Large Crowd Is Present For Annual Celebration

Lyceum Committee Lists Series Of 6 Presentations for This Year

Dotty Terrill Is Crowned Queen; Holt Gray Acts As Pioneer; 5 Bands Perform

By WANDA WIAIT

The nineteenth annual Glenville State College homecoming got underway Saturday at 10 o'clock with the formation of a mile-long parade on College Street. Former Pioneer coach, A. F. (Nate) Rohrbough led the parade through Main, Lewis, and College Streets.

Following parade marshal Rohrbough were the honor guards: Bill Bennett, Glenville; Russell Black, Baldwin; Lonnie Greenleaf, Cedarville; and Sfc. Erman R. Shoulders, of Fort Meade, Md. The newly-formed Gilmer County Band, composed of students from Glenville, Tanner Troy, Sand Fork, and Normantown high schools, followed the honor guards. The band is directed by Mr. Walter Rhodes.

Other bands participating in the program were: Calhoun County high, Walton high school, St. Marys high school, and the college band.

Approximately 75 organizations were represented, including: Gilmer County 4-H Clubs, Claude's Auto Sales, Baptist Church, Driver Education, Western Volunteer Fire Dept., Point Pleasant Fire Dept., Gilmer County Fire Dept., Feeney's Chevrolet, Cedar Creek 4-H, Glenville Woman's Club, Glenville Civics Club, IOOF, Glenville Transfer, and the Sand Fork schools.

Glenville State's organizations participating were: Omigobow Players, WAA, Future Teachers of America, Wesley Foundation, Kanawha Hall, Verona Maple Hall, Louis Bennett Hall, Holy Roller Court, Kappa Chi Kappa, home economics department, commercial department, Student Council, and the college band.

Coronation of Queen Dorothy Terrill, senior from St. Marys, took place at 11:15 on the Verona Maple lawn. Attending the queen were the following princesses: Dorothy Brannon, senior, of Arnoldsburg; Maisie Hughes, junior, of Glenville; Joan Metz, sophomore, of Elkview; and Anna Radabaugh, freshman, of Weston. Holt Gray, senior, from Cowen, was the 1952 Pioneer.

BAND FESTIVAL PLAN DISCUSSED

Plans for the fourth State Band Festival, Region XII, to be held at Glenville on April 18, were discussed at a meeting of the Band Masters association held Sept. 27, at Charleston. Prof. Harold Orendorff attended this meeting.

During this meeting a committee was chosen to study problems and to arrange a well-organized program for the festival. One of the main problems to be worked out was that of limiting the number of bands that could participate.

Another meeting of the Band Masters association is scheduled for November 15-16-17, at Huntington, to select music to be used for each class band. The bands are classified according to the school enrollment. A class "A" band must have over 750 students. A class "B" band must have over 500 students. A class "C" band must have over 200 students.

This year's State Band Festival is the fourth such event to be held. The first gathering of state high school bands was held at Glenville in 1950. The next year the festival was held at Sutton. In 1952 the bands met at Glenville, and on April 18, the college will again be the host for the 1953 meeting.

Annual, Sadie Hawkins Day Will Be Held November 15

November 15 has been designated Sadie Hawkins day at GSC according to the declaration of Kappa Sigma Kappa president, Lonnie Miller. The activities of the day will be in accordance with those featured in Al Capp's now famous comic strip.

However, because of a sudden whim of the Capp imagination which led to his marrying L'il Abner and Daisy May, this year's program is being modified. Under the direction of Carlton Gander, who is ably assisted by Don Weaver and Harold Butcher, the plans which will govern the day are rapidly being

Carnival Spirit Prevails for Homecoming

By HOBART CHILDERS

Hail King Carnival! Long live Queen Dorothy II! And all due reverence to the Pioneer, who tipped his magic demijohn on the morning of October 11, to let the Homecoming Spirit flow forth upon the campus and the streets of our town of Glenville. Hats off to our modern Pied Pipers, our bands, calling from near and far the residents of Gilmer and surrounding counties, calling the old grads to return to greet old friends and to be greeted in return, to drink deeply of the nostalgic wine of similar past exuberant occasions, on the nineteenth annual celebration of Homecoming.

A warm, and spontaneous cheer from the crowd of spectators announced the appearance of former Coach Nate Rohrbough as he rode his horse into view, followed by the serpentine length of floats, bands, and other entries in the Homecoming

Barter Theatre And Don Cossacks Are Scheduled to Appear

Six programs for the coming school year have been planned by the Lyceum committee. Prof. Marvin Newman chairman announced. In recent years the committee has been unable to bring more than two programs a year to the campus because of lack of funds. This year with the increased activity fee, of which the Lyceum committee receives a small part, the students are offered return engagements of two famous programs.

Barter Theatre and Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers are the two programs that will appear under the auspices of the Lyceum committee. Cost of these two groups amounts to more than the committee has received from the student activity fee; therefore, the additional is made up by admissions paid by persons other than students.

For the benefit of the students, the Lyceum committee, with the aid of the college, has contracted four more programs to supplement their series. To help pay for these programs, an admission fee was set for all persons attending. Later it was decided that if it were possible to pay for these programs from gate receipts, there would be no charge to the students.

These programs can be paid for if approximately 120 additional tickets are sold, Mr. Newman said. In order to do this, the committee has decided to group all six programs in one series. Admission charge for all six programs would amount to $6.00 but the series is priced at $4.00. These tickets are transferable. Students will be asked to sell these tickets in order that additional student fees will not be necessary. Student Council will give a $10 award to the student organization selling the most tickets.

The Lyceum Program for 1952-1953 is as follows:

October 31, 1952, Barter Theatre of Abingdon, Virginia will present a three-act comedy "The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard.

BRANNON IS FTA CANDIDATE

Dorothy Brannon, senior, was selected as a candidate for the State Future Teacher of America by members of the FTA club, Monday, Oct. 6.

Each college is asked to select a candidate to be considered by a state-wide committee at the WVFA convention, Oct. 16-17, at Charleston. The candidate must be a junior or senior. The Future Teacher of America will be chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, initiative, interest in youth, ability to get along with others, personal and physical appearance, personality, and participation in campus activities.

Dorothy's name will be submitted to the state committee, and they will select the winner. She has been treasurer of FTA for two years, and a member of such since its beginning. She is president of the Student Christian association, and is a member of the Wesley foundation. Dorothy is also corresponding secretary of Kappa Chi Kappa sorority. She is vice president of Kanawha hall, and was a senior princess in the Homecoming festivities this year.

Word to The Wise

With football season now in full swing, home games at Rohrbough stadium are making for the big events on the campus social calendar. For those who are participating in these week-end activities, the events are proving to be the high spots of the school extra-curricular program.

When the first Pioneer football game was played against Fairmont Oct. 4, it was evident that quite a large percentage of the student body was not availing themselves of the opportunity to see their school perform on the gridiron.

For the upperclassmen who were not present, it was their privilege to stay away if they do not like the sport. However, for those freshmen who went home, it was a direct violation of freshman rules and a rather unwise move to make.

The old question of pulling out the suitcase and trotting homeward each week-end is a much-discussed one both here and at every college, and we do not intend to rehash it again this year. But it does seem a little strange that so few of the students would attend their team's first home game.

School spirit is another much-maligned topic that also will not be given much space this year. In fact, this is one problem that is not present here.

As head cheerleader "Chick" Zakarian said, "Those who were present for the Fairmont game did a good job of cheering and backing the team. It was just the smallness of their number that hurt."

By the time this is published, the Homecoming game against Concord State will have been played. We hope there will have been a better representation of students on hand for this event—undoubtedly the top social event of the year.

There are more than 160 freshmen enrolled this year but there were not 160 students in the stands for the Fairmont game. Discounting any upperclassmen who were there and accounting for the 30 members of the team, this does not add up to good participation in student social events.

Much discussion was waged last year as to whether more social activity was needed on the campus. The raise in activity fees which was passed by the students indicates that they feel more events are needed.

Having so many students going home when there is a home game shows that something is amiss somewhere. Freshmen rules require that the first-year students attend—operating on the theory that mandatory attendance is essential for the new students' own good.

No comment on why a student needs social activity in his free time need be made—it seems the Education courses take care of this adequately. But it does seem worthwhile to mention indifference on the part of the students to events planned on their behalf.

Student Council President Frank Fultineer met and discussed the breach of freshman rules with the first-year class last week. We hope his remarks may have had some good effect; we hope a "word to the wise will be sufficient."—WAB.

Red Mason's Saints Is Name of Newly Formed Band

Again a dance band has been formed on the campus of Glenville State. The name of the new band is "Red" Mason and his Saints.

Myron Mason, a senior majoring in music, is the leader and trumpet player for the band. The other members are Mary Faith Eilbort, piano; William Waldeck, sax; Prof. Harold Orendorff, sax; Lonnie Miller, drums; and Cal Galgani, trombone.

Until now the band has played for two affairs. The first one was a school mix held in the lounge by the sophomore class, and an alumni dance at Green Bank high school, Oct. 4.

Kennedy and Clark Attend State Meet

West Virginia Association of School Supervisors annual state meeting is being held at Jackson's Mill. It started Oct. 13, and ends today.

Edwin P. Adkins, dean; Prof. Eddie C. Kennedy; and Prof. H. Y. Clark, are attending the meeting. Prof. Kennedy is leader of the discussion group on English.

General theme of the annual fall workshop program is "Supervisory Techniques."

Mrs. Irma Powell, president of the association, presided at the first general session Monday, at 9:30 a. m. The second session started at 1:15 p. m., with Paul Yost, assistant superintendent of Morgan county schools presiding.

Group work, with Professor Kennedy in charge of group four, began at 2:30. Dr. John W. Davis, president of West Virginia State College, spoke on the "Expanding Purpose of Supervision." He was introduced by Dr. W. W. Trent, state superintendent of schools.

Tuesday's sessions were started with Joe Fisher, president-elect of the association, as chairman. Dr. Bernard Everett, coordinator of curriculum research, spoke on "Action Research in Curriculum Improvement."

Today's session was opened by group work from 8:30 until 10. Mrs. Powell presided over the last meeting.

October Vespers Service Committee Named By SCA

At a meeting of the Student Christian association October 1, committees were appointed to have charge of vespers services for the month of October.

A SCA float was planned and the following were chosen to serve as the float committee: Maxine Edwards, Monzul Marple, and Velma Higgins.

A special vespers service was held Sunday, October 5, in connection with the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Scripture readings from the Hebrew, Greek, King James Version and the new Revised Bible were included in the program. Prof. Marvin Newman read the Hebrew scripture, Joyce Gerogalis read the Greek scripture, the King James Version was read by Dorothy Terrill, and John Rohrbough read from the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

Many West Virginians objected to the entrance of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad into the state because they believed it would ruin their land and destroy too much of their forests.

Principal's Meeting Will Be Held Nov. 6

West Virginia High School Regional Principal's Conference will be held Nov. 6, in the Glenville State college lounge. Gilmer, Calhoun, Clay, Braxton, Nicholas, Webster, and Pocahontas counties will be represented here.

Chairman of the group will be Mr. D. E. Dean, president of the high school association, and principal of Richwood high. Mr. Dean taught one summer at Glenville State.

Adkins And Arnett Address Roane County Teacher Meet

Edwin P. Adkins, dean, and Denver Arnett, registrar, addressed the high school teachers of Roane county at Spencer yesterday. Their subject was, "Recent Changes and Trends in the Secondary Curriculum."

Dean Adkins also addressed the student body of Salem college October 8, at their chapel service in the college auditorium. "The Challenge of Modern America" was his topic. He attended a state curriculum meeting at Charleston, October 9 and 10.

Old grads now in Korea who will be reading about Saturday's Homecoming in The Mercury include Tony Megna, Glen "Head" White, and Curtis "Goo" Kidd, all graduates with the class of 1951.

Another 1952 graduate who is now engaged in essential defense work with the Koppers Company was in Glenville for a short stay last week. Ken Pratt brought a glow to Queen Dotie Terrill's face when he spent a short week-end here.

Among new students enrolled for the fall term are two 16-year olds and a former West Virginia University varsity athlete.

John Rohrbough, who recently was elected college cheerleader, enrolled with enough credits for college entrance but without enough required work to graduate from high school. As a result, he now is taking courses at both Glenville High School and Glenville college and at the end of the year will receive a high school diploma and credit for one year of college work.

John is the son of former Pioneer coach A. F. (Nate) Rohrbough and attended Thomasville, Ga., high school for three years before coming to Glenville this year.

Jane Ratliff, daughter of athletic director Carlos C. Ratliff, also finished her secondary school work in three years, graduated from Glenville high school last spring, and is now a member of the college freshman class.

James Kemper, junior from Weston, attended West Virginia University for two years and was an outstanding wrestler on the Mountaineer mat team. As a sophomore varsity grappler last year, he lost just one Southern Conference match.

Jim transferred to Glenville this year and is living with relatives near here. He plans to return to the University next year and receive his degree.

Contests Featured

The traditional race, the apple dunkin' contest, the elder drinkin' contest, and the animated characterizations will again be features in the annual celebration which will be highlighted in the evening by the riotous "Skunk Hollar Stomp" conducted in the fashionable Dogpatch atmosphere. The orchestra has not yet been announced.

Sadie Hawkins day, a product of the creative Capp mind, has grown far beyond the bounds of even its creator's imagination. Celebrated on many college and high school campuses as a yearly event, it has appeared in many European capitols and performed as soloist with leading symphony orchestras of the British Isles.

The new business fraternity, Alpha Delta Epsilon, held its first business meeting in Mrs. Genevieve Butcher's room. Alpha Delta Epsilon, newest fraternity on the campus, was organized the last week of school last year. At that meeting the following officers were elected:

Presidents, Clarence Maze; vice president, Frank Fultineer; secretary, Ruby Ann Cromwell; treasurer, Jim Scott; corresponding secretary, Doris Spicer; advisor, Mrs. Butcher.

Frats Is Local

The fraternity is local at present but it is planning to join a national business fraternity as soon as possible. To be eligible to join the fraternity students must either be a business major or taking a business course. Freshman candidates will be brought in by formal initiation. At the first business meeting it was decided that during the year the group would sponsor student mixes and a business talent show which is held in the business department. The show will consist of skits and demonstrations. The group will also enter a float in the Homecoming parade.

Members of the fraternity are: Jim Scott and Bill Radcliff, of Troy, Claudette Hefner of Burnsville, Freda Peters of Sandfork, Wayne Cunningham of Parkersburg, Willadean Clarkson from Spencer, Doris Spicer of Gauley Bridge, Ruby Ann Cromwell from Gauley Bridge, Frank Fultineer of Glenville, and Clarence Maze of Grantsville.

Lions Gain Revenge as Glenville Falls, 25-7

Bill Hanlin Leads Outgunned Pioneers In Homecoming Tilt

Concord's snarling Mountain Lions gained revenge for last year's defeat as they pounded out a 25-7 victory over the Pioneers before a capacity Homecoming crowd at Rohrbough Stadium Saturday.

It was the second consecutive week that the White Wave roared back with a bruising last half comeback against a heavier, more experienced rival only to fail because the first half margin was too great.

Concord capitalized on several good breaks in the first 20 minutes of the game to pile up a 19 point lead at halftime.

When the Pioneers came fighting back in the last two periods to outplay and match point to point with the Lions, the game became more of a battle for Homecoming enthusiasts.

With the small Glenville line tightening up for the first time and halfbacks Joe Riddell and Bill Hanlin running well, the second half was a different story—but it was too late.

With the score 25-0, the Pioneer attack finally got rolling in the fourth period when Harold "Hodge" Hissam, playing in the place of injured Godfrey, intercepted a Concord pass on the 50 yard line and ran it back to the 25. After a short drive sparked by "Bullet Bill" Hanlin's running, quarterback Tennant racked up the Wave's only score with a 2-yard buck.

Several other nice drives were made by the Pioneers in the last half, one carrying to the Concord 3 yard line, only to fall short when a fumble was recovered by the Lions.

Ace quarterback Jack Tennant had trouble with his aeriels completing only 4 out of 9, but two of them in the last quarter were 30 yard heaves to Hanlin that carried the Glenville attack goalward.

Line play sparked by Frank Vincent, Paul Lanham, Gene Spadaro, and Charles Spencer; and fine running by Hanlin and Riddell, who played the finest game of his career, made the second half interesting for the home fans but the bad first half ruined the day for the game gridsters.

First quarter scoring plays which had Atwell tossing a 10 yard aerial to Karl for one TD and Blenick going over from the 7 for another helped build up the Concord margin.

Breaks in the form of fumbles and pass interception set up both Blenick's first canto tally and Boninsegna's second period marker from the 2.

Sport Talk

By MAURICE BUCK

Jim Cherocci is a name not to be forgotten by Pioneer football fans in the near future. All this 195 lb. speedster from Fairmont college did was beat the Pioneers almost singlehandedly by a 26-6 score.

Statistics from this game show that Fairmont was not this much better than Glenville. The first downs favored Glenville 11-7, and the total yardage was 248-228, Glenville. So, the difference must have been Cherocci, who scored three times; one a 62-yard jaunt, and gained ground consistently. When the Falcons were forced to punt he would respond with a booming 50-yarder. Fairmont's defense was headed by Capt. Jim Dawson, a 260 lb. guard.

In spite of being badly outweighed, the Pioneers put up a 'good game, especially in the second half. Offensively, Bill Hanlin, Ron Godfrey, Jack Tennant, Gene Spadaro, and Don Merriman stood out. Paul Lanham, Frank Vincent, Gene Spadaro, Bernard Jolley, Charles Spencer, and Joe Riddell played steadily for the erratic Pioneer defensive unit.

John Barton Payne, native of Pruntytown and lawyer of Preston county, was secretary of interior under President Wilson.

Pioneers Who Will Meet Potomac State Saturday

MILLER, LILLY ARE DEFEATED IN MAA PLAY

Mustangs and Lions Face Rough Contest In Men's Volleyball Competition

Lonnie Miller's Mustangs and "Jeep" Lilly's Lions were the only undefeated teams remaining as the Men's Athletic Association volleyball league entered its third week of play.

Paced by such court veterans as Bear Jordan, Cleve Butcher and Gail Boggs, the Mustangs will be shooting for three in a row when they meet Mike Popp's Pirates in this week's feature game. The Pirates, with Charlie Starcher and Junior Romano the big guns, figure to be "up" for this one and should provide the Mustangs with some formidable opposition.

Lions Face Wildcats

In an effort to gain undisputed possession of first place, the Lions will be going all out in order to retain their unblemished record against Don Weaver's Wildcats. Paul Hunt, John Lazear, Holt Gray and Bob O'Dell have been the Lion mainstays during their two-game win streak. Capt. Don Weaver will call upon Gene Gay, Jim Mullins and Marvin Moss in an effort to knock the Lions from the undefeated ranks.

Bill Hanlin's Hawks and Moose Kress' Knights, two of six teams deadlocked for second place, will pair off in what should prove to be a hard-fought affair. Bob Poole, Carlton Gandee and Dick Barrett are the Hawk luminaries while Virg Greenleaf and Ervin Hull will support Kress in the Knights lineup.

Denzil Whipkey's Whales and Dick Tolliver's Tigers, co-occupants of last place, will be striving for their first victories in matches against Don Merriman's Monkeys and Bill Rumbach's Whales.

Whales Seek Win

The Whales' chances of gaining victory number one will depend mainly on the efforts of Bob Craig, John Brisendine and Al Walsh. The Rams of Bill Rumbach, looking for their second victory of the campaign, will start with John Rohrbough, Bob Lanham, Bill Rouse and Jose Minoz.

Jim Hardman, Wendell Ware, Jim Smith and Skip Mick will lead the Monkeys in quest of their second victory over the winless Tigers. In an effort to check the Tigers slump, Tolliver has revamped his

Of Mantle and men:

It's merely an old story retold.

The Yankees are champions again, and who could deny them that?

The Dodgers? They fought valiantly, but were relegated to the list of also-rans. Nineteen times the World Champions have gone to the post; fifteen times they have emerged victorious. Years come and go, youth grows to manhood, and the Yanks go on winning.

What is the answer to baseball's great enigma? Is it youth, a Mickey Mantle or Gil McDougall? Is it experience, a John Mize or Alie Reynolds? Is it spirit, a Phil Rizzuto or Billy Martin? No, this scribe would rather think it a legend, shades of the "Babe" of the immortal Lou Gehrig, of dapper Miller Huggins, of the fabulous Joe DiMaggio. The Yankees are a product of the years.

The Dodgers were not disgraced in losing. They fought all the way down to the wire, and at times it seemed as though they had finally ended the Bombers' reign, but the Yanks thrive on pressure, or more realistically, on that World Series check, so they did the usual, they won. The Flatbushers produced their share of the heroes. Fellows like Duke Snider, who tied a Series mark with his four homers; Jackie Robinson, quite possibly baseball's finest all-round player; the little fighter, Peeewe Reese; and strong-armed Joe Black, who finally wore out, all played the game to the hilt, but to no avail.

Hardman and Harris Lead WAA League

Cooper, Sims Head Week's Volleyball Results; Gregory Is Leader In Aerial Darts

A full schedule of Women's Athletic Association contests was played last week with Marjorie Hardman and Nancy Harris's three victories in horseshoe competition highlighting the action.

Hardman remained undefeated in horseshoes; Gregory took the lead in aerial darts with a 2-0 slate, while Cooper and Sims were at the top in volleyball with identical 2-0 records.

Leaders Win Three

In horseshoe competition last week, Hardman and Harris won three games; Holmes and McClung won two; Shores and Hinder won one and lost two; Cutlip and McClung won one and lost one; Wilson and Lanham lost three; and Lynch and Greenleaf lost one.

In aerial darts action, Gregory stopped Turner 2-13 and Fore beat James 22-16.

Harris Wins

Results of volleyball games showed Harris' team 39-23 victors over Brammer; Cooper nosed Brubaker 43-38; Sims beat Hinder 50-17; and Brugaker edged Hughes 45-43.

Complete standings to date are as follows:

Pioneers Meet Potomac State This Saturday

Catamounts Are Favored As White Wave Opponent Again Is Heavier Team

This week-end the Pioneers trek to Keyser for a meeting with the snarling Catamounts of Potomac State. Coach Michael Josephs will still be trying to juggle his lineup in an attempt to get the best combination out of his limited squad.

In the past few years the Catamounts, perennial W. V. I. A. C. title challengers, have rated as a heavy favorite over the Wave and this year will be no exception. Potomac State is undefeated thus far in the campaign, and are reported to have a big, fast team, deep in reserves.

Coach Josephs will attempt to get the Pioneers "up" for this one, and may give the Cats more trouble than they anticipate. Potomac State won last year's game here at Rohrbough Stadium by a 13-0 score.

Wise and Spencer Are Noble Rulers At WAA Carnival

"King Rabbit I" and "Queen Hueyetta" ruled over this year's WAA carnival held in the old gym last week. "Queen Huey" was Charles "Cannonball" Spencer, who won a spirited contest from Marjorie Hardman. The slight technicality that "Hueyetta" was a 6', 210 lb. citizen from Louis Bennett hall did not influence the voters, showing that this is still a democratic country.

Harold Wise was elected King by a large margin over Carl Galgani. The royal couple was crowned at halftime by Miss Clarissa Williams.

"King Rabbit" is a senior majoring in physical education and is a member of the Holy Roller court. "Queen Hueyetta" is also a senior, a Court member, and hails from Richwood.

The carnival consisted of basketball tossing, fortune-telling, penny pitching, cake walks, bean bag tossing, tennis ball throwing, kissing booth, fish pond, and refreshments.

Freshmen Reveal Talent In Annual Assembly Show

Upperclassmen got a preview of the freshman class talent in an excellent assembly program last Thursday with acts featuring singing, imitations, band conducting and chitaring.

Among the best acts of the show were: Tommy Reed singing "Old Man River," Kate Quinn singing "You Belong to Me," the trio, Charlotte Felton, "Skip" Mick, and Connie White doing a novelty number, "This School is Not My Own," and Jim Watson's imitations of Jerry Lewis.

The other acts, perhaps equally as good, featured Virginia Harris directing the band which played the "Victory March" and "On Wisconsin," Virgil Greenleaf singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," Lowell Dean shadow boxing and giving a short pep talk, Mary Hamrick, also "doin' what comes natcherly", and Marlene Jones singing the school song.

Fred Marks served as Master of Ceremonies and Dorothy Light was the piano accompanist.

The entertainers hail from the following places: Kate Quinn, Wheeling; Connie White, Sutton; Virginia Harris, Greenbank; Mary Hamrick, Clay; Dorothy Light, Richmond; Lowell Dean, Gassaway; Tom Reed, Glenville; Virgil Greenleaf, Harmony; Skip Mick, Buckhannon; Charlotte Felton, Philippi; Jim Watson, Charleston; and Fred Marks, Buckhannon.

In addition to the freshman talent, the audience was entertained by the college band, cheered by the cheer leaders and student council president Frank Fultineer's short speech. President Fultineer's speech dealt mostly with the coming Lyceum program and the improved freshman attitude.

Speaking of Sports

ous "Jawn" Mize, and the championship hurling of the old-guard, Reynolds and Vic Raschi. Yes, in the end it was the Yankees, world champions of baseball for the fourth straight year, for the fifth time in the past six seasons, and for the fifteenth time in the annals of baseball. Hats off to the victors, and nice-try to the vanquished.

A quick glance around the national football scene shows the Spartans of Michigan State leading the pack in the Associated Press poll. The East Lansing gridsters have defeated arch-rival Michigan and Oregon State and will have met Texas A & M before this column hits the press. Others who have shown early signs of developing into ranking powers through premier performances are California, Maryland, Duke, Georgia Tech, Southern California, and Princeton. Notre Dame bounced back from a first game loss by Pennsylvania to upset highly touted Texas 14-3. It could well be a foreboding of Irish power.

Top games of the coming week-end include: Army-Pittsburgh, Maryland-Navy, Cornell-Yale, Alabama-Tennessee, Georgia Tech-Auburn, Georgia-LSU, Duke-North Carolina, Minnesota-Illinois, Iowa-Wisconsin, Michigan-Northwestern, Notre Dame-Purdue, Kansas-Oklahoma, Rice-SMU, Texas-Arkansas, Southern Cal-Oregon St., California-Santa Clara, and Washington-Oregon.

Taking a brief look at how Pioneer opponents have fared thus far, this writer finds the Senators of D. and E. leading the way on its fine showing against a strong Morris-Harvey eleven. The Red and White dropped a close 7-6 decision to the strong Charleston lads in a hard fought contest. Elsewhere, Potomac State has been busy polishing off two out-of-state opponents in fine fashion. Salem, however, has found the going a little rocky, bowing twice by

SCHOOL ISSUE IS DEFEATED

In a special election last week, Glenville's bid for a new high school via the county bond issue plan fell far short of the needed 60 per cent.

As was expected, the three Glenville precincts voted heavily in favor of the bond issue. The count was 759 for, and 80 against the issue.

But the overall vote showed 1982 votes against and 1270 for the issue. Voting was heaviest against the new school at Troy, Sand Fork, Tanner, and Normantown.

Failure of the people of this county to pass on the bond issue came as a shock to the towns people, and was a blow to the college as well. The new school would have been used as a training school in place of the antiquated building the high school is forced to use.

Senior Class Orders Rings from Jostens

Michel Posey, representative for Jostens company, visited the campus Monday, Sept. 29, to take orders for class rings. The rings may still be ordered from Jane Myers, secretary of the senior class, and Nancy Harris, secretary of the junior class.

Price of the rings ranges from $15.95 for the small ring to $23.00 for the large. This price does not include 20 per cent federal tax. There is a choice of four stones: synthetic ruby, blue spinel, black onyx, and mother of pearl.

Bracelets, necklaces, and pins and guards are also available for ordering. The necklace and chain is priced at $11.95, with the pin, guard, and chain priced at $10.95. Pins are like the rings in design except there is no pioneer crest.

Beginning Foods Class Holds Series Of Dinners

One of the projects of the beginning foods class in home economics is to plan, prepare, and serve a complete meal. The first of these series of dinners was served yesterday at 5:30 p. m., in the home economics room.

Hostesses were Joyce Georgalis and Bertha Turner.

lapsed scores to Concord and West Liberty.

Incidentals:

The loss of Ron Godfrey through a foot injury has badly hampered the Pioneer running attack. The fleet halfback has been a standout performer at right-half for the past two seasons. . . . The Louis Bennett hall bug races have seemed to revived the sporting blood of the early twenties. Quite a few sleek stallions have so far been uncovered. . . . For those interested in a good emotional sports story, the October issue of Esquire magazine features a story entitled "The Gipper Didn't Die," which gives a wonderful account of that legendary Notre Dame athlete, George Gipp, and the inspiration that still ensues his memory. . . . To who it may concern: Former GSC fullback, basketball captain, and baseball pitcher Cecil Johnson is now in the army, and would appreciate mail from any of his friends. His address is: Pvt. Cecil V. Johnson, US2194057, Box 81, Co. "O" 4th OTB, ORTC, Aberdeen Pr. Gr., Maryland. . . . Au revoir.

"Today's Children" Will Be Discussed At Convention

Teachers will talk about "Today's Children" at the West Virginia Education Association Convention in Charleston, October 16 and 17. Most speakers will stress improved methods of instruction for the alert generation now in school.

The ten thousand teachers expected at the convention will form into sixty groups to discuss "Better Living Through an Improved School Program," "Working Toward Better Instruction," and "Pupil Progress and Related Problems."

Top billed of the many speakers for the convention are Salom Rizk and Albert Dekker. Rizk, of Syrian descent, will speak on "America Is More Than A Country." It is claimed that Rizk has addressed more audiences than any living author. He writes for the Reader's Digest and is sponsored by Rotary and Kiwanis.

Dekker Featured

Albert Dekker, of stage and screen, claims to portray any dialect except Icelandic and Zulu. He is currently appearing in the film, "Wait 'Til The Sun Shines Nelly." His dramatic presentations for the WVEA convention will feature the life and works of Edgar Allan Poe.

Special music for the convention will be by an all-teacher chorus, the Morris Harvey Philharmonic Choir, local high school choruses, and the Charleston Symphony.

The teachers say, in the printed program of their convention, "Today's Children, tomorrow's leaders, are in our hands. The progress of our nation, our civilization, depends to a large extent upon the manner in which we teach—today."

Most members of the Glenville State faculty will attend at least one session of this meeting. Classes will be recessed Oct. 17 because of the meeting.

Prof. Skelton Will Attend Speech Meet

Prof. Marjorie Skelton, head of the college speech department, will attend the West Virginia Speech association meeting October 16, at Charleston.

Miss Skelton is chairman of the membership committee, and also a member of the executive committee of the speech association meeting which is held yearly in connection with the West Virginia Education association.

Galgani Receives Chesterfield Job

Carl Galgani has received his appointment as campus representative for Chesterfield cigarettes on the Glenville State campus.

The appointment was made by the Campus Merchandising bureau for the current school year.

This is the third year that Galgani has served as campus representative. His duties consist of merchandising and publicizing Chesterfield cigarettes on campus.

Prof. H. Y. Clark attended a meeting of the West Virginia Committee on Teacher Education, held Monday in Room 269, State Capitol building, Charleston.

SEVEN MOVIES SCHEDULED

The student council announces that there will be seven movies shown to the student body this year. Three 16 m. m. movies will be shown during assembly hour, and four 35 mm ones will be shown at night.

Kappa Chi Kappa Holds Formal Pledge Ceremony

The Kappa Chi Kappa sorority held their formal pledging Thursday, October 2, in the Louis Bennett lounge. This marked the beginning of the pledge period for following girls: Wanda Carol Taylor, Bernadine Gregory, Patricia Sumpter, Elaine Bell, Claire Bowles, Peggy Anderson, Virginia Harris, Patricia Ann Hardman, Jane Ratliff, Susan Pauline Arnold, Beluah Beckner, Alice Ann Griffith, Kathleen Barr, and Helen Holmes.

Carnival Spirit

geny, their novelty and humor, their aptness! Even a visitor from another planet, an improbable flying-saucer, seemed wholly at home with a mountain distillery (venerable institution of the hills!), the "Royal Barge", and similar decorated vehicles carrying an array of talented, as well as gorgeous campus flowers who pat to shame the synthetic glamour queens of that western firmament, Hollywood.

And the bands! Resplendent uniforms, stirring music with a beckoning drum, knees lifted high in Rockette rhythm, and a melody calling hearts both young and old to join in the gawdy of the occasion. And a glowing pride in the realization that none outshone our own groups, led by directors Orendorff and Rhodes.

It was proud parents who watched their sons and daughters as they passed in review before them, and they joined them in spirit as our supremely energetic cheer leaders incited the bizarre-clad group of freshmen to cheer our football squad to an afternoon victory.

Onlookers cheered, and more than a few of them looked at the somewhat gray sky and prayed it wouldn't rain, yet the day was bright with the all-over feeling of friendship and good will.

The parade moved from the town to the campus in front of Verona Maple Hall for the coronation ceremony. A reverent silence prevailed as President Hefflin pronounced the formula that made our Doty Her Royal Highness Queen Dorothy I.

The Queen and her court then retired to await the long-anticipated afternoon jousting to take place on the field of battle between her gladiators and the visiting warriors from Concord.

The day ended with the dance in the "Old Gym", gay for a change, in rainments fit for the merriment of the evening. The dance spelled fun to a day filled with happiness and fulfillment. It is gone—except from our memories, and who could hope to find a more sacred burial place? Every moment will be relived in reminiscence, pleasantly.

So, until next year—Hail Homecoming, and a fond farewell!

Net profit of $79.47 for the month of September was shown by the Student Union's business manager, Bill Radcliff.

Profits of the Student Union are a fund separate from the school finances, and are used for improvement of the Union's facilities, a new cooler for soft drinks being the most recent purchase.

The Union is a Student Council enterprise and is staffed mainly by Council members who have preference as to working hours. Members of the students body who are not members of the Council are also employed. Salaries are paid by returns from the business.

Students Mixes Held Saturdays In College Gym

As a means of entertaining those students who remain on the campus during the week-ends, a number of student mixes have been sponsored by various student groups. The mixes have been held in the old gym, and so far have been well attended.

Bill Lilly, president of the senior class, was in charge of the most recent event, and played host to several Fairmont students who had followed their Falcons to the Pioneer campus, and had remained for the evening.

Regularly scheduled programs, such as the Homecoming dance, will prevent the holding of these mixes for the next few weeks, but the student council is trying to locate sponsors to direct these "get-togethers" on all eventless week-ends.

Wesley Building Will Be Remodeled

Plans for the remodeling of the Wesley Foundation building on Linn street were discussed at a meeting of the board of trustees Sept. 30. A committee, working with the Rev. Robert Engle, has taken steps to start the remodeling process. Measurements were taken inside the old parsonage and a requisition for materials was sent to the board of trustees.

Plans are still being made to secure funds for a new building to be located on the old Methodist property.

At the meeting of the Wesley Foundation held on October 3, forty-two students were present. This attendance record exceeds that of West Virginia University's Wesley Foundation.

Jane Myers, president of this organization, again welcomes anyone who wishes to attend these meetings. They are held in the social room of the Methodist Church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.
