Pioneers Vs. Bobcats In Tourney Tonight

Wave Hoopsters Ready for Action

Mason's Saints Now Are Under Direction Of Prof. Orendorff

Red Mason's Saints, Glenville State college dance band, has been reorganized by Professor Harold Orendorff. The dance band was reorganized after Myron "Red" Mason graduated at the end of the first semester.

William "Bill" Waldeck, a junior from Spencer, plays the tenor saxophone. Mr. Orendorff, head of the music department, plays the alto saxophone. Both Bill and Mr. Orendorff double on the clarinet.

Mary Faith Holbert, a sophomore from Webster Springs, plays the piano. Kent Duffield, a freshman from Sutton, has the trumpet. Lonnie Miller, a senior from Webster Springs, is on the drums. Carl Galgani, a senior from Parkersburg, plays the trombone.

Since the Saints have been reorganized, they have had engagements at Weston and Parkersburg.

Myron Mason, the former band leader, taught music at Elkview High School after his graduation for approximately one month. He is now in the armed forces.

New Dining Room Being Constructed

One of the sleeping rooms on the second floor in the east end of Kanawha hall is now being remodeled into a new dining room, according to an announcement by Prof. Naomi Albanese.

The purpose of the dining room is to serve small groups that visit on the campus. It is being planned to accommodate 24 people. Several structural changes have already been made in the room.

Walls will be painted a rose color with white woodwork. Brass plates and planters will decorate the walls. Cream battleship linoleum will be placed on the floor. Drapes which were made by the house furnishings and textile classes will be of those shades.

Furniture in the room will consist of three drop leaf tables and 34 chairs of birch wood, a hutch and server. There will be a fire place with gas logs and mirrors "ung above it."

Work on the room is being done by the maintenance department of the college.

VMH Night Life Reviewed

There Is Nothing Like Dormitory Life

By JUANITA GREEN

There is nothing — absolutely nothing — like life in a college dormitory. Verona Mapel hall is no exception. You may wonder why any normal, sane girl would make a statement like that. We wonder, too.

Our radio is broken; so that means that tonight while we study we can lie in bed at midnight instead of standing at attention for "The Star-Spangled Banner." Please do not misunderstand us; we are patriotic, but who can give proper attention to his national anthem with a textbook in one hand and a pencil and flashlight in the other. Imagine a roommate who wants the lights out at 10:30!

Food Important To Study
Of course, all girls come to college to obtain a good education in the finer arts. However, before we begin our afternoon study session, perhaps we could go to the union and get some food. Food is necessary for brain growth; so we think everyone should eat as he studies. There is nothing like cracker crumbs in bed and all through your books. There is one exception — ants in the sandwiches at a picnic.

Laura Grey McClung and Barbara McClung live across the hall. They might run down to the union. Barbara is ironing and Laura Grey is studying something. She seemed so interested that we hated to ask whether it was the book or the bedspread design.

Topic For Discussion
Next door we hear a lively discussion. We wonder what about? We keep telling ourselves, "Someone is preparing a speech or debate issue for tomorrow," but we were wrong. Jean Reese, Jean Fore, and the girls of the "Nutcracker Suite" from third floor are having a bull session on the most interesting subject we know — BOYS!

We knock on another door, but no one is home. Clara Mae Hull and Jackie Rastle must be at the library.

Perhaps Faith Bingman or Patty Reynolds would go to the union and get some nourishment such as chocolate milk before we use the last bit of our grey matter for that literature test. We push the door open quietly and find

Glenville State Cagemen Seek 26th Tournament Win

Flu Bug Hits School Campus

Influenza reached its highest mark on Glenville State college campus during the past two weeks, as students and faculty have fallen ill.

Several students were admitted to the college infirmary. Those who admitted for influenza were: Patty Reynolds, Eugene Gherke, Marvin Stewart, John Lazear, Gail Haught, Doris Spicer, Caroline Boyd, and Leyman McClung.

Due to the limited space of the infirmary, Ester Freeman, Sue Waggoner, Paul Hunt, and Robert Martin remained in the dormitories and had their meals carried from the dining hall.

Carol Goodrich from Burnsville was sent home for a few days.

Members of the faculty had several bad colds, but to date Professor Edgar B. Elder has been the only member of the teaching staff confined to his home. He was absent from his classes for a week.

Mrs. Theresa Strothers, the school nurse, was another victim of influenza.

Education Dept. Is Invited to Attend Philippi Career Day

Members of the education department who take part in field service activities have been invited to attend the third career day, which will be held at Philippi high school, Tuesday, March 24, and the Clay county education association workshop for Clay county teachers, Friday, March 20.

Philippi high school students will designate first and second choices of their desired occupation in the future. Counselors in each department will answer questions.

Child development and its relation to teaching will be the topic discussed at the Clay county workshop by members of the local education department.

Captain Cotton Gandee Set For Final Appearance; Jack Tennant Is Scoring Hope

BY JIM ROBINSON

Glenville State's Pioneers launch their quest of the 1953 WVIAC tournament title tonight when they battle Wesleyan's vaunted Bobcats in the second contest on tonight's card at Buckhannon.

Despite the White Wave's disappointing regular season record, optimism is running high among Glenville supporters, mindful of the G-Men's enviable record in tournament competition.

Although almost always on the short end of the odds, the Pioneers have established a reputation of scaling the heights when the going is toughest. They have become known as the tourney's "money" club, a team that wins when it has to, and hundreds of fans will be following the team to Buckhannon tonight in hopes of seeing another great Glenville quintet accomplish the unbelievable.

Jinx Has Struck

Hard luck has followed the Pioneers throughout the past season in the form of injuries, and the now famous "one-period" jinx.

Disaster struck early as the Wave's tallest operative, Ed Donnellan, suffered a broken collar bone against tonight's opponents, Wesleyan. Donnellan, a promising freshman, had been progressing steadily and looked as though he was ready to come into his own when misfortune overtook him.

The "one-period" jinx was the downfall of the Glenville five time and time again. One bad period and the game was out the window, and try as they might, the Wave could not elude the phenomenon.

Line-up Changes Made

Coach Michael Josephs tried several different combinations in an effort to put the Wave on the victory trail. Although Captain Carlton Gandee, Dick Barrett, Don Merriman, Jack Tennant, and Bob Poole were the most consistent starters, freshmen Ed Tekeili, Danny Hall, Bud Huff, Bob Duffield, and the since-departed Stewart Cain, saw considerable action during the season.

Carlton Gandee, the tireless, hard-working captain of the Glenville team, will be making his final appearance as a Pioneer, and off his fine record since coming to Glenville, "Cotton" will be giving his usual all-out performance in leading the team for the last time.

The Pioneers are the all-time tournament champions, having won 25 games, while losing only 9 in the Buckhannon classic. Tournament championships were won by Glenville in 1937, 1938, 1942, and 1951.

Interviews for Camp Positions Scheduled

William Norton and Harry Lotus, representatives from the Carbide and Carbon summer camp, Charleston, will be on Glenville State college campus March 2, to interview students interested in camp counselling jobs for this summer.

These men will show movies of the camp and explain the camp set-up. The interviews will be in the physical education building at 10 A. M.

Coach Carlos Ratliff has application blanks which can be picked up at his office and filled out before March 2. Any student interested in a camp counselling job may get one of these application blanks.

Free Loaders

West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic conference's annual basketball tournament, like many another collegiate sports venture, is rapidly showing signs of turning away from the competitive program for participating schools it should be to a commercialized extravaganza which overlooks the most important group involved—students of the member schools.

Press passes, uniforms, and official-looking faces are useless in gaining admission to the annual tournament—nobody is admitted without a regular ticket. Without the official tourney ticket, it is impossible to get past the gates, and strict watch is kept to see that only those with tickets get through—which is as it should be. But the question for debate is just who should be admitted without paying to the games.

Certainly all members of each school's team, their managers, cheerleaders, coaches, and sports writers should be admitted to the tournament without paying. This is only fair—the games are being held for the conference member schools, and their personnel should not have to pay to participate. However, we find that each person listed above is not admitted to the tourney as would be expected. Each year, it seems, there are enough tickets sent to the member colleges to admit the team and some of the accompanying personnel. After the tickets are distributed, someone is always left to pay his own way into the game. True, no star forward was ever left on the outside because he didn't have a ticket, but since when has the team's high scorer become more important than their freshman cheerleader, their assistant coach, or their sports writer?

Now, the argument offered by tournament officials is that there must be a line drawn somewhere—that everybody who is in the least bit associated with the tournament cannot be admitted without paying. To this we wholeheartedly agree—but we do not agree as to who should make up the group that does not have to pay. Though it is nice that the college presidents, state officials, and state newspapers are given tournament tickets freely, we doubt the wisdom of having to cut off an assistant coach to make this possible. And we doubt that it is such a wise move to disregard the college press in order to keep the dailies happy. It is all well and good to favor every officials, small or large, with a free ride to the annual affair, but we would wager that most of them have a slightly larger yearly income than the school cheerleader who must all but buy his own uniform.

We would favor a more discriminate distribution of tickets for the WVIAA cage tournament, one that would take into account the fact that students of member schools are an important part in the staging of the event. It would seem a worthwhile cause for members of the state college press to demand a fair share of the free admissions given. It would be encouraging if some of the "free loaders" tickets were distributed to students who are forced to pay to participate. It would be heartening if to tourney officials would give the game back to the students.—WAB.

Win Or Lose

When the Glenville State basketball team goes into action tonight against Wesleyan college in the opening round of the WVIC tournament, they will carry with them a worse-than-average seasons record, a tourney tradition unequaled by any other school in the conference, and a fighting squad that could well carry on the Pioneer spirit of the past that has garnered 25 tournament wins—more than any other team entered in the classic.

Under the tutelage of Dr. Michael Josephs and led by captain Carlton Gandee and all-state candidate Jack Tennant, the White Wave team has shown signs of greatness throughout a season marred by a series of "one-quarter jinxes", and brightened by the all-out fight displayed by the undersized cager.

Regardless of the dismal season's record, Glenville rooters by the carloads will flock to Buckhannon tonight to see their Pioneers do battle. Years of Glenville State tradition present a challenge that this year's team must go all-out to accept. The cheers and best wishes of Glenville fans everywhere accompany the blue and white team to the tournament. The Glenville Mercury joins those who place their faith in a fighting Glenville State team—win or lose.—WAB.

Black Eye Etiquette

When you enter the dining hall the next time, pause long enough to take a look around. Are the dining hall manners what they should be?

If at the mention of the word manners you feel yourself getting angry and ready to tell the writer off, perhaps you had better read on.

As a whole, dining-hall etiquette impresses us as being good; but a small minority are giving etiquette a big black eye. The black eye is beginning to get more attention than all the others.

It is only common courtesy to wait until everyone is seated to begin a meal. Perhaps you are hungry, but just wait one minute and everyone can eat.

We are sure if you were in someone's home you would be quiet as a mouse during Grace, but have you stopped to think that this is the home of 277 people. As soon as Grace is over you can finish your story. Everyone will still be right there.

There are sixteen waitresses employed in the dining hall. If you want more food, your waitress will be happy to try to get it for you. If you try to find an extra dessert yourself you may make a mistake and pick up the distinguished guest's cake.

We do occasionally have distinguished guests in the dining hall and they don't just look at their plates. Here they see all the students together, and the impression we make on them there is the one they take away and tell others about.

Our dining hall or Glenville State is going to be just what we make it. It is no better than each of us, so it is for us to make it what we wish.—P. S.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

Charles Spencer, class tournament director, has announced the dates March 9-10-12 for the event. Individual awards for the best athletes of the tournament, one male, one female, will be purchased either this week or next.

It was decided to hold the tournament in the old gym as in the past. Discussions were held on incoming pledges and fun night. Judge Carl Gagliani announced that the group pictures would be taken in the near future.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

The Kappa Sigma Kappa assembly scheduled for this week has been cancelled. Conflicting activities made practice and organization impossible at this time.

Chaplain Butcher and Harold Hissam were in charge of organizing the fraternity last Sunday morning and getting the group to church.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

President William Waldeck said that a new amendment has been added to the national constitution which will raise the dues. Bob Milligan announced that the clasps bearing the fraternity symbol have been ordered for the seniors. A discussion was held on the outing to be held in May at the last meeting.

By JOSEPHINE FIDLER

Allen, Frederick Lewis, The Big Change: America transforms itself: 1900-1950. 308p. $3.50 Harper.

Mr. Allen begins his story of the United States in the year 1900 and develops a picture in full perspective. The author believes that during 1900-1950 the American Way of Life has been altered more than we may realize.

All aspects of American life have been discussed to show the transformation more clearly. Mr. Allen has considered art, business, behavior, finance, literature, politics, and sports.

This book is exciting and charming. It is a story that should make any American proud of being a part of a nation which under pressure has become a leader in the world. Easy using humor, brief sketches, and illustrations, the author has added sparkle to his book.

"The Big Change" is not a story of Paradise gained. Mr. Allen states, "We must realize that our sobering position of leadership in the world is founded upon the fact that we have not stood still." The author embraces the idea that we should look at the accomplishments during the years 1900-1950 as a preface to what we can gain in the second half of the century.

For a better understanding of why and how the American standards of living has been altered read Mr. Allen's latest book, "The Big Change." If you are interested in a particular aspect of the change, such as "New Deal", check the index for a guide to information.

Men Urged to Apply For Service Exam

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective service qualification test in 1953 should file applications at once for the April 23 administration, Selective Service National headquarters advise.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications should be postmarked no later than midnight, March 9. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification test.

Glenville Grad Is Parole Director

Dana C. Eakle, a graduate of Glenville State college in 1933, was appointed by Gov. William Marland as director of the Probation and Parole department.

Eakle succeeds John W. Mastin, of Bluefield, who has been serving as acting director of the department since the recent resignation of Robert M. Knott.

Knott resigned to return to his home at Charles Town to look after private business affairs.

Eakle is a 43-year-old native of Chay who studied law at West Virginia university and the University of Richmond.

He has been deputy commissioner of forfeited and delinquent lands since 1942. He served as assistant prosecutor from 1946 to 1948, and was elected to a four-year term as prosecutor in 1948.

Eakle served in the Pacific area with the army during the war.

Cagers End Year in 90-82 Upset Over West Liberty

Barrett Nets 32; Jack Tennant Leads Last Half Comeback With 25 Points

By JIM ROBINSON

Trailing 70-69 with only six minutes remaining in the game, Glenville State's fighting Pioneers staged a pulse-stopping last period rally to conquer West Liberty 90-82 to offset an earlier 75-63 loss to West Virginia Wesleyan.

Glenville's tournament hopes soared sky-high with their impressive win over West Liberty's highly-regarded Hilltoppers.

Paced by little Dickie Barrett's 11 points, the White Wave coasted to a 21-14 first period lead. With Gandee, Tekieli, and Merriman doing a fine job of rebounding, the Josephmen continued their high scoring ways in the second period and held a 46-43 bulge at half time. Tennant Breaks Loose

"Dynamite" Jack Tennant, held to 5 points for the first half, broke loose with 9 points in the third period as the Pioneer's lengthened their lead to 65-56.

West Liberty started fast in the final session as Rich led the up-staters in a last-ditch effort to overhaul the Wave. The Hilltoppers forged into the lead for the first time during the game as Rubisch scored on a one-handed push shot to make it 70-69, West Liberty. Dick Barrett evened things seconds later with a foul shot, and Don Merriman followed up with a long set shot to push the Pioneers into a 72-70 lead. Barrett scored once again from the free-throw line and Tennant hit the curtains for a two-pointer that sent the G-Men into a commanding 75-70 margin that they never lost.

Playmaker Dick Barrett, who held the club together with 24 points in the first half, was high man for the winners with 32 markers, followed by Tennant who scored 25. "Dynamite" Jack had trouble getting started in the first two periods as the Hilltoppers used a two-man defense against him but Tennant exploded for 20 last half points that spelled defeat for West Liberty.

Captain Carlton Gandee, playing his last home game, came up with an outstanding performance under the defensive boards as well as directing the high-powered Pioneer offense. "Dangerous" Don Merriman and freshman Eddie Tekieli were masters of both boards throughout the evening and caused the visitors no end of trouble with their fine defensive work.

Wave Falls To Cats

The bed-ridden Pioneers came up with a courageous last half effort at Buckhannon but a dismal first half performance proved to be their downfall at the hands of their tournament opponent Wesleyan.

With Tennant, Barrett, and Don Merriman feeling the effects of recent illnesses, the G-Men fell to a 35-29 first half deficit they could never quite overcome.

Fighting gamely in the final two sessions, the Wave held the victors to a 35-34 margin to give the Bobcats an indication of things to come in the tournament.

Tennant fell under the 20 point mark for only the fifth time this season but still led the Pioneer scoring with 13 points, followed by "Easy Ed" Tekieli with 12.

Gandee Will Make Final Appearance In Tourney Play

This season's WVAC tournament will mark the farewell appearance of Glenville's court captain, Carlton "Cotton" Gandee.

Seldom spectacular but always steady and reliable, the affable Gandee has won the plaudits of hoop followers throughout the conference for his fine team play.

Gandee has been an ideal leader. Modest, helpful and inspiring even on a losing club has become "Cotton's" trademark.

The "Glendenin Comet" arrived on the Glenville scene with a fanfare of speculation because of his widely publicized exploits at Glendenin high school.

Gandee has far exceeded the expectations of even his most ardent admirers during his career as a Pioneer.

He has proven himself a basketball player, a leader and, above all, a gentleman.

Glenville will sorely miss Carlton Gandee in the years to come.

McClungs Win WAA Tourney

Laura McClung and Barbara McClung won the shuffleboard tournament for the first semester in W. A. A. competition.

Those girls who are participating in shuffleboard for second semester are, Laura McClung and Barbara McClung; Shirley Brubaker and Nancy Grose; Genevieve Hintz and Leta Gregory; Virginia Harris and Helen Holmes; Jackie Lynch and Leona Satterfield.

Sports leader Kathleen Quinn announced that the first games in ring tennis were played February 11. The girls who are taking part in this tournament are Claire Bowles and Wanda James, Dottie Lanham and Joan Dotson, Jean Fore and Jane Ratliff, Betty Cooper and Kathleen Quinn, Helen Holmes and Virginia Harris, Leona Satterfield and Jackie Lynch, and Jean Reeder and Eleanor Dotson.

Business Law Class Hears Circuit Clerk

Robert Butcher, clerk of circuit court of Gilmer county, spoke to Prof. G. M. Butcher's business law class Feb. 18.

Butcher, a former student of Glenville State, discussed the duties of the court and its divisions. As court is in session this week, he discussed the docket. The business law class plans to attend some of the trials.

Lorentz Carr Hamilton, a Grantsville lawyer, is scheduled to speak to the class in the near future. "These speakers will help to correlate the work done in classroom with actual law practice," says Mrs. Butcher.

Illness-ridden Wavemen Rip Salem Tigers 92-85

Tennant Runs Wild In 33-Point Display; Poole Racks Up 32

By JIM ROBINSON

Glenville States crippled Pioneers came up with their most courageous performance of the year last Tuesday night when they edged by Salem 92-85 in a drama-filled contest.

With Dickie Barrett and Bud Huff sidelined by illness, and Jack Tennant and Don Merriman under par with a touch of influenza, the G-Men unleashed a furious first half assault that all but ran the favored Tigers into the floor.

In the first two periods, Tennant and Poole, shooting with amazing accuracy, key-noted the basket parade with 23 and 18 points, respectively, which shoved the White Wave into a 52-43 half time lead.

Salem started fast in the third period when they narrowed the Glenville lead to five points and threatened to overhaul the Pioneers, but baskets by Tennant and Captain Carlton Gandee started another Glenville flurry that sent the Wave into the final chapter with a 69-62 margin.

Salem renewed their threat in the fourth period and crept to within 4 points of the G-Men with four minutes remaining.

Glenville fans were breathing heavily at this point, recalling the many games this season when the locals have had certain victories snatched from their grasp in the final stage of the game.

Gandee, playing his finest 1953 ball game, sank a charity toss at 3:25 to widen the gap to 84-78. Salem scored from the floor again to make it 84-81 but the irrepressible Tennant scored on two foul shots.

The Tigers once again bounced back with a field goal to shave the Pioneers lead to 86-83 with 2 minutes remaining. Gandee hit twice from the free-throw line and Salem retaliated with another two-pointer to make the score 88-85 with one minute, 40 seconds remaining, and with pandemonium breaking loose in the stands.

Merriman, Gandee, and Tekieli put the ball in the "deep freeze" at this point, and one-handers by Poole and Gandee in the final ten seconds insured the victory.

"Dynamite" Jack Tennant once again paced the scorers with 33 points, 23 in the first half. Following Tennant were Bob Poole with 32 and Carlton Gandee with 18.

The Wave hit on 34 of their 65 field goal attempts while Salem got 36 out of 89. The winners also got 24 of their 35 foul tries to Salem's 13 for 19 efforts.

Gandee dumped in 6 of his 8 field goal attempts, Poole 14 for 27, and Tennant had 13 for 27.

Annual Class Tournament Set With Frosh Vs. Seniors Mar. 6

Glenville State college's annual class tournament will begin Monday, March 9 at 7:30. The senior girls will trot out to trade baskets with the freshman ladies, and by the luck of the draw, the freshman and senior men also play on the night of March 9.

On Tuesday night the junior and sophomore classes, both men and women, meet. The finals will be held Thursday night, March 12. The class tournament, revived last year after several years' absence, was a huge success, and the closely played, clean, hard fought games are remembered by all upper classmen.

Coaches Are Named

Class presidents have named the following men and women to act as coaches. Seniors: men, Carlton Gandee, Bill Hanlin; women, Leona Satterfield, Marjorie Burke. Juniors: men, Charles Zakarian; women, Sally Waggoner, Nancy Harris. Sophomores: men, Frank Vincent; women, Dorothy Lanham. Freshmen: men, Jim Robinson; women, Mary Lou Glendenin. Maurice Buck will serve as official scorer, but no official timer has been secured yet.

All games will be in the old gym. The tournament is sponsored by the Holy Roller Court.

15 Pledges Begin ADE Frat Initiation

Fifteen pledges provided entertainment for a party of Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity Monday evening, February 16, in the business education department. The program consisted of a skit about school days, readings, and vocal selections.

After the program, refreshments were served to the fraternity members and the following pledges: Peggy Shores, Betty Sue Sims, Patty Sumpter, Mary Helen Somerville, Vonda Lee Byrd, Elaine Bell, Charles Ray, Patty Handman, Alice Ann Griffith, Jack Tennant, Bernard Jolly, Don Merriman, Helen Berry, Jean Fore, and Beulah Becker.

This party began a two weeks initiation period for the new pledges invited into the fraternity.

Two Extension Classes Being Taught This Term

Two extension classes are being taught this term. Prof. H. S. Orndorff is teaching Music 401, Music History and Appreciation, in Elizabeth to a class of 16. Prof. E. B. Elder is teaching English 371, New Testament Literature, to a class of 21 in Clay.

UNION IS PAINTED

A new coat of paint was applied to the walls and floor of the Student Union on Friday 13.

The floor was painted a dark shade of gray, the walls kelly green up about three feet, with the rest light green, and the ceiling, cream. Furniture and drapes in the Union are red.

Former GSC Student Is Army Nurse Chief

Former Glenville State student Lt. Col. Ruby Bradley from Spencer has just completed 28 years service in the U. S. Army nurse corps, three of which were spent as a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II. She is now serving in Korea.

Lt. Col. Bradley rose up through the ranks to become chief of the eight army nurse corps which celebrated its 52nd anniversary Feb. 2.

She received her early education in Roane county schools graduating from Spencer high. She received her nurse's training and was graduated from Philadelphia General hospital and also graduated from the University of California.

O'Dell's Korpses Throw Men's Cage Loop Into Tie with 51-46 Win over Lovers

By MAURICE BUCK

O'Dell's Korpses knocked Lazear's Lovers from the ranks of the MAA undefeated by nipping them 51-46 in last week's cage play. Lazear's loss throws the league into a three-way tie. The Lovers, Korpses, and Short's 8-Balls all have a 4-1 record.

O'Dell's team held a small lead throughout most of the contest. Hunt and Milligan paced the winners with 16 points each, but Ron Godfrey topped all scorers by notching 20 for the Lovers.

Robinson's Rams put on a 40-point second half to overhaul Hall's Cherry Pickers 65-51. Hall's boys, after leading 31-25 at half time, were blasted off the floor by the Rams second half spurt. Vincent and Buck led the Rams with 22 and 18 points. Spaur with 18 and Ollie Hunt with 17 led the losers.

Short's Eight-balls climbed into a tie for first place with a 48-40 win over Linger's Lemons. Short's club, leading only 40-38 going into the final canto, took the contest by holding Linger's lads to a single bucket in the final period. Although Short's team could garner only 8 points themselves, it was enough. Bill Rumbach paced all scorers with 20 points for the winners. Joe Romano headed the losers with 11.

Filthy Five Loses

Watt's Deacons took a 70-34 decision from Sturgill's winless Filthy Five. The fast-breaking winners were never in trouble as they led 34-20 at half time. "Hodge" Hissam and "Red" Radcliff led the attack with 22 and 21 points. "Cannonball" Spencer and Lewis Hinkle had 11 each for the losers.

The Standings

	W	L
Lazear's Lovers	4	1
Short's Eightballs	4	1
O'Dell's Korpses	4	1
Robinson's Rams	3	2
Watt's Deacons	2	3
Hall's Cherry Pickers	2	3
Linger's Lemons	1	4
Sturgill's Filthy Five	0	5

Sport Talk

By MAURICE BUCK

George Springer, Executive Secretary of the West Virginia Inter-collegiate Athletic conference, has released the following directive: "Any varsity basketball player who participates in an independent basketball tournament before or after the conference tournament shall be declared ineligible to participate in college basketball the following season."

Although Coach Michael Josephs, Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff, and other persons, have, no doubt, mentioned this rule, it cannot be publicized too much. Last year this rule was not in effect, and Glenville was represented at several tournaments as were all the other colleges. The only player on the Pioneer team this rule would not effect is Captain "Cotton" Gandee, the lone senior.

Now is the time for all columnists to make their tournament predictions. At the risk of being called a turncoat, this column must go with the "big boys." Tech or Morris Harvey should win the tournament — Wesleyan, if they would get "hot" on their home floor, would be the dark horse favorite.

Should our Pioneers be able to pull a major upset tonight they could become the "Cinderella" team that Beckley was in 1951 when they went to the finals only to be trounced by our championship team. Beckley had a much more miserable season that year than Glenville this year.

So with the rest of the Pioneer fans, this column wishes them good luck in tonight's contest.

Six New Members Accepted Into Lettermen's Group

Six new members were accepted in the G-Club last week. Frank Fultineer, Charles Sturgill, Edward Tekieli, James Robinson, Dan Hall, and Michael Popp.

Minstrel Director Bill Hanlin stated that rehearsals are going smoothly and dress rehearsals will be held this week. The annual event will be presented March 17.

Hunt, Gainer MAA Leaders

Oliver Hunt leads all scorers in the Men's Intramural basketball league with 103 points in 5 games for a 20.6 average. However, Jim Gainer, appearing in only four games, has scored 98 points to lead the averages with a 24.5 mark.

Sixteen men from seven teams have scored forty or more points in MAA basketball. The teams are well represented, with all but one team placing at least one player in the top sixteen. No one from Sturgill's team has played the necessary four games.

Players, points, and averages are as follows:

Name	Pts.	Avg.
Jim Gainer	98	24.5
Oliver Hunt	103	20.6
Frank Vincent	86	17.2
Maurice Buck	85	17.0
Bill Radcliff	84	16.8
Rodney Spaur	79	15.8
Harold Hissam	74	14.8
Bob Milligan	72	14.4
John Lazear	58	14.4
Paul Hunt	55	13.7
Ronald Godfrey	68	12.4
Mike Popp	62	12.4
Billy Lilly	61	12.2
Bill Rumbach	50	10.0

Major R. W. Boyles, a former Glenville State student, 1927-28, 1928-29, 1932, has been appointed acting superintendent of the state police by Gov. Wm. C. Marland.

While a student at Glenville, Major Boyles was a member of the football team and basketball team.

Boyles, a veteran of 18 years with the department, was inspector and director of training at state police headquarters. He taught school in Gilmer county for five years before joining the state police.

Boyles will serve until a superintendent is appointed to fill the position vacated by the resignation of Capt. W. E. Burchett.

Homemakers Board Holds Planning Meet Here Feb. 19

board of the Future Home-makers association was held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 19 on the Glenville campus.

Mrs. Frances Howard, regional advisor from Sutton, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for the Future Home Makers meeting which will be held on the campus on March 14.

Girls from 119 high schools, their faculty advisors, and official representatives will be present at the March 14 meeting.
