

MENC Will Present Annual Spring Concert Tomorrow

College Orchestra, Band, and Choir To Give Performances

By Juanita Green

Glenville State college branch of the Music Educators National Conference will sponsor the annual Spring Concert in the college auditorium at 8:15 Thursday night, April 30. The college choir, orchestra, and band will participate.

The program as announced by MENC President Mary Faith Holbert is as follows:

The orchestra will play "Entrance" and "March of the Peers" by Sullivan-Reibold; "Fantasie" by Mozart-Weaver; and the "South American Overture" by Isaac.

"Anchors Aweigh" by Miles-Zimmerman, "Grand Festival Overture" by Zamecnik, "Sunset Soliloquy" by Walters, "Hall West Virginia" by Miller-McWhorter, and "Bombasto" by Farrar will be given by the college band.

The choir has chosen "Paddy Works on the Railway," an old Irish folk song; "I Won't Kiss Kate," a Jugo-Slav folk song; "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Peter de Rose; "Ole Kicks a Moverin'," a Negro spiritual; "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel," a Negro spiritual; and "Onward Ye Peoples" by Jean Sibelius. Prof. Bertha Olsen, Eugene Gherke, and Mary Faith Holbert are the soloists. Gherke, a violinist, will play "Le Cygne" by Saint-Saens and "La Cinqtaine" by Gabriel-Marie. Mary Faith as pianist will use "Impromptu" Op. 90, No. 4 by Schubert as her selection.

Hoover Named State Officer

Richard Hoover, social studies major, was elected secretary of the State Methodist Student Movement at the state conference April 17-19 at Jackson's Mill.

Other students who attended the conference from Glenville State were Jane Myers, Beth Hudkins, Nancy Cogar, Joanne Davis, and James Watson.

Students elected to state offices from other colleges in the state are: President, Connie Garrison, Wesleyan; vice-president, Robert Chapman, Bluefield State; secretary, Nancy Price, W.V.U.; publicity chairman, Richard Carpenter, Morris Harvey; Robert Joyce, member at large from Concord; and Joyce Latham from Fairmont State, member at large.

Dr. Josephs Attends Phys. Ed. Convention

Dr. Michael Josephs attended the Eastern District convention of health, physical education and recreation, April 19-21 at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Several problems of interest to members of the physical education field were discussed, and lectures were made on various phases of physical education by leaders of the field.

The days were spent in lectures and conferences on such aspects of the field as job bureaus, safety education, obtaining the professional outlook, and other general matters.

The evenings were spent in general sessions, panels, and round table discussions. Later in the evenings, social periods were held with round, square, and folk dancing as the main diversions.

Dr. Josephs stated that it was an informative meeting, and he hopes to be able to take some physical education majors to future conventions.

GHS Band Gets High Rating

Gilmer County high school band will go to the State Band Festival at Huntington, April 30 through May 2, as a result of being judged a superior band in this region. This is the highest rating a band can receive. They have sufficient funds from the recent minstrel. Walter Rhodes, band director, was also chairman of the Class C bands which will meet at Huntington.

Five twirlers who received superior rating are Beverly Cain from Calhoun county, William Starcher from Walton, Betty Frame and Jean Wells from Nicholas county, and Gerald Simmons from Spencer.

James Byrne from Sutton received a superior rating for his trombone solo.

It was decided that the festival will meet on Glenville State college campus again next year.

Inez Connolly Is Elected President of Student Group

Inez Connolly was elected president of the SCA at a meeting held April 22. Other officers elected were Danice Hatfield, vice president; Janet Conley, secretary; Lois Fisher, treasurer; and Richard Hoover, worship chairman.

Inez is a sophomore from Calhoun county. She has been an active member of the SCA while a student at Glenville State.

New officers attended a leadership institute in Clarksburg Apr. 25.

Revised Constitution Will Be Presented to Students

Featured changes in the Student Council constitution were disclosed last week by President Frank Fullinwider. The main change will be the elimination of the nominating committee for Student Council officers.

These revisions will be distributed to the student body at an assembly next month to be discussed thoroughly. Following that a vote will be taken two weeks later.

Students will not be nominated for Student Council offices by a nominating committee under the new rule, but they must submit their name to the Student Council with a list of 10 students who have agreed to support them. They also

Five Students Attend Baptist Conference

Five Glenville State college students attended the eighth annual West Virginia State Student conference at the West Virginia Baptist camp April 17 to 19 at Cowen. Vanda Lee Bird, Lilly Davis, Maxine Edwards, Barbara Hart, and Sue Waggoner were those attending. Barbara Hart was elected to the state council as Glenville's representative.

Other colleges represented at the conference were Alderson-Broadus, Marshall, Morris Harvey, and West Virginia University. The theme of the conference was "In Spirit and in Truth."

Ronnie Singer's Orchestra Will Play for Annual Dance

Senior Class Plans Picnic

The senior class will sponsor a picnic Friday night, May 15, at the Gilmer County Recreation Center with all students invited to attend.

Both the time and activities are indefinite. President Billy Lilly is scouting for a director of games, and if electrical facilities are arranged suitably, there will be square dancing.

Two committee chairmen have been appointed. Ruby Cromwell is chairman of the refreshment committee, and Paul Hunt is chairman of the wood gathering crew.

The senior class sponsored a party on Saturday, April 18, at Louis Bennett lounge. Seniors and underclassmen participated in both round and square dancing from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Refreshments of chocolate sundaes and soft drinks were served by Ruby Cromwell as chairman of the refreshment committee. Helen Brammer, Jane Myers, Mary Robinson, Carl Gagliani, Edsel Robinson, and Dorothy Brannon were the other members of the committee.

Prof. and Mrs. Floyd Miller were chaperones for the evening.

Small Pox Clinic Announced By Nurse

Mrs. Theresa Strothers, school nurse, announces that there will be a clinic for small pox vaccinations on May 4. The vaccines will be given Monday from 1 to 3:30 by Mrs. Dingwood, county health nurse.

"Those who have never had the smallpox vaccine or who have not had one for 5 years should avail themselves to this opportunity," said Mrs. Strothers.

John Lazear was in the infirmary with tonsillitis.

Prof. Hunter Whiting has had infectious parotitis (mumps). During his absence, students have been pitch-hitting as instructors. A few of the substitutes are: Claudette Hefner, Robert Childers, Edna Dawson, Marvin Linger, Mrs. Gladys Miller, and Joseph Riddell.

Wanda Carol Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sigel Taylor of Spencer, has been elected Queen of the annual Holy Roller Court Ball to be held Friday night in the Old Gym. Wanda is a sophomore at Glenville, majoring in library science. She is a member of the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority.

The Court Ball, oldest dance on campus, will feature Ronnie Singer, his orchestra and vocalist of Parkersburg. The dance will be from 9 till 1, with admission $2.50 a couple. Tickets may be purchased from any Court member or pledge.

Judge Carl Gagliani has announced all committees working on the dance are doing a good job, and the dance should be a success. The Court dance usually draws many alumni.

Judge Gagliani has appointed the following committees: tickets, James Watson and Oliver Hunt; decorations, Richard Barrett, Maurice Buck, John Rohrbough, and pledges.

High Schools Attend Meet

Delegates from Future Teacher organizations from ten central W. Va. high schools attended the Regional FTA meeting Friday, April 17 on the Glenville State college campus, with the College club as hosts.

One hundred sixteen persons attended the all-day meeting which was centered around the training needed for the public school teacher.

Following group singing led by Prof. H. Y. Clark, and the welcome by Pres. Harry B. Heflin, the college group conducted a panel discussion on "The training a college student receives that prepares him to teach." Members of the panel were Joanne Dotson, Dorothy Brannon, Richard Hoover, James Scott, Janet Conley, and Mrs. Winona Hall, chairman.

Other participants on the program, and their home club, were Joyce Harper, Ripley; Carolyn Means, Ravenswood; Robert Giles, Calhoun; Anna Mae Starcher, Spencer; Carolyn Boyles, Parkersburg; Coralle Curtis, Weston.

Advanced Food Class Completes Projects

Professor Naomi Albense's advanced class has completed projects with quantity cookery and manipulation institutional equipment. They made cookies to be served in the dining hall for dinner April 22.

The class held a comparative study of cake mixes and cakes baked in homes. A panel of six judged the cakes baked. The panel was made up of William Boram, Kathleen Quinn, Jackie Humphries, Clarence Maze, Betty Sims, and Jane Myers.

Plans are being made to serve the first in a series of dinners. Coleta Thompson and Dorothy Brannon will be hostesses at the first dinner to be held May 5 in the home economics department.

Members of the class are Peggy Shores, Kathleen Quinn, Maxine Edwards, Dorothy Brannon, Coleta Thompson, Willadean Clarkson, and Susan Armentrout.

No Matter Who Won

By JIM ROBINSON

Two-hundred and seventy-nine students voted in the 1953 student council election which proved to be the most spirited and certainly the most controversial Glenville State college election in over a decade.

The introduction on the Glenville campus of "party" politics caused a furor that is certain to have its effects for many years to come.

One group, master-minded by Frank Fultineer and Carl Gagliani, selected Paul Lanham as its standard-bearer, while the other faction, with less organization, chose Bob Milligan as its presidential nominee.

An early surprise in the campaign came when the nominating committee named Milligan, elected sergeant-at-arms in 1952, as a candidate for secretary. As early as September, Milligan was regarded as one of the favorites to succeed the industrious Frank Fultineer, and his failure to be named by the nominating committee incited his followers. In the ensuing Student Body assembly, the Milligan group rallied to his support and nominated a slate of nominees to oppose the Fultineer-Gagliani party. BOTH parties nominated independents in an effort to cut the vote of the opposition. One of these candidates, Alice Ann Griffith, who undoubtedly would have been very much in the race for secretary, withdrew in favor of party unity. The other independents remained in contention and all made a remarkably good showing.

Seibert Gregory was the third man named for presidential consideration. With the majority of students presumably backing either Lanham or Milligan, Gregory, running without organized support, was conceded little chance of winning. As it later turned out, Gregory astounded the "experts" by outpolling Milligan to finish in second place behind Lanham.

A few students have branded the recent campaign "dirty", for what reason we are unable to understand. There were two principal groups, each with different ideas on how the student council should be run. Both groups, and even one independent, conducted active campaigns in an effort to win the voters. This is as it should be, for if you want anything in life, you have to go out and get it for yourself.

The same few also thought organized politics was out of place at Glenville, that the coalition between two fraternities was detrimental to the morale of the entire student body. The two-party system has long been a democratic principle that has been doing a pretty fair job of running the U. S. A., and it certainly has its place at Glenville, or anywhere else. The opposing parties have a difference of ideas and opinions. That they should do all in their power to persuade the voters that their program is the best is in accordance with political systems throughout the free world.

It is when the results are posted that it is determined just how big a country, or a college is. The thing to do, of course, is to close ranks and work together in the common cause, leaving the election where it belongs—in the past. This lesson in citizenship should be included in the students curriculum.

After our school days are over and we venture out into the world, we are apt to find many people who hold different ideals than ours. There is no running away from it, wherever we go; to accept it is essential to our development. We do not necessarily have to agree, but we are obligated to hear them out and to appreciate their opinions along with our own.

The 1954 elections will probably surpass the recent balloting in the way of spirited campaigning. The advent of a "third party", or the commuters, seems a strong possibility before too long. This would be a welcome addition to the political wars, as the more interest that is taken in this and other school activities can not help but be beneficial to the entire student body.

MILLIGAN IS ELECTED PREXY OF SIGMA TAU GAMMA FRAT

Robert Milligan, junior from Wellsburg, was elected president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity at a special election of that group held April 20 in the Administration building.

Other officers named at that time were as follows: vice-president, William Snider; recording secretary, Billy Radcliff; treasurer, William Phelps; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Cutlip; corresponding secretary, Denzil Whipkey.

Milligan is a chemistry major and formerly held the post of treasurer in the fraternity. He has served as class president and student council sergeant-at-arms, and recently was elected treasurer of the state student council federation. He is a member of the Science club, band, orchestra, and is active in intra-mural athletics.

Snider is a sophomore business major from Grantsville. Radcliff is a junior business major from Troy; Phelps is a junior agriculture major from Milton; Cutlip is a sophomore elementary major from Gassaway; and Whipkey is a sophomore mathematics major from Grantsville. Retiring officers are: president, William Waldeck; vice-president, James Scott; secretary, Radcliff; treasurer, Milligan; sergeant-at-arms, Phelps; and corresponding secretary, Clarence Maze.

The newly-elected officers will assume their duties at the next regular Sigma Tau meeting.

Girls' Dorm Officers To Be Named May 12

At the April meeting of Verona Mapel hall girls, President Dorothy Terrill appointed Wanda Lorraine Taylor, Genevieve Hinter, and Betty Dobbins for the nominating committee to select the officers of the coming school year. The election will be held Tuesday, May 12; other nominations can be made from the floor.

Joan Dotson was appointed overall chairman for the annual informal tea which Verona Mapel hall gives for all seniors. The tea will be held in Verona Mapel hall lounge on May 20 from 2 until 4. Joan will appoint the chairman and members for her committees.

Journalism Students View Mercury on Press

Elaine Bell, Juanita Green, William Boram, and Prof. Edgar R. Elder went to Buckhannon last week to continue their study of methods of printing a newspaper. The journalism classes began their observation of printing by inspecting the local Democrat office.

While in Buckhannon, the group saw The Mercury put on the presses of the Republican Delta. Dana Deane, shop foreman, and Herbert Welch, editor, served as guides for the group.

The manager of Mountain State Photo and Engraving Co. showed the students and their faculty advisor the processes involved in making a "cut" or "mat" from a picture.

101 Students Are Treated by Nurse

During the month of March, 101 students made a total of 176 visits to the nurse's office. Forty-nine visits were for colds; three visits were for intestinal disorders; eight visits were for injuries; three for appendicitis; and twelve for measles.

Geardine Groves and Nancy Hamrick have been in the infirmary for tonsillitis. Virginia Johnson and William Rouse have both been victims of mumps.

Mrs. Theresa Strothers, the school nurse, asks that any student with the symptoms of mumps (pain and soreness in jaw) report immediately to her office. Mrs. Strothers says that if students do not observe this simple little request when they first feel any pain, the infirmary might be full until the end of school. One other word of caution—stay away from crowds if you feel ill. The dining hall and the movie are certainly crowded places. Report to the nurse first, and then to the movie or dining hall, Mrs. Strothers said.

Students Will Attend State Home Ec. Meet

State Home Economics conference will be held this Friday and Saturday at Jackson's Mill. The meeting will begin with registration at 1:15 p. m. on Friday, and last until Sunday morning after breakfast.

Glenville State Home Economic club and the Gilmer County Home Economist are responsible for a social hour Friday afternoon.

A panel discussion, with Prof. Naomi Albanese as moderator, will be given Friday night on the highlights of the National Food and Nutrition Institution which was held last December in Washington. An address will be given by Dr. Marion Lowenberg of Penn State college. Other addresses will be given by prominent persons in the field of nutrition. A banquet will be held Saturday night.

Students from Glenville attending the meeting will be Coleta Thompson, Glenda Hinter, Genevieve Hinter, Susan Armentrout, Jolene Jones, Jackie Rastle, Kathleen Quinn, Betty Sue Sims, Lois Fisher, Beth Hudkins, Nancy Harris, Dorothy Lanham, Helen Brammer, and the home economics instructors, Prof. Naomi Albanese, and Prof. Lillian Chadcock.

ALPHA DELTA WILL SPONSOR AWARDS ASSEMBLY MAY 14

Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity will sponsor an Awards assembly Thursday, May 14. At this time, awards or other recognition will be given to outstanding students of the departments and organizations on the campus. This will be the first assembly of this type to be held at Glenville State.

Forms have been sent to the various departments explaining the purpose of the assembly. If the departments accept this opportunity to make awards, they must have notified the business fraternity no later than April 24 and must submit the names of the candidates no later than May 1.

Each organization or department will set up its own qualifications or standards for receiving the recognition. It will also purchase its own awards and make the presentations.

Organizations which have already submitted requests to the business fraternity are Home Economic club, Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, Alpha Delta Epsilon fraternity, and Ohnimgohow Players.

Holy Roller Court

Jackets were ordered for Eugene Hall, John Short, Richard Whiting, Avis Partain, Robert Buck, and Faculty advisor Dr. James Jones. Wanda Carol Taylor was elected Queen of Holy Roller Court Ball to be held Friday night. Plans were discussed for the annual outing held jointly with the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Oliver Hunt, Maurice Buck, and Carl Gagliani have met with a Kappa Sig committee to work out the plans. The event will be held at Lake Riley sometime in May.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

Nominations were made for fraternity officers, and the election will be held at the next regular meeting. Jackets were received by some members and a discussion was held on ordering more.

Harold Hissam gave a report on activities at the Eastern Conclave. President Lonnie Miller gave the financial report in the absence of Treasurer Carlton Gandee and made the usual plea to pay up back dues.

Sigma Tau Gamma

President Robert Milligan announced that the Xi Beta Tau sorority has been invited to attend the Sigma Tau spring outing scheduled for May 16.

Formal installation of officers for next year was held at the regular fraternity meeting Monday night.

Monthly party which was to be held last weekend in Louis Bennett lounge was canceled because of previous commitments by the members.

Light Lettermen To Lead 53 Wave Baseball Team

Experienced Crew

Glenville State college's 1955 team continues its young next week against the powerful Salem Tigers with lettermen forming the nucleus of the club. The squad, plus a few each player:

Hall, sophomore, letterman, batted .274 last year. Ervin, every inning of last year's season WVAC pitchers will re-appear before this season.

Speaking of Sports

By Joe Riddel

After several vain efforts to open their 1953 baseball season, Glenville State's diamond nine finally got a break from the weatherman and officially inaugurated the GSC spring sports season. This year, for the first time in many seasons, the school will be represented in intercollegiate competition in only two fields, Baseball, of course, is the number one spring activity, with golf now ranking second, it being a relatively, non-spectator sport. However, this season finds the disappearance of two perennial favorites on most sports calendars, tennis and track. Although they never received the importance here that they do on other college campuses, the failure of a sufficient number of candidates desirous of competing in these activities indicates that Glenville State is losing its consciousness for spring sports.

The belated coming of spring is another factor that has all but played havoc with the spring sports season. The weather during the past three weeks has been bad enough to send the birds back to the South, and even the campus lovers are getting a slow start. Weather conditions have so affected baseball practice sessions that the players now seem more adapted to the indoor variety of game. This is just another in those series of years that makes one wonder if the sport is at all feasible for a spring activity.

One of those rare sports oddities occurred last week at GSC proving once and for all that a person is liable to injury from any source. Ervin Hull, Pioneer first baseman, appeared one afternoon at the nurse's office complaining of a sore shoulder, a common complaint of baseball players during chilly spring days. Upon examination, it was discovered that Ervin had a broken right clavicle (collarbone) received, as well as could be ascertained.

Harris Wins WAA Tourney

Virginia Harris' team defeated Helen Brammer's team 19-8 Tuesday night, April 22, to open the W.A.A. softball tournament. Harris' team took the lead by a large margin in the third inning when they scored 11 runs. Jean Fore and Ruby Cromwell were the leading batwomen for Harris, each scoring four runs.

In the second game played, Betty Jo Simons' team won by a 19-15 victory over Kathleen Quinn's team. Simons' team took a 3-2 lead in the second inning and remained in front throughout the game. Betty Sue Sims played an outstanding game both in the field and at the plate. She led the winners with 5 runs.

Jackie Rastie was winning pitcher, while Leona Satterfield was pitching on the losing team.

When weather permits, two games will be played at the field followed by one in the gym. If, due to weather conditions, no games can be played at the field, two games will be played in the gym.

Glenville Whips Wesleyan Bobcats in Season Opener

Poole Strikes Out 11 in 3-1 Victory

Glenville State College opened their belated baseball season in grand style by downing the touted W. Va. Wesleyan Bobcats by a 3-1 score. As the score indicates, the game was well-played and proved a great pitchers' battle between Glenville's big Bob Poole and three Bobcats hurlers.

Poole gave up only 2 hits and one walk while mowing down 11 would-be hitters. On top of Poole's great performance, the Pioneer defense was almost perfect as they played errorless ball.

All of the scoring came in the fourth inning. With one man down, Wesleyan's Rutherford singled and stole second as Stedman struck out. With two down, "Mutt" Reed singled home the lone Wesleyan run, and the Bobcats held a short lived 1-0 lead.

The Pioneers came to bat and tied the score before a man was out. Cook led off by ending up on second as a result of Stedman's two base error. Merriman promptly singled him home and it was 1-1. Merriman taking second on the throw to the plate. Tekieli sacrificed Merriman to third, and Riddel put the Pioneers ahead to stay by doubling Merriman home.

Floyd walked, and Butcher singled to load the bases. Poole gave himself an insurance run by singling Riddel home. Further Pioneer scoring was halted as Floyd was called out at the plate. Hall was the last out as he popped up to the third baseman.

The rest of the game was largely a defensive duel as the Pioneers were continually standing runners on the base paths while the Bobcats were helpless in the hands of Poole and the Pioneers. Wesleyan had only one more base runner.

and he was erased by a quick double play.

The victory was a double attraction—to the crowd of visiting seniors and Coach Carlos Ratliff who returned to the helm of the Pioneers for the first time since 1950.

O'Dell's Korpses took the rub game from Butcher's Lovers and won the MAA playoff tournament last week by a 46-41 score. O'Dell's club took a lead in the second period after a nip and tuck first period which ended 14-13. In the second canto, Butcher's boys lost their shooting eye and fell behind 22-17 at halftime. The Lovers were never able to regain the lead in the second half.

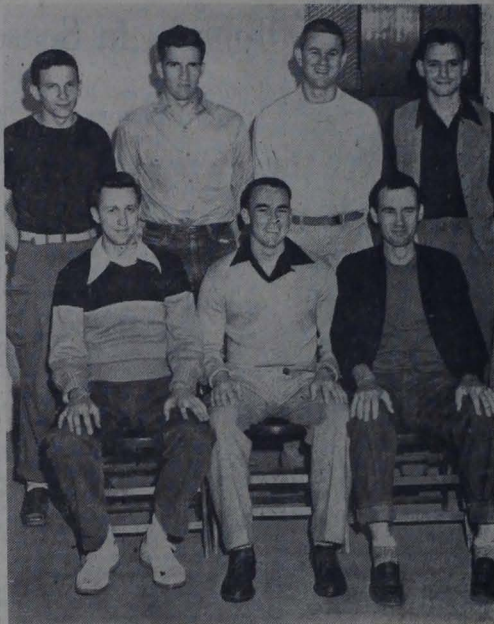

O'Dell's club, taking advantage of some defensive lapses of the Lovers, moved away in the third period to lead 37-30 going into the final canto. Butcher's club was able to shave only two points from the victor's margin in the last period as O'Dell's club clinched the double crown.

Paul Hunt of the victors led all scorers with 19 points while "jump-in" Jim Gainer had 17 for the losers. Oliver Hunt of the winners and Jim Mullens of the losers played outstanding defensive ball.

Nora Ann Kennedy Receives Presidency Of Xi Beta Tau Sorority in Election

Nora Ann Kennedy was elected president of Xi Beta Tau sorority at the regular meeting, Monday, April 20.

Nora Ann is a sophomore elementary major from St. Marys. She served as parliamentarian of Xi Beta Tau this year. She will assume her new duties as president in September.

Other members elected to offices were: Mary Faith Holbert, vice president; Sally Waggoner, secretary; Marlene Brown, corresponding secretary; Mary Helen Somerville, treasurer; Jean Ingham, parliamentarian; Betty Joyce Cooper, chaplain; and Wanda James, historian.

all her temperaments and shortcomings lovingly overlooked.

At college this same girl can bring with her only her individual assets on which she can be judged. Her associates will look at her objectively and "size her up." Under these conditions the girl must mature as she learns one of life's most valuable lessons—how to get along with her associates.

There are both advantages and disadvantages to living in a dormitory. One definite advantage is being on campus for all the social activities. The campus coed is able to join and take an active part in club activities. Her full time can be devoted to her college life.

A part of each day of the off-campus student is spent in traveling to and from school. Most activities including plays, dances, mixes, and parties are held at night long after the commuter has returned home.

Dormitory girls are fortunate in being located on campus with all the "eligible males." This proves a definite advantage; however, these dates must be cut short by a 9 o'clock night-out privileges through the week and 11 o'clock privileges on week-ends.

There are many restrictions necessary in a dormitory which would be foolish at home. At home you aren't bothered with "quiet hours", and if you want to have a little snack after 10:30 there is no rule

Hissam Is Named President At Kappa Sig Eastern Meet

Harold Hissam was elected president of the Kappa Sigma Kappa Eastern Province Conclave at a meeting held April 11 at Waynesburg, Pa.

Others elected at this meeting were: vice president, Bob Moston, Waynesburg, Pa.; secretary treasurer, Dick Westerman, Youngstown, Ohio.

Hissam and Harold Butcher attended the all-day meeting as representatives from the Glenville chapter.

Hissam is a junior from Sistersville, a physical education major, business minor, vice president of the Kappa Sigma Kappa, a member of the Alpha Delta Epsilon fraternity, and a member of the Pioneer football squad.

Included on the program was the ratification of the constitution, an address by Fritz Abel, national president, Anderson, Ind., who gave advice and information on how to have a better fraternity, how to correspond, and how to raise money; and an informal discussion of pledging.

Hissam's duties as president will consist of corresponding with the 15 chapters in the Eastern Province, making arrangements for the next meeting, and keeping in touch with the national officers.

KAPPA SIGS DOWN COURT 69-55 IN FUN NIGHT FEATURE EVENT

By Maurice Buck

Fun Night, an annual event sponsored by the Holy Roller Court, was held before an enthused crowd of students. In the main event, the Kappa Sigma Kappa basketball team nudged the host court club 69-55.

After a close first period, the Kappa Sig's raced to a 32-22 half time lead, and held an 8 to 15 point lead the rest of the way over the game but out-manned Court team. As was expected, the gigantic Kappa Sig scoring machine, "Big Bob" Poole ran wild garnering 37 points. Flery Richard "Dick" Barrett led the Court with 24 points.

In the preliminary game the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority rolled to win number two over the Xi Beta Taus by nipping them 13-8. Neither of the distaff teams played the brand of ball that they are capable of, and the low scoring game resulted.

Both defensive teams were good but the offensive units could not get going.

Mary Lou Clendenin of the Xi Betas tallied all 8 of their points to lead all scorers. Marjorie Burke led the victors with 4 points.

Other acts of interest were the "rassling" bout between "Masked Marvel" Fullinwider and "Man Mountain" Butcher, and the famous "J. W. Dant Quartet Plus Two and a Few Strays."

"Masked Marvel" Fullinwider won

which says you can't have it. Yet, your best girl friend isn't just across the hall where you can slip in to tell her what a wonderful time you had tonight.

Anywhere there's rules there's waiting. If you are living in the dorm and want to do your laundry, you must hurry down stairs; after the four or five girls who were ahead of you finish you can do your laundry.

At home if you don't have time to wash that dress you want to wear tomorrow, mother will have it all ready for you when you need it.

All of these things are necessary "evils" of dormitory life. However, they help every student to develop a respect for the rights and privileges of others.

Sport Talk

By MAURICE BUCK

Rain, snow, mud, hail, and sleet. These are words usually associated with winter in West Virginia. But this year, to Coach Carlos Ratliff and his baseballers, it has meant no games, colds, and short tempers.

After two cancellations, the Pioneers set out grimly on an 150 mile jaunt to Concord (of course they left Glenville in the rain). Arriving at Concord, the Pioneers went on with pre-game warm-up. The game started in the rain. After three innings of steady rain, the umpire was forced to call the game.

At this point, the Pioneers were leading 3-0 behind Bob Poole, who had not yet given up a hit, and had struck out 7 of the Lions. Glenville was hitting Concord's pitcher hard. Paul Lanham and Ervin Hull had two hits each, Bob Poole a long double, while Joe Riddell and Dan Hall had a single each. It was a tough game to be washed out for it looked like the G-Men were on their way to an easy win.

Speaking of Sports

Professional baseball is once again underway, but not without its own troubles. Old-man weather made his presence felt in the pockets of many major league magnates by cancelling games and holding crowds to a minimum with his omnipresent bursts of wrath. Cold weather has also been blamed for the sloppy play that has cropped up in early season's contests, some of which have more resembled sandlot games than exhibitions of skill by the world's finest professional craftsmen.

Down in the capital city of Charleston, West Virginia's claim to professional baseball, the Charleston Senators, opened their first full season in the Triple A American Association with a rousing 10-9 victory over the Toledo Sox, formerly the Milwaukee Brewers. The capital city fans turned out 5,000 strong to support their charges in the race for the top bunting in what is called the toughest minor league circuit of them all. Charleston it-

Turner Is Member Of Winning Team

Army PFC James R. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Turner of Glenville, was a member of the 709th Military Police Battalion's Headquarters Company basketball team that recently won the Northern Command tournament in Bremerhaven, Germany.

Tabbed one of the outstanding squads in Europe, the Headquarters club rolled up 43 straight wins in its drive to the title.

The 709th, stationed at Frankfurt, is part of General Matthew Ridgway's NATO defense force in western Europe.

Private First Class Turner, a truck driver, has served with the 709th since November 1952.

Before entering the Army in January 1952 he attended Glenville State college, and was employed by Turner Brothers Lumber Co.
