OHNINGOHOWS REVEAL PLANS

Activities for the coming year were revealed at the first meeting of the Ohningohow Players held last week in the Speech Department.

Miss Marjorie Skelton, new advisor of the organization, stated that three major productions would be presented during the school year. The first production, scheduled for December 13, will be "Dear Ruth," a comedy. Casting for the play will begin next week.

Ruby Cromwell, appointed a committee to plan the float which will be entered in the Homecoming parade. The members appointed are: Julia Stalnaker, chairman; Marjorie Hardman and Bill Waldeck.

Also present at the meeting were the pledges to the organization. Completing the informal initiation last week, the following pledges will be taken into the organization Thursday night in the formal ceremony:

Janet Heron, Jack McCarty, Mabel Moore, Joyce Georgialis, Hobart Chidress, Darrell Morris, Bertha Turner, Dottie Lanham, Betty Jo Simon, Claire Bowles, Frances Summerville, and Jerry Kress.

Safety Film Shown To Chemistry Class

A safety film titled "Safety in the Chemistry Laboratory" was shown last week to classes of Prof. Byron Turner.

The film demonstrated the dangers, precautions and proper technique to be observed while working in the chemistry laboratory.

Those attending the showing were freshman and advanced classes of Professor Turner and the high school class supervised by John Rymer Garrett.

Following the picture was a brief discussion in which some of the more important chemical techniques were stressed.

The movie projector was operated by Robert Milligan, sophomore from Wellsburg.

New Cheerleader Team

Boram Gets Editor's Post; New Staff Members Chosen

By CY ANDERSON

William Boram, Junior English major from Weston, last week received the appointment to the editorship of the Mercury for the coming year.

In addition to his post as editor Boram is serving as president of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, treasurer of the student council, and vice president of the Ohningohow Players. He served with the Mercury staff last year as a reporter.

A new staff to assist Boram in his duties was selected shortly after his appointment.

Carl "Wall Street" Gagliani, from Parkersburg, was reappointed business manager, filling the same position he held last year. Carl, a junior majoring in history, transferred here from Marietta college last year.

335 ENROLLED FOR FALL TERM

Registration figures at the close of September show 335 full time students enrolled at Glenville State college. This is 77 less than the 416 full time students at the same time last year.

Again the freshman class is the largest on the campus with a total of 143 students. The sophomore class follows with 77. The juniors have 69 students, and the seniors, 46. Enrollment totals show that there are 163 men students and 152 women.

Thirty-four counties and four states are represented, as well as Hungary and Puerto Rico. Gilmer leads the counties in number, with Calhoun, Lewis, and Webster following in that order.

Poll Shows Much Controversy

Freshmen Cite Opinions On Rules

By CAROL HUGHES

After student council court each Tuesday, a new opinion of Freshmen rules is adopted by each Freshman. A poll was taken of a few of the Freshmen who have and have not been before the student court. Here are their answers to the question, "What do you think of Freshman rules?"

"Bertie" Turner—"They are nice because when you have to speak to everyone, you soon find out their names, and that way you make more friends."

Betty Dobbins—"By wearing Freshman caps you can tell which kids are Freshmen. By their name tags you can tell who they are and you don't have to ask their names so often."

Bernadine Gregory—"By attending all the pep meetings you ac-

Mercury Musings

By BILL BORAM

Beginning the 1951-52 school year as Editor of the Mercury, we are faced with the seemingly overwhelming job of attempting to fill the shoes of one of the state's most able college journalists, Bill Harper, who transferred to Marshall college for his senior year, was not only an excellent newspaperman but was also a swell fellow. It is only because of the outstanding staff that has joined us this year that we feel we can turn out a paper that can compare with last year's Mercury.

Contrary to the policy advocated by the Mercury most of last year, we will include a gossip column in the paper, at least for a while, until we can discover how the majority of the student body feels about that type of story. One other minor change in this year's paper (Continued on page 2)

Student Committees Named For Year by Council

Student Council President Brent Cool has announced the student committee's, appointed by the Student Council, for the fall session.

Assembly, Carl Gagliani, Doris Perkins, and Joan McNemara; Lyceum, Cecil Johnson and Ann Martin; Supreme Court, William Ice and Winona Spurgeon.

Final Plans Are Completed For Homecoming October 20

Queen and Pioneer Will Be Named In General School Election This Week

By Claudette Hefner

Election of the annual Homecoming Queen and Pioneer today will swing into action final plans for the annual Glenville State College Homecoming activities to be observed Saturday, October 20.

Student Council President Brent Cool announced that the election will follow the procedure of previous years.

CHEERLEADERS ARE SELECTED

Sixty Percent Turnout Of Potential Voters

With 60 per cent of the student body participating in the election held last week, Charles "Chick" Zakarian was named to head the cheerleading staff for the coming year. Other cheerleaders elected were: Dottie Lanham, Betty Sims, and Sally Waggoner.

Chick, a sophomore, hails from Pawtucket, Rhode Island. A graduate of Pawtucket East high school, Chick is a Physical Education major and a member of the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity and the Men's Athletic Association.

A veteran of four years high school cheerleading at Bristol high school, Dottie Lanham, a freshman, is a business major. She is a member of W. A. A. and a pledge to the Ohningohow Players.

Betty Sims, a Parkersburg high school graduate, is a freshman majoring in Home Economics. She is a member of W. A. A.

Serving on the cheerleading staff for a second term, Sally Waggoner, '54, is a graduate of Wirt county high school. She is a Physical Education major and a member of W. A. A.

The cheerleaders made their first appearance at the Salem-Glenville game at Grantsville Saturday night.

GSC Students Begin Directed Teaching

Seven Glenville State college students have been assigned directed teaching posts and some have begun teaching. The work is being conducted through the Glenville public schools.

In the elementary field, Shirley Porter is teaching in kindergarten; French Hamrick, second grade; and Roger Nicholas, sixth grade.

Secondary teachers are Brack Davis in the field of biology and social studies; Marilyn Black and Betty Langford, commerce and home economics; and Jack Lilly, commerce and social studies.

* The queen and pioneer will be named from the senior class at a general election today while the princesses, who will make up the queen's court, will be elected by the end of the week by the respective classes.

Principal events of the day-long celebration will be a parade at 10 a. m., a coronation on the campus following the parade, a football game at 2 p. m., Glenville vs. Shepherd, and the annual homecoming dance. Dave Casto's 7-piece orchestra from Buckhannon will furnish the music. A special price of $1.50 per couple will be charged for students.

Bands To Appear

Four bands who have indicated they will accept invitations to appear here for the event are Richwood, Calhoun, Webster Springs, and Burnsville. Also present will be the newly organized Glenville State College band under the direction of Prof. Harold S. Orendorf.

These school bands will be given a free noon meal and opportunity to play both in the parade and before the game. They also will stage a half-time program at the football game on Rohrbough Field and may play a concert down town.

Conference Room Established For GSC History Dept.

By LORETTA POLING

The social science department of Glenville State college now has an office located on the first floor of the Administration building. Professors Stanley Hall, Gay Jones and Bessie B. Bell have daily conference hours when students may consult them.

Mr. Jones, who has been absent from the Glenville State faculty for two years, has completed his doctorate work at West Virginia University where he did part-time teaching and research. Mr. Jones will graduate with the spring graduating class at the University.

Approximately 100 freshmen who are enrolled in four history classes are receiving up-to-date information on world affairs through a weekly magazine. A newly-organized class on International Relations is also being taught by Mr. Jones each Tuesday evening.

Miss Bell was a recent visitor in Washington, D. C., where she witnessed a portion of the discussion on the Foreign Aid bill. She also visited Mount Vernon and several other scenic and historical spots.

Freshman Guides Named From Sophomore Class

Guides for freshman week were again chosen this year from the sophomore class. These freshman guides were each assigned a group of freshmen and helped their charges through their first week of college life.

Serving as freshman guides this year were: Willadean Clarkson, Dorothy Brannon, Nancy Harris, Christine Hyer, Robert Milligan, Billy Radcliff, Charles Dorrill, Glen William Smith, William Rouse, and William Smith.

New Year Promises Change

Another September rolls around and a new school year begins once more at Glenville State. The situation to begin with is the same; very little change can be noticed between this school opening and those of the past.

Once more a large, enthusiastic freshman class comprising almost half the total school enrollment mixes with the returning upperclassmen much in the same manner as former student bodies have done.

Aside from a few minor instances, the beginning of a new school year on the hilltop has varied little from the usual pattern . . . but this beginning is undoubtedly the only part of the school year that will follow the pattern of former years.

Last year we followed the actions of many Pioneer athletes who will never again fight for the blue and white in a contest of skill. Several instructors whom we grew to admire and respect are no longer helping to direct our studies; many campus improvements will forever conceal the school as we have previously known it. Yes, there are new faces, new customs, new sights all around us.

With the coming of so many new things, we are given the opportunity to enjoy new experiences, make new friendships, develop new customs. Although the beginning is the same, the remainder of the school year is certain to hold a multitude of different experiences for us all. We anticipate a school year filled with as many exciting and varied happenings as any of those of past years . . . it's something to look forward to.—W. A. B.

Colorful Occasion Planned

The annual Homecoming festivities, planned for October 20, promise to hold as much color and excitement this year as they have in the past.

Probably the high point in the college social calendar, the Homecoming celebration will include a parade, election of queen and princesses, a football game, and a dance. With these features there is sure to be the color and pageantry that accompanies this most joyous occasion.

Naturally a celebration as large as Homecoming, is certain to require complete cooperation from every member of the student body, faculty, and town. This cooperation in the past has been as much as could be asked for and is expected to be the same this year. It seems almost as if the very sparkle and dash of the occasion inspires something extra from all.

Homecoming at Glenville State this year will take a lot of planning and a lot more work but there is no possibility of its being a failure—it wouldn't be Homecoming if it were.—W. A. B.

Think It Over

Have you ever been the subject of ridicule by your fellow classmates?

Have you ever been a cheerleader? Have you ever sat in the stands and poked fun at a cheerleader trying to gain attention and interest to lead a yell, but failing to do so because of lack of cooperation among the fans?

Have you ever taken time out to observe the facial expressions of a cheerleader undergoing the literally speaking factor of "being ignored by the crowd"? Did he act as if he were enjoying himself? Does humiliation before hundreds pave the way toward having a good time for the individual that is being humiliated?

Most important of all, do you think you would enjoy a cheerleading role under similar circumstances?

Do a little introspecting. Would it take you long to come up with an answer? It is subject for thought from which only individual conclusions may be drawn, don't you think?

Think it over carefully. Put yourself in the cheerleader's shoes. Then, bury your dignity and go to the next ball game and blow your top. Make the cheerleaders happy. Inspire the team.

It's funny, but it's true. A highly inspired ball club owns half the victory before the game starts.—B. L.

Boggs from Clay. Boggs is a sophomore and a transfer student from W. Va. Tech.

Sports publicity will be handled this year by Billy Lilly, a junior English major from Beckley, and a transfer student from Beckley college. Lilly has already been active in covering the football games.

Freshman Darrell Morris from Elkview will be in charge of the sports page. Morris is also a member of the new governing body of Louis Bennett Hall. He formerly worked as a reporter for the Charleston Daily Mail and was the editor of his high school newspaper and annual when a senior.

Several students have volunteered their services as reporters for the coming year, including:

Genelda Hardway, sophomore from Cowen, majoring in elementary;

Claudette Hefner, junior commerce major from Burnsville;

Marilyn Hartenstine, sophomore physical education major from Williamstown; and Marjorie Hardman, a junior from Burnsville, who will handle the "gossip" column.

Two freshmen, Carol Hughes, of Summerville, and Loretta Poling, of Grantsville, will also be covering regular beats this year. Both girls were editors of their high school papers, and Loretta spends her spare time as a linotype operator for the Glenville Democrat.

Cy Anderson, senior biology major from Glenville, will help with both reporting and photography for the Mercury.

Clarence Maze, business education major from Big Bend will assist with reporting and serve as secretary of the news bureau.

ACROSS the TABLE

By Marjorie Hardman

"Jes' dropped in to say 'howdy.'" As old members of this campus we wish to welcome the Freshmen to share with us our cares and woes. You are young and so naive—but it looks as though you're learning fast.

Claire Bowles displayed her progress by a sign to stay out of the bushes. Hodge Hissam may be a new-comer but he was quick to find the old places (of interest).

Of course we always have a few intellectuals who spend their free hours at the library. Loretta Poling and Ron Godfrey seem to have a permanent reservation on the front steps!

We didn't know that Coach was sending the boys to Camden Flats for the work-outs. Bernard Jolley should be in shape after his night-ly trip.

We see Sid "Romeo" Adelsburg is at it again. The first on the list this year is Wanda Carol Taylor. Who'll be next?

Everyone on campus has met Janet "Jitterbug" Heron except her one and only dream, Frank Vincent. Frank, you had better open your eyes and look at your ardent admirer.

Poor Betty Dobbins can't seem to decide which stragling stag to bless with her charming company. Lee Woodburn and Charles Hoffman will have to draw straws.

Bill Waldeck is starting the year with a new slate. First on the board this year is Doris Spicer from Gauley Bridge. Better watch her, Bill, her sister may have given her the "word".

One of our new cheerleaders, Dottie Lanham, will have a rousing incentive to yell when basketball season starts as her own Bob Poole will be out there on the hardwood (she hopes).

We extend our welcome to "Bear" Jordan who is back with us again. Let's hope the Marines will leave him here for at least the rest of football season.

Truck driving must have paid well this summer from the looks of that "hunk of ice" Norene Lipps has on her left hand third finger. Same song; second verse; could be better, probably worse, Margaret Westfall—Frank Stanevich, Jean Reed—Ronnie Mills, Martha Gainer—Jim Ball, Shirley Porter—Jack Lilly, Christine Hyer—Carleton Gande, Julia Stalnaker—Frank Fultineer.

"Oops, almost forgot—Howdy." See you next week.

Supervisors of All 3 Dorms Replaced

This year is being started with new directors to each of the dormitories. Mrs. William Smythe has replaced Mrs. Hazel K. Marshall at Verona Mapel, Mrs. Charles Lilly has replaced Miss Naomi Albanese at Kanawha Hall, and Don Barker has replaced Carlos Ratliff at Louis Bennett.

Mrs. Smythe, who is from Charleston, is a widow and has three children, a son, who is a minister in Virginia, a daughter, who is attending King College at Bristol, Tenn., and an eight-year-old daughter, who is living here on the campus with her.

Mrs. Lilly, who was on the campus last year, took her position at Kanawha Hall when her husband was recalled to the service.

Mr. Barker, who is from Glenville, moved into a Louis Bennett apartment when the Ratliffs were to move to their new home. Mr. Barker's wife is secretary to President H. B. Hefflin.

Jack Luzader; publicity committee, Linn B. Hickman; E. B. Elder, Isadore Nachman and Bill Boram; Ticket Sales; Loyd Jones; store decorations, Miss Bessie B. Bell, Dr. H. B. Hefflin; entertainment, Paul H. Kidd and J. W. Beall.

Officers of the Alumni Association besides Pres. McQuain are: Vice Presidents, Atty. Fred H. Barnett of Parkersburg; John W. Mowery of Glen Ferris and Guy Stalnaker, Jr., of Glenville; Secretary, Mabel Wolfe; treasurer, Jeanne McGee.

Assembly Elects Hanlin as Chairman

During a special men's assembly held in the college auditorium on Monday evening, September 24, a rules and regulation committee for Louis Bennett Hall were elected.

Heading the committee was Bill Hanlin who will serve as chairman. Others named to the committee were Jack Lilly, Walter Slate, Carl Galgani and Darrell Morris.

Mr. G. Gordon Kingsley, dean of men, and Don Barker, the hall director, were in charge.

FROSH ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

George Davis, Webster Springs, was elected as president of the freshman class at a special election held in the college auditorium on Wednesday, September 26.

Others being named for office were Ronald Godfrey, vice president, Grantsville; Denzil Whipkey, secretary, Grantsville; and Julia Murphy, treasurer, Summersville.

Brent Cool, student body president, presided at the meeting.

Future Teachers Have First Meet; Moore, President

Future Teachers of America held its first meeting of the school term September 24 at 6:30 in the administration building, with Mabel Moore presiding.

Officers for the year were elected last spring. They are: Mabel Moore, Parkersburg, president; Daphne Whytwell, Sutton, vice president; Norene Lipps, Jane Lew, secretary; Dorothy Brannon, Grantsville, treasurer; Virginia Phillips, Harrisville, reporter; Elizabeth Lee Kidd, Burnsville, historian.

President Mabel Moore has announced that the club has twenty new members, and five original members.

Professors Jules Matthews and Eddie C. Kennedy will serve as sponsors of the club.

The club will meet Thursday evening at 6:00 in room 203A. President Mabel Moore invites anyone interested in the teaching field to attend this meeting.

Mercury Musings

will involve our publication date. The Mercury is printed by the Republican Delta in Buckhannon who find that they will be unable to have the paper back for us on Tuesday as they have in the past. Therefore, the Mercury will reach you one day later each week than it did last year.

We have received word of two former Glenville State men who are now serving in the United States Army. Joe Bokovitz, who completed two years schooling here, has been assigned to the Third Armored Division, Fort Knox, Ky., for basic training. Robert McNemar, a 1950 graduate, completed his basic training with the Sixty-first Infantry Regiment, Fort Jackson, S. C.

One of the most gratifying improvements that was completed during the summer was the new sidewalk that leads from Verona Mapel hall toward Louis Bennett hall. Louis Bennett residents especially will appreciate not having to wade to their knees in water following every shower to see the fair Verona Mapel occupants.

The state fire marshal recently made his annual visit to our campus and placed his approval on our campus facilities. He did, however, emphasize that the no smoking rules in the class buildings should be more strictly obeyed. The administration building especially could easily be destroyed by a careless smoker.

Freshman rules, once again in effect, are being taken in the right spirit by most of the first-year students. We have no doubt that the few freshmen who haven't learned the purpose of the rules will soon be "wised up" by the upperclassmen.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

Beginning the year's activities early, the Holy Roller Court held its first meeting the second week of school. Presiding at the meeting was Judge Jack Lilly.

After the reading of the financial report by Ronnie Mills, treasurer, a committee was appointed to make plans for a float in the Homecoming parade. Committee members are: Frank Fultineer, chairman, Larry Gainer, Holt Gray, and Jack Lilly.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

At their first meeting of the current school year held September 20 in the Louis Bennett lounge, Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity began the planning of the organization's 1951-52 activities.

For their first monthly social event, they sponsored an all-school student mix which was held in the old gymnasium last Friday evening.

President Bill Boram reports that a chaplain, a parliamentarian, and a corresponding secretary are to be elected at the next meeting.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity held its first meeting of the year last week at which time plans were begun for the organization of this year's activities.

After a short devotional service led by Chaplain Harold Butcher, a committee composed of Veri Garstner, chairman, Joe Riddell, and Charles Zakarian, was selected to plan the fraternity's Homecoming float.

Carlton Gandee was elected treasurer, and Harlan Hamrick, sergeant-at-arms.

As their first social event of the year, Kappa Sig's sponsored a freshman mix during the first week of school.

Open Date Oct. 6; Play D & E Oct. 13

The Pioneers of Glenville are now facing an open date rest after their recent clash with the Salem Tigers at Grantsville last Saturday night. During this two week interval, Coach Joseph's will have his squad practicing hard in preparation for the important tiff with Davis and Elkins' maroon and white eleven which comes off October 13, at Elkins.

Last year, the Pioneers pulled one of the biggest upsets ever recorded in West Virginia. Conference play when they knocked off the highly favored Davis and Elkins team, 14-6, before a mixed delegation of many home-coming fans at Rohrbough Field.

The contest will be Davis and Elkins' homecoming.

Galgani Appointed Agent

Again this year Glenville State college has been selected to have a Chesterfield representative on its campus. The appointment for the agency was given to Carl Galgani who also served as agent last year. The appointment was made last week by the Campus Merchandising Bureau, Inc.

CATS, FALCONS TOP PIONEERS BY 13-0, 20-0

Hanlin, Johnson Offensive Threats; Lanham, Spadaro Standouts on Defense

By DARRELL MORRIS

The Pioneers of Glenville State College opened their '51 football campaign at Rohrbough stadium on Saturday, Sept. 15, when they played host to a crusading Catamount team from Potomac State College. With the Potomac State line and Big Jim Matkowsky playing heads-up ball the Blue and White's dropped the contest by a 13-0 count.

Traveling to Fairmont on Sept. 22, the Glenville men lost their second WVCC conference game as they fell before the Fightin' Falcons from Fairmont State by a score of 20-0. The Falcons, too, had revenge on their mind. While Glenville was losing to Potomac State the Falcons were at West Liberty being subdued by a titanic Hilltopper team 6-0.

CATS CLAW PIONEERS

Mike Josephs' Glenville State Pioneers failed to capitalize on two scoring opportunities here at Rohrbough stadium Sept. 15 as they were handed their first defeat of their current gridiron campaign by the blue and gold Catamounts from Potomac State College by a 13-0 score.

Throughout the first period the "cats" were pushed pall mall over the field as the Blue and White grid machine rolled to the Potomac two yard line. It was here that the big Catamount line displayed some brilliant defensive work as it halted the GSC thrust toward the goal.

Matkowsky Scores

T-man Joe Riddell heard a long pass, in the second quarter of the game, being intercepted on the Potomac State two by Joseph Niedbale who carried it back to his own 48. After a series of plays, on a short, quick pitch-out from QB Zickfoose to Potomac half-back John Matkowsky, the first score of the game came. Matkowsky took the ball on the pitch-out and was long-gone and goalward bound. The conversion was low and to the side and the score at the half was Potomac State 6, Glenville 0.

The longest drive of the game was staged in the third when the Potomac State eleven rambled some 55 yards on eleven plays for TD No. 2. Again Matowsky tallied going over from the Glenville two. The conversion was good by Poe and the score was 13-0.

Pioneers Threaten

Midway in the final quarter the Pioneers rallied. Hissam took a Potomac punt on his 30 and ran it back to the 36. On the next play Hissam faded back and passed to Walter Slate for a 15 yard gain. Boggins down in the next three plays, finding the Cat line "impossible and impassible," they were forced to kick. Gainer kicked to the Potomac State 22 where it was fumbled by one of the Catamount players with Vincent recovering for Glenville. On successive plays the Pioneers drove within the 10. Unable to crack the PSC line Glenville again failed to score.

Big guns in the Glenville attack were Hanlin, Lanham, Adelsburg,

In the night-cap, the series went all the way with No. 3 team, captained by Roy Skidmore, winning easily by 15-4 over captain Robert Outlips' No. 6 team. Outlips' squad bounced right back to hand No. 3 a 15-6 defeat. The final game was considerably closer with Skidmore winning 15-13.

FIGHTING FALCONS WIN

Under overcast skies on Sept. 22 at the Fairmont East-West stadium the Glenville State Pioneers, under the tutorage of Michael M. Josephs, fell victims to a game Fairmont State eleven by a 20-0 score. The twenty point Falcon barrage was led by Charlie Francis, a fleet right half back from Manington, who contributed two TD's to the winning cause of the Monongahela river lads. The other tally came when Denver Smith, a 180 pound back from Tyrone, Pa., toted the skin across the goal to paydirt. Both backs were ably supported by Jim Cherrocci, a husky line-smasher who transferred from Duquesne University when the Dukes dropped football, and Bill Hayhurst, Fairmont's big center. Across the Sights

By BILL LILLY

C-r-a-c-k! O-o-m-wwah! That's the way it goes. A jolting tackle, a bone-crushing landing, an injured fullback, and the conference rating of Coach John Applejohn's football machine drops from the contender's rank to rock bottom status.

What does Coach J. Applejohn do? Perhaps, and if he is kind-hearted, he'll spend a few moments mulling over and sympathizing with his ex-fullback. That's not likely, though. He'll probably spend more time mulling over his team's chances minus his star fullback, and sympathizing with himself.

There are two outstanding similarities between fictional Mr. Applejohn and Pioneer mentor, Coach Michael Josephs. Both are coaches, and both are apt to wear a great deal trying to figure out some simple but apparently (to all fans concerned) brilliant method of laying the opponent low.

Outside of both being coaches and both worrying a great deal, they can't be compared. While Mr. Applejohn is an abstract figurehead representing all coaches in general, Coach Josephs is the concrete reality. His is the back on which people bruise their hands, and his is the stomach which they pay good money to fill when he is winning. And if he loses? W-e-l-l-l-l...you've heard of "man's best friend," haven't you?

Neither does Coach Josephs have a star fullback. But, on the other hand, if Cecil Johnson should find himself and utilize the potentialities he possesses into actualities of yards gained and passes completed, that position would be filled.

Johnson did just that against the strong Fairmont team. Starting at fullback for the first time, he carried the ball only three times, gaining sixty yards per try.

Of the two games played by the Pioneers this year, both have been lost. Potomac balked up number one when they defeated the Pioneers 13-0, at Rohrbough Field in their initial opener of the 1951 football season. This game could have been won had the Josephsmen been able to capitalize on two different scoring breaks.

At a recent meeting of the Women's Athletic association, June Adams, '52, was elected secretary-treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Maxine Martin.

President Shirley Porter appointed the following committees: Float, Mazie Hughes, Marlene Brown, and Mary Louise Smith; Planning, Faith Bingham, Nancy Harris, June Adams, and Carol Jean Hughes.

Martha Mick was chosen sports leader for volleyball, and the following girls were elected captains: Jean Fore, Dotty Lanham, Sally Waggoner, Doris Spicer, Julia Murphy, Betty Dobbins, Ruby Cromwell, Phyllis Sponagale, Mary Ann Judy, and Juanita Green.

The powerful Falcons from Fairmont State beat Glenville the second game 20-0. Glenville's line held the Fairmonters away from the goal many times during the contest, but on three different occasions they could not stop Charles Francis, Denver Smith, and Jim Cherrocci—three of the Falcons' pile-driving, goal-hungry backs.

For all their two losses, the freshmen-studded Pioneers are a coming team. Glenville showed marked improvement by demonstrating a noticeable sharpness and timeliness of their blocking and tackling when playing their second game with Fairmont. Such finer points of the game were absent in the contest against Potomac the week before.

The Pioneers have backs that can run in Bill Hanlin, Ron Godfrey, Cecil Johnson, and "Hodge" Hissam. To do the passing, Joe Riddell and Jack Tennant are very capable. (Continued on Page 4)

HAPLESS TIGERS FALL TO GSC 41-7 AT GRANTSVILLE

Riddell, Hanlin, Godfrey, Hupp, Lanham, Cool, And Tennant Star for Glenville

By DARRELL MORRIS BULLETIN!

Coach Michael Josephs' Glenville State model-T seemingly took on the power and speed of a jet turbine Saturday night as they lowered the boom on Doug Stone's Salem College Tigers, 41-7, at the Calhoun County football field in Grantsville, W. Va.

Using every man on the squad the Blue and White unleashed a six touchdown attack which saw GSC scoring in every quarter. Some 1200 football minded fans sat in the frigid night air and watched Smilin' Bill Hanlin score three of the Pioneer's touchdowns. The remaining Glenville scoring was done by Grantsville's own Ron Godfrey, Dean Hupp and Cecil (Crazy-legs) Johnson. Godfrey went over the goal for six in the extra point department giving the G-men 41 points for their night's work. Salem's lone score came late in the fourth quarter of the game on a 52-yard pass from Fudala to Lopez who went galloping over for the tally. Cross converted the extra point.

PIONEERS SCORE EARLY

Salem kicked-off opening the game. Croc's punt went to the Glenville 7 where it was taken and fumbled by Godfrey with Lopez recovering for the Tigers. Then on the next play Henry uncorked a long pass which was taken by one Mr. Joseph Riddell, another Grantsville boy, instead of the intended Salem receiver. Minutes later Glenville lost the ball on downs and Bob Reed was forced to punt. His boot traveled to the Salem 29 where the Tiger receiver was snowed under by the Glenville line. On the next play Bob Lanham, playing his usual good game of ball at the guard slot, broke through the Salem line and recovered one of Henry's fumbles on the Tiger 5-yard line. From here on in Hanlin carried the skin over for the first score of the game. Johnson's kick for the extra point split the uprigths and Glenville soared into the lead 7-0.

Glenville scored again in the second period after a series of plays run by Riddell, Merriman, Hanlin and company. Godfrey took the ball on the Salem seven and crash- (Continued on page 4) although they haven't yet hit their stride.

With Merriman and Slate on the end to sang those passes, Glenville is going to be extra tough from now on, even if they should happen not to win a game this year.

ZAKARIAN EAGER;
ZAKARIAN QUITS

Charles "Chick" Zakarian—enthusiastic, capable, and newly elected head cheer-leader—got overly ambitious a week before the Salem game. Said swarthy, good-looking "Chick" to Coach Josephs, "I wanna get in a few practice cheers so I can be at my peak while performing before the home folks over at Grantsville next week."

"It's all right with me, 'Chick,'" replied Coach Josephs obligingly. "But you'll have to sit on the floor of the bus or on the bundles of equipment all the way up there and back."

"Gee, thanks Coach!"

And so, "Chick" Zakarian got his wish. All the way to Fairmont he suffered, trying to ease his aching muscles via the rotation method of standing in the aisle of the bus and sitting on the football equipment.

Finally, the Pioneer bus arrived at its destination, and Zakarian piled off. Up to that point he had acquired a free bus ticket, a free meal, and a free pass to the game for his efforts.

As game time drew nearer, Zakarian got more and more restless. He scanned the faces of each fan walking into the concrete stadium, looking for something or someone that apparently wasn't there.

Just before game time, Zakarian spied what he had been looking for. It was his cheering section—all four strong. "Let's cheer, gang," he yelled. "How about 'Locomotive Glenville!'" Zakarian led off with a roar. G-L-E-N-V-I-L-L-E! But, as he accelerated his actions in order to keep in pace with the pistons of the imaginary train, his voice lowered in pitch until it came as barely audible whisper. Mr. Zakarian, while performing his duty, had become depressingly aware that only half of his four-man cheering section was cooperating.

After the cheer had been finished, Charles "Chick" Zakarian turned a disdainful eye in their direction and muttered in disgust. "Heck," he said, "if they're not going to cheer, I'm not going to lead 'em; I didn't want to lead cheers before a crowd that small, anyway! Without saying another word, he turned on his heel and walked to the other side of the field from which he watched the entire ball game."

On the way home that night, Zakarian was permitted to rest comfortably in one of the bus seats. He said he was "tired..."

Cats, Falcons

Bill Hanlin, Cecil Johnson and Joe Riddel; whereas, Paul Lanham, a transferee from Morris Harvey, and Gene Spadaro, who played a lot of football for the Wesleyan Bobcats last year, dominated the line play.

Pioneers Outweighed

Both teams were defeated in their openers; Glenville losing to Potomac State 13-0, while the Falcons were at West Liberty losing 6-0. ed across to advance the score six points. Johnson's kick was again successful and the score was 14-0.

During the second half of the contest the Glenville's conjurer's pulled about everything out of the hat but the rabbit as they exploded for 27 more points. Fred (Talent-toe) Gainer kicked off for GSC opening the third period. His boot went to the Salem 18. Failing to crack the forward wall of the Glenville line Lopez quick kicked from his 22. On some nice running plays by Johnson and Godfrey the Blue and White were again deep in Salem territory. Jack Tennant then whipped a beautiful pass to Godfrey and he went over making the score 20-0. Johnson's kick for the EP was good and the score read Glenville 21-Salem 0. The G-men scored again midway the third quarter when Hupp snagged one of the passes thrown by Jumpin' Jack Tennant. Johnson again kicked the extra point making the score 28-0.

In the final period of the game, one Salem fumble later, Tennant threw another touchdown pass to Godfrey who ran 30 yards for the fifth TD of the game. Johnson made it five for five and Glenville surged ahead 35-0. Brent Cool chilled a Salem rally as he intercepted a Salem pass setting up the final touchdown for Glenville. Again Smilin' Bill Hanlin went down the touchdown trail for his third TD of the night. Johnson's kick was off and Glenville continued to lead 41-0.

FUDALA STANDS OUT

At this point Doug Stone sent in R. Fudala who after a series of plays fired a pass to Lopez who went over untouched by the Josephsmen. Cross' kick for the extra point was good. The final score was Glenville 41—Salem 7.
