Commencement Exercises Set For Monday

127 Seniors Will Hear Principal Graduation Address by Dr. Douglass

Approximately 127 seniors will hear Dr. Paul F. Douglass, president of the American University, Washington, D. C., at impressive commencement exercises Monday at 10 a. m. in the Greenville State college auditorium.

Program details for the 1951 graduation ceremonies have been completed, Dr. Harry B. Heflin said yesterday.

The seniors will march into the auditorium to the strains of the traditional processional music after which the college orchestra under the direction of Miss Bertha Olsen will play "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Aida Overture."

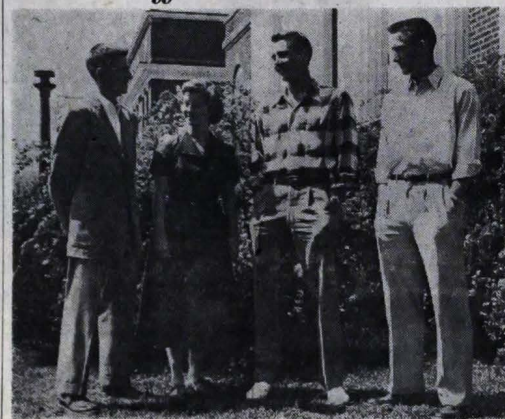

Rev. DeBlock
The Rev. Cornelius DeBlock will then deliver the invocation, followed by the college choir singing "Dark Water" and "Onward Ye People."

Then will come the commencement address by Dr. Douglass, followed by the presentation of the 1951 class.

President Heflin will confer degrees upon the candidates and the meeting will be concluded with a brief address by an official of the state board of education.

Recessional music will mark the end of the program.

Senior Officers Pose

Ruby Cromwell Is Elected To Ohningohow Presidency

Ruby Cromwell, '53, was elected president of the Ohningohow Players for the 1951-52 school year at a meeting of that group last week.

Other officers elected at that time were: vice-president, William Boram '53; secretary, Christine Ryer '54; treasurer, Claudette Hefner '53.

The newly-elected president is a graduate of Elkview high school and is majoring in Library Science. Miss Cromwell is a member of the Women's Athletic association and was recently elected secretary of the junior class for next year.

Boram, the new vice-president, is president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, treasurer-elect of the Student Council, a member of the Inter-Fraternity Council and a reporter for the Mercury.

Glenville State Bulletin Released

The Glenville State college bulletin, a catalogue covering the following two-year period, was released last week.

Unlike the bulletins of the past, this year's catalogue will cover the 1951-52 and 1952-53 school years. For this reason this bulletin is larger and more complete than those previously published.

The most significant change that is brought out in the new bulletin concerns room and board payments. Room and board for this period will be increased approximately one dollar per week for each dormitory student.

Payment of room and board for this period has been changed also. Beginning next year, these payments will be made quarterly, instead of monthly as they now are.

Board Will Be Raised At Beginning of Term

Board will be raised $1.00 per week beginning next fall, President Harry B. Heflin has announced.

The president said the price was upped because of higher prices.

Annual Tea for Seniors Is Scheduled for Sunday

The annual tea for members of the graduating class, their parents and friends, will be held at the home of President and Mrs. Harry B. Heflin Sunday from 3 until 5 p. m.

All seniors and faculty members are invited to attend.

Test Deadline Is Extended

The deadline for receipt of Selective Service College Qualification Test applications has been extended to May 25 by Selective Service, Dean of Men G. Gordon Kingsley has announced.

All applications must be in the hands of Educational Testing Service by May 25, he said.

Applications are no longer being processed for the May 26th examination and no further tickets can be issued for that date, he advised.

Students who wish to take the test must secure, complete, and mail applications at once, Kingsley warned.

Home Economics Club To Hold Senior Outing

The home economics club of Glenville State college is holding an outing and breakfast next Saturday morning in honor of the graduating seniors who are majoring in home economics.

The group will start from the campus at 7:30 and hike to Pool's Park where they will eat breakfast.

Seniors who will be honored are: Shirley Osbourne, Doris Davis, Juanita Allman, Georgia Reed, Ruby Campbell, and Mary Simon. Nancy Sims is chairman of the foods committee.

1926 Class To Observe Birthday

Dr. Shurtliff to Speak at Alumni Banquet

Dr. Oliver Shurtliff, Morris Harvey college, will be the principal speaker at the third annual Glenville State college alumni banquet Saturday at Kanawha hall on the GSC campus.

A former Glenville State teacher, Shurtliff was dean of Fairmont State college before going to Morris Harvey. He is past district governor of the Rotary club.

The class of 1926, known as the Willa Brand class, will observe its 25th birthday anniversary at this time.

The 1911, 1912 and 1913 class members will be given special recognition at the banquet, and honored guests will be past presidents and faculty members.

Special Music
Special music, directed by Prof. Harold S. Orendorff, will be heard during the program for an estimated 200 persons who are expected to attend.

Preceding the banquet there will

Spring Revue To Be Thursday

Liptrap Production Will Feature Star Studded Cast of GS Faculty, Students

The Glenville State college Spring Revue will be held in the auditorium Thursday evening at 8:15. It will consist of three major scenes and several between curtain acts.

The first scene is a Fair-Carnival scene and will include folk singing, folk dancing, acrobats, a juggler, clowns and all of the gaiety and hilarity associated with a carnival.

The second scene will be a parody on the student union and will give a brief, slightly exaggerated glimpse of a so-called "ordinary" day at the union. This scene is entitled, "The Club Union."

Quartet Will Serenade
The third scene is entitled Spring-Love. The whole scene will be a continuously animated portrait showing the effects of moonlight and soft music. In this scene Claudette Hefner will be serenaded by the quartet with "When You Were Sweet Sixteen" and two of the Orendorff children will show that love often hits the youngest generation also.

The quartet will consist of Myron Mason, Donald Arbogast, Joe Arbogast and Charles Dodrill. Featured in this scene will be the vocal ensemble who are Carolyn Spurgeon, Joan Person, Myron Mason, Don Arbogast, Robert Milligan, and Charles Dodrill.

There will be two between curtain acts. One will be a George Kaufman skit, "If Men Played Cards As Women Do," featuring four faculty members.

Featured in the Club Union scene will be Brent Cool and his band and Barbara Faulks and Elene White who will do an act impersonating the Dolly Sisters, an act of the vaudeville days. James Cook will be the master of ceremonies during the scene.

Stage hands will be William Surber, James Cook, and Wayne Cunningham and Professor E. B. Elder will be in charge of the lighting. The Revue is under the direction of Professor Max E. Liptrap.

All students and faculty members will be admitted on their activity books. All other admissions will be $25 per person.

Closing the program will be a hymn by the congregation, "God Moves in a Mysterious Way."

Student Paintings To Be Displayed At Art Exhibit

The art department is holding an exhibit Thursday, May 24 from 3 to 5 o'clock in the art room.

The exhibits will include several pictures which were painted by the first semester Art 101 painting class, and several pictures made by the second semester Art 202 drawing class. Also on exhibit will be designs, crafts and pictures completed by the Art 200 Elementary teachers art class.

Refreshments will be served consisting of punch and cookies prepared by the home economics department. Miss Shirley Osbourne will be in charge of the serving and several students will act as hostesses and hosts.

Adkins, Heflin Give Commencement Talk

Dean Edwin P. Adkins and President Harry B. Heflin delivered commencement exercises at four area high schools this week.

President Heflin gave an address entitled "Preparing for Normal Living" at Spencer Thursday night. Yesterday he delivered a graduation address at Sutton, and the day before at Sistersville high school.

Dean Adkins gave the commencement address at Walton on Thursday night. The topic of his talk was "Wanted: A Guiding Star."

Inter-Society Council Holds Final Meeting

The Men's Inter-Society Council held their final meeting of the year Wednesday night in Louis Bennett lounge with president Curtis Kiddy presiding.

An informal discussion was held concerning various sore spots in the group's constitution. The main issues that were debated were the questions of membership, punishment for rule violations and possible sponsorship of activities by the Council.

The final business transacted at the meeting was the appointment by president Kiddy of William Boram as chairman of the Council until new officers can be elected at the first meeting next fall.

Members present at the meeting were: William Boram, William Harper, Billy Radcliff, William J. Surber, Harold Wise, President Kiddy and faculty adviser, G. Gordon Kingsley.

Myers Is Named To Presidency Of Kanawha Hall

Jane Myers was elected president of Kanawha hall for next year at a house meeting May 9. She will replace Winona Spurgeon, who has held that office for the past year.

Also elected was Carol Mick as vice-president, and Daphne Whyt-sell as secretary-treasurer, replacing Shirley Porter and Mary Catherine Brake.

The new and old officers of Kanawha hall met at the new and old officers of Verona Maple hall at Miss Pearl Pickens' house last Tuesday evening for a social meeting.

JOE P. BAIL

Joe P. Bail Resigns For New Position

Prof. Joe P. Bail, of the agriculture department, has resigned his post at Glenville State college to take up a job as assistant professor in the department of rural agriculture at West Virginia university, President Harry B. Heflin has reported.

Bail, who came to Glenville three years ago, will leave GSC July 1. Before coming to Glenville the popular young instructor taught at Spencer high school. A native of Nicholas county he has resided here with his wife and family.

Prof. Bail has been active in agriculture work here, both at the school and in community affairs. He has been instrumental in building the college farm into a major part of the campus.

Pennsboro High School Seniors Visit Campus

A group of high school seniors from Pennsboro visited the campus last week, and two of the group enrolled for the fall term before leaving, President Harry B. Heflin announced.

The group was taken on a tour of the campus and college farm.

Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Avery Dotson, teachers at Pennsboro.

Undeserved Criticism

The Men's Inter-Society council, which was formed on campus this year, has had much criticism directed its way during the last few weeks—some of it justified—much of it decidedly unwarranted.

The Council has been criticized as being too weak—as being unable to enforce rules that affect the groups who make up its membership.

Perhaps the Council is weak—but whose fault is it? A chain is only as strong as its weakest link and the Council can only be as strong as its most deadhead member.

One of the biggest factors in the weakening of the group has been poor attendance at meetings. Many times important action must be shelved because a large enough group is not present at the meeting.

Another thing that has hindered the group has been the refusal of member organizations to comply with rules voted and passed upon by all concerned. It would seem that if one of the member groups did not favor a proposal, they would not vote for its approval. However, it has been revealed in the past that certain rules, after having been unanimously approved, were then deliberately broken the first time they affected the group.

It is action such as this that has weakened the Inter-Society Council during its first year. However, all the factors behind the group's weakening lie directly with the members themselves. They and they alone are to blame.

But taking the results of the Council's first year of operation in a larger sense, it can be seen that conditions are not as bad as they might at first appear. The Council sponsored what was perhaps the best dance that was held on campus this year, even though they did not break even on expenses. One of its main purposes—that of bringing campus men's organizations closer together—has been at least partially realized. Another factor that must not be forgotten is that even though mistakes have been made this year, something is being done to correct them for future Councils. Members of next year's Council are already making plans for a revision of the constitution which will correct many of its weakest points.

Considering the situation from all angles, it appears that the Inter-Society Council's greatest weakness lies in the difference of its own members. If the Council's members say that the group is weak, people will think that it is weak. If the members will work to make it stronger, the Society can not help but be stronger.—B. Boram.

No Monthly Visits

We are inclined to question (that's all) the new rule laid down in some scheduled corner of the administration building which demands quarterly payment of room and board by students at Glenville State, beginning next year.

Naturally we don't mind paying our room and board fees. In fact it has become a pleasant interlude during the month to stop by and chat with Secretary Lloyd Jones. (He has many other handles, but editorially we will refer to him as "Good Old Lloyd.") Our conversation runs something like this when we pay our respects (as well as fees) every four weeks:

"Hello."
"You're four weeks late."
"The bonus didn't come through."
"The auditor may be in any day."
"I'm sorry."
"Don't let it happen again."
"O. K."
"Thanks."
"I'll see you again."

You can see why we'll miss these monthly visits. Its outrageous, in fact, to think of not getting to pay our official visit more than four times a year. Living will be unbearable.

Besides that, this will bring hardship to many students who rely on their school checks to pay for room and board. Even now, those checks come in late and men have to pay late.

No doubt that is the reason for the change. However, it seems to us that the present system is the best. It is doubtful if the college ever lost very much in unpaid room and board fees.

"Oh well," as Prof. Eckman says, "that's life." — B. Harper.

Dear Seniors:

Glad to see that you made it. Hope the rest of us can be as lucky some day.

Bill

Harper's

Harper's extends an appeal to all Glenville State college crew cut wearers to stand together in an hour of need. The cult is being jeopardized.

According to a recent United Press release a group of Hollywood actresses have branded crew cuts as "sexless, and juvenile." They added fuel to their upstart fire by implying that this modern style makes the male's hair look like upturned brushes.

GRITTT

"So how can a woman run her hand through a crew cut," said Virginia Mayo.

GRITTT

Liz Taylor said she likes fellows with curly hair, as did Ruth Roman and Gene Tierney.

GRITTT

"A crew cut exposes all the bumps and knobs and hollows in a man's skull," said Jane Russell.

GRITTT

June Haver quipped, "Now the ladies will know what a collection of slopheads, squareheads and fatheads men really are." "I hadn't realized what big ears men had until this crewcut business," Jeanne Crain added.

GRITTT

Who are these self-appointed critics who have taken it upon themselves to ridicule that favorite emblem of the college male, the "Joe-College" as it were, the crew cut.

We point to the many and varied advantages of the crew cut, how easily it can be curled, how dramatic a profile it produces for a picture and the many and distinguished wearers of same.

Robert G. Lewis wears a crew, so does Jack Lilly, and for that matter, Bob Wine. We might also mention Tom Riley and Bill Smith. Needless to say, we could go on and on in pointing to the many illustrious figures whose heads are adorned with these so-called "sexless" cuts.

Men have always had shorter hair, in comparison, than women, which gives us a chance to become vindictive. Observe, friends, the women right here among the sassafra (or maybe its oak) on the hill. Many of them are bearing short, bobbed "sexless" hair styles.

Where did the girls pick up the short hair style? From movie actresses, who set the fashion pace. If the Hollywood feds are right, we're all "slopeheads, squareheads and fatheads." Right Miss McNemar?

CLASS STRUGGLE, by William Surber. Glenville: Mercury Press. $5.04 per copy.

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of satirical book reviews by Mr. Jack McCarty. In his reviews McCarty pokes fun at various institutions and styles of the writers of the day.

William Surber, outstanding honor student of GSC and champion of the masses, has astounded the book world with his expose of subversive activities on the campus of one of America's leading educational institutions—Glenville State College.

The result of his work has been quick and decisive. All faculty members have been subjected to loyalty tests and some have been removed out-right.

Mr. Surber, in his book, reveals both his reasoning and his methods of under-cover work. With one professor, a Mr. Dilgard, Surber was not only able to out-argue him in history class, but he also forced Dilgard to admit that he was a student of state socialism.

Dilgard's weak excuse that he studied state socialism only as one phase of history in order to teach was dismissed, and he was forced to resign.

Mr. Surber also forced the dismissal of another faculty member, Miss Olsen, after proving that she was playing Tchaikovsky and other Russian composers in her music class. Her pathetic plea, that Tchaikovsky and the others were necessary to round out her course, was laughed out of the hearing, and she was drummed out of the corps.

These are but random examples of Mr. Surber's fine work. How far-reaching will be the effects of his book are not calculable, but

Rural Education Problem Is Topic Of Assembly Talk

Problems of Rural Education were discussed at last week's assembly by members of Dr. Eddie C. Kennedy's class in rural education.

The assembly program stemmed from a recent survey made by the group in schools of Ritchie, Braxton, Gilmer, Mason and Calhoun counties.

Object of the survey was to find the community's need regarding the school, where the school system has failed, and whether an altered system would be feasible. The results of the interviews were made known during the program.

Members of the class who participated were: Maxine Elliott, Dan C. Anderson, Ella Ruth Brown, Eugene Hall, Emma G. Reynolds, Jean Adams, Marcia Richmond and James Butcher.

That the knocking act

Requires no brains at all.

When you list' to the growl of the growler,

As you list' to his ceaseless growl,

You will please recall

That a dog is all

SENATORS ROUT WAVEMEN, 24-4

Four D-E Batsmen Clout Homers; Bail, Laughlin Hit

Senators have always been known as people who like to talk and the congressional crew from Davis-Elkins college really felt like filibustering in Elkins last Tuesday afternoon.

Why? Because the Davis-Elkins nine, smouldering for revenge, simply overwhelmed a visiting Glenville diamond machine in Elkins last Tuesday as the pill-pulverizing Senators clubbed out four homers, one triple, and 11 singles in humbling the Pioneers 24-4, in an old-fashioned "grudge battle."

In achieving revenge for an earlier 9-3 loss to the G-men, the primed Senators unleashed one of the mightiest stick attacks seen in the collegiate conference this spring. And when the bedlam had finally subsided and the base paths had cooled off, the G-men were ready to hang up their gloves.

Coach Josephs nominated lanky freshman Jim Cramblett to face the Senators at the outset. Cramblett kept the D-E rumbling for four innings but in the fifth—that mad fifth—Cramblett began to wilt and the solons came to life. All in all, D-E tagged Cramblett for seven hits, and 10 runs, seven of the tallies coming in the fifth, in the 4-2-3 frames he was on the hill.

Walter Slate, rookie sensation, received Cramblett, with two gone on the fifth and State allowed three more runs to come in before he quieted the uprising. But in the sixth—that nightmarish sixth—D-E shelled Slate for six hits and 11 runs as Wavemen committed three errors.

Two Senator stickmen clubbed grand-slam homers. McGaffin socked one over the fence in the fifth while Gallopo got one in the sixth. Kuchar and Waniga also rapped round-trippers for the winners while Lanza got the only triple of the afternoon.

The Pioneers collected seven bingles off Senator chucker Kuchar. Norman Ball was potent at the plate with two for four, one a double, while Jim Laughlin also got two for four. GSC Catcher Shirley Wilson snapped his batting slump in the rout when he drilled a homer for his first time up in the third.

Nine Glenville Miscues Gives West Liberty Nine Narrow 4-3, WVIC Triumph

Gene White Hurls 5-Hit Performance But Spotty Backing Is Wave Downfall

By Ronnie Rollins

Stylish left hander Gene White, cutting the corners with a weaving curve and flogging 'em down the middle in the clutches, rationed out five dinky bingles to the invading West Liberty Hilltoppers here in sun-baked Rohrbough stadium last Friday afternoon but Whitey's teammates committed nine errors afield and as a result the Hilltoppers left town with a narrow 4-3, win.

Whitey's control was sharp and he pitched a masterful game in his last appearance in a Pioneer diamond uniform. Gene went the entire distance for the G-men, walking only one, fanning six, and allowing five base knocks.

All four of the West Liberty runs were unearned. Tom Ackerman, W-L shortstop, started the scoring for the winners when he circled the bags on three Glenville errors in the third and after that the Hilltoppers kept sneaking home while the Pioneer fielders hunted for the ball.

In bowing to the West Liberty club, the G-men saw their spring

Laughlin Leads Loop In Hitting

"Gentleman Jim" Laughlin, Glenville's two-sports all-stater and the white man's version of Jim Thorpe, is unofficially leading the state college baseball conference in hitting with a healthy 500 mark.

Laughlin has handled the lumber 56 times and has collected exactly 27 bingles. This number includes 5 doubles, three triples, and 19 singles. He has also driven in a mounting total of over 25 runs. Quite a guy this Laughlin.

And in answer to many requests, Glenville State college athletic officials have decided that they will try to stagger along with athletic teams after this spring even though Laughlin is graduating.

11, and 9-2, Davis Elkins 24-4, and West Liberty 4-3.

Last Friday's tiff with the Hilltoppers was shaping up as a pitcher's duel after three innings of no-hit ball but in the fourth, the batters found their eyes. Three men—Ball, Butcher, and Laughlin—ole reliable, bunched the hits for GSC. Ball got three for four, one a ringing triple, while Laughlin slapped out a double in three for four, and Ronald Butcher also drilled out three singles in four times up.

Wavemen punched one run across in the fourth when Ball singled and then came in on Laughlin's one-baser. Again in the sixth, Ball tripled and Laughlin plated him with a loud double. Fleet-footed Norman Ball came in with the final GSC tally in the eighth on Laughlin's bingle.

Both nines left 11 men stranded on the bags and four double plays by the opposition didn't abet the Pioneer cause any.

Netmen End Season

Keeney's Club Sets Pace In Softball Loop

Bats are cracking and stoved thumbs are the order of the day in the four-team MAA twilight softball league that opened fire two weeks ago and runners floating around the base paths have it that Allen Keeney's formidable club is the outfit to suppress in the home-run happy league.

Keeney's outfit, boasting strong hitting power and unrivaled pitching depth, has surged to the front in early season dueling as the Keneymen have clubbed Bob Allen's nine 19-7, and Don Arbogast's crew 22-8.

Swifties Sid Adelsberg, the stand-out hurler in the loop, is Keeney's stalwart on the mound while Jack Lilly—the switch-hitter who poled two homers against Arbogast—Bud Cooper, Bill Smith, and Ronnie Mills are the loop-leader's stickmen.

Wise Is Second In 880; Wave Relay Team Scores But Bisons Grab Diadem

By Ronnie Rollins

Trackmen of Glenville State college kicked the dust out of their spikes for the last time of the 1951 cinder path season last Monday afternoon in Bethany when the plucky but outmanned Pioneer harriers trailed in a respectable fourth with 15 points in the six-team WVIC state track meet which Bethany's mercury-shod Bisons won handily with 74 1-2 points.

The rambling Bisons were in a class by themselves as they sprinted to their second straight state track diadem. Bethany was unchallenged in the relay events and the Bisons pulled down seven first places.

Runner-up in the second statewide event was Davis-Elkins with 26 points, while Fairmont posted 32 1-2, Glenville 15, West Liberty 14, and Concord 5.

Here is how the Glenville thin-clads placed. In the 880-yard run, Roland Wise plodded in with a second behind Bethany's Bredie. Time 2:61. Pioneer sprinters grabbed another second place of the meet in the 880-yard relay when a quartet of Butcher, Frame, Fultiner, and Weaver chased in behind Bethany's foursome Time (Continued On Page 4)

Wave medley relay quint also placed third while Wise, Arnold, Keeney, and Hoffman bagged GSC a fourth in the mile relay. Distance-runner Bob Hoffman crossed the finish line with a third in the 2-mile chase.

In the weight-throwing division, the G-men fared a little better. Lanky Jim Cook was third in the shot put which was captured by Tuccio of West Liberty with a heave of 43 feet. Frank Stanovich also added points with a third in the discus throw. Winning distance 131' 2".

Hilltoppers Champs

West Liberty's flawless golfers, owning a winning streak that stretches over three years and includes 24 match triumphs, were never threatened in the WVIC state golf tournament at Oglebay park in Wheeling last Monday and Tuesday as the peerless Hilltoppers posted a low team score of 763 strokes for the 36 holes to bag the cup.

Four Glenville linksmen were also trotting the fairways on the spacious Oglebay course but they weren't even listed in the top ten golfers. Standout golfer of the two-meet was Jim Bartell of W-L with the low medalist score of 140 for the 36 holes, or two under par.

Glenville fairway ace Arne Wilson carded the lowest score for the Glenville foursome as he piced together an 81 and a 92 for a 36-hole total of 173. Par for the picturesque course is 36 out and 35 in for 71.

men, had the second lowest total for the two-day driving and putting meet Rader linked together a 82 and a 92 for a 174 total.

Promising newcomer Paul Hunt, in his first taste of tourney action, was third man on the Pioneer totem pole as he clubbed out a 36-hole total of 181. Hunt had a 21 on the first 18 and a 90 on the last 18.

Dyke Janaszewski, abetted by booming drives but erratic with his irons, rounded out the Wave golfing quintet as he posted a 197 stroke total. Dyke registered a 101 and a 96 for his two days on the greens.
