Wanema Hermiz, Donnellan, Friend Get 'Rainbow' Leads

MENC Presentation Of B'dway Musical Carded for May 20

Wanema Davidson Hermiz, Michael "Ed" Donnellan, and William Friend have been chosen to play the leading roles in "Finian's Rainbow", the fantasy which will be presented in the College auditorium on May 20. The presentation is being sponsored by the local chapter of MENC.

Wanema will portray Sharon McLoonagan, and Donnellan will be Woody Mahoney, who is never found without his guitar, although he cannot play a tune.

Og, the leprechaun, will be played by William Friend. Og surprises everyone by turning into a human being before the play is ended.

Wanema, a native of Glenville, has appeared on the stage many times for such productions as "Harvey" and "Mr. Barry's Etchings". She was assistant director for the recent presentation of "The Little Foxes". She is a member of the College band, choir, Ohnimgohows, and Alpha Psi Omega. Her major field is music.

Donnellan hails from Lost Creek, and is well known for both his ability in playing basketball and his ability for singing. He was a member of the Pioneer basketball team, and is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa. He has appeared on the stage many times for musical purposes. He is majoring in physical education.

Middle Run School Tours GSC Campus

Middle Run grade school, under the direction of their teacher Alfred Moore, visited Glenville State College last week. They observed various departments of the college to see college life in action. The students make tours in the local area each year.

Students making the tour were: Dean Brannon, Karen Brannon, Ricky Brannon, Roger Brannon, Barbara Collins, Joan Collins, Winston Collins, Allen Weaver, and Judith Weaver.

Haaker to Conduct Virginia Symphony in Lyceum, Apr. 9

By KATHRYN FARMER

The Virginia Symphony orchestra, under the direction of William Haaker, will appear at Glenville State Friday, April 9.

Mr. Haaker, who has been associated with music since his childhood, has entered every phase of it at one time or another.

He, as a composer, won high praise from New York critics with his "Silloquo on Complete Understanding." He has also won fame as a concert pianist. Following his training under Jose Iturbi, he began a series of piano tours throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, and the Netherlands. These tours expanded each year.

Mr. Haaker, who has felt the need for good music in all parts of the continent, has organized not only the Virginia Symphony Orchestra, but the Arkansas State Symphony as well. While working in Arkansas, he did much to promote music appreciation, and as a result, he won the Arkansas Traveler Award.

On the podium, he was demand-

Supervisors Hold Spring Convention Here This Friday

Central West Virginia Supervisor's association will hold its spring meeting in the recreation room in the new physical education building Friday, April 2, beginning at 10 a.m.

"Teaching of social studies in the public schools" will be the theme for the all day meeting. There will be emphasis on the use of the new social studies handbooks published by the West Virginia State Department of Education.

A panel discussion will be held in the morning on the teaching of social studies in the public schools. Prof. Stanley Hall will be one of the main speakers on this panel.

Another panel discussion will be conducted during the afternoon session. The discussion will be held by a group of students from Glenville high school under the direction of Mrs. Lestelle Murphy. The question they will consider is, "What citizenship training do you expect to receive from your high school?"

Dean Higgins' Gen. Psy. 301 Class Tours Spencer Hospital

Prof. Robert Higgins' Psychology 301 class made a tour of the Spencer State hospital last week. The tour was conducted by Dr. Isaac C. East, superintendent, and by Harry Fine, psychologist.

Students were shown the actual condition by observing the patients in the wards. After touring the hospital, Mr. Fine described the various ways of testing the mental abnormal.

Dr. East conducted a clinic study by questioning various patients. The students were also given an opportunity to question the patients.

Students that took the tour were Robert Woodyard, Paul Conley, Betty Jo Simons, George Reese, Evelyn Butcher, Joan Davis, Freda Peters, Barbara Marley, Barbara Shimer, Denzil Whipkey, Rondall Stalnaker, Edward Tekiel, Oliver Hunt, Drexell Harman and Virginia Phillips.

His orchestra is an instrument of which he is always in command. An evening of pleasure will be in store for Glenville collegians the night of April 9.

William & Emily Muir Feature Tomorrow's Lyceum Assembly

By KATHRYN FARMER

WILLIAM MUIR

EMILY MUIR

William and Emily Muir, husband-and-wife art team, will begin a two-day visit here when they appear in an assembly at 10 a. m. tomorrow. They will illustrate their ability then by offering portrait demonstrations.

In the Lyceum at 8:15 p.m., Mr. Muir will offer demonstrations with emphasis on wood-carving, and Mrs. Muir will create a painting.

Mr. Muir, a native of North Dakota, studied at the Minneapolis School of Art and the Art Students League of New York. He is a water-colorist as well as a sculptor. A great many of his forms are inspired by observations of plant life.

Mrs. Muir attended Vassar College, and received her art training at the Art Student League under Richard Lohney and Leo Lentelli. She prefers the medium of oils.

The couple have worked in the field of fine arts, exhibiting their work in one-man shows and all national exhibitions; in the field of commercial art they have designed wall paper, paintings, and diorama for steamship companies.

Mrs. Muir is represented in the Brooklyn Museum and in private collections. Her works have been purchased by the United States Government.

Following the Lyceum program, a reception will be held in Louis Bennett lounge. Students assisting will be Shirley Chancey, Wanda Lorraine Taylor, Barbara Wright, Marilyn Rastle, Mary Lou Freeman, Ella Mae Sands, Billy Bumgardner, and Esther Williams.

On Friday, April 2, Mr. and Mrs. Muir will meet with the students in the lounge for informal talks. During their visit a full scale exhibition of sculpture, carvings, sketches, paintings in oil and water-color will be held in the lounge.

This appearance is presented in cooperation with the Association of American Colleges Art Program.

Dr. Turner Captures Irish Sweepstakes' At Faculty Shindig

At the faculty party in honor of St. Patrick's Day, Dr. Byron Turner won the $100,000 Irish sweepstakes (awarded in paper money). Miss Helen Brammer won a prize for being the first one to complete a card in bingo fashion with the Irish names of those present. Mrs. Harry Heflin and Miss Jewel Mathews won "lucky penny" prizes.

Prof. Stanley Hall and Don Barker won the high and low prizes for bridge, and Mrs. Delmar Somerville and Mrs. James Gay Jones won the high and low prizes for canasta.

The rule for the evening was that only complimentary words were to be exchanged among those present. Hostesses for the evening, Miss Emma Edwards, Miss Pearl Pickens, Mrs. Don Barker, Miss Bonel Poling, Mrs. Robert Butcher, and Mrs. Max Ward, wore aprons made from green crepe paper made in the shape of a shamrock.

Davis & Elkins Site of Higher Education Meet

The West Virginia Association of Higher Education will hold its annual meeting April 2-3 at Davis & Elkins college. Secretary-treasurer Prof. Essie B. Bell has announced.

This association of college teachers, consisting of representatives from most of the colleges of West Virginia, holds a business meeting each spring. Professor Bell has been secretary-treasurer of this organization since 1943.

Friday morning, April 2, after delivering the keynote address, Dr. Merriam H. Trytlen will speak on "Continuing military manpower needs and higher education".

Major Milford Stanley, for 34 months a prisoner of the Chinese communists, and Dean David Kirby of Concord college will speak on "Does West Virginia believe in higher education?" on Friday afternoon.

Also planned for the program is special music by the boy's chorus, the college choir, ROTC drill, and the band concert. Field trips, receptions, and teas will also be presented.

Outstanding Freshman In Physics Class Eligible for Award

An award will be made to the outstanding freshman who has shown the most advancement in the physics classes during the second semester at Glenville State, announces Prof. John R. Wagner.

The award, which is given by the Chemical Rubber company, will be a book of chemistry and physics information entitled "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics." The recipient will be named during the last week of April.

An interesting note about the publication is that Professor Wagner used the first edition of the "handbook" during his college studies. The first edition contained 319 pages. The present edition (351th) contains 3,163 pages.

4 Courses Added, 5 Dropped From Term Schedule According to Registrar Arnett

Four courses have been added to the schedule for the second term and five courses have been dropped from the schedule for the same period, according to Denver F. Arnett, registrar.

At eight o'clock physical education 221, The Health Program, has been added to the schedule. This course is given for two hours credit and will be taught by Prof. Clarissa Williams in room 209 in the Health building.

Another course which has been added to the schedule is History 450, Current World Affairs. This is a three hour course which will be taught by Prof. Bessie Boyd Bell in room 105 in the Administration building.

Prof. Ruth Johnson will teach

Speech 101, Principles of Speech, at 1 o'clock. Credit for this class will be three hours and it will be taught in room 203 of the Administration building.

Prof. Peter Wisner will teach Physical Education 222, Social Dancing, on Monday night at 7 p.m. This is a one-hour class and will be taught in the small gym of the Health building.

At nine o'clock three classes have been dropped from the schedule. They are: Political Science 401, International Relations; Physical Education 335, Theory and Practice of Modern Dance; History 460, Bases of American Democracy.

At 10 o'clock Music 305, History of the Opera, has been dropped and at 1 p.m. Speech 223, Play Production, has been dropped.

ALUMNI NOTES

Robert Arnold in Industrial Training at Nashville, Tenn.

ROBERT ARNOLD

By EDNA M. YOAK

Robert Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Arnold, Glenville, and former president of the Student Council at Glenville State College, will climax an extensive training period shortly and enter the production program of the General Shoe Corporation.

Training in Nashville, Tenn., Arnold was president of the Council in 1950-51. A transfer student from West Virginia University, Arnold was a track star, a member of the Holy Roller Court, and a physical science major.

He is married to the former Carolyn Hall, who also attended Glenville and was College nurse here for one year. The Arnold's have two children, a girl and a boy.

Claire Bowles, now a student at Concord State college, will portray Helena Glory in Karel Capek's "Rossum's Universal Robots" which will be presented April 7 and 8 at Concord college.

She is an English and speech major, and while attending Glenville State College she participated in "Death Takes A Holiday," "Mr. Barry's Etchings," and "Harvey."

She was also a member of the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, W. A. A. Ohningohow Players, Debate team, Alpha Psi Omega, and was a member of the queen's court for the annual White Rose dance in 1953.

The production will be under the direction of Prof. Marjorie Skelton, former speech teacher at Glenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Lilly, Jr., '48, of Elkview, have announced the birth of their second child, a son, born on March 14, at the Mountain State hospital in Charleston. The son has been named John Ross. The father is an instructor and coach in Elkview high school.

Captaining the 1947-48 Pioneer basketball team, Lilly was a popular all-conference selection. Lilly is the fourth highest scorer in Glenville history, having scored 1,166 points during his career.

Mrs. A. A. Rohrbough, mother of A. P. "Nate" Rohrbough, coach of Glenville State College from 1926-43, attended the 41st state high school basketball tournament at Morgantown recently.

Mrs. Rohrbough, 89 years old, has attended every state championship tournament since the first one was held in Buckhannon in 1914. Her son, Nate, played in the state tournament in 1923 when Buckhannon-Upshur won the championship. The Glenville immortal was voted the most valuable player of the tournament at that year.

Sorority Simmerings

By ELAINE BELL

Kappa Chi Kappa

President Norene Westfall announced that "The Top Hatters" from Grantsville will play for the April Showers dance which will be held April 24.

Several plans for the dance were announced by Nancy Harris, chairman of the dance planning committee.

It was decided that sandwiches would be sold again in the men's dormitory this week since facilities in the union have not been completed for making sandwiches.

Xi Beta Tau

President Nora Ann Kennedy announced that the sorority members will vote for officers for next year at their next meeting.

Mariene Brown announced that sorority pins could be ordered as soon as the down payment on them is made.

President Kennedy announced that sorority jackets may be ordered at the Union for $5.

400-PIECE DISPLAY

Relic Collection Gift of Major L. McCartney

By JACK D. CAWTHON

As I gazed at the collection of Indian arrowheads and spear tips, I could almost visualize dusky guardians of the forests flitting like shadows among the trees. On the trail of game, or more gruesomely, on the trail of horror for some white settler, these phantoms leave behind few remains to remind us of the great race who once dominated our nation.

Yes, here in Gilmer county these dusky creatures of the forest sat in council circles under the same moon that shines upon us now; the warrior paddled his birch canoe up the lazy Little Kanawha; and the splendid grandeur of its forest was undisturbed from the spell that had enhanced it hundreds of years before.

From a few pieces of flint, one of the most thrilling and wonderful stories of all times can be constructed.

The collection that had claimed my rapt attention is the one that is located in the chemistry lecture room of the Science hall, and I was interviewing the one responsible for the array.

Started At Glenville

Loren J. McCartney, now a major in the U. S. Army, started the collection during his first year in Glenville State College. Later, when he started teaching his pupils brought in many more pieces to add to the assortment.

The assemblage now contains 350 to 400 pieces. Most of the pieces are arrow tips, but there are also skinning knives and tomahawks.

All of the assortment, with the exception of one or two pieces, were found near Major McCartney's home in the DeKalb section of Gilmer and Calhoun counties.

When McCartney was called to the service in 1942, he took the assortment to Prof. John R. Wagner and asked him to keep it until he should call for it.

Professor Wagner designed an attractive case for the display and arranged the pieces in neat order. Since that time the display has been in the Science building.

Two Indian Tribes

McCartney studied West Virginia history under Dr. Henry Ambler of the teaching staff of West Virginia University. Ambler's book "West Virginia Stories and Biographies" is the accepted text for teaching West Virginia history in the public schools of Gilmer county and many other counties of the state.

According to Ambler, West Virginia, then part of Virginia, was inhabited by two major tribes at the time of white settlement in the area—the Delaware tribe in the northern panhandle and the Shawnee tribe in the lower Kanawha section.

The answer to the question, why did the Indians leave West Virginia, seems to lie with the fact that West Virginia was the scene of fierce battles between the powerful Iroquois tribe, who conquered the Mound Builders, and the Cherokee tribe that lived in the mountains and hills at the southwest end of the Appalachian Highlands. As a result of these fierce battles, most of Trans-Allegheny Virginia, as far as the Ohio river, was abandoned by warring tribesmen.

W. Va. Hunting Ground

Through the treaties of the Iroquois and Cherokee tribes, the English were legally made owners of what is now West Virginia. But neighboring tribes such as the Delaware, Shawnee, and Mingo denied these rights, and border warfare continued for quite some time between the Whites and the Indians.

But most of the tribes seemed content to let West Virginia be a common hunting ground. Although many skirmishes were staged by frontiersmen such as the Hughes, no major Indian battles were fought in this section of the state.

A branch of a major Indian trail touched Gilmer county. The Scioto-Monongahela Trail connected the Monongahela and Little Kanawha valleys.

Major McCartney stated that he found most of the arrowheads along the river bank after spring floods. Many others were unearthed by farmers' plowing the land.

Major McCartney's collection is

visits to girls' dormitories. She and her group found conditions in dormitories to be much the same except that in some, they seemed to be crowded for living quarters. There are some 200 students in one dorm, compared to our two dorms with a total of 130 residents. One dorm had much newer furniture than ours, others had older and less attractive furniture. The girls learned that there are more and larger lounges in other dormitories. On one campus, the lounges were used by everyone (boys, too) for dancing, playing checkers, or just gossiping.

The only difference noticed in the laundry facilities was that most dorms have more drying space, but have to pay to operate the washing machines, which we do not.

Electrical appliances cannot be used in rooms and, at some colleges, fines are charged for violation of this rule. Most of the rooms are painted in pastel colors and they are in good condition. The housekeeping was no better than it is here, but it was neat. None of the colleges had student workers to clean the dorms, but they hire people to clean them. Room inspection was much the same as ours, as was the telephone situation.

Mail Delivery

At most of the schools, the mail delivery was set up with individual boxes and rental fees. The boxes have combinations and locks, too, which is much more private than our system whereby any student gets the mail.

There are more restrictions elsewhere, especially for freshmen, and one noticeable fact was that when students sign out, they must designate the hour they expect to return. Some of the colleges do not allow overnight visitors, except on weekends.

No other college has the use of a kitchenette, such as Glenville women are privileged to have. One college has a guest room for special guests.

Two colleges carried out the rule that all students must dress for dinner. No students are excused for absences from class for illness unless the house director confirms the report that they are ill. Nearly all of the dorms were governed by student governing boards.

Frat Chat

By JOHN CUTLIP

SIGMA TAU GAMMA: President Robert Milligan read a letter to the fraternity which was from the Alpha Lambda chapter at Concord. The men of Alpha Lambda want a closer affiliation of the Sigma Tau Gamma chapters in West Virginia. It was decided that a group of boys from the Glenville chapter would visit the Alpha Lambda chapter on April 10. Lenard Tyree was instructed to write to the Sigma Tau Gamma chapter at Fairmont and invite them to attend the meeting also.

Pledge candidates were voted on and were invited to attend the meeting Monday night.

The fraternity voted to hold the annual "spring outing" at Lake Riley.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA: President Harold Hissam stated that the fraternity voted not to have a pledging period this semester. He said that at the present time the chapter has its full quota of members and if any more are brought in at the present time, it would be in violation of the constitution.

Lazear was appointed to order tickets for the Easter dance which will be held April 10. Admissions will be $1.75 per couple. Copley was appointed to help Gail Boggs with the advertisement for the dance.

Copley and Bernard McKnown sold sandwiches in Lewis Bennett Hall last night.

HOLY ROLLER COURT: Judge Don Merriman said that plans for the annual Court Ball were discussed. A committee was appointed to draw up plans for the decorations for the dance. Those serving on the committee are Merriman, Bokovitz, Lydick, Davis, Hamon, Cron, and Romano.

Plans for the Fun Nite were completed. Steve Rohl was to act as master-of-ceremonies for the event.

Dick Barrett gave a report on his trip to Parkersburg where he made contacts to secure ice cream for the party which will be held sometime in May.

MILLER LECTURES FTA

Prof. Eevy Miller will speak to the FTA club on "Segregation as it relates to the public school" at their regular meeting which will be held tomorrow night. The meeting will be held in room 232 of the Administration building at 6:05 p. m. FTA members and any other students interested in this phase of education are urged to attend.

5 Holdovers, 16 Newcomers Preparing for Tech Opener

Mike Popp Only Vet Pitcher; Lanham, Hall Top Batters

The weatherman made an "about face" last week with the result that Coach Carlos Ratliff took his diamondmen to the field in order to get some much needed outside practice before April 8 when the Pioneers will open their 1954 baseball slate with always rough West Virginia Tech at Montgomery. Practice started immediately after basketball season when 17 men reported to Coach Ratliff for limited practice in the new gym.

The Ratliffmen will be suffering this season from the absence of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference top pitcher, Bob Poole, and the great George Cook who played a good defensive game as catcher. Both of these men have entered the armed service. Also lost from last year's team are Joe Riddel, Joe Floyd, and Erwin Hall.

Holdovers from last year's great squad are Paul Lanham, Danny Hall, Don Merriman, Ed Tekieli, and Mike Popp. Lanham led the team in batting with a .321 average. He had a fielding percentage of .833 and was tied with Bob Poole for RBIs with six. Hall had a batting average of .222, four RBIs and a .793 fielding percentage. Merriman's batting average was .182 along with a fielding percentage of .863. Tekieli had a .207 batting average and .875 fielding percentage.

Ratliff has a large pitching staff, but it is very inexperienced. Along with Mike Popp, who is the only veteran pitcher, there are Paul McKown, Eddie Miller, Al Reich, Robert Craig, Sidney Copely, James Hamrick, and Wendell Garten. Catchers who may see service this season are Stanley Costy, Joe Bradley, and Don Merriman. Other men attending practice sessions are Bill Reid, Tom Hyer, Lowell Morrison, Joe Bokovitz, Ralph Campbell, Steve Rohr, and Bob Weaver.

Following are statistics for the holdovers from last year's squad for the total eight games.

Holy Rollers, Kappa Chi's, Win Fun Nite

The Holy Roller Court and Kappa Chi Kappa teams walked off with the basketball honors last week in the annual Fun Nite festivities in the old gym.

Paced by the brilliant scoring scores of Bill Reit, the Court overcame a 15-12 first period deficit to upset the Kappa Sigma Kappa quintet 74-67. Although playing without their ace forward, Jack Tennant, the Kappa Sig's raced to a two-point margin at the end of the first session and held on for a 32-32 deadlock at the half.

With Reit scoring nine points and Tommy Hyer tossing in six, the Court began to pull away in the third canto, outscoring the Greeks 22-17. Donnellan, Smith, Hamrick, and McKown fouled out in the final quarter and the Kappa Sigs were never again in the ball game as the Court continued to press the issue behind the brilliant play of Reit, Barrett, Shock, and Merriman.

Reit was high man with 26 points followed by Barrett's 16 points. Ed Donnellan and Danny Hall both scored 14 to pace the Kappa Sigs.

In the preliminary, Kappa Chi Kappa's high geared quintet completely overpowered the Xi Beta Tau's 35-19 for the sorority championship. The Kappa Chi's jumped off to a 13-2 first period margin and added momentum in the second session to lead 28-6 at the half time stop, and the issue was never in doubt after that.

Wyenc Bush led the Kappa Chi's triple-pronged attack with 12 points, aided by Barbara Given who had nine and Sue Arnold who tallied eight. Mary Helen Somerville proved the only threat for the Xi Beta's, tossing in four field goals for eight points. Betty Joyce Cooper added five for the losers.

One favorable report was that at one dorm there was athletic equipment and ping pong tables available for the boys at any time. There is also a TV set in one dorm and a public address system.

A proctor and his selected helpers govern the dorms, a fact which most boys seemed to favor. The boys, too, seemed to have better facilities for their mail, with individual boxes and some personal delivery. There were no laundry facilities for the boys at any of the four colleges.

Bears Triumph for MAA Flag

Champs Halt Bullets 34-28 Behind Groves, Hall; Hyer Scores 5

Bokovitz's Bears coped the MAA title in a thrilling battle over Buck's Bullets, 34-28. The game was marked by rugged defensive play on the part of both teams with the Bears using a tight defensive zone that the Bullets could never break. The game was especially rugged under the banking boards, with much fouling on the part of both teams. A total of 37 fouls were called, 19 on the crown-bearing Bears, and 18 on the runners-up Bullets.

The league-leading scorer, Tom Hyer, was held to five points by the great defensive play of the Bears. All of his points came on foul shots; he received 12 charity throws but could make only five. High point man for the game was "Lightin'" Danny Hall who burned the nets for a total of 15, five of them coming on free throws. Groves pressed him for scoring honors by scoring 13 for the winners.

College only 1/4 of the student body is commuters.

Eileen thought the commuters lead as much of a social life here as in other colleges, witnessed by the fact that there have been two sophomore princesses and one student council president here in the last two years who were commuters. The most noticeable difference was that no other college has a commuter's room, although they do have more commuting students.

Union Competition

The three community residents, the Rev. William Davies, Jack Stalnakar, and Paul Woodford, seemed to agree that our college-town relationship is as favorable as others. However, in one school there were no facilities for off-campus activities. They agreed, too, that some towns suffered by the loss of the college students' patronage because the student unions were competing with the towns' business places.

The conclusion was reached that our students are more closely knit and that we are more greatly unified.

All in all, from the opinions expressed, everyone showed his partiality to Glenville State College and seemed to think it has as many good points as any of the others.

Home runs by Don Merriman and Sid Copely, plus some fine pitching by Mike Popp and Jim Hamrick highlighted Glenville's first intra-squad game Saturday as the Pioneers settled down to serious work in preparation for their league opener April 8th at Tech.

Although no official score was kept of the game, the "A" team broke a scoreless deadlock in the third inning to go ahead 3-0. Highlighting the outburst was a 340-foot double by Paul Lanham and a towering four-ply blow down the left field line by veteran Don Merriman.

The "B" squad finally reached Popp in the fourth, scoring four runs, mainly on a tremendous triple to center by Jim Hamrick and a three-run homer by rookie "Pee Wee" Copely.

Starting for the "A" team were: Merriman, catcher; Bokovitz, first base; Morrison, second base; Reit, shortstop; Hall, third base; Costy, Tekieli, Lanham outfielders; Popp and McKown pitchers. The "B" squad lined up with Weaver catching; Campbell, first base; Garratt, second base; Hyer, shortstop; Copely, third base; Bradley, Adelsberg, Davis, outfielders; Hamrick and Reich pitchers.

4 Student Council Leaders Came From Ranks Since '47

By Jim Robinson

(NOTE: This is the third in a series of histories of campus fraternities and sororities. The next installment will feature Beta Tau sorority.)

On the evening of April 28, 1947, Delta chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity was installed as the first Greek letter fraternity on the Glenville campus. Since that time the fraternity has more than lived up to its objective of "promoting social and scholastic activities on campus."

Although Kappa Sigma Kappa has chapters at West Virginia University, Concord, Fairmont, and Morris Harvey, the chapter at Glenville is the strongest link in the nation-wide Kappa Sigma Kappa chain. Because of their impressive record of producing leaders in every field of endeavor, the local chapter holds an enviable position on the Glenville campus.

A leading campus organization for six school years, Kappa Sigma Kappa has produced four Student Council presidents. James Collins was elected in 1947, Robert Higgins, who was also a member of the Holy Roller Court, won the honor in 1948, Brent Cool was president during the 1951-52 school year, and present Council leader Paul Lanham gained the nod in 1953.

The "Who's Who" selections, honorary awards to outstanding students throughout the United States, is another field where Kappa Sigma Kappa has been well represented. Of the 32 men who have been selected from the Glenville campus since 1947, 14 have carried the Kappa Sig Banner.

JIM ROBINSON

Selected to one of the highest undergraduate posts, Dan Rengers and Jim Robinson have added the name of Kappa Sigma Kappa to the impressive list of Mercury editors. Robinson was the first freshman ever to be appointed to the post.

DAN RENGERS

1953-54 basketball traveling squad were Kappa Sigs. Tennant landed another all-WVIAC berth while Smith, Tekieli, Hamrick, Reich, and Donnellan provided capable support.

When James E. Roginson, Jr. became editor of the Glenville Mercury last May he became the second Kappa Sig to guide the destinies of the undergraduate weekly. Robinson added to the fraternity's laurels by being named vice-president of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press association.

Bill Hanlin, who gained much fame as a bull-dozing fullback on the Pioneer football edition, gained state-wide notice in 1952 by being selected president of the West Virginia Academy of Science.

Sadie Hawkins Day
Highlights of the Kappa Sigma Kappa social program are their two annually sponsored festivities, Sadie Hawkins day and the Easter dance. One of the most gala occasions on the school calendar is the Sadie Hawkins day frolic. Inaugurated in 1947, and patented after Al Capp's famous comic strip "Li Abner", the feature of Sadie Hawkins day is the "Skunk Hollow" stomp, a dance in the old gym. Among the many added attractions of the day is the presence of "Li Abner" and "Daisie Mae", student body.
