Officials Here For Dedication Of Building

Inspiring Speech by Nash Marks Ceremony; Governor Patteson Commends College

The new Glenville State college Health and Physical Education building, was formally dedicated last Thursday morning with ceremonies that began at 10:30 A. M. in the school auditorium.

With short welcomes from various state officials including Governor Okey Patteson and the principal address by Dr. Jay B. Nash, chairman of the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation of New York University, the newly-completed one-half million dollar structure was formally dedicated.

In a brief speech, Governor Patteson commended the school and expressed his pride in the progress Glenville State college has shown through the years. Governor Patteson extended commendation to the college for its adopted philosophy of providing service for the central West Virginia area and further asked "Glenville State college is accomplishing the task it has set for itself and is thereby doing a fine job in serving the state of West Virginia."

Dr. Nash, in the principal address of the ceremony condemned the deterioration of the mental and physical mechanisms through inactivity. Dr. Nash emphasized that sports and games, if properly handled, are part of the great rehearsal for the citizenship of a nation, and he said, "Any coach or official who breaks any rules of a game in order to win is helping to undermine the basic principles of our nation."

Concerning college athletes who were arrested for accepting bribes, Dr. Nash asserted that the boys were not nearly so guilty as were their leaders who put the burden on them "to go out and bring back the bacon."

Describing the thrill, the yearning for the tops in sports, Dr. Nash also declared, "The chances for finding satisfaction in life are more likely to come in your work than in your play."

Following the dedication ceremonies, a short receiving line was formed and guests were received by the dignitaries. At the conclusion of this ceremony, invited guests gathered in Louis Bennett lounge for a luncheon. The new building was (Continued on page 2)

March 18 Set For 'Fun Night'

"Fun Night," which is sponsored annually by the Holy Roller Court fraternity, will be held this year on Tuesday, March 18, in the old gym starting at 7:00 p. m.

Judge Jack Lilly has reported that the entire program is not completed but so far the program will include a basketball game between the Kappa Sigma fraternity and the Court, a comedy act by Bill Lilly, a juggling act by Don Merriman, and a wrestling match that will feature two of the campus strong men, "Dyke" Janiszewski and "Bear" Jordan.

During the meeting of February 26, Judge Lilly appointed Earl Spencer to coach the Court team and Carl Galgani as the publicity chairman for the affair.

Judge Lilly has expressed his hope that a large attendance will come out for the evening's entertainment.

Supervisors To Meet March 4

Central West Virginia Supervisors organization will hold its spring meeting in the lounge on Friday, March 14, beginning at 10 a. m. The program will be built around the theme "Implementing the Teaching of Social Studies in the Twelve-Year Program."

Specialists from each level of the public school program will explain the construction and teaching of a unit which has actually been used in a West Virginia classroom. In these demonstrations the specialist will show the origin of the unit, the part played by the children, the use of texts and auxiliary helps, the materials used, the process of evaluation, and similar items of interest.

Appearing on the program will be: Dr. Delmas M. Miller, West Virginia University; Mrs. Maud Broyles (Continued On Page 2)

Mercury Musings

By BILL BORAM

Included on our front page this issue is an explanation of student activity fees by Student Body President Brent Cool that is everything but the lie-polluted smear pamphlet circulated last week is not. In his explanation, President Cool shows logically without any distortion of facts why the proposed raise in the student activity fee is desirable. We suppose the less said about that putrid mass of fallacious reasoning that was spread like garbage across campus last week the better we all will feel, but one penetrating comment about it was just too good to pass up. The person who, after reading the paper said that it should have been printed on red paper, came about as close to a true definition as is possible. If that last sentence on the now notorious propa-

MENC to Award Scholarship

A one-year, tuition-paid scholarship will be awarded to a graduate of an accredited high school by the Music Educators National conference of Glenville State college next year. This decision was made by the organization at their regular meeting, Feb. 18.

A committee consisting of Caroline Boyd, chairman, Joe Arbogast and Don Arbogast was appointed by President Myron Mason to send letters concerning the scholarship to music instructors of nearby high schools.

The rules and judging committee, as appointed by President Mason, consists of Eugene Gherke, chairman; Joanne Melrose, and Mary Faith Holbert.

Dean of Men G. Gordon Kingsley spoke Feb. 27 to the Education 102 class. The subject of his topic was "Selecting a Life Mate."

Cool Explains Proposed Activity Fee Change

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following explanation was submitted by student body president Brent Cool for the purpose of acquainting the college with the situation concerning our student activity fees.

For the past few weeks there have been many rumors circulating among our student body concerning the student fees. I feel that it is necessary for the student body to look at a clear and true picture of the problem we face before they can really express an opinion.

Last month, Dr. Heflin and Mr. Jones met with Mr. Hall (Student Council's Advisor) and me to discuss this situation. We found that if our program of activities were to continue as it is now, it would be necessary to have more money. If no more money can be obtained, the program will be greatly curtailed.

Many students do not know where or what their money is used for that they pay as student fees. I believe it is only fair that every person in our student body know not only where these fees are spent, but should have some power to say where they should go. Dr. Heflin and Mr. Jones agree with this and therefore asked the Student Council if they would like to recommend the allocation of the fees for next year. After much thought, the present Student Council agreed to recommend the use of these fees, if more money could be secured. We know that if no more money is received the program must be cut and we do not want to do the cutting.

The Student Council has studied this matter and tried to collect as much information as we could concerning student fees. For instance, we compared our school with other colleges in the state and found that our student fees ($35.00 a semester) are much lower than any other student fees in the state. The students of W. Va. Tech must pay $13.00 a semester and students at Morris Harvey, $10.00 a semester; these fees do not cover as many activities as do ours.

Just what are our student fees used for? Last year these fees were used for athletics, Lyceum programs, Mercury publications, health, speech and play productions, student mixes and traveling expenses for certain student groups such as Pioneer team. We could have attended five football games, eleven basketball games, nine baseball games, tennis and golf matches, two Lyceum programs, two play productions, and received health service, refreshments at our student mixes, listened to many prominent speakers whose expenses were paid from the student fees, besides receiving the weekly publication of the Mercury.

By cutting the program, it would mean a four or five game football schedule, possibly the eliminating of football entirely in the near future, and probably only one lyceum program and one play production. These are only a few things that would be curtailed.

Therefore, we are planning to put before the student body for approval or rejection, the raising of student fees. We have asked each department that receives these fees to make a budget of what they need for the coming year to carry on a normal program. All of these budgets have not been received yet, therefore, we can not determine how much the fees must be raised before our program is not cut. Before this vote by the entire student body, we plan to have a general assembly in which we will discuss this problem more fully and try to answer any questions that any member of the student body may have to ask.

We want you to feel that this is your problem. The administration has no voice in deciding the outcome of this situation. The problem is in your hands. I urge you, as students of Glenville State College, to give this your complete consideration and thought.

Brent A. Cool

WAVE IS UNABLE TO HIT STRIDE IN 74-61 DEFEAT

Tennant and Barrett Lead Glenville Scorers; Murovich High for Cats

Glenville State, defending tournament champion, bowed out of the 15th annual West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic conference tournament Monday night in a stinging 74-61 upset defeat handed down by Potomac State.

A lay-up by Bill Gannon put the Catamounts ahead at 23-22. The score was tied three times in the next two minutes, but Tom Alcock, six-foot-seven Catamount center, put Potomac ahead at 27-25 with a pivot shot.

The Pioneers managed to come within six points of Potomac at 56-50 early in the fourth period but the Catamounts rallied on four quick lay-ups.

The Cats were hitting from all sides with Vincent Murovich driving in and under the basket time after time for lay-ups.

Alcock and Murovich controlled the boards and Glenville was unable to recover from the driving Potomac attack.

Jack Tennant and Dick Barrett were high for the Pioneers with 18 and 16 points respectively. Murovich topped the winners with 19, while Alcock netted 15.

Potomac was to meet ceded Davis and Elkins at 9 p. m. Tuesday in a tri-final game.

First round tourney winners included West Virginia Tech over Beckley, 60-53; West Virginia Wesleyan over Shepherd, 103-78; Fairmont State over Concord, 70-64; West Liberty over Bethany, 66-64, and Salem over Alderson-Broadhead, 58-57.

Campus Fraternities And Sororities Will Meet Monday Nights

All Glenville State college fraternities and sororities will meet on Monday night from six until seven o'clock beginning this week, according to activity committee chairman Billy Hanlin.

The decision to have all these organizations meet at the same time was made by the activity committee at their regular meeting Feb. 27.

Previous to the final decision, recommendations to that effect were made by the college student council and the inter-fraternity council. The change in scheduling was also approved by the organization involved.

Hanlin announced that the change was made to enable the organizations to hold complete one-hour meetings without interruptions of conflicting activities, mainly inter-murals.

Complying with the decision, Hanlin reports that athletic director Carlos Ratliff has agreed that no intermurals will be scheduled from six until seven o'clock on Mondays.

A rotating schedule for the use of Louis Bennett lounge is being made now for the benefit of the fraternities. The sororities will continue to meet at their regular places.

Girls Assist Prof. Albanese For Dedication Luncheon

Ten college girls assisted Miss Naomi Albanese, dietitian and home economics instructor, in the preparing and serving of a luncheon in Louis Bennett hall lounge last Thursday for the guests at the dedication ceremonies.

Those helping were: Betty Langford, Marilyn Black, Margaret Westfall, Betty Hill, Helen Branner, Norene Lippis, Peggy Lynn Shores, Ann Brannan, Betty Lankas, and Georgianna McCullough.

Brief Explanation

An attitude that often prevails with the Mercury's readers is one which tends toward disbelief as to whether they are receiving their money's worth from the paper. Therefore, we feel it would be wise to explain some things that might help to a better understanding of our situation.

One mistaken notion some have is that, because 600 copies of the paper are printed while we have less than 400 students enrolled, the remaining 200 copies are given away with nothing coming in return for them. In the first place, even if the extra 200 copies were given away free, it would not make much difference, because we are charged practically the same for 600 papers as we are for 400. However, the remaining 200 copies which are printed are used for a very definite purpose. Some of them go to our subscribers; others to our advertisers; the remainder are exchanged for college and high school newspapers throughout the state.

Another mistaken opinion that seems to prevail holds that the money received by the Mercury from the activity fee completely pays for the paper. Dividing the complete amount we receive from the fee by weeks, it shows that the students pay approximately 20c a week for the paper. The complete cost for publishing each week's Mercury, however, is over $90. This figure includes $52.50 for printing, $30 for student help; and an approximate $10 for pictures. It stands to reason, then, that the students are getting $70 a week from the Mercury that they are not even paying for. This difference is made up by advertising and a portion of the student work fund.

We can appreciate the incomprehensibility of correct circumstances of the paper by some readers and offer no criticism whatever for their mistaken beliefs. However, exact figures as to where every penny is going are available to anyone at any time. This is your newspaper; we hope this brief explanation will help for better understanding of conditions concerning your campus publication.—BB.

Agriculture Department Includes College Farm, Two-Year Curriculum

Agriculture was taught at Glenville State college as early as 1908. There were two courses taught: Elementary agriculture, and advanced agriculture. These courses were given primarily for students who were to teach agriculture subjects in the public schools.

The agriculture department was started in September, 1948. This department offers a two-year curriculum in agriculture, and at the end of this time the student transfers to some other college to complete his degree.

Ball Appointed

Joseph Ball was appointed teacher, and after working here for three years he accepted a teaching position at West Virginia University. Warden Lane was appointed to replace Mr. Ball, and is now the agriculture teacher and supervisor of the college farm.

The college farm is located about one mile north of the campus of the North View addition. There are 127 acres in the farm, of which 30 are used for crops, 76 in pasture, and the remainder in woods.

Part of the farm was purchased from E. G. Rohrbough by the state board of controls in 1910 for the sum of $7,000. The remainder of the farm was bought in 1929 for the sum of $4,000 from Charles T. Whiting.

Ag. Work Done By Students.

Main live stock on the farm are dairy cattle and poultry. The primary crops raised are clover alfalfa, corn and potatoes. Most of the work is done by the agriculture students.

A modern barn was built on the farm in 1933. It is equipped with cement floors, running water, electric light, soil, large hay mow, and accommodations for twenty-five head of cows. A dairy building was also constructed which houses the straining, cooling, pasteurizing and bottling equipment.

Foods obtained by the college from the farm are milk, pork, potatoes, eggs and poultry.

A cottage located across the road from the college farm buildings is provided for the agriculture instructor. It is of brick veneer with five rooms, bath, garage, utility room, and full size basement. The cottage was completed in December, 1950.

Chatter

ACROSS the TABLE
By GENELDA HARDWAY

The WVIC basketball tournament seems to be the leading topic of conversation for this week, but perhaps we can find a few romances on the sidelines.

At last, the latest hair styles have invaded our sheltered campus. Catty Rasnick and Carolyn Arnold have "poodle cuts", and Noreen Lipps and Joann Melrose have been wearing a "hometail".

We are glad to see Betty Eleanor Dotson and Roy Cogar, and William Waldeck and Doris Spicer back among the steadies once more.

Holt Gray's soldier brother, Kent, was visiting on the campus last week. He seems to have caught the blue eye of one freshman lass.

Jean Hartmann has found things too tough for her at table 32. Maybe she is now in clearer surroundings.

Flash: The potato soup contained potatoes today.

Girls! This being leap year, and since we have received a list of eligibles from a reliable source, we list these for whatever use you might find: Bill Boram, Woody Woodburn, Jack Tennent, Donnie Weaver, Cecil Johnson, Frank Vincent, Jazzy, Jim Mullens, Pete Kostyck, Carl Galgani, Jerry Kress, and Jack McCarthy. Will this be a process of elimination?

Red Mason is on the prowl again. His latest victim is another redhead, Bernie Gregory.

Several of the old students were back on the campus for a visit last weekend. Among these were Wanda Lorraine Taylor, Dawn Sherwood, and Jim Shively.

Marvin Stewart, what is wrong with your eyes? Is it St. Vitas dancer (a better guess) is it spring fever?

"Hobart" Hamrick and Mary Helen Sommerville have been making early plans for the tournament.

Eunice Beamer is still considering Don Merriman as her knight in shining armor. We like that sweet blush of hers.

Leonard Tyree and Wanda Wiant are still sitting beside each other in English. Strange! We never found English that fascinating.

Rod Spaur, Bill Smith, and Edward Clutter have found the town girls very interesting conversationalists, so we hear.

We were glad to welcome Arnie Wilson and girl friend, Shirley Osbourne, back on the campus for a few days last week. Shirley is an old grad of GSC and Arnie is a former student here.

We would like to make a correction in last week's issue of the paper. Mary Burg was not going to drag Don Arbogast to the Leap Year dance. She was going to take him.

We hear Pete Kostyck is on the war path. We don't think our scamp would look very potent draped on Kostyck's belt.

CONCEIT is when girls can't resist you, but for some odd reason, do.

Professor: "I will not begin today's lecture until the room settles down."

Voice from the rear: "Go home and sleep it off."

This week's Chesterfield Photo Quiz subject was a famous personality in the field of physical education on our campus.

Campus Agent Carl Galgani is again awarding a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes as the prize to the person who submits the correct answer.

The guesses must be written on the back of a Chesterfield wrapper and given to either Galgani or Mercury Editor Boram before March 12.

The "Cheer Contest" that was being conducted by Agent Galgani was won by Mary Helen Sommerville who received a carton of Chesterfields for the best cheer.

Patterson, William H. LETTERS FROM A HARD-BOILED TEACHER TO HIS HALF-BAKED SON. P. 224. Daylon

Twenty-three letters written by William H. Patterson have been reprinted in this small volume. The author, called "He-Pat" by his intimate friends, sent the letters to his son, John Henry Patterson, who had accepted his first teaching position in the Saffre city schools.

The letters are written in an interesting style with the devotion only a father could have for the success of his son. Each letter bears a special message for his son. These bits of philosophy from a man who had taught for forty years, can be helpful to any prospective teacher.

Mr. Patterson tells his son, "In spite of your good records as a student in Normal Teachers college, you are only half-baked."

This is a book that will keep you entertained from the first page to the very last page. The clever, but realistic comments of the author cannot be over-looked.

Spears, Harold. PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING. P. 333. Prentice-Hall

Like a newspaper story, this book treats the who, the what, the when, the where, the why, and the how of teaching. The content develops three major aspects of teaching. The subject is presented from the standpoint of the school, the teacher, and the pupil.

Among the topics considered are the chance of a teacher's employment, student teaching assignment, classroom teaching, and the teachers relationship with others.

The author has added interest to his presentation by many clever drawing and sketches. He has organized his book in a simple, compact manner for readability. Here is another opportunity for a broader look at teaching as a profession.

Dean Adkins Visits Various High Schools

Dean Edwin P. Adkins, having recently visited Parkersburg and Weston high schools, plans to visit as many other area high schools as time permits. The purposes of these contacts are:

1. To promote a better association between the faculties of the high schools and the administration of Glenville State college.
2. To become better acquainted with the high school curriculum and extra curricular activities and thus give prospective teachers of this area adequate training for their jobs ahead.
3. To observe teachers of these schools who have recently graduated from Glenville State college.

Intra-Frat. Group Debates New Council Organization

Intra-fraternity council held a meeting February 20, with Larry Gainer presiding. They debated whether or not there should be a common meeting night for all the fraternities.

Each fraternity will meet on a night in which there will be no intramurals or other activities, if it is approved by each organization. They also discussed a plan of setting up a council composed of sorority and intra-fraternity members.

Glenville Ends Season; Losing to Wesleyan 80-66

Winning Streak Is Broken; Tennant, Johnson Standout Record Stands at 14-12

By DARRELL MORRIS
Dr. Mike Josephs' Glenville State College Pioneer cagers rang down the curtain on their final game of the current 26 game card at Buckhannon on Thursday night as they fell before the Bobcats of Wesleyan College 80-66. Thursday night's game not only ended the regular season for the Glenville men but also brought to an abrupt halt the GSC four game winning streak that started on February 15 when the West Liberty Hilltoppers fell before the Wave onslaught, 65-62, on the latter's home floor.

Battle at Forward's Post
Highlighting the sluggish affair was the scoring duel between Glenville high scoring forward Jack Tennant and Wesleyan's Tom Carroll, another leading scorer in the WVIC conference. Both boys potted 22 each to lead their respective teams. CECIL JOHNSON, CAPTAIN AND LEADING DEFENSIVE MAN FOR THE BLUE AND WHITE, PACED THE LOCALS WITH 18 POINTS. THIS IS JOHNSON'S LAST YEAR AT GLENVILLE. HE WILL GRADUATE IN MAY OF THIS YEAR. GSC Has Lead

The Wave jumped into an early 13-11 lead but were soon overtaken by the Wesleyan hotshots. At quarter time the Bobcats held a 23-14 edge over the visiting Glenville team and bettered the situation for themselves as they came back in the second and continued to rack them up as they clinched a commanding 45-26 point lead at halftime.

SPORTS BULLETIN!

Pint size Edsall Burkhammer, Class B all state forward candidate from Troy set a record for scoring in Glenville State's newly dedicated one half million dollar sports plant as he set the nets ablaze for 40 points in the opening game of the Section 8 Class B tourney. It was Burkhammer's 40 points along with 18 more by his older brother Ray that gave the Trojans the 71-50 victory over Tanner high school on Thursday night. Burkhammer is a sophomore at Troy high school. Going into the Section 8 tournament he had been clipping the nets for a 21 point per game average.

KEEP AN EYE ON 'EM FANS!

GSC Finishes Eighth

The Josephsmen made their season's record stand at 14-12 and 12-12 in conference play. In league standing they finished eighth. Jayvee's Win Tilt

Prof. Turner Gives Normal School Book to Library

"A Catalogue of the officers and Students of Glenville Normal School, for the Scholastic Year 1875-76," has been donated to the college library by Prof. Byron J. Turner.

The "Catalogue" consists of twenty-four pages, containing information on the registered students, the faculty, courses, and room and board.

According to the Catalogue, the Normal School "attracts many students to enjoy the healthful and quiet location." A well of good water and the three acre of ground supporting both fruit and shade trees are some of the distinct advantages mentioned in the publication.

Lloyd and DeV Vaughn Conduct Experiment

John Lloyd, assisted by Donald DeV Vaughn, is conducting an experiment on chickens. Thirty baby chicks are divided into three groups of ten each. One group is being fed a plain mixture of feed; another group is being fed a mixture of manufactured Vitamin B12, or aureomycin; while the third group is not being fed any Vitamin B12 at all.

These chicks are to be weighed each week over a period of ten weeks. Later, blood counts are to be taken to determine if any increase in the red blood corpuscles is noticeable between the three groups.

MAA Teams Stay Unbeaten

Roadrunners, Mayhem Men Win Contests; Bohemians Remain in Cellar Spot

Seven games were played in the MAA basketball league last week with the Roadrunners and the Men of Mayhem remaining on top. In their latest games, the Leaders met with only token resistance as the Men downed the Musicians 39- the Feuders 47-23. The Men led 22, and the Roadrunners dropped 15-4 at the quarter and were never in trouble. Kee was high for the winners with 14 points while Joe Arbogast had 8 for the losers.

Roadrunners met with slightly stiffer competition as the Feuders led 5-2 at the first quarter. However, the Roadrunners got moving and led 13-9 at halftime. They increased their lead to 24-14 at the third quarter and ran away to win. Oliver Hunt and Don Deal had 12 points each for the winners while lanky Roy Skidmore dropped in 14 points for the losers.

Foulballs Improve

A vastly improved Foulballs won a pair by trimming the Snails 55-32, and the Alcoholics 54-27. Convicts also took a pair by downing the Musicians 40-29 and the Snails 33-32. In the other game the Alcoholics beat the Bohemians 42-17.

Alcoholics fought gamely in the early stages against the power of the Feuders. But the power began to tell and the Foulballs went on to win easy 54-27. Big Lennie Spencer totaled 32 points for the winners while Bill Waldeck threw in 10 points in a lost cause.

Convicts had an easy time in their game with the Musicians as they led 23-8 at halftime and were never in trouble. Hissam had 16 for the winners and Dordrill chipped in 12 for the losers.

Business Students See Typing Operation Movie

A movie - Electric Typing Time, was shown to the business education students Wednesday, February 27, from 10:15-10:30. It was also shown Wednesday night at 8:00. This movie showed how to operate an electric typewriter.

Wednesday night there was also a demonstration on how to operate the fully automatic Electric Calculator.

Foulballs struck again as they ground out a 55-32 win over the stubborn Snails. The winners led 28-14 at halftime. Gherke with 22 and Spencer with 15 led the winners while Frank Vincent dropped in 21 for his team.

Bohemians Cinch Cellar

Cellar position game saw Alcoholics finally break away from the Bohemians to win 42-17. The Alcoholics led only 16-12 at halftime. Boggs paced his team with 23 points while Weaver had 6 for the losers.

Closest game of the week occurred when the Convicts roared from behind to edge the Snails 33-32. The Convicts led 20-11 at halftime only to see the Snails tie the score at 26-11, and in the last period the Snails went ahead 32-27. Then, a tight defense and 3 quick goals gave the win to the Convicts. Hodge Hissam as usual led his team this time garnering 15 points, while Bear Jordan and Frank Vincent had 12 apiece for the losers.

All-Stars Clip Unbeaten JV's

Little Pioneer's 52-50 Loss Is First Since 1950

A team calling themselves the Intra-Mural All Stars did something Feb. 23 no college independent, or intra-mural team has been able to do since early 1950. They defeated the Glenville JV team, clipping them 54-40.

The All-Stars jumped off to an early 11-0 lead and never were in serious trouble. They led 23-11 at halftime and 35-25 at the third quarter mark. The younger but less experienced JV team fought hard but they could not match the deadly shooting and rebounding of big Lenny Spencer. Spencer racked up 26 points while Bob Poole picked up 16 for the losers.

The JV season record now stands at 5-1. Bob Poole and Joe Riddle are leading scorers on the team. It is coached by Dr. Michael Josephs and Professor Warden Lane.

Appreciative Audience Views Lyceum's Ryder-Frankel Dance Team Production

A good crowd was on hand Monday night, Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock when the curtain went up on the Lyceum presentation of the famous Ryder and Frankel dance team.

Presenting eight different dances, the duo brought a style of art before the student body that undoubtedly was different from anything they had ever witnessed. The dances offered a wide range in topics but were all presented in an artistic, distinctly professional manner.

An appreciative audience brought the entertaining pair back again and again for encores as each dance seemed to go over more than the one before.

Using props only in the first dance, the dancers were able to create a wide range of moods with the use of costuming, lighting, and sound effects.

The type dance presented by the Frankel-Ryder troupe is distinctly modern and therefore new to most of their Glenville audience. In their dances, the couple tended to impressionistic movements and mood-setting expressions.

Although the Frankel-Ryder type of dance was new to most of the audience Monday night, it evidently was pleasing, for the duo expressed gratitude for the overwhelming appreciation that was evidenced.

A young, good-looking couple, Mark Ryder and Emily Frankel were as pleasing and personable as

Class Studies Phases Of Poultry Growing

A trip was taken by the 103 poultry class Feb. 27, to observe the production of broilers. The following poultry farms were visited by the class: Charles Radabaugh of Weston who has a flock of 3,000 chicks; Bob Weidlich of Vandalia who has 4,000 chickens to be sold as broilers; and Layton Tharp of Buckhannon who has 10,500 birds.

Some phases of poultry production which were observed by the class were feeding, watering, and cleaning as employed in this type of poultry raising. Mr. Tharp of Buckhannon has one of the most modern broiler farms in West Virginia.

Members of the class who went on the trip were Mark Melrose, Chris Heater, William Boggs, James Hardman, and Darrell Bragg. They were accompanied by Prof. Warden Lane.

any personality to appear on the Glenville State stage this year. During their two-day visit on campus, the two artists (who are really Mr. and Mrs.) succeeded in winning over many of the students as they ate at Kanawha dining hall with the students and gave short lectures in college dancing classes.

International Relations Club to Hold Open Forum

"Should the U. S. Have an Ambassador to the Vatican", will be the topic for the open forum, which will be held at the International Relations club meeting of March 10, in the lounge at 4:00 p. m. President Verl Garster has invited the public to attend and participate in the forum.

Filmstrips on the Korean war will also be shown at the meeting.

At their last meeting of February 25, Prof. Bessie Boyd Bell made a report about the sectional conference that she attended in Huntington on Feb. 16.

Speech Department Tentatively Plans Two Performances

Two future presentations are being planned by the Glenville State speech department according to Prof. Marjorie Skelton.

Tentatively planned for late in March is the performance of three one-act plays. The plays will be sponsored by the Ohningohow Players and will be directed by members of the play production classes. Choice of plays and casts have not yet been announced.

In conjunction with the college music department, the speech department will present an Easter pageant on Sunday evening, April 6. The name of the presentation is "The Triumph of the Defeated".

Elswick and Boram Go Into Alpha Psi

Elsie Elswick and William Boram were formally initiated into Theta Alpha cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honorary fraternity Feb. 17.

Prof. Marjorie Skelton, conducted the impressive ceremony which was held in the college auditorium.

With the exception of Prof. Skelton, the new initiates are now the only members of the fraternity on Campus. Other eligible students will be received into the organization's membership in the spring.
