600 High School Students Are Expected for Annual 'Senior Day'

Ed Tekieli Roms to Victory In SC Presidential Election

By GEORGE PEASE
Campus Political Writer

Edward Tekieli, swamping his nearest opponent by 134 votes, swept to a popular victory in the recent Student Council election and copped the office of presidency for the coming year of 1955-56.

Gaining the other posts on the Council were George Edsel Ford, vice-president; Patsy Greene, secretary; Charles Merical, treasurer; William Deel, sergeant-at-arms.

Voting for each individual candidate was as follows: president, Edward Tekieli 184, James Hamrick 50, Ray Rardin, 45; vice-president, George Edsel Ford 119, John Cutlip 110, Ronald Rokisky 36, John Lazear 22; secretary, Patsy Greene 143, Shirley Chancey 142; treasurer, Charles Merical 194, Yvonne Hart 91; sergeant-at-arms, William Deel 261.

3 Years Service

Tekieli, succeeding Marvin Stewart as Council prey, is a junior from Fairview majoring in physical education. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, the G-club, and a three-sport athlete. This office will bring his total of service on the Council to three years.

A Repeater

George Edsel Ford from Searbro set a precedent by being elected to the office which he had previously held dating from the 1950-51 election when he won over Joe Rader.

According to the Mercury files, Ford won with ease over his opponent, something which he failed to do this past election. John Cutlip, Ford's nearest opponent, needed only nine votes to tie him. Ford is a senior and a biology major. He is president of Kappa Sigma Kappa and a member of the Veterans club.

Closer Contest

Patsy Greene, by eeking out a victory over Shirley Chancey by one vote, begins her first hitch on the Council. Patsy, a sophomore from Rand, is an elementary education major. She belongs to Xi Beta Tau sorority and Student Christian association.

Merical Waltzes

Charles Merical waltzed to a victory over his female opponent Yvonne Hart. Merical hails from Charleston, and he is a freshman at Glenville, majoring in physical education. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Unanimous Choice

William Deel walked off with the sergeant-at-arms post even before the election was held. Being the only candidate for the position, Deel could be safely called a unanimous choice. A freshman from Clendenin, Deel is majoring in secondary education. He belongs to Kappa Sigma Kappa, and he appeared in the Ohningohow production "Arsenic and Old Lace."

James New SCA President

John James, a sophomore elementary major from Parkersburg, was elected president of the Student Christian association at an election held last Wednesday night. James succeeds Charles Casto who has left school.

Other officers elected for the 1955-56 school year were Patsy Greene, vice-president; Phyllis Given, secretary; Evelyn Given, treasurer; Yvonne Hart, program chairman; and Mary Louise Gillespie, reporter.

The new officers were installed in a special installation services.

290, or 49 Percent Of Student Body Vote in Election

Statistics from the recent Student Council election show that the voting was markedly lower this election than it was in last year's turn-out.

Only 290 students out of an enrollment of 593 cast votes. This makes the voting percentage 48.9, which falls way short of the 79.7 per cent cast in the 1954-55 election.

Considering that the election ran for two days last year, this year's voting does not appear so bad.

However, the drop-off in voting clearly indicates a lesser degree of enthusiasm in this election as contrasted with the previous one.

Last year's voting reached a new high for the previous six years and an all-time second place record. The only previous election to top last year's voting was the 1935 balloting. In this election, Blantz Craddock won the presidency over John Barrett with 95 percent of the student body casting votes.

Poorer turn-outs have been experienced in former elections. In the years 1948-49 and 1949-50, only 38.2 and 40.4 per cent voted respectively. Heavy voting or light voting, the selection of candidates was good for this year, and the Mercury extends congratulations and best wishes to the new Student Council.

ADE Picnic May 3

Alpha Delta Epsilon, honorary business fraternity, is holding its annual picnic on May 3 this year, according to Olga Pashkevich, president. This picnic is for members of the fraternity.

Plans are also being made by the group for a farewell party for all graduating seniors of the fraternity, Mrs. Pashkevich said. This party will be held on May 11.

8th Yearly Affair To Feature Varied Activity Program

By Connie Sams

More than 600 high school seniors and their sponsors will be welcomed to Glenville State College campus tomorrow to participate in the College's eighth annual Senior Day program. These Students will come from approximately 25 schools, representing 12 counties. The Senior Day activities began in 1948 with former Registrar Michael E. Posey as over-all director.

Tomorrow's eighth annual Senior Day program will open with a general assembly. Music will be played by the Glenville State College band while the students are gathering in the auditorium. The program will officially be opened by Registrar Arnett who will introduce Student Council President Marvin Stewart who will greet the visiting seniors.

After Stewart's welcome, scenes taken from the forthcoming presentation of the Broadway production "Brigadoon" will be presented by members of the cast. "Waitin' For My Dearie" will be sung by Mary Jean Martin, and Clarence Hamilton will present "There But For You Go I." Then Mary Jean and Clarence will blend their voices in "From This Day On."

President Harry B. Heflin will deliver the welcoming address, followed by a number of selections on the organ which will be played by Mary Faith Holbert. Announcements will be made, and guides will be introduced to direct the students on campus tours and class visitations.

Night Rehearsals Carded for MENC 'Brigadoon' Cast

Night rehearsal has begun for "Brigadoon", the Broadway musical which will be presented in the College auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 17 and 18. This production is being sponsored by the local chapter of MENC, and members of the various departments of the College are co-operating to make this an all-College production.

Work was begun to put the different parts together this week. Prior to this time, participants had practiced only by themselves or in small groups. Now with a combination rehearsal of lines, singing, and dancing, more progress has been made.

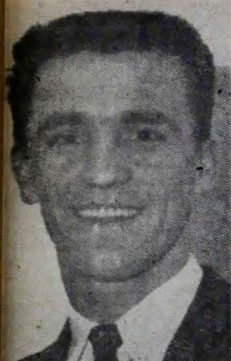

Plans have also been completed for much of the stage work, such as painting backdrops, staging, and blocking the stage. Those wishing to help as stage crew members and dancers should see Prof. Harold Orendorff or Prof. Joseph Riggs, of the music and speech departments.

This production, the last in the series of Lyceum programs, will require activity books for student admission. Tickets will be sold to others who wish to attend.

Cawthon NPPA Member

Jack Cawthon, photographer for the Mercury and yearbook, has been accepted into the National Press Photographers association. To be eligible for membership in this organization, a person must be affiliated with a recognized publication.

For the past year Jack has served as editor of the Glenville Pathfinder and recently had reprints of two of his editorials in the Charleston Gazette.

'Mercury' Senior 'Issue' Progressing

Elections have been held to determine the senior superlatives who will be featured in the Mercury's planned Senior issue. Voting was done by all the students, although only seniors were eligible to receive votes.

A senior class meeting was held last Thursday during which the seniors wrote their will. Mary Faith Holbert, senior class secretary, is writing the prophecy.

Patsy Friend, who is in charge of the class history, has done a great deal of work on it. Much progress has been made on the Mercury's Senior Issue, which will be the last issue of the paper this year.

24 Supervisors Attend Meet

"Exceptional Children" was the theme that the Central West Virginia Supervisors' Conference carried out when they met in Louis Bennett lounge April 15.

More than 24 supervisors attended the meeting in which three members gave talks regarding mentally retarded, physically handicapped and gifted children.

Highlight of the day's activities was a panel discussion on sound procedures in identifying and caring for the mentally retarded, physically handicapped and gifted children.

JOHN SHOCK

HAYMON BOGGS

John Shock, Haymon Boggs Appointed to Military Acad.

Two Glenville students, John Paul Shock and Haymon Boggs II, were recently notified that they have received appointments to West Point Military Academy. They will both enter West Point early in July.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shock, of Webster Springs. He is majoring in mathematics, a member of the Holy Roller Court, and sergeant-at-arms of the student council.

Haymon, also a mathematic major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Haymon Boggs, of Glenville. He is a transfer student from West Virginia University. At Glenville, Haymon has been active on the debate squad this year. Both students are sophomores.

Shock received his appointment from Representative Staggers while Representative Cleveland Bailey appointed Boggs. Another student, John Rohrbough, received an appointment to the Naval Academy last year.

Two Sides

As the contents of this week's Mailbox aptly testify, there are two sides to every story; and the story we are now concerned with is the vital student teaching program at Glenville State College. As college students and future teachers, it behooves us to be open-minded and fair when faced with any problem. We hope you will give this situation your utmost, unbiased consideration.

If there is one failing of the orientation program sponsored by the Education department for beginning teachers, it is that there is too much consideration for student problems and not nearly enough discussion on the multiple problems faced by the Education department. Very few students have any idea as to the complex situation that faces this department each and every day of the school year.

The mere placing of students, thought to be merely a routine task to most of us, is one of the more delicate problems involved. It has been the attempt of the Education department to place each student in the most favorable classroom situation. It is indeed an honorable objective and one that has been realized despite the limited facilities located in the immediate area.

The conference period usually deals with the problems confronted by the student teacher during his first trials as a "real" teacher. It is felt that this group discussion method of the problems of teaching benefits all. The course is mainly concerned with teaching techniques with a text as a guide. As the student teacher has innumerable problems (real or imagined) this would seem an ideal time in which to solve them. One of the objectives of the course is just that.

The grading procedure is another matter that seems to have aroused some discussion. From our observations the controversy revolves around how many times a student teacher must be observed in order to be graded efficiently. Some believe the high school teacher is more qualified because he observes the student every day.

To gain insight into this problem we asked several faculty members who we knew would approach it open-mindedly. They agreed unanimously that without a shadow of a doubt, a college supervisor regardless of the number of observations, is the most qualified person to grade a student teacher.

Their opinion is that the college supervisor usually has had much more experience in the field; he looks for teaching skills and techniques that are not as obvious to the high school teacher. The polled faculty members also reasoned that the college supervisor usually sees more student teachers in different teaching situations in ONE term, than some high school teachers see in several YEARS.

Of course, this is not meant as criticism of the high school teacher, for if there is one thing a successful student teacher needs it is a helpful high school supervisor. A great deal of the success Glenville has achieved in the teaching field can be traced to the fine work of high school supervisors in this area.

The point is that the high school teacher is best at teaching high school students; the college supervisor is best at observing college student teachers.

We firmly believe that, with a better perception of the Education department's problems, student teachers will approach their teaching period in a more healthful state of mind. Let us all try to appreciate these problems. JIM

The Mail Box

Glenville, West Virginia
April 14, 1955

The Editor
Glenville Mercury
Glenville, West Virginia

Dear Editor:
Miss Holbert's letter last week aroused a great deal of interest among the present student teachers and among those of us who have completed our directed teaching. Some of us do not agree with the opinions expressed.

The problem of grades is evidently the big conflict. The author of last week's letter stated, "I just don't think it's fair to the students who work themselves to death and do a good job and still come out with a B." In the first place, we haven't seen any funeral processions for our student teachers who have died from fatigue; in the second place, a "good job" deserves a B. This, we believe, is stated on the grading scale of our term reports.

We feel that our education department has produced a great many outstanding teachers; oddly enough, some of them have made lower than A averages while they were here. What is a letter grade? Are we going to memorize our grades so that we can quote them to our students, or are we going to teach our students subject matter? Of course, grades are important to us now, but how much bearing will an A or B have on how well we teach next year? Not much, we hope, for our grades did not surpass those of the other student teachers.

Then there is a problem of the benefits attained from conference. Nearly all of us have felt at times that it was a waste of time. Most of those times were when some of the student teachers were expounding on problems which were of little consequence to the group. We feel that some of the student teachers should use more discretion in their discussion. A supervisor can try to channel discussion; he has the decency not to tell his students to "shut up." Can we place all the blame for wasting time on our supervisors?

No, Miss Holbert does not speak for all secondary student teachers. We respect her ideas, but let her speak for herself, not for all of us. Janet Conley

Dear Ed:
I would like to know who stepped on Mary Faith Holbert's toes hard enough to warrant the letter which appeared in the April 13, edition of the "Mercury."

I know nothing of this grade cutting, so, therefore, I will say nothing to that effect.

I would, however, like to question her criticism of the "methods class called conference." It has always been said, you get out of a class only what you put into it. Miss Holbert stated that she left the class with nothing.

I see no reason for her criticizing the present policy if she doesn't have a better suggestion to offer. If she has such, I feel sure that the Education department would gladly listen to any constructive criticism she might care to present.

I believe this class offers an excellent opportunity to discuss problems encountered in directed teaching. The textbook is also a valuable asset to the class. It coincides well with many of the problems that beginning teachers must face.

I suggest Miss Holbert examine the textbook and send any suggestions for improvement to the author.

Sincerely yours,
Richard J. Tolliver

P. S. I'm sorry she didn't get an A.

Glenville's $430 Yearly Costs Include Tuition, Lodging, Fees

With a total cost of only $430.85 a year, Glenville State college is the least expensive school in West Virginia. Included in the $430.85 are $50 tuition fees, $20 activity fees, $4 course fees, $261 board costs, $99 room cost, plus $6.84 tax.

The total cost per week at Glenville, not including books, is $11.96, the total room and board cost per week is only $10 or $14.2 a day.

While the Glenville catalog approximates the cost of books at $47 a year, this would seem generous in view of the book-selling customs of Glenville students. Books are often bought as much as 50 percent less than the list price from students who have completed their course work. Also, this means a student buying a book for $5 would have little trouble selling the book after completion of the course for $3, which means he actually paid only $2 for it.

Quinn, Hart Win WAA Inaugurals

In the first softball games of the season, WAA girls made a good showing Tuesday night. Kathleen Quinn's and Yvonne Hart's teams won over Phyllis Given's and Anna Belle McHenry's teams by large margins.

In the first game, Quinn won by a 24-3 margin. Quinn's battery included Dottie Lanham and Connie Sams, and Given's battery consisted of Ada Cox and Shirley Brown. Martha White and Connie Marley officiated for this game.

In the next game, Hart's team won by a 31-7 margin. They trailed 7-6 at the end of the first inning, but got ahead immediately after that and stayed ahead. Hart's battery was made up of Joyce Bourn and Jackie Coe. McHenry's battery included Frances Cutlip and Connie Marley. Juanita Radcliff and Wynne Turner officiated at this game. Evelyn Given was scorekeeper.

15 Freshman Classes Open During Both Summer Terms

High school seniors who graduate this spring and plan to attend Glenville State College this summer may now choose from a list of 15 classes, according to Registrar Denver F. Arnett.

The first summer term will begin June 6 and end July 1, and the second term will begin on July 18 and proceed through August 20. Classes will meet five days each week during first term, and meet six days each week during the second term.

5 Schools Expected For Sat. Play Day

Approximately 60 students are expected for the sports Play day which will be held on campus Saturday, April 30. Students from Morris Harvey, Tech, Davis-Elkins, W. Va. State, and Marshall colleges have indicated that they will attend.

Guests will be lodged overnight and will be dinner guests here. Both outdoor and indoor programs have been planned. Students will compete school against school, with each school having five girl and five boy representatives.

Chairmen Dorothy Lanham and Martha White have named the following committees for the preparation of the event: name tags, June Drake, chairman; Bonnie Gorrell, Kathryn Farmer, Shirley Chancey, and Joyce Jackson; gym markers, Yvonne Hart, chairman; Jackie Coe, Bobbie Wright, Deloris Hitt, Martha Hathaway, and Patricia West; program committee, Kathleen Quinn, chairman; Wynne Turner, Juanita Radcliff.

Equipment, John Lazear, chairman; Martha White, Petty Jo Lewis; prizes, favors, Joyce Bourn, chairman; Patsy Greene, and Phyllis Given; registration, Connie Marley, chairman; Evelyn Given, and John Lazear official scorekeeper. June Drake; life guards, Jackie Coe and Steve Rohr.

Officials for the day will be: Martha White, Wynne Turner, Juanita Radcliff, Jackie Coe, Connie Mar-

May Get 12 Hours

This summer's freshmen may enter for six or 11 weeks, earning two-fifths of a year's credits by attending both terms. They may take a total number of 12 hours for both terms.

Courses which are being offered this summer are designed to appeal to high school seniors planning to enter college next September; students who wish to take additional work before entering the service; students who desire to begin work in business subjects; students who desire certain courses as part of their general cultural training; and students who desire to qualify for emergency teaching certificates. $153 for Both Terms

Enrollment and course fees for the first term are $18. Total costs for boarding students, including enrollment fees and sales tax for first term total $71.55. Cost for both terms will be $153.81.

Registrar Arnett stressed the fact that high school graduates should make application for admission as soon as possible. He also said that students may write him for further information.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

All Facilities Declared Open Today to Visiting HS Seniors

To Our Visiting Seniors:

Each year several hundred high school seniors visit the Glenville State College campus on Senior Day. Many know they wish to attend Glenville State College, others are planning to enroll in some other college, but all are interested in getting some information about a college education. Whether you plan to attend Glenville State or some other college, we are happy to have you with us today. It will be a privilege and a pleasure to provide information on the college of your choice.

There are many things of which we are proud on this campus. Outstanding among these are the quality of our student body and the friendly atmosphere provided by students and faculty. College classrooms and all other facilities are open to you during the day. Visit as many of them as you can and ask any questions you desire. Our wish is that you may have a most pleasant and profitable day on the Glenville State College campus.

Sincerely yours,

Harry B. Hefflin
President

Pioneers Trounce Fairmont, 16-8; Tekieli, Stout Star In Up-Set Win

After a dismal opening-day showing in which the Pioneers lost to Wesleyan, 18-9, Coach Ratliff's team came back strong to overtake a powerful Fairmont delegation 16-8. Playing under skies which threatened to release a downpour at any moment, the Gee men showed the home crowd some examples of what might be expected from them this season.

Mike Popp started on the mound for Glenville and went five and one-third innings before he was relieved by Paul Stout. Popp gave up nine hits and seven runs before giving way to Stout who finished the game giving up only one run on one hit and striking out five men. Popp fanned four men to bring the total strike-outs to nine for the Glenville mound staff. Stout gave a sample of the pitching he is capable of in the seventh when he faced only three men and sent them all down via the strike-out route.

Glenville's offensive power was led by Bob Tekieli who had a triple, a single, and a home run with one on. Bob Miller also had a good day at the bat as he rapped out three singles for five times at bat. Brooks Harris was the big man in the RBI department with four on two hits.

Fairmont got four runs in the second, two in the fifth, one in the sixth and one in the ninth. Glenville got one run in the second, four in the fourth, and two in the fifth. In the sixth inning they welcomed a new pitcher by scoring four runs on two hits, and again in the eighth they bombarded the third Fairmont pitcher for five runs on four hits.

Tomorrow, the pioneers will be out to avenge their opening-day loss when they entertain the Wesleyan Bobcats before an expected 700 Senior Day crowd. Last Wednesday the Bobcats humiliated the Gee Men 18-9. Glenville hasn't beaten the Methodist since 1953 when Bob Poole turned the trick, 3-1, before a large Senior Day crowd.

The Pioneers hit the road Saturday when they travel to Athens to do battle with the 1954 Conference champs, the Concord Mountain Lions. Glenville was the only team to beat the Mountain Lions last year as Joe Bradley deflated them 3-0.

Linksmen Win One, Tie Two In First Week Of Play

Ending their first week of action, Glenville Pioneer's golf team chalked up one victory, two ties, and three losses. Last Tuesday the Pioneers were tied by the Wesleyan Linksmen, 7½. Freshman Bob Hannaman was low man for Glenville with an 89. Oliver Hunt and Edsel Ford were tied for second low with 90.

Last Friday the Pioneers traveled to Fairmont where they entered a five-way match with Fairmont, West Liberty, Davis-Elkins, and West Virginia Tech. The Glenville linksmen beat Davis-Elkins but lost to the other three teams. George Edsel Ford was low man for the Pioneers with an 88.

On Saturday the Gee Men entertained the Tech golfers on the Glenville green and again the match ended in a 7½ tie. This time Oliver Hunt was low for the Pioneers with an 87.

The Pioneers will be inactive until next Wednesday when they meet Wesleyan in a return match on the Glenville green.

Members of the golf team are Oliver Hunt, Edsel Ford, Dick Barrett, Bob Hannaman, and Gail Lydick.

Debate Season Ends Friday and Saturday

Highlight of the debate season comes this Friday and Saturday when Glenville's debate team enters the West Virginia Intercollegiate Debate tournament at Fairmont State college, according to Prof. Joseph H. Riggs, debate coach. This tournament marks the end of the debate season.

Also a part of this event, two Glenville students will enter the speaking contests which are being held. One contest is being held in extemporaneous speaking; the other is being held in oratory.

Debaters representing Glenville college at the tournament are Shirley James and Haymon Boggs, affirmative, and Yvonne Hart and John Mullins, negative. These debaters have seen action in three tournaments this year.

Charles Merial will enter the oratory contest. Glenville's representative in the extemporaneous speaking contest will be Thomas Hefner.

Sophomores Sweep 17th Class Tournament; Bob Turner, Joyce Bourne Lead Champions

Debaters Visit Concord

Four of Glenville's debaters went to Concord college last Saturday for a three-way debate meet. The third group of debaters was from Bluefield State college. The debate teams had lunch together, then had two rounds of non-decision debating.

Glenville's representatives at the meet were Shirley James and Haymon Boggs, affirmative; and Mary Baker and Yvonne Hart, negative. Prof. Joseph H. Riggs accompanied the group to Concord.

Frosh, Soph Elections

Freshman class election will be held next Wednesday, May 4, at 1:45 P. M. in the auditorium. Junior class election will be Tuesday, May 13, at the same time and also in the auditorium. Sophomores have not set their election date as yet.

SUMMER BULLETINS READY

Registrar Denver Arnett has announced that the 1955 summer bulletins are out and students may acquire them from his office. Approximately 1,800 of these bulletins have been mailed out, according to Arnett.

Led by rangy Bob "Dunker" Turner, voted the tourney's "most valuable player" award, the Sophomore men ran roughshod over the Seniors in the finals to annex the 17th annual Class Tournament championship.

Joyce Bourne, voted "most valuable" in the female division, paced her Sophomore quintet to a lopsided win over the Seniors in the women's final to make it a clean sweep for the Class of '58.

Displaying a precision fast-breaking style of play that must have had Coach Stopp's eyes shining, the Sophomore men broke out to a huge first-period lead that decided the game right there and then against the undermanned Seniors. With Al Reich carrying the ball on the break, the Soph's two high-scoring forwards, Bill Reit and John Estep had a field day.

The Sophomores reached the finals by way of a thrilling two-point win over an inspired Freshman quintet that nearly pulled the tourney's biggest upset. The Seniors by-passed the Juniors in the semifinals.

The defeat was a disappointing one for the Seniors who have entered the finals every year since they came on campus in 1951. But, as has been the case for the last three seasons, they fell short when the blue chips were on the line.

Harry Smith, Senior center, was the lone repeater from the 1954 All-Tourney team. In addition to Smith and Turner, Rudy Poole, John Estep, and Danny Hall were named to the honorary team. Hall was an "all" selection two seasons ago when he won the MVP award as a member of a winning Freshman five.

Speaker at ACET Meet

Prof. Epsy Miller will give a discussion and demonstration on "sound seminars" when the West Virginia Association of College English teachers meets on April 29-30 at Jackson's Mill. According to Prof. Carl A. Kerr, chairman of the program committee, plans for the program for the committee are complete.

Dr. Leland Schubert of Madison college in Virginia, has been chosen to be the guest speaker. Several teachers from West Virginia colleges will address the group. Among the speakers who will take part in the program will be Dr. Kollsen and Dr. T. J. Brawner of West Virginia University.

Frosh May Apply For Scholarships

Several scholarships are available to students who wish to attend Glenville next year, among them five West Virginia Board of Education scholarships for elementary teachers.

Included in these five scholarships will be the cost of tuition and all fees. Each of the five will be for a four-year period or as long as the student maintains a satisfactory grade average and remains in good standing at the college. Students receiving these scholarships are pledged to teach four years in the elementary schools of West Virginia.

In addition, two scholarships will award amounts to meet the particular needs of the applicants and the number of persons applying for them. These include the Lynn S. Horner Scholarship fund, and The Frank J. and H. C. Zogg scholarships.

Other scholarships which will pay tuition are the Kanawha Union bank of Glenville, which will award five scholarships, one to each Gilmer County high school; O. T. Law will present a graduate of Troy high school with one; Glenville Women's club will sponsor an award to a graduate of Glenville high school; and the Glenville Civic club will do the same; Glenville Rotary club will present a Gilmer county high school with a scholarship.

Added to these awards is a scholarship by the Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity, presented to an outstanding high school senior who wants to further his business education.

Applications should be made before May 1; names of those selected will be announced sometime in May. There also may be other scholarships available for next year, according to Prof. Pearl Pickens, dean of women.

Martin Speaker at IRC Meet

Dr. Charles C. Martin was the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the International Relations club, according to club president Dale Hunt.

An interpretation of Adlai Stevenson's recent major speech by Dr. Martin, and a discussion of the Far East situation highlighted the meeting.

Guests at the meeting were Janet Ault, Donald Whipkey, Randall Bragg, Richard Jones, and Olen Fisher.

President Hunt said that anyone interested in the 1955-56 program of the club may contact him to discuss becoming a member. He said the next meeting of the club would be tonight, and anyone may attend.
