Ed Tekieli Roms to Victory

Presidential Election

Posey, Hughes Are Selected To Head Student Government

Student Council election held last week resulted in the selection of Dave Posey as next year's council president. Chemistry major from Jane Lew, Posey edged out Ray Carson in a two-day election which saw 53 per cent of Glenville's total enrollment voting. This represented an increase of four per cent over last year's turnout of student voting. Next year's prexy commented that he would "strive to fulfill the objectives mentioned in his platform as well as those presented in the assembly program." Posey is a member of the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, served on the student council this year as president of the junior class, and is a member of the Louis Bennett hall council. Serving as vice president of the Student Council next year will be Paul Hughes, a sophomore from Walton, who won this position over William Deel, a sophomore Clendenin native. Hughes is a member of the Holy Roller court, the Alpha Delta Epsilon honorary business fraternity, and the G-Club. The new vesp said he would "try to create more interest in the Student Council elections in order to have an even bigger turnout of voters next year."

Stump Is Secretary
Jearl Stump, a sophomore business and library science student from Stumptown, defeated Bonnie Gorrel, an art and home economics major from Parkersburg, in the secretarial race. Miss Stump is a member of the Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, secretary of the Wesley

Higgins, McAvooy Attend Conference

Dean Robert Higgins and Registrar Rogers McAvooy attended the State Guidance conference at Jackson's Mill recently where guidance workers in colleges and secondary and elementary education from all over the state came to hold their annual meeting.

Both Higgins and McAvooy took an active part in the three-day program which included small group meetings, panel discussions, and evaluation sessions. The program was in continuous session from 9 a.m. Friday until noon Sunday.

According to Dean Higgins, one of the main purposes of the conference was to promote the growth of better guidance services in our schools through the sharing of ideas and through the leadership of guidance authorities who are brought in to help with the conference.

Conference coordinator was Clement C. Brown, state guidance director.

By Shirley Brown

Members from the cast of "Paint Your Wagon," were asked questions last week concerning the popularity of the musical. The students were asked their opinion of the musical when practice was first started as contrasted to their feelings after several weeks of work. Students were also asked to comment upon the enjoyment of working with the musical and the reaction of the audience as compared to musicals of past years.

Ronald Shuman, who portrays "Pete" said, "I consider it a very appealing show and I think the people will like it. The comedy and music are terrific."

"In the beginning I was afraid it wouldn't be as good as 'Brigadoon' but now I have changed my mind. It is always fun to work in a musical and I think the audience will like it especially well." These are the remarks offered by Ruby Elder, who is "Sarah" in the play.

Dancing Is Work

Mary Alice McHenry, one of the dancers, gave her outlook as follows: "When practice began I realized much work was required but I wanted to dance so badly I didn't quit. I believe the people will like the musical very much. It has both comical and serious moments which should prove effective."

Albert Somerville, who portrays "Ray Janney," failed to comment on the drama, but he made the following statement concerning the director: "I feel that Professor Coleman is doing a fine job and I have the utmost confidence in his ability to present a show that will

Somerville Speaks To Garden Club At Convention

"The challenge of wise use of resources is upon our educational leaders," stated Dean Delmar K. Somerville when he addressed members of the West Virginia Garden club at their annual convention in White Sulphur Springs last week.

Speaking on the topic of responsibility of education in wise resource-use, the Dean told members attending the meeting, "Members of society who have been concerned with the direction which civilization takes, have established institutions to help guide social action. Our schools have been instituted for that purpose. It is through our educational system that knowledge, skills, and attitudes are transmitted to the people who hold the destiny of our resources in the hollow of their hands."

The education leader also stated "If we believe that one of the purposes of education is to improve the quality of living for all the people, then it naturally follows that the school as an agency of the community has special responsibility in respect to resource-use education."

THE REV. HARRY B. TAYLOR

Graduate Will Give Baccalaureate Sermon

The Rev. Harry Bertrand Taylor, Doctor of Divinity, and a Glenville State College graduate, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 27, in the college auditorium, it was announced by Pres. Harry B. Hefflin. Dr. Taylor is minister of the Church of the Covenant in Cleveland.

A native of Gilmer county, the former student was graduated from Glenville with the class of 1931. Up to the time of his graduation from Union Theological Seminary in 1936 he was also engaged in religious work as assistant minister, director of Christian education, and as a field secretary for the Student Christian movement. He then became assistant minister at the Brick Presbyterian church in New York City.

Served in New York

In 1939 Dr. Taylor went to Syracuse, N. Y., as the pastor of the First Presbyterian church. In Syracuse Dr. Taylor was active in the community and church life. He was president of the Syracuse Council of Churches, moderator of Syracuse Presbytery, and a member of the Board of Directors of the United War Fund, and of the Executive Committee of the Council of Social Agencies.

He also acted as chairman of the Christian Education committee of the Synod of New York, was president of the Board of Directors of the Westminster Foundation in New York State, Inc., and was vice-president of the Board of Directors of the Children's bureau.

600 Central W. Va. Seniors Will Attend Annual Program

DR. HARRY B. HEFLIN

Hefflin Greets Guest Seniors

Greetings to High School Visitors:

Today, you are a high school senior. In another month you will be a potential college freshman. There isn't much time involved but a tremendous difference in the goal.

We hope you will use this visit to see what a typical college day is like. It should help you to determine whether you wish to be a college student. Our classrooms, our laboratories, and all other facilities are open to you—visit them. Talk to members of the faculty and the student body. Learn all you can about college and plan to enroll in the college of your choice.

It is a pleasure to have you on our campus. Best wishes for your future success.

Sincerely yours,
Harry B. Hefflin

Coleman Selects Forensics Team For Marshall Meet

The team has been chosen for the annual state forensic meet which is being held at Marshall College, Huntington, April 27 and 28, according to Prof. William Coleman, speech instructor.

Representing Glenville State will be Jim White, orator; Albert Somerville, extemporaneous speaker; Ronald Shuman and Shirley James, affirmative debaters; and Jack Cawthon and Richard Dean Smith, negative debaters.

The forensics meet is competitive.

More than 600 high school seniors and their sponsors will be welcomed to Glenville State College campus tomorrow to participate in the College's ninth annual Senior Day program, according to Registrar Rogers McAvooy, over-all director of the event.

Forty-four central West Virginia high schools have been invited to attend the conference, and approximately 600 students have indicated their intent to attend tomorrow, according to McAvooy. The Senior Day activities began in 1948 with former Registrar Michael E. Posey as over-all director.

Tomorrow's Senior Day program will open with a general assembly in the college auditorium at 10 a.m. Music will be played by the Glenville State college band while the students are gathering in the auditorium. The program will officially be opened by Registrar McAvooy who will introduce Student Council President Edward Tekieli who will greet the visiting seniors.

'Wagon' Preview

After Tekieli's welcome, a scene from the forthcoming presentation of the Broadway production "Paint Your Wagon" will be presented by three members of the cast, Jack Kaufman, Janet Weekly, and Ruby Elder.

President Harry B. Hefflin will deliver the welcoming address, followed by a number on the organ played by Beverly Clark. Announcements will be made, and guides will be introduced to direct the students on campus tours and class visitations. The introduction of the administrative college personnel will also be conducted at this time.

Shortly after 11:30, luncheon will be served to the visiting groups in Kanawha Hall dining room. All seniors and their sponsors will be guests of the college.

Various activities have been scheduled for the afternoon entertainment. The hours until 2:30 will be devoted to a swimming party in the college pool and dancing in the recreation room of the Physical Education building.

Terminating the day's activities will be a baseball game between the Glenville Pioneers and Morris Harvey college.

Seniors Tour Campus

McAvooy stressed the fact that seniors are encouraged to visit the various departments in which they

Groups Choose Tour Guides

Twenty-three students have been chosen from the various campus organizations to act as guides for the annual Senior Day program, which is being held here tomorrow, according to Student Council president, Edward Tekieli.

The guides, who will take groups of high school seniors on a campus tour and visitation, were chosen by either the Student Council members, or members of the organization which they will represent.

Students chosen and organizations they are representing are Shirley Cauncey and William Deel, Student Council; Joyce Jackson and Connie Sams, Xi Beta Tau; Beverly McComis, W.A.A.; Jean Lloyd, I-H; Sue Criss and Barbara Blackhurst, F.T.A.; Jack Campbell and Dorsey Scott, Kappa Sigma Kappa; Tony Shuman, Sigma Tau Gamma; Alice McCullough, M. E. N. C.

Paul Hughes and Don Whipkey, "G" Club; Mary Suck, Alpha Delta Epsilon; Eddie Perrine, Ohmichow players; Jim White, Alpha Psi Omega; Martha White and Sue Arnold, Kappa Chi Kappa; John James, S.C.A.; Norman Stone, International Relations club; and Eonnie Gorrel and Marilyn Rastie, Home Economics club.

GSC Ranks Among Best

Although Glenville State is a small college, we feel that it is a versatile one. Here you can have the advantages of a small school coupled with some of the advantages of larger institutions.

Educationally, Glenville State ranks among the highest. Instruction of the finest quality is offered to students who attend school here. We are proud of our status in this area. Probably every county in this state has felt the influence of teachers trained here at Glenville.

Our instructors also rank among the top. Because of the size of this school, there is a student-instructor relationship which is most satisfactory. Instructors are never too busy to use their time to give advice to any member of the student body.

Another advantage which is a derivative of this being a small school is the atmosphere of friendliness which prevails among the students. The student body is small enough that no one need feel that he is lost among strangers.

Financially, Glenville State offers a great deal to the student. Few colleges in the entire nation can compare their rates with those of Glenville. The entire cost for tuition, room and board, and activity fee amount to only $236.87 for each semester.

Glenville State college is steadily progressing. Enrollment is increasing. Plans are made for repairs to the men's dormitory, and for building a new student center which will house a kitchen, college dining hall, and student union.

Social activities are relatively inexpensive here at Glenville. The activity fee which the student pays covers a variety of events such as intercollegiate athletics, plays, lyceum programs, school paper, and other ventures which go to make up well-rounded campus life.

We sincerely believe that, considering every aspect, Glenville State College offers an education equal to that of any college in the state. Of course, we may be a bit prejudiced, so we will let you, as prospective college students, make your own decisions as to whether or not Glenville will be your college next year.—Shirley James

Yvonne Hart Weds J. Chase

Yvonne Hart, former co-editor of the MERCURY, became the bride of A-2 of Jarvis Chase, Sunday, April 1, in the Bonmont Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Irvin C. Fisher.

A junior, English and speech major, Mrs. Chase is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odhart Hart of Queen Shoals. Chase is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Chase of Clay.

Lighted candelabra, baskets of white lilies and delphiniums decorated the church. Traditional wedding music was offered by Rozella Wilfong, pianist, and Bertha Wilfong, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of French chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. Her heart-shaped headpiece of illusion lace held in place the finger-tip length veil which was trimmed with applied white flowers. She carried a white prayer book marked with a white orchid.

Miss Emma Lee Chase, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lucy Hart, sister-in-law of the bride, and Francis Robinson. Key Lee Pearson of Clay was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony. Assisting were Shirley Chaney, a junior from Sissonville, and Wanda Carol Taylor, Nora Kennedy, and Virginia Johnson, former Glenville students served as aids.

For a southern wedding trip, young Mrs. Chase chose a navy wool suit with pink accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A-2 of Chase has been assigned to the 6905th Special Communications Group in Germany.

Bill Deel Accepts Yearbook Position

William Deel, sophomore, has recently accepted the position of yearbook photographer, according to Shirley James, editor. Deel will take pictures of all major events on campus for the remainder of the school year.

Editor James announces that material for the third deadline of the yearbook will be mailed to the company this week. She also urges anyone who has snapshots for the yearbook to turn them in to a member of the staff within the next week.

Sorority Simmerings

By SHIRLEY BROWN

Kappa Chi Kappa

Nominations made by the nominating committee were presented to the members and were accepted at the last meeting conducted by Shirley Chaney.

Next meeting will be held at Dr. and Mrs. Hefflin's home. Mrs. Hefflin, Mrs. Carlos Ratliff and Mrs. Epsy Miller will be hostesses.

A committee to set up standards for excusers from meetings was appointed. Committee members are Barbara Clark, Susan Arnold, and Betty Jo Lewis.

Martha White and Susan Arnold were selected to represent the sorority as guides on senior day.

Barbara Clark, Carolyn Jackson, and Sally Zeigler are working on plans for a hayride in the future.

Announcement was made that the new sorority jackets, with the emblem designed by Shirley Chaney, have arrived.

Xi Beta Tau

Suggestions for a party honoring the senior members of the sorority were made at the last meeting of the group. Further details are to be worked out later.

Barbara Johnson, corresponding secretary, reported that sorority pins have been ordered.

The executive committee was asked to revise the constitution and present it to the group at the next meeting. This committee which includes Anna Radabaugh, Nancy Greenleaf, Joyce Bourn, Barbara Johnson, and Betty Frymier, also met following the meeting to nominate officers for next year.

Hot dogs were sold by the sorority in each dorm last Wednesday night.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

The April 16 meeting of the Court was opened by Judge Don Hamen, who presided throughout the meeting. The initial topic of discussion was the initiation of pledges. After this discussion followed a discussion concerning the Court dance. No definite place was decided upon. At present a committee is working on a decoration for the dance and mailing lists are being made of old members of the Court in order to invite them to the dance.

Carolyn Jackson Wins 'Miss Glenville' Title; Will Appear in 'Miss West Virginia' Contest

ANY GIRL might well have her head in the clouds when she thinks of the glorious honor of becoming Miss America, and a Glenville State girl who has overcome one barrier in obtaining that goal is pictured above. Carolyn Jackson was selected as Miss Glenville State College in a special program sponsored by the Student Council. She will now enter competition in Morgantown on May 4 for the selection of Miss West Virginia. (Photo and art work by Cawthon)

Grace Kelly and Prince Ranier, "Cinderella marriage" brought a fairy look of hopes to Carolyn Jackson, a freshman business major when she appeared in the contest for "Miss Glenville."

A native of Belle, Miss Jackson was chosen over two other contestants for the privilege of representing Glenville College in the "Miss West Virginia" pageant to be held in Morgantown, May 4. The DuPont high school graduate appeared before an impartial board of judges clad in a bathing suit and in an evening gown.

Does 'Soft-Shoe'

Her third appearance on stage was a display of her talent consisting of a soft shoe routine to the pop hit, "Daddy-O." Miss Jackson clinched the title of "Miss Glenville College" when the judges asked her opinion of the Kelly-Ranier marriage. Her answer was "It is just what the newspapers are saying; it is a Cinderella story. It happens to one girl in a million, but it is what happens to every girl when she finds the right man—this is what makes a Cinderella story."

The judges, three impartial businessmen from Weston, were Francis Stern, Archie Taylor, and Curtis Kidney. After seeing all three girls on stage, and hearing their answers to the question, the judges decided that Miss Jackson deserved the title, "Miss Glenville."

Elyson and Bee in Contest

Lorene Elyson and Patsy Bee were also in the running for the title. Miss Elyson, after appearing in bathing suit and evening gown, gave a speech on dress designing. In connection with her talk, Pat Christian modeled a summer floral print that she had made. For her entry in the talent race, Miss Bee lap danced to Lullaby on Broadway.

Along with the display of beauty, talent, and brains, short previews of the coming musical, "Paint Your Wagon," were given by members of the cast. Dave Arbogast, male lead, sang "I Still See Elisa," and the female lead, Beverly Clark presented the musical question, "What's Going On?"

The contest was sponsored on campus by the Student Council. Bill Deel, sergeant-at-arms, served as master of ceremonies for the event.

"Miss Glenville" announced recently that she is working on an interpretative dance routine for the state contest. It will consist of an affair between two lovers, "Frankie and Johnny." The "Cinderella" miss will kill her man, Frankie, in the dance and then attempt to compensate for her loss in a will carefree dance. Finally, realizing her own sorrow, she will return to the "Frankie and Johnny" theme with a trace of melancholy.

Winner of the "Miss West Virginia" title will appear in the "Miss America" contest to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 3-10.

27 Students Begin to Teach

Twenty-seven Glenville State College students have been assigned positions in order to do their directed teaching in both elementary and secondary fields, according to Professors Nelson Wells and George Howard, directors of secondary and elementary education, respectively.

Seventeen students are teaching in the secondary field, according to Professor Wells. Teaching assignments include Joe Arbogast, Burnsville and Sutton; Ronald Beeson, Normantown; Edsel Ford, Calhoun; Kathleen Quinn Harris, Doddridge; John B. Largent, Burnsville; Raymond Osier, Calhoun; Tom Reed, Burnsville; Barbara Shomo, Doddridge; Anetta Summers, Pennsboro; Mary West, Normantown; Sue Waggoner, Parkersburg schools; Arfurd Paul Williams, Burnsville; Billie Martin Atkinson, Normantown; Ruth Witt, Pennsboro; Ray Rardin, Burnsville; Richard Tolliver, Calhoun; and Carrie Packman, Burnsville.

Elementary student teachers and the grades they will teach are Ralph Harlan Smith, third and fifth; Barbara Blackhurst and Peggy Ann Foreman, second; Eleanor Louise West and Genevieve Newell, third; Ernest Page and Denver Davis, second; Sylvia Cox and Joan Yoak, first; Jean Ingham and Denver Yoak, kindergarten.

foundation, point secretary of WAA, and treasurer of Alpha Delta Epsilon. The business major recently announced her intention to "strive to fulfill my platform to the best of my ability and strive for an increase in the number of students voting next year."

Running unopposed, Orton Jones captured the position of treasurer with little difficulty. The Spencer native, a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and the Omicron chapter, said he would "work hard to fulfill the duties of this office and will try to put into effect all the points of my platform."

Mike Ferrell, a Grantsville native, squeezed out a win over Jim White from Parkersburg, and Homer Smith from West Union. A math major, Ferrell is a member of the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity. He recently made this statement, "I appreciate all those who supported me in the election, and I will strive to fulfill the responsibilities of my office."

It has been requested that college students not drive to classes tomorrow unless it is absolutely necessary. Students are not to park on any of the parking lots on campus as they will be reserved for the school buses and for cars that will be bringing the seniors.

Registrar McAvoy commented about the program, "I feel that the Senior Day program is beneficial to both the college and high school seniors in that it provides an opportunity for pre-college counseling and guidance. We are happy to perform this service to the high schools in the central West Virginia area."

High schools which have been invited to attend the annual program are Burnsville, Cairo, Calhoun, Clay, Clendenin, Cowen, Crichton, Doddridge County, Elkview, Gassaway, Glenville, Greenbank, Harrisville, Jase Lew, Marlinton, Nicholas County, Normantown, Parkers-

Sports

In the MERCURY

On campus tomorrow will be a contest of high school seniors to "raise" the college. Among that group will be quite a number of outstanding scholastic athletes that the local sports staff may be interested in, and would not doubt like to talk with. It will be difficult if not impossible, however, for the coaches to track the visitors down. So, this suggestion has been offered: the fellows interested in knowing more about the athletic department can contact the coaches.

Carlos Ratliff, athletic director and baseball coach, can usually be found in his office on the first floor of the health building; Nick Turin, football mentor, at 105, science building; and Dean Robert Higgins, golf coach, in his office in the Ad building. Drop in fellows. They'll be glad to tell you about the athletic set-up here at Glenville.

Glenville's golfers have not been so fortunate this year as has been the baseball team. Coach Higgins says dropped their first two matches to Wesleyan and to Fairmont.

While in Fairmont Friday, the local lads also had a chance to play with two of their future opponents and, although it did not count, the Pioneers outplayed the other two foursomes easily. A shot in the arm.

Although it is much too early for predictions, Glenville still looks like a good bet to bring home the conference baseball title this year. The Pioneers can field well, hit mighty line and the pitching staff is above par. What more is needed?

Rough competition will probably come from the Wesleyan and Fairmont camps, but not quite rough enough.

Joyce Jackson, who contributed quite a bit to the sports page, also was without much luck during this great WAA basketball season. It seems that her team just couldn't seem to get going, and as a result she closed the season by placing last in the competition.

Can't win 'em all, huh, Joyce?

West Virginia's annual North-South football classic has been counted out, but word has it that the Parkersburg Jaycees will continue to stage the L-K Conference bowl. In fact, plans for this year's fracas are almost complete.

As one of Glenville's golfers exclaimed about the loss to Wesleyan last week: It ain't hard to snoot in the 90's when it takes eight strokes to make a three-par hole.

Outfielder Pete Kostyk tried to make a run the hard way at Fairmont Saturday. Peter was almost cut off by the first baseman, Tom Merandi, but Merandi made the mistake of blocking Pete's way—Pete bowled him over and Tom lost the ball.

When sliding into second, Pete was so hard he also cut the ball. Pete's luck ran out on him then. He tried to make a third but Rick Harris was waiting for him. Kostyk was put out, but Harris—like Merandi and Angelucci—bit the dust! Three men down and still no run.

Pioneers Meet Eagles Tomorrow

Local Linksmen Drop Two; Will Meet D-E Saturday

Coach Robert Higgins' Pioneer golfers will take to the road this weekend for the fourth outing of the current season. Saturday, the local linksmen will face Davis-Elkins and Monday, the squad will be at Wesleyan for a return engagement with the Bobcats.

FOUR TILTS POSTPONED

Four baseball games have been postponed due to inclement weather, according to Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff.

Glenville's opening contest with West Virginia Wesleyan was rescheduled for April 19, but has been postponed again; the April 10 tilt with Salem has been moved to May 10; and the Davis-Elkins contest was called but the new date is as yet unknown.

G-Men Lose First Tilt of Year, 6-3 To Fairmont Squad

Fairmont staved off two last-ditch rallies Saturday afternoon, to hand the Glenville Pioneers their first defeat of the season by a 6 to 3 margin.

Ralph Holder, who pitched a two-hitter in the opening contest last week against West Virginia State started Saturday's set-to, but was relieved in the seventh by Bob Poole. For the Falcons, Ronnie Vingle came in in the sixth to turn defeat into victory for the hosting nine.

That Glenville lacked the scoring punch displayed against State was evidenced by the fact that 13 Pioneers were left stranded on the bases. The G-men collected only five hits, but drew 12 free passes during the game.

Fairmont's initial tally came in the last of the fourth when Larry Rankin drew a base on balls, John Marshall was called out on a technical, then Jim Villingier belted a double into left-center to score Rankin.

Locals Knot Tally

Not to be outdone, the Pioneers bounced back in the following frame to tie up the count. With one away and one on, Joe Bradley singled. Bill Jones was picked off between second and third. Cook was walked and big Ed Tekieli drove Bradley in with his lone bingle of the day.

In the top of the sixth, Glenville staged its first big threat of the afternoon when, with one away, Tom Vance and Pete Kostyk singled. Vance was picked off as Holder went to first on a fielder's choice. Jones walked and then Bradley also walked to force Kostyk in home. The would-be rally ended when Cook struck out.

Falcons Ice Game

In the last of that same inning, the Falcons again pushed into the lead by bringing in three runs on one hit, two errors and two free passes. The contest was clinched in the following heat when Larry Rankin clouted a four-bagger into deep right with one man on.

Glenville's final marker and last chance to pull the game out of the fire came in the top of the eighth when Tom Vance got the ball rolling by getting a base on balls. Kostyk gained first on an error, and then stole second. Holder then laid down a hot grounder to the second baseman, who attempted to put Vance out at home, but failed. They

Sports Day Reslated For Saturday, May 5

Sports Day, formerly set for last Saturday, was postponed until Saturday, May 5, according to physical education instructor Prof. Clarissa Williams.

Sponsored by the WAA, the annual sports event will consist of play in volleyball, badminton, table tennis, and either softball or basketball, depending upon the weather. Three other colleges, Fairmont, Davis and Elkins, and Wesleyan, have been invited to attend the play day.

WAA members will be responsible for the organization of the day's events. Lunch will be served to the visiting schools by the athletic association. Members and other students from Glenville will also participate in the athletic events.

Bourn's Bears Cop Women's Cage Crown

Joyce Bourn led her "Bears" to the championship spot in WAA basketball play, with a final record of six wins and two losses.

Along with Bourn, a consistently high scorer all season, Beverly McComis, Mary Lee Foster, Connie Marley, Ada Cox, and Barbara Blackhurst, all veteran hardwood players, assisted in placing the "Bears" in the first place position. "Flashing" Foster sparked the play for the winners, pitching into the double digit column each night. Final individual scoring releases have not been made, but Foster is expected to place high in the list.

Jackie Coe's "Cats" narrowly missed a chance to challenge the "Bears" in a championship play-off. Jackson's "Jack Rabbits," who lost many close ones during the season, defeated the "Cats" to keep them from entering the play-off.

Captained by Mary Underwood, the "Unkorns" compiled a record of three wins against five losses to finish in the third spot. Joyce Jackson's "Jack Rabbits" ended at the bottom of the ladder with a 2-6 record.

It takes two to speak the truth, —one to speak and the other to hear.—Thoreau.

succeeded, however, in putting out Kostyk.

Two bases on balls—to Jones and Bradley—loaded the bases again with only one man out. The threat died, though, when Cook flied out at first and Tekieli was thrown out at first by the catcher.

Sluggers Chalk-Up Two Wins As WAA Opens Softball Play

WAA softball play opened recently with two games being played.

Connie Marley, captaining a team of "Sluggers," gained two wins to open the season. Captain Marley opened the play on the pitcher's mound, with Jackie Coe behind the batter. First game of the season was Marley versus Virginia Davis.

On the mound for Davis' "Stealers" was Beverly McComis, with Carolee Singleton catching. Taking an early lead, the "Stealers" kept even with the "Sluggers" until late in the third inning. Loretta Justice went to the pitcher slot for Marley, followed by Jackie Coe. Coe seemed to make the difference in the twist of the game, firing across several fast ones, to relieve the "Stealers" in order in the fourth inning. Joyce Bourn worked with her from behind the batter, to make the going easy for the "Sluggers." McComis managed to get a two bagger from Justice, but there was not a triple in the entire game. The game ended 15-11 in favor of the "Sluggers."

Collect Win

Marley met Martha White's "Batters," with Coe on the mound. White took the mound for the Batters, and held Marley's team until late in the third inning. The experienced pitcher lost control of her fast one, and gave up three walks. Martha Douglas came to the pitcher position from catcher, and White went behind the bat. One big fourth inning rally gave the "Sluggers" their win, 23-13.

Composing the double winner "Batters" team are Captain Marley, Coe, Wyene Turner, Joyce Jackson, Patty Snyder, Jearl Stump, Ada Cox, Loretta Bumgardner, Justice, and Bourn.

"Batters" are Captain White, Mary Lee Foster, Mary Margaret Davis, Connie Gorrell, Nancy Gillespie, Vada Losh, Alice McCullough, Juanita Radcliff, Wanda Berker, and Douglas.

Captain Davis, Mary Underwood, Sue Click, Mary Burke, Pat White, Sharon Shumaker, Shirley Brown, Connie Sams, McComis, and Singleton make up the "Stealers."

Carolee Singleton is acting as sports leader for the softball season.

Games Slated With Concord; Salem Tigers

Glenville State's hard-hitting diamondmen will be out for revenge tomorrow afternoon when they entertain the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey on the local field at 2 o'clock.

Following tomorrow's contest, the Pioneers will take a one-day break before journeying to Concord for the first of a home-and-home series with the Mountain Lions. On Tuesday, May 2, Glenville will return to the home diamond for a battle with the Salem Tigers. All home games will get underway at 2 o'clock.

Coach Carlos Ratliff's charges closed out the season last year in Charleston, dropping a 6 to 3 decision to the Golden Eagles after a rough and tough fracas. The Pioneers jumped off to an early lead in the opening inning of that game to take a 2-0 lead, and added another tally in the following frame.

Morris Harvey, after being held scoreless until the last of the sixth, drew two walks and rapped out two doubles and a single to take a 4-3 lead over the locals. The Eagles added two more markers in the seventh and staved off a Pioneer rally in the top of the eighth to score the victory.

Glenville lost to Concord by a lop-sided 13-3 count last year, in a game that saw the Mountain Lions scoring in all but the third inning.

Against Salem, the Pioneers came out on top of a see-saw battle in which the lead changed hands five times and the score was tied twice by a close 10 to 3 margin over the Tigers.

McAvoy Lists New Agenda

High school seniors who will graduate this spring and who plan to attend Glenville State College this summer may now choose classes from a list of 19 subject fields, according to Registrar Rogers McAvoy.

The first summer term will begin June 4 and end July 13, while the second term will begin on July 16 and continue through August 24. Classes will meet Monday through Friday. There will be no Saturday classes this summer.

This summer's freshmen may enter Glenville for six or 12 weeks, earning two-fifths of a year's credit by attending both terms. They may take a total of 12 hours for both terms.

Courses which are being offered during the summer are designed to appeal to high school seniors planning to enter college next September and for students who wish to qualify for emergency teaching certificates.

Courses Set Up

They have also been planned for students who wish to take additional work before entering the service, those beginning work in business subjects, and for students who desire certain courses as part of their cultural training. All work is of college grade and will count toward degrees.

Students may select courses in art, biology, business, economics, education, English, geography, history, health, home economics, music, mathematics, physical education, political science, physical science, psychology, social science, sociology, and speech.

Enrollment, course, and student union fees for the first term are $20. Total costs for boarding students, including enrollment, course, student union fees, and sales tax for first term total $65.79. Cost for both terms will be $171.58.

Registrar McAvoy stressed that high school graduates should make application for admission as soon as possible. He also said that students may write him for further information.
