Wave Falls to Red-Hot Cats in Tourney

Grant Reynard Will Appear On Lyceum Series March 13

By SALLY WAGGONER

Grant Reynard, artist, will be here Thursday and Friday, March 12 and 13, speaking in assembly Thursday morning at 10:10. His topic will be "Painting My Way Across the U. S. A.", and he will also show slides of his paintings.

He will appear on the Lyceum program Thursday night, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. Friday morning at 10:10 he will demonstrate water colors and oil paintings in Louis Bennett lounge, and Friday afternoon he will hold informal discussions with interested students.

Grant Reynard was born in Grand Island, Nebraska, the son of parents of unusual musical talents. Although his early life was devoted to the study of piano and composition, his love of art and active interest in drawing proved to be a stronger inclination and in time forced him to relinquish his music in favor of the study of art. After studying at the Art Institute and Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago, he painted in France and England, studying the paintings, and etchings and lithography in the great art centers.

Reynard spent several summers painting and etching at the MacDowell Colony while serving on the faculty of the Grand Central School of Art, New York. In 1940 he was visiting painter at the University of Wyoming.

Reynard believes that an artist has a talent peculiar to himself which should be nurtured and developed with specific care in order that the proper characteristics will find expression. His theory is that professors should acquaint students with the tools and mediums, the tradition and history of art, "but let's not insist as teachers that we know the best way to make art."

Director Picks Crews for Play

By ELAINE BELL

Committees for the Oningwood production, "Death Takes a Holiday" have been appointed. Prof. Marjorie Skelton, director, announced.

The play by Alberta Cassell, rewritten for the American stage by Robert Harris, is scheduled to be presented March 31 in the college auditorium.

Committees are: stage manager, Charles Zakarian; publicity, James Watson, Bertie Turner, William Boram and Bonel Poling; program and tickets, Betty Jo Simons, Betty Cogar, Bertie Turner, James Watson, and Faith Bingham; lights, James Watson.

Make-up, Wanema Davidson, Jean Fore, Wanda James and Patsy Lyons; scenery, Claire Bowles, Faith Bingham, Wanda James, James Watson, Bertie Turner, Patsy Lyons and Jean Fore; props, Claire Bowles, Alice Ann Griffith, Faith Bingham, Wanema Davidson, Jean Fore and James Watson.

DEMONSTRATIONS PLANNED

Home Economic Club will sponsor an open club meeting in the rear future to give demonstrations on a sewing machine. The use of all the attachments will be shown.

Work is being done by the club on a newsletter to send to all home economic majors who have graduated from Glenville. This will be the first newsletter the college has ever sponsored and they are hoping to continue this project from year to year.

Sock Hop Set For March 14

Xi Beta Tau Sorority's annual Sock Hop will be held March 14, from 9-12 p. m. in the old gym.

The tradition of the Sock Hop is for the girls to ask the boys, shoes are checked at the door, and the couples dance in their stocking feet. Prizes will be given for the holiest, darestest, brightest, best matched couple, and most unique design socks.

INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED

A county superintendent and five school principals from Arlington County, Virginia, will be on the Glenville State campus March 10 to interview students for elementary and secondary positions. All students interested in being interviewed are asked to report to Dr. Eddie Kennedy to arrange for a time for the interview.

G-Club Minstrel Readies For March 17 Performance

By MAURICE BUCK

Music, dancing and comedy in the G-club manner will constitute this organization's annual minstrel show when it returns to the GSC campus after an absence of one year. This year's show is set for March 17 at 3 p. m. in the college auditorium. Rehearsals have been in session for the past three weeks, and expectations are running high that this will be one of the greatest of minstrel shows.

This show will be done in the traditional black face style, with a large cast of singers, dancers, and comedians, and will feature a number of special acts. Among the latter will be vocal selections by

Tennant Leads All Scorers With 23; Wesleyan Ties Record In 105-75 Win

Play Tourney Will Be Held

By PATTY SUMPTER

Glenville State will be host to a regional High School One Act Play contest, Prof. Marjorie Skelton announced. Dates have tentatively been set at May 2 or May 9. As of now three high schools have entered, Walton, Point Pleasant, and Normantown.

Each college in the state will sponsor a regional contest. The winner of each region will go to Morgantown for the state contest. This marks the revival of high school contests in this section. Contests have not been held for several years.

These contests foster interests in dramatics on the high school level, says Miss Skelton.

State Supervisor Visits Glenville Campus Feb. 25

Prof. Lillian Chadcock announced that Miss Ann M. Boggs, State Extension Supervisor, was on the campus the afternoon of February 25.

Purpose of this visit was to interview any of the home economic students who are interested in a position with the extension department.

Caroline Boyd, Kathleen Quinn, and Thomas Reed, accompanied by Mary Faith Holbert, dances by Dorothy Latham, Donald Weaver, Harold Hissam, Claire Bowles, and Bill Hanlin. Surprise Act Set.

A Dixie Land band will be on hand to furnish several renditions. An imported performer has been promised if the act can make necessary travel connections.

End men for the minstrel are Richard Barrett, Harold Hissam, Donald Merriman, and Edsel Robinson. Interlocuter will be Marvin Stewart. Comedians are Dan Hall, Charles Spencer, and Frank Fullinier. The minstrel is being produced and directed by Bill Hanlin.

By JIM ROBINSON

Wesleyan's vaunted Bobcats ruined the tournament hopes of Glenville State College in the first round of the W.V.I.A.C. playoffs at Buckhannon by burying the White Wave under a record-equaling 105-75 deluge.

Displaying their sharpest attack of the season, the favored Buckhannon quintet completely outplayed the Pioneers all the way, but the G-Men were battling every inch of the way and never once did they give up. They played in the true Glenville tradition—hard and clean.

"Easy Ed" Tekelli's free toss opened the evening's scoring and moved the Josephmen into a short-lived 1-0 lead. Herb Lefard counted on a foul shot to even the account but Dickie Barrett's charity throw put Glenville in the van 2-1.

Hawkins and Come led the 'Cats to a 5-4 lead which was diminished quickly as Tennant scored from the floor and Barrett hit on a foul shot. O'Toole's one-hand push shot squared matters at 7-7, and Brake dumped in a two-pointer to lead the Wesleyan crew to a 9-7 margin. The home forces, although hard-pressed several times during the second period, never relinquished this lead. O'Toole and Come scored repeatedly in the final moments of the first session to provide the Bobcats with a comfortable 23-14 edge.

The second period was only two minutes old when Tennant scored on a pretty pass play from Barrett to bring the Glenville forces within four points of Wesleyan. Two baskets by Rutherford and one by O'Toole shot the Orange and Black ahead 33-24, but Tennant scored again to make it 33-26.

Prof. Albanese Is Representative At National Meeting

West Virginia was one of the three states in the United States to be represented by a nutrition exhibition at a meeting of the American Food Service association held in California.

Prof. Naomi Albanese and Miss Mary Pullen, assistant of state school lunches, were responsible for the West Virginia nutrition exhibition which depicted the nutrition program being carried on in the state.

Joyce Georgalis, student in the fields of elementary and art, helped in the designing of the exhibit.

The other two states represented were New York and California.

Gilmer CTA Prexy Gives Talk To FTA

A guest speaker, Mrs. Muriel Curry, president of the Gilmer county C.T.A. gave a talk at an F.T.A. meeting Feb. 19. Her topic was about new bills, the severance tax, and the bill of equalization which are in the West Virginia legislature.

Members are again going to write letters to high school seniors urging them to attend Glenville State college. The F.T.A. president, Mrs. Winona Hall, has returned this term to resume her duties. Plans for an assembly on March 5 are complete. A movie, "What a Greater Gift" will be shown.

The F.T.A. is planning a mix for March 7. A "white elephant sale" will be held at the m. x. Student chaperones are Richard Hoover and Maxine Edwards, and faculty chaperones are Dr. and Mrs. Delmer Somerville.

Discussion was held as to the projects for this year.

GRANT REYNARD

FAMOUS GRAD DIES JAN. 21

Dr. Homer E. Cooper, a well-known Glenville alumnus, died January 21 at the age of 75. Dr. Cooper received his early education in the rural schools of Glen county, and graduated from Glenville State Normal school, West Virginia university, and Columbia university. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia in 1924.

Dr. Cooper served as dean of the faculty of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers college, dean of West Liberty State Teachers college, and as president of Blue Ridge college in Maryland.

He was the author of a book, The Cost of Training Teachers. Dr. Cooper had a number of articles published in professional magazines.

Dr. Cooper has had many brothers, sisters, nieces, and nephews who have been graduated here. Everett Cooper, a nephew, is a student at Glenville State college this semester.

College Debators Engage Fairmont

Glenville college debate team engaged Fairmont State college here Saturday in a dual meet. The question debated was, Resolved: "That the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory fair employment practices law."

Glenville's team was made up of Claire Bowles, Fred Marks, James Watson and Harry Owens. Plans are being completed for a meet with Marshall college, Concord college and W. Va. Institute of Technology in the near future.

Flu Victims Are Confined To Dorm; Nurse Also Is Ill

Those students who had influenza during the past week have stayed in the dormitories because of the illness of Mrs. Theresa Strothers, the school nurse. Dorothy Light, Dorothy Terrill, Ruby Cromwell, and William Ross are those who were carried trays from the kitchen.

Out Of Balance

West Virginia Education association has set as its goal the job of getting $1 a day per student for the schools of West Virginia. With the present state average just 76 cents a day, West Virginia ranks far below the national average of $1.12 per day. The WVEA is now attempting to bring about a more even balance and give the school children of the state the educational benefits they deserve.

Of the present 76 cents per day expended, 18 cents comes from county property taxes and 58 cents is state aid.

The WVEA proposes to raise the additional 24 cents per pupil in the following manner: eight cents from county funds ($6,000,000) and 16 cents per pupil from state funds. They feel that equalization of assessed valuations among and within the individual counties should provide the local share needed. The additional 16 cents, they say, could come from the state's vast natural resources which indicate West Virginia's ability to provide needed funds at the state level for schools.

WVEA states that the additional 24 cents per pupil per day would provide for additional teachers, better trained teachers, needed instructional aids, free textbooks, adequate transportation, extended school program, adequate maintenance and operation of buildings, sick leave for teachers, enriched and more equitable state aid formula.

Their goal is the raising of the needed funds to give West Virginia's children the enriched school program they deserve, and in so doing to swing the state into better balance with the nation's other school systems.—WAB

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Past issues of the Mercury have carried stories relating the improvements of various departments here on campus such as the painting of Louis Bennett, new desks for Verona Mapel hall, equipment for the home economics department, and a private dining hall.

But still, the girls of Kanawha hall suffer from "splinteritis." This disease is credited to the old, dilapidated, wooden floors of the dormitory. Now I ask you, is this condition fair or necessary? If any improvements are necessary it seems to me the fixing of the floors of Kanawha hall should come first, since it is one of the oldest buildings on the campus.

The condition of the floors in Kanawha hall is not only dangerous to the girls' feet but also makes it a fire trap.

The girls of Kanawha hall hope that something will be done about this condition in the near future.

A faithful reader,
J. L. I.

Pioneer 4-H Club Donates Dish Towels

By JOHN CUTLIP

Pioneer 4-H Club of Glenville State college made twenty-five dish towels which will be placed in use at the Gilmer County recreation center.

The club, noting the need for such equipment at the Center, chose this as their club project. Different members brought white feed sacks, and on Wednesday, February 4, the members met in the home economic department's sewing room, and under the direction of Prof. Naomi Albanese, club leader, the towels were made with both boys and girls participating in the activities.

According to Prof. Albanese, the towels will be placed in use in the very near future and should be a great aid to groups using the kitchen at the recreation center.

Since this completes the club's project, there will be a new one chosen at a future meeting. The purpose of a club project is to give service to the community, and also provide an opportunity for the club members to work together as a group. It also tends to promote group cooperation and responsibility for community service.

Korean GI Bill Named Top VA Event of Year

In a brief review of veterans' affairs for the year 1952, the veterans administration said the outstanding event was the enactment into law of the Korean GI Bill. It pointed out that the term, "Korean veteran" applies to any man or woman who has been released or discharged after active service in the U. S. armed forces anywhere in the world after the date, June 27, 1950.

The first important veteran's legislation of 1952 was the law increasing compensation and pension rates for more than 3,000,000 veterans and dependents of deceased veterans. Another important enactment was the one which raised the income ceilings applied in pension cases, to $1,400 per year income for veterans without dependents and $2,700 for a veteran married or with a dependent child.

Under terms of the Korean GI Bill, qualified veterans may receive five benefits, that is, education and training; GI loans for homes, farms or business; unemployment compensation; mustering-out pay, and assistance in finding jobs. Only the training and loan provisions are administered by the Veterans Administration.

Ionette theater is becoming a part of our schools. One well-known puppeteer has said, "We must not forget the element of magic which puppets and marionettes bring to the child. This is something other crafts cannot offer."

Mr. Seager has written a practical illustrated manual discussing making, and manipulation of puppets. He has included ideas for constructing a theater. This book will be an aid to any teacher.

Prof. Orendorff Presides at Executive Meeting of College Music Educator Group

By JUANITA GREEN

An executive meeting of the College Music Educators was held here Monday, March 2. Glenville State college was represented, with Prof. Harold Orendorff as chairman of the group. Prof. Bertha Olsen is the chairman of the membership committee.

Other members of the executive committee are:

Dr. Weldon Hart, director of the School of Music, West Virginia university. Dr. Hart is the vice-chairman of the College Music Educators.

T. D. Phillips, director of the School of Music at Institute, is the secretary-treasurer.

Myllan Snyers, head of the music department at West Virginia Tech, is the immediate past chairman.

Walter Caplan is the sixth member of the committee. Mr. Caplan is the editor of "Notes-a-Temple," the state music magazine.

The group discussed the problems in college music in the state.

Ex Libris

By JOSEPHINE FIDLER

Our library has received several new books discussing special leisure time activities. If you are interested in an artistic hobby, dancing, or hints for teaching a craft one of these books may be of help to you. These five books are illustrated and readable.

Block Printing On Fabrics, Florence Harvey Pettit, 146p.

This book concerns the person who is interested in a leisure time occupation, the person who likes to make his own gifts, or the art teacher. Mrs. Pettit is a specialist in her field. The idea for this book was a result of work with the Red Cross hospital program during the war.

Mrs. Pettit has reduced her knowledge of block printing on fabrics and presents only the essentials in a simple, readable manner. She has included many illustrations and step-by-step procedures. The author gives a dictionary of tools and supplies. Sources for obtaining materials have been added.

Arranging Flowers from the Roadside, Fields, and Woods, Amelia Leavitt Hill, 151p.

With spring just around the corner perhaps you will be interested in this practical guide on arranging wild flowers, grasses, and mosses. The author has included lovely pictures in color and black and white.

If you wish to know which flowers last well or how to arrange wild flowers with cultivated flowers and vegetables, Miss Hill answers your questions concisely. She discusses arrangements for special occasions and the joys of making a wild flower garden. She considers the methods for drying flowers for bouquets.

Better Frames for Your Pictures, Frederic Taubes, 144p.

Mr. Taubes has written his book to enable anyone, familiar or unfamiliar with handicraft, to produce frames of good quality. Nearly everyone desires at some time to have a suitable frame for a painting or photograph, but doesn't like to pay an expensive price.

By using inexpensive materials, nice frames can be made by following the step-by-step instructions given by Mr. Taubes. If you have an old frame at home it can easily be refinished. The author discusses materials needed for this craft and sources where materials may be obtained.

The Square Dance, edited by Laurence (Bud) Bol, 288p.

Chicago's outstanding square dance caller, "Bud" Bol, has compiled this book for those who enjoy the popular recreational activity, square dancing. This manual considers the fundamental notions with diagrams to illustrate. Many calls and their explanations are given. Round dances and mixers have been included.

This book gives suggestions for dances to lead at your next party. It will be an aid in teaching folk dancing in your classes.

Marionettes, Donal W. Seager, 79p.

Teachers must not forget the value of teaching crafts. The mar-

Tennant Sets New Pioneer Scoring Mark, Breaking 'Hooks' Record With 516 Total

By JIM ROBINSON

Despite Glenville's disappointing 1952-53 regular season won and lost mark of 8 and 14, the Pioneer's talented forward, "Dynamite" Jack Tennant set a new regular season scoring total by eclipsing Bob "Hooks" Hardman's 50-51 record of 499 points.

The "Fairview Flipper" led the White Wave scoring parade with 516 points in 22 games for a 23.4 average. Tennant scored over 20 points in 16 games during the year, including four contests in which he scored 30 or more points. Tennant's highest point output for the year came against Beckley when he shook the nets for 39 points. Strangely enough, Jack's lowest scoring night was also against the Blue Hawks when he was held to a mere 8 points.

Following Tennant was sophomore Bob Poole, who counted 363 points for a game average of 16.7. Poole went over the 20 point mark five times and hit thirty or better twice.

Diminutive Dickie Barrett, playing in only 21 tilts, scored 344 points to raise his career total to 671 points.

Home Record Good

Glenville's reputation of being a poor home-floor team appears to be unfounded in view of their impressive 6 won 5 lost record at the local field house, while they could only gain 2 victories in 11 starts away from home.

The individual regular season scoring totals for the 1952-53 season:

NAME	POINTS
Jack Tennant	516
Bob Poole	363
Dick Barrett	344
Carlton Gandee	244
Don Merriman	100
Eddie Tekell	88
Bud Huff	49
Danny Hall	21
Ed Donnellan	14
Bob Duffield	7
Ervin Hull	5

WAVE FALLS TO RED-HOT

Four consecutive baskets by the Bobcats sent the Buckhannon quintet in front 41-26. Led by Barrett and Tennant, the Wave made a great attempt to overcome the leaders but the half ended with Wesleyan enjoying a sizeable 51-37 bulge.

The 'Cats continued their amazing shooting at the outset of the third period and opened up the gap to 62-44. Tennant and Tekell tried vainly to keep the G-Men in contention but when the period buzzer sounded the Wesleyan five still persisted 70-54.

In the final canto the Pioneers fell even further to the rear as the Bobcats stepped up the attack in an attempt to better the one-game point total set by Morris Harvey in the 1950 classic. In the final seconds of the game, with both teams using their reserves, Wesleyan fans let out an uproar as the 'Cats equalled the tournament mark of 105 points. Time ran out before the winners could set a new total.

With the final gun, the Pioneers ended another basketball campaign, and while they did not win any championships, or even win half of their games, they gave their followers a colorful brand of basketball and they never did quit.

The Pioneer scoring ace, "Dynamite" Jack Tennant, led both teams in scoring with 23 points, despite some tight defensive play by Wesleyan. Dick Barrett scored 17 points before retiring on fouls

Morris Harvey Downs A-B To Take First Tourney

Morris Harvey's Golden Eagles capitalized on the loss of three Alderson-Broadbudds regulars in the final period to win their first state collegiate tournament in 16 years as they downed the Battlers 97-82 before an overflow crowd at Buckhannon Saturday night.

The Eagles started fast in the first quarter and raced to 20-15 lead as the A-B scoring twins, Greynolds and Hartman failed to click. Harry Bush of Tanner started things rolling for the Battlers in the second session and Greynolds and Hartman began to hit to pace the Battlers 27-26 period margin that narrowed the half time deficit to 45-42 in favor of Morris Harvey.

At the start of the third period, the Battlers employed their familiar full-court press but this seemed to be what the Charleston quintet had been waiting for as they opened up the game with court-length passes that threw the Battlers into confusion. At the close of the quarter Morris Harvey had widened the gap to 73-63.

Early in the final chapter, A-B lost Greynolds, Bush, and Nice-warmer on fouls and the issue was never in doubt after they departed and the Eagles coasted home to their first title in the history of the WVVC tournament.

Morris Harvey had reached the finals by beating Concord, the defending champs West Liberty, and Wesleyan. The Battlers gained their way into the final session by conquering Potomac State, Salem, and Fairmont.

The finalists each placed two men on the all-tournament team selected by the attending sports writers. Jack Greynolds and Carl Hartman represented Alderson-Broadbudds while Dave Rosen and Denver Garrett were chosen from the new champions, Morris Harvey.

Others selected to the all-tournament five were: Ed Solomon of early in the final period. Captain Carlton Gandee, playing his final game for Glenville, hit for 10 points and did a yeoman job of rebounding.

RIMMING THE HOOP... Although there was a strong possibility that Wesleyan could set a new record, Coach Frank Ellis relieved his starting five early in the final period... Zigmund Mihalek, one of the nations leading officials, worked... the Glenville-Wesleyan tilt and proved to be very popular with the fans... freshman Danny Hall made his admirers happy by scoring 6 points in the few minutes he played... the Pioneers stayed on in Buckhannon to view more of the tournament... head cheerleader Chick Zakarian, looked somewhat dejected as he sat on the sidelines in street clothes... Miss Clarissa Williams and Miss Marjorie Skelton were giving the boys plenty of vocal support from the stands... Glenville had as much representation as any team in Buckhannon as hundreds of Pioneer followers made the sojourn... ah, that familiar phrase—"Wait 'til next year."

West Virginia Tech, Ted Come from Wesleyan... Dick Shamp of Fairmont, and Emil Rubich representing West Liberty. Glenville's JACK TENNANT was accorded honorable mention.

Tourney Topics... In keeping with what has become a tradition, upsets once again played a part in the annual classic... Fairmont pulled the first big surprise by edging the perennial favorites, Tech... the ease in which the Eagles whipped the tourney "dark horse", Wesleyan also lifted a few eyebrows... West Liberty seemed to be the sentimental favorite of the crowd with their appealing, fast-breaking style of play... With Jack Donovan seeing only limited action due to illness, Emil Rubich filled in as the middle-man on the West Liberty fast break... Shepherd started four freshmen in their only appearance against West Liberty and they stamped themselves as a team that will bear watching next season... although the Pioneers were knocked out of play in the first round, a large number of Glenville fans were seen at every session.

O'Dell's Korpses Win Men's Cage Title With 55-41 Defeat of Short's 8-Balls

By MAURICE BUCK

Play has been completed in the men's intramural league, with O'Dell's Korpses winning the league title with a 5-1 mark by downing Short's 8-balls 55-41. Two rounds were played last week in order to finish the league due to coming conflicting activities.

In other games, Linger's Lemons won a close one from the Filthy Five, 57-50. A big third period gave the Lemons the win as Joe Romano led the winners with 23 points while Lee Hinkle had 13 for the losers. Watt's Deacons won an easy 65-46 game from Hall's Cherry Pickers. The winners led 33-25 at half time and won going away. Harvey Hought paced the winners with 32 points while Mike Popp led the losers with 16.

Short's team eliminated Lazear's Lovers from the title race with a 47-39 win. The 8-balls put on a terrific last period rally to win. Jim Gainer was the whole show as he poured in 36 points while Harold Butcher led the Lovers with 12.

Hunt Gets 30

In the next round, Hall's Cherry Pickers outlasted Linger's Lemons 81-56. Hall's club, led by Big Ollie Hunt, raced ahead 25-17 to bury the scrappy Lemons. Hunt with 30 points led the attack, while Romano, with 18, was high for the losers. O'Dell's team won the title with a 55-41 win over Short's team. The Korpses led 26-20 at half time and added to their lead up till the final gun. Paul Hunt led the winners with 23 and Jim Gainer, as usual, paced Short's club with 19.

Lazear's Lovers closed out their season by smearing Sturgill's winless club 63-31. The Lovers were never contended in hanging up win

Officials Named for Class Tournament March 9, 10, 12

Seniors Oppose Freshmen, Sophs Meet Juniors; All-Tourney Teams to be Picked

Plans for the class tournament, March 9, 10 and 12, have been completed with the listing of tentative officials. Tournament Director Charles Spencer announced that all games would be held in the old gym. Girls' games will begin at 7 p. m.; men's games about 20 minutes after conclusion of the girls' games.

Both men's and women's all-tournament teams will be chosen, and the best players, one man, one woman, will receive a trophy. Last year's winners, Bob Poole and Marjorie Burke, will compete again this year.

Tentative list of officials: Men's, Lonnie Miller, Edsel Robinson, Joseph Neil Riddell, Billy Dean Hanlin, Frank Vincent, Ronald Butcher, Gene Spadaro, Marvin Stewart, Carlton Gandee, Don Weaver, and Avis Partain. Women's, Mary Helen Somerville, Dorothy Lanham, Nancy Harris, Sally Waggoner, Dolores Lynch, Marjorie Burke, Leona Satterfield and Jackie Lynch.

Official scorer will be Maurice Buck, official timer, Robert Buck.

Sport Talk

By MAURICE BUCK

With all interest, local and state, centered on tournaments, either high school or college, we would like to make our observations. In class A, our area of the state seems to have some better-than-average clubs. Football champs Grafton, Roosevelt Wilson of Clarksburg, Shinnston, Elkins and Parkersburg are all having successful seasons. Our choices of this group to end up in Morgantown are Parkersburg and Grafton.

In class B, Lost Creek high of Harrison county has finished the season with a 20-0 record. They were seldom ever pressed in rolling to their undefeated season. Lost Creek's closest game was an 11-point victory over St. Mary's of Clarksburg.

Rudy Poole, brother of Pioneer center Bob Poole, was the leading scorer on this club. Lost Creek will no doubt cause considerable trouble in the class B tourneys. The Longhorns have no serious competition in this area as a class B title contender.

It is fortunate for all class B contenders that Harrisville decided to go "A" class this year. The Gators averaged nearly 80 points per game in rolling up a 19-1 mark. The lone loss was at Calhoun when the Gators were without two regulars due to flu.

In a game here with Glenville high, Harrisville won by a charitable 82-54 count. The Gators led 40-15 after 10 minutes had gone in the game, and then began to substitute freely. However, Harrisville faces Parkersburg in the sectional tournament and is not expected to have much chance with the Big Reds.

Verona Mapel Gets More New Furniture

New Simmons double steel desks were placed in all rooms at Verona Mapel hall, February 23. With the installation of the desks Verona Mapel hall and Kanawha hall have been completely refurbished with desks, single beds, innerspring mattresses, study chairs, lounge chairs, chests, and wall mirrors. The furniture is all Simmons steel furniture in colors of brown and beige.

The process of re-equipping Verona Mapel and Kanawha halls has taken about seven years. As funds were accumulated from dormitory room rents, various items of furniture were purchased. Beds and innerspring mattresses were the first items purchased, then chests and mirrors, then study chairs and lounge chairs, and finally the student desks. Kanawha hall was refurbished first as it is the oldest dormitory on the campus and no new furniture had been purchased since the original building was constructed in 1916. Verona Mapel hall has not been refurbished since 1926 when the building was constructed.

Louis Bennett hall will be refurbished as soon as funds are available. It was constructed in 1937 partially from state appropriation, federal PWA funds, and from revenue bonds being paid from student rentals. As soon as the bonds have been retired and funds can be accumulated new furniture will be requisitioned.

team doing various routine demonstrations on the parallel bars. Next on the program the gymnasts performed on the side horse where several routines were presented. Following the stunts performed on the horse, the team worked out several stunts on the horizontal bar.

After the horizontal bar performance, Instructor Bon-sall and Ira Lilly entertained the Glenville student body and faculty with a tumbling performance. Concluding the program was an exhibition on the trampoline.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT FIELD SERVICE ACTIVITIES—Bell

Five members of the education department have been invited to attend the Central West Virginia Supervisors conference Friday, March 6, at the Weston Central elementary school. They are Dr. Eddie Kennedy, Dr. Delmar Somerville, H. Y. Clark, Dr. E. P. Adkins, and Miss Julie E. Matthews. Schools from Braxton, Calhoun, Doddridge, Gilmer, Lewis, Ritchie, Upshur, Webster, and Nicholas counties will be represented.

Dr. Delmar Somerville and Dr. Eddie Kennedy attended a meeting on Conservation Education at Morgantown, February, 27.

Students who are doing their practice teaching this term in secondary education taught full time last week, and they changed grade levels this week. Reports from high school principals are very favorable. Cooperation has been excellent from all schools involved, according to Dr. Eddie Kennedy.
