Mercury Musings

By BILL BORAM

Former Mercury Business Manager Perry Smith is now awaiting the beginning of army basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., according to a military information release. "Cono" attended Glenville State, and was working as sports editor of the Parkersburg News at the time he was drafted.

With the presentation of the Ohningohow Players three-act plays next week, the total of benefits held on campus this year will be brought to four. The cheerleaders sponsored two such performances in order that they might secure enough money to purchase sweaters, the debate team last week received the benefits from a talent show, and the Ohningohows plan to use proceeds from their coming performance to finance expenses of the state speech festival. It's too bad that these organizations have to resort to such means to obtain money for school affairs. We have hopes that the student body will see fit to correct these shortcomings when the time comes to vote on the proposed activity fee raise.

Head cheerleader Charles Zakarian reports that he has received three generous donations toward the goal set for obtaining sweaters. "Chick" wishes to offer thanks to Mrs. Julia Rexroad, Mrs. Floyd Miller, and Mr. Orville Luzader for the gifts.

Today A Year Ago: The Mercury announced the date for the MENC spring concert; reported final plans for a community cook school; released the 1951 football schedule, and told of the Pioneer's 68-54 loss to New Mexico A. and M. in the opening round of the NAIB tournament in Kansas City.

Regional Meeting Of FTA Organizations Will Be Held April 4

Future Teachers of America organization will hold a regional meeting in the lounge April 4. Twenty high schools of central West Virginia are invited, and five representatives from each high school are expected. The state president and other dignitaries including Arnold Beach, regional director of CTA from Weston, will appear on the program.

At a recent meeting of state FTA chapters from thirteen West Virginia colleges and students representing seventy-five high school clubs at Jackson's Mill March 8, Norene Lipps, GSC sophomore, was elected state corresponding secretary-treasurer of a state organization known as the West Virginia Association of the FTA.

Work was begun on a constitution to be adopted next fall at the annual meeting.

School Host To Band Festival

Nine Counties Are Invited To Enter Region Festival

Glenville State college will serve as host for the Regional Band Festival April 26.

Bands from nine counties have been invited to attend. The counties are Lewis, Braxton, Clay, Webster, Roane, Calhoun, Wirt and Gilmer.

This festival is a region of the West Virginia Bandmaster's association and was established in 1950. Schools may select the region which they wish to enter on the basis of transportation and local conditions.

Bands are classed according to enrollment of sponsoring school. Those placed in I or II are eligible to enter the State Band festival in Huntington.

The 1950 festival was held at Glenville State college, with Sutton serving as host last year.

Henderson, '11 Grad, Is Selected For NAIB Hall Of Fame

Cam Henderson, class of 1911, has been selected for the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Hall of Fame.

At present, Henderson is coaching at Marshall college, and has had a successful career at the Huntington school, the peak of his career was in 1947 when his team won the NAIB tournament.

Cam started his coaching at Muskingum in 1920 and switched to Davis and Elkins in 1923. After a stay of 12 years at D and E, he joined the Marshall staff in 1935.

Henderson married the former Miss Roxie Bell, class of 1911, who is the sister of Professor Bessie Bell.

Play Casts Are Announced

Motion Pictures Planned to Be Continued Here

Carnegie Hall Is Next Film To Be Presented; Activity Fund Covers Cost

The series of College-sponsored motion pictures, initiated here recently with the showing of "Quartet," is being continued, according to Dr. Byron Turner, who announced the next showing is set for March 22 at 8 p. m. in the auditorium, when the picture, "Carnegie Hall," will be shown.

Professor Turner termed "Carnegie Hall" a "concert on film," explaining that the renowned musical feature will bring to campus music lovers artists such as Ezio Pinza, Rise Stevens, Lily Pons, Jascha Heifitz, performing their favorite works as only they can perform them.

Mr. Turner also promised popular music fans that the feature will also contain light moments, and will include the music of Harry James and his orchestra in the two-hour performance.

The film will also feature a warm, down-to-earth story of how a young artist dreams of performing at Carnegie hall and finally realizes her ambition. Marsha Hunt, Martha O'Driscoll, and William Prince are among the stars featured in dramatic parts of the film.

Although connected by a story thread, the film is mainly concerned with classical music. The producer has selected music that the average fan can appreciate, and Mr. Turner assures that the picture cannot be considered "high brow."

No admission will be charged, cost of the showing being absorbed by the student activity fund.

Gray Barker, former student, who now operates a theatrical booking agency in Clarksburg, is handling the College bookings, and announces he will be able to line up further distinctive films, such as "The Red Shoes," "Oliver Twist," "Caesar and Cleopatra," if the series continues to be supported by students.

Students can show their support by attending the performances, Mr. Turner indicated.

"We are not attempting to compete with regular theatres," he explained; "nor are we going to book pictures that can be seen in regular theatres. Many people have asked about movies which, because they did not appeal to the masses, could not enjoy commercial success in regular theatres. In the larger cities theatres are built specifically for showing the more artistic movies, but, of course, that is impossible to cultural activities on the campus by making this series of fine pictures available."

Fr. Carr To Speak In Assembly Here

The Rev. Mr. Carr pastor of St. Boniface and St. Clara Parishes, will be the guest speaker at the assembly on March 20.

The nature of Father Carr's address will be centered around the beliefs of the Roman Catholic church.

Programs that are to be had in the future include the annual address of President H. B. Heflin on April 3. Another future program is to be conducted by the Rev. Paul Sutton.

Dean Kingsley Meets With State Record Committee

Dean of Men G. Gordon Kingsley made a trip to Charleston March 17, where he met with the state committee on cumulative records. They planned a cumulative record that can be used by grades one to twelve. The committee is headed by H. Cliff Hamilton from the State department of education.

Is Our Face Red?

Conflicting viewpoints expressed in last week's Mercury are no indication that we don't know what we are talking about; however, since some readers may be confused, we feel some explanation is due.

The story which appeared on page three that seemed to be so much out of keeping with past articles on the same subject was published without the authority of the Editor or the Faculty Adviser. It was printed as a result of too much trust placed upon its author by the editor. Having to report events that often occur later than our Wednesday deadline, it has been the custom to allow reporters that are considered competent to cover the affairs and send the story in immediately without their having been read by the Editor. This is what happened last week. However, as can be seen by looking at the paper, we evidently put our faith in the wrong place.

We do not believe that the student council is trying to force something upon the student body, and we do not believe that our football team lost games because they broke training. We apologize for neglecting to protect our readers' interests. Our sin was blind faith in our fellow man.—WAB.

Old Familiar Problem

With the coming of an event such as the Higher Education conference which is to be held on campus next week, an old familiar problem rises into view for those responsible for seeing that the school has its "best face on" for visitors. This problem, small as it is, will present itself again just as surely as it did the week of the dedication of the new physical education building when Dean of Men G. Gordon Kingsley was forced to obtain additional student help in order that the campus be cleared of its avalanche of trash.

The problem of keeping the campus clean never arises to any great extent until the powers-to-be suddenly discover that, if guests are to have a favorable view of the school, some improvements will have to be made on the landscape.

From the facts given us by Dean Kingsley, whose job it is to hire additional help when it is needed, it is evident that a dirty campus is a problem, especially when we are shoved into the limelight in the case of a state-wide meeting such as will be held here next week. It is a simple problem, however, that can easily be solved by a small amount of individual exercising of pride in a clean campus.

Home Ec. Club Gives Benefit Bridge Party In Lounge March 11

A benefit bridge party was sponsored by the Home Economics club Tuesday night, March 11, in the Louis Bennett hall lounge. Thirty-two persons attended.

Refreshments consisting of coffee, tea, cookies, and mints were served by Betty Langford, Marilyn Black, Helen Brammer, and Glenda Hunter.

The party was open to all who wished to attend.

The club is now making plans for a "Sunrise Breakfast" to be served to members of the senior class sometime later this spring.

Kalb Is Guest Speaker At MENC Meeting

Mr. Kalb was the guest speaker at the M. E. N. C. meeting which was held March 12. Mr. Kalb is from the American Musical conference in Chicago.

The talk which Mr. Kalb presented to the group concerned stimulating a musical interest in the students. He also told the group several of his keyboard experiences.

Chatter

ACROSS the TABLE

By GENELDA HARDWAY

Gossip this week was harder to find than "A" student in physics or campusology. After beating our heads against the wall to meet our Wednesday deadline, we finally came up with some more chit-chat which we tossed in the copy basket just in time to get the editor's Sherlock Holmes scrutiny.

Closer than pages in a book: Elsie Elswick and Bob Milligan.

Burning question! Do the male fans watch the WAA games for skill displayed or for form? Well—!

Rather handy idea of this being Leap Year, we'd say. It helps both the shy and bold to have an extra chance to nab the "one and only" guy of their dreams for an hour or two. The Xi Beta Tau's Sock Hop was the answer to some sweet maidens' prayers.

Barbara Wright, who left here at the end of the semester, was back on the campus for a few hours visit last week.

Don "Veteran" McCartney was an ardent admirer. For the last two weeks, Janet Heron has been secretly admiring a new Pontiac. We finally discovered that the owner of this car was the above mentioned Don.

Who is making a mask of who in the Art 102? It seems that Barbara Brannon is spending more time thinking about Roscoe in class than she is concentrating on paper mache.

We have another steady couple on the campus now. We are glad to see Helen Brammer and Ervin Hall keeping constant company. We need more like these two.

Raymond Frazier, what has happened to your flame? It seems that Jitterbug has given it up for a lost cause, the cause we haven't figured out yet.

Congratulations to Helen Brammer and Freda Peters who celebrated birthdays last week.

What happened to Clarence Maze and Phyllis Sponaugle? It seems that Phyllis skipped home one day last week and returned with a new man in tow.

Jack McCartney and Jerry Kress remain the lone wolves of the campus. Why not break down, boys?

It seems as though the campus is going to the Dogs these days! ! !

Does Joe Arbogast have a weakness for the name "Marlene"? Just wondering.

Several of the girls in Verona Maple have overridden the wishes of the boys and are having their ears pierced. Some of the girls who have succumbed to this fad are Juanita Green, Joanne Melrose, Faith Bingman, and Carol Jean Hughes.

Who went with whom to the Sock Hop? Joanne Melrose and Doa Weaver, Maggie Sommerville and Carl "Wall Street" Galgani, Marilyn Hartenstein and "Red" Mason, Eugene Gherke and Emma Lou Stewart, Charlie Dorrill and Faith Bingman, Paul Lanham and Bonel Poling, Dickie Barrett and Virginia Johnson.

Mary Faith Holbert Wins First Prize In Talent Show

Mary Faith Holbert, representing the MENC, won first prize in the Speech department talent show last Wednesday night as she presented two piano solos.

Other prizes were: second, Donald Arbogast, Sigma Tau Gamma; third, Betty Simons, Ohningohow Players.

Others appearing in the show were: Betty Dobbins, representing Kappa Chi Kappa; Harlan Hamrick and Harold Butcher, representing Kappa Sigma Kappa; Elsie Elswick, representing Xi Beta Tau; and Janet Heron, Master of ceremonies for the affair was J. Taylor Phillips.

A benefit performance, the proceeds are to be used toward financing the school debate teams expenses to the national meeting at Fredericksburg, Virginia. The show netted $24 for the debaters while their estimated goal is $75.

Judges for the performance were:

Par Lagerkvist, BARABBAS; tr. by Alan Blair; with preface by Lucien Maury and a letter by Andre' Gide. 180 p. $3 Random house.

Sweden's great intellectual thinker has won the respect of Americans with his latest philosophical novel. Last year in the balloting for the Nobel Prize, he was second only to America's William Faulkner.

This work of art is the story of Barabbas, a thief and murderer whom the mob released instead of Christ. The author follows Barabbas from the time of Christ's death until he, too was crucified with the Christian martyrs in Rome.

It is a complex story treated with great simplicity. It is a timely literary production because today our age is not far from the 'cruelties of the Romans. We, in this century, can realize man's predicament and the problems he is forced to face. This novel shows the spiritual torment of Barabbas as he realizes Christ took his place on the cross. He was driven from all happiness of earth and of heaven as he re-

Final plans were made at the meeting last week for the "Fun Night" held last night in the old gymnasium, which was sponsored by the Holy Roller Court.

A pledge party was held in Louis Bennett lounge last Friday night for old members, pledges, and their dates, with Prof. and Mrs. James G. Jones as chaperones. Professor Jones is faculty adviser of the court.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

Harold Butcher and Harlan Hamrick were elected to represent the Kappa Sigs in the "Talent Show," which was sponsored by the speech department in the auditorium last Wednesday night.

Delta, the local chapter, received its "Sweetheart Song" last week which was written by a member of the Tampa University chapter.

The fraternity has agreed to give an all expense-paid trip to a local member to represent them at the national meeting which will be held in Hot Springs, Arkansas, next August.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Alpha Xi, the local Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity chapter, is planning to send a delegation to the eastern province meeting which will be held in New York on April 4, 5 and 6.

Donald Arbogast, accompanied at the piano by Clarence Maze, Jr., were the Sigma Tau's representatives in the talent show last Wednesday night. They gave a black-face version of "Bambinoes," which won them second place.

A fraternity glee club has been organized by the Sigma Taus which is under the direction of new member, Donald Arbogast. This group is anticipating making a public appearance sometime in the spring.

membered Golgotha, and his own escape. Barabbas found himself despised by men. Most of his life was spent without a real friend. Sakah, a slave, grew to know him better than any man, but yet a block of darkness remained between them. Barabbas could not believe in Sakah's Christ.

Barabbas lived a life searching for the truth of Christ. He died uttering to the darkness, "To thee I deliver up my soul."

You will discover the author has created a tale with the power of a parable. He has presented the riddle of man and his destiny in a simplified manner.

Xi Beta 'Sock Hop' Announced Success

To the music of Duffy's Melody Four, the merry-makers danced amid flying balloons and confetti at the Xi Beta Tau "Sock Hop" Saturday night. All couples checked their shoes at the door and danced in their socks.

Decorations were in green and white in keeping with St. Patrick's Day and sorority colors. Shamrocks and socks were also used for decorations. Prizes were given at intermission to the persons wearing the cleanest, dirtiest, holiest, brightest and most darned socks.

Upsets Mark Final Week Of Men's Basketball Play

Roadrunners Drop First Game; Marksmen Upset Hunt's Men Of Mayhem

By MAURICE BUCK

Firing was heavy this week in the M. A. A. basketball league as the season draws to a close. An 11 game card was played with Hunt's Men of Mayhem handing Buck's Roadrunners their first loss. The score was 44-32. Then, a few nights later, Mark's Marksmen pulled a major upset by downing the Men of Mayhem 47-37. Buck's Roadrunners, heartened by this upset, went on to knock Fultineers Foul Balls out of contention by a 47-27 score. A playoff seems certain as Hunt's team need a win over the weak Bohemians to tie for the lead.

In handing the Roadrunners their first loss, Hunt's team hit from all angles and kept the losers off balance the entire game. Buck's team lost 10 baskets due to rule infractions. Paul Hunt led his team with 21 points and Jack Lilly had 17. The losers scoring made it a brother act as Bill Lilly got 13 and Oliver Hunt garnered 10.

Mark's team threw up a scrappy defense and led all the way in their upset win over the Men of Mayhem. Hanlin was high for the winners with 14 scores and Jack Lilly led Hunt's team with 10. Buck's Roadrunners caught Fultineers' Foul Balls without Lennie Spencer and poured it on, 47-27. Bill Heater led a well-balanced attack with 16 points while Bonnell led Fultineers' team with 11 markers.

In other games, J. Arbogast, Kress, and Dodrill, all with 8 points, led the Musicians to a close win over Bogg's Alcoholics. The score was 40-38. Bogg's and Waldeck had 11 each for the losers. Roy Skidmore, with 12 points, led Floyd's Feuders to a 39-13 win over Ice's Bohemians. Jim Ball led the losers with 4 points.

Dean Hupp unleashed a 28 point scoring attack to lead the convicts to a 30-16 win over Floyd's Feuders. Chris Heater gathered 16 in a losing cause. Buck's road runners took a close 32-26 win from Vincent's snails. Oliver Hunt led the victors (Continued on page 4)

Veterans Will Be Missed; Six Lettermen Return

Coach Carlos Ratliff, athletic director, has drawn up a fourteen game baseball schedule for the Pioneers this spring. Twelve of the contests will be played against WVIAAC foes. Both the other games are with Marietta college of Ohio.

Through graduation last year the Pioneers lost many of their key men. The entire outfield, first base, second base, third base, and catcher have been vacated. Bob Pugh, all-conference third sacker; Jim Laughlin, 500 hitter at first base; and Norman Ball, who finished the season at center field with a batting average of .367 will be missing from the Glenville squad this spring.

Lettermen back from last year are Cecil Johnson and Paul Stout, pitchers; Joe Riddle, Dick Barrett, Ronald Butcher, and Don Merriman, infielder. Johnson also plays the outfield when not pitching.

Pioneer Basketball Review Shows Surprising 14-12 Slate

Freshman Dominated Team Had Only Two Lettermen

By BILLY LILLY

It can be said with conviction that the Glenville State Pioneers pulled an upset victory among themselves by closing the 1951-52 basketball season with fourteen wins and twelve losses.

For a team that began the season with only three returning lettermen it could be said they practically performed miracles by finishing the season over the five-hundred per cent mark while competing against the smoother and more experienced WVIAC teams.

Going into the second half of their twenty-six game schedule, the Pioneers had but two remaining lettermen, Dick Barrett and Carlton Gande, from last year's state conference champions. Sid Adelsberg, the only regular left from the championship first team, graduated at mid-term.

Upon Adelsberg's graduation it left Coach Michael Josephs faced with the problem of rebuilding the Pioneer team. During this era of experimenting for a new and equally effective hardwood combination the Pioneers lost seven straight games.

Then, when it seemed as if the Pioneers were in a hopeless downward plunge, they broke from their slump with a decisive win over the West Liberty Hilltoppers. West Liberty, by the way, went on to win the state basketball tournament held at Wesleyan college's gymnasium in Buckhannon.

From the West Liberty contest the Pioneers racked up three victories in a row. These wins were at the expense of Alderson-Broadus, Shepherd, and Potomac.

West Virginia Wesleyan broke the White Wave win streak at four by defeating them in their last and twenty-sixth game of the regular season. Glenville played their last game of the year when they lost to Potomac State college in the first round of the college tournament by the score of 74-61.

The Pioneers, without a doubt, won many of their games this past season through aggressiveness and hustle. Also a great deal of credit must be attributed to the fine job of coaching done by Coach Josephs.

Starting from scratch—three lettermen and the remnants of an undefeated junior varsity of the year before—Coach Josephs proceeded to weld the team into a winning combination. He did an excellent job in this writer's book. He took an average group of college basketball players and proceeded to win ball games. Not everybody can do that.

Unofficially, the three leading scorers for the Pioneers this year are Jack Tennant with 415 points, Dick Barrett with 306, and Cecil Johnson with a total of 301.
