Dogpatch Dignitaries Will Arrive Here Saturday

Lyceum Card Will Feature ROTC Glee Club, Tuesday

West Virginia State college's ROTC Glee Club has released its program for the concert to be given here at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 15, according to Carl Kerr, chairman of the sponsoring Lyceum Committee.

Under the direction of Dr. P. A. Williams, the group has been acclaimed as one of the finest singing groups in the country. The 35 voices comprising the glee club are extended to the extent that, according to one newspaper, "The Glee Club sings with the rich tones of carefully trained instrument."

Tuesday's program will open with "Ave Maria" by Arcadelt, and "Hear Ye Prayer, O God" by Kopyloff. "Murmuring Zephyr" by Jensen and "The Toreador's Song" by Bizet will be presented as unison songs, the first being a soft love song by the tenors, and the last, a robust tune admonishing the men to "Stand up and fight." The text from the play, Carmen Jones, is used instead of the original from Carmen.

Tribute to Hills

Tribute will be paid to the beautiful hills of West Virginia by the chorus with its rendition of "The Lonely Hills" and "Timber."

"Requiem for Veterans" pays tribute to war heroes through the presentation of "Soldier Rest" in which the glee club is accompanied by a trumpet and a drum. The words for the number are from a poem by Sir Walter Scott.

Schools Observing 'Education Week' Throughout Nation

Schools all over the United States are in the midst of National Education week, which will come to a close Saturday. General theme this year is "Schools—Your Investment in America."

Locally, the H. Y. Clark chapter of the Future Teachers of America will sponsor an assembly tomorrow, Monday. Prof. Jewell Matthews addressed the Troy PTA on "The Problem Child."

During this annual week, teachers, parents and interested citizens all over the nation are extending a special invitation to the public to visit the schools in their respective areas.

Daily topics for the remainder of the week: Thursday, "Your Investment in Better Living;" Friday, "Your Investment in a Strong Nation;" and Saturday, "Your Investment in YOUR Responsibility."

Vets Lining Up Stellar Talent For Big Show

Dancers, vocalists, instrumentalists, and what have you, will be on tap Tuesday night, Nov. 22, when the GSC Veterans club stages its annual talent show in the auditorium, according to the latest announcement from Commander John Lazear.

In addition to Dr. Charles Martin and Prof. George Howard, Mrs. Yette Norman, manager of the student union, has been selected to serve as judge for the show. Presiding over the competition as master of ceremonies will be Robert P. Miller.

Talent Being Sought

Lazear has stated that although quite a bit of talent has already been secured, members of the Veterans club are out daily uncovering even more material for the show.

Already "signed up" are Shirley Lambert, vocalist; Patsy Bee, dancer; Charlotte McCarty, pantomime; Beverly Clark, organist; and Pat Starkey, Eunice Smith and Kate Trimble, comedy routine.

Two of last year's winners, vocalist Tom Reed and the J. W. Dant quartet, are tentatively scheduled along with Dave Arbogast and Patsy Floyd, both as vocalists.

'Menagerie' Setting Follows Memory Quality of the Play

In keeping with the "memory" quality of the play, the set for "The Glass Menagerie" will not be realistic. When Robert Gainer, as Tom, says in his first soliloquy, "The play is memory. Being a memory play, it is not realistic..." the mood for the entire play is set.

Framed in moving and plastic light, the actual construction of the set will follow the constructivist style that was popular in Europe during the twenties. This style of setting, which originally used only rough lumber, places the emphasis on the actor and the play itself rather than on ornately decorated sets.

No Formal Set Used

There will be no formal set used

Whiting Dress Set For Use in Drama

Among the costumes which are being used for "The Glass Menagerie" is a dress which was donated by Prof. Hunter Whiting. This dress is part of a collection of clothing that Whiting gave to the Ohmingshow players before he left Glenville.

Other items in the collection are several men's hats of all descriptions, women's dresses which are at least thirty years old, and several pairs of extremely old gloves. Also included are three old-fashioned men's vests, two purses, and a Peter Pan costume.

Robert Gainer, president of the Ohmingshow players, stated that all of these items will probably be of some use to the organization in the future.

Group Holds Hayride

The Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church held a hayride last Friday evening. The group went to Cedar Creek State Park where it had a weiner roast. The Rev. Robert Gay is the sponsor of this group.

Group Attends FTA Meeting

Five students represented Glenville State College at the annual conference of the Future Teachers of America, which was conducted at Jackson's Mill last weekend.

The Glenville group, under the supervision of Prof. Jewell Matthews, was in charge of the devotional sessions of the meeting.

Those who attended the conference from the H. Y. Clark chapter included Frances Cutlip, Bernadine Gregory, Anna Radabaugh, Jean Ingham, Elda Utterback, Patsy Greene, and Prof. Matthews. Janet McHenry, student from the Calhoun County high school chapter, also accompanied the group.

FTA Will Present Program Thursday

Future Teachers of America will present an assembly program tomorrow morning at 10:10.

A representative of the National Association of manufacturers will be here to talk to students on the future in industry for college graduates. Fred Strickler, education director of the central division, states that the company has prepared a comprehensive realistic report on industry's view concerning What is Ahead for College Graduates. This report will be presented by a member of the firm tomorrow.

College choir members will be on hand to provide musical entertainment for the program.

VESPERS

Next Sunday evening at 6:15 the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity will present the weekly vesper program in Louis Bennett Hall lounge. President Joe Arbogast named John Cutlip chairman of the program planning committee for the 15-minute meditation period.

Featured on the evening worship program will be the Sigma Tau Gamma quartet who will sing two well-known hymns.

RACES, DANCE WILL HIGHLIGHT ANNUAL EVENT

By BARBARA JOHNSON

At 1:15 o'clock DDT (Dogpatch Daylight Time) Saturday, Honorable Trent Bush, mayor of Dogpatch, will issue the official "proclamation" accompanied by a four-gun salute that will begin the annual Sadie Hawkins day. The event is sponsored by the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Reigning over the festivities will be Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner who are being selected by student ballots today in the student union.

Activities for the day will include greasy pole climb, backhand race, dog sawing contest, three-legged race for girls, egg throwing contest, three-legged race for boys, sack race, corn shellin' contest, wheelbarrow race, turnip eatin' contest, and a monkey back race.

Marrin' Sam Ready

Concluding the afternoon activities will be the Sadie Hawkins race in which the girls will have their chance to "ketch" some poor unsuspecting male. Marryin' Sam (Bill Deel) will be on hand after the race to unite those unhappy trapped males with the lucky gals of the day in temporary and hilarious wedlock.

SUPERVISORS ATTEND MEET

Approximately 25 supervisors attended the fall meeting of the Central West Virginia Supervisors conference when it convened on Glenville State College campus last Tuesday, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville, chairman of the meeting.

During the session, members discussed curriculum building in grades seven, eight, and nine, and a panel discussion "Meeting the Needs of Pupils in Grades, Seven, Eight and Nine," was presented.

Counties represented at the conference were Braxton, Clay, Gilmer, Nicholas, Webster, Calhoun, Doddridge, Lewis, Upshur, and Wirt.

Supervisors attending included Miss Zula S. Davis, Mrs. LaVaughn Wolverton, Miss Corlie Hill, Mrs. Mattie S. Carper, Miss Eugenia Adams, Holmes Skidmore, J. K. Randolph, Dr. James L. Hupp, Brown Trussler, C. P. Wells, D. E. Dean, Harold B. Proudfoot, Fred L. Freeman, Fred Berry, C. Paul Cutlip, Ralph Cunningham, and Eugene Satterfield.

Representing the State Department of Education were Miss Blenda Proudfoot, Fred S. Coffindaffer, and H. Cliff Hamilton. Attending from Glenville State College was Dr. Somerville, and Professors Jewell Matthews, Nelson Wells, and George Howard.

Former GSC Prexy Pays Short Visit

Dr. E. G. Rohrbough, former president of Glenville State College, was on campus last week for a short visit. Dr. Rohrbough was president of the College for 34 years, and although now retired, usually visits on campus twice each year.

Dr. Rohrbough lives in Washington, D. C., and while visiting here, he stayed in the guest room of Louis Bennett hall. Unable to attend the Homecoming festivities, Dr. Rohrbough postponed his visit until last week.

College VIPs Stage Dinner

A dinner meeting of members of the administration, faculty, and organization presidents was held in the dining room at Kanawha Hall Tuesday, Nov. 1. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss campus problems.

Preceding the discussion, President Harry B. Hefflin spoke briefly. Edward Tekieli, president of the student council, presided during the meeting.

Other members of the administration present were Miss Pearl Jenkins, dean of women; Dr. Robert Higgins, dean of men; and Dean Delmar K. Somerville. Prof. Stanley Hall was also present.

Organization presidents who attended the dinner were Robert Weaver, David Posey, Rex Reeder, Bernard Hefflin, Clara Mae Hull, Shirley James, Anna Radabaugh, Donald Hamon, Mary Louise Gillespie, Ruby Elder, Elda Utterback, Noel Ford, Dale Hunt, Joseph Arbogast, Robert Gainer, Jackie Coe, John James, Rita Pickens, and Elnae Reese.

Overwhelming Vote Cast for New Union

Glenville students favored the building of a new student union by an overwhelming vote of 245 to 16 in a balloting staged last week in the Club Pioneer. The 250 voters represented nearly 40 per cent of the total enrollment and was the largest turnout ever recorded in balloting of this kind.

Final approval of the student center is now up to the State Board of education, which is now in session. President Harry B. Hefflin presented the proposal, along with the results of the poll, to that organization for consideration.

GSC Veterans, We Salute You!

As we approach another Veteran's day, we are reminded of the soldiers of World War I, who in 1918, ended their fighting. We can not think of the soldiers of the first World War, without remembering those of World War II, who were just as courageous. But we do not separate, in our thinking, soldiers of two different ages—we usually just remember ALL soldiers—everywhere.

Certainly, we are all aware of the many veterans on campus. Of course they do not wear their uniforms, and that is as it should be, but they still carry in their minds, memories of those fighting years—years of hunger, pain, and sacrifice.

As we look around campus, we can see 104 veterans who now attend Glenville State College. It might be well if we, the civilian students, on this Veteran's day (Friday, Nov. 11), pause just a moment to be thankful for those who did return—to their homes and to Glenville.

These veterans have taken an active part in college activities. Among them, we find two fraternity presidents, a president of a dormitory, president of a music club, and president of an athletic club. The veterans have a club of their own, sponsor a talent show, take part in Homecoming ceremonies, and sponsor the most ceremonial and festive formal dance of the year—the Commencement ball.

A large percentage of our football, basketball, and baseball teams is composed of veterans. Veterans of the past, according to the College's history, have been presidents of the student body, editors of the MERCURY, captains of sports clubs and great athletes.

These men and women are a strong group—an important part of our campus. Let us revere the valiant soldiers of all wars, but let us not forget our own valiant ones—our GSC Veterans.—Yvonne Hart.

This Week—Education!

This week is American Education Week—a week during which the importance and the problems of our nation's schools are emphasized.

Here at Glenville State College we should be especially aware of the situation which faces all of us, whether we plan to go into the teaching profession or not.

Education affects our entire nation; therefore, we must be made to realize that we play a part in the school system. Teachers and school administrators alone cannot solve this problem. As citizens of this nation, we have a duty of attacking the situation and of trying to do something about it. As prospective teachers, we have an even greater opportunity and duty to overcome the obstacles which are in the way of a satisfactory educational system.

Some of these obstacles are, or at least should be, apparent to us. However, we feel that they cannot be brought into the eyes of the public too frequently. American Education Week has as its purpose the emphasis of the problems in our school system.

At the center of the difficulty is the problem of a lack of sufficient finances to carry on the school program. Until we are willing to pay for a satisfactory program, there is little chance of our getting one.

From the financial condition stems the problem of a lack of well-educated, efficient teachers. The salaries offered teachers certainly are not an encouragement toward preparation for that profession. However, we cannot overlook the fact that there are well-educated, intelligent, people teaching. We do say that there would be many more of these well-qualified teachers if they were offered better salaries. Also stemming from the lack of finances is the problem of old, dilapidated buildings, insufficient equipment, and overcrowded classrooms in many communities.

We feel that the entire problem concerning our schools centers around a lack of public interest in education. As a direct result, we are not providing funds to carry out the school program. Until public interest is aroused enough to create means of acquiring these funds, we feel certain that little improvement will be seen in our public school system. We should all be willing to do our share in bringing this matter to the attention of the public.—Shirley James.

STUDENTS ANSWER QUESTIONS CONCERNING TEACHER-TRAINING

By CONNIE SAMS

In commemoration of National Education week, Nov. 6-12, a MERCURY reporter interviewed five students of Prof. George O. Howard's Education 444 class on the importance of getting college experience in directed-teaching.

Members of the class, composed of elementary student teachers, were asked the following questions: What were some of your goals and expectations as you began this term in student teaching? To what extent have these goals been achieved? and in what ways have these goals been achieved?

The reporter found the class in conference which is held daily at 3:30 p.m. Although the students were caught entirely by surprise, they were enthusiastic about the interview and did not hesitate to answer any of the questions asked. The students enjoyed coffee while discussing their teaching experiences.

Mrs. Smith Gives Views
One of the first comments, made by Mrs. Virginia (Harris) Smith, was, "My goals and objectives as I entered student teaching were to get practical or worthwhile experiences in dealing closely with children. I have learned how to get along with children better and to achieve a better understanding of human relations which will further prepare me to enter the teaching profession." Mrs. Smith also commented that her goals had been achieved with the help of the direct supervision of the classroom in which she taught, with Prof. Howard's help, and also by participating in the conference discussions.

Another member of the class, Miss Francis Cutlip, stated: "My goals and expectations were to have a direct experience in working with children and to gain a variety of experiences in the different grade levels." Miss Jean Reese remarked,

Students Aid In Direction Of Library

By Shirley Lightner

Many full time students comprise the Robert F. Kidd library staff of Glenville State College. Their duties are of major importance and contribute greatly to the efficiency and maintenance of the library.

Mary Louise Gillespie, senior, is a loan desk clerk. Her duties are serving as desk typist and placing books on reserve for faculty members. Miss Gillespie worked the past summer as a student assistant in the library. Her major and minor fields are home economics and English.

Laura Tonabell Jones is circulation and statistical clerk. Her most important responsibility is keeping daily and monthly records. Miss Jones was a student assistant last year. She is a junior in the field of elementary education.

Mary Frances Wilmoth, a loan desk clerk, has the special responsibility of checking in the mail and cataloguing new books. Miss Wilmoth was a student assistant last summer. She is a sophomore, and her fields are social studies and English.

Miss Stump Is Secretary

A sophomore, Jearl Stump, is secretary to the librarian. Her duties include dictation and transcription, writing and receiving order letters, and maintaining monthly record of expenditures. Miss Stump's fields of study are business education and library science.

Alice Imogene McCullough, a junior, is the loan desk clerk who opens the library at 7:50 and arranges for the daily activities. Miss McCullough is a music major.

Smith Serves As Custodian

The library's student custodian is Homer Bronson Smith, a sophomore. The general care and upkeep of the building and equipment is his responsibility. Smith's fields of study are social studies and English.

John E. James, a junior in elementary education, is publicity manager for the library. James publicizes the library through displays and newspaper articles.

Sorority Simmerings

By BARBARA JOHNSON

KAPPA CHI KAPPA—President Patty Hall presided at the meeting. Discussion was held concerning a new meeting place for the sorority. Plans were made to have a party for Thanksgiving.

XI BETA TAU—Members of Xi Beta Tau sorority were entertained at a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Floyd Miller. Vice president Anna Radabaugh presided at the meeting. Discussions were held on pledging and ways to make money for the coming year. Pins are to be ordered soon. Recreation and refreshments concluded the meeting.

"My expectations and goals were to develop a better understanding of children and, therefore, to know better what to expect from children of different grade levels."

Secures Current Information
Mrs. Ella Stennett, who has previous teaching experience, commented, "My goal when entering this course was to get up-to-date information on teaching methods, and my goal has been achieved by sharing experiences under the guidance of Prof. Howard, the supervising teachers, and with the other student teachers."

The group unanimously agreed however, that good teacher-pupil relationship is one of the most important factors in teaching, and that this should be brought to the attention of all teachers, both locally and nationally.

As a concluding thought, the student teachers expressed their feelings toward their teacher-training as being an enjoyable and profitable experience.

Frat Chat

HOLY ROLLER COURT—Judge

Don Hamon presided at the meeting. Pins and jackets were discussed and it was suggested that they be ordered for the members. All activities for the year were discussed. A radio is to be raffled off and is to be drawn for at the last home basketball game before Christmas vacation begins.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA—The frat was entertained by the pledges. This was the fourth and final week of pledging initiation. Further plans for Sadie Hawkins day were discussed. A radio will be given away at intermission of the Sadie Hawkins dance.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA—The frat will be in charge of Vespers on Sunday, Nov. 13. John Cutlip was appointed to be in charge of this program. A turkey raffle will be held for Thanksgiving. Members painted their fraternity letters on the hill over the weekend. It was decided to give a gift to the outstanding member at the end of the year.

Favors for the White Rose dance and the purchase of traditional garters were discussed. The fraternity serenaded Brother Kermit Taylor's girl friend, Barbara Royce, Tuesday night at Verona Maple Hall.

Vets Lining Up

Cash prizes and cigarettes will be awarded to the top three contestants, and an effort is being made to secure free movie passes to the other participants.

Students wishing to participate in the talent show are urged to contact any member of the Veterans Club, or deposit their name and act in the box located in the student union as soon as possible.

by the director, Dr. P. A. Williams. Excerpts from some of Lincoln's speeches are used and are enhanced by musical and speech interludes from the group. Closing this tribute to veterans is a still marching song, "Victory Tide."

After the intermission, part five will get underway with three popular songs, "Happy Wanderer," "I Believe," and "When Day is Done." "I Like It Here" brings to the attention of the audience the seven veterans in the group who have seen overseas duty. A snappy surprise ending adds to the zest of the presentation.

Old Custom Revived

"Sister Bessie's Funeral" is a travesty on old Southern customs of the 19th century when it was customary to accompany the demise of prominent individuals with much fanfare and ceremony—even to the use of drummers, professional mourners and, at times, a brass band. The poem will be presented in the form of a choral speech with sound effects. Donald Caldwell, of Bluefield, will serve as chief narrator.

Climaxing the program will be "Expressions of Religion," which will present first "The Slave" from the poem, "John Brown's Body." Prominently figured in this closing group also are two arrangements by the director, "Old Time Religion" and "Shout Your Double Shout."

H. Davye Randolph, of Tampa, Fla., is the accompanist.

LIBRARY NOTICE

All library books will be due today, Nov. 9. Students who do not return all borrowed materials from the library before the term ends will not receive their grades on time.

Glenville Falls Short 21-13 in Final Game

Pioneers Second Half Rally Falls Short

Holder Scores Two; Field Goal Try Fails

West Liberty drew first blood as they took the opening kickoff of Saturday's game and marched from their own twenty five yard line to the 41 but here the surging Glenville line took effect and forced the visitors to punt.

But upon trying to snag the elusive pleskin a Glenville back fumbled and a Hilltopper pounced on the ball on Glenville's eight. On the first play Gerald Myers galloped it across, Ronald Corey added the extra point, and West Liberty took a very early 7-0 lead.

Doc Stanley took the ensuing kickoff and moved it from his own twenty up to the forty before being hauled down. Glenville was unable to move on the slippery turf so Jack Campbell shot a ten yard pass to Ed Tekieli for a first down. After picking up only four yards on two tries and loosing on a fumble and a five yard penalty, Glenville was forced to punt out of danger.

Tekieli Boots Ball

Big Ed Tekieli, having the best day of the season with his toe, sent the ball soaring fifty three yards down field with a West Liberty man taking the ball on his own three yard line and moving it up to the twenty five before being brought down.

West Liberty then started a devastating march down field which ended when Glenville recovered a fumble on their own nine. The Pioneers then moved it out to their own twenty three before the first period ended.

The hapless Pioneers were unable to move the ball as the second period got underway so Ralph Holder was called upon to quick-kick the ball, taking the Hilltoppers by complete surprise. West Liberty took the ball on their own thirty six and began another march which carried them to Glenville's twenty five marker in ten plays. From this point a substitute back, Ronald Corey, stepped off the twenty five yards for the visitor's second score. Corey also added the extra point to make the score read 14-0.

Glenville Rolls By Air

After moving the kick off that followed up to their own forty seven, Glenville took to the air with Campbell hitting Tekieli and Holder with nine-yard passes and Holder to Tekieli pass was ruled complete to the five because of pass interference on the part of the Hilltoppers.

On the next play, Holder romped around left end to go all the way for Glenville's first TD. John "The Toe" Estep came in to attempt the extra point but it was wide so the half ended with the Hilltoppers leading 14-6.

For the first time this season, the Pioneers came back strong in the third period instead of suffering a lapse. The Murrimen took the second half kickoff and moved it to the 26. Their ground attack fizzled after three plays and once more Tekieli was called upon to boot the ball.

But a worried Hilltopper man fumbled and Glenville took the ball on the 28. Curtiss Anderson then carried to the 27 from where Holder opened up around right end, eluded three men, and galloped 27 yards for a second score. John "The Toe" Estep added the extra point and the lead was narrowed to one point.

Estep Attempts Field Goal

Later in the period, "The Toe" returned to the lineup to attempt a field goal from the 25 but the ball was batted down and the Hilltoppers took over on their own 19. Early in the final stanza, the visitors started moving from their own 44 after Holbert's punt had gone astray. Eight plays moved the ball to Glenville's eight from where Gerald Myers added his second TD of the day. Corey added his third extra point to end the scoring, 21-13. First downs favored West Liberty.

INSPIRED SINGLETON TEAM BEATS RADCLIFF IN WAA PLAY

Carolee Singleton captained an inspired aerial dart team to a crushing 44-15 defeat over the current champions, a team of veteran players led by Juanita Radcliff. This was the first defeat suffered by Radcliff after five wins. The affair was uneven all the way, with Singleton's team dominating the play during both halves of the game.

It was a tight game between Cox and Mack, with Cox battling through for a 28-23 win, her fifth against one defeat.

White Leads Team to Victory
Pat White led her volleyball team to their first victory of the season, narrowly ouzing out Hart by a score of 22-20. White, whose team consists mainly of freshmen, now has a record of one win and six losses.

In the last game of the season, Blackhurst, heretofore undefeated, was humbled 27-19, by a powerful force led by Jackie Coe. Later in the evening, Blackhurst pulled through to an overwhelming 28-13 defeat over McComis.

Teams Tied For First

Standings of the aerial darts teams are: Radcliff and Cox tied for first place, with Singleton and Mack following.

Volleyball standings are: Blackhurst and Coe tied for first with McComis, Hart, and White in second, third, and fourth places respectively.

ODDS & ENDS

Although Glenville suffered its worst season since 1949 when the Pioneers lost six and tied one without a win, there were certainly some encouraging happenings which give promise of better teams to come.

For example, take the talented toe of John Estep which was at its best last Saturday. He was toeing the ball well on kickoffs and the first extra point attempt was just inches off. But something which would have really given the fans a thrill would have been the field goal, if he had made it.

He was attempting the goal from 25 yards out and at an angle to the goal post with the wind blowing against the ball. But a lanky Hilltopper came in to tip the ball down as it appeared to be taking off straight for the middle of the up-rights.

ty, 15-11, as well as rushing yardage which was 242-95. But Glenville had a 58-0 edge in passing yardage. Glenville fumbled three times and lost one; West Liberty fumbled seven times and lost four.

Holder Becomes Third Highest Scorer in Glenville History

Ralph Holder, Glenville's talented fullback, enjoyed a banner season in his first year as a college football player. The backfield started Glenville scorers with eight touchdowns and a total of 48 points. He becomes the third highest scorer in Glenville's history for one season of play. Carlos Ratliff's 72 points in 1929 leads the pack with Gibson's 54 points in 1936 placing second.

Holder also leads the Pioneers in six other departments. He leads in rushing with 464 yards, in passing with 240 yards, in total offense with 704 yards, in pass interceptions with four for 110 yards returned, in punt returns with four for 45 yards, and in kickoff returns with eight for 145 yards.

Ed Tekieli, Glenville's rugged right end, leads in pass receiving with eight catches for 123 yards. He also leads in punting with 29 for 881 yards.

Stanley Second In Scoring

Freshman flash, Doc Stanley, is second in scoring with three TDs and 18 points, third in rushing with 231 yards, and second in punt returns with two carries for 17 yards.

Other statistics released by the MERCURY sports department finds Leonard Hanford second in rushing with 232 yards, third in scoring with six points, and third in kickoff returns with 68 yards on four carries. Steve McMillion is second in pass receiving with five catches for 83 yards. Eddie Armstrong is second in kickoff returns with 103 yards on five carries and fourth in rushing with 159 yards.

Glenville Leads In Rushing

In comparing team statistics with those of the opponents, Glenville leads by a slight edge in rushing yardage, 1166 to 1155. But the opposition controls the passing yardage, 343-324. Glenville is also under in first downs, 78-77.

The Pioneers were penalized 25 times for 235 yards while the opposition had 31 penalties for 305 yards.

REIT'S ROMPERS NOTCH MAA TITLE

Reit's "Romperz" have completely outclassed all opposition as they won five straight games to notch the MAA volleyball crown. The "Romperz" attack, led by Captain Bill Reit, Bill Jones, Ralph Holder, Don Schoonmaker, Richard Stewart, and Bob Weaver were never in danger as they raced through their rough schedule at a dazzling pace to leave the closest contender two games behind.

After completion of the regular season play, the MAA started on a double-elimination volleyball tournament with the first round being played last Thursday night. The "Romperz" were also picked to win this tournament, barring some unforeseen incident which would eliminate them from contention.

Butlers Beat Shielders

Butcher's "Butlers" nosed out Shield's "Shielders" in the final round of play. This put the "Butlers" in undisputed possession of the runner-up spot in the men's intramural pennant race.

Shield's "Shielders" captured third place with a three and two won and lost record. Moving into fourth place in the final standings was the newly formed team, Gray's "Growlers."

Vento's "Vaulters" were the cellar dwellers of the league as they went throughout the schedule without notching a win.

Serves On Committee

Dr. Max Ward, secretary of the West Virginia Academy of science, served on the evaluation and syllabus committee at the recent meeting of the West Virginia Science Fair work conference held at Jackson's Mill. Biology students from GSC attended parts of the conference, which was sponsored by the West Virginia Academy of science. Members of the Oak Ridge Institute of nuclear students presented talks and exhibits were provided by chemical societies.

Bonnie Gorrell, Shirley Brown Named Circulation Managers

Each Wednesday afternoon Bonnie Gorrell and Shirley Brown distribute 800 copies of the MERCURY. Out of this number 600 copies are distributed on campus. Miss Gorrell and Miss Brown are both sophomores and their duties as circulation managers are on a voluntary basis.

The MERCURY is mailed to nine states and the District of Columbia. One hundred thirty-five papers are sent to readers in all parts of this state, as well as in others. Among those who receive the paper are members of the State Board of Education, college newspapers, advertisers, and high schools. In addition there are several paid subscribers.

Work of the circulation managers includes counting the MERCURY, distributing them on campus, wrapping each one individually to be mailed, arranging them in bundles according to their zones, and putting them into mail bags. This work takes place each Wednesday afternoon when the MERCURY arrives from Buckhannon, where it is printed.

Miss Brown is an elementary major from Parkersburg, and a member of W.A.A. and 4-H club.

Dean Is Member Of Textbook Board

Dean Delmar K. Somerville has been notified that he has been appointed a member of the newly organized state Textbook Advisory committee to help select textbooks for the elementary schools.

The committee, comprised of 15 members, was recently authorized by the state legislature and will have its first meeting later this month in Charleston.

Dean Somerville attended a meeting of the Teacher Education committee, Oct. 10 and 11 in Charleston where members of this committee from all over the state assembled to make recommendations to the State Board of education regarding requirements for teacher-training.

Representatives attending the meeting were from various colleges and educational institutions throughout the state. County superintendents were also represented.
