Regional Band Meet Saturday

Fifth Annual Affair
Attracts 12 Groups;
Parade Set for 2:30

By YVONNE HART

The fifth annual Region XI West Virginia high school band festival will be held on the Glenville State College campus on Saturday, April 24. Twelve bands will participate in the all-day event. They are Burnsville, Calhoun county, Clay, Gilmer County Band, Gilmer Junior Band, Gassaway, Walton, Sutton, Wirt county, Webster Springs, Spencer high school, and Spencer Elementary.

Adjudicators for the rating of the bands have been named. They are James Dunlop, Pennsylvania State College, Pennsylvania; Ernest Lyon, University of Louisville, Kentucky; and Walter Haberacker, Jefferson City Junior College, Missouri.

The program has been set up as follows: The class "C" bands will play from 8:30 a.m. until 10:10 a.m. Gassaway, Sutton, Burnsville, Walton, and Wirt county are included in this group.

From 10:10 a.m. until 10:50 a.m., Gilmer Junior Band and Spencer Elementary Band, class "D" bands will play.

Clay will lead off for the class "B" playing which lasts from 10:50 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Other bands in this group are Calhoun county, Webster Springs, Gilmer county, and Spencer high school.

Luncheon will be served in the dining hall to the visitors. Following lunch, at 1:30 p.m., all bands will participate in a parade down Main street.

At 2:30 p.m., trombone solo competition will be held. Walton, Spencer, and Sutton representatives will enter this contest. At 3 p.m., Spencer and Calhoun county bands will compete in the ensemble division. Baton twirling competition will be held from 3:30 p.m. until 5 p.m. Sixteen students have been scheduled for this division. There will be no field maneuvers this year.

Fairmont Is Site Of Regional Meet

Prof. Espy Miller will address a regional meeting of college and high school teachers of English at Fairmont State college April 30. The subject of Professor Miller's talk will be "What kinds of literary criticism shall we teach high school students?"

Dr. Arno Jewett, of the United States Office of Education, will be the principal speaker in the morning. He will discuss teaching English language arts. H. K. Baer, secretary of the state board of education, will discuss the teaching of English in high school.

Dr. Kenneth G. Weihe, chairman of the English department at Fairmont State college, will be the director of the conference.

KAPPA CHI EVENT

Tophatters Are Scheduled For April Showers Dance

By Edna Yoak

The Grantsville Tophatters will play for the third annual Kappa Chi Kappa April Showers dance, Saturday, April 24, from 8 to 12 in the old gymnasium.

Tickets for the affair will sell for $1.50 and may be purchased from any member of this sorority.

Regional FTA Groups Meet On Saturday

Dr. Harry B. Heflin will open the program of the annual FTA regional conference this Saturday morning when he delivers the welcome address to FTA representatives from more than 20 area high schools.

Speakers, panel, discussions, a tour of the campus, and an afternoon tea will be featured on the program of all-day affair.

April Showers is an informal dance with the girls wearing cotton dresses and asking the fellows to the dance. There will be special song and dance numbers at various intervals of the dance by Michael Donnellan and Rita Pickens.

Decorations carry out the theme of April Showers, with the traditional spring flowers, raindrops, umbrellas, wishing well, and the music to the song "April Showers" all in a variety of pastel shades and colors.

Committees have been appointed and plans are well underway for the gala activity, according to Nancy Harris, chairman of the affair.

The College art department designed the posters for the advertisement of the dance.

Stewart Wins SC Race; Tekieli VP

By Freda Peters

Marvin Stewart, a Sissonville junior, was overwhelmingly elected president of the Glenville State college Student Council last week in a race featured by the largest turnout in the college's history.

Other officers that were elected for the 1954-55 school year were vice-president, Edward Tekieli; secretary, Olga Fashkevich; treasurer, James Hamrick, and sergeant-at-arms, John Shock.

Total votes for each candidate in the election are: president, Marvin Stewart 229, Oliver Hunt 97; vice-president, Edward Tekieli 248, Thomas Reed 83; secretary, Olga Fashkevich 215, Delores Black 113; treasurer, James Hamrick 261, Donald Deal 65; sergeant-at-arms, John Shock 144, John Cutlip 67, Jack Cawthon 89.

Marvin Stewart, a physical education major, is secretary of the Kappa Sigma Kappa and the G club. During the past two years he has served as president of his class and representative of his class on the Student Council. Last year Stewart was elected to "Who's Who in American colleges and universities."

Edward Tekieli, sophomore physical education major from Fairview, is a member of the G club, Kappa Sigma Kappa, and president of the sophomore class. Tekieli, a three-sport star, has been a starter on

Articles written by Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, medical director of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, have recently been presented to the Robert F. Kidd library.

Names of the articles are: "The Impact of our Times on Teen-Agers," "Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisers of Men," "The Relationship of a Student Health Service to Other University Departments," "What is Mental Health in a University?" and "Education and the Freshman."

Dr. Farnsworth was born at Troy, and is a former student at Glenville State College. He received his A.B. degree from West Virginia University in 1927, and his M.D. degree from Harvard medical school in 1933. He did his internship at Massachusetts general hospital in 1933-35.

Attendance 'Shop Set for Aug. 9-14

The annual Attendance Officers' workshop will be held Aug. 9-14 according to Dean Delmar K. Somerville. This workshop is jointly operated by Glenville State College and the State Department of Education.

Purpose of the workshop is for the training of attendance directors and other school personnel who deal with attendance problems of school children.

Topics discussed vary from year to year. Interested people may repeat the course and still get the two hours credit that is offered for the class.

The staff for the workshop will be announced at a later date.

Voting Percent Is Highest In Past Six Years

The recent Student Council election experienced one of the largest student turn-outs of Council election history, and the largest in the past six years as the voters chose Marvin Stewart to head the Council for the coming year.

The only other election to exceed this year's is that of 1935 when 95 percent of the student body elected Blantz Craddock president over John Barrett.

Out of 415 students at Glenville this year, 331 cast their ballots. This total made an impressive 79.7 percent. Compared with other voting in recent years, it proves too that the present Glenville collegians are more interested in the selection of good governing officials. In 1947-48, only 255 out of 425 students enrolled voted. During the two years that followed, 1948-1949 and 1949-1950, the student body which was represented at the polls fell far below the half-way mark with only 38.2 and 40.4 percent voting.

The year of 1950-51 saw a definite trend toward a better voting percentage, with 241 out of 340 students voting for a percentage total

At last "old man bankruptcy" has ceased to threaten the Student Union, as figures released by Manager Elmer Takach reveal that the Union is now on an upward trend.

Since Manager Takach has taken charge of the Student Union, a net profit of $190.28 has been cleared. This profit was made over a brief period of six weeks, from Feb. 18 to Mar. 31. During the six weeks, the back taxes due to the state of West Virginia have also been decreased from $63.08 to $47.97.

Since Manager Takach has quickly raised the Union's total worth from $618.65 to $809.93, the Union may again enjoy a great financial success as it did during Motchie's "boom" year of 1951-52.

GOVERNING RULES REVISION MEETING TO BE HELD

Dean of Women Pearl Pickens will meet with the House Governing boards of Kanawha and Verona Maple Halls soon to discuss and revise the present house regulations. Dean Pickens said that many good ideas for effective house rules was gained from the recent visitation of state colleges. Any suggestions concerning the revision of house regulations would be welcomed according to Dean Pickens.

ALUMNI NOTES

Former Home Ec. Teacher To Address Local Group Fri.

By EDNA M. YOAK

An account of her travels in the Holy Land will be the subject of an address by Miss Lena M. Charter at 7:30, Friday, April 23, in the Glenville Trinity Methodist church. Her subject will be "In the Footsteps of St. Paul."

This meeting is being sponsored by the Women's Societies of the Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist churches, and will be open to the public.

Miss Charter made the last Christmas pilgrimage to the Holy Land, and visited France, Switzerland, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Jerusalem, and Israel. She spent Christmas in Bethlehem.

From 1912 to 1920 Miss Charter taught home economics at Glenville State College, (then Glenville State Normal School), followed by a tenure as head of the home economics department at Brenton's (Texas) Women's college. Later she returned to West Virginia to become state supervisor of home economics, in which capacity she served until her retirement.

The meeting April 23 will also serve as a reunion for the home economics teachers of the old Glenville Normal School. In addition to Miss Charter, two other former teachers will be present, Mrs. John R. Wagner and Miss Addie Cokeley.

Former Student Council secretary Clarence Maze, '53, has embarked from New York for a tour of duty with the U.S. occupation forces in Japan. Maze, now serving as a private in the Army, reports that he is well pleased with his duties as an attaché in the Advocate General's office. He was a recent visitor on campus and was special guest of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity on April 5.

Frat Chat

By JOHN CUTLIP

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA: President Harold Hissam stated that money was collected from members from the sale of tickets for the dance. Hissam also said he would like to thank everyone who helped make the Easter dance a success, especially the girls who helped with the decorations.

Hissam stated that the election for fraternity officers will be held April 26, and the new officers will be installed May 3.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA: President Robert Milligan announced that a mock trial was held for the pledges who had broken pledging rules. Punishment was meted out according to the discretion of the jury.

Duties were given to the new pledges for the week known as "help week." New pledges are Donald Howard, Donald Porter, Donald Groves, William Friend, Paul Love, and William Heater.

The fraternity voted to contribute five dollars to the World Service Student Fund which is being conducted by the Student Christian association.

Milligan called a special meeting last night in order to make final plans for the pledge party.

HOLY ROLLER COURT: President Donald Merriman stated that posters and tickets were given to the members to distribute before the annual Court Ball which is May 7.

The fraternity voted on new members who were invited to attend the meeting last night to receive special honors from the old members.

18 TAKE GED TEST

Eighteen persons took the General Educational Development test here April 10. This educational service has been offered since 1947, and is given twice a year according to H. Y. Clark. The test is given for those who wish a high school equivalent diploma.

Applicants have to be 21 years old or a veteran. In order to receive a diploma, applicants make an average standard score of not less than 45 on each of the five parts of the test. Grades from the test are sent to the State Department of Education which issues the diplomas.

offices next year: president, Patricia Sumpter and Susan Arnold; vice president, Elaine Bell and Ella Mary Hamric; recording secretary, June Drake and Bertha Turner; sergeant-at-arms, Charlotte Feltnier and Dorothy Lanham; pledge mistress, Wanda Carol Taylor and Rita Pickens; chaplain, Carolyn Daugherty and Nancy Barlow; treasurer, Donna Costlow and Shirley Chapney.

It was announced that the tickets for the April Showers dance which will be April 24 were ready, and that tickets may be purchased from any sorority member.

HONOR STUDENTS

Poling, Whaling, James Maintain 'A' Average

By BETTY COOPER

Loretta Poling, Muriel Whaling, and John James have an A average for the past 3 terms of school beginning in September, 1953, to March, 1954.

In addition to making straight A's, these students find time to participate in many extra-curricular activities.

Misses Whaling and Poling work four hours a day. Miss Whaling works as a waitress for the College, and Miss Poling works as linotypist for the Glenville Democrat newspaper.

Loretta Poling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Poling from Mount Zion, is a senior in English and business. She is a member of the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority and was secretary of the junior class.

Since she entered college in September, 1951, Loretta has made seven B's; the remainder of her grades have been A's. She plans to begin her teaching career next fall.

Muriel Whaling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Whaling of Clay, is a sophomore working on single curriculum degree.

Muriel is a member of Xi Beta Tau sorority and Women's Athletic association. She has made all A's since she entered college in June, 1953.

Miss Whaling plans to obtain her 64-hour teaching certificate by the end of summer school. She then plans to teach school next winter.

John James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie James, is a freshman elementary major from Parkersburg. James is a member of the Glenville College band and is substitute pianist at the Baptist church.

James has made all A's since he entered college in September, 1953.

(NOTE: The following survey, conducted by free-lance reporter Dexter 'No Nose' Exline, was submitted to the Mercury late last week. We believe the survey reflected the popular opinion of residents of LBH concerning the recent methods employed by the college to raise grass in front of the men's dorm. We hereby print the survey, without comment. ED)

Time: Wednesday, April 14, 1954

Place: Out of range of LBH

Reporter: J. Dexter 'No Nose' Exline

The Question: "What do you think of the 'new look' around Louis Bennett Hall?"

The replies: James Davis, prominent resident of the fourth section, "It stinks!" Roger Fouty, speaking for the aching souls in the third section, "Unhealthy, unsanitary, and looks like h—."

Maurice Buck, registrar for the rural, or first section, "Now they can really refer to us as a cow college." William Snider, former agriculture major, "It certainly makes the farmers feel at home."

Jerry Glover, "I'm glad I have a back room." Don Deal, influential third section politician, "The atmosphere around LBH has certainly changed; I've never slept this close to barnyard wastes before."

Idealist Rondall Stalnaker, "Smells like a dairy farm." Oliver Hunt, telephone receptionist at the dorm, "Some of the boys used to answer the phone and jokingly state, 'Louis Bennett stables.' Now they have plenty of reason to answer the phone in this manner. After all, all that is missing is the horses."

Wayne Cunningham, author of a petition circulated throughout the dorm pleading with the authorities for removal of the substance. "Looks like the back porch of a barn;" W. Atkinson, "One way of keeping us off the grass."

Although standing a mile from Louis Bennett, Gail Lydick made this comment from Whiting's drug store, "The fragrance of spring sure has changed this year." Noted scientist Ronzil Selmon, "I never did like the smell of the little molecules given off by the new addition." Robert Sharp, "It breaks up the monotony of study and gives us something to get gloriously angry about."

Professor Espy Miller summed up the situation pretty well when he replied, "I think the situation has been pretty well covered."

CLASS VISITS STATE HOSPITAL
Prof. Robert Higgins took his 301 psychology class to visit the Spencer State hospital recently. Those making the trip were Barbara Shimer, Joan Davis, Betty Jo Simons, Robert Woodyard, Paul Conley, George Pease, Evelyn Butcher, Freda Peters, Barbara Marley, Edward Tekieli, Randall Stalnaker, Oliver Hunt, Drexel Harmon, and Virginia Phillips.

How To Make And Break Habits, James L. Mursell; J. B. Lippincott Company, 1953. 313 pp.

Do you have habits you would like to break? Of course you do, because everyone is a bundle of emotional habits, mental habits, and physical habits. Life rolls along well-worn grooves of habits much like the trains on a big and complicated railway system. To get on a new track, and to change your life, means that you will need to change your habits.

Why are some people lazy, others energetic? Some timid and shy, others brash and self-assertive? Some sociable, others unsociable? In this new book, Dr. Mursell explains the causes of habit patterns. He precisely gives a good explanation of how to control or change your habits. Do you think it is impossible to change your habits? Dr. Mursell has an answer to this question when he says, "I am persuaded that a person can know how to do this, and that he should know how."

Some fancy names attributed to a habit are: traits of character, mental complexes, and emotional attitudes. All of these characteristics are acquired and, with a little effort, they can be unlearned and replaced. Dr. Mursell's method of treating fear, anger, friendship, and love is particularly helpful. For instance, habit was the key to such cases as:

The businesswoman whose "only pleasure" was to get "shockingly fat," the three-pack-a-day smoker who found it easy to stop; the woman who always wore blue; the college girl who did arithmetic on her fingers; the elderly couple that suddenly became sociable.

By command of your habits, you can direct your life down the roads of your choice. This hopeful and stimulating book contains fascinating case histories of human problems both light and serious. Dr. Mursell proves that anyone can follow this book and achieve mental security and serenity.

Fear is the only thing that multiplies faster than rabbits.

GSC Travels for 3 Games

By JOHN CUTLIP

Glenville's diamondmen take to the road tomorrow for a 3-game series before returning to the home grounds on April 29 when the Pioneers entertain the Flying Eagles from Morris Harvey.

The Pioneers will try to get into the win column again after falling to Wesleyan last Tuesday in a thrilling extra inning affair. Tomorrow the Gee Men will try to continue their mastery over the Tiers of Salem. Rattiffmen won both encounters from the Salem nine last year, posting a shut-out 10-0 victory at Salem and giving them a 2-1 lashing at Glenville.

Mike Popp will probably start for Glenville with Joe Bradley or Don Merriman behind the plate. Other probable starters are Joe Bokovitz at first base, Bob Weaver at second, Danny Hall at third, and Bill Teikell at shortstop. Men in the outfield will probably be Paul Lanham in right, Ed Tekieli in center, and Jim Hamrick or Joe Bradley in left field.

Saturday the Pioneers travel to Fairmont to do battle with the brown-bearing Falcons. The Glenville nine will be out to seek revenge since the Falcons took both contests last year, one of them beating a humiliating 21-6 lashing before a "Nate Rohrbough Day" crowd.

Jim Hamrick will be the probable selection to take to the mound for Glenville with Bradley or Merriman giving the signals behind the plate.

Next Tuesday the Pioneers will engage the Bobcats from Wesleyan in a return bout. The Gee Men will be up for this one, since they lost a heart breaking, extra inning affair at Glenville last Tuesday.

Probable starters for this game are Mike Popp or Paul McKnown in the mound and Joe Bradley behind the plate. Wesleyan will probably start Houdashelt on the mound. He seems to have a peculiar ability of mastering the Pioneer batsmen.

The unofficial batting averages of the Glenville players in the three games thus far are as follows:

Tekieli	363	Hall	230
Bokovitz	300	Hamrick	125
Merriman	300	Bradley	083
Lanham	266	Popp	009
Reit	230	McKnown	000
Weaver	230

Regional FTA

The panel discussions will be led by Virginia Phillips, Registrar Denver Arnett, Prof. Julie Mathews, and Dean Delmer Somerville. Wanda L. Taylor will deliver a talk and demonstration on "Why I like directed teaching."

Devotions will be presented by Geraldine Groves, followed by group singing, led by Prof. H. Y. Clark. Betty Jo Simons and Anna Madabaugh will present a skit on human relations. A picnic lunch, prepared by the participating students, will be served.

After the lunch intermission, the group will tour the campus under the direction of Eunice Hatfield. The festivities will be climaxed by an afternoon tea, sponsored by the County Classroom Teachers association.

Schools having FTA chapters who are expected to attend are Ravenswood, Weston, Walkersville, Nicholas, Harrisville, Burnsville, Parkersburg, Richwood, and Calhoun.

Ten other schools not having FTA groups will also send representatives to the convocation. These representatives will be from Glenville, Troy, Normantown, Tanner, Sand Fork, Gassaway, Elizabeth, Pennsboro, St. Marys, and Williamstown.

WAA Softball Tilts Begin; Green, Whaling Are Winners

WAA softball season got under way Tuesday night, April 13, with two games being played. Whaling and Greene were winners, as Brubaker and Given lost.

In the first game, Whaling's team defeated Brubaker by an exciting 12-11 score. Brubaker was leading 8-7 at the end of the fourth inning. The battery for Whaling was Judy and Quinn; and Rastle and Coe were for Brubaker.

Greene easily won by chalking up a 26-11 margin over Given. Greene's team made 17 runs in the first inning, but Given kept them at an even pace for the remainder of the game. Given's battery was Clendenin and C. Marley, with Given substituting in the third inning. Greene's battery was White and Knickely.

Jane Ratliff and Mary Lou Clendenin were the officials for the first game, and Kathleen Quinn officiated the last game.

Holy Roller Court Gets Costello's Band For Annual Dance

Ernie Costello and his popular seven-piece orchestra have been chosen to play for the annual Holy Roller Court Ball. The spring formal, oldest social function on the campus, will be held May 7, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Ernie Costello and his band are well known throughout North-Central West Virginia. The Costello Combine appears regularly in Clarksburg's Carmichael auditorium, "The Clique Club," and "Willow Beach." Costello always presents a modern experienced dance band.

With the hiring of Costello's band, plans for the dance are near completion. Judge Don Merriman has appointed the following committees to work on the plans for the dance: advertising, chairman, Steve Rohr, Raymond Oxler, Tom Hyer, and Dan Dobbins; decorations, Joe Romano, chairman, Don Merriman, Joe Bokovitz, Gail Lydick, Jim Davis, Don Hamlin, and Bill Crum.

Judge Merriman has expressed the wish of the entire Court that all Court Alumni and other college alumni return for the "spring homecoming," the annual Court Ball.

STUDENTS INTERVIEWED

Benjamin S. Carroll, assistant superintendent of Harford county schools in Maryland, and Clark Jones, supervisor of high schools, were on campus recently interviewing students who were interested in teaching in Maryland. Seven students were interviewed by the Harford county officials.

Those interviewed were Paul Lanham, Barbara Hart, Billy Phelps, Josephine Fidler, Freda Peters, Seebert Gregory, and Lourena Floyd.

LANE TOURS RIPLEY FFA

Prof. Warden Lane judged a parliamentary procedure contest for the Kanawha Valley Federation of Future Farmers of America at Ripley recently. While at Ripley, Professor Lane toured the new camp site where much progress has been made in developing a home for the Future Farmers of America and the Future Homemakers of America.

Those who have applied to take the Selective Service college qualification test are reminded that it will be administered April 22 in room 200-A according to Dean of Men Robert Higgins.

16 College Students Attend Sports Meet

An annual sports meet was held Thursday, April 8, at Fairmont State college. The play day is held each year at one of three colleges—Fairmont, Wesleyan, or Glenville.

Prof. Clarissa Williams, of the physical education department, reported that Glenville won second place for the entire event. Teams were composed of representatives from Glenville, Fairmont and Wesleyan.

Eight boys and eight girls from the College attended the meet. These students were Sally Waggoner, Delores Lynch, Jacqueline Rastle, Leona Satterfield, Wyene Bush, Jacqueline Coe, Eileen Fisher, Harold Hissam, Thomas Hyer, Stephen Rohr, Don Hamon, Joe Romano, Billy Stanley, Robert Cutlip, and Constance Marley.

Bobcats Rally To Top Wave In Slugfest

Wesleyan's fighting Bobcats rallied for four runs in the 14th inning last Tuesday to send Glenville's Pioneers down to a 15-11 defeat, their second setback of the still-young WVIAC baseball season.

The defeat was an especially bitter one for the Gee Men who jumped off to an imposing 6-1 lead after four innings of play, only to have the visitors close the gap to 6-5 on the strength of a four-run uprising in the fifth.

The Wave came back strongly in the sixth, however, to score five times on three walks, a hit batsman, and Joe Bokovitz's sharp single.

The determined Bobcats pecked away at the Pioneer margin for one run in the sixth, four more in the seventh, and tying run in the ninth to send the game into extra frames.

Both teams enjoyed some fine hurling in the pressure-packed extra innings with each club being limited to two hits. Neither team countered until the fourteenth, when Wesleyan salted the game away with a four run uprising against two Glenville hurlers.

Pitcher-outfielder Houdashelt was just about the whole show for Wesleyan, belting out two homers and a single for five runs batted in. Opening the final inning with a base on balls, Houdashelt scored what proved to be the winning run when he scored on D'Annolfo's triple.

As in the contest against Davis & Elkins, walks and errors proved to be the Wave's undoing. Pioneer moundsmen issued 11 free tickets, and six of them eventually scored. Of the nine visitors who reached base on errors, four of them hit the scoring column, a total of 10 runs tallied on base on balls or errors.

Bill Reit proved to be the Wave's biggest threat at the plate as the McKeesport, Pa. youngster pounded out a triple and a double and stroled twice. Stellar center fielder Ed Tekieli, who turned in another defensive gem from his center field position, also pounded out a brace of hits, both singles.

In charge of the luncheon. The student chapter of MENC and the Glenville State band will act as hosts for the visiting bands.

Sale of Old Jail Gets World-Wide Acclaim

By KATHRYN PALMER

Through efforts of Prof. E. B. Elder, head of the Glenville News Bureau, world-wide attention was given to the recent auction of the Sand Fork jail.

The jail, which had not held a law-breaker in the past 20 years, came to an end when it was purchased by Glen H. Springston, former mayor of Sand Fork.

Although it had been unknown to many, and it was not used, the little jail did not go out of existence in a quiet manner. Only after a decision for its sale had become effective did it get any recognition.

The story of the auction was carried by both the Associated and the United Press. Submitted to the Charleston Gazette, the news of the auction subsequently covered a vast area of the United States.

An article concerning the sale appeared in the St. Louis Globe Democrat under the head "Crime-Free Town Auctions Off Its Jail." A similar article was published in the New Port News Daily Press and in a column of the Akron Beacon Journal.

Several letters, commending the little town were received by the mayor.

Probably most significant in the ways which the news was reported and most startling to the citizens of Gilmer county came when the news of the coming sale was broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting Station in a news report by Lowell Thomas.

Only recently, Mr. Elder learned that the feature article was carried in the Paris edition of the widely-read armed forces publication, "Stars and Stripes."

College Choir Sings At Clay and Widen

The College choir is appearing at Clay and Widen high schools today. This is the last choir trip that has been planned for this year, according to Prof. Harold Orendorff, director of the choir.

The choir will present a program of musical selections as they have recently done at Belington, Coalton, and Walton. Professor Orendorff will also sing.

The choir participated in the spring concert last Wednesday, and opened the assembly Thursday morning, with three numbers, "Lo, The Dawn of Resurrection" by Mac Kinnon, "To Thee We Sing" by Schvedor, and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" by Peter Lutkin.

Collins Returns to Interview

Dr. James Collins, Glenville Student Council president in 1947-48, was on campus last week interviewing students who were interested in teaching in the Garrett county schools of Maryland.

Students who were interviewed were Maurice Buck, Seibert Gregory, Billy Phelps, Loureona Floyd, and Harold Butcher.

Governing Body Meeting April 8

Verona Mapel hall governing board had its monthly meeting April 6.

Betty Cooper, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of President Dorothy Lanham.

If any of the girls had suggestions for house rules, they were asked to give them to Mrs. Olive Smythe, house director, or Dorothy Lanham, president.

Freshmen girls were granted 9 o'clock permission every night for the remainder of the term.

Senior tea, sponsored by Verona Mapel, was cancelled. A dormitory party for senior girls in Verona Mapel hall was discussed.

Norene Westfall, Eunice Hatfield, and Nancy Harris were appointed to select nominees for next year's dormitory offices. Election of officers will be held at the house meeting in May.

The girls were reminded to remove their food from the refrigerator before Easter holidays.

LANE JUDGE AT NORMANTOWN

Prof. Warden Lane served as judge at a parliamentary procedure contest and a public speaking contest of the Central Federation of the Future Farmers of America at Normantown. This federation is composed of 10 high schools; he selected a winner to represent the federation in the state contest.

Lane also served as judge of the Ohio Valley Federation of the Future Farmers of America at the Tyler County high school.
