minstrel.

Providing the laughs as end men were Lawrence Cooper, Robert Hardman, Harry Smith, and Edmund Janiszewski. Interlocuter was James Cook, and Jean Chedester was pianist.

Music in the Dixie-land style was presented by a band consisting of Brent Cool, Lonnie Miller, Myron Mason, Prof. Max Liptrap, and Carl Galsani.

Special acts were presented by: Brent Cool, Joan Person, Billy Harlin, Donald Arbogast, Caroline Boyd, and Prof. Harold Orendorff.

Chorus for the show included: Joan Person, Elsie Elswick, Caroline Boyd, Jean Chedester, Donald Arbogast, Joseph Arbogast, Frank Buckland, Charles Dodrill, James

Pioneers Pound Wesleyan Nine For 13-8 League Win; Tigers Edge Wavemen, 4-2

Laughlin, Pugh, Riddel,
Rader, Wall, Clout Knocks
In Two-Game Home Stand

By Ronnie Rollins
Salem Centerfielder, Joe Yurchak, a Polish lad with a razor-sharp batting eye, clouted a homer and a bounding triple here in the Rohrbough Park "Mud Bowl" last Friday afternoon and Yurchak's hitting, coupled with Tiger Parucha's pitching, was enough to give the peppery Salem college Tigers a narrow 4-2, nod over the Pioneers of GSC in a rain-abbrivated WVIC tiff.

The monsoons came too late for the slugging Glenville fielders for had the game been halted an inning earlier by the downpour, the Wavemen would have trooped from the diamond with a 2-1, edge.

It was an air-tight pitching duel for the five innings between Pioneer Cecil Johnson and diminutive Tiger flinger Walt Parucha. Towering right-hander Johnson stayed out in front of the Tigers after Yurchak's first-inning prodigious homer until the fourth and fifth when the invaders nicked Cecil for five base bolts and the two tie-breaking runs.

Coach Joseph's fielders staged their mild uprising in the last of the fourth when they tagged Parucha for three bingles and two runs. Pugh opened with a single, stole to second; Ball singled, sending Pugh to third; and Jim Laughlin's single, plus an error on Yurchak, allowed both men to score.

Pugh, Ball and Laughlin each rapped out singles for Glenville while Yurchak with two for three and Parucha with a two-bagger were loud at the platter for Salem.

Non-Support Charge

The fielding chart of the Glenville State Pioneer diamondmen had more errors in it than a freshman theme—10 to be exact—here in rain-drenched Rohrbough park last Thursday afternoon but despite this rash of Glenville misdeeds, the rapid-rising Wavemen still had enough slugging power to romp to a clean-cut, 13-8, verdict over Wesleyan's Bobcats.

The sporadic Pioneers looked lousy afield in the tiff with the Methodists so the locals had to make up for their spotty backing with a booming stick attack. G-men did just that as they pounded two Bobcat flingers for a grand total of 16 base knocks, including a triple and three doubles.

Gene White, senior southpaw, should have sued his teammates for non-support in error-riddled melee. White was the lefty who tossed 'em across for the winning GSC nine but at times it looked as if the Bobcats might shell

Whitey from the hill.

All in all, Whitey restricted the Bobcats to eight bingles, walked one and fanned four. The first inning was the most turbulent for Ace White as Wesleyan counted four runs on one hit and four Wave errors. After that, White kept everything under control.

First Sacker Jim Laughlin again was the leading hitter for the Glenville nine. Laughlin pounded out three solid singles, good for three RBI, but Joe Rader with two for four, one a double, Bob Pugh with two for four, one a triple, and Joe Riddel with a two-bagger added punch to the Wave pill-mauling spree.

Coach Joseph's fielders, after trailing 6-2, for three innings, blasted Bobcat chucker M. Laughlin for eight solid base raps and six runs in the fourth to assume a 8-6, lead. Wesleyan tied it at 8-8, in the fifth but after that the locals never were in hot water.

JIM COOK ESTABLISHES NEW SHOT PUT RECORD BUT WHITE WAVE GETS LAST PLACE IN TRI-MEET

Pioneers Grab 30½ Points;
D-E Senators Are First
With 73; Fairmont 2nd

By Ronnie Rollins

Muscular Jim Cook, the ex-Pioneer footballer with muscles in his shot, reared back and heaved the shot put 38 feet and eight inches, establishing a new record, in the Triangular Collegiate Track Meet in Elkins last Friday but Cook's herculean efforts alone weren't enough as the Pioneer trackmen finished third in the meet with a disappointing 30 and 1-2 points.

Glenville runners chased in last behind Davis Elkins' harriers who posted 73 markers and Fairmont State's sprinters who registered 56 and 1-2 points.

The G-men cinder path squad, 15 in number, simply didn't have it in the three-team meet. Local trackmen were lacking in the dashes, the broad jump, and the high jump and they lacked the overall stamina that they manifested in the GAZETTE Relays two weeks ago.

Aside from Cook's long toss of the iron ball, the Wavemen had little to write home about. Pioneers did finish second in the medley relay, pole vault, while Frank Stanovich copped first place in the discus throw with a pitch of 118' seven inches.

Here is the way the meet unfolded. Butcher, Keeney, Gandee, and Arnold were the members on the GSC Mile Relay team that grabbed a third. In the Medley Relay, "Doc" Frame, Don Weaver, Allan Keeney, and Bob Arnold combined to post a second.

Roland Wise was third in the mile run while Fleet "Doc" Frame was fourth in the 220-yard dash. Jim Cook was first in the shot put while Stanovich was third with 35.8.

Cook was also fourth in the high hurdles while Arne Wilson in the pole vaulting.

Stanovich walked away with the discus throwing honors while Cook (Him again?) placed third with a heave of 101' 3". Roland Wise finished second in the 880-yard run.

Enroute to the summit, the road passes six surfaced tennis courts and a children's play area with swings, slides and other equipment. Anxious parents may keep an eye on the youngsters from shaded picnic tables located nearby.

Four Pole Creek divides and is bordered by paved driveways. Lying south of Four Pole is most of the park's 100 acres, while the northerly part constitutes the park's "front yard." In the immediate vicinity of this area there are several flower beds, a section usually reserved for use by small children and their nurses or parents and a well-planned recreation area with facilities for softball and other games. The lawn, grassy and level, is used extensively by croquet players.

wide and convenient roads. Built in a natural bowl formed by easy slopes from three directions, the theater has a seating capacity of 7,500 and is regularly used by downtown organizations for pageants, plays and stage productions of every sort. Large parking areas are provided nearby.

The people of Huntington show an active interest in Ritter Park, and an annual Autumn practice of the park's management brings them out in droves. On an appointed day each year, generally during the first week of November, the fall pruning is done. This is publicized widely by local newspapers and radio stations. The pruned cuttings suitable for slips are distributed on a "first come first serve" basis, and in recent years a great number of persons have established beautiful rose bushes in their home gardens by availing themselves of this opportunity.

Down With Bureaucracy!

A Virginia woman wrote President Truman once, saying she'd read that he was going to get rid of some of his bureaus.

"I am fitting up a new house and don't have too much to spend for furniture," she explained. "How about letting me have some of your bureaus?"

The President replied that he was keeping all his bureaus, but how would she like a second-hand, no-good Cabinet?
