Myron Lee Mason Receives Fulbright Act Scholarship

Glenclennin Music Major Is First Glenville Student To Win Government Grant

By JUANITA GREEN

Myron Lee Mason, a 21 year old senior vocal music major from Glenclennin, has been awarded the Fulbright Act scholarship to study church music at the Royal School of Church Music, Croydon, in the United Kingdom.

There are only two such scholarships awarded to each state. Myron Mason is the first Glenville State college student to receive this honor.

Mason participated in the college choir, band, and orchestra; he has had the tenor soloist part of Handel's "The Messiah" for three years.

The Fulbright is made under the provisions of Public Law 548 79th Congress, the Fulbright Act. These grants are included within a total of approximately 900 grants for graduate study abroad during the academic year 1953-54 under the United States Educational Exchange Program. As provided by the Act, all students are selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, the members of which are appointed by the President. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright committee and by the Institute of International Education.

The United States Educational Exchange Program is designed to promote a better understanding of the United States in other countries, and to increase mutual understanding between the people of other countries. The Program also provides opportunities for foreign nationals to study in American colleges and universities, and for an exchange of teachers, lecturers, and specialists between the United States and more than seventy foreign countries.

Funds used under the Fulbright Act are foreign currencies obtained through surplus property sales abroad. Under executive agreements with foreign governments, exchange programs are being carried out this year with 25 countries.

Prof. Marvin Newman is the Fulbright advisor on this campus and is in charge of handling and forwarding all applications. Any junior who is interested in filing for next year's award should apply between May 1 and October 31, 1953.

Earlier this year Charles Robert Whiting was awarded a Paul Harris Rotary Foundation Fellowship for a year's all expense trip abroad to study at the University of London. Whiting is an A.B. and A.M. graduate of West Virginia university and did two years of work at Glenville State college.

Sig Tau's, Xi Beta Tau Hold Outing

Xi Beta Tau sorority and Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity held a joint outing at Lake Riley in Weston, Saturday, May 17 from 1 until 11:30 p. m.

The group had the facilities of the resort at their disposal. There were swimming, boating, fishing, horse-back riding, dancing, golfing, and sun bathing for anyone who wished to participate.

The refreshment committee served hot dogs, marshmallows, potato salad, and pop.

PICNIC IS TOMORROW

Glenville State college's annual all-school picnic will be held tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., at the athletic field.

The menu will consist of baked ham, weiners, baked beans, potato salad, deviled eggs, sliced tomatoes, pickles, ice cream, and coffee or milk.

Art Students Plan Exhibit

An exhibit of student art work will be shown Thursday, May 21 from 3 to 5 p. m. in the art room. Exhibits are work from Prof. Julia Nutter's 200 Representational Drawing class, 202 Applied Design class, 406 Advanced Drawing class, 406 Advanced Oil Painting class and 407 Advanced Water Color and Painting class.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Prof. Naomi Albanese. Jolene Jones, chairman of the serving committee, will be assisted by Inez Connelly, Eula Hypes, Mary Jones, Bertha Turner and Joan Davis.

Most of the exhibits will be the work of the following students: Jane Myers, Joyce Georgalis, Jolene Jones, William Rouse, Mrs. Harry Heflin, Mrs. Mayvel Luzader, Robert Childers, and Sue Waggoner.

Prof. Albanese Honored With Surprise Party

Professor Naomi Albanese was honored with a surprise party Thursday night, May 14, in the home economic department. The party was sponsored by the home economic students.

The evening was spent in singing and playing games. Prof. Naomi Albanese was presented with a gift from the group.

Dorothy Lanham was chairman of the recreation, and the gift committee consisted of Kathleen Quinn, Coleta Thompson, and Susan Armentrout.

James E. Robinson, Jr. Named Editor of Glenville Mercury

JAMES E. ROBINSON, JR.

James E. Robinson, Jr., English major from Pawtucket, R. I., has been named editor of The Glenville Mercury for the 1953-54 school year, faculty adviser E. B. Elder announced.

Robinson, a freshman who served this year as sports editor of the paper, is a Navy veteran. He is a graduate of Pawtucket East High school with the class of 1947.

The newly appointed editor was an all-conference football player in high school and earned his varsity letter as a halfback on Coach Michael Joseph's Pioneer grid team last fall.

Robinson was freshman class president this year and recently was elected secretary of the student council for next year. He is corresponding secretary of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity and Commander of the Veteran's Club.

No Regrets

As the final issue of this year's Mercury rolls off the presses this week, we officially wind up our duties with the Glenville State student newspaper and stop to join other members of the class of 1953 in viewing the past four years flash before our eyes.

It has been a good four years for Glenville State college, with progress evident in the most casual observation of the school. Even without a large increase in enrollment, the college has grown in its physical plant and also in the intangibles which actually are the most important.

Without delving too much into the "rah rah" spirit, we would venture the opinion that most campus seniors are regretting their swiftly-approaching completion of undergraduate work. We can honestly say that we wouldn't trade our four years at Glenville for an education anywhere—and this includes the knowledge garnered outside of formal class sessions.

It is with much regret that we bow out and with this last issue of the Mercury hand the reins of the college student newspaper over to the new editor. With all the inconveniences and extra worries that have accompanied the editorship, there never has been a time that we haven't felt that the trouble was worth the effort.

Many times during the past two years, we have differed in opinion with some group or individual, but have voiced our approval or disapproval, as the case may be, always in a manner which we honestly believe to be for the benefit of the college.

Our only governing standard has been the desire to insure a better Glenville State college. In this quest, we have received remarkable cooperation from students, faculty members, and the school administration. Without this cooperative spirit, we could have done little with The Mercury.

In winding up our duties with the paper, we feel appreciative for the opportunity we have had to grow and learn. It is our sincere hope that the newly-appointed editor is equally as fortunate while he directs the affairs of The Mercury, and that the newspaper progresses and grows under his supervision.—WAB

Folk Festival Will Be Held On Glenville Campus July 2

By Juanita Green

On Thursday, July 2, Glenville State college will once again sponsor the Folk Festival which will be directed by Dr. Patrick W. Gainer. This is the fourth annual Festival to be held.

Dr. Gainer, visiting professor from West Virginia university, says, "The purpose of the Festival is to make people of the state aware of the folk culture which is rapidly becoming extinct. It is a culture which is handed down by word of mouth."

"The Festival has as its goal to revive and foster interest in folk music, literature, arts and crafts, and in the dancing and singing games of the Appalachian people. Folk music is not "hill billy", but is the real folk songs which had their origin in the British Isles and were brought to this country by immigrants and were handed down from father to son through succeeding generations.

The art department opens its door for displays of coverlets, quilts, rugs, furniture, baskets, guns, dishes, books, and other articles which were made by and used by our grandparents or great-grandparents.

The highlight of the Festival is the program presented in the college auditorium. In the past the program has had old fiddlers, singers, and folk dances. Two old fiddlers of the past years are Pat Cogar, 89 years of age, from Gem, Gilmer county, and Nannie Perkins, also 89 years old, from Pleasant Hill, Calhoun county.

M. B. Bryant, who is 84 years old, of Nicholas county, plays a three-stringed dulcimer which he had made. The dulcimer is an old instrument introduced into England from the Orient in the fourteenth century; Bryant learned this art from his grandfather.

Former singers include Mrs. Maggie Orites of Braxton county, who sings old ballads and love songs which have been handed down in her family; and Charles Stump of Grantsville who sings and accompanies himself on the banjo.

Psychology Classes Tour Institution

Dean Gordon Kingsley and members of his psychology classes visited the state Mental Institution at Spencer, Monday, May 18.

Dr. East, director psychiatry, arranged a clinic for the group where he brought in several patients and gave their history, treatment, and progress. He also told them the history of the institution and the principals behind mental hygiene. The group was also taken on a tour through various wards of the institutions. A discussion was held at which Dr. East answered questions from the group.

Wesley Foundation Officers Take Charge At Meeting

Officers for the coming year took charge at the last meeting of the Wesley Foundation. Virgil Greenleaf, Bill Snider, Leon Strickland and Harold Butcher, a quartet from Glenville State, sang several spirituals. The Wesley Foundation was in charge of the evening worship at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

James Watson and Richard Hoover are in charge of the plans for a hamburger fry which will be held as the last social event of the group for the year.

3 GSC Students Receive Science Academy Honors

Dorothy Terill and John P. and Linger Arnold placed among the top seven on their papers presented at the state Collegiate Academy of Science held April 24 at Morris Harvey college.

Dorothy's paper, "Growth habits of slime mold," and John and Linger's paper, "Physical properties of Krellium treated soil," brought them the honor of being judged among the top seven.

These and other papers presented at the meeting were presented to the local Science club Friday, May 15. Dr. Harry B. Heflin attended.

Students placing in the top seven will receive one-year subscriptions to "Science" magazine.

Holbert Named MENC Prexy

Mary Faith Holbert was re-elected president of the local chapter of the Music Educators National Conference last week. Mary Faith, a sophomore music major from Webster Springs, is vice president of Xi Beta Tau sorority, secretary-treasurer of Verona Maple hall, a member of WAA, school choir, band, and orchestra.

William Waldeck, a junior from Gandeveville, was elected vice president. Waldeck is past president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, a member of the school choir, band, and orchestra.

Delores Black, a freshman from Glenville, was elected secretary. Delores is a member of WAA, choir, orchestra, and band.

Wanema Davidson, a sophomore from Glenville, was elected treasurer. Wanema is a member of Ohnimgohow Players, choir, orchestra, and band.

Joann Melrose, a junior from Parkersburg, was elected reporter. Joann is a member of Xi Beta Tau sorority, WAA, Ohnimgohow Players, past member of the Verona Maple hall Governing Board, choir, orchestra, and band.

Plans are in the making for awarding two tuition paid scholarships for next year. The scholarship covers only the tuition for two semesters.

M.E.N.C. is also purchasing letters to be awarded to band members who have not received enough demerits to disqualify them.

Court Elects Don Merriman

Don Merriman, junior from Glenfield Pa., has been elected Judge of the Holy Roller Court for the 1953-54 school year. Merriman has been an active member of the Court since 1951. He is a physical education-business major, a letterman in all three major sports, a member of the G-Club and the Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity.

Other officers elected include, William Rumbach, clerk Rumbach is a sophomore from Weston. Sheriff Richard Barrett, a Glenville junior. Barrett also serves as president of next year's senior class, president of the G-Club, and is a letterman in all three major sports. Treasurer, Maurice Buck. Buck is a Social Studies-English major from West Union.

Prof. H. Y. Clark spoke at a Junior-Senior Banquet at Walkersville, Thursday, May 14.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION COMPREHENSIVES

Comprehensive examinations for students majoring in elementary education will be held from 9 to 12 a. m. Saturday, May 23, in room 202A, according to Dr. Eddie C. Kennedy.

All students who plan to do their practice teaching in elementary education next year are required to take the examination at this time, Dr. Kennedy said.

Three Members of College Staff Announce Resignation

*By MARY HELEN SOMERVILLE

Three members of the Glenville State college staff have announced their resignation effective at the end of this school year and will not return in the fall.

The three members who are leaving are Prof. Naomi Albanese, Prof. Marjorie Skelton, and Mrs. Teresa Strother.

Professor Albanese, home economics instructor and dietitian at Glenville State college for the past three years, has accepted a graduate assistantship at Ohio State University where she plans to complete work for her Ph.D. degree.

In speaking of her stay at Glenville, Prof. Albanese said, "It has been really a most pleasant learning experience." Also, "I have enjoyed working in the dining hall; the experience is invaluable." Prof. Albanese considers the cooperative spirit of the faculty and students the most outstanding thing on Glenville's campus.

Mrs. Strother has served as school nurse for the past two years. At the end of the 12 weeks summer term Mrs. Strother will go to El Centro, California, and begin work with the city school system which consists of four elementary schools with 2,000 students.

Her work will be screening for physical defects and the correcting of the findings. She will also work with parent and teacher groups and civic organizations in order to get defects corrected.

Mrs. Strothers says, "Thank you for your cooperation" and "I have enjoyed working with the faculty and students here on the campus."

Prof. Marjorie Skelton has been with the Glenville teaching staff for two years as speech instructor. She has accepted a position as instructor in drama and radio at Concord college, Athens, West Virginia.

KAPPA CHI KAPPA

Kappa Chi Kappa sorority met in the speech room May 11 to plan the Kappa Sigma Kappa and Kappa Chi Kappa weiner roast held at the recreation center May 18.

Mrs. Denver Arnett, the sorority sponsor for the coming year, was present at the meeting. Plans for an alumni bulletin which will be published for the first time this year were discussed. It was reported that most of the bulletin is ready for publication.

Members decided to make candy and cookies for the Kappa Sigs for their co-operation with the Kappa Chi's this year.

XI BETA TAU

Xi Beta Tau met in the art room May 11. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Sally Waggoner.

Nora Kennedy, president, appointed a committee to plan for a party for Faith McClung. Members of the committee were Mary Helen Somerville, Juanita Green, and Marlene Brown.

Jean Ingham and Joanne Melrose were appointed to be in charge of the sale of hotdogs at the girls dormitories this week.

Kappa Sigs And Kappa Chi Hold Joint Weiner Roast

Kappa Chi Kappa sorority and Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity had a weiner roast Monday, May 18 at the Gilmer County Recreation Center.

Committees in charge of the roast were food-Goyce Georgalis, Betty Sue Sims, and Virginia Johnson; drinks—Robert Duffield; firewood—Joe Riddell, Billy Hanlin and Danny Hall; Supplies Edward Tekeli and Edward Donnellan, and recreation—Dorothy Lanham.

Joseph's Class Visits Recreation Centers

Coach Michael Josephs and members of the community recreation class visited recreation centers in the northern part of the state Sunday, May 17.

The class visited the New Martinsville recreation center, Oglebay Park in Wheeling, and the Wierton Community center. The purpose of the trip was to see different types of recreation centers, how they are operated, and the arrangement of playgrounds and playground equipment.

Members of the class who made the trip were: Richard Barrett, Inez Connally, Gladys Fleming, Roscoe Gainer, Ronald Godfrey, Harold Hissam, John Linger, Faith Bingham, McClung, Elizabeth Kidd, Dale Levering, Gene Miller, Harry Owens, Joseph Riddell, Jack Tennant, Frank Vincent, and Donald Weaver.

Business Education Class Visits Parkersburg Stores

Prof. Genevieve Butcher's Retail Merchandising class visited stores in Parkersburg on a field trip May 11.

Planned tours were conducted for the group at Sear's, Dill's Brother department store, and Murphy's. "Behind the scene" operations were pointed out by the guides.

Those making the trip were Jack Tennant, Ruby Ann Crowell, Elaine Bell, Patty Sumpter, Harold Butcher, Carl Gulgani, Harold Hissam, Robert Duffield, James Scott, Freda Peters, Vanda Lee Bird, Gal Lydick, John Jamison, Sue Arnold, Beulah Beckner, Masie Hughes, Billy Radcliff, Delores Genevieve Luana Thompson, Bernard Jolly, Prof. Genevieve Butcher and Prof. Marvin Newman.

Graduating Varsity Athletes Tell Highlights of Careers

By Jim Robinson

Eight varsity athletes and one very important manager will be departing from Glenville with the 1953 graduating class, leaving behind them a glorious athletic past and a host of admirers.

Interviewed by the Mercury, each of the departing lettermen expressed the deep regret they felt at leaving "dear old Glenville", and lauded the school's faculty and student body for making their stay on the "hill" one they will never forget.

The seniors were first asked what game they had enjoyed the most, and that brought a wide variety of responses. Joe Riddel, the Pioneers' pile-driving fullback, chose the 1952 encounter with Davis and Elkins when Glenville upended the Senators 26-7 in the years biggest upset. "The pride of Grantsville" had more than a little to do with the victory as his 45-yard touchdown jaunt highlighted the game.

All-Conference Tackle Charles "Cannonball" Spencer also liked the D&E victory as his most memorable game. Spencer, a transfer from West Virginia Wesleyan, where he also gained all-conference mention, gained the praise of the Senator coach for his trojan-like defensive work in the stunning upset, 1952 co-captain Gene Spadaro, another all-conference selection, mentioned the 1952 victory over previously-unbeaten Potomac State as the game he liked best. Spadaro, like Spencer, was a former star for the Bobcats.

Guards Lonnie Miller and Don Weaver will always have fond memories of Salem college, as both chose encounters with the Tigers as their favorite games. Miller liked the '52 tussle, while Weaver has a soft spot in his heart for the '51 game.

Co-Captain Bill Hanlin, one of Glenville's all-time great halfbacks, strangely enough, picked a game in which Glenville got beat by West Virginia Tech, 33-13, during the 1949 campaign. Running a close second to the Tech game, however, was the Wave's brilliant 22-0 triumph over Wesleyan in 1951.

Basketball Captain Carlton Gandee and the popular student manager, Edsel Robinson, both picked the Pioneers 70-51 victory over Tech in semi-finals of the 1951 tournament at Buckhannon. The G-Men later whipped Beckley in the final for the title, but that was anticlimactic as far as Gandee and Robinson are concerned—the real battle was with the Golden Bears.

We really put the boys on the spot when we asked them to name the greatest athlete they had ever played with or against. Robinson and Gandee once again agreed by naming George King, the former Morris Harvey whiz, who is now one of the mainstays of the Syracuse Nats of the NBA. Gandee maintains, however, that Bob Hardman was a close second.

Bill Hanlin and Lonnie Miller picked Sam Ferrarola, former Pioneer end, who played at Glenville in 1949-1950. At last reports, Ferrarola was serving with Uncle Sam's occupation forces in Germany.

Joe Riddel liked Bob Poole, the great Tech halfback of 1951. Spencer still remembers the vicious 250-pound tackle who played for Xavier in 1949 while Spencer was playing for Wesleyan. "Cannonball" doesn't remember his first name, but his last name was Stackhouse; Spadaro chose all-conference halfback Young of West Liberty; and Don Weaver picked Glenville's Bill Hanlin as the greatest of them all.

In the future, five of the graduates intend to enter the coaching field, one is going to graduate school to study English and Journalism, while another is going to try his

Fairmont Hands Pioneers 9-2 Loss In Road Contest

Glenville Looks For New Football Opponent As Davis-Elkins Drops Grid Sport For 1953

Davis & Elkins President R. B. Purdum stunned the West Virginia football world last week by announcing the school is dropping intercollegiate football for the 1953 season for "economy" reasons.

The Senators rose to national prominence in 1928 by beating the Naval Academy, 2-0, and West Virginia University, 7-0, while under the coaching genius of Cam Henderson. The Elkins institution was the most formidable football machine in West Virginia during Henderson's reign which was from 1922 to 1934.

Although the school intends to continue other athletics, it leaves vacant the October 25 date on the Glenville 1953 schedule when the Pioneers were slated to visit Elkins. The Senators are the second Glenville opponent to drop football in the past three years, Wesleyan having abandoned the sport in 1950. Against D&E the G-Men have won 2 games, lost 11, and tied 1, in a series originating in 1908.

There has been much speculation as to the filling of the now-open date on the Glenville football calendar. Although Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff could not be reached for comment, it is believed in some circles that several out-of-state elevens have long been anxious to schedule the White Wave, most notable being Washington & Lee and Marietta.

Brammer Takes Harris, 24-18

Jane Ratliff pitched Helen Brammer's softball team to a 24-18 victory over Virginia Harris' team Tuesday night, May 12. The score was tied 4-4 going into the second inning but Brammer's team added 5 more runs while Harris' only got 4.

Fourteen runs were scored by Brammer's team in the third inning to give them a wide margin to win the game. Claire Bowles was the losing pitcher.

Kathleen Quinn's team won the second game by going ahead of Betty Simons' team in the last of the fifth, 9-8, to end the game. Quinn's team took an early lead by scoring 3 runs in the first inning. The score was tied in the second but Simons' team went ahead in the third, 5-4. Quinn again took over the lead in the fourth only to lose the lead again in the top of the fifth.

Dean Requests Service Info

All male students who plan to continue school here or elsewhere next year, and who are eligible for selective service, are requested by Prof. G. Gordon Kingsley to submit their names, draft board number and address, and selective service number.

Mr. Kingsley pointed out that it is important for this to be done so that he can forward their papers to their draft boards. This information should be given regardless of the student's classification, he said.

Forms for providing the necessary information may be found on the bulletin boards. Professor Kingsley suggested that any student having questions regarding his draft status may see Kingsley before the end of school.

Professor Kingsley said that any student who has definitely decided to enter the services next year should see him to obtain materials which may be of value to the student.

Hanlin Is Named Coach in Tyler

Billy Dean Hanlin has been appointed head coach of football, basketball and baseball at Tyler County high school in Middlebourne. He will also serve as playground director during the summer months, making this an 11-month employment. He will take over his new position July 1.

Hanlin, a senior at Glenville State from Sistersville, has been very active in sports on the campus. He was a member of the GSC football team four years and captain of the team during his senior year.

Mike Popp Beaten As Loss Of Ailing Poole Hurts Wave

By MAURICE BUCK

Glenville stood off the powerful, league-leading Fairmont Falcons for six innings before dropping a 9-2 decision to the home club last week. Surprise starter Mike Popp, toting the hill in place of the ailing Bob Poole, pitched a fine ball game only to fall to a combination of his own wildness, errors by the Pioneers, and the inability of the G-Men to hit Fairmont's pitcher.

Fairmont scored first on a base on balls, a hit batsman, and a sacrifice. Glenville came back for a pair on 3 hits and a walk. The Falcons made it 2-2 on a walk, a sacrifice and their first hit.

Things were even until the sixth when the Falcons got one more on two errors and two walks. The home team sewed up the game in the 7th inning, when they at last began to hit Popp, scoring three unearned runs on a walk, two singles, and error and Merandi's base clearing triple.

Popp Relieved

At this point Dick Barrett relieved Popp. Popp had pitched good ball, giving up only 5 hits and two earned runs. But his wildness and his teammate's inept play caused him more trouble than he should have had.

Barrett was clipped for 4 hits and three insurance runs in the anti-climatic 8th inning. Paul Lanham was the only Pioneer able to solve Goudz's sharp curves as he got a single and a triple.

George Cook and Joe Riddel turned in some good defensive work as the Pioneers came up with 17 assists, an unusually high number.

Education Department Activities Reported

Prof. H. Y. Clark and Dr. Eddie Kennedy visited the White Oak school in Calhoun county May 11. Mrs. Nora K. Grogg who teaches at this school, has completed several groups of project work. Dr. Kennedy and Prof. Clark took several pictures of this project work which will be used in Methods courses during the summer term. Mrs. Grogg is a former Glenville State student.

F. T. A. officers have been announced for the coming year. The officers are as follows: president, Norene Westfall; vice-president, William Phelps; secretary, Mrs. Eugene Hall; historian, Joanne Dotson; treasurer, Leonard Tyree.

Poole Leads Wave Batters

Robert Poole, pitcher, leads the Pioneers in batting after the first four games. Poole has 4 hits in 7 trips, good for a fat 571 average. Joe Riddel leads the regulars at a 333 pace. Paul Lanham and Bob Poole lead in RBI's, both with four. Riddel is close behind with 3. Ed Tekiel leads in extra base hits with a double, triple, and a home run. Dan Hall and George Cook have two doubles a piece.

Five Pioneers are tied in runs scored with Lanham, Cook, Tekiel, Riddel and Butcher all having scored 3. Poole is all by himself as a pitcher with a 2-0 record and 27 strikeouts.

The averages:

Bob Poole	4-7	571
Joe Riddel	5-15	333
Paul Lanham	5-17	294
Ronald Butcher	4-15	267
Ed Tekiel	4-15	267
George Cook	3-13	230
Dan Hall	4-18	222
Joe Floyd	2-10	200
Don Merriman	3-16	188

Diamondmen Face Tigers In Last Home Encounter

Glenville State's Pioneers are scheduled to play their last home game today against the up-and-down Salem Tigers. The Pioneers won the first meeting between these two clubs by a 10-0 score behind the 3-hit shut out pitching of Bob Poole. The Pioneers have had only a fair season, hampered by wet weather, injuries, illness, and inexperienced pitching.

Bob Poole, ace righthander, missed at least two starts with a severe case of poison ivy. Coach Ratliff's choice on the mound today is not known yet. If Poole has recovered he will go, if not, it will likely be Mike Popp.

Coach Charlie Brumage of Salem is expected to counter with either Fudula or Garison.

Following today's game the Pioneers are slated to move over to Elkins Saturday for a game with the Davis-Elkins Senators. The Pioneers and Senators have developed one of the hottest rivalries in this section of the State. Since this is the last game for the G-Men, Coach Carlos Ratliff and the team will go all out to close the season with a win.

BOARD MEMBERS VISIT

Two members of the West Virginia State Board of Education visited Glenville College campus May 13. These were Charles A. Williamson, Charleston, and Secretary and Director of Teacher Training, H. K. Baer of Charleston.

Spadaro, Weaver, Miller, and Gandee are the future coaches with Hanlin already lined up to take over the coaching chores at Tyler County next year.

Joe Riddel is thinking of graduate study, and Spencer is going to follow the footsteps of his brother Lennie and make a career of the Air Force. Robinson is looking forward to a baseball-umpiring career.

Retiring student body president Frank Fullmer was the eighth man on the list but his duties so confined him that he was unable to be reached for the interview.

Home Management Class Views Equipment Display

Professors Lillian Chadcock and the home management class went to Jackson's Mill Wednesday, May 13. The purpose of the trip was to study electrical equipment and see demonstrations on different types of washers, driers, and irons. Marjorie Hyall was hostess and in charge of the demonstrations.

Food Fallacies Are Subject for Survey By College Community Nutrition Class

"I never eat fish and drink milk together because I'm afraid of getting sick." "When I can't sleep at night I always eat a raw onion because it cures insomnia and then I can go right to sleep." "I always eat a raw onion when I feel like I'm taking a cold because it will prevent the cold." "I eat lemons after eating a big meal because it aids digestion."

These are some of the food fallacies uncovered by members of the community nutrition class of Glenville State college in a survey of misinformation about food and nutrition. The community nutrition class was one of the organizations asked to assist the American Dietetics association in attempting to refute some of these food fallacies.

Superstitious beliefs about foods which have been passed from generation to generation are trying to be combatted by this project. People would not be victims of these beliefs if they would realize that unless a person has studied food chemistry and the complicated mechanism of the body which interact to influence one another, he would not be qualified to draw conclusions about foods.

Other fallacies about certain foods, found by members of the class are as follows: Tomatoes—make cancer, clear the brain. Lemons—cause acid stomach. Raisins—prevents anemia. Spinach—makes strong blood. Celery—is a nerve tonic, will cure neuralgia. Fish—is a brain food, leads to increased reproductive activity.

Meat—needed to build muscle and red blood, makes you courageous. Cheese—is constipating, too hard to digest. Bananas—indigestible for young children. Milk—is fattening, is constipating, causes cancer, causes indigestion because of curd in stomach. Common Table Salt—causes cancer, causes tuberculosis.

The truth about these foods are that no food is a special "health" food. No one food will "build up resistance," "break up a cold," or "cure insomnia." The superstition that fish is "brain food" has not resulted in increased mentality. The idea probably came from the fact that phospholipids are found in the brain and there is phosphorus in fish. But many other foods contain phosphorus also.

How celery, which contains little phosphorus, became associated with special efficacy for nerves is a mystery. Meat and raisins both contain iron, but so do many other foods. It is not necessary to eat muscle tissue to build muscle any more than we need to drink blood to renew our blood supply.

Acid fruits are supposed to be a cause of stomach acidity. Of course, the stomach secretes a digestive fluid that contains the strong mineral acid, hydrochloric acid, which is so many times more strongly acid than lemons, that there is no comparison. If we did not have an acid stomach, conditions would be very abnormal and unfavorable for digestion.

Cheese is not constipating. It is a concentrated food and will not prevent constipation, but neither will it cause it. Bananas when thoroughly ripe are well digested even by a small child. Bananas and cream plus a good general diet will put weight on undernourished children.

Milk need not be constipating if enough fruits and vegetables are taken along with it. If the curd formation causes distress, heated milk, which forms a finer curd, may be used instead of raw milk. Milk has no relation pro or con to cancer.

Also in this survey it was found that eating certain foods together was thought to cause poisoning. Some of these combinations are fish and milk, fish and ice cream, milk and acid fruits, and meat with milk.

It is believed that when a person has a craving for something he should eat that food because it shows that the body needs it; also, that a child will be marked if pregnancy craving is not satisfied.

Special cravings are no guide to body needs. A craving usually results from lack of some food we have become accustomed to having. The cravings of pregnancy are most fanciful and have no special significance.

The belief that everyone needs vitamins pills for good health, is just another of these fallacies. The value of vitamin pills is overrated in the minds of many people. They have their place, but are often a waste of money for the average person who consumes a good varied diet. If vitamin pills are to be taken they should be prescribed by a physician.

Pitcherless Pioneers Drop 8-3 Tilt to Weak Bobcats

Coach Carlos Ratliff's pitcherless Pioneers dropped an 8-3 tilt to W. Va. Wesleyan after a heroic but losing battle Wednesday. George Cook, catcher, and Dan Hall, third baseman, were called upon to toe the rubber for the Pioneers. Cook started and was blasted for three runs in the first inning, but after this he settled down and pitched fair ball until the 6th.

Glenville tied the score in the second inning on Cook's two-run double and some nightmarish Wesleyan fielding. But, after the second inning, sturdy Elmer Houdas settled down and shut out the Pioneers on 3 hits.

Cook began to tire in the 6th, and with 3 runs in and no one out, Dan Hall came to his relief.

Hall also pitched good ball, giving the Bobcats one run and 3 hits in the last three innings.

Honored At Breakfast

An outdoors breakfast was held for the senior home economics majors at 7:30, May 16 at the Recreation Center.

The seniors are Jane Myers, Wiladean Clarkson, Betty Wright, Helen Brammer, and Margaret Stanovich. Others present at the breakfast were members of the Home Economics club, Professor Naomi Albanese and Professor Lillian Chaddock.
