ROTC Glee Club To Give Concert

An evening of musical entertainment will be presented Tuesday, Nov. 15, when the Glenville State College lyceum committee brings the widely acclaimed ROTC Glee club of West Virginia State college to the local auditorium.

Under the direction of Dr. P. A. Williams, the vocal organization has a distinct arrangement that characterizes each number on the varied program. The color in the music stands out with the rendition of romantic, folk, comedy and spiritual songs, along with dramatic skits.

Students Vote On New Union

The fate of Glenville's proposed new student union was put on the block this past Monday when the student body went to the polls to voice their opinions through balloting. At press time, the results of the all-important election were not known.

Preceding the actual voting, a meeting was staged in the auditorium with President Harry Heflin explaining in detail all that the new center will provide—if built.

Included in the facilities that are planned: individual mail boxes, two lounges, office space for the alumni association, student council and manager of the union; two sound proof listening rooms; a snack bar, and a general purpose room. The latter, which will have a 15-foot ceiling, will be used for college dances, mixes and the like.

President Heflin also answered questions put forth by students attending the pre-election meeting. According to him, construction on the union will start—if all goes well—this spring and will take approximately one year to complete.

As for the financing, bonds will be sold with the students paying them off by paying a student union fee of $2.50 a semester. President Heflin pointed out that this fee would be used for the student union only.

150 ATTEND FTA CONFAB

"Teaching is serious, but also humorous—each balances the other," stated Dr. Eddie Kennedy, director of elementary education at West Virginia University, when he addressed the regional conference of the Future Teachers of America at their annual meeting on the college campus last week.

Approximately 150 high school and college students attended the all day affair representing the high schools of Glenville, Spencer, Walkersville, Grantsville, and Weston. West Virginia University and Glenville State College were also represented.

Group Meetings Held

Opening the day's activities was a get-acquainted time after which

Girls, Hills, Books—What Attracts 'Em

Whether it's the West Virginia hills or the mountain lassies that attract the out-of-state students, all of which are men, is a question that is yet to be answered.

Ten students representing four states, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Virginia are enrolled here this semester. The Bronx, New York City, is the home of two students, Stanley Adelsburg and Allen Reich, while Herman Bookjans, is from Rhineback, N.Y.

Indiana's only representative is Norman Stone of Bloomington.

Williams Plays Role

Dr. Williams adds richness and maturity to the program with his contribution of the voice of Abraham Lincoln in the "Portrait of the Great Emancipator."

Raymond Brady, St. Louis, Mo., in his excellent role as the chief narrator in a skit called "The Slave" from "John Brown's Body" by Stephen Vincent Benet, has been highly praised by critics for his flawless diction and interpretation.

James Lipscomb, Jr., Institute, whose singing of "When Day is Done" is one of the highlights of the program and Lynn Carter, Fairmont, in the song "I Believe," has beauty and understanding of exceptional calibre.

South Is Satirized

A feature of the program is "Sister Bessie's Funeral," a travesty on old southern customs narrated by Donald Cardwell, Bluefield. This presentation gives a flashback to a ceremonial of yesteryear.

These special features have been referred to in reviews as contributions of zest and spice to the program of the ROTC Glee club.

H. Davye Randolph, Tampa, Fla., is the accompanist.

English Instructors Will Convene At West Virginia State

West Virginia State college will be the scene of a regional meeting of English instructors Saturday, Nov. 5, beginning at 9:30 a. m. This meeting will include both college and high school teachers of English.

English Professors Carl A. Kerr, Esby Miller, and Jerry W. Hodges will represent Glenville State College at the meeting.

Professor Miller will take part in a panel discussion on the subject, "What Shall Comprise the Reading Program from Grades 7 to 13?" Dr. Alfred Markdwart, University of Michigan, will be the major speaker.

Student Opinion Is Divided In Poll on Dormitory Food

By Joyce Jackson

While THE MERCURY does not hope to end for once and for all any and all public or private controversy about the food situation in the college dining hall, the editors do believe that discussion of some of the pros and cons of the meals served the students is a healthy circumstance.

Any student or official discussion of the food situation at Glenville State College must be seen in the light of the total cost to the student, a figure which is at present less than one dollar per day for food.

In undertaking a sampling of student opinion concerning the present state of the food situation in the college dining hall, the editors of THE MERCURY are prompted to report that a small cross section does not represent all student opinion. No such claim is made here.

PROF. WILLIAM COLEMAN

'Menagerie Is' Challenge for New Director

Professor William Coleman chose "The Glass Menagerie" as his first play to be produced here because it was one of the first to arouse his interest in the theater.

Since reading "Menagerie" for the first time in 1946, Coleman has read the play several times and has seen it given at least six times. Coleman, who is a playwright, says he has been an admirer of Tennessee Williams since first became aware of Williams' plays.

Although his directing is basically the method originated by Stanislavsky, Coleman says that it is actually a composite of several theories of acting and directing. Fundamentally, it is based on ideas of "to" and "from." Coleman also uses the theory of images in his directing. This means that the actors, strive to back everything they say with a mental picture. Another thing which Coleman expects members of the cast to acquire is a sense of truth, or realism.

Coleman Is Author

Besides being a director and teacher, Coleman has also found time to write several plays. He has had one one-act play, "Found, An Author," published in "The Playshop Magazine." Among his plays, two three-act plays and 10 one-act plays have been produced by college and university groups, and one play produced on radio. He has also written and directed several educational television programs for station WQED in Pittsburgh.

Gals Will Chase Men, Nov. 12

All single males are likely to be not so single on Nov. 12, date set for the ninth annual Sadie Hawkins Day. Marryin' Sam will be on hand to "marry up" all the trapped males to the gals who are lucky enough to catch one.

Sponsored by the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, Sadie Hawkins Day has been an annual event on campus since 1947. Edsel Ford, fraternity president, announces that the day's activities will begin promptly at 1:15 p.m.

Other activities for the day will be: greasy pole climb, back hand race, log sawing contest, three-legged race for girls, egg throwing contest, three-legged race for boys, sack race, corn shelling contest, wheel barrow race, turnip eating contest, and a monkey back race.

Hawkins Race Follows

The final attraction of the afternoon will be the "Sadie Hawkins" race, giving the girls a real opportunity to catch their man. Marryin' Sam, Bill Deel, will be on hand to "hitch up" the men who are slow on their feet.

The "Skunk Holler Stomp" will follow that evening in the old gym. It will be conducted in traditional Dogpatch style.

Reigning over the festivities will be Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Selection of these characters will be made by balloting in the Student Union.

Dogpatch Officials Preside

Other dignitaries taking part in the festivities will be: Mayor of Dogpatch, Pappy Yokum, Available Jones, Hairless Joe, Indian Joe, Ole Man Mose, Cousin Weakeys, Earthquake McGoon, Eddie McSkunk, the Skunk Works, Inc., the Scrappy Boys, and the Skunk Holler Boys.

Serving as chairmen of the activities are: Don Schoonmaker, Ronald Rokisky, and Alan Reich.

Vocal Groups Are Started

A new girls' trio and a men's glee club have been formed on campus within the past few weeks, according to Dr. Harold S. Orendorff, of the College music department.

The trio consists of Doris Short, Ruby Elder, and Janet Thompson. They will appear at the Farm Women's meeting Friday, Nov. 4, at Glenville.

Made up of approximately 25 voices, the men's glee club holds rehearsals on Thursdays from 8-9 p.m. The group includes four first tenors, five second tenors, seven baritones, and nine basses.

Quartet Organized

The men's quartet, consisting of Robert Gainer, Joseph Arbogast, David Arbogast, and Tom Reed, appeared last Tuesday night at the North Central regional student council meeting at the Recreation Center.

College choir appeared at the Central West Virginia supervisor's conference in Louis Bennett lounge. The choir will also be a part of an assembly Nov. 10, scheduled during National Education Week.

Talent Show Emcee Named

Plans for the forthcoming Veterans Club Talent show have been shifted into high gear, according to Commander John Lazear, with the judges and master of ceremonies already selected and entries beginning to come in daily.

Robert P. Miller, sergeant-at-arms, has been named to emcee the annual program slated Nov. 22, and will be assisted by Robert W. Miller, freshman. Judges for the competition will be Dr. Charles Martin and Prof. George Howard, with a third judge to be selected in the near future.

Talent already secured includes Pat Starkey, Kate Trimble, and Eunice Smith, who will stage a comedy skit; and Beverly Clark will probably be in the "lineup" as organist.

Students wishing to compete for the cash prizes and Chesterfield cigarettes, which will be awarded to the three best acts, are requested to contact any member of the Veterans club or place their name and act in a box located in the Student Union.

Tickets for the show will be sold at the door on the night of the performance only, and will be priced at 25 cents.

Students Awarded 55 Scholarships To Glenville State

Scholarships have been awarded to 55 different students or approximately 10 per cent of the total enrollment this year. These scholarships range in amount from $37 to $300.

Scholarships were given by the following: West Virginia Board of Education; Kanawha Union Bank, Glenville; Glenville Civic club; Anonymous; O. T. Law, Clarksburg; Alpha Delta Epsilon; William McKinley I.O.O.F. Lodge, Richwood.

Dr. Ligon Price; Traders Trust & Banking Co., Spencer; Calhoun County Bank; R. B. Store, Glenville; Clay CTA; Lynn S. Hornor, Clarksburg; George Miller, Tanner; Farmers Building & Loan association Ravenswood; Burnsville Lions club; Nicholas County Teachers association.

Elizabeth Lions club; W. Va. Dept. of Vocational Rehabilitation; W. Va. Dept. of Veterans Affairs; Roane County Future Teachers of America; Calhoun County Insurance agency, Grantsville; Glenville Woman's club.

Professor Whiting Goes To Midwest

Prof. Hunter Whiting, former Glenville instructor for 39 years and a graduate of the class of 1903, left Sunday for Evanston, Ill., where he will visit his nephew, Fred Madison Whiting, alumnus, who is a professor of radio and television at Northwestern university.

From Evanston, Whiting will go to Madison, Wis., where he plans to visit Dr. Paul M. Fulcher, professor of English at the University of Wisconsin. After Thanksgiving, the former English instructor will go to Coral Gables, Fla., to spend the winter.

Improvement Indicated

Improvement is always an asset to any institution. This rule holds true for our college.

The plans for the proposed student union and dining-hall indicate improvement. Monday the students were given the privilege of voting for the new union. Whether they approved the plans or not is an indication of the progressiveness of our student body.

A fee of $5 a year is little to pay for an addition such as the administration has planned. At $5 a year, even for those of us who are freshmen, the total could be no more than $20 during our college career. Surely, each student on this campus should feel free to approve such a minor expenditure as this.

For those of us who are juniors and seniors, there is the question of why we should vote for an improvement from which we will gain little or no benefit. As we have said before, any improvement is an asset. Surely we should feel some obligation to the college from which we are to be graduated. And remember, seniors, you are not going to be assessed for the union. You are merely voting for those students who are still in high-school who will attend Glenville State college. What do you think they would want?

An addition of this type will add value to the college. As we see it now, either the students vote for, and get, a more modern and more efficient student union or refuse to vote for a new one and get a union worse than the present one.

An idea which may have caused some negative thinking concerning the plan is that, during the building period, there will be no adequate place to hold dances and there will be only a makeshift union. To this, we would answer that anything as wonderful as the proposed union is certainly worth waiting for, and, as Dr. Hefflin said, "You cannot get something for nothing." Progress is worth the price we have to pay for it.—Shirley James

Three Cheers for Tekieli!

There is a student on campus, who, we believe, is to be highly commended for outstanding service to his college. This young man is Student Council President Edward Tekieli. Both his name and his fact, no doubt, are familiar to you, as he is a busy person and is engaged in many activities.

As if being president of the student body were not a big job, Tekieli also is quite active in football, basketball, and baseball. Certainly, Tekieli does not have much time for complete relaxation, since he has so many duties to perform.

Some have been heard to remark that they do not see how "Tek" can do so much, but these students may have failed to notice that here is an unusual, intelligent, and energetic student.

Seldom a day passes that the council president is not seen in the offices of the deans, president, or registrar taking care of some last-minute detail that has been overlooked. Never, though, is he so busy that he doesn't have time to stop and talk. He also is quite eager to make new friends.

Most students consider being an athlete or good student quite sufficient for a young man's college career, and we believe this to be true. However, when one is such a good natural leader, he should be allowed to exercise his talents. As long as extra-curricular activities do not interfere with studies; then we believe they are commendable.

Edward Tekieli is a good all-around student, athlete, leader, and person. It is quite evident that he is highly respected, both by upperclassmen and freshmen. One of our freshmen was overheard to remark, as he noticed Tekieli's name on the Dean's list: "I don't see how he makes a 'B' average with all of those activities." He is co-captain of the football team, a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, G-club, and Alpha Delta Epsilon, national business fraternity.

Here is a young man who is going places fast—and he knows where he's going!—Yvonne Hart

Staff Sets Plans For '56 Annual

Lay-out plans for the 1956 Kanawhachen are well underway, according to yearbook editor Shirley James. The annual will again contain 108 pages and will cover spring events, including commencement.

Letters asking each organization on campus to plan its own page for the annual have been given to the presidents. The staff has also begun getting lists of each senior's college activities. These lists should be given to any member of the staff before Dec. 1.

Three Members Added

Three additional members to the yearbook staff have been appointed. They are Patricia Snyder, Mary Helen Plunkett, and Carina Simons Hitt.

A subscription drive, which will be held at the beginning of the second term, is being planned by business manager Edsel Ford.

Editor James urges any member of the student body who has suggestions for the improvement of the Kanawhachen to give the suggestion to her as soon as possible.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA—Pledges entertained old members by putting on a show. Plans for Sadie Hawkins day were discussed. Plans are being made for forthcoming basketball games with other Kappa Sigma chapters in the state. A discussion was held concerning the raffling of a radio on Sadie Hawkins day (Nov. 12). An election for L'il Abner and Daisy Mae will be held, but no definite date has been set for this. Congratulations for being Pioneer were offered to John Lazear in the usual manner. Pledges were congratulated on the new KSK sign on the hill. All pledges and old members will let their beards grow for Sadie Hawkins day.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA—Joe Arbogast presided at the meeting. A discussion on the probability of a Thanksgiving turkey raffle to be held downtown followed. No definite date was set for the pledge's initiation, but it will possibly be held in November.

HOLY ROLLER COURT—Judge Don Hamon presided. A discussion was held concerning a forthcoming swim meet (an annual event) and a fun night. No definite date was set for this. Pins and jackets can be ordered. Styles and colors of these jackets were also discussed.

Dr. Harry B. Hefflin welcomed the visiting students and teachers to the campus. Sponsors of the various F.T.A. groups represented were introduced and Dr. Kennedy addressed the group with "The Teacher's Dream." College home economics department presented a style show, which included clothes that the future teacher will be wearing. Terminating the morning program were group meetings.

After lunch in the old gymnasium, the group was taken on a campus tour.

A panel which discussed "Hobbies Make Teachers Interesting People," was led with Prof. Nelson Wells acting as moderator. Those on the panel were Ada Straw, Weston, Beverly Cain, Grantsville; and Professors Jewell Matthews and George Howard, Glenville.

Group chairmen reported on important factors that had been taken up in the various group discussions. An evaluation of the meeting by Anna Radabaugh, president of

NOTICE FROM MISS PICKENS

Because applications for rooms in the girls' dormitories are coming in rapidly, any girl who wishes to reserve a room for next year should pay her reservation fee right away. This notice was released by Miss Pearl Pickens, dean of women.

Prof. Julia Nutter Is Art President

Professor Julia A. Nutter has been appointed as a representative to the Eastern Arts association by the West Virginia Art Educational association. Miss Nutter is president of the state art association.

Among Miss Nutter's duties as a representative will be assisting with the convention to be held in March at the Hotel Commodore in New York.

Although the West Virginia art group has only recently become affiliated with the Eastern Arts Association, Miss Nutter has been a member of the latter organization for six years.

Xi Beta Tau—The meeting was held at the home of Prof. Julia Nutter, adviser of the organization. The sorority made final plans to sell hot dogs in Kanawha and Verona Mapel halls on Wednesday nights. Refreshments were served to the group, and plans were made to hold the next meeting as a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Floyd Miller, honorary member and patroness.

Kappa Chi Kappa—President Patty Hall was in charge of the meeting. Final plans were made concerning the sale of hot dogs in Louis Bennett hall and committees were appointed to sell them. Girls will prepare the hot dogs, and a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity will deliver them to the boy's dorm. Pledging plans were discussed.

"Menagerie Is"

Coleman's plays are a variety of comedy, tragedy, verse, and experimental, and he admits that he prefers writing experimental plays. Coleman, who has had experience in Little Theater, summer stock, high school, college, and university drama, says that his style of direction changes with each show. He has done a great deal of work with arena-theater and is using arena theories on "Menagerie."

About "Menagerie," Coleman says that it is symbolic of some of our own human quandaries, and that, if the play does have faults, the fault lies in the fact that the play tries to treat too many of the human problems.

Orendorff and Olsen attended this year's meeting, and invited the group to meet here next year. Professor Olsen is chairman of the membership committee of this organization. Dr. Orendorff, past secretary and past chairman, is now a board member of the organization.

Dr. Orendorff is looking for a sound engineer, who knows recording technique, and something about sound and high-fidelity. He cannot be a music student, and he must be free on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 2-3 p.m., and on Thursdays from 8-9 p.m. The purpose of this endeavor is to record all rehearsals of a vocal nature.

VMH 'Pop Up' Proves 'Flop Up' for Gay Coeds

Popcorn had never tasted so good to the girls in Verona Mapel hall as it did the night before Mrs. Keim closed the dormitory kitchen. Hungry for popcorn, just any kind, (the big kernels of the midget ones), the girls of all three floors declared a "pop-it-up" night and stove burners celebrated the rare occasion for two solid hours of straight popcorn popping.

The only weakness in the popping activities was that a clean-up committee had not been appointed, so when the girls started marching back to their rooms after all the grains had been popped, Mrs. Keim marched right to the kitchen door and locked it, indefinitely.

VMH girls have learned that if there is no "clean-up" there will be no "pop-up."

Education Classes Hear Two Speakers

Members of the business education department heard two speakers recently. Captain James Rehfs, of the Pittsburgh Procurement Office for Marines, spoke to the salesmanship class. Captain Rehfs pointed out the advantages of enlistment over the draft.

Last week Prof. Nelson Wells talked to the special methods class in business education. Professor Wells answered questions concerning the directed teaching program.

Student Opinion

Mary Jane Kuhl—Generally speaking, I do not like it. I think it could be improved by having fresher bread, and more variety in the food.

Bill Lowe—I don't exactly like the meals, but they are pretty good for the price.

Betty Cogar—I like the food. It is really good considering the amount that has to be fixed. However, I think too many vegetables are mixed together.

Carolee Singleton—I don't like it, but I don't know if it could be improved. You can't please everyone. Beverly McComis—It is fair. It could be improved, but not considering the amount that students pay.

Students Want Variety

Other students made such suggestions as different salads, more dessert and more seasoning. Many of these suggestions were made with the reservation that an excessive sum is not paid for the meals.

From the comments of these and other students, it can be assumed that although improvement in the food is desired, many realize that the best food is provided for the amount of board paid.

Prof. George Howard attended the session on the teaching of reading while attending the West Virginia Education Association Regional meeting in Parkersburg last week.

Four Senior Football Players End Playing Careers Saturday

By JOHN CUTLIP

Saturday's Glenville-West Liberty football game marks the end of the season for the Glenville Pioneers. For some members of the senior squad, it'll be a day of rejoicing for it means that no longer will they have to walk across the river, don the practice uniform, and additition themselves two hours a day for the exhibition on the following Saturday.

But the day will be viewed with some misgivings by four members of the team. These men—Ed Tekieli, Mike Popp, Bernard Jolley, and Ralph Holder—will be playing in their last college football game.

Tekieli Leads Team in Spirit
"Iron Man" Ed Tekieli has been constant and moving spirit on the Pioneer football squad for the past five years and on the Fairview high school eleven before then. Ed is a consistent performer and never gives an inch to an opponent, no matter how big or small.

Perhaps Tekieli's biggest year in football came last season when he led the conference in pass receiving and was named to the all-conference team. This season he has been a defensive stand-out, playing much of his defensive call in the opponent's backfield.

Mike Popp lettered his freshman year but it was not until the following year that he was noted for outstanding performance in the hard position. As a reward for his stellar performance on the 1954 squad, Mike was given honorable mention on the all-conference sections.

Jolley Played Service Ball
Bernard Jolley enshrined himself in a Blue and White uniform as a freshman in 1950 and for the next three years was a stellar performer on the Pioneer eleven under coaching of Mike Josephs.

Upon completion of his junior year, Jolley entered the service where he played ball for two years before returning to the Pioneer football wars for the last time this year.

After being out of football action for three years, Ralph Holder has summed the ball totting duties for the Gee Men this year. Ralph is a spectacular performer and is feared by all Glenville opponents.

These four men have played well through out the season and one can be sure they will put their all in Saturday's contest—the last of their football careers.

Mack Winner In WAA Play

By JOYCE JACKSON

A hard fighting aerial dart team captained by Iris Mack put on a brilliant rally in ringing up their first victory of the season, defeating Carolee Singleton's favored team by a score of 40-22.

An insufficient number of players got the losers off to a bad start at the beginning of the game. Lagging behind the entire time, Singleton was never really in the running.

Despite the fact that the birds have lost nearly all their feathers, Ada Cox and Juanita Radcliff led their teams in a nip and tuck battle.

Radcliff, boasting an undefeated team, squeezed by Cox in the last half to win 36-24.

Blackhurst Beats White
Slow play and high scores characterized the volleyball front. Barbara Blackhurst, undefeated thus far, ran roughshod over Pat White, who has yet to taste victory, to pile up a total score of 46-17.

Beverly McComis led a well organized seven to a crushing victory over Yvonne Hart. It was McComis all the way, as the game ended 40-13.

Two well-matched teams met in the only close game of the evening. McComis, an underdog, nearly upset a strong team captained by Jackie Coe. McComis led at the end of the first half, but the team lost its stride during the last period to lose 31-20. Coe's team, consisting of many seasoned veterans, played a brilliant game, in keeping with their usual outstanding performances.

Radcliff Leads Race
Radcliff leads in the race for aerial dart honors boasting a record of four wins against no losses. In second position is Cox who has a split record of two wins and two losses. Singleton and Mack are tied for the third slot each having one win and three losses.

A vigorous battle is being waged for the volleyball crown, with Blackhurst, holding a record of four wins and no defeats. She leads Coe by a narrow margin. McComis holds down third position with three wins and two losses. Hart and White are split in the race for tail positions, with four losses and no wins.

REIT TAKES OVER FIRST PLACE IN MAA VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

Reit's "Romperers" took over undisputed possession of first place in MAA volleyball play by edging out Shield's "Shielders" in the fourth round of play. The "Romperers" have now won four straight contests over Vento's "Vaulters", Mason's "Maulers", Butcher's "Butlers", and the most recent win coming over previously unbeaten Shield's "Shielders."

Another feature of MAA action last week was the addition of a seventh team, Gray's "Growlers." Gray's team is made up principally of freshmen and sophomores. The line up consists of George Gray, Tom Schell, Mike Ferrell, Kenny Wright, Paul Hughes, Don Hammond, Ray Rardin, and Delmo Hayhurst.

Maulers Get First Win

Other league action found the "Butlers" rebounding from their loss of the previous week to trounce the "Maulers". In a second game of the evening the "Maulers" won their first game of the season by downing the new team, Gray's "Growlers".

Chancey's "Challengers" won their second game of the season at the expense of winless Vento's "Vaulters."

Hilltoppers Hit Glenville For Final Game Saturday

A strong West Liberty Hilltopper eleven invades the local field Saturday for the last game of the season for the Glenville Pioneers. The game will mark the fifteenth renewal of the football series between the two state schools.

West Liberty always sports a strong team and this year is no exception. Their 1-3-1 record doesn't bear out the strength of the team for they have lost all three games by a total of only eight points.

The Hilltoppers started the season with a 13-13 tie with St. Vincent, lost 12-6 to a strong Wayneburg team the following week, and then came back strong to stomp Salem, 42-6. Then they followed with two one point losses—14-13 to Tech and 20-19 to Concord.

Hilltoppers Hold Jinx
The Northern Panhandle eleven seems to hold a kind of jinx over the Pioneers for the Gee Men haven't taken the measure of a Glenville-West Liberty contest since 1933 when they turned the trick, 20-0.

Since this is the last game of the season, the Glenville forces are expected to turn in a top performance. In 1953 the Pioneers fought the Hilltoppers down to the wire before giving up a 6-0 contest in a blinding snow storm before a small crowd of chilled home fans.

Last year the Murrimen traveled to Wheeling where they were turned down, 19-0, by the host Hilltoppers.

Glenville has won three, tied four, and lost eight to the West Liberty eleven since the series began in 1924.

Sports leaders are Bonnie Gorrell, aerial darts, and Shirley Brown, volleyball. Officials for the game are: Mary Lee Foster, Emilie Sizemore, Mida Bailey, Pat West, Mary Francis Burke, Patty Bonnett, and Virginia Horner.

ODDS & ENDS

During the first half of Saturday's game, Glenville's cheering and enthusiasm was the best that it has been all season. A nice activity for Friday night, previous to the Glenville-West Liberty clash, would be a snake dance and a pep rally over at the field. There is still a large pile of wood over there that would make a great bonfire.

The last time that West Liberty invaded Rohnrough field they brought two inches of snow along. Let's hope nothing so chilling as that develops this week.

Is there a doctor in the crowd? The Glenville Pioneers would like to know a cure for fumbleitis. The dreaded disease has struck 24 times this season and 16 times the opposing forces have taken the ball when the Pioneers were having these attacks.

It's A Fact
All of the games which Glenville has lost; the margin of defeat has been two touchdowns, with the exception of the Shepherd game which was three six pointers.

All of Salem's touchdowns were set up by breaks suffered by Glenville. The first was an intercepted pass, the second a recovered fumble, the third a blocked kick, and the fourth a recovered fumble.

Something unknown to most GSC fans is the fact that on the entire roster there are only three men who have three or more years experience of collegiate ball. There are eight players who have had one year of experience as substitutes.

Fumbling will not win ball games, a fact which the Glenville Pioneers are sadly finding true. In the last two contests, both of which Glenville should have won, the Pioneers have lost the ball on fumbles a total of nine times. And the opposition has turned four of these fumbles into touchdowns.

In the Glenville-Salem clash Saturday night Glenville took the opening kickoff and moved it to the 31 yard line. Ralph Holder and Leonard Hanford romped through and around the Salem line for 15 yards and a first down, and it appeared as if the Pioneers were in for a comparatively easy game.

Salem Organizes Defense

But the Tigers took time-out and organized their forces into a stone wall which threw Glenville for a 4-yard loss in the next three plays, thus forcing the ball to be given up on downs.

The Glenville forward wall, led by Mike Popp, Bernard Jolley, and Ed Tekieli, stopped the Salem march dead and the Gee Men took over on their own 27 yard marker. Coach Nick Murin's forces began a devastating march as Holder and Stanley carried the ball and Lawrence Reed passed to Tekieli for 35 and McMillon for 11.

Picking up four first downs, the Pioneers moved to the three yard (Continued on page 4)

Butes. The rest of the men on the roster are all first year men.

Casto Stars Again

The Verona Maple Hall football league has seen much action in the past few days. In Saturday's scrimmage session Pete Casto starred as he romped off two touchdowns and passed for another.

Area Supervisors Conference Presents School Problems

Highlighting the Central West Virginia Supervisors Conference, which was conducted on the Glenville State College campus yesterday, was a discussion of problems that confront present day junior high schools by Miss Blenda Proudfoot of the State Department of Education.

President Harry B. Hefflin greeted the group at 10 a.m. and Prof. Harold S. Orendorff led the conference in singing.

Curriculum Is Topic

The morning's program also included a discussion on curriculum (building in grades seven, eight, and nine, which was led by Prof. Ralph Cunningham of Concord College.

After lunch the group again assembled in Louis Bennett Lounge where music was led by Miss Eugenia Adams, supervisor of music in Lewis county schools, and the College choir presented a program of musical selections.

Panel Discusses Needs

Next on the agenda was a panel discussion, "Meeting the Needs of Pupils in Grades, Seven, Eight and Nine." Participating on the panel were: Edgell Dean, principal of Richwood high school; Harold Proudfoot, superintendent of Clay county schools; Fred Coffindaffer, assistant state supervisor of instruction; Mrs. LaVaughn Wolderston, teacher from West Union; and Dean Delmar K. Somerville, Glenville State College.

A complete summary of important factors of the meeting was presented to the supervisors by H. Cliff Hamilton, state supervisor of instruction.

line where it was first down and goal to go. The Tigers clawed in and held the Pioneers for two downs but Holder finally found the opening and squeezed into the end zone to put Glenville ahead, 6-0.

Burkhart Rolls Again

After an exchange of downs in the second quarter, Bob Burkhart intercepted Reed's pass and moved it to Glenville's 32 yard line from where they took it to the 17 in four plays. Then the passing combination of Bob Burkhart to Ron Burkhart came to life and the Salem lads completed a 17-yard pass play for a TD. Jim Hartbarger's place kick was good and Salem led at half-time, 7-0.

Salem took the second half kickoff and moved it to their own 26 yard line. But on the first play, the Tiger's claws were dislodged and John Estep recovered the fumble for Glenville. The Pioneers proceeded to fumble on the first play with Salem recovering the ball on their own 26.

Following a 17-yard march, the Tigers were forced to kick and Glenville took over on their own 12. Again on the first play, the hapless Pioneers fumbled and Salem recovered. After picking up two yards, a Burkhart to Burkhart pass was completed for the second touchdown. Hartbarger's attempted conversion was good and Salem took a commanding 14-0 lead.

Glenville Fumbles Again

Glenville took the ensuing kickoff and moved the ball to the 18 where they were held by a burly Salem line. On attempting to kick out of danger, Tekiel's punt was blocked and Salem took over on the 12.

It took them three plays and a Glenville penalty to move the ball to the one foot line where Bob Burkhart sneaked it across. The third quarter ended with Salem leading, 20-0.

The fourth quarter opened with Salem recovering another Glenville fumble on Glenville's 34 yard line.

1-yard line on the running of Stanley, Holder, and Leasburg. On fourth trial, Holder's stab into the Tigers' line was pronounced a TD. Estep's conversion was good and Salem's lead was narrowed to 14 points.

Playing the last few minutes of the game in torrents of rain, the Glenville players marched almost at will against the Tigers but time ran out before they were able to reach pay dirt.

First downs favored Glenville, 12-8. Salem held an edge in the passing department, 65-46, but the Pioneers were tops in rushing with 160 yards compared to Salem's 112.

College Orchestra Composed Of Twenty-five Students

Twenty-five students are enrolled in the College orchestra this semester, according to Prof. Bertha Olsen, of the College music department. This group meets each Monday and Wednesday at 3:10 p.m.

Professor Olsen has stated that the orchestra is used as a workshop at the present time, for student conducting. This also enables students to participate in ensemble playing, thus giving them practice for future work.

A new violin has been purchased for the orchestra. The group will appear publicly during the year, but no definite date has been set.

Four running and passing plays plus a Glenville penalty moved the ball to the one yard line where Bob Burkhart again went through to score. Hartbarger's conversion was good and Salem increased their lead, 27-0.

Attend Session In Clarksburg

"Good Schools Are Good Business" served as the convention theme when the last of the four regional West Virginia Education conferences was conducted in Clarksburg last Thursday and Friday.

Dean Delmer K. Somerville represented the administration of Glenville State College and Prof. Espy Miller served as the faculty representative at the association's 91st annual convention.

Other meetings have been held throughout the state this month in Parkersburg, Huntington, and Martinsburg.

Other instructors who attended the Clarksburg meeting from Glenville college include Dr. James Gay Jones, and Profs. Lillian Chadock, Elma Jean Woofter, Frieda Kube, Jewell Matthews, Pearl Pickens, Bessie B. Bell, Julia Nutter, Virginia West, George Howard, Espy Miller, Carl Kerr, Nicholas Murin, and Nelson Wells.

Miss Patsy Ruth Greene, W.V.E.A. future teacher of the year and a Glenville College student, was introduced to the convention on Thursday night.

Profs Have Active Roles During Meet At Jackson's Mill

Professors Pearl Pickens and Carl A. Kerr, of the College English department, had active roles at the meeting of the W. Va. Association of College English teachers, held at Jackson's Mill Oct. 28-29. Miss Pickens served as treasurer, and Kerr was the program chairman of the association.

Other members of the College English department who attended the meeting were: Profs. Virginia West, William S. Coleman, Jerry W. Hodges, and Espy Miller.

Dr. Merrill Patterson, dean of Marietta college, gave the principal address. The major part of the program included a workshop concerning the evaluation and correction of freshmen composition.

Dean Delmer K. Somerville attended a meeting of the planning committee of the Attendance Officers workshop in Charleston last Monday.

Second payment of room and board in the amount of $91.80 will be due and payable on or before Monday, Nov. 7, 1955.
