The goal is to get rocks and minerals from every state in the union and foreign countries. Mercury Musings

By BILL BORAM

Colleges all over the state are in the process of electing new student body officers just as we will be doing here this week. At West Virginia University, the fraternity—sorority faction defeated the independents and placed all-American football candidate Paul Bischoff on the throne as student body president.

Jack Simon, a 1950 Glenville State graduate, is now serving in the U. S. Army at Camp Pickett, Va.

Congratulations to ex-Pioneer basketball ace Sidney Adelsberg who was placed at a first team guard post on the WVIC all-conference team even though he played less than half the season for the Wave. A fierce competitor and strong leader, Sid will be long remembered by Pioneer basketball fans.

Influx of sororities on campus this year has brought about one very pleasing aspect for the men. To the average empty-wallet campus male, the girl-ask-boy, girl-party dances the sororities have been sponsoring have meant a neat solution for finance problems.

Home Economics Class Will Attend Jackson's Mill Meet

Home economics classes plan to attend a home economics meeting held at Jackson's Mill May 2-3. It is not known yet just how many of the group will attend.

Home Economics club is to give an outdoor breakfast for the senior girls that are home economics majors on May 17.

Election for Home Economics club officers will be held at Prof. Lillian Chaddock's home on May 7.

Committees that were appointed will consist of: Decorating—Frank Fultineer, chairman, Holt Gray, Carl Galsani, Ronald Butcher, and Richard Barrett; ticket—Lawrence Gainer, chairman, Kenneth Pratt, Edmund Janiszewski, and Woodrow Paxton; equipment and tools—James Bail, chairman, Paul Hunt, and William Lilly; advertising—Linnie Spencer, chairman, William Lee, Donald Merriman, and Bernard Jolley; refreshments—Ronald Mills, chairman, Gerald Kress, Otis Westfall, and Eugene Hall.

English Department Adds Record Albums To College Library

Record albums have been added to the library through the courtesy of the English department. These records are available for the use of all teachers and practice teachers. The albums consist of:

Soliloquies from "HAMLET" by William Shakespeare with the reading by John Kiequid.

Linguaphone French language records. Accompanying these records is a guide book to aid in the understanding and enjoyment of them. These records are aids in learning to speak the French language.

Two masterpieces of poetry by Norman Corwin and Basil Rathbone. The albums consist of both English and American poetry and were published by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Robert Frost's recordings of his poetry. One reading of interest is "Mendingwal." These recordings were made by the National Council of Teachers of English.

T. S. Eliot has made an album of his poetry. These were recorded by the Library of Congress. Eliot has gained fame through his poem "Wasteland."

Committee Will Replace Navy-Bound Nominee

By WANDA CAROL TAYLOR

Frank Fultineer, who was chosen by the student council nominating committee as a candidate for student body president, announced last week that he cannot accept the candidacy because he will not be on the campus next year. Frank will report for active duty in the U. S. Navy soon.

Other candidates chosen by the nominating committee are: president Joseph Riddel; vice-president, Carlton Gandee and Hobart Childers; secretary, Ruby Ann Cromwell and Loretta Poling; treasurer, Marvin Stewart and Nancy Harris.

Fultineer's replacement will be named by the committee at a later date.

Election of student council officers and voting on the proposed activity fee raise will be held in the Club Pioneer April 29, from 1 to 4:30 and April 30, from 9 to 12.

There will be a discussion concerning the student activity fees at the April 24 assembly period.

Student body president Brent A. Cool has urged all students to participate in the election and be present for the voting.

Forty-Six Members Attend FTA Meeting

At the F. T. A. regional meeting held here Friday, April 4, forty-six F. T. A. members, eight sponsors, and two directors attended.

The F. T. A. has received from Arnold Beach, the Regional IT director, a memorandum expressing his thanks to the Glenville F. T. A. for their part in a successful program. He said the program was enjoyed from "the start to the final cookie," and that the "students lost their fear of college professors."

The club received a special commendation for the way they had arranged the program, organized registration, and provided for guides.

Clarksburg Pastor To Be Guest Speaker At GSC Assembly

The Rev. Paul Sutton, pastor of the Broad Oaks Methodist church of Clarksburg, will be guest speaker at the assembly tomorrow at 10:10 in the college auditorium.

The Rev. Mr. Sutton, a former Glenville State student, spoke here in an assembly last year.

There will be no student assembly April 26 and May 1 because of the Regional Band festival and high school Senior Day which will be held on campus on those dates. A speaker will be present from the World Student Service fund for the May 8 assembly.

Tickets for the April Showers dance are now on sale for $1.50 per couple and may be obtained from any member of the Kappa Chi sorority. The dance, an informal affair, will be held from 9 till 1 p. m. in the old gymnasium on April 18.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Duffeys orchestra from Gassaway.

Keeping up with the leap year custom, the girls will ask the boys.

College Choir to Present Concert at Widen

The College choir will travel to Widen on April 17 to give a concert. Also included on the program will be Prof. Harold Orendorff and the college quartette.

Information Campaign

President Harry B. Heflin's endorsement by the West Virginia Higher Education association as candidate for the presidency of the State Education association was a great honor both for him and for the school. Should Dr. Heflin be chosen to this high post as a result of voting in Charleston in May, even more honor would be attained.

It would mean much to the school as a whole and the student body as individuals if the state's highest educational group should elect Glenville State's president to head their organization. Therefore, any part the college student body can do in helping Dr. Heflin's chances would be of direct benefit to them.

Glenville State students can play a part in the decision of this important election. The actual election is done by WVEA representatives in the various counties, many of whom are friends and relatives of students right on this campus. If these representatives can be informed of Dr. Heflin's outstanding qualifications and achievements, his chances of being elected will be greatly increased. This information campaign would be a small and easy job for Glenville students who are in a position where they can play an important role in an important matter.

We all know how well qualified Dr. Heflin is for the job for which he is a candidate. The Higher Education association evidently knew when they voted to enter him as their representative. If the various county representatives can be informed of the facts with which we are already familiar, Dr. Heflin will have no trouble winning the post. How well the word is spread will be known following the election May 2 and 3.—WAB.

Dare Or Despair

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of Mercury Guest Editorials. Number one of the series is the contribution of J. Taylor Phillips. Other student-authored stories will appear in following issues.

Education is running rampant at Glenville State college if we dare to accept its challenge. Things taught at Glenville college are not an education, but the means of education. Emerson believed this truism as I believe it. Many students bark like Homer at education, and like Homer, they "turn tall and run" when Knowledge confronts them.

It is my belief that the attitudes of people designate the lasting quality or disintegration of any society. Our attitude is generally very good; however, there is still much to be desired. For instance, cooperation is vanishing like a frightened puppy when it should be sticking like a loving lap dog.

A bachelor is one who enjoys the chase but does not eat the game. We should not be bachelors, but, instead, engage in the quest for knowledge and then enjoy its savory goodness—for after all, education makes a people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave. These things we desire, and many acquire, if we but use a small amount of common sense, and as Hugo so aptly says, "Common sense is in spite of, not the result of, education."

Dare to dig into the heart of learning, or despair the rest of the days of your life that you have missed the flood leading on to fortune, happiness and confidence.—J. Taylor Phillips.

Xi Beta Tau To Select Emblem, Shield and Pin

Xi Beta Tau sorority president Ann Martin appointed Carol Mick chairman of a committee to select an emblem, shield, and pin for the sorority.

Other members of the committee will be Elsie Elswick, Betty Lankas, and Faith Bingham.

Prof. Delmer K. Somerville will spend his Easter vacation at Cornell University, where he will take a final examination for his doctorate degree.

Chatter

ACROSS the TABLE

By GENELDA HARDWAY

Being short of time, abundant of copy, and short of gossip, we shall pound about for a short time on the keys of old faithful and see what comes out.

Some minor changes have taken place on the campus. Some might not consider them so minor—Such as the rift between Claudette Hefner and Bernard Joly. We also hear that Edsel Robinson is now available to the whims of some campus female that might take this challenge and try to capture the heart of this Calhoun Casanova.

Christine Hyer seemed very happy last weekend when her one and only, Harry Bush from A-B college, came down for a flying visit. Alice Ann Griffith, too, seemed very happy to see a good friend of Harry's, Sonny Nicewarner, in Glenville with him.

Couples who showed up at the dance last weekend were Cecil Johnson and Joan Wilson, K. O. Palmer and Juanita Green, Pat McCarty and Joanne Melrose, and Dan Anderson and "Cheat" Butcher with their girl friends from Fairmont.

Virginia Eakle, a former student at GSC, was back on the campus last weekend for a visit with her friends and our great woman hater, Cy Anderson. Cy seems to be thawing out as the sunny charms of this blonde little thrush are cast upon him. Miracles will never cease. If it doesn't happen in Glenville, it just won't happen.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

The class tournament, which was sponsored by the Court, proved to be a great success, according to Court Judge Jack Lilly. Although no profit was made, there was enough cleared to pay for the trophies.

Friday morning, April 13, initiation for eight court pledges will begin. Those to be initiated are Lowell Buckley, Oliver Hunt, Maurice Beckley, William Rumbach, Ervin Hull, Pete Kostyk, Eugene Gherke, and John Brisendine. Initiation will last until 6 p. m. May 2, the day of the Court dance.

The Holy Roller Court unanimously voted to present the spring review. It is hoped that they can make this an annual activity of the Court.

Negotiations are now in progress to bring a Negro orchestra from Beckley to play for the annual May Court Dance.

Sigma Tau Gama

A formal initiation for seven Sigma Tau Gama pledges was held Monday April 7 in Louis Bennett lounge. The new members receiving formal initiation were Holbert Childers, Allen Hodges, Donald Arbogast, Joseph Arbogast, Clarence Maze, James Scott, and William Phelps.

The local chapter will have a fraternity party April 25, in Louis Bennett lounge.

Corresponding secretary Bob Milligan attended an Eastern conclave meeting at New Palz, New York, on April 4-5.

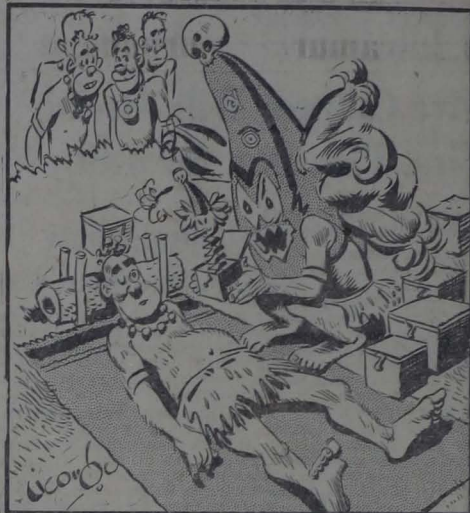

Kappa Sigma Kappa

At a recent meeting of the local Kappa Sigma Kappa chapter, it was decided that there would be a fraternity year book published between now and the end of the school year. This is the first time that the local chapter has attempted such a publication. The year book will be distributed to members and the alumni. Joe Riddell will hold the position of editor and Carlton Gaudet that of business manager. The remaining members have been assigned to various tasks. A subject of further discussion at the meeting was the organization of an alumni chapter. Letters have been sent to all alumni for their approval.

Also plans are being formulated for a joint party with the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority. Cecil Johnson, Donald Weaver, Dan Anderson, and Brent Cool were selected as the planning committee for the party.

DeVaughn and Loyd Use Aureomycin In Conducting Chicken Experiments

Aureomycin, which has been receiving considerable attention in human usage, is being used at the college farm to demonstrate its usefulness in weight gain in young chickens. The experiment, being conducted by John Loyd and Donald DeVaughn, consists of two groups of 10 chickens, each group being fed a different amount of aureomycin. A third group of 10 chickens, being fed no aureomycin, is being used as a control. The experiment will continue for another week.

The factors relating to weight gain in chickens receiving aureomycin has early been demonstrated by the various agricultural experimental stations.

A new aspect in the experiment here is the comparison in the total blood count in the three groups of chickens.

The aureomycin under the trade name Aureofac, produced by the American Cyanamid company, was given to the college for this experiment.

The results will be presented at the West Virginia Academy of Science at West Virginia Wesleyan college at Buckhannon on May 2 and 3.

Fry, Christopher. A Phoenix Too Frequent; A comedy, reissue 43 p. $1.75 Oxford.

This thought-provoking one-act comedy is written in the dramatic blank verse for which Christopher Fry became famous. The play was first produced at Mercury Theatre, London, in 1946.

"A Phoenix Too Frequent" is one of Mr. Fry's earlier plays. One of his most recent successes is "The Lady's Not For Burning." The imagery and metaphors used in his writing is a mark of the English poetic dramatist. He uses a leisure style with brilliant ideas.

The phrase "A phoenix too frequent" is taken from Robert Burton's quotation of lines by Martial. The comedy is based on Petronius's story of Dyanne, a widow in the town of Ephesus. The action takes place at the tomb of Virgilius, Dyanne's husband.

It is night, and Dyanne is determined to die on her husband's tomb. She is planning to take Doto, the maid, with her. A young soldier, entering the underground tomb, changes the desire of Dyanne to face death, Dyanne and the warrior have a conversation of love and conflicts in life.

Here is a work of art that will be enjoyed by the lover of poetry and drama. Literary writing, humor, drama, and poetry have been combined in 43 pages to create an unusual play.

TROUT MILKING — Because rainbow trout have a penchant for eating their own eggs, hatchery men beat them to the punch via a milking process. Lynn Webb, above, of the Oregon State Hatchery at Leaburg, shows us how it's done. Oregon's McKenzie River, which attracts anglers from all over the country, will get some 80,000 young trout who were spared from the cannibalism of their hungry elders.

Zakarian's Cagers Triumph In Intramural Tournament

Summerville Is Runner-Up; All-Tourney Team Is Named
By MAURICE BUCK

Zakarian's powerful team took a 37-32 overtime victory from Summerville's squad to win the MAA Basketball tournament April 2. Chick's team led 14-10 at halftime and 24-21 going into the final period, but Summerville's team tied the score at the gun.

Zakarian's club had too much power in the overtime, as Booney's club, which had played two overtimes in two days, could not keep pace. Bill Lilly led the winners with 13 points and Roy Skidmore led the losers, also with 13.

In earlier action, Godfrey's club defeated Boggs' in a 27-19 game. Ron's team led 13-7 at halftime and was never pressed. Gene Spadaro led the winners with 11 markers and Rod Spaur headed the losers with 10.

Summerville's team fought its way into the finals by downing Godfrey's club 35-33 in an overtime. The game was close from start to finish as Booney's boys tied the score 31-31 when the gun sounded. Jim Mullens set shot in the overtime spell victory for the fourth section lads. Joey May paced the winners with 17 points. Godfrey led his team with 11.

Jack Lilly and Roy Skidmore were high point men of the tournament, with 42 and 41 points respectively.

BASEBALLERSTO MEET MARIETTA IN FIRST GAME

Cecil Johnson Is Probable Mound Starter; Squad To Be Freshmen Dominated

Tomorrow afternoon the Marietta college Pioneers will oppose the Glenville State Pioneers in G. S. C's initial baseball outing this spring. The game will start at 3 o'clock at Rohrbough stadium.

Probable starting mound choice for the Glenville nine will be Cecil Johnson, one of last year's hold-over pitching aces. Catching duties will go over to Frank Vincent or Pete Kostyk.

Vying for a position at first base are Frank Buckland and Ervin Hull. Second base will, in all probability, be held down by Ronald Butcher; shortstop, Joe Riddel; and third base, Don Merriman. Merriman, Riddel, and Butcher are lettermen.

Outfielders are Jack Tennant, Paul Lanham, Dean Hupp, Marvin Stewart, Bill Rumbaugh, and Cecil Johnson. During practices thus far, Lanham and Tennant have been doing exceptionally well.

Following the Marietta contest the Pioneers will play three games away from home. Opponents are Salem College, April 18; Alderson-Broadus, 19; and West Virginia Wesleyan, April 22.

"The loss of three of our best hitters, Jim Laughlin, Bob Pugh, and Norman Ball, is going to offset most of our batting power this year," said Coach Michael Josephs. Laughlin had a 500 batting average while Pugh and Ball both hit at a .367 clip.

Mercury Sports Editor Climbs Out On Limb With Baseball Predictions

By MAURICE BUCK

In the spring every young man's fancy turns to baseball. Along with these young men all sports editors, neophyte and otherwise, turn to their crystal ball to predict the final standing of the major leagues. These predictions are complete with whys and wherefores.

Without further ado, we dust off the crystal ball. We see a world series being played in windswept Lakefront Stadium and bandbox Ebbetts Field.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BROOKLYN—The Brooks are set in eight positions, and have the best bench in baseball. If, by trades or their elaborate farm system, the Eums can come up with one starting and one relief pitcher, they should be in. Miracle finishes are out this year.

NEW YORK—Leo's boys could cop the poke again. But lightning seldom strikes twice in the same place. Mays' draft status is a question also. If Willie goes, and it looks like he will, so will the Giants.

PHILADELPHIA—This could be the darkhorse. Their young players are major leaguers now. Only a weakness behind the plate where "Aging Andy" can't go on forever is a questionable point.

ST. LOUIS—The Cards will finish in the first division again on experience, Stan Musial, and good pitching. "Vinegar Bend" Mizell could go for "Rookie of the Year".

CINCINNATI—"Good pitch, no hit," as usual. If the Brooks and Reds could get together on a major trade, as rumored so many times, something good for both teams could come out of it.

BOSTON—With key players growing old, Nichols slated for the army, and a poorer pitching staff in general, there seems to be no way for the Braves to crash the first division.

PITTSBURGH—The Pirates will wage the "Battle of the Cellar" with the Cubs. Ralph Kiner should be the difference.

CHICAGO—With a mixture of young and old, and no "old head" to lead the younger pitchers, it looks as if the Cubs will hold up the rest of the league this year.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CLEVELAND—This has to be the year for the tribe. They have the best pitching in baseball, good fielding, and the hitting has to improve.

NEW YORK—The law of average has to catch up with Casey sometime. The hole left by Joe Dimaggio should take at least one year to fill. First base is wide open as Mize will never be able to field his position this year.

BOSTON—The question is, can Boudreau bring the "Goldsox" through? It is possible but not probable. With or without "Thumping Teddy" we should think anything higher than third would qualify Lou as "Manager of the Year".

PHILADELPHIA—The A's in first division? It is very possible. Fine fielding and average pitching are assured. If they can come through with some clutch hitting it will mean first division.

DETROIT—The Tigers also hold a darkhorse role. Great pitching, good hitting, and poor fielding will be on the menu for Tiger fans this year.

CHICAGO—Last year's Cinderella team could come through as a sleeper again if the pitchers co-operate. Hitting and fielding on a par with last years is assured.

ST. LOUIS—The Browns may rise out of the cellar on the fact that Veeck bought a few players of major league caliber this winter, and they still have Garver.

WASHINGTON—We put Washington last because there's no place else to put them.

Lantz said the future of Britain is definitely bright. Some experts say the relations will be a more formal basis, but it probably will stay on an informal basis.
