Business Education Meet In Session Here Today

By ROSE GWINN

Alpha Delta Epsilon, business fraternity, will sponsor an all-day business education conference today, with sessions being held in Room 107, Science, until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Madeline S. Strony, national education consultant for Gregg Publishing division of the McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc., will work with the group, to help them improve their teaching of business subjects.

The visiting consultant has taught business subjects on all levels—high school, business schools, colleges, and universities, adult evening classes, and reporting courses. In addition to being a teacher, she has been a secretary, personnel director, and a consultant to many large business houses on in-service training programs.

Co-Author of Textbooks

Mrs. Strony is the co-author of "The Secretary At Work," textbook on secretarial procedures, and the co-author of "The Road to Secretarial Success," a top-level book for those who wish to be executive secretaries and administrative assistants. She has written hundreds of articles for the stenographer, business teacher, and training supervisor.

In addition to her educational work with schools, and business clinics, Mrs. Strony has appeared on a number of the National Office Management association programs.

Council Will Lead Panel Discussion at Walton School

Glenville's Student council will visit Walton high school on Oct. 25 to present a panel discussion on conducting student government associations.

Ed Tekiel will act as chairman of the panel, with all the council members giving talks on various aspects of student government. The panel members will discuss the value of a student governing board and its work.

Recently, the council purchased a pioneer uniform for use in the annual Homecoming festivities.

At the request of John Cutlip, members of the council voted to accept the telephone charges for calling in final scores of games played abroad.

Members of the council are: Ed Tekiel, president; Edsel Ford, vice-president; Patsy Greene, secretary; Yvonne Hart, treasurer; Bill Deel, sergeant-at-arms; Bob Weaver, senior representative; Dave Posey, junior representative; Rex Reeder, sophomore representative; and Bernard Heflin, freshman representative.

Student teachers Kay Mullins and Kent Duffield assisted with the Burnsville and Sutton high school bands, respectively, when these organizations were two of the attractions of the Homecoming parade.

New Regulation Says, 'No C Average—No Car!'

In the belief that a student who failed to make a "C" average needs to devote as much time as possible to his studies, the Administrative council has enacted the following regulations: "A student who did not maintain a "C" average for the preceding semester may not keep a car on campus while living in the dormitory."

This regulation applies only to dormitory residents since non-dormitory residents may need their automobiles for transportation to the campus and to restaurants. This regulation became effective Sept. 12.

'Who's Who' Election Set

An all-college election will be held in the Union tomorrow, Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the purpose of choosing eight students from Glenville State college for membership in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Ten seniors and six juniors have been chosen for consideration for this honor.

"Who's Who" is an annual national publication which has been in existence since 1935. This publication contains biographies of out-

Group Names Patsy Greene As Future Teacher of Year

By CONNIE SAMS

Patsy Ruth Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Greene, Jr., of Rand, has been notified by Phares E. Reeder, executive secretary of the West Virginia Education Association, that she has been selected by that organization as the Future Teacher of the Year.

Miss Greene, a junior elementary major, was entered in the annual contest by the H. Y. Clark Chapter of F.T.A. at Glenville State College, with the assistance of Prof. Jewell Matthews, sponsor, and F.T.A. president, Anna Rada-baugh. This is the first time in the college's history that such an honor has been bestowed on one of its students. The letter informing the active co-ed on the honor read, in part, "... In the position of the Future Teacher of the Year, you symbolize the best that is to be found in all the other fine young people who are training to become teachers. You have chosen a most worthy profession and we are sure that you in turn will be a worthy member of that profession."

On Oct. 27, Miss Greene will be an honored platform guest at the W.V.E.A. convention in Clarksburg where she will be presented with the award as the Future Teacher of the Year.

A graduate of Dupont high school, Miss Greene is a member of the H. Y. Clark Chapter of F.T.A., Xi Beta Tau sorority, Women's Athletic association, Student Christian association, and she is secretary of Student Council.

Roger McAvoy Will Assume Registrar's Duties Next Month

Roger McAvoy will assume the duties as registrar of Glenville State College, Nov. 1, announces Pres. Harry B. Heflin, following approval given by State Board of Education for the appointment.

A native of Grafton, Mr. McAvoy has been serving as assistant director of admissions and Veterans administration at Marshall college. He previously taught two and a half years at Petersburg high school and he obtained his A.B. and M.A. degrees from West Virginia University.

The new registrar is a bachelor and in Glenville he will live in the Presbyterian manse with the Rev. Robert Gay.

Menagerie Is In Rehearsal

Two freshmen, a sophomore, and a junior will comprise the cast for the Ohningohow Players' fall production, "The Glass Menagerie," by Tennessee Williams, according to Prof. William Coleman, director.

Rita Pickens, a junior from Weston, was chosen for the part of Amanda Wingfield. Miss Pickens is a speech major and an English minor. She had parts in the two musicals "Finian's Rainbow" and "Brigadoon" and was stage manager for the organization's production last year. Miss Pickens is a member of the Ohningohow Players and Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity.

Robert Gainer, a sophomore who is majoring in social studies and speech, is to have the role of Tom. Gainer, who is from Clendenin, is president of Ohningohow Players and a member of Alpha Psi Omega. He did the part of Jonathan in "Arsenic and Old Lace" last year and also had a role in "Brigadoon."

Has Role of Laura

Rebecca Cogar, one of the two freshmen cast, is from Gassaway. Miss Cogar is majoring in elementary education. She took part in several dramatic productions during her high school career, and will do the part of Laura.

Jackie Coe, of Parkersburg, was elected president of the Pioneer 4-H club at meeting of that organization last week.

Other officers chosen by the 4-H club are as follows: Barbara Blackhurst, vice-president; Ada Cox, secretary; Barbara Taylor, treasurer; and Shirley Brown, reporter.

Tentative plans were made to sponsor a mix and vespers. Members discussed ways and means by which assistance might be given 4-H activities in Gilmer county.

Harold "Wild Kitty" Wilson led the 22nd annual Homecoming parade down main street last Saturday morning while throngs of spectators lined the streets to view the procession, consisting of floats submitted by organizations both on campus and off.

Bands participating in the parade were Sutton high school, Burnsville high school, Gilmer county, and Glenville State College band.

Students in Education Class Indicate Acceptance of Integration in Schools

By JOYCE JACKSON

Fifty percent of the students participating in an Education 101 survey on the "Till Kidnapping Case" expressed themselves on being in favor of integration of Negroes and whites in schools and in the government.

This survey originated out of daily discussions which were conducted in the education classes of Prof. George Howard. Centering around the effect that newspapers have upon the minds of children and adults, these discussions evoked many conflicting opinions.

When one student introduced the "Till Case" into the discussion Professor Howard suggested that it might be interesting to find how other students felt about the case.

Students Devise Questionnaire
A questionnaire was devised and presented to Mr. Howard's two education classes by Herbert L. Profit, social studies major from Spencer; Robert L. Summers, physical education major from Parkersburg; and Joyce Jackson, math major from Weston.

Following is a list of questions presented to the students: Have you followed the "Wolf Whistle" murder case? Do you think the men are guilty of the alleged slaying? Do you think the men would have been convicted if a trial had been held in the North? Would you want your children to attend school with children of other races, including Negroes? Do you think Negroes should serve in high government positions? Have you ever lived or worked with Negroes?

Many Followed Murder Trial

Out of the 66 students answering the questions, 48 had followed the case. This indicates that about 73 percent of the students in the education classes are reading newspapers.

Highlighting the survey results was the fact that 37 per cent of the students who had not followed the case thought the men were guilty of the crime.

A trend toward liberalism was shown in that 55 per cent of the people who have lived or worked with Negroes were in favor of integration within the schools and in the government, and 40 percent of the students who have not lived and worked with Negroes were in favor of this integration.

Concerning the work of the class and the survey, Professor Howard

Were the Freshmen Right?

Freshmen rules were discontinued Oct. 10 after being in effect only three weeks. For the first time in the history of our College, we found students who actually rebelled against the rules. Whether this feeling of rebellion was expressed verbally or otherwise, the student council and faculty are much concerned with the problem which has been presented.

The students who assume a negative attitude toward the observation of these freshmen rules may have a sound basis for their argument. However, the rules have been a part of our college for many years. Should the class of 1959 be the first to attempt to establish new conventions?

Glenville State College has won state-wide recognition for its friendly atmosphere, and an important factor in the creation of that attribute has been the indoctrination of each freshman class. Once a student begins speaking to everyone he meets, it is rather difficult to break that habit, particularly so the upperclassmen still speak. Therefore, friendliness becomes a habit, and we would keep it so.

On the other hand, what masculine gentleman or shapeless female wants to dress in short frilly dresses or "sloppy" overalls merely because he forgot to speak or broke some other rule?

Whether or not the attitude taken by this freshmen class be justifiable, we should be loyal to our College and uphold the reputation which has been established for us. We can't afford, at this time when enrollment is steadily increasing to let such traditions down. We must work to help establish new traditions, so, above all, let's keep Glenville State the FRIENDLY school.—Yvonne Hart

We Want Art; We'll Get Art

Although we take pride in the appearance of our college, it is still good to pause and to take stock frequently. In one of these pauses, it was noticed that original paintings and accurate reproductions are, sadly but truly, almost nonexistent on the GSC campus.

Let us look, for example, at the halls of the administration building. True, there are a few reproductions hanging there, but they are quite old and none is in color. Although they may have been admired 50 years ago, few people notice them at all now. Visitors would hardly stop to admire any of these pictures, however worthy they may be.

Louis Bennett lounge also could be greatly improved with the addition of some paintings. In the lounge, there are positively no reproductions or original paintings. Two or three paintings would certainly improve both the appearance and the atmosphere of the lounge.

As to solving this problem which we have presented, we recommend that some organization or organizations contribute to a fund for improving the cultural climate of the college. We have had paintings from traveling art exhibits in the library but many students and nearly all visitors miss these exhibits. We suggest that the lounge be used for some of the exhibits and that more of them be held.

These exhibits could be paid for, as mentioned before, by a fund ran on a donation basis or by money from the student council reserve fund.

It is obvious that, so far as the cultural aspect is concerned, this mecca of enlightenment is sadly lacking in art objects. We feel that the atmosphere of the college could be improved by the addition of works of art, either original paintings or acceptable reproductions. We are not suggesting that ours is a perfect solution, however, we are suggesting that there needs to be an effort made toward a solution of some kind.—Shirley James.

Sorority Simmerings

By BARBARA JOHNSON

Kappa Chi Kappa

Kappa Chi Kappa sorority elected Wyene Turner sergeant at arms and Sally Ziegler as chaplain. They replace JoAnn Spicer and Peggy Weiselt. Susan Arnold was appointed acting secretary for the first term in the absence of Beulah Beckner.

A committee of Shirley Chaney and Bernadine Gregory was appointed to check membership requirements.

Xi Beta Tau

Xi Beta Tau sorority held a party in Louis Bennett lounge last week in honor of former members of the sorority.

Members of the sorority voted to buy gifts for five members who were married during the summer.

A discussion was held concerning the possibility of dormitories, but nothing definite was decided.

Physical Science Classes Visit Nearby Coal Mine

A lesson on augering and strip mining was given to members of the physical science classes recently when they visited a coal mine at Lynch Run.

Students accompanied by Prof. John Wagner, observed the coal as it was being mined by the R & H coal company of Glenville.

The augering process, a method of taking coal out of a hillside by

Frat Pledges Taking Test

Fraternity pledge periods for this semester are already underway. Each of the three fraternities on campus has its separate rules for pledges.

Kappa Sigma Kappa has a pledge period of four weeks. Pledges must maintain a C average. Such duties as learning the organization's history, learning the Greek alphabet, and learning the fraternity songs are required of all pledges.

Sigma Tau Gamma limits its pledge period to three weeks. This fraternity is known for its serenades during pledging. In addition to the serenades, all pledges must wear the Greek letters which abbreviate the fraternity name across their forehead.

Holy Roller Court

Holy Roller Court pledge period lasts only two weeks. During this time, pledges must carry paddles and are required to stay in Glenville for the two weeks. The end of the Court's first semester pledge period comes on the night of the Homecoming dance.

Eleven men are going through the Kappa Sigma pledging. They are Orton Jones, Trent Busch, Edsel Chancey, Jack Campbell, Pete Casto, William Lowe, William Jones, Dorsey Scott, Dennis Bull, Carl Holbert Jr., and Herman Bookjans.

Pledges of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity are Stanley Pickens, William Wilson, Hubert Taylor, Tony Schuman, and John Taggart.

Joseph Arbogast Is Elected MENC Head

The local chapter of Music Educators' National Association has been organized with Joseph Arbogast as president; Curtis Fleschman, vice president; Alice McCullough, secretary; and Jack Kaufman, treasurer.

Activities for this year include: December, the annual Messiah; second semester, a dance; a spring musical; the regional band festival; and an assembly program. The group sponsored a dance Sept. 24 in the old gymnasium.

Members of the organization include: Glenda Elack, Dolores Black, Alpha Coberly, David Arbogast, Fred Batten, Junior Boyles, Tom Howard, Tom Reed, Kent Duffield, Kay Mullins, Doris Marks, Gene Elmore, Norman Stone, Jean Martin, and Janet Thompson.

Pledges for this fall are: Jerry Lee Harbour, Beverly Clark, Ruby Elder, Mary Dyer, Lyla Jean Stump, Mary Jane Cleavenger, and Stanley Pickens.

Attending the queen were: Lois Fisher, senior princess, escorted by Bob Weaver; Eida Utterback, junior princess, escorted by Bill Wright; Barbara Royce, sophomore princess, escorted by Rex Reeder; and Pat White, freshman princess, escorted by Bill Lowe.

Miss Arnold was escorted by Edsel Ford during the coronation festivities. Miss Kathy Orendorff served as crown bearer for the queen, and John Lazear was the Pioneer. During the half-time ceremonies of the Homecoming game, Jack Tennant's uncle Arthur Emmons, received the Montrose award in honor of his nephew who could not be present. Dr. Harry Heflin introduced Mrs. Teresa Montrose, donor of the award, and presented the award to Mr. Emmons.

Other half-time activities were provided by the Gilmer county band and the Glenville State College band.

Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity won the first prize in float competition with the Women's Athletic Association receiving second place.

Faculty Members Attend Liberal Arts Conference

Salem college was the scene of the sixth annual Allegheny Regional conference on Liberal Arts Education, Oct. 9 and 10, where Glenville State College was represented by President Harry B. Heflin, who attended Monday. Professors Bessie B. Bell, George Howard, Jerry Hodges, and John White attended Sunday.

President Heflin was chairman of the group which discussed liberal arts in the professions. Conference discussions were centered on three primary issues: Place of religion in education, liberal arts in business, and liberal arts in the professions. Guest speakers appeared at various times in the program to emphasize certain phases of discussion topics.

College Faculty Enjoys Initial Party of Year

Members of the college faculty held their first party of the year last night in Louis Bennett lounge from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The group participated in an evening of informal entertainment after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Delmer Somerville, Mrs. Stanley Hall, Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Anderson, Miss Julia Nutter, Miss Pearl Pickens, and Miss Jewell Matthews served on the planning committee.

Kindergarten Parents Club Stages Initial Meeting

"What The Kindergarten Will Mean to Your Child" was the topic of discussion when the Kindergarten parents club had its first meeting of the year, according to Prof. Jewell Matthews.

A moving picture entitled "What Your Child's Fear Means" was shown to the parents and an election of officers was conducted, after which a light refreshment course was served.

Officers who were elected to carry on the club's activities are: John White, president; Mrs. Max Ward, vice-president; and Mrs. Oral Cunningham, secretary. The newly formed club plans to meet on the third Tuesday in each month.

Wells, Howard Attend Conference

Prof. Nelson Wells and George Howard represented Glenville State College at a conference of the West Virginia Association for supervision and curriculum development (ASCD) in Ripley, last week where curriculum directors and supervisors from all over the state assembled for a two-day meeting.

While the two education instructors were attending the conference, they heard guest speaker, Dr. Arthur W. Foshay, director bureau of educational research of Ohio State University. Dr. Foshay's topic was "Action Research—An Approach to Curriculum Development." Rodney Tillman, associate secretary for ASCD of Washington, D. C., also attended the meeting.

Colleges represented from West Virginia included Concord, Marshall, Fairmont, West Virginia University, and Glenville. Out-of-state colleges were also represented. Those attending the meeting were county superintendents and assistant superintendents, curriculum directors, and supervisors, and members of the state board of education.

Reta Vannoy Participates In Elkins Forest Festival

Reta Jo Vannoy, freshman from Stumptown, participated in the forest festival at Elkins last Friday. Reta, maid-of-honor from Gilmer county at the strawberry festival this past summer, rode on a float entered by the strawberry association at the forest festival. She was one of nine maids-of-honor of central West Virginia.

Reta, a home economics major, is a graduate of Normantown high school, where she was a cheerleader for five years. She is a member of the Mercury staff and was recently elected cheerleader.

LELAND BYRD

Byrd Assumes Coaching Role

Coach Leland Byrd, a native of Rich, Ky., has assumed the basketball coaching duties at Glenville State College replacing Coach George Stopp. He is the fourth coach in as many years to take the helm of the basketball machine.

Coach Byrd undoubtedly has had one of the most illustrious careers as a player of any former coach at Glenville. His playing days began at Matoka high school where he is graduated in 1944. In high school he played under his father, who was the coach.

Enrolling at West Virginia University in the fall of 1944, he was named in the starting lineup by coach Johnny Brinkley and he never relinquished that starting berth during his four-year tenure as an undergraduate on the Gold and Blue campus.

Played Under Patton
His last three years of college were played under the coaching of the well-known Lee Patton, during his junior year he was named on the All-American team. Upon graduation, Coach Byrd entered the armed forces where he served as a lieutenant in the Infantry. He was discharged in 1950, and was recalled six months later to serve during the Korean campaign from 1950 to 1952.

After final release from the army, he returned to the West Virginia University campus where he received his M.S. degree in physical education in 1953.

He then served two years as basketball coach at Hinton high school last summer was hired as basketball coach and instructor of health and physical education here. He has also completed some work toward a doctorate degree.

Loop Practice Began Monday

According to Leland Byrd, head basketball coach, the Pioneer basketball forces began light conditioning work-outs on Monday of this week. Coach Byrd stated that he wouldn't be many formal practice sessions until after the start of the current football season. Coach Byrd stated that there are several good freshmen prospects along with returning regulars, including Poole, Bob Turner, Bob Weaver, Al Reich, and reserve men Reynolds, John Estep, Ed Tekieli, and Dave Posey.

GEE MEN GET SWEET VICTORY

A highly determined Glenville Pioneer football aggregation completely outclassed a hapless Davis-Elkins squad in notching their first victory of the season, a 25-6 bout played at Elkins Saturday night.

The winless Senators were not able to find the key to Glenville's fortunes as the Pioneers racked up their first win since they put the wraps on Salem 13-0 on October 30, 1954.

Showing steady improvement as the season rolled on, the Pioneers racked the Senators for touchdowns in the first, third, and fourth stanzas. The Gee Men's defensive actions almost completely pulverized the big but feeble D-E line as the Senators could pick up only 45 yards rushing and nine on passing.

Stanley Scores
Doc Stanley opened the scoring for Glenville late in the first period when he scooted across the goal line from 10 yards out. Hanford set up the scoring play by scampering 39 yards to his own 13. Holder moved the ball to the 10 from where Stanley outdistanced all men as he (Continued on page 4)

Ed Tekieli and Mike Popp, seniors at Glenville State College, have been named co-captains of the Pioneer football team of 1955. Both men are playing in their fourth season as lettermen on the Pioneer eleven, Tekieli at right end and Popp at the left guard. Both men played high school football at Fairview under the direction of Coach Bill Reppert.

Tekieli, a 6 foot 2 inch, 195-pound end, is president of the Student Council, a member of the "G" Club, Kappa Sigma Kappa social fraternity, and the Alpha Delta Epsilon honorary business fraternity. Ed was named to the first team of the WVVC honorary selections last fall. He has also lettered four years on the basketball and baseball squads.

Popp, a 5 foot 10 inch, 206-pound guard, is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa and the "G" Club. Mike is married to the former Miss Gail Boggs and is the father of one child. He is also a pitcher on the Pioneer baseball nine.

Tekieli and Popp represent two of the big reasons why Glenville hasn't been tromped any worse than they have this season. With many inexperienced men on the team, these two seniors have had to assume a major role in stopping the offensive attacks of the opposing teams. Tekieli has come up with some spectacular defensive play and there has never been an end who has looked better than he in the Glenville-Fairmont game. Popp is a 60-minute performer and is a nominee for the mythical all-conference eleven where he was placed on the honorable mention last season.

Six Teams Vie For Volleyball Title In MAA Flag Race

According to Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff there are six teams entered in the MAA volleyball league. At the time of this writing there have been two games played with three teams notched in a first place tie.

Dopsters predict that Bill Reiff's "Romperers" is the team to beat with such seasoned and well-tutored players as Bill Jones, Ralph Holder, Don Schoonmaker, Richard Stewart, and Bob Weaver composing the lineup.

A close contender for the crown is David Shield's "Shielders" who has in the lineup such outstanding players as Dave Sullivan, Randy Allen, Bob Nuzum, Paul Webb, Harlan Tustin, Ed Buck, and Bob Buck.

Stiff Opposition Seen
Other teams that will provide plenty of stiff opposition are Edsel Chancey's "Challengers," Everett Mason's "Maulers," and Danny Vento's "Vaulters." The "Challengers" have such key men as Steve Cooper, David Mace, Fred Batten, Orton Jones, Charles Cole, Gary Sumpter, and Jon Hayes.

The "Maulers" can depend upon such strong men as John Kennedy, Jim Small, Ray Rardin, Bill Grass, Hugh Taylor, Jim Hannaman, Marshall Johnson, Lanty Rose, Claude White, and Nolan Skinner. The "Vaulters" pinned their flag hopes in Pickens, Mackey, Brannon, Holmes, Miller, Harper, and Higgenbotham.

The MAA flag race at a glance:

	W	L
Reiff's "Romperers"	2	0
Shield's "Shielders"	2	0
Butcher's "Buttlers"	2	0
Chancey's "Challengers"	0	2
Mason's "Maulers"	0	2
Vento's "Vaulters"	0	2

Although Glenville State College lost the homecoming tilt, 13-0, to a powerful Concord eleven, Glenville fans were much encouraged by the spirited play of the Pioneers who showed vast improvement over the previous Saturday's play.

Concord, with an enrollment of 200 more students than OSC, won their second contest in four starts while the Pioneers have yet to notch a win in the 1955 season.

Gee Men received the opening kickoff with Holder returning the ball to the 29-yard marker. The Pioneers gave the near capacity crowd a thrill as they completely outclassed the Mountain Lions in moving the pigskin to the 10-yard line in five plays. But the Concordians gathered their forces and forced the Gee Men to give up the ball on downs on their own four-yard line.

Murinen continued to dominate the play in the first quarter when they limited the enemy forces to a total of 16 yards. The second quarter was much the same story with Holder, Armstrong, and Hanford keeping the ball well in Concord territory.

Again Tekieli, Jolley, Popp, Whipkey, and company limited the Lion rushers to 13 yards while Kelley intercepted a pass and Armstrong recovered a fumble to stop aerial thrusts by the visitors.

Prof. Orendorff Will Speak At Music Conference

Prof. Harold Orendorff, of the college music department, will speak at the Parkersburg Regional West Virginia Educator's association convention tomorrow on the subject, "Schools Take a Look at Their Total Music Program." He will also speak at Clarksburg concerning junior high music programs on a 12-year plan.

Music professors, Bertha Olsen, Henry Fasthoff, and Harold Orendorff will attend a meeting of the West Virginia Music Educator's association Monday, Oct. 24, at Institute. These, among other state music meetings, have been scheduled for this month.

Professors Fasthoff and Orendorff attended the annual fall bandmaster's meeting held recently at South Charleston.

New surplus musical instruments are now available in the music room. Among these are a Martin sousaphone, a tuba, a Comby-Betty clarinet, a violin, and a new bass drum.

Coronet films have been shown during the past week concerning brasses, percussion, strings, woodwinds, and other types of musical instruments, according to Prof. Orendorff.

Band Members Added

Three new students, Frances Sanford, Carolyn Miller, and Pat Christian have been added to the Glenville State College band, according to Prof. Henry Fasthoff, of the college music department. These girls, all freshmen, are clarinet players.

Professor Fasthoff states that he would be glad if others, interested would join the marching band.

A planning committee has been organized. This committee consists of those students who plan to become band directors. The committee meets once each week, and at the present time is made up of 12 students. Purpose of this group is to plan for football shows, and to help students prepare for their vocation.

Next show planned for the band will be a Halloween football show for the Salem-Glenville game at Weston on Saturday, Oct. 29. This will be a night game.

the faltering Senator line, evaded three secondary men, and romped 53 yards to pay dirt.

Late in the third canto, the rejuvenated Senators marched to Glenville's one yard line only to be checked by the churning Glenville defense. In trying to get out of the danger zone, Tekieli got off a bad punt and the determined Senators took over on the 15. On fourth trial, the ball was moved to the one where Dick Kushay jumped it across. On the extra-point try, Jim Small broke through the Senator's defending wall to smack down a place-kick attempt.

Holder Gets Second

After an exchange of downs in the fourth period, Glenville gained control of the ball on the Senator's 27. Again on the first play, Holder ploughed through D-E's line and went all the way to notch his fourth 6-pointer of the season. Glenville's only successful extra point attempt followed Hanford's TD when Holder hit Ed Tekieli in the end zone for the bonus point.

First downs favored Glenville, 12-5. The Pioneers also picked up 275 yards rushing to 45 for D-E and 57 through the air compared with the Senators' nine yards.

If there were any stars to be picked from the aggressive Glenville team, first considerations would go to Hanford, who picked up 124 yards on four tries, Holder, who had 110 yards rushing and passed for 57 more, Tekieli, Jolley, and Whipkey, whose defensive play completely demoralized the Senators, and McMillon who took three passes from Holder for 57 yards.

Group Names Kerr Program Chairman

Professor Carl A. Kerr, of the College English department, has been chosen chairman of the program committee of West Virginia association of College English Teachers. Prof. Pearl Pickens, also of the College English department, is treasurer of the WYACET.

This organization meets twice each year, in the spring and in the fall. The fall meeting will be held Oct. 28 and 29 at Jackson's Mill. The main address of the meeting will be given by Dr. Merrill Patterson, dean of Marietta college. The major part of this program will include a workshop concerning the evaluation and correction of freshman composition.

Pioneers Lose

neers went into a slump and that was all the Mountain Lions needed to notch their second conference win against one setback. The Athens eleven took the second half kickoff and moved the ball in the 35-yard line.

Sparked by a substitute back, Tom Hawkins, the Concordians moved the ball to the Pioneers' 41 where, on the eighth play of the second half, Hawkins crashed through the right side of the line and went all the way for the first score. William Bingham's place kick was good and the Mountain Lions led, 7-0.

On the ensuing kickoff, Holder fumbled on Glenville's 22 yard line and Landon Morehead recovered for the opposition. Three plays later Bill Turner spotted Bingham in the end zone for the final score of the game.

In the fourth frame, the White Wave came back to life when it picked up six first downs and moved the ball to Concord's one yard line only to lose it on a fourth down, an incomplete Holder to Tekieli pass.

Next Saturday night the Pioneers will invade Buckhannon where they will battle with the improved Bobcats. Last year the Gee Men ran up their highest score of the season when they trampled the Methodists 27-12, on the local field.

The game will pit Glenville's leading ground gainer, Ralph Holder, against Wesleyan's ace back, Cvetnik.

Also to be seen in action will be two leading candidates for all-conference ends in the personages of Ed Tekieli, Glenville, and Elmer Houdashelt of Wesleyan.

25 FTA Chapters Will Attend Annual Meeting October 25

Future Teachers club of Glenville State College, along with the Gilmer County Classroom Teachers association, will be co-host to the 25 central West Virginia high school FTA chapters on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at the fifth annual Future Teachers conference.

Dr. Eddie Kennedy, former professor here, now director of elementary education at West Virginia University, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "The Teacher's Dream."

Dr. Harry B. Heflin, president of Glenville State College, will welcome the group and the Gilmer county CTA will serve doughnuts and coffee to the visitors as they enroll.

Members of the various high school chapters will discuss their hobbies and effective projects and programs they have sponsored during the past year. John Cutlip, senior, will lead the group in folk games after lunch in the Old Gym.

the other freshman cast. White, who is taking a single curriculum with a field in mathematics, was chosen for the role of the gentleman caller.

Shirley James, senior in English and speech, has been appointed assistant director of the show. Miss James, president of Alpha Psi Omega and a member of the Omega Players, appeared in "Arsenic and Old Lace" last year. She has also done crew work for other dramatic productions here.

Play Was Produced in 1945

"The Glass Menagerie," first produced in 1945, is an unusual play in that it presents an effect of illusion. The four characters who appear in the play are Tom, the narrator, and also the son; Amanda, the mother; Laura, the daughter who is slightly crippled; and Jim, the gentleman caller. Amanda, who was quite popular when she was young, is always striving to have young men call on her daughter, Laura. Tom, who wants to write poetry, finally brings a friend of his home for dinner.

The title of the play comes from the small glass animals which Laura collects and which create her own dream world. "The Glass Menagerie" is a serious drama, the first to be given here since 1954.
