Virginia Parsons Will Reign As Sweetheart of KSK Frat

Virginia Parsons, freshman, has been selected as "Kappa Sigma Kappa Sweetheart" to reign during the Easter dance, Saturday, April 2. She was chosen by members of the fraternity.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Parsons of Sisson social studies. She is a member of Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, and Verona Mapel Hall governing board. She was a candidate in the recent "Cover Girl Contest" which was held on campus.

During the dance, Virginia will be presented with a large bouquet of flowers, and she will be crowned. Later, a picture of her will be submitted to the Kappa Sigma Kappa National Contest. Last year's Sweetheart Elaine Bell Markley won fourth place in this national contest.

Stewart Presents Awards at State College Ceremony

Marvin Stewart, Student Council president, appeared on West Virginia State college's Ninth Annual Men's Day program last Sunday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m. in Institute.

Stewart presented three citizenship awards to three outstanding men residents of the halls in which they live. These men were nominated by the residents, voted on by the occupants of the dorm, and approved by the residence hall director. The purpose of the award is to stimulate and recognize excellence in campus citizenship. These awards were presented last year by Dean Edward Moore of State college.

Accompanying Stewart on the trip were four other local students. They were: John Paul Shock, John Outlip, Ray Rardin, and Donald Schoonmaker.

Dramatists Attend D&E Speech Festival

Eight colleges were represented at the Intercollegiate Speech Festival held at Davis and Elkins college March 11 and 12. Dramatic groups were present from Marshall, West Liberty, Bethany, Shepherd, Fairmont, West Virginia Institute of Technology, Davis and Elkins, and Glenville.

Judge for the festival was Mr. Newt Mitzman, producer and director of the television show, "American Week."

Glenville students who participated in the festival were Jeanette Prather, William Deel, Robert Woodyard, Thomas Reed, Iris Mack, Mary Helen Plunkett, Frank Holstein, Berle Turner, and Rita Pickens. Prof. Joseph H. Riggs accompanied them.

Regarding the drama festival, Professor Riggs said, "Our experience at Elkins will do much toward better drama at Glenville."

IRC Meets at W. Va. State

Six members of the International Relations club represented Glenville College at the Ohio Valley Regional conference held on March 11-12 at West Virginia State college.

Dale Hunt, president of the club, reported that the meeting was attended by Ruby Elder, Genevieve Hinder, Robert Kohl, Norman Stone, Prof. Bessie B. Bell, club advisor, and president Hunt.

The program consisted of a general assembly, a tour of the college campus, discussion on three forums, and a banquet on the first night.

Rounding out the trip, the club members toured the State Capitol building and visited the House of Senate.

Child Development Class Enrolls 16 For Second Term

Glenville State College is offering 60 courses this term with Child Development 301, which was added to the list at the beginning of this semester, being the newest one.

Child Development 301, or Child Care and Guidance is taught by Prof. Elma Jean Woolfer in the new Home Management house and it is required for all students who are majoring in home economics.

Students who are taking the course this term are: Kathleen Barr, Juanita Brannon, Jackie Coe, June Collins, Eileen Fisher, Mary Louise Gillespie, Dottie Lanham, Lucille Moore, Helen Pease, Kathleen Quinn, Mary Radabaugh, Marilyn Rastle, Patty Royster, Patty Snyder, and Mary Margaret Somerville.

LIBRARY ATTRACTIONS

Imagination, Originality, Go Into Displays

By PATSY FRIEND
When students pause to enjoy the displays that are featured on the library bulletin board, how many ever stop to think of the imagination, time and creative ability that goes into making these displays eye-catching and appealing? This seldom thought of task is the work of John James, library display and publicity manager, who has accomplished the herculean job of creating 85 bulletin board displays since the opening of school last fall, and each time keeping them fresh and imaginative.

Variety of Subjects
One of the main objectives of these displays is to keep before the students on this campus, prominent books the library has that might be of special interest to them. Since many instructors require collateral reading material, it is to heighten the interest of students who have this type of assignment that the bulletin board calls attention to the variety of subject matter that the library has on hand.

Special Days Noted
Biography, science, history, and geography are favorite topics for display, and the main problem is to play these books up in an original

Spencer Choir At Assembly Tomorrow A.M.

The music department of Spencer high school will present a program in the auditorium tomorrow morning during assembly period. The program will consist of numbers by the choir, a clarinet quartet, a french horn quartet, and a trumpet solo.

The music department at Spencer is under the direction of Karl V. Brown, a Glenville graduate. Last year, Spencer's 50-voice choir presented a program of various types of songs in our College auditorium. Under Mr. Brown's supervision, the Spencer musical organization have gained state-wide popularity because of their fine performances.

Director Brown and his students will bring their own programs of music to be presented tomorrow.

3 Students, Faculty Members at Student Union Conference

Three students and one faculty member represented Glenville at the fourth state Student Union Conference held at West Virginia State college at Institute March 11 and 12. Ralph Holder, manager of Glenville's student union, Donald Schoonmaker, Hong Shik Min, and Prof. Stanley Hall attended the conference.

The chief purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the representatives with problems which arise in student unions of various colleges, and to discuss solutions to these problems. A general session, at which Dr. W. J. Wallace, president of West Virginia State college, gave the opening address, was held on Friday evening.

Various sectional meetings were held on Saturday, with faculty and students meeting separately. Such topics as "How to Stimulate Student Interest Toward Campus Activities" and "Selection of Student Government and Student Union Officers" were discussed in these meetings. Financial problems of student unions was also a topic for discussion.

MRS. FLOYD MILLER WINS 1ST
Mrs. Floyd Miller's short story, "Love Feast," was awarded first prize in a short story contest held recently by the Confederate Women's Clubs at their meeting at White Sulphur Springs.

SC Adopts College Emblem Entered by Wendell Garton

Wendell Garton, freshman Art major from Troy, has been named winner of the campus emblem contest by Student Council president Marvin Stewart at the last meeting of the Council held on March 15.

An election was held in the student union to determine which emblem of the ten submitted would be chosen to represent or depict the final product that would be used as the official emblem of Glenville State College. The results showed Garton as winner with an emblem bearing the picture of the old clock tower flanked by the head of a pioneer. Two concentric circles enclosed the picture, with Glenville State College, Glenville, W. Va. written between the lines forming the circles.

Phys. Ed Display

Stewart stated that the Council approved a motion made by Athletic director Carlos Rathiff that pictures of athletic teams of the past and the future be placed on the walls of the Health and Physical Education building. He said that the team pictures would be hung in chronological order along the lower and upper hallways of the building.

P. E. Majors Unite

Plans are underway for the formation of Physical Education club, according to the discussion held on the subject by the Council members.

Instructions have been given to president Stewart to write to the National Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation for the purpose of obtaining a constitution for the forming of such a club.

Hart Receives Post

Yvonne Hart has been appointed editor of the freshman handbook for next year, Stewart announced at the meeting.

Regular square dances will be held every Thursday until the end of semester it was announced by a Council member. The dances will be free, and they will be sponsored by the F. T. A. and 4-H clubs. These dances will not be held on nights of other scheduled activities.

Stewart reported to the Council that the public address system for use in the dining hall has arrived. He said that it has been installed, and that it is operating effectively.

Spring Repairs Begin Soon

According to Lloyd Jones, financial secretary, spring repairs around campus will probably be started soon. Some outside painting and repairs in the concrete walks will probably receive attention, and there is a possibility that some repairs in the parking area will be started.

Some metal shelves have arrived and they will be put to use in the two classrooms upstairs in the library.

Only 3 in SC Race; Deadline 9 Days Away

By GEORGE PEASE

Silence dominated the campus political scene last week with such scope that it all but indicated sheer disinterest on the part of the students as to the issues of the coming Student Council election.

In fact, the "know-nothing" attitude of the majority of students seems to indicate that little thought has been given to the rapidly approaching April 1 deadline which has been set as the date when platforms must be submitted in order for a student to qualify for candidacy.

3 New Possibilities

Rumors and leads have to this point succeeded in uncovering three new possibilities, although two of the individuals are not neophytes in the art of hat-throwing.

One of the veterans, Jack Cawthon, is rumored to be an aspirant for the vice-presidency office. An interview with Cawthon succeeded only in a "no comment" statement.

Although Cawthon was defeated in his attempt for the sergeant-at-arms post in last year's election, he is figured to be a popular candidate if and when he decides to run.

Maybe Dobbins
Another potential candidate is Daniel Dobbins, present prexy of the sophomore class. In an earlier article, this reporter listed Dobbins as definitely against the possibility that he might compete. However, Dobbins recently hinted that he may decide to retract his initial statement and consider the possibility.

Charles Cole Visits 15 Regional Schools; Inspects FFA Org.

Charles Cole, 1st. vice president of the West Virginia Association of Future Farmers of America, is going to tour central and southern West Virginia and visit 15 high school FFA chapters in those areas.

Cole, a freshman agriculture major from Auburn in Gilmer county, said that he will visit these chapters, check on their programs of activities, offer any help needed and report his findings to the state office in Charleston.

Mr. Cole will visit 10 schools in the Huntington area and five in the Clarksburg-Weston vicinity.

Summer Workshops Planned

Prof. H. Y. Clark of the Education department went to Charleston March 15 to attend a planning committee session in preparation for the State Supervisors Association's annual workshop, which is to be conducted on Glenville State College campus June 1, 2, and 3.

On March 17, Mr. Clark went to Charleston again to attend a session of the planning committee of the State Directors of Attendance Association. They also made plans to conduct their annual workshop which will be held on the campus during the week of Aug. 8-13.

Lack of Interest

Our political writer, George Pease, informs us that there is very little action on the local political scene even though the April 1 deadline for application for a place on the Student Council ballot is rapidly approaching.

To some, this may be interpreted as a disgusting sign of disinterest, but to others who have ridden out the stormy elections of 1953 and 1954, this is a tribute to the fine, workman-like job done by Marvin Stewart and his energetic 1954-55 Council.

While in the past two elections the students were bitterly divided into two camps over vital issues, the 1954-55 Council has performed its tasks in such an efficient manner that controversial issues, the life-blood of student elections, are not to be found.

Even the Student Union, always a stand-by target for political brick-bats, has aroused no particular ire during the past school year. To say that everyone is completely happy with the "state of the Union" would be a little far-fetched, but neither can the Union's most severe critics deny that the Union has seen gloomier years than 1954-55.

Another deviation from past elections is the absence of "key" influential personalities. When Paul Lanham assumed command of the Council in 1953, he and his entire "slate" owed a debt of gratitude to outgoing president Frank Fultineer and "King" Carl Galgani, the behind-the-scenes figure who asserted a lot of influence on campus back in 1953.

Last year the campaigns were not nearly as well organized as they had been the previous April, but the many "key" people on campus who supported Stewart had a great deal to do with his election and that of his entire "slate."

The out-going Lanham set a precedent by not endorsing either aspirant for the SC presidency, a prerogative that may or may not be adopted by Stewart. Lanham, like Fultineer the year before him, had a fine year at the helm and he could have aided Stewart immeasurably by endorsing him, and by the same token, his denunciation of Stewart would have hurt him at the polls.

Mr. Stewart is now faced with this problem which is particularly difficult this year because two of the three announced candidates for the presidency are members of his 1954-55 Council. It will be interesting to see whether he jumps on one of the bandwagons or remains silent, as did Lanham last year.

Although the fine job turned in by the 1954-55 Council has left few vital issues for the coming campaign, and despite the fact there has been little organization, this year's election is just as important as those in recent years.

The preliminary plans for the new Student Union, for example, have been made, and an energetic and imaginative 1955-56 Student Council could take giant strides in making this project a reality. This is just one of the many vital measures that will face next year's legislative body. There will be many others; each year brings its own particular problems, and 1955-56 will be no exception.

The Students need able and honest officers to oversee and legislate their interests during 1955-56. Student Government is a privilege, AND a responsibility. Let us get as many of our leaders on the ballot as we can, so that we can continue to prosper and progress as we certainly did under the fine 1954-55 Student Council. JIM.

KAPPA CHI KAPPA

Decorating plans for the coming April Showers dance took up most of the regular meeting. The various committees reported on the amount of materials they would need. It was decided that the Jimmy Groves' orchestra would be engaged to play for the affair, which will be from 9-1 on April 15. This will be another dance where the girls will invite the boys.

Plans for planting two trees in observance of Arbor day on April 2 were discussed briefly.

XI BETA TAU

Decorations for the Sock Hop were completed and hours for decorating the gym were set. Members decided to decorate on Friday afternoon and evening and on Saturday morning. Sue Leech, Charlene Cole and Buelah Lewis were appointed to act as hat check girls and waitresses for the Sock Hop. Orders for the stationery that has been sold by members were sent out.

Riggs Judge at Ravenswood

Prof. Joseph H. Riggs acted as judge at the Sectional Forensics tournament held at Ravenswood last Thursday. The tournament began at two o'clock at the Episcopal Church in Ravenswood. Contemporary oratory and interpretation of prose literature were the two divisions of the contest, according to Professor Riggs.

Frat Chat

By GEORGE PEASE

HOLY ROLLER COURT: Judge Richard Barrett reported that the court decided to contribute to the Red Cross drive.

Discussion was held on the coming class tournaments, and plans were completed for the event, to be held April 12, 13, and 14.

Franklin Holstein was given a standing ovation for his splendid job of preparing and directing the Court assembly.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA: Acting president Thomas Reed reported that all outstanding dues must be paid by the next meeting.

It was decided that $5.00 will be contributed to the Red Cross drive. Letters were sent out to the alumnus of the chapter and to the other frat chapters.

Approval was given to the suggestion of helping the Xi Beta Tau's decorate the gym for the coming Sock Hop.

Ronald Stalnaker gave a financial report.

The Mail Box

Dear Editor:

I have noticed that there hasn't been a student who has taken advantage of the reader-to-editor method of making his feelings about certain subjects known to the school so I shall proceed to instigate this median for the year of 1955.

(Most letters written to editors are "gripes" about something, and this one will hold to that tradition. This is going to be a complaint which affects the Student Council and this one will hold to that tradition. This is going to be a complaint which affects the Student Council and the Student Union.

As you know, the Student Council placed a suggestion box in the Student Union for the direct purpose of securing students' suggestions. I have just completed reading the contents of said box and I find them very disturbing. For example, there were 20 suggestions in the box; 15 dealing directly with the problem of coffee being served in the popular student rendezvous. I will grant you that instant coffee is being sold at ten cents a cup, but about half of the suggestions asked for better sanitary conditions in the preparation of coffee.

An example of this type of suggestion is: "I think that this fair establishment should sell coffee free of flies." This may seem amusing when it affects so many people. I am sure if you should go to the Union and take careful notice of how the coffee is prepared, you'd become alarmed also. I have noticed that the clerks continually use the same utensils time after time without washing them.

Of course it is the responsibility of the Union management to make sure that any food sold over the counter is prepared in a sanitary way. But it also behooves the Student Council to make sure that goods are sold in a reputable condition.

Other suggestions asked for playing cards to be added to the merchandise for free rental, tables be kept clean, sundaes be sold, and a dictionary be installed.

I think it would be well for the Union management and Student Council to take action on at least two of these—keeping tables clean and placing a dictionary in the Union for student use. I am in favor of sundaes being sold also, but not under the present unsanitary conditions.

Mary Ann Judy, Betty Cooper Employed in Kanawha County

Mary Ann Judy and Betty Joyce Cooper, first semester graduates of Glenville State, are now employed by the Kanawha county board of education as teachers at Malden elementary school, near Charleston. Mary Ann teaches the first grade, and Betty Joyce teaches the sixth grade.

While attending school here, Mary Ann was a member of WAA, Student Christian association, and she was an attendant to the Homecoming queen of 1934-55.

Betty Joyce was president of Verona Maple hall, a member of the Mercury staff, WAA, and was herald of the Xi Beta Tau sorority.

Lumina Rader and George Mick, '54 graduates, were married in December. Young Mrs. Mick is teaching in an elementary school in Nicholas county, and Mr. Mick is now stationed in Texas with the Air Force.

While on campus, Lumina was a member of WAA and Wesley Foundation. She was graduated cum laude. George was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butcher, '54, are the parents of a son, David Allan, born Feb. 2, 1955. Mrs. Butcher is the former Barbara Shimer.

Barbara was a member of Xi Beta Tau sorority, WAA, and Future Teachers of America. She was an elementary major.

Harold was treasurer of the senior class, and a Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, Alpha Delta Epsilon, and Kanawha member. He was a student in the fields of business and social studies.

Richard Hoover, of Walkersville, left Feb. 15 for South Carolina where he will be stationed with the U. S. Army. He is a '54 graduate, and has been employed this year as an elementary teacher at Vaughn, West Virginia.

Richard was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, president of Wesley Foundation, a member of SCA, FTA, and of the 4-H club on campus.

tary conditions prevailing in the Union.

Although you may think that I am unduly criticizing the Student Council and Student Union, I think that if they think enough of the students' opinions to ask for them, they should at least give these suggestions due consideration.

Thanking you in advance for listening to my grumbling I remain, Yours truly, John Cutlip

(These columns are always open to the student body, but unfortunately this privilege is seldom exercised. Mr. Cutlip's remarks sound like fodder for the coming Student Council election campaigns. Maybe business around here will pick up this spring. Ed)

The Lighter Side

Ex Libris

By Freda Peters

India and the Awakening of the East, by Eleanor Roosevelt. Harper and Brothers, New York.

Because of an interest that originated from her work in an U.N. committee, which deals with humanitarian, cultural, and social matters, Mrs. Roosevelt accepted Prime Minister Nehru's invitation to visit India. In the U.N. committee she had become aware of the complexity of the difficulties confronting Asia in its relations to the rest of the world. By recording her travel observations she brings new light on some of Asia's most chronic problems.

Mrs. Roosevelt finds that the Middle East has deep-seated dislikes and distrusts created by a long history of misuse by various conquerors. However, the main content of her book deals with the new republic of India. Here, she finds that even though people come cheaper than broom handles, there is great hope resulting from an honest government, which is doing its best to give the people a better life.

Mrs. Roosevelt says that Americans have grown cold and she finds a lesson of patriotic zeal for Americans in the passionate devotion the Indians have for their new government.

The purpose of the book is to broaden the thinking of Americans on the East. The feeling is expressed that our government appropriations for relief and rehabilitation in India would possibly mean more in the long run than the money we spend for defense. Policies expressing friendship could tip the balance in favor of democracy and against communism.

India and the Awakening of the East is easy to read and very understandable. It contains 32 photographs which Mrs. Roosevelt took on her trip. People with a mind for world affairs will find this book enlightening.

KCK Features Quiz Program

Talent, variety, and a comedy quiz program were the keynotes of the assembly that was presented by Kappa Chi Kappa sorority on March 3. Dottie Lanham acted as mistress of ceremonies and quiz-mistress.

Featured in the show was a "This Is Your Life" segment in which incidents that have happened on campus were recreated and audience members were asked to identify them. Prizes were awarded for the correct answers.

"Dr. I. Q." was also present to ask questions in the audience. Another famous personality, that well-known redhead "Arthur Godfrey" was present to introduce special guest stars who produced the talent.

Vocalists who were featured were Rita Pickens, and Marita Spicer who took care of the musical part of the show. Other guest performers who displayed their talents with readings, pantomimes, and skits were Shirley Chancey, Rose Marie Rogers, Patsy Friend, Peggy Welch, Sally Zeigler, Martha White, Virginia Harris, Virginia Parsons, Barbara Burke, Mary Suck, Wyene Bush Turner, Joan Spicer, Judy Kennedy, Betty Jo Lewis, Susan Arnold, Jean Loyd, Lucille Lipps, Patty Hylbert, Patty Hall, June Drake, Barbara Given, and Doralene Bell. Accompanists for the musical numbers were Buelah Beckner and Diane Pursley.

"The fellow who talks about what a fool he used to be, certainly is an optimist!"

BULLETIN: It is regrettably announced that due to circumstances beyond their control, the marble team had to cancel last week's game which was scheduled in the confines of the student Union. However, they are happy to announce that this week's game will be played as regularly scheduled this weekend.

If there's one thing that our Pioneer basketball team believes in, it's discipline. A really fine demonstration of rugged, precise, marching was witnessed by Club Pioneer's patrons, a few nights ago. The "royal sons" went marching right along, heads rigidly held erect, and feet in perfect timing. It was enough to make the common everyday army band of marching look sick.

"Tarzan" Howard

If you've ever wondered what happens when some of the Union employee's don't show up for work, just ask Tom "Tarzan" Howard. One certain Monday night he demonstrated his great brute strength when he climbed through a window. This isn't recommended as the standard solution to every Union employee who doesn't show up, but there are times when matters just have to be taken into one's own little hands.

We Are Not

Henceforth this column will be known as the "Doggie's Hour"; but really we can't help it if dogs on this campus get into more intriguing scrapes than the students. Take the case of one "Poor Devil". Who would ever think that such an innocent little exterior could hide such a cunning little brain. She definitely knows which side her ham is buttered on. She also knows her rights, so it is to be assumed that some law students have been coaching her privately on the sly.

One evening recently, tiring of her doggie friends and their doggie food, she decided to have some real fun and go watch the humans eat. The word had reached her through the grapevine that ham was being served, and that being one of her favorite foods, she trotted jauntily right down to the dining hall. However, she found that she was not entirely welcome since she hadn't been sent a formal invitation; but she wasn't particular, and anyway the ham smelled soooo good.

She was asked quietly to leave, then coaxed, then finally threatened, but she remained firm in her stand. Finally, though, she was bribed with ham to leave, and knowing something when she sees it, she finally took her piece of ham and went. One thing about "Poor Devil," she doesn't hold any grudges and she forgave everybody who tried to have her thrown out of the dining hall.

"Doggie in the Window"

One more note on Poor Devil: Two of her favorite people on this campus are George and Janie Pease. She likes them so much she has been paying them nightly visits and occupying their couch, just to show how much she really does think of them.

My, My! It surely looks like some of the music students (females) will have to take drivers education. Those little signs that are posted along some of the streets in some cities read "one-way", and they mean that you're supposed to drive only one way. Some of the girls on the recent band trip didn't really believe the signs, so they ploved helter-skelter up a street that had one of the little yellow signs posted on it. Actually, the girl musicians thought that they were being followed so they were trying to shake their "tail". It would have been all right for them to be on a one-way street except for the unimportant little fact that they were going the wrong way.

Clark, Higgins To Aid College Day Program

Prof. H. Y. Clark and Robert Higgins will visit central West Virginia high schools throughout the month of April in connection with the College Day Program which is being continued from last fall.

These annual College Days, which were started last year, help students to choose the college for which they are best suited. It is sponsored by the High School Principals association, The College Registrars association, and The State Guidance association.

High schools and when they will be visited are: April 4, Victory high school, Bridgeport high school, and Roosevelt-Wilson high school; April 5, Washington-Irving high school and Unidus high school; April 6, Lost Creek high school and Jane Low high school.

April 7, Walkersville high school and Gassaway high school; April 8, Sand Fork high school and Troy high school; April 21, Philippi high school and Belington high school; and on April 22, they will visit Elkins and Harmon high schools.

State committee in charge of planning the college day program is made up of R. V. Brahm of the High School Principals association, L. E. Bledsoe of the College Registrars association, and C. D. Brown of the State Guidance association.

ADE Bond Drawing

Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity will begin selling chances on a $25 savings bond tomorrow, according to Olga Pashkevich, president. Students can buy one chance on the bond for 15 cents or two chances for 25 cents. The drawing will be held during the Alpha Delta Epsilon assembly on May 5. The winner may have his choice between the bond or its cash equivalent. Proceeds will go toward the Alpha Delta Epsilon scholarship.

Spencer Wins First Position At High School Drama Meet

Spencer high school won first place in the regional high-school drama festival which was held here March 15. Their presentation was "Minor Miracle". Gassaway won second place with their play, "I Shall Be Waiting." The winning play will be taken to the state finals at Morgantown on March 25, 26, and 27.

Cottage Cheese Is Good Ingredient For Main Dishes

When buying meat puts a strain on the family budget, wise homemakers turn to other protein foods that may alternate with meat for main dishes. Eloise Cofer, extension foods and nutrition specialist at West Virginia university, said here today. Cottage cheese, rich in both protein and calcium, is expected on the market in larger quantities as milk production increases from now to summer, she stressed.

Cottage cheese is quick and easy to use in a great variety of dishes from the first course to salad and dessert. Because of its bland flavor, it combines well with many different foods and seasonings. European cooks, especially in Scandinavian and Balkan countries, always have made good use of it in both hot and cold dishes. Old Dutch cheese cake or pie has been one of the famous delicacies of Pennsylvania Dutch cooking. Too often American cooks have seen this cheese only as something to dab on lettuce and serve in a salad, Dr. Cofer observed.

In using cottage cheese as a main dish, home economist of the Agricultural Extension Service suggest skillful seasoning with onion, herbs such as parsley and sage, chopped pimiento, green pepper, and celery, or tomato sauce. For added flavor and food value, use chopped nuts, peanut butter, eggs, and a little oil or fat. The cheese itself needs no cooking, only heating for hot dishes, but other ingredients with it may need some cooking. Avoid long cooking or high heat which toughens curds and may cause separation.

COTTAGE CHEESE ONION FONDUE is a delicious hot dish. To make it you'll need 6 medium-sized onions, 6 slices bread, soft butter, 1 cup cottage cheese, 3/4 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper. 1-1/2 cups milk, 3 eggs, paprika, and buttered soft bread crumbs. Peel and slice onions and cook for about 10 minutes in boiling salted water. Remove the crusts from the bread, spread with soft Butter received a rating of excellent. Wirt County received a superior rating, and Walton and Ravenswood were both rated good. The all-star cast, including two players from each cast, consisted of Sue Critchfield and Jack Carmichael from Ravenswood, Jean Mellinger and Ronald McCauley from Wirt County, Rebecca Cogar and Eddie Enoch from Gassaway, Fred Smith and Orton Jones from Spencer, and Shirley Conrad and Leslie Marks, from Walton.

Judges for the festival were Mr. Hunter Whiting, Prof. Espy Miller, and Prof. Carl Kerr. Prof. Joseph Riggs was in charge of the day's activities. Shirley Cross and Doralene Bell were co-chairmen of the festival. Rita Pickens and Wanda James were in charge of publicity, and Shirley James was in charge of the reception. Other students who were on the committee were Robert Gainer, Harley Cutlip, William Deel, Dondal Stalnaker, and Frank Holstein.

Hamon Boggs, John Shock Nominated for West Point

Two Glenville students have received nominations for appointments to West Point Military Academy. Hamon Boggs, Jr., and John Paul Shock, both sophomores, went to Washington, D. C. on February 23 to take their entrance examinations. They will be notified whether or not they have been accepted sometime during the latter part of April.

Haymon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamon Boggs, of Glenville, is a sophomore transfer from West Virginia University. He is a graduate of Glenville high school. At Glenville, Hamon is a member of the football squad and is active in the debate society.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shock of Webster Springs, is also a graduate of Glenville high school. He is a member of the Holy Roller Court and is an outstanding football player. Both students are majoring in mathematics.

Class of 1955 to be Honored With Special Mercury Issue

BY SHIRLEY JAMES

For the first time in the history of the Mercury, a special "Senior Issue" will be run this year, according to James Robinson, Mercury editor. This idea was tried last year but was never carried through because of a lack of interest and cooperation from the senior class.

The "Senior Issue" will contain such things as the class history, prophecy, last will and testament, and superlatives. It will be run sometime in May, probably the last issue of the paper. In the case that it is run as the last issue, the front page will cover the commencement exercises, as usual, and the rest of the paper will be entirely devoted to the senior class of 1955.

John Cutlip has been appointed to take over the class prophecy, and Patsy Friend is in charge of the class history. A committee consisting of Shirley James, Yvonne Hart, and George Pease is in charge of the last will and testament and the superlatives. This committee will conduct an election among the senior class to decide upon these two things. Reporters will be open to suggestions from any member of the senior class concerning this special issue of the Mercury.

Glenville Girls Win VVW Sports Day

Glenville State held up its honor, as the eight girls who participated in Sport Day at Wesleyan, Saturday, March 12, won many honors. The group, accompanied by Prof. Clarissa Williams, of the physical education department, participated in basketball, badminton, and ping pong.

The girls who attended the meeting were: Dottie Lanham, Wyene Turner, Jackie Coe, Martha White, Phyllis Given, Juanita Radcliff, and Joyce Bourn. They won the first basketball game, and lost the second one. Martha White won the ping pong tournament, and Jackie Coe was runner-up. Wyene Turner won the badminton tourney and Dottie Lanham was runner-up.

WAA girls are planning a similar program for Glenville State for Saturday, April 30.

H. Ec. Leaders in Pittsburgh

Three home economists from Glenville College attended a laundry work-shop in Pittsburgh. Professors Lillian R. Chaddock, Helen Brammer, and Elma Jean Woolter attended the workshop which was held last week. Home economists from a wide area were present at the all day meeting. The Monongahela Power Company sponsored Glenville's delegates.

The importance of laundry skills in the home was stressed and special problems relating to new soaps, detergents, and laundry equipment were discussed. Among the demonstrations and subjects for discussion were lectures on fabrics, water and washing, laundry supplies, washers and how to use them, and dryers and how to use them most effectively. A panel discussion was held on teaching home laundry, and the meeting was brought to a close with a review of the workshop.

Ford Considering

Campus-chatter seems to stamp Edsel Ford as a popular choice for some spot on the election ballot, although Ford himself is still dubious as to his own intentions. When asked by this reporter if he had any inclinations towards ascending the political soap box, Ford said that he had considered it, but he had not as yet decided definitely.

3 for President

At the time of this writing, there are only three definite candidates in the ring. All three of these hopefuls are setting their sights on the coveted presidency. These students are Edward Tekieli and James Hamrick, both veterans of the campus political campaigns. The other definite candidate is Ray Rardin, newcomer to the hand-shaking and baby-kissing occupation.

Better Response in '55

In comparison with last year's total number of committed candidates at this same date, the number is noticeably fewer for this year. At this rate, names will have to pour in at a rapid speed to produce a desirable number of candidates for a good election.

Possibly the silence on the political picture is not really indicative of the true feelings concerning the coming election. But an election with a meager amount of candidates can turn into pretty much of a cut and dried affair. Let's hope this doesn't happen in the coming Council contest.

Arbor Day, a day appointed in most states for planting trees, will be observed at Glenville College on April 2, at 2 p. m., according to committee co-chairmen Marvin Stewart and Prof. Wendell Hardway.

Thirty Hard Maple trees will be planted, one by each organization on campus, in keeping with the traditional spirit of beautifying the earth with trees.

L. R. Lynch Guest

Stewart said that stakes bearing numbers have already been placed at various spots on the campus where the trees will be planted. Each organization representative will draw to see at which stake his organization's tree will be planted. After the planting of the first demonstration tree by Lawrence R. Lynch, member of the State Board of Education, the group will disband to their designated points to plant the individual trees.

Plant Ecology Class to help

Stewart further stated that each organization should furnish a tree, a representative, and their own digging tools. He said that they should select trees from four to six feet in height. The Plant Ecology class, he stated, would be available in aiding any group to identify and select a Hard Maple if any difficulty is met along this line. Students enrolled in this class are: William Snyder, Thomas Hefner, Marvin Stewart, J. D. Breckenridge, William Lewis, Joseph Rumbach, William Rumbach, Edward Bush, Clarence Spencer, Paul Caltrider, Richard Jones, and Paul Hamilton.

Declaring that this was a campus beautification project of great value, Stewart said all organizations and clubs, including the faculty, by planting a tree each will be helping not only the college campus, but the entire town of Glenville, since the day will be observed by a civic group downtown.

Pictures Scheduled

Pictures will be taken of the group connected with the event for the purpose of publicizing the ceremony.

Although the calendar date set for Arbor Day is April 8, it will be observed at this earlier date so that the Easter vacation will not come in conflict with the program.

Higgins Heads Red Cross

A Red Cross drive started on this campus and students and faculty have been asked to contribute to the drive. Dean of men, Robert E. Higgins, has been asked to be in charge of contributions on campus. Membership is given to people who have contributed one dollar or more. Anyone wishing to make a contribution is asked to leave the money in Mr. Higgins' faculty box.

All campus organizations have voted to become members in the drive. Gilmer County has set, as a goal for the Red Cross Membership Fund Drive 1,000 members and $1,755. The contributions last year amounted to only $986 so a unified effort is being made this year to raise this figure.

"Any students wishing to contribute to this worthy cause will be most welcome," states Dean Higgins.

If a man is known by the company he keeps, is the good man bad because he keeps company with a bad man, or is a bad man good because he keeps company with the good man?

All College Production

Prof. Harold Orendorff has announced that this is an all-college production. It concerns the city of Brigadoon, which appears only once during a 100-year-period, two hunters, and the strong, true love of one of the hunters which causes the city to reappear.

Tryouts Soon

The cast includes roles for both male and female romantic leads, comedy leads, singers, dancers, character actors, electricians, stage crews, and musicians. Any student on campus may try out for a role. Professor Orendorff urges that all persons interested in participating watch the main bulletin board for notices of tryout schedules.

Students will be admitted by their activity books, as this is the last number in the series of Lyceum programs.

Class Tours Cranberry Glades

Twelve members of the Plant ecology class participated in the field to Cranberry Glades on March 13. The object of the trip was to study vegetation that grows only at higher altitudes in the United States. The type of vegetation the group was mainly concerned with, was the type that is comparable to that which is found in the New England section and southern Canada.

Students who made the trip were Marvin Stewart, William Snider, Ronald Hamilton, Clarence Spencer, William Hefner, James Brackenrich, Charles Lewis, Joseph Rumbach, Paul Caltrider, William Rumbach, Richard Jones, and Edwin Bush. They were accompanied by Dr. Max Ward.

Tennant, Poole on 2nd Quintet

Poole's 495 Points Highlight Record-Breaking Hoop Season

Rudy Poole's 495-point scoring outburst, the highest total ever registered by a Glenville freshman, was just one of the numerous new individual and team scoring marks set during the 1954-55 basketball season.

Poole's total not only exceeded the 438 points set by Jack Tennant during Jack's freshman season, but it was the third highest season total on the Glenville record book. Only Jack Tennant's 539 points in 1953, and Bob Hardman's 609 points in 1951 are better than the Poole's 1955 total.

The Lost Creek rookie established another school mark on Feb. 4, of this year when he tallied 47 points against Davis & Elkins, erasing Bob Hardman's old mark of 45, set in 1951.

Already firmly established on the Pioneer record book, "Dynamite" Jack Tennant added his name again during the past season when he scored in double figures for 22 consecutive games. The string was begun during the 1953-54 campaign and carried over into this year. Tennant's feat erased the 19 figure set by Hardman during the 1948-49 seasons.

The past season saw the Pioneers run up their highest game total ever, 118 points against Salem. In fact, prior to this season, Glenville's basketball forces had only cracked the century mark on one occasion, against Concord in 1951. This year the Gee Men hit the 100 point mark against Tech, West Liberty, Wesleyan, Salem, and Beckley.

While the Pioneers were able to score 100 points or better five of the opposition was able to hit the century figure an equal number of time against the Pioneers. Headed by Tech's record 117 point total, A-B, Salem, and Davis & Elkins all scored 100 points against the Gee Men with Tech accomplishing the feat twice.

Although the Glenville sports department failed to keep accurate rebounding records prior to last season, it seems reasonably safe to assume that the 1954-55 quintet was one of the best, if not the best rebounding units ever to represent the college.

Led by Bob Turner, Rudy Poole, and Harry Smith, the Gee Men hauled in 1,216 rebounds during the year, an overwhelming figure by anyone's standards.

Glenville's season slate of 16-9, including the Alumni game, brings their mark to 440 wins and 213 set-the Gee Men play even when they didn't have much of a team, fell just 32 points short of being the most prolific scorer in Glenville history. Despite his inability to top the astronomical mark set by the legendary Bob "Hooks" Hardman, Tennant's name is in the Pioneer record book many times, and likely to remain there for a good many years.

Probably his most outstanding mark, and the one that will remain the longest, is his 1,664 points scored in four seasons of conference play. This is better than a 100 points over the 1,552 first set by Hardman. In addition, Tennant holds the season mark for points scored in the conference with 471 in 1953.

Tennant also holds the record for consecutive games scoring in double figures when he ran up a string of 22 straight games. During the 1952-53 campaign, Jack registered 20 points or better for six straight contests, deadlocking Hardman for that record.

Jack's four-year point total was scored in 97 games, giving him a 19.1 career average, which is a lot of average even in this era of high-scoring basketball.

Sharp Presides at FTA

"Getting Acquainted with Personal Growth Leaflets" was the topic of discussion when the members of the Future Teachers of America organization met last Wednesday in the conference room of the Education department.

Robert C. Sharp was in charge of the program in which individual members made talks concerning leaflets. They discussed how they would use the leaflets in their F.T.A. or teaching work.

Taking part in the program was Anna Radabough who discussed "Prejudice;" Miss Matthews, who spoke on "The Parent's Part in Education;" Roy Cogar, whose topic was "How to Study;" and Patsy Green, discussed "How to Secure a Teaching Position."

Didja notice how everyone around here was rooting for A-B during the recent NAIA tournament at Kansas City? Everyone seemed proud of the fact that the Battlers won two straight before they lost out in the small-college world series. I wonder if the sentiment would have been the same if Morris Harvey had been the state's representative? The Eagles were the District 28 selection the past three years but couldn't produce. Didn't read much about A-B's progress at Kansas City in the Gazette, did you?

The 1954-55 quintet may be Rex Pyles' last at A-B. Several rumors have the talented Battler leader heading for other parts at the end of this school year. One report has it that Pyles is ticketed for the "Florida State coaching assignment. Eddie Cubbon, former Morris Harvey Athletic Director, is also at Florida State, and will undoubtedly put in a good word for Rex. Just another of the many instances where a Glenville alumnus makes good in the coaching ranks.

Turner, Harry Smith Accorded Honorable Mention by Coaches

Four members of Glenville's highly-successful 1954-1955 basketball team received mention on the 1955 All-WVC team released Sunday by George Springer, league statistician.

Veteran Jack Tennant and freshman find Rudy Poole led the Pioneer delegation by being named to second team berths. Tennant was a first team choice last season while Poole was an all-stater in the scholastic ranks.

Bob Turner, one of the loop's foremost rebounders, and Harry Smith, one of the few players in the state to card a 50 percent field goal percentage for the season, were accorded honorable mention on the team, picked by the conference coaches.

Smith and Tennant have climaxed their collegiate careers, but both Poole and Turner will be back to anchor the 1955-56 Glenville quintet.

The second team selections were made up of, in addition to Poole and Tennant: Tom Rutherford and Mike O'Toole of Wesleyan; Bob Seem and Pete Bezzini of Davis & Elkins; Bill Bowman and Charles Beasley of Beckley; Tom Surret, A-B; and Byron Gibson of Salem.

Babblers Top Ribblers 31-24 For Dorm Basketball Crown

By JOHN CUTLIP

Batten's "Babblers" were crowned champs of the Louis Bennett Hall basketball league last Tuesday night in a game that found the Battenmen stomping Rardin's "Ribblers" to the tune of a 31-24 score. The "Babblers" gained the right to enter the playoff by going undefeated in the first round of league play, but they were never quite able to cope with the rejuvenated "Ribblers" who slid through the second round of play on the strength of four wins against no defeats.

Calvin Strader paced the winners with eight points followed closely by Richard Stewart and Oliver Hunt with seven and six respectively. The losers were paced by Mike Ferrell and Charles Merical with seven each.

The "Ribblers" jumped off to a 7-4 first quarter lead and were able to maintain a 15-11 half-time margin. But in the third quarter the Battenmen began to pour on the heat with 10 points while limiting the "Ribblers" to five and the quarter ended with the Batten-coached team in a 21-20 command of the fracas. The final period found the "Babblers" continuing their squelching pace with 10 points while holding the befuddled Rardinmen to a mere four points.

al recognition in the coaching ranks when he led Davis & Elkins to football victories over WVU and Navy on successive week ends.

After a term at Elkins, "Crafty Cam" assumed the coaching duties at Marshall, where the "Big Green" supporters were desperately trying to get their athletics on a "big time" level. Cam did the job.

The high-water mark in Cam's Marshall career came in 1947 when his Thundering Herd quintet won the NAIA title and posted a 32-5 season mark.

There is quite a lot of speculation as to who will step into Cam's shoes at Marshall, but most of the "experts" are pointing toward Buck Jamison and Jules Rivlin, both former Thundering Herd stars under Henderson.

Haven't yet read or heard a word about our "dark horse" choice, Eddie King, presently baby-sitter for Morris Harvey's athletes. King is a Marshall grad who went out in the world and made good, and he certainly would accept the post, if offered.

Is it true that W. Va. Tech's mighty Golden Bears, the nation's highest-scoring basketball team this past season, has attempted to schedule Pitt for next year? Tech is trying desperately to go "big time" and lacks only a schedule to go along with the fine teams that they have produced in the past few

VISITORS WELCOME

Wierd, Space-Like Plant Displayed by Turner

Seemingly stepping from a page of a Buck Rogers adventure is a plant owned and cultivated by Dr. Byron J. Turner. The most startling feature of the unusual plant is the rapid rate of growth that the plant undergoes during one stage of its development. During an 11-day period the plant grew a total of 46 and three-fourths inches. It has been on display in the Science hall for the past few weeks.

Dr. Turner relates that he first acquired the amazing plant about four years ago when he was given a bulb. During the summer when the plant is in the soil, it produces a large leaf which manufactures food and stores it in the bulb.

In the fall, the leaf dies, and the bulb is stored in a cool place during the winter months. Usually in January, the stem starts to grow slowly, an average of three to four inches a week. Suddenly, without warning, the plant assumes an extremely rapid rate of growth which lasts a week or longer. Another curious feature of it is the fact that the plant, during this period, grows entirely from stored food material, without the assistance of soil or water.

A member of the arum family, the plant has been called the Black Lily of the Nile, and the Sacred Lily of India. Dr. Turner states that he has tried to trace the origin of the lily and he has found that it is a native of the Eastern Mediterranean area, probably along the semi-tropical Nile delta and in the area of Palestine. According to Dr. Turner, probably the only plants in West Virginia that belong to the same botanical family as the lily, are the Skunk Cabbage and the Jack-in-the-Pulpit. Another Black Lily is now being displayed in room 400S. It is currently reaching its rapid growth period.

Bourn is Undefeated In WAA Basketball

As basketball season nears an end, Bourn's team continues to astound spectators by racking up high scores and remaining undefeated. Bourn, again, emerged as winner over Wright's team, with a final score of 68-17. Wright, in turn, defeated Gorrell by 40-34 margin.

Joyce Bourn and Dottie Lanham were high scorers for Bourn's team, with 25 and 20 respectively. Nancy Hall led for Wright's team with 8 points.

In the second game, Milda Bailey was top scorer for Gorrell with 24 points, and Jo Ann Spicer and Nancy Hall were high scorers for Wright with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Officials for the night were Wye Turner, Jackie Coe, and Martha White.

Greenleaf's team forfeited two games, one each to Gorrell and Barker, with set scores of 2-0.

Frogs Received For Zoology Classes

Two dozen live frogs have been received by the science department which will be used by the class in Vertebrate Zoology 306 for studying live animals. The live frogs offer students the chance to study muscle action, blood circulation, heartbeat, and reflexes in a living animal.

According to Prof. A. H. Anderson, the frogs can be kept alive in a state of hibernation, without food, for about six months if they are kept refrigerated and moist. The proper temperature for keeping the frogs in a state of suspended animation is about four degrees centigrade. Professor Anderson states that about three dozen live frogs are used each year in the vertebrate zoology classes.
