Court, Kappa Sigma Plan Fraternity Houses Annual 'Messiah' Climaxes Holiday Week Festivities

Wanema Hermiz, Mary F. Holbert, Feminine Lead

By RITA PICKENS

Climaxing "The Messiah," which will be given tomorrow night at 8:15 in the college auditorium, will be the "Hallelujah Chorus." During this chorus the audience will stand because in 1743, when the King of England first heard the number, he rose to his feet in enthusiasm. Since that time it has been the custom to rise when the "Hallelujah Chorus" is sung.

"The Messiah" will be under the direction of Dr. Harold Orendorff. This is a yearly event given at Christmas time for the public.

This inspiring oratorio was Handel's most successful and best-known composition. It was composed in 1741 in 24 days, and first performed in 1742 with Handel conducting the performance.

"The Messiah" is an oratorio for four part chorus of mixed voices, and solos for the soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. The alto solo will be done by Wanema Hermiz, the soprano by Mary Faith Holbert, the tenor will be divided between David Arbogast and Hon Shik Min, and the bass will be done by Thomas Reed.

Two more accompanists have been selected to help Mary Faith Holbert and Doris Marks. They are Mary Sue Davidson and David Arbogast. Prof. Bertha Olsen will be at the organ, and Prof. Joseph Riggs will read all script.

175 Treated at Infirmary

Mrs. Agnes Fost, school nurse, has treated a total of 175 students during the month of November.

The common cold was the cause of the greatest number of calls, as 80 students were treated. Injuries, athletic and otherwise, were next in order of frequency of occurrence, with 15 students receiving treatment.

'Old Lace' Comedy Recorded Among School's Biggest Hits

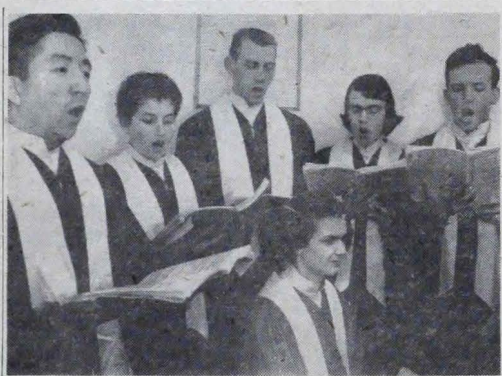

By RITA PICKENS

When Shirley James, cast as Elaine Harper, quipped to her gay friend Mortimer Brewster, alias William Deel, "My father always likes to pray over me before I go out with you" in the first act of the present Ohningohow production, "Arsenic and Old Lace," the packed house howled and the tempo was set for the three-act comedy that was a spine-tingling success.

The fast moving comedy produced an evening of hilarious entertainment, coupled with suspense, intrigue, and the usual abundance of chills and spills. Timely manipulation of the lights also enhanced and added to the eerie atmosphere.

Masterful Harley Cutlip almost stole the show with his charges up Juan hill and his ear-splitting noise on his bugle. Needless to say it was Teddy Roosevelt.

Robert Gainer, as the scar-faced killer, added an air to the plot of the play, as he ably portrayed his part as the sinister killer. Bob's companion Dr. Elminster, portrayed Preparing for tomorrow night's annual "Messiah" are Hon Shik Min, Wanema Hermiz, Thomas Reed, Mary Faith Holbert, and David Arbogast, soloists for this year's production.

Santa to Make Special Trip For Tomorrow's Yule Feast

Joyce Bourne Wins In Marshall Event

Only one of the 10 Glenville women who attended the annual play day which was held at Marshall college Dec. 4, was a member of a winning team. Joyce Bourn, a sophomore, was a member of the "drum" team which was declared the winner of the day. The ten girls who attended the meet were: Wyene Bush, Jacqueline Rastle, Connie Marley, Jacqueline Coe, Dottie Lanham, Joan Dotson, Juanita Radcliff, Joyce Bourn, Martha White, and Kathleen Quinn.

The students stayed in Laidley hall Friday night. They first participated in folk dancing; then they were divided into groups which were recognized by names of musical instruments. They participated in such sports as: badminton, ring tennis, volleyball, ping pong, human croquet, and swimming. They were served lunch in the school cafeteria.

Santa Claus will make his yearly appearance at the college tomorrow night at the annual Christmas dinner. Santa will fly down from the North Pole to take his usual part in the festivities by distributing gifts among the guests and students.

Along with Santa, the program for the Christmas dinner will consist of a song by Thomas Reed, and group singing led by Norman Fisher. Harley Cutlip will be taking over as toastmaster. Cutlip will conduct the program and introduce the guests.

Recognition goes to Shirley Chaney and the art department for designing and making the programs. Recognition also goes to Olga Paskevitch for typing the programs.

Decorating of the tables will be done by the dining hall committee, Keith McAfee, Patricia Sumpter, Rita Pickens, Mrs. Freda Southall, Bonel Poling, Clarence Bumgardner, and Prof. Helen Brammer. The centerpieces for the tables will be made of candy canes and pine placed in foam. Decoration of the hall will be done by the Home Economics club.

The menu for this annual meal consists of tomato juice, roast turkey, fluffy potatoes, giblet gravy, savory dressing, cranberry sauce, buttered succotash, relish plate, hot rolls, cherry preserves, butter, strawberry shortcake, and coffee.

Guests for the Christmas dinner will be Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Heflin, Morgan Heflin, Prof. and Mrs. Wendell G. Hardway, Prof. and Mrs. Nelson Wells, and Prof. Carl Kerr.

New Club to be Formed

A physical education club is in the process of being formed. All students with their first field in physical education will be in the club. Prof. Carlos Ratliff said the main objective of this club should be to create a more professional attitude among the students.

Organizations of this nature have been set up and run successfully on a great number of campuses and it is felt that the same can be true at Glenville State College.

HRC Schedules 5-Year Plan; KSK May Have House in '55

By JIM ROBINSON

Two local fraternities, the Holy Roller Court and Kappa Sigma Kappa, will be proud owners of fraternity houses in the not-too-distant future, according to history-making announcements made by the groups last week. The present plans are significant in that at the present time there are no fraternity or sorority houses on the Glenville campus.

The Holy Roller Court was the first to make an announcement of housing plans when they stated last week that they are asking all Court members, actives and alumni, to contribute one dollar a year into the "housing" fund which will be maintained in the Kanawha Banking and Trust company in Glenville.

The Court, a local mock fraternity, estimates it will take five years before they will realize the necessary funds to construct or buy a house. The organization, the oldest operating fraternity on campus, is headed this year by Richard Barrett, JEFFERSON judge.

Last week, Kappa Sigma Kappa, the local chapter of a national fraternity, announced that they are also making plans for a fraternity house, but that they had hopes of realizing their objective before school opens in September for the 1955-56 school year.

The announcement followed the group's meeting last week with George Jefferson, national secretary for Kappa Sigma Kappa. During the meeting, the fraternity discussed procedures to be followed in obtaining the house, and how they (Continued on page 2)

Music Dept. Leads Annual Christmas Assembly Program

The music department of Glenville State College will have charge of the annual Christmas assembly Friday morning at 10:15. The College orchestra, under the direction of Bertha E. Olsen, will make its first appearance of the season and will play the following selections: Christmas Carol Fantasy, Soprin; The Famous Largo, Haydn; Promenade, Schubert; and Jingle Bells, Simpson.

A mixed ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Harold Orendorff, will sing Cherubin Song, Glinka; The Lord Bless and Keep You, Lutkin; A Babe Holds Court in Bethlehem, Tatton; and Beside Thy Cradle, Each.

Christmas carols will be sung by the audience under the direction of Dr. Orendorff.

This year's Kanawhachen staff has decided to dedicate the year's annual, according to Elaine Bell, editor. The staff has set up a standard for dedication of the yearbook. This standard includes such qualifications as service to the school, service to the community, interest, co-operation, cultural advancement, and educational advancement.

Yearbook Dedication Announced by Editor

Jack Cawthon, yearbook photographer, has been busy with photographs for the annual. Lately, he has taken pictures of the Ohningohow production, "Arsenic and Old Lace," which will be used in the Kanawhachen.

10 Seniors Bid Farewell At End of First Semester

By CONSTANCE SAMS

Ten Glenville State College seniors will sing their swan song at the end of this semester when they will enter the teaching profession.

The graduating students will be finished with their college education by January 21. One of the seniors, Ira Richard Satterfield, is now teaching secondary education in a junior high school in Spencer.

Students graduating and their main fields are: Joseph Stanley Bokovitz from Rockport, social studies; Betty Joyce Cooper from Harman, elementary education; Joan Wilson Dotson from Harrisville, elementary education; Wanda Lynch Hines from Glenville, elementary education; Mary Ann Judy from Harman, elementary education; Nora Ann Kennedy from St. Marys, elementary education; Vanga Bird Singleton from Walkersville, business education; Wanda Carol Taylor from Spencer, English and library science; Masie Hughes Somerville from Glenville, home economics; and Ira Richard Satterfield from Glenville, secondary education.

Greetings-to You and Yours

Christmas, the very finest of the holidays, is little more than a week away, and yet, it seems like only yesterday that we were doing our shopping for Christmas, 1953. Only a week after Christmas we will be ringing in another new year while bidding fond farewell to a year that has been good to all of us.

What is this magic spirit that comes over us during this joyous season? It seems that every time the holidays approach, things appear just a little brighter than they do at any other time. We go back through our treasure chest of beautiful memories—not just those of the year that is passing away, but as far back as we can remember.

In the years that lie ahead, we are sure that 1954 will rank among the best for most of us. This has been our first full year of peace since 1949, and that in itself is plenty to be thankful for; we know of no better time to pray for continued peace than this, the Holy season.

It seems that we value peace above all other things. If our nation or any part of the world is locked in conflict we all suffer; but when peace reigns, even the unstable situation we are in at the present time, everyone is joyous.

There are a lot of people who have tried to take Christmas and turn it into nothing but a wild shopping spree, but we believe that there are more people that realize the great significance of the season. People are a lot smarter and more sensitive than most of us give them credit for. Maybe this is because we are one of them.

Despite outward appearances of disconcert, most of us are deeply and sincerely moved by Christmas and its connotations. People have great faith in one another, sometimes more than they would like to admit, but isn't that the way it should be?

Yes, Christmas means a whole lot of unexplainable things. Going home for Christmas means a lot to the serviceman, the traveler, and even the college student.

The Salvation Army caroling at every street corner; bright, gay decorations on main street; last-minute shoppers; the Christmas tree and all the trouble getting the lights to work; and most important of all, church service on Christmas morning. Somehow, that is the most impressive service of them all. You can't explain these things, you can only feel them.

From the bottom of our hearts, we wish everyone—faculty, students, and their families—the merriest Christmas ever, and a prayer for "peace on earth" throughout 1955. JIM

Student Teachers Shifted as Local School is Closed

Six of the eight students doing practice teaching this term have been changed to other schools because the Glenville high school building has been condemned.

James Robinson, Wanda Carol Taylor, Jack Tennant, and Helen Berry Davis have all been moved to Normantown high school. Joseph Bokovitch and James Chapman were moved to Sand Fork high school.

The education department announced that the teachers were moved due to the state of flux of the present Glenville high school. The department feels that although the instruction at Glenville high school will not change, the student teachers should receive training in a more typical high school situation.

The department announced that practice teachers in the secondary field will be sent to outlying high schools for the remainder of this school year and urges students to plan their schedules accordingly. "It is very undesirable for a student to plan to take a class on campus while student teaching if he has to go out of Glenville to teach," Prof. Nelson Wells said. Students anticipating problems of this kind have been asked to see their advisors before registration for the second semester.

The structure which housed Glenville high school has been condemned by order of the state fire marshal. School was not in session Monday, Nov. 29, but resumed Tuesday, Nov. 30.

At the present time, the high school is meeting in the Board of Education offices and the college Old Gym. The two elementary grades are meeting in the home economics building of the high school. As soon as necessary changes can be made, all high school classes will be held at the County recreation center. Leroy Stennet, principal, says repairs should be completed in about 10 days. The school will function in this manner until money can be raised to erect a new building.

This is the first term there have been no elementary practice teachers, according to Prof. H. Y. Clark. He believes this can be a serious trend because elementary teachers are needed badly in this state.

Those enrolled are: Richard Barrett, who will teach physical education in both the elementary and high schools at Sand Fork; Helen Berry Davis, business and library science at Normantown; Walter Jack Tennant, commerce and physical education at Normantown; Joseph Bokovitch, social studies and physical education at Sand Fork; and James Chapman, social studies at Sand Fork.

Sorority Simmerings

By NORA ANN KENNEDY

KAPPA CHI KAPPA

Members and pledges of Kappa Chi Kappa are making Christmas baskets to present to needy children in Glenville. Each member and pledge is giving something to go in the baskets and the Red Cross will distribute them.

Miss Freda Arnold and Miss Erma Edwards, sorority sponsors, had a Christmas party for the members and pledges, Monday, Dec. 13, in Louis Bennett lounge. Gifts were exchanged, and the group sang carols.

XI BETA TAU

Pledges of Xi Beta Tau entertained the members with several outstanding performances Monday, Dec. 6. Shirley Cross was mistress of ceremonies, and each pledge had a special part in the program. Mrs. Byron Turner and Mrs. Floyd Miller, patronesses, had a Christmas party for the members and pledges at Mrs. Turner's home Monday, Dec. 13. Santa was present with gifts, and favorite carols were sung by the group.

Members of Class In Cooking Prepare Series of Dinners

Cooking groups composed of members of the 105 cooking class prepared meals, practiced menu planning, selection, and service when they held a series of dinners ranging from a family style to a very formal dinner.

One of the dinners, which completed the series, was a formal type with Jackie Humphreys, Dorothy Lanham, and Kathleen Barr acting as hostesses. They prepared the meals, table arrangements, and decoration. Guests for the evening were Harry Smith, Peter Kostyk, and Ernest Snyder.

Beth Hudkins, Mary Louise Gillespie, and Barbara Johnson held a semi-formal dinner with Patty Reynolds, Lois Fisher, Prof. Helen Brammer, and Prof. Elma J. Woolfer as guests.

Two family-style meals were planned, and guests also attended these. The members who prepared these meals were Janie Shipman, Virginia Johnson, Patty Royster, Martha Marsh, Macel Batten, and Marilyn Rastle. Their guests were Barbara Wright, Nora Kennedy, Juanita Brannon, Vanda Singleton, Clara Hull, and Charlene Cole.

Court, Kappa Sigma

would finance the project. Edsel Ford, chairman of a special committee appointed by President Stanley Costy, announced that the results of the meeting were very encouraging, and that his committee would begin at once working out the final plans for the purchase of the house.

The other fraternity on the Glenville campus, Sigma Tau Gamma, has not made any statement to date regarding plans for a fraternity house. Sigma Tau Gamma, like Kappa Sigma Kappa, is a local chapter of a national fraternity.

ALUMNI NOTES

Frank Fullineer, 1953-54 SC President, Marries in Ohio

By YVONNE HART

FRANK FULLINEER

Frank Fullineer, president of the 1953-54 Student Council, was married last Sunday to Patricia Ann Graham in a ceremony at Marietta, Ohio. During his undergraduate days at Glenville, Fullineer was a member of the Holy Roller Court, the G-Club, and played on the football team. Highlight of his term as Student Council prexy was the publication of the Kanawhachen for the first time in 12 years.

Barbara McClung and Robert Cutlip were married Friday, Dec. 3, in a ceremony held in a church at Gassaway. Both were students of Glenville last year, and are now employed as elementary school teachers.

Barbara was a member of Xi Beta Tau sorority, WAA, and Wesley Foundation. Cutlip was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, 4-H, Wesley Foundation, and both were members of the Student Christian association.

They will reside in Braxton county.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hodges, former students here, are the parents of a son, Robert Allan, Jr. Mrs. Hodges the former Kathryn Raines, was a member of the '54 graduating class. She was a member of the Xi Beta Tau sorority, WAA, Ohnimgohow Players, and the International Relations club. She was an English and social studies student. They are now in Massachusetts, where Mr. Hodges is serving in the armed forces.

Marlene Whited, of Walton, was married to Dean Jones in Walton Community church on Friday evening, Nov. 26. Marlene was a student here for one year. While on campus, she was associated with the Women's Athletic association and various other activities. The couple will reside in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Kindergarten Room Presented Paintings By Art 405 Class

An added attraction to the kindergarten room is the nursery rhyme figures which have been painted around one corner of the room. The figures were painted in oils by the Art 405 class.

That particular area of the room is known as the "story corner." There is a rug on the floor on which the children sit and either tell or listen to stories. The pictures were painted low on the walls to be near the children's eye level when they are sitting on the floor.

Wendall Garton painted "the three pigs" and "humpty dumpty"; Barbara Wright painted "Mary and her lamb"; Shirley Chancey did "little Miss Muffett"; Wanda Milligan, the "gingerbread man"; and Charles Casto, the "three bears".

Dept. Heads Discuss Required Courses

Chairmen of the different divisions of the college have seen meeting to discuss what courses in a field should be required for a teaching certificate. These requirements will then be presented to Prof. H. Y. Clark, local representative on the teacher training committee.

The teacher-training committee is appointed by the State Board of Education to set up requirements for teacher training. Each state college will submit the subjects they think should be required of teachers, and the committee will make up a list from these requirements.

Any changes in curricula, must

Pioneers Beat Potomac, Rams on Road Trip

Victories Enable Gee Men To Post 3-2 Season Record

By Jim Robinson

Glennville basketball fans, who have never given up on their team yet despite the fact they have had quite a few losers in recent years, had real cause to be proud of the 1954-55 season this week following the Gee Men's unbelievable feat of beating Potomac and Shepherd on successive nights, the first time this has been accomplished in a long, long time.

The twin victories were a fitting climax to the first half week of conference play, with the Pioneers losing a heart breaker to Tech earlier in the week, and rebounding strongly on their annual northern trek.

Against defending champion Tech, the Gee Men fell victims to a 36-24 outburst by the great George Meyers, who steadied the Golden Bears throughout and provided the spark when the Golden Bears pulled ahead 81-80 with five minutes remaining in the game. The visitors never relinquished their margin after that. The game was much closer than the 100-90 score would indicate. The game was tied four times and the lead changed hands 10 times.

Freshman Rudy Poole and ace shot-maker Jack Tennant waxed in the second half at Keyser to pace the Wave to a 82-64 triumph over Potomac in the latter's league opener. The Gee Men ran roughshod over the Catamounts during the second half, outscoring the home team 43-25 following a half time 39-39 deadlock.

Jack Tennant had his greatest night of the young season against Shepherd by tossing in 36 markers leading the Gee Men to their second straight with a 97-85 win over the Rams.

The game was in direct contrast to the Potomac game with the visiting Wave quintet boasting a huge 55-41 half-time bulge and maintaining the margin until the finish. The victory was sweet revenge for the Gee Men who lost a one-point thriller to the Rams last season, the first time a Shepherd team had ever beaten the Pioneers in basketball.

KH Waitresses Hold Dining Hall Party

Waitresses of Kanawha hall dining room and their guests held a party last Friday night, from 7 until 9 p.m. Each waitress and dishwasher and her guest were present. The group participated in relays, games, dancing, and a talent show. Refreshments were served during the evening.

A door prize and a gift exchange were features of the evening. Jean Loyd and John Cutlip were co-chairmen of the entertainment committee. Other members of the committee were Barbara Taylor, Barbara Blackhurst, Ada Cox, and Charlene Spicer. Refreshments were served by Geraldine Groves, Annabelle McHenry, Elda Utterback, Rose Marie Rogers, and Charlene Cole.

Those who attended the party with their guests were: Ada Cox, Geraldine Cochran, Charlene Cole, Barbara Blackhurst, Barbara Taylor, Jean Loyd, Peggy Welch, Sally Ziegler, Annabelle McHenry, Julia Campbell, Frances Stephenson, Elda Utterback, Geraldine Groves, Marie Spicer, Esther Williams, Rose Marie Rogers, John Cutlip, Tom Howard, John Harris, and Clarence Bennett.

High Schools Invited To Basketball Games

Twenty-three high schools from central West Virginia have been asked to be guests at the home basketball games this season. The purpose of this movement is to create a better and more friendly relationship with these schools, according to Dr. Harry B. Heflin.

The high schools of Gilmer county were invited to attend the game with Fairmont college on Dec. 2. Calhoun county high school was invited for the game with Tech on Dec. 7.

Jan Lew, Walkersville, Weston, and Buckhannon-Upshur high schools are to attend the Wesleyan game Dec. 13. At the Salem game, Jan. 18, guests will be Doddridge and Roosevelt-Wilson high schools. Pennsboro, Harrisville, Cairo, Parkersburg, and Williamstown high schools will attend the Alderson-Broadus game Jan. 22. The Braxton county schools, Gassaway, Sutton, and Burnsville, will be guests at the Concord game Jan. 27.

St. Marys high school will attend the West Liberty game Feb. 4. Guests for the Davis and Elkins game Feb. 19 will be Walton and Spencer high schools.

Home Ec. House Nears Completion

New appliances and furniture have been received by the Home Management house during the past three weeks. A dishwasher and wall cabinets have been installed in the kitchen, furnishings for the Mahogany room have been added, and light fixtures have been installed throughout the house.

During the past nine weeks, the residents have entertained many guests at dinners, canasta parties, and informal get-togethers. Dr. and Mrs. Dana Farnsworth were among the last guests to be entertained. Dr. Farnsworth, who is an instructor at Harvard university, visited the home management house and was a guest at a dinner given in his honor. Other guests for the evening were Dr. Harry B. Heflin and Mr. and Mrs. Park Chaddock.

Residents of the house for the present nine weeks are Genevieve Hinder, Patty Reynolds, and Donna Costlow.

Five members of the 1954 Glennville football squad received mention on the All-WVVC honorary football team, according to George Springer, executive-secretary of the conference.

Center Frank Vincent and End Ed Tekieli landed berths on the first team, while Jack Tennant, an all-league first team selection in 1953, received a second team position, and Tackle Sam Ballato and Guard Mike Popp were accorded honorable mention.

Vincent, 210-pound line-backer from West Newton, Pa., was the backbone of the Glennville defense this season and was considered one of the top linemen in the entire state. A Veteran of four seasons at the middle position on the Pioneer line, Vincent moves up from the second team position of a season ago.

Tekieli was an easy selection, mainly on the basis of his league-leading mark in pass-catching. On the receiving end of most of Jack Tennant's passes, the Fairview junior speared 19 passes and was a trojan on the defense.

Tennant was a certain first-team selection before the season began but inclement weather in two games and postponement of another severely hampered his passing efforts. Nonetheless, the chunky Glennville quarterback ended his career with 2,085 yards passing, the second highest mark in conference history. His 21 touchdown passes is certain to remain a Glennville record for many seasons to come.

Popp and Ballato were the outstanding defensive linemen on the 1954 aggregation which was rated one of the outstanding defensive units in the nation. Both juniors, Popp and Ballato are expected to play leading roles for the Pioneers during the 1955 season.

It was surprising that the Gee Men received as many individual honors as they did in view of the losing season they had. All teams represented on the first team had winning seasons during 1954, with the exception of the Pioneers and West Liberty. The Hilltoppers won three and lost four, but included in their victory total was a sound, 19-0 trouncing of the Gee Men.

This is the third season in a row

Minstrel Proceeds Total $159; 324 Attend

Three hundred and twenty-five people attended the G-Club minstrel held on Nov. 18. A total of $159.00 was received from the sale of tickets according to Oliver Hunt, G-club treasurer.

In addition to the performers in the minstrel, the production staff included Dave Cottle, stage manager; Franklin Holstein, script; business manager, Steve Rohr; Advertising, Robert Weaver, programs; Ronald Godfrey, Ronald Stalnaker, Dick Jones, Paul Tackach, lighting, Typists for the show were Kitty Baur, Jackie Humphreys, Lillian Stanley Dave Posey, Dave Cottle, Diane Persley, Rita Pickens, and Steve Rohr.

Accompanists for the various musical numbers were Mary Faith Holbert, Jerry Lee Harbour, Charlene Cole, and Judy Shaver.

VMH Entertain Residents; Will Sponsor Mix in Jan.

Verona Mapel hall will sponsor two activities soon. Tomorrow night the residents of the hall will hold their annual dormitory party immediately following the College presentation of "The Messiah." A mix will be the main attraction sponsored by the hall in January.

Committees for the activity of the evening have been appointed. In charge of refreshments will be Lucille Lipp, chairman; Jane Shipman, Martha Hathaway, Nina Godfrey, Betty Boggs, and Patricia West. Those selected to make an appointment with Santa are Jackie Coe, chairman; Joyce Jackson, and Bonnie Gorrell.

Comprising the entertainment committee are Mary Faith Holbert, Janice Arnold, Janet Thompson, and Dorothy Lanham, who will act as chairmen. Phyllis Given will act as chairman for the clean-up committee with Oneta Polan, Mary Counts Patsy Greene, Kathryn Parmar, and Jean Loyd assisting.

President Betty Cooper has appointed committees to carry out plans for the coming mix. Nora Ann Kennedy heads the decoration committee with Barbara Wright, Wanda Milligan, and Wanda James assisting. Dorothy Lanham, Mary Faith Holbert, and Virginia Harris have been appointed to the entertainment committee. The refreshment committee is composed of Barbara Johnson, Jeanne Reese, and Gail Boggs, Mary Louise Gillespie is chairman. Joyce Jackson, Delores Hitt, Dorothy Matics, Beulah Lewis, and Wanda Carol Taylor are responsible for advertisement. The clean-up committee is headed by Jackie Coe, Donnie Gorrell, Jackie Humphreys, and Kathleen Quinn will assist.

Santa Claus Visits Kanawha Festivities

Kanawha hall's Open House last night was a huge success. Several students and many faculty members were present at the affair. As guests entered the downstairs lobby, they registered at the provided desk. After they had gone through the receiving line, they were guided on a tour of the dormitory by freshmen residents. After the tour, each guest was served punch and brownies. Each guest was also presented with a small gift.

One of the main features of the evening was the appearance of Santa Claus who kept the guests in laughter with his antics. Entertainment was provided in the lounge during the entire evening.

that it will not be practical because of the expense involved—not only the initial cost of buying and equipping the house, but the expense of maintaining it would be large. I know very little about their plans, it would seem our student body is rather small to support fraternity houses.

Prof. Brown offered, "I think it is a good idea. It will alleviate the dormitory housing shortage, and perhaps make for better school spirit."

Prof. H. Y. Clark stated, "There are some inherent dangers for organizations which will make hardships over the years. Whenever it becomes too expensive for an ordinary student to belong, it becomes a class distinction and less democratic. I am not sure that it would work out for the best interests of the college in the long run."

Prof. Bevie B. Bell replied, "We need housing space; this would help, but it is a great financial responsibility. Present members will be obligating themselves to assist the chapter house in the future."

Prof. Clarissa Williams stated, "I think it would relieve the housing situation; however, I think that our students are not financially able to do this. Personally, I see no objection to it, but of course there must be rules and regulations."

Third in Film Series Shows Economic Ed.

The third in the series of motion pictures sponsored by the film preview service will be held sometime this week in Room 400S. The exact date will be announced later.

Films to be previewed this month are about economic education. They include: "The Living City," which is based on the study "Renewing Our Cities" by Miles L. Colean and shows what American citizens can do to improve their cities; "Local 100," which shows in detail how the union was formed; and "Industrial Management."

The films are being presented each month through the cooperation of the Film Council of America as a public service to those interested in using motion pictures.

College Sophomore At 4-H Wool Show

Representing Doddridge county in the State 4-H Wool Garment Show at Jackson's Mill recently was Marilyn Rastle, a sophomore majoring in home economics and

In the event, which was sponsored by the State Wool Growers' association, Marilyn modeled her all-wool outfit. It consisted of a jumper made of steel gray tweed, flecked with royal blue, black, and white, with a kick pleat in the back of the straight skirt; a royal blue jersey blouse with three quarter length sleeves and a turtle neck; and a matching royal blue jersey hat.

Class to Practice Reading Techniques

Members of the Education 306 class are planning actual teaching experience. The class, described as "methods in reading" deals with the different styles and techniques in teaching reading in the elementary school.

Members of the class will teach reading to the first grade which is taught by Mrs. Jean Adams, and observe the reading readiness program, as set forth in the kindergarten. Their lessons will be planned and taught as though they were in their own classroom. Members of the class will then discuss and criticize the teaching and results.

Robert Sharp, Morrison Beckett, Jean Marks, Mildred Stopp, Stanley Costly, Anna Radabaugh, Virginia Harris, Rosemarie Rogers, Julia Murphy, Paul Given, and Len Archer are members of the Education 306 class. Prof. Jewell Matthews is the instructor.
